This is understandable; but being understandable there is little reason for its continued recurrence. The actions of the Russian premier have followed a parallel course to those of a well-known Russian experimenter, Dr. Pavlov, whose prime contribution to society was to show psychologists, and others, how one could, through the creation of confusion and uncertainty, break down the reasoning and thinking process of dogs to the point where they would willingly accept any suggestion, no matter how repulsive it would have seemed to them under ordinary circumstances.

Dr. Pavlov's methods were later "refined" by him, at the order of the Russian government, to be applied to human beings.

This process they have been using to the utmost, as is swiftly perceivable by any who would care to examine the past actions of the Russians with a psychology primer at hand. One minute they are affable and talking in rosy terms of peaceful co-existence. The next week they will break up a summit conference or pound a shoe on a United Nations desk and threaten atomic war. But there has always been the one purpose behind all of these actions. The Russians believe they are destined to rule the world and to make other countries and peoples bend to their will, if not through physical force then through psychology.

It is our inherent weakness that we believe in the basic goodness of the individual human being. Oddly enough this is also the bulwark of our way of government. We must, however, realize that there are renegades who would abuse and corrupt this belief. Just as we have thugs and murderers within our own society so are the same breed to be encountered on the international scene in the set of some nations.

The free world has been duped many times in the past. When one looks back over just the past few decades it is a source of wonderment to view our relationships with Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin before they actually entered the field with their military forces to plunder and slaughter.

Surely we cannot be so blind as to fail to see that the eventual Russian purpose of 1961 is no different than that of Hitler in 1938 or Mussolini in the same year or of Stalin in 1945 when the initial Japanese peace feelers were kept secret by the Russians so that they would have time to invade and take over Manchuria and other adjacent territory.

Stalin has passed on and the tenor of Russian ways may have changed but their purpose has not. They are still out to conquer the world, to make the Soviet supreme in influence around the globe. To do this they are making vigorous use of every means within their command to gain an advantage or to gain more time. Determined they are to achieve their ends and the promotion of confusion in the camps of the free world as to this purpose is to their great advantage.

Their psychological warfare is achieving some success. It was not too long ago that one prominent Canadian suggested that it would be far better to live under Communism than to suffer a nuclear war. What music this must have been to Russian ears. It goes to show that out of the confusion they have been creating with offers of peaceful co-existence, interspersed with threats of atomic reprisal and rocket-rattling, they are beginning to break down a few minds in the western world without even coming near them physically.

This situation we must meet head on and opposed with neither qualm nor quaking. Let us not allow our reflexes to be conditioned to the Russian stimuli. Let us firmly resolve that to maintain our freedom we must be strong; strong as individuals, strong as families, strong as a nation, and strong as a way of life. Let us resolve to ignore the vacillations of the Kremlin and to build ourselves, our neighbors and the other free but troubled nations of the world into a harmonious community entirely undependent upon the din and dares of the Soviets.

Our way of life is right and the ways, means and ends of the Russians are wrong. The individual was never meant to be the property of any state or government, but this the Communists do not believe. In every Communist country today the many are subject to the few. This is the ultimate Communist goal and this goal we must block resolutely and effectively no matter how the Soviets may try to feint and confuse us with their mid-field manoeuvres.

Unrecognized Happiness

Montreal Gazette

Peter Scott, the son of the Arctic explorer, says in his autobiography that he is a happy man who is determined to be aware of it. He can think of no greater tragedy in life than to realize that one was once happy without having known it.

At first it may seem strange that anyone should say that people can be happy without being aware that they are. And yet it is true. Were it not true, memory would have none of its poignancy. For those who look back may behold a golden land. Yet, as they travelled through it, they may have scarcely felt that theirs was so good a way.

• • •

"All through our life we talk of happiness, but are not quite sure of the meaning of that word and we crave happiness without ceasing to wonder about it. It is only after an important fraction of our alloted years is behind us that we can put our finger on definite periods in that past and say, with more wistfulness than elation: I was happy then."

This looking back upon a happiness lost before it was known may have more than wistfulness and wonder: there may be almost an agony that what is now seen as happiness is gone beyond recall. If the way could be found back to recover the neglected treasure there would be pleasure and purpose. But the realization of what is lost is like looking backwards upon a promised land, rather than looking ahead. What is seen at last is seen too late.

• • •

A. E. Housman wrote of the land of lost content in what is perhaps the greatest of the poems in "A Shropshire Lad".

Into my heart an air that kills
From yon far country blows:
What are those blue remembered hills,
What spires, what farms are those?
That is the land of lost content,
I see it shining plain,
The happy highways where I went
And cannot come again.

Is this looking back upon the happy highways merely an illusion, a thinking that they were happier than they ever were? The past gains enchantment from the distance of the view. But there is a sure test of the blessings of the past. The blessings once but slightly regarded, but now longed for, may be proved very real.

The historian, W. E. H. Lecky, in his book of philosophical essays, "The Map of Life," wrote of the test with simple realism, when he said:

"It is only when some calamity breaks the calm tenor of our ways and deprives us of some gift of fortune we have long enjoyed that we feel how great was the value of what we have lost. There are times in the lives of most of us when we would have given all the world to be as we were yesterday, though yesterday had passed over us unappreciated and unenjoyed."

From these thoughts Lecky devised a motto for living a happy life. And it is very like that of Peter Scott's, for Lecky came to see "the importance of acquiring the habit of realizing our blessings while they last."

• • •

Yet there are times when what was lost may be found. And this may beknown in the weeks while health returns after illness. Once the blessing of health has been regained, it may once more be disregarded. But for a few splendid weeks the happiness of recovery may seem to fill the world.

After a serious illness, Walt Whitman went to a farm at Glendale, New Jersey — the farm of Mr.and Mrs. Stafford. When he first came he did not look as though he would live many months. Then he improved enough to go outdoors. He would hobble as far as the barn, and one of the children would carry a chair for him. Later he would venture farther and go down the lane a little. Then he began to carry the chair himself.

When he first came to Glendale he was despondent, but before long he became wonderfully cheerful. "He always used to sing in a morning as soon as he rose from bed,' said Mrs. Stafford. "After he had been out he would sometimes say: 'Susan, folks question sometimes what happiness is. But I have had a happy day'."

It was the rare happiness of reclaiming the lost content.

Strictly Personal

Public Wants Cafe Service With a Smile

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

When we object to "slow service," what are we really objecting to? The slowness? In most cases, I think not. We object because we feel personally affronted.

What we call "service" is much more a psychological than a technical problem. It is more a matter of attitude then of time.

For example: waiting for elevators in a building. My office has recently moved to a new building with automatic elevators. In the old building, the elevators were manned by operators and there was a lot of griping among the tenants about the slow service.

The other day I timed a few of the automatic elevators in the new building and found that on the whole they give no more rapid service than we got before. But nobody complains about them.

The difference, I think, is this: we know that the automatic elevators are electrically timed to the rate of traffic. If we have to wait for one of them, we are patient because we know that everyone is treated impartially by the machinery. It is not a personal affront.

When we had to wait for the old elevators, we felt that the operators were goofing off although, in the main, they were a pleesant and capable lot. Yet there was a sense of being uncared for and ignored — a feeling that perhaps the operators were chatting together on the top floor and shrugging off our persistent rings.

This is wildly irrational and in point of time there is very little difference in the service. But each of us has a core of dignity that demands respect and attention (and also a part that feels others are somehow getting more regal treatment while we are slighted.) We can be patient with a slow automatic elevator, but become furious when it is manned.

Owners of service establishments still do not understand that what the public basically wants has nothing to do with speed and efficiency as such. What the public wants — especially in places like restaurants — is the sense of being cared for, of being looked upon as fairly important human beings, rather than as so many numbers or coat checks or "'turnover."

If a waitress is polite and pleasant, gives me a glass of water, and apologizes for a crowded station, I am content to wait a long time; but if she acts indifferent or annoyed, half the wait will send me boiling. The time-register in the emotions does not work on the same cycle as the watch on the wrist. Most "'slowness' is mood, not motion.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

DESTINED FOR GREATNESS

George Washington must go down in history as one of the greatest and most influential personalities of all time. Modern democratic forms of government are largely moulded after patterns which he was influential in shaping. He was one of history's truly great figures.

Yet Washington was a man of ordinary abilities. There was not the slightest trace of genius in his nature. He had, according to present-day standards, a most meager education. He was a good general but not the world's greatest by any means. The Revolutionary War lasted about six years. Washington fought during the first three years of the war and the last three weeks. He took part in about one-third of its battles.

So why his greatness? First, he was the incarnation of the colonies' resistance to the mother country. Had Washington died or been killed the Revolution would probably have collapsed. Again, he was born at precisely the right time. Had he lived fifty years before or after the time he actually did, he probably would never have been heard of.

Last of all, He had an almost perfect character. He could tear loose at times and swear like a pirate, but this did not obviate the fact that at heart his goodness was practically unwaivering and continuous.

George Washington — a man whose ordinary abilities were extraordinarily well balanced and held together by a judicious mind and an almost perfect character.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

February 22nd. 1941.

"Japan, the nuisance partner of the Axis, is running a tremendous bluff in the Far East, but, there is always the possibility of her meaning what she threatens." Dr. A. J. Brace of the Y. M. C. A. National Council, said in an informative address on the "Burma Road" to the Belleville Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon.

The Burma Road was built by the Chinese to meet the built railway in order to get out their exports of tung oil and tungsten. The Chinese had moved their plants inland, away from Japanese interference, until some 500 factories were operating well inside China.

The immensity of the task of building this vital road, can be measured by the fact that in its 640 miles of winding length it crosses ten mountain ranges, each one some 10,000 feet in height, and three great rivers which with their tributaries had to be spanned by some 700 bridges.

One million people built the road with their bare hands, for the love of their country, and did it without remuneration. All they asked was their food. It was constructed in less than one year, and daily 6,000 trucks rumble Chinaward over its surface.

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Joe Short. A feature of the luncheon was the solo "Rule Britannia" given in Jack Deacon's inimitable style. President Percy McGuire was in the chair.

New Spirit Is Seen Here

By Leslie Roberts
in The Montrealer

One element of proof that (Canadians) have come to life is visible and audible south of the border.

The Americans are beginning to realize that the 4,000,000 square miles of territory over which their Strategic Air Command roams at will is actually populated by people; people with minds of their own.

Quite a number of editors down there are really annoyed because we have quit being totally docile about defence, about trade (as with Cuba, but what's more important),about trade with Uncle Sam), about the behavior of many American subsidiaries in this country, about the draining away of too many Canadian dollars every year in dividends, interest and a trade-status in which the scales have been loaded down for Uncle.

Even so mild, gentle and intelligent an American as Adlai Stevenson worries about our debate concerning neutrality, not realizing that this is simply our way of asserting that we have lost our interest in lopsided partnerships.

Canada is not neutralist. It is simply insisting on being heard. And that's wonderful to hear, too.

The spineless people and the let's-throw-in-the-towel boys are even more alarmed by these manifestations of a Canadian spirit than the scolders south of the border are.

Nobody but a fool is anti-American. To be anti-American is like being against Lake Superior.

But to be staunchly Canadian, to believe in this country's destiny and to resist Americanization of the Canadian people not only is not anti-Yankee and pro-Canadian, but for the long haul it is the best thing on earth for Uncle Sam himself.

A spineless, colonialized neighbor, here in the north, is no good for Uncle. Thus there is high hope for Canada in 1961 —which is more than could have been said in January, 1960.

THE PACKSACK

BY GREGORY CLARK

A psychologist tells me that there are considerable numbers of persons, both women and men, who are not happy unless they are in the midst of a state of confusion not only part of the time but all of the time. They feel suffocated by regularity, method, arrangement. To have to be on time, to feel they have to be at a certain place at a certain moment, gives them the sensation of being harnessed and confined. To be obliged to have their homes in a state of constant tidiness seems to affront some inner sense of freedom. They are happiest when their kitchens look as if a hurricane had hit them.

If someone tidies up a man's workbench or desk, he has an immediate compulsion to disarrange it. Women secretaries are familiar with the type of boss who, on arriving at his office and finding his desk bare and trim, is ill at ease for an hour until he has got in a muddle. He does not feel he is working unless all his phones are ringing, his table heaped with urgent messages, his staff perspiring and confused. By noon, such a man is in his element.

To Your Good Health

If Discomfort Continues Menopause Not to Blame

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would you please set me straight on hormone therapy? I am 52 years old and have not menstruated for over two years.

"I've been on hormones off and on for 11 years, but they don't help me a bit. Could this be nerves? — E. G."

After 11 years, and you still feel as miserable as your letter indicates (I left out the details), I'd begin to have a strong suspicion that the reason is something other thean the lack of hormones from menopause.

It's been popular for women to blame any sort of vague or unexplainable discomfort on menopause. Well, this doesn't make sense.

Women have been going through menopause for millions of years. They got past it without hormones, just as youngsters have been struggling past the hard years of adolescence for a long time before we had any medical terms to describe their confused, blundering, groping instincts to grow from children into young adults.

Medicine doesn't much change the rigid problems of living. It can now help us over the hard spots, and save our lives in instances where, when you and I were young, death would have been certain. I do not belittle the enormous accomplishments of medical art and science, but I think maybe I should remind every friend of mine that medicine cannot perform all desired miracles just because it can do some wonderful things. The wonders of science do not mean that — presto! — we are in a never-never land where nobody grows old, or stubs his toe, or gets sick, or dies.

We can't change the time at which menopause insists on starting. And when it starts, we must accept the fact that the ovaries with some variable abruptness, reduce the supply of hormones which they have been pumping into the system for some 30 years.

In recent years we have been able to inject hormones, or give them by mouth, to ease the shock which the system encounters from menopause.

With or without extra hormones, the body presently adjusts and hormones from the several endocrine glands of the body take over.

When troubles persist year after year, look for some other cause of the distress. Disorder of the thyroid? That's one of the endocrine glands, remember. Anemia? Quite possible, and not too uncommon. Nerves? A frequent contributor. Poor nutrition? It's surprising how careless we get about the simple but important things. Inadequate rest? Not uncommon, either.

In a case such as the one we're discussing today, I'd think that, after 11 years, a complete physical examination would be the thing with which to start, rather than trying to make a choice between only two things — hormones or nerves.

"Dear Dr. Molner: A few days ago I found a lump in my right side, next to my lower ribs. The doctor said he thought it was my kidney. I thought kidneys were located in the back. — Mrs. G. G."

They are. But in thin-waisted individuals with a thin abdominal wall, they may be felt from the side. If you are not of this type, then further study may be indicated to identify the lump completely.

Note To Mrs. R. B.: Inflammation, whether of the servix or elsewhere, tends to heal if given a proper chance. You have had treatment which could have hastened healing. That's what treatment is for! You should have periodic Pap smears every six or twelve months just to make sure.

Imprisoned By Our Ways

Windsor Star

Just how free are supposedly free people? Aren't we all prisoners to our workaday lives? Aren't we hemmed in by our shops or offices, restricted by our hours of work, etc?

This thought comes to mind with a discussion by members of the Northwest Territories Council. Eskimos do not take too seriously the regulations governing a white man's life. They don't adapt easily to the eight hour day or five day week. They are apt to take off after pay day and enjoy the financial fruits of their labors.

Gordon Robertson, deputy minister of northern affairs and commissioner of the council, observed: "We are so used to the imprisonment we live under we have come to regard it as natural." There's something to what the man says. We are "imprisoned" in many ways and, if we failed to accept it graciously, we might be fired!

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON EXERCISING THE MIND

Some years back, President Franklin D. Roosevelt called on Associate Justice, U. S. Supreme Court, Oliver Wendell Holmes. Asking Holmes what he was doing, the noted Justice replied, "I was just exercising my Mind."

How many of us do that? We tell of our body's exercise, which is all to the good, but we are negligent when it comes to exercising the Mind.

Few other exercises can match that of exercising the Mind which is always actively growing in all directions, and of the greatest importance.

Exercise the Mind and new worlds will be constantly created for your joy and pleasure. Nothing that the Creator shaped and formed has proved so mighty and so filled with endless possibilities.

Exercise the Mind. Let us think on this and be among the mighty who have contributed and helped to bless all mankind. What giant minds were bequeathed us in our early colonial period, men like Benjamin Franklin, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson and the different Adamses; and what great assets to their country they proved to be. What an inheritance to us all!

The great men of this earth knew courage, privation, and every grand sacrifice. All about them was the shadow of Washington! Such men as these had to exercise their Minds!

H-S Council To Hold L.T. Course

The Belleville and District Home and School Council is presenting Leadership Training Course at Moira Secondary School on Friday evening and Saturday of this week.

Mr. Donald W. Maddocks, Belleville, of the Community Programs Branch of the Department of Education, has been adviser to the planning committee for this course.

Mr. Maddocks will be chairman for the principle session on the program for Friday evening.

This session will be "Effective Meetings" which will cover such relative topics as proper conduct of meetings and parliamentary procedure. After the opening lecture by Mr. Maddocks, a film on parliamentary procedure will be shown. Discussion groups will follow the film.

Mr. Maddocks, who is a graduate of McMaster University, has been with the community program branch over six years as representative in London and Belleville offices of the branch.

At the present time, he is the district representative, Ontario Department of Education from the Belleville office, serving the Counties of Haliburton, Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Northumberland, Peterborough, Prince Edward and the city of Kingston.

Mr. Maddocks is a respected friend of Home and School and has worked with Home and School Councils in Belleville, Kingston, Peterborough as well as London, Chatham and Windsor planning and helping conduct leadership courses.

'Importance of Education' Subject of Talk by Principal

The second in a series of talks and discussions for adults was held Wednesday night at the Education Hall, Belleville General Hospital. The speaker was Mr. Leslie Reid, principal of Quinte Secondary School, who discussed "The Importance of Education."

The importance of the 20th Century is emphasized by the fact that this is the century that education made its "breakthrough," said the speaker. To those involved in education, there is a greater challenge than ever before, for we now demand much more from the individual than reading and writing. However, this expansion in education has brought many problems that were previously non-existent.

The most obvious problem is the exploding of enrollments in schools. Where, ten years ago, there were five hundred thousand students in elementary schools, there are now over one million, an increase of 100 per cent. Enrollment in secondary schools has increased about 90 per cent. Where we now have about 85 thousand persons attending university across Canada, it is expected that by 1970 there will be 92 thousand in Ontario alone. This expansion must be prepared for now!

Some of the causes of this problem are: 1) When there are few jobs available, more people stay in school; 2) The post-war "baby boom"; 3) The popular belief that everyone is entitled to an education, regardless of wealth, circumstances, etc.

Another problem that we are faced with is that of accommodation. Although two thousand classrooms have been added in Ontario over the past ten years, we are still lagging in school production. In Belleville alone, the number of students has increased in elementary schools over the past ten years from 2,170 to 4,500, while accommodation has been enlarged from five public schools with 53 classrooms to twelve public schools with 126 classrooms. In secondary schools there has been an increase from one public high school with 1,001 students to three public high schools with 2,528 students.

LACK OF TEACHERS

Perhaps even more serious than the problem of accommodation is the lack of qualified teachers. It has become so difficult to staff the schools with qualified people that thousands of persons who are not qualified to teach have been given permission to do so. As hundreds of new teachers are required each year this porblem is very acute. Special courses have been set up to help train teachers, and an attempt is being made to make the teaching profession more attractive to prospective teachers.

Cost. Although many people talk of "the high cost of education," Canada spends less than three per cent of the gross national income on education, compared to the 32 per cent spent on defence. (The U.S. spends 7 per cent and Russia, 14 per cent.) In the U.S. during 1956, 10.7 billions were spent on schools, while 15 billions were spent on liquor and tobacco products.

One of the main concerns of educators at the present time is to develop teaching methods that are adequate to cover the interests, abilities and aptitudes of the thousands of varying students. The needs of both the slow learner and the gifted student, as well as those in between, must be met if they are to take their place in the community. This problem is being met with a new program called "streaming," where the students are divided into separate classes according to their abilities. However, a student may be shifted from one group to another according to his progress. A specific course is not chosen until grade eleven, i.e. General, Commercial, Technical.

FLOOD LABOR MARKET

Research is also being carried on to determine the effect of using television as a means of communication in the schools.

It is hoped that these improved methods will be instrumental in encouraging young people to take advantage of their opportunities for education. Early drop-out in the schools means that the labor market is flooded with unskilled persons who are robbing the country of brain-power. These people will be faced with sporadic unemployment, frustration and probably much unhappiness. Some students drop out because they are lured by the prospect of earning money. Others feel they should be entertained at school and lose interest when they are required to apply some effort. It is the responsibility of parents and teachers to instill a respect for learning and a pride in being educated in our young people. People who want good jobs in society will need more and more education.

Following the talk, an informal discussion took place and Mr. Reid answered many questions. Mr. Reid was introduced and thanked by Mr. Tom Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell also reminded everyone of the next meeting on March 6, when Dr. Peterkin will be speaking on "Parents and Their Children." It is hoped that a maximum number of parents will take advantage of this opportunity to clear up any problems they may have regarding children. Anyone requiring information regarding these meetings may call WO 2-6419. Time of the meetings is 8.30, at the Education Hall, Belleville General Hospital.

W. T. Elliott Attends GM Meet at Detroit

Ald. Walter T. Elliott recently returned from Detroit, where he and other General Motors dealers representing 45 cities in the United States and Canada concluded a three-day meeting with top General Motors executives in the winter session of the GM President's Dealer Advisory Council.

Sixteen General Motors executives conferred with the dealers in an exchange and development of ideas on how better to serve retail customers.

Thirty-six GM dealers representing both large and medium sized cities in the United States and 11 dealers from Canadian cities participated in the meetings. Formerly known as the GM Dealer Council, the program was instituted by GM in 1934 in the interest of more effective and equitable factory-dealer relationships.

Members of the President's Dealer Advisory Council, Canadian Group present were: Hubert Badanal, Jr., of Ft. William, Ont.; L. G. Perron, of Valley Field, Que.; William W. Drinkwater of St. Catharines, Ont.; Walter T. Elliott of Belleville; Leonard C. Harland of Dorval, Lachine, Que.; Harry T. Hoy of Montreal; David H. Lawson of Victoria, B.C.; James A. Orr of Kitchener; John W. Pink of Toronto; Albert E. Stedelbauer of London, and Merrill E Wolfe of Edmonton

Lower Portion Of Front Street To Be Paved

The city of Belleville will seek to continue this year a highway connecting link program which last year saw the centre portion of Front Street from Bridge Street to the Upper Bridge paved.

The repaving plan for this year includes Front Street south from the four corners to Dundas; Dundas from Front to Pinnacle Street, and Bridge from Pinnacle to the Lower Bridge.

Only the central 30 feet of the above streets would be repaved and as highway connecting links would be subsidized 50 per cent by the Ontario Highways Department. Approval of the Department will be asked in the near future.

The possibility of a new bridge across the Moira River is also being mooted by the city public works department for 1962.

This year a new traffic bridge on North Front Street over the C.N.R. double tracks is scheduled to go ahead while next year it is hoped another new bridge, possibly replacing the present structure on College Street, can be built.

Also being considered is the possibility of combining the new river bridge with the proposed College Street ice control dam.

Cost of the bridge would be part of the city's capital works program for the next five years, but first would have to be approved by council and also by the Ontario Municipal Board.

The VW panel truck is available with double doors on both sides as an optional extra.

Can your truck pass this test?

The real test of a truck is not how much it can carry, but how little. Could you afford to deliver a hundred, twenty or even ten pounds? Or would operating costs eat up the profit?

The curious thing about Volkswagen Trucks is that they not only make larger loads practical, they make small loads profitable.

This is one reason why you're seeing so many Volkswagen Trucks around. Owners know a VW does its job at half the cost of standard half-tons. Half the gas, half the oil, half the tire wear. Even the smallest delivery makes sense.

Aren't most of your deliveries under full capacity? If they are, you ought to look into the VW operating story. But if you carry heavy loads over bad roads in all kinds of weather, there's something else you should know about Volkswagen. The new VW engine gives you 10% more acceleration and passing power. The new heavy-duty transmission (that will stand up to almost any abuse) has new gear ratios selected to deliver every ounce of the extra engine power to the driving wheels. (You get better performance with the same gas economy.)

Whatever you're delivering it's easier to unload from the double side doors and rear door. And it's easier to park. The VW is three feet shorter than standard trucks.

If you like the idea of paying less for more deliveries, talk to your authorized Volkswagen dealer about it.

Public Health Nurses Seen In Short Supply

OTTAWA (CP) — Newborn babies and their mothers are getting more attention from public health programs, it was reported Tuesday at a federal-provincial nurses' meeting.

The conference, first of its kind, is attended by the 10 provincial public health nursing directors and seven senior federal government nurses.

All provinces reported a shortage of public health nurses —and difficulties in enlisting nurses for remote areas.

Nurses were described as being in a "depressed salary group."

The small salary differential discouraged nurses from qualifying for the public health field —and rural areas can't compete with the bright lights of the city in nurse recruitment.

One provincial report said persons with inner resources for isolated living are hard to find.

Manitoba has a flying nurse to visit remote lumber, mining and fishing areas.

This --- and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

A large furniture advertisement with the heading "Mellow Butternut" brought to our memory a lovely old butternut sideboard made in Newboro, Leeds County. It was not the product of a man whose trade was that of cabinet maker, but from the fine lines and construction and from the way the wood had been finished, he might have become an excellent one. The piece now adorns the home of his grandson in Toronto.

Fashions in furniture change mainly to suit different types of living quarters; various woods become popular and then lose their popularity. Availability is a factor; early Canadian pioneer furniture made great use of pine and these pieces are eagerly sought after by collectors. Within memory the change has been great, the golden oak at the beginning of our century to be followed by dark or fumed oak. Now the oak used for furniture is light or bleached with a natural finish.

Walnut and mahogany have been lasting favorites. The fact that a great part of south western Ontario was covered by black walnut forests at one time put walnut in front since mahogany had to be imported. We have seen maple and cherry become popular again after a very long interval.

It is interesting to know that over ninety-four per cent of all furniture sold in Canada is Canadian made. It is one of the few industries with a continuing history of over one hundred years. There are about eighteen hundred factories across the country, many of them of one or two man operations. This is the same basis on which many of the larger firms got their start in the days before Confederation. Most were a one-man cabinetry operation then became a family concern and remained this way. Many of the original factories which started up one hunderd years ago are still in operation as major producers, some in the same premises and some operated by the same family that founded it.

Many furniture pioneers were early immigrants, German, Dutch, Swiss, and British, who brought with them their traditional skills. Many a factory was started in the mid-1880's by a young man who walked through the bush with carpenter's kit, found work with a local sawmill and then began producing, on his own, furniture needed by the settlers in the area.

Such furniture founders as Daniel Knechtel, Aaron Vilas, Thomas Gibbard, Peter Krug and Joseph Kilgour started out in this way. Fine timber stands and water power decided the location of many factories which results in the concentration of "furniture towns" in Western Ontario, Stratford, Kitchener, Hanover — and in Quebec's Eastern Township areas of Victoriaville, Beauharnois and Daveluyville.

Canada's oldest furniture factory, Gibbard Furniture Shops, originally derived its power from a water wheel propelled from the Napanee Falls in Eastern Ontario.

In the early year, very few factories made pieces for a complete furniture suite. One made tables, another chairs, another cabinets. Naturally, there was difficulty in matching color once the separte pieces got on the retailer's floor, so more factories began making complete suites.

It is hard for us to imagine that three bedroom suites once sold for twenty-five dollars and a man was employed for ninety cents a day. An 1892 price list records, dining suites at $12.50, kitchen tables for $1.55 and chairs at 26 cents.

Furniture was, indeed, Grandmother's pride and joy. The women who are grandmothers today and the ones who will become grandmothers have not changed so much. Furniture was considered a status symbol. They say this has changed, but we are not so sure.

Business, Professional Women Mark 'International Night'

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville celebrated "International Night" on Monday evening with a dinner in the Belmont banquet room. Many guests were present including Miss Margaret Millar, a recent arrival in this city from Pretoria, South Africa. Miss Millar is associated with the Quinte Branch of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Following the dinner, Miss Muriel Jobson rendered two delightful vocal solos accompanied by Mrs. Nora Barber at the piano. Mrs. Marjorie McCaw proposed the toast to the International Federation.

Miss Madeline Rooney, Cobourg, assisted by Miss Ruth McMullen, chairman of the evening, conducted an inspiring candlelight ceremony at which she reminded members of their affiliation with associated clubs in 25 countries with a membership of almost 350,000 women. This year marks the 31st anniversary of the International Federation formed in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1930. Following the ceremony, Mrs. Dorothy Ellis gave the invocation.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Margery Pewtress, Cobourg, national vice-president of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, guest speaker, was introduced by Miss Marjorie Sherman. Mrs. Pewtress first brought greetings from Mrs. Tomi Kitano of Moriyama City, Japan, who has been instrumental in establishing seven B. & P.W. clubs in Japan. Mrs. Kitano, a professor at Nagoya University, extended congratulations for the successful Provincial Conference held in Belleville last fall.

Mrs. Pewtress' address centred on the International Federation's theme, "Our Responsibilities in a Changing World." In part, she said:

"The vehement pace at which today's world is undergoing change and the ever-expanding range of human patterns and pursuits affected by it, stagger the imagination if we attempt to evaluate even such relatively small portions of change as we can see with our own eyes or experience in our personal lives.

SOCIETY NOT KEEPING UP

"We also come to realize that society, as a whole, is failing to keep up with the tempo of change, even though its forces are set in motion by individuals, who are part and parcel of this society. As we look, with fear and awe, at the sometimes violent results of change over which man has lost control, we may well be reminded of a driver, maimed, or even killed in an accident because he had lost control over his machine—a machine created for his comfort and convenience. For safe driving, the person at the wheel must be both responsible and skilled. In helping to steer our changing world into the port of peace where progress can be pursued in freedom without recurrent threats of violence and the danger of servitude, have we, the skilled trained women, used our sense of responsibility to the full? This is the question which our members, scattered over five continents, are attempting to answer.

MANY ANGLES

"There are innumerable angles from which our international theme might well be viewed. We could approach it from the angle of women in business and professions; from that of employer and employee; from the economic, political or educational angles. I would suggest that our common striving is for the peace with security which still eludes us. What broader avenue to this goal can mankind choose than education? What good or lasting purpose has ever been achieved without knowledge? Indeed what kind of education can the young expect if their elders lack the vision which comes of responsibility, fully understood, and of knowledge against which to measure the alternatives to a decision?

"It was only a handful of men and women of good will who gathered in Montreal last summer to focus their hearts and minds upon the crucial matter of education for the adults of mankind; but they knew as we know, that never in all human history, has positive leadership come from other than a brave minority, fighting the adverse tides until the multitudes are drawn into its wake. If we are looking for a place from which to make a start — a practical start at the level of each local Club — we may find light and guidance in the UNESCO-sponsored Conference on Adult Education held in Montreal last summer. That distinguished educator, Madame de Saint Blanquant, one of our International vice-presidents, has given us the core of the discussions which she attended in our behalf."

FERVOR DISPLAYED

The meeting was held in one of the halls of McGill University with about 20 participants from 47 member states of UNESCO and 46 non-governmental organizations with consultative status — our International Federation being one of these. Madame de Saint Blanquant said how much she was struck by the fervor of those present. They discussed so many things — among them, of course, the role and content of adult education: forms and methods of adult education, but in addition such subjects as the value of discussion groups; the problems of orientation and personal development; seminars, dramatics, travel, workers' holidays and so on.

Mrs. Pewtress closed her address with a quote fom Mr. Barbier, president of the consultative committee on Adult Education, speaking at the Montreal World Conference last summer: "Our first problem is to survive. It is not a question of survival of the fittest; either we suvive together, or we perish together."

SURVIVAL DEPENDS ON PEACE

"Survival requires that the countries of the world must learn to live together in peace. "Learn" is the operative word. Mutual respect, understanding, sympathy are qualities that are destroyed by ignorance, and fostered by knowledge. In the field of international understanding, adult education in today's divided world takes on a new importance. Provided that man learns to survive, he has in front of him opportunities for social development and personal well-being such as have never been open to him before". We believe that adult education has become of such importance for man's survival and happiness that a new attitude towards it is needed. Nothing less will suffice than that people everywhere should come to accept adult education as a normal and that governments should treat it as a necessary, part of the educational provision of every country".

Miss Evelyn Coulter expressed the club's appreciation to Mrs. Pewtress and to Miss Rooney and presented them with a memento of their visit to the Belleville Club on the occasion of its 1961 International night.

Mrs. Dorothy Brown, Ontario Chairman, UN. Seminar, announced that plans have been completed for the one day Seminar to be held at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, on Saturday, March 11th. Participants in the Seminar will include Mrs. Irene Haig, Belleville, U.N. Fellowship Winner.

A.N.A.F. Aux. Initiates Three New Members

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada held its monthly meeting in the Memorial Hall on Front Street, on Monday, with a good attendance. President, Mrs. Ann Percy, called the meeting to order with two minutes of silence.

Three members were initiated and welcomed to the Auxiliary.

The reports of committees were read with Mrs. E. Archer, sick chairman, having been the busiest.

Mrs. W. Foxon donated two prizes for the draw. After several discussions and flower fund collection, the meeting adjourned until the third Monday in March.

Col. P. Wills Branch Makes Donation

A general meeting of the Colonel Phay Wills Branch of the Canadian Legion for ex-Service Women was held on Thursday evening at Branch 99 hall, Pinnacle St.

President "Billy" Kirby proposed the ladies' branch make a donation to Branch 99 as a token of appreciation for the past use of the hall. The motion was passed by Comrade Elizabeth Robinson.

It was decided as many as possible would represent Branch 587 at the Zone Rally in Madoc the first Sunday in March.

Comrade Olive Schmidt read letters inviting the ladies to participate in zone sports activities. The euchre meet in Tweed appealed to the majority of the members, so a team is being formed for the competition.

FLOWER FUND NEEDED

As the need for a flower and card fund was presented, Comrade Elizabeth Robinson was elected chairman of the sick and visiting committee.

After a brief address concerning an objective for the branch, Comrade Billy Kirby introduced Comrade Betty Hay who is a District Commissioner of Girl Guides and Brownies. She stated that as this organization is not supported by the United Appeal, there are many ways the branch could assist, a donation to the camp at Waupoos, sponsor a worthy Guide or Brownie, or even help purchase a part of the uniform for either the girls or their leaders.

All present felt they would be proud to help support this community project.

WHITE'S W.A.

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Mrs. George Bilham was hostess to the ladies of White's Woman's Association, on Thursday, with a pot-luck dinner at noon.

Mrs. Albert Jones led in the devotional service under the heading "My Church". Mrs. George Cotten read the Scripture 1 Corithians 12:4-13 and Mrs. Jones gave the story of the lesson under the heading, "You Belong to the Church of God". Mrs. Jones closed with prayer.

An invitation was received to attend "World Day of Prayer" at Centenary United Church. The social evening was planned for Tuesday evening, February 21st at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cotten.

PROGRAM

Mrs. W. Jeffery was in charge of the program which consisted of readings as follows: "Neighbors", Mrs. Ernest Curtis; "Jokes" Mrs. Ritchie Ketcheson; "Suppose", Mrs. Jermyn Palmer; and "Valentine Day" Mrs. W. Jeffery.

REORGANIZE MINISTRY

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A sweeping reorganization of Russia's agriculture ministry was announced Monday, a month after Premier Khruschev attacked officials who admitted they could not keep up with the Soviet government's farm program. The shakeup is designed to give local men more decision-making power, ease the central ministry's administrative burden and get the most from scientific know-how.

QUESTION BOX

Answer — There is no rule regarding this. However, it would seem to depend on how your charge application is made out. How you sign your cheques is pertinant, too. If you sign your cheques with your maiden name, "Edna S. Brown," it is simpler to do the same on your charge accounts.

• • •

Question: I was married recently and am now in the throes of writing thank-you notes for gifts received after the wedding. Among them is a large silver bowl sent by the firm that employs my husband. The card has several names on it and I am at a loss to know how to address the letter. I can't put all the names on it! — Mrs. K. H. B., New Haven, Conn.

Answer: Address the letter to the "ranking" person who signed the card. By this I mean the president of the firm or the head of a department. Ask him to express your appreciation to all the others.

• • •

Question — I am a widow and would like to know how to sign the guest book when I attend a very fancy club as a guest of friends of mine? Should it be "Mrs. Mary Ford Dow" or what? — Mrs. K. L. N., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Answer — It would not be as you have given it, in your example. You would sign exactly as you would if you were doing so on a hotel register, "Mrs. Robert F. Dow."

Stuff and Bake a Whole Fish

By Mary Moore

During the season of Lent 1961 I am hoping to stir up your interest in using Canadian fish in your menus regularly.

To spark your imagination I am giving you the method for stuffing and baking a whole fish for it has an important company look. Its crusty brown skin is delicious and crunchy. You may frenchify it by making any sauce of your choice, but do try one of the special sauces below.

BAKED STUFFED WHOLE FISH:

Note: If desired you may use two long fish fillets for this.

One 3-pound whole fish scaled, cleaned and boned (by fish dealer); 1 teaspoon salt. Sprinkle fish with salt inside and out. Fill with

STUFFING:

Two cups soft bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup tomato juice, 1 or 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine or cooking oil, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 teaspoon herb seasoning such as rosemary, oregano or thyme, 1-3 tablespoon finely minced onion, 1 tablespoon chopped sweet pickles (optional). To the bread crumbs add tomato juice, melted butter or margarine or oil, salt, pepper, herb seasoning, and finely minced onion and sweet pickles if used. Mix well. Place fish in a greased pan and stuff lightly; if fillets are used arrange stuffing between them. Skewer closed or tie with string. Brush with butter or margarine and sprinkle with paprika, salt and a very little garlic powder. Bake in hot oven of 400 deg. Fahr., allowing 10 minutes per inch thickness of fish, but allow an extra 10 minutes for a stuffed fish which is 3 or 3 1-2" thick, baking it 40 minutes in all.

Serve with one of these Sauce: 1) Three tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, 1 hard-cooked, sieved egg yolk, 6 oysters or 1-2 cup flaked cooked or canned lobster or shrimp. Melt butter or margarine, stir in flour and salt and when blended stir in milk until thick. Add sieved egg yolk and chopped oysters or lobster or shrimp. This sauce may be passed hot at table or poured over fish before baking. It is absolutely tops. 2). Tomato: Two cups canned tomatoes, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 6 peppercorns, 1 bayleaf, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-8 teaspoon pepper. Cook tomatoes with onion, peppercorns, bayleaf, sugar and salt 3 minutes. Melt butter, add flour and cook until frothy, stirring. Slowly add tomato mixture. Cook, stirring constantly for 2 minutes, or until thick. Strain (or not as desired) and add pepper.

If you have ever looked for a used car you may have noticed that there are very few used Ramblers about.

When you talk to a Rambler owner you'll find out why. Rambler owners tend to treasure their cars, because all Rambler cars are built for the enjoyment of many thousands of comfortable, troublefree miles.

RAMBLER'S "SECRET"

What makes a Rambler so special is really simple. American Motors set out to build sensibly proportioned cars that are comfortable, economical and long lasting. The company decided that its cars should retain their styling unless there was a really good reason for changing it.

HOW RAMBLER PRESERVES THE VALUE OF YOUR CAR DOLLAR

Automobiles depreciate in value as they grow older, but Rambler has taken important steps to limit this devaluation of your investment. There are two main reasons why cars lose their value: -

1. OBSOLESCENCE: Annual styling changes, creating obsolescence artificially, make the previous year's model worth less. Rambler's styling will remain unchanged unless there are good and valid reasons for change.

Ramblers, as they are now, are easy on the eye and have proved themselves convenient and comfortable. So unless major engineering developments make a change desirable, they will stay as they are.

2. WEAR AND TEAR: Naturally, a car that wears out quickly, or falls apart after a certain number of miles, loses its value.

Ramblers are made to last: Single Unit Construction means that the chassis and the body are welded together to form one strong unit. It is a feature that was pioneered by Rambler.

Deep-Dip Rustproofing is another Rambler exclusive. Ramblers are protected against rust with this process where the entire body of the car is dipped into a rust-inhibiting solution before it is painted.

By now you will probably appreciate why even Rambler's high re-sale value is not sufficient incentive for Rambler owners to part with their cars.

WHAT THE 1961 RAMBLER CLASSIC HAS TO OFFER

There are some changes in the 1961 Rambler Classic. They are the outcome of the research that goes on at American Motors without let up, and they make the 1961 Rambler Classic an even better car.

A new cushioned acoustical fiberglas ceiling, standard on all models, soaks up road noise and gives more headroom as well.

A new die-cast aluminum 6 cylinder engine, the first in the industry, is standard on all models. It weighs 80 pounds less and gives better weight distribution and easier handling.

Ceramic-armoured muffler and tailpipe are another Rambler exclusive. They are guaranteed against rust or corrosion damage for the entire life of the car while the original buyer owns it.

Gas economy has been proven once again, when the Rambler Classic outperformed all other cars in its class during a gas economy test sponsored by a Toronto newspaper.

THERE ARE MANY MORE FEATURES THAT WILL MAKE YOU WANT TO BUY A 1961 RAMBLER CLASSIC. DROP IN AT YOUR NEAREST RAMBLER DEALER'S AND LET HIM SHOW YOU

Mrs. O. C. — Maura hides in her room or goes out for a walk whenever we have company.

Maura C. She—should be glad. They're ashamed of me, anyway.

Mrs. O. C. — We're concerned about Maura's temperamental behavior lately. She's sulky and cranky and it's hard to tell just what's eating her.

She's 14 and in the ninth grade. We know all about the adolescent girl and her ups and downs, because we went through it with Maura's sister, Judy, who's now 18. All we can figure out is that Maura's trying to have the spotlight by being so difficult to get along with.

I suppose there's a little jealousy operating, with Maura envying Judy's freedom and dates and cocktail dresses. But we've tried to be so careful to show no favoritism. Maura is just as pretty and just as smart as Judy, and we've tried to convince her of that.

But she's been building up a case against us for preferring her older sister, and just "tolerating" her, when in reality we adore them both!

Maura C. — You'd have to be an awful dope not to know when you're not wanted somewhere. In my home, the signs are all around, no matter what my mother says.

Did you ever start telling your mother something that happened, or something that's on your mind, and then have your big sister walk into the room? And you mother suddenly forgets you're even there, much less in the middle of talking to her?

I can tell from the expressions on the faces of my parents and my sister, that it's skinny Maura who spoils the family picture and it's pesty Maura who needs a $500 job done to straighten her teeth.

I've always felt they were a perfectly happy family without me, just Mother and Dad and Judy. If I'd been a boy, they'd have been delighted. A son for Dad and a brother for Judy. But another girl? Who needed it?

• • •

The Council — It's hard to tell whether Maura is dramatizing her role as the "unwanted, unloved, rejected" child (who among us hasn't wondered whether we were left on the doorstep?) or whether she's the weight of her insecurities.

To play it safe, we'll assume that Maura is actually miserable. Unbelievable as this may sound to parents as conscientious and devoted as her, it can still be true because their good intentions haven't hit target. All the toys, nylons, cashmere sweaters, sweet words and "wreathed smiles," still haven't gotten to Maura's core and assured her, "We love you. We're glad we had you. We're delighted you are a girl. We're glad you have Judy and Judy has you."

We recall a poignant illustration of a child's sensitivity to tiny details which bolstered his case against his parents. Entering the house quietly, he heard his mother call sweetly from the kitchen, "Is that you dear?" And he snarled, "No. It's me." She was using the voice meant for his brother.

What can Mrs. C. do at this point? First, concede that some rivalry is normal and can't be avoided, but that the conscious efforts to reduce it in Maura are failing because of unconscious "slips." The young lady justly cites one, the rude withdrawal of attention while she's speaking. So simple a measure as improving family manners toward Maura, may lift her spirits.

Then, a spot of counselling by a teacher or physician may be able to turn Maur's thoughts outward again, from "poor little me" to "proud little me" with a lovely sister, a loving family, and a lively future.

Inspiring Talk Given at World Day of Prayer Held in St. Paul's

ROSLIN — On Friday afternoon, the annual world day of Prayer service, which is held on the first Friday in Lent, was held in St. Paul's Anglican Church Hall, Roslin.

It was in 1887 that consecrated women in the United States inaugurated a Day of Prayer for Missions which grew in the minds and hearts of women's groups, not only in their own country, but in many lands. From the United States the observance moved to Canada in 1920, and on to Europe and the United Kingdom, as one traveller told another of its significance and blessings.

In 1927 friends took the service to Latin America, Asia, Africa and the Islands of the sea.

SERVED IN 100 COUNTRIES

Today the service is being used in more than 100 countries translated in to countless languages, drawing together a multitude of Christians, who are using the same theme, singing the same songs and uniting their hearts and renewing their purposes in the name of God and Father of all.

The significance of this great Christian observance is seen in the steady pressing forward of Christians towards the time that shall surely be, "When the Earth shall be filled with the glory of God as the waters cover the sea".

The theme of this year's service was 'Forward Through the Ages in Unbroken Line".

KEY WOMAN

Mrs. Earl Alexadner of Moneymore, was key woman and leader for the service, she also welcomed the guests as they arrived. Mrs. Frank Coulter played quiet music while all were assembling.

Those also on the platform and assisting in the service were: Mrs. G. Willoughby; Mrs. Dean; Mrs. S. Cross; Mrs. W. Chisholm; Mrs. E. Geen.

The roll call of the nations was responded to by members of St. John's Guild, Moneymore.

The churches taking part in this service were: St. Andrew's Presbyterian; Roslin United; St. Paul's Anglicen and St. John's Anglican.

An inspiring address was given by Mrs. Paul Vinden, of Belleville, who said in part: "To most of us, Jesus Christ means Prince of Peace, the personification of tranquility. This is very true. Anyone who truly knows the Lord will tell you that He alone can give inner peace at all times. There is the other side.

"During Lent take time to read St. Mark's Gospel. Here we see the laboring Lord. Mark's Gospel is in modern parlance action-packed and in the very first chapter we get a vivid picture of a Christ constantly in action. Action, associated with such words as "straightway, forthwith, immediately". He never called a committee meeting. He got on with the job.

"As we read on, we find He cared not whether His message was popular or not, whether he was approved in church circles or not, usually He wasn't, which is quite a point. He had a Gospel to preach and allowed nothing to stop Him.

"What is our place in all this? We must know something of the Divine urge that drove the Master from one needy person to another — from town to town. We must look beyond the pleasant cozy fellowship of our church to the need of those around us. The whole conception today of the church is of little isolated groups of believers gathered to enjoy one another's company within four walls, while the world of men around them goes to perdition. This is completely foreign to the mind and purpose of Christ. 'Ye shall be witnesses unto Me' said He; aggressive witness, effective witness. "As the Father hath sent me, so send I, you." We are sent as Christ was to seek and to save that which is lost.

"If only we could forget ourselves, our petty disagreements, our jealousies, our hurt feelings and look beyond to the vast needs around us.

"The greatest weapon is prayer, which is a weapon grown rusty in our churches and homes from lack of use. The church no longer prays because it no longer believes in prayer, and we wonder why we are so powerless.

"When the church prays, miracles happen; prayer power has never been tried to the full in any church. If we want to see mighty wonders in place of weakness and failure, let the whole church answer God's standing challenge (John 33:3) 'Call unto Me and I will answer thee and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not."

"Only one condition, Isaiah 59: 12, 'Your iniquities have separated you and your God'."

We do not have to wait until Good Friday. Christ will deal with that which separates us from God any time we come in repentance to Him. Only then can we claim God's promise and answer His challenge.

Special music included a duet, "The Whole Wide World for Jesus" given by Mrs. J. Blackburn and Mrs. C. Kincaid.

The offering was presented by Mrs. E. Coulter and Mrs. W. Johnson. St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church offered to look after plans for next year's service was Mrs. S. Cross in charge.

Mrs. S. Colden moved a vote of thanks to the hostess on behalf of the guests present.

Self-Regulated Marketing To Curb Unwanted Growth Of Production Needed

- - Hannam

OTTAWA (CP)—Future Canadian farming probably will bring growth in self-regulated marketing to curb unwanted expansion of production, President H. H. Hannam told the Canadian federation of agriculture Tuesday night in a 25th anniversary speech.

That is the trend and marketing must be national in scope to maintain price stability across the country, he declared in a then-and-now look at Canadian agriculture.

Mr. Hannam, federation president for 21 years, was key speaker at a banquet marking the association's birth in the depression of the 1930s when farmers lacked a unifying organization.

"Our thinking in Canada favors programs regulating market supply, undertaken and directed by producers themselves," he said.

HAVE SEEN DEFEATED

"How often have we seen price improvement through farm price supports, co-operative marketing or marketing-board plans completely defeated by a greatly expanded market supply. This is bound to happen when there is no effective policy to prevent more uncontrolled expansion than is wise under conditions of supply and demand."

His forecast followed a busy second day of the two-day meeting which whizzed through 42 of the 98 conference resolutions and sanctioned fresh support soon as possible to aid developing countries and stimulate Canada's economy.

President James G. Patton of the United States National Farmers Union said he believes the attitude of President Kennedy's administration and support abroad can bring co-ordination of a world food bank within five years.

Today, more resolutions were on the agenda. John Pallett, one of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's two parliamentary secretaries, was substituting for Mr. Diefenbaker who had to cancel his luncheon address to the meeting because of his mother's death.

Mr. Hannam warned that the farmer is a declining segment of Canada's population although his influence has grown. Henceforth, care must be taken in presenting farm problems and policies to the public, he said.

Pricing systems still functioned in an "inadequate and unfair" manner. While farm productivity has outpaced that in industry in the post-war period, bringing lower costs, the price of farm produce had fallen as well.

Thus, there was little advantage other than to the consumer who paid less for food today than ever before. Farmers themselves were squeezed hard in forces created by a technological revolution.

Most resolutions passed Tuesday prompted little debate. Western delegates successfully received backing for the principle of grain deficiency payments, twice rejected by the federal government, and a two-price wheat system that would involve paying more in Canada for wheat for human consumption than is charged for exports.

Despite opposition, a price-support resolution reiterated demands that the government bolster prices by offering to buy commodities at prevailing rates—a system ditched in hogs and eggs on grounds it piled up surpluses.

Four resolutions critical of the revamped support-price system for eggs were debated and passed.

This deficiency payment system gives farmers the difference between the national average market price calculated over a year and a set floor price based on the 10-year average—if the floor price proves lower.

Two resolutions call for raising the number of eggs on which the payment is made—4,000 dozen Grade A large is the present quota — although there were efforts to have both tabled for further study.

Another resolution asked the federal government to investigate prosecection of schemes whereby companies enter the egg business on a large scale to the detriment of smaller producers.

ASK PRICE CUT

There was comparatively easy sailing for a resolution covering the dairy industry with its demand for a butter - price cut while maintaining producer returns.

Mr. Patton, also president of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, said he will propose to President Kennedy a program of technical assistance by free - world farm groups to emerging nations.

He said he did not visualize that the commercial farmers of the West could support the hungry millions of the world. Rather underdeveloped areas should be assisted to grow their own food.

Charlotte Steps Into Trouble After Complaint

OTTAWA (CP)—A mayor sometimes has to be careful how she answers complaints — especially when she's on slippery ground.

Suddenly nearby came the complaint that the streets should be sanded. Turning, she saw Forestry Minister Hugh John Flemming.

"The sand trucks have been out all night," she retorted and then:

"My feet went from under me and I landed on my fanny in the water."

CHECK THIS . . . By the time the Belleville Y's Men's Club complete their fund-raising campaign for the local "Y's" building fund local banking methods should have undergone a complete revolution. Last year one of the largest cheques ever seen passed across local banking counters and this year certainly one of the longest string of cheques (all good) were cashed locally.

Move to Suburbs Will Continue Delegates Told

WINDSOR (CP) — A record 500 delegates to the annual convention of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards heard optimistic words Tuesday.

The message delivered by executives and speakers was in effect this:

-There are poor business times ahead for real estate this year, but by year-end business will be booming.

President R. S. Raven of Kingston, a grey - haired, 36-year-old father of five, said easier financing and expanding populations along with a generally more solvent economy will catch up a backlog of available housing and create more demand.

The new president replaced P. H. McKeown of Ottawa. A specialist in residential housing, he said the move to the suburbs will continue.

"The only available land is in the suburbs. Land within most city limits is limited, or it may be undesirable as residential. Growing populations are going to have to move into the surrounding country."

He said real estate dealers who realize this will have a better business year.

Rod Todgham, president of Chrysler of Canada and a keynote speaker, said the first six months of this year will see "a general levelling off in the business world, as predicted," and the last half will see economic revival.

"Meanwhile the purveyors of gloom are making the most they can out of the present temporary depressed state of business."

He said the present state of business does not appreciably alter Canada's prospects for continued growth and future prosperity.

They include: Abram Wiebe, Kitchener, Region 2; L. Randall, Brantford, Region 3; Paul Ristow, Oshawa, Region 7; D. Roy Wymark, Ottawa, Region 8; A. C. Kilgour, North Bay, Region 9.

REDUCES TAX

CANBERRA (Reuters) — The government Tuesday announced a 10-per-cent reduction in the sales tax on automobiles to help Australia's motor industry.

16 Canadian Youngsters Honored by Scout Assoc.

OTTAWA (CP) — Sixteen quick-thinking Canadian youngsters were given awards Tuesday by the Boy Scout Association for their bravery in acts of heroism last year.

Governor - General Vanier, Canada' chief scout, will present the awards next fall to winners who are able to make the trip to Ottawa. Others will be given medals and certificates in home troop ceremonies.

Of the 16 boys recognized, 10 helped in water rescue, two prevented fires, two helped persons stricken with heart attacks, one prevented a hanging and another administered artificial respiration to save a life.

The scouts also announced other awards to 31 adults.

Four boys won the gallantry award for preventing drownings. They included Robert George Straughan, 16, Stoney Creek, Ont., and Ian Dalrymple, 11, Midland.

Asistant Scoutmaster Ross Slote, of Hagersville, Ont., received a letter of commendation for gallantry for prompt application of artificial respiration to revive a boy he rescued from the bottom of a pond.

Letters of commendation for meritorious conduct were presented to: Wayne Russell Wolsey, 16, of Harrowsmith, Ont., for averting a drowning; Kenneth Farrell, nine, of Lefroy, Ont., for extinguishing flamer that threatened his home.

The Silver Wolf was awarded to Capt. P. Barry German and Duncan K. MacTavish, both of Ottawa for service of exceptional character to scouting.

The Silver Acorn for specially distinguished service went to: William Burgoyne and Lionel Hesson, both of St. Catharines.

Medals of merit for good service went to Max H. Wilson, Peterborough; R. J. LeBlanc, Fort William; Mrs. William Corbett, Oshawa; Roland S. Dell, Niagara Falls; Reginald Jackson, St. Catharines; Edward Walter Sampson, St. Catharines.

Woman Dead In Closet For 72 Hours

TORONTO (CP)—A court was told Tuesday a woman lay dead in a closet for 72 hours while the man with whom she had been living took "goof balls" to satisfy his craving for drugs.

The addict, Robert J. Anderson, 30, pleaded guilty to a charge of causing indignity to a dead body. He was remanded to Feb. 28 for sentence.

Det. - Sgt. Robert Bamblett said he and other police officers found the body of Ruth Elaine Campbell, 27, in the closet of Anderson's apartment Feb. 6. A pathologist was unable to determine cause of death.

Sgt. Bamblett said Anderson "was attempting to kick the drug habit and was doing it with a mixture of barbiturates and sedatives.

"The result of these goof balls is to make a person dense, dopey and frustrated," he said.

Sgt. Bamblett said that when Anderson regained his senses and realized Miss Campbell was dead, "he broke down and wept."

Narrow Miss Between Planes At London

LONDON (CP - Reuters)—A Trans-Canada Air Lines plane narrowly missed collision with a second airliner near London Airport Tuesday, an airport spokesman said.

More than 100 persons were aboard the planes, a TCA Douglas jetliner bound for Montreal and a Comet airliner of Misrair, the United Arab Republic airline.

One report said the jets missed each other by "only a few hundred feet."

The near - miss happenel shortly after the Canadian plane, carrying 80 passengers and a 10-member crew, took off.

The pilot of the U.A.R. jet filed a "violation report" on landing. TCA officials said their pilot would be asked to submit a full report when he reached Montreal.

Congolese Premier Would Rather Read Philosophy Than Spout Fire at Meetings

By The Associated Press

Joseph Ileo is a breed apart from most Congolese politicians. A quiet, studious man, the new premier would rather read philosophy than shout fiery phrases at mass meetings. His political career has been spent trying to unite the young republic's warring states into a loose federation.

"Congolese unity does not exist," he once said. "The Congo is not a people, it is a collection of large ethnic groups and each of them is a people."

Ileo is a pacifist in a land that has seen violent times, and his placid nature has led some observers to wonder if he will be able to command a population that so far has had its politics served up emotionally and dramatically.

For many years, Ileo, now 39, was an associate of Patrice Lumumba in the fight for freedom from Belgian colonial rule. They broke in 1959 when Lumumba objected to Ileo's philosophy of non-violence.

The fiery Lumumba hit the top first, as first premier of The Congo. But President Joseph Kasavubu's group, disturbed about Lumumba's leftist tendencies, deposed him last September and named Ileo his successor.

Before Ileo could consolidate his position, army strongman Joseph Mobutu took power, on Sept. 14. Military rule ended Feb. 9 with Ileo's appointment, once again, as premier.

Ileo brings to the premiership one of the best educations possessed by any Congolese. The Belgians sent him to Europe for schooling and later gave him administrative experience in a job with the African territories division of the governor-general's office.

When independence came, last June 30, Ileo's unimpressive appearance worked to his disadvantage. He was largely overlooked in the wild scramble of Congolese politicians for positions of influence.

Ileo had little money for political purposes and seemed to lack the necessary drive and ambition. He was elected president of the Senate in Equator Province, home of his Mongo tribe.

When Lumumba began slipping from power, some observers expected Ileo to make a determined bid for power. Said Ileo: "I prefer the legal way."

Ileo is a small man who has a liking for Western-made charcoal grey suits and bow ties. The Belgian weekly newspaper Temps Nouveaux recently said he also has a liking for Western political methods:

"He is the first Congolese who has really analyzed the problems of his country according to its needs and who has always refused to be a demagogue."

Relations Between Countries Getting off on Right Foot

By JACK BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Relations between Canada and the Kennedy administration in the United States have got off on the right foot.

This was evident from the 2¾-hour informal talk between Prime Minister Diefenbaker and the U.S. president at the White House Monday—their first meeting since Mr. Kennedy took office.

Many observers were amazed at how much the two leaders were able to accomplish during the time they were together. Obviously, a minimum of time was spent on formalities and plesantries and a maximum on serious discussion.

"I am amazed," said Opposition Leader Pearson, who as a former external affairs minister is not without experience in such matters, "that in such a short time they could have covered so many important subjects."

The talks covered the whole spectrum of Canada-U.S. relations as well as the international situation.

For Canada, the crucial point of the talks was the indication they seemed to give that this country's special place in the Washington scheme of things is going to be preserved—if not improved. The famous "open door" at the White House figures to remain open.

As Mr. Diefenbaker told the Commons on his return, "the president revealed a ready desire to preserve the distinctive quality of the Canadian-United States partnership."

The Washington talks and the meeting of minds which they achieved came at an opportune time as far as Canada-U.S. relations are concerned. There has been a great deal of talk in the U.S. about what is termed a drift toward "neutralism" in Canada.

Mr. Diefenbaker was able to assure his host that this is rally hokum. He also assured the president that, at least as far as the present government is concerned, there will be no Canadian withdrawal from the North American Air Defence Command.

The establishment of close personal relations between the president and the prime minister was the second big boost to Canada-U.S. relations in the last two weeks.

The first was President Kennedy's nomination of Livingston T. Merchant as U.S. ambassador in Ottawa. The selection of Mr. Merchant, who had served a term in the Canadian capital before, was acclaimed by Canadians.

Quinte COSSA Basketball

By PETER CARVER

Belleville Collegiate Institute bantams and juniors stayed in the race for the Bay of Quinte District COSSA championship by taking wins from Prince Edward Collegiate Institute basketball squads last night. The BCI seniors lost a heart breaker 56-55 in the final second of game. This loss pretty well eliminates the 'BCI seniors' chances for a first-place finish. The scores in the bantam and junior tilts were 35-19 and 43-24 respectively.

BANTAM GAME

The first half was fairly slow as neither team could pile up any score. BCI held a 16-9 lead at the end of the first half. Belleville picked up in the final stanza, however, as sharp shooting and rebounding gave them 19 points to Picton's 10.

Peter Carver was the top scorer for the winners, hitting for 11 points, while Swan and Anderson each scored 8. A Picton player accidentally scored a field goal on his own basket.

Paul Finegan was the best for Picton, scoring 11 points.

Lineups:

BCIVS: Swan 8, Anderson 8, Thomson 4, Mott 2, Athey White, Dolan, Hobbs, Williams, Hurst, MacCormack, Desaulniers, Carver 11, —2.

JUNIOR GAME

BCI clicked right from the opening whistle as their superior shooting and defensive play helped build up a 21-10 lead at half time. The second half was all Belleville's as they scored 22 points to Picton's 13.

Nine of BCI's 13 payers got on the scoresheet. Dave Blakely was the best, scoring 13 points. Bob Burr and Eugene Yorke hit for 7 and 6 respectively.

Three players took care of the Picton scoring. Graham Norval, Clapp and Detlor each collected 8 points.

Lineups:

BCIVS: Adams 2, Bakker 4, Blakely 13, Burr 7, Deacon, McKibbon 2, Muir 3, Rose, Soule 2, Williams 4, Yorke 6, Follwell.

PECI: Bailey, Norval 8, Coulter, Clapp 8, Sutherland, Barber, Lobb, Detlor 8, Brummel.

SENIOR GAME

Both senior squads were very evenly matched as neither team held a safe lead at any point through the game. At the end of regulation time the score was tied 55-55 all but BCI had a technical foul called on them for disputing a referee's call. Picton's Paul Hawker calmly made the free throw to give Picton the win.

Picton took a 15-14 lead at the end of the first quarter. Both teams fought on even terms as the half time score read 25-25.

The lead was exchanged several times during the third stanza as the two teams rebounding and play under the basket was good. PECI moved into a 5 point lead entering the final stanza.

BCI hit consistently on the long set shots but Picton's terrific foul shooting and driving gave them a 4 point edge with a little over two-minutes remaining. BCI made a terrific come-bac: moving into a 55-53 lead with about five seconds remaining. Picton's Howard Prowse tied up the game in the final second. Then came the fateful foul shot and the game was over.

Brian McKenzie hit for 20 in the losing cause. Nelson Banting and Larry Campbell scored 9 and 8 respectively.

LINEUPS:

BCIVS — Annis (3), Banting (9), Parker, Regensburg (4), McKenzie (20), Campbell (8), Roberts (7), Davis, Clarke, MacDonald (3).

Aces Crush Hershey 6-1

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec Aces snapped a losing streak at eight games Tuesday night by crushing Hershey Bears 6-1 in an American Hockey League game before 7,802 spectators.

It was a rough game in which 16 penalties were called.

Judge Sends Carbo, Pals To Prison

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In a surprise move, a federal judge revoked bail Tuesday for underworld boxing boss Frankie Carbo and three of his four co-defendants in a conspiracy-extortion trial.

Judge Ernest Tolin approved a request by special prosecutor Alvin Goldstein to send the men to jail for the duration of their trial.

Ordered into custody in addition to Carbo were Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Philadelphia fight promoter, and Joe Sica and Louis Tom Dragna, Los Angeles gambling figures.

Truman Gibson Jr., of Chicago, president of National Boxing Enterprises Inc., was permitted to remain at liberty on $5,000 bond.

The five were alleged to have tried to muscle in on the purses of former welterweight boxing champion Don Jordan.

1961 Baseball Presents

When Training Opens, Can Spring?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Casey Stengel has retired, so has Ted Williams, and a fresh platoon of new faces is ready to take over the baseball picture. The spring training season that gets into full swing this week finds the 10-club American League preparing for an unprecedented 162-game schedule and the National still operating for one more year on an eight-club 154-game basis.

New clubs at Los Angeles and Washington, plus the shift of the old Washington franchise to Minnesota, present a challenge to the American League.

Five major league teams already are hard at work — New York Yankees, St. Louis Cardinals, Detroit Tigers, Baltimore Orioles and Chicago Cubs. They will be joined within the next 10 days by the complete personnel of all 18 big league teams.

The Yankees, anxious to show they can win without Stengel for new manager Ralph Houk, already have uncovered a couple of fine looking rookies in their camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. They are Charlie Keller, outfielding son of King Kong Keller of Yankees fame, and Pedro Gonzalez, a young infielder from the Dominican Republic.

CHAMPS BEGIN TODAY

Pittsburgh's National League and world series champions have the first call for batterymen to work out today at Fort Myers, Fla., where Danny Murtaugh will greet his newly-acquired lefty, Bobby Shantz. The Bucs are standing pat without other trades although they are bringing up a crop of rookies.

St. Louis will be among the last to turn out—Feb. 28 at St. Petersburg. However, they have had an advance camp in operation at Homestead, Fla. The cards are hopeful of added pitching help from Al Cicotte, purchased from Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League.

Al Dark, new manager at San Francisco, gets his first look at the Giants today at Phoenix. Johnny Antonelli, Willie Kirkland and Andre Rogers are gone but Harvey Kuenn has been added.

Milwaukee's Chuck Dressen will have the batterymen at the Bradenton, Fla., camp Friday. Since the season ended, the Braves have been most active, adding shortstop Roy McMillan and Rodgers and second baseman Frank Bolling and Billy Martin while giving up pitchers Juan Pizarro and Joey Jay, centrefielder Billy Bruton and infielder Chuck Cottier.

Los Angeles Dodgers reported Monday at Vero Beach, Fla. Manager Walter Alston is counting heavily on youngsters such as Frank Howard, Willie Davis and Tom Davis plus his solid pitching. The newest thing about the Dodgers is the addition of Leo Durocher as a coach.

REDS START MONDAY

Cincinnati Reds call their batterymen today and the rest of the team Feb. 27 at Tampa, Fla., where they will greet such additions as pitchers Jay and third baseman Gene Freese.

Philadelphia batterymen report at Clearwater, Fla., Friday with the rest of the Phils due March 1. Pitcher Frank Sullivan, acquired from Boston for Gene Conley, is the most noteworthy addition.

The Cubs, who plan to have eight coaches and no manager, have been looking at their pitching staff at Mesa, Ariz., for more than a week. The entire squad is due Feb. 27.

Bill Rigney's new Los Angeles Angels will train at Palm Springs, Calif., with the entire squad due Friday. Their latest acquisition is pitcher Tom Morgan.

Boston, with Williams as a special batting coach, reports Friday at Scottsdale, Ariz. Conley is the main Red Sox addition, plus a host of rookies.

The new Washington team asked batterymen to be at Pompano Beach, Fla., for a workout today and the rest March 1. Manager Mickey Vernon knows he has his job cut out for him, but he has a solid outfield nucleus of Gene Woodling, Willie Tasby and Marty Keough.

A's HAVE COURTNEY

The new Kansas City owner got his first look at what he bought Monday at West Palm Beach when the first group reported to manager Joe Gordon. By next Sunday the whole team will be on hand. Among the new men are Clint Courtney, Joe Pignatano, Joe Nuxhall and Bob Boyd.

Detroit's new manager, Bob Scheffing has been with an early group at Lakeland, Fla., for a week. The entire squad is due Feb. 28. New Tigers include Billy Bruton, Chuck Cottier and Dick Brown.

Baltimore, which came close last time, counts on uncovering some new talent at Miami. Pitchers reported Tuesday. The others are due March 1.

Cleveland has added Antonelli and Kirkland from the Giants and gave up Kuenn to make the deal. Manager Jimmy Dykes meets the batterymen today and the entire squad Feb. 27 at Tucson, Ariz.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Scotty is—or was—a good friend of mine. Last night he telephoned me and it wasn't to wish me a happy birthday, a jolly good New Year or "lang mae your lum reek." Scotty was just plain mad.

The voice that nearly melted the telephone wire and caused the receiver to almost Highland Fling itself out of my grasp fairly sizzled. The Scottish burr of it crackled.

"Dinna ye know your history, laddie? Dinna ye knew anything, ye addle-pated son of Albion?" came the seathing commentary.

And all because in a recent column I had stated that Wolfe's mountain-climbing cockneys had scaled the heights to reach the plains of Abraham and meet and defeat Montcalm, or words to that effect.

"It was the Hielanders that took the braw cliffs and dirked and fought their way to victory for Wolfe, not the cockneys. There was not a braw bucko from Bow Bells within two arf-pints o' Quebec at the time." Scotty told me.

That's strange, for in our family archives is a picture of a forebear dressed in the green of the London Rifle Brigade splitting a noggin of Indian homebrew with an Iroquois brave.

But Scotty had a point. For in the background is a bevy of Indian maidens wearing buckskin-trimmed kirties of hieland plaid. Those kilties must have got in the Abraham scrap at some time or another.

I admitted, apologetically, that it was quite possible some of the Hieland clans may have taken advantage of cheap rates for transatlantic cruises and pibroched their kilted cousins up the mountainside.

But Scotty was not finished, "Listen, ye beef-eatin' son of a sassenach, where did ye suppose the MacDonalds, MacPhairsons, the Graemes, and other well-known Scottish families of Montreal spring from? They're descendants o' the famous kilty regiments that stormed the heights and not only beat the Frenchies but joined 'em."

"And who, for argyment sake (Scotty was in high gear now) invented gowf? Who originated the grand auld game o' curlin'? And who first distilled the brand o' whusky I borrit last Christmas and gie ye for a present."

Well, I had scarcely weathered that Scottish mist when Scotty Johnstone called. What he said cannot be published here. However, I must bow my English head in shame. But I cannot figure out how all those Scotties scrambled up the mountainside without leaving their wee kilts or part of them on the bramble bushes.

Mayhap Wolfe had a point there. The sight of a regiment of Hielanders charging with bayonets fixed wearing nothing but red tunics and wee shorts probably scared the daylights out of Montcalm's cuirassiers.

ODDBALLS IN SPORT

Jim Coleman's reference to one Patsy Zocanno, the other day, brought a touch of nostalgia to Tommy Mascaro, Park Theatre manager, here. Coleman said Zocanno, a fighter of parts (quite a few), once rushed into the ring and discovered he had forgot his trunks.

This is not exactly a news flash as it has happened before. But Zocanno, Tommy calls him Tony, was a "one-man show in himself." A fine shoemaker by trade, the squat heavy-set Italiano took up fighting, managing, promoting, ticket-selling and training and wrapped it in one package.

He would promote a fight, pick the fighters, instal himself as a main-bouter, sell the tickets and at the last minute rush into the ring for his stint as a fighter.

"No wonder he forgot to don his trunks," Tommy said. "Sometimes he would forget that he was scheduled to fight, himself. Tony could not speak very good English, but he was the boy of the Italian community around London in those days. One day he was the whipping boy—the next a hero. The Marconi Club, an Italian organization, usually backed Tony to the hilt—and when he lost—well—sometimes the spaghetti and macaroni was tough to get.

"However," Tommy sighed, "he was a great shoemaker. But it was fun to watch this one-man Madison Square Garden in action."

Senior Hockey

GALT (CP) — A Third-period goal by left winger Bob Mader Tuesday night gave Galt Terriers a 3-2 Ontario Hockey Association Senior Series win over Woodstock Athletics and a share of second place.

Woodstock trails Strathroy Rockets, holders of the final playoff spot, by five points with only two games to play.

Stars Batter National Loop Marks

Some Broken Others Tied

By ROGER TETRAULT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Each year, when the National Hockey League season draws to a close, there is increased activity among fans who keep close watch on statistics and records.

This season is no exception.

Although the attention of most fans is on Frank Mahovlich's chances of breaking the record of 50 goals in a season set by former Montreal Canadiens great Maurice (Rocket) Richard during the 1944-45 season, several other league, team ond personal marks are either threatened or have already been passed.

The Toronto sharpshooter already has broken the record for most goals by a left winger. His 45th goal last Sunday enabled him to break the previous mark of 44 set by Joe Malone of Canadiens in 1917-18, the NHL's first season.

In the middle of the season, Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion tied the record for the longest consecutive goal scoring streak—12 games—set by Richard in 1944-45.

SETS PENALTY MARK

In a game between Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers, Oct. 19, Chicago rookie defenceman Reggie Fleming set a record for most penalty minutes in a game. He picked up a two-minute minor, three five-minute majors, an automatic 10 - minute misconduct after the second major penalty and an automatic game misconduct after the third major, for a total of 37 minutes.

He broke the record of 30 minutes set by veteran Detroit battler Ted Lindsay in 1952 in a game between the Red Wings and Toronto.

Fleming will be in action when Chicago visits New York in tonight's only game.

Mahovlich also is the highest goal-scorer in Leafs' history, having beaten the previous record of 37 set by Gaye Stewart in 1945-46. His 73 points total is one short of the team mark of 74 set by Lorne Car in 1943-44.

Mahovlich's linemate, Red Kelly holds the new team record of 46 assists, surpassing the 43 set by Ted Kennedy in 1950-51. Kelly's 64 points surpass his previous personal high of 54 reached while he was Detroit in 1950-51.

Toronto rookie forward Bob Nevin, who has 31 assists, needs nine more to tie the league record for most assists by a rookie. Gus Bodnar, former Toronto star, holds the present record of 40, set in 1944-45.

The Leafs need 15 more goals to reach the all-time Toronto club record of 214 set in 1943-44.

Geoffrion, league scoring leader, has passed his personal mark of 75 points and 37 assists set in 1954-55 when he won the scoring championship.

He has 38 goals and 40 assists for 78 points. He needs one more goal to surpass his personal high of 38 set during the same seaon.

Geoffrion's linemate, Jean Beliveau, has 45 assists and needs five more to break his personal lifetime record of 49 set two seasons ago.

Trader Lane Speaks

What, No Witch Doctor?

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Frank Lane, general manager of Kansas City Athletics, thinks he can improve on Phil Wrigley's eight-coach, no-manager plan for Chicago Cubs.

Lane likes the idea of eight coaches, but he figures they should include five non-baseball men, to wit:

A psychiatrist — "Not only for the players, many of whom need psychiatry, but for the manager, the general manager and all the club officials."

An eye doctor — To work with players who take third strikes down the middle. And to tell the umpires, with real authority, that they are blind.

A combination mind-reader fortune-teller — Invaluable in selecting pitchers and pinch-hitters, and in making trades.

A doctor and a dentist.

That's five coaches.

Lane would like to put one of the other three in the press box—where he "can see what the pitcher is throwing better than those guys on the field."

West Shares Lead

Schoolboy Curling

By BOB TRIMBLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) Johnny Williams of Edmonton and Bob Friesen of Winnipeg today shared top spot in the 1961 Canadian high school curling championships with unblemished 4-0 records.

But with Williams drawing a bye in the fifth round, scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m. PST (5:30 p.m. EST), Friesen had a great opportunity to jump into sole possession of first place in a match against Bill Vanldersine's New Brunswick foursome.

Williams and Friesen clash in tonight's sixth round. By the end of the day the undefeated 10-round tournament will be reduced to at least one rink.

In other fifth-round matches Nova Scotia was pitted against Saskatchewan, Ontario against Newfoundland, Quebec against Northern Ontario and British Columbia against Prince Edward Island.

BC IN THIRD SPOT

Holding third place in the standings after four rounds was British Columbia's Jerry Caughlin from Oliver. He dropped a 6-5 decision to Lukowich in the fourth round Tuesday night to tumble from the undefeated ranks.

Ron Bobbie of Kitchener-Waterloo, Bill Thompson from Red Lake, Ont., and Bill Vanldersline's New Brunswick champions own 1-2 marks. Prince Edward Island is 0-3 and Newfoundland 0-4.

With the ice getting keener and most rinks well past the jitters stage, competition in all matches began to tighten.

LIST OTHER SCORES

In other fourth-round clashes Quebec, coming into its own after dropping its first two matches, humbled Ontario 15-4, Nova Scotia beat Newfoundland 13-9 and Alberta and Manitoba fought back stubborn opposition from two Maritimes entries, Williams nipping New Brunswick 8-5 and Friesen stopping Prince Edward Island 8-6.

Williams went wild against Prince Edward Island in the third round, picking up a 25-1 victory. Friesen edged Saskatchewan 7-6, Quebec defeated Nova Scotia 9-6, Northern Ontario nipped Ontario 6-5 and British Columbia walloped Newfoundland 12-3.

Each team receives a bye in the tournament. If there is a first-place tie when regular play winds up Friday, a playoff has been set for Friday night.

Smokies Trim Czech Juniors

PRAGUE (CP)—Trail Smoke Eaters won their fifth consecutive game in Czechoslovakia Tuesday, overwhelming a Czech junior team 7-1.

The victory was Trail's 11th in 14 exhibition games to date. They have lost two and tied one.

The touring Canadians now go to East Germany to play in Werwasser Friday. After that, they play single games in West Germany and Italy before the opening of the world hockey championships in Switzerland.

The Smoke Eaters fired home four unanswered goals in the second period Tuesday and outscored the Czechs 3-1 in the third.

Cal Hockley notched two goals, one a few seconds after the start of the second period. Dave Rusnell, Ad Tambellini and Jackie McLeod also scored in the second period. Don Fletcher, Hockley and Peacosh were the third-period scorers.

The Czechs got their only goal five minutes before the end of the game.

Needs Point For Century In Junior A

TORONTO (CP) — Only one position was changed in the top five Ontario Hockey Association Junior A scorers last week and nobody else was seriously challenged.

Rod Gilbert of the league-leading Guelph Royals came within one point of the century mark according to official statistics released Monday. The right wing sniper has scored 53 goals in 43 games and collected 46 assists for 99 points.

In second place, Guelph's Jean Ratelle opened up an eight poitn margin over teammate Bob Cunningham on 33 goals, 56 assists for 89 points. Cunningham has counted 32 goals and 49 assists.

Bruce Draper regained the fourth position he has been trading with St. Catharines's Murray Hall and the Toronto wst. Michael's College Majors' ace now has scored 40 goals and 32 assists for 72 points.

Macs Lead Series 2-1

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Belleville McFarlands stole Whitby's home-ice advantage in their OHA Eastern Junior "B" group finals series last night when they scored a well-earned 5-3 victory right in Whitby.

The Macs now lead the four-of-seven series two games to one with the fourth scheduled here Friday night at nine o'clock. The fifth game will be played in Whitby next Tuesday.

Last night's tilt was a tight playoff battle with most of the scoring confined to the third period. The clubs traded goals in the opening heat and the score stayed 1-1 through a wild second period when the clubs drew 15 of their 16 penalties.

Belleville took over early in the third and never looked back after goals at 2.21 and 8.37 made it 3-1. Whitby fought back but the Macs skated miles and checked all out in one of their better periods of hockey in some time.

Left-winger Ronnie Hull once again paced the Mac scorers with a pair of pretty goals; including the one that killed Whitby's hopes in the third. Bucky Ethier had a goal and assist, Gary Hull and Pete Weston a goal each, Moe Hunter and Gary Goyer two assists and Roger Smith one.

McCullough's backhander sent Whitby in front for the only time at 12.24 of the quiet first period. Tran served the period's only penalty without damage resulting. Ron Hull's first goal, after Goyer had started the play and Hunter had beaten one man to feed Hull streaking in, tied it at 17.43.

The middle heat was a rash of penalties from the opening seconds and the penalty box never emptied until the period ended. Belleville picked up eight and Whitby seven in the wild action, majors to Mavety and Bobbie for fighting, coming at 12.58. The rest were minors and there was nary a missmove from either side in the third.

Gary Hull put the Macs ahead to stay at 2.21, rapping a quick shot past Godridge after Smith and Ethier had carried the play to the net. Ethier bagged the next one, grabbing McCullough's clearing attempt and banking it home off Len Bobbie's legs.

The Hillcrests got one back to make it 3-2 on Tran's close-in backhander at 10.24 and for a couple of minutes the home club pressed all around the Belleville net.

Goyer's clearing pass sent Hunter and Ron Hull away on a quick two-on-one break at 12.45. Hunter carried and Hull finished the fast pass-and-shot play with a low sizzler.

Whitby lifted goalie Godridge in favor of an extra attacker with the score 4-2 in favor of the Macs at 10.05 and 15 seconds later Weston got a loose puck and scored from his own blueline. That sewed up the Mac win before Roberts beat Moxon on a ganging play with Mackey and Shearer at 19.45.

Belleville: Moxon; Asselstine, Reid, Mavety, Titterson; Weston, Kellar, Forsythe, Goyer, R. Hull, Hunter, Ethier, G. Hull, Smith, McGuire.

Whitby: Godridge; Ashby, Bobbie, Kadwell, Chasczewski, Tripp, Roberts, Shearer, Tran, Nicholishen, Napiorkowski, Luke, Middleton, Mackey, McCullough.

Broda Kicks Over Traces

TORONTO (CP) — Manager-coach Turk Broda of Toronto Marlboros said Tuesday his Ontario Hockey Association Junior A club doesn't intend to give up left winger Gus Brassard to Sudbury Wolves of the Eastern Professional League "until we're definitely out of the playoffs."

Broad said Wolves coach Murph Chamberlain is after two other left wingers to strengthen his crippled club for the end-of-season drive. The two are Marlies' Gary Jarrett and Larry Jeffrey of the Junior A Hamilton Red Wings.

He said it was unlikely Jarrett would turn pro because he still has two years left as a junior.

Don Drysdale Ready for Best Year

The six-foot-six Los Angeles Dodgers righthander thinks this will be his season. So do such highly qualified baseball men as Fred Hutchinson and Solly Henus.

Drysdale's complete games, innings pitched, shutouts, strikeouts and earned - runs allowed were the best on the Dodgers and among the best in the National League in 1960, when he won 16 games.

"I think I'm ready to have my best year," said Drysdale. "I've had five seasons in the majors now and I have the experience and the know-how."

Drysdale, only 24, has been knocking on the door of greatness for some time now. He has a smoking fast ball, wide sweeping curve and a corking change of pace.

Chuvalo 'More Scared Than Sick'

London Not Bluffing-Flies Home

TORONTO (CP) — The disgruntled London fighting team headed back to England Tuesday night with no money but a trunkful of hard feelings. They left not one, but two, cases of flu in their wake.

It developed that Brian London, 26, former British Empire heavyweight champion, wasn't bluffing when he demanded double or nothing to go through with his postponed heavyweight bout against Geoege Chuvalo of Toronto.

The scrap was put off for a week when Chuvalo, the Canadian champ, came down with the flu scant hours before ring time Monday.

With the full support of his father - manager and brother, London demanded his guarantee be upped to $12,000 — whether or not Chuvalo appeared Feb. 27 — from the original $5,540.

Promoter Frank Tunney wouldn't meet the demand and the London entourage left for home.

SAYS CHUVALO SCARED

Before boarding his transatlantic plane in New York Tuesday night, London maintained his original thesis that Chuvalo was more scared than sick. His estimate of losses in the fight that wasn't fought mounted with his anger, from $2,000 in Toronto to $3,000 in New York.

Brian claimed he spent that much on his training expenses in his home city of Blackpool. The London's return air fare and expenses here were paid by Tunney, who figured his own setback at about $6,000, including the expenses of other fighters on the washed-out card.

London's actions were a little puzzling to the fight fraternity here, who felt he had nothing to lose except what was left of his temper by hanging around another week with a pretty fair pay day at the end. As Tunney put it:

"Maybe he can get $12,000 by jumping off London Bridge."

PLANS APPEAL

Brian, however, had something else in mind. In New York he said he will appeal to the British Boxing Board of Control to recover the purse.

Chuvalo, meanwhile, described London's utterances and attitudes as "childish" and said "I'm more anxious than ever to fight him now." Which he can do, said London, if he goes to England.

Matchmaker Jack (Deacon) Allen, whose past ring enterprises have been killed or crippled by such things as hurt fighters, storms and streetcar strikes, remained aloof from the controversy Tuesday night.

He was in bed—with the flu.

Junior Gridders Receive Trophies

BCI Champions Honored

Belleville Collegiate Institute's COSSA junior football champions, arrayed in their best bibs and tuckers, modestly accepted the honors due football heroes last night.

They dined as guests of the Bay of Quinte District High School Board in the school cafeteria, accepted trophies won by gridiron prowess, and personal gifts donated by the Boys' Athletic Society.

The COSSA Trophy emblematic of junior football supremacy was presented to the team through co-captain Bob Burr by N. A. "Pete" Beach, executive secretary of the Ontario Federation of Secondary Schools.

The COSSA Bay of Quinte District Trophy was accepted by co-captain Larry Soule, presented by Jack Sisson, Quinte Secondary School football coach, representing Jack Hayman, unable to be present.

The youthful gridders were also presented with championship crests by Mr. Beach.

Fred Wien of the Boys' Athletic Society, handed the team members handsome pen and pencil sets, a smark of school appreciation.

It was the first time in the history of the 14-year-old COSSA Trophy that a BCI team has brought home the titular bacon.

Board chairman Archie Greatrix in a brief congratulatory speech said he and his colleagues were "proud of the team's accomplishments."

Principal Arnold E. Orr also congratulated the young champions. He hoped, he said, to see two trophies presented to the school next season.

Coach Jack McBride, the recipient of a fine gift of appreciation of his proteges through captain Soule, spoke briefly on the fine seasonal performance of the club.

He said teamwork had been the secret of success. He paid tribute to the early work of the defensive unit until the offensive began to click, then it was a fine effort on the part of the whole.

Guest speaker Beach told the team of the extra work being done by school teachers outside of their regular duties. "You are lucky that these people do these things" he said.

He said thet the inter-school athletic program was filling a big need in schools especially the larger centres. The proper training of athletes, he said, was tremendously important.

Interest should be centred on school athletics, not athletic schools, he said. "There should be ten books in a school library for each student".

Leadership said Mr. Beach was of double importance in these days. "Our leadership" in the world today is about 25 per cent with the other 75 percent waking up to the fact. Leadership today means getting down to the bottom with people and working up with them".

He told the football team, "You have shown fine team spirit and that is what is needed. Athletics should not be a pedestal for an individual. Athletes should be able to say "we did this ourselves".

Mr. Beach said that the business of selecting secondary school all-stars on a general plan should be stopped. "How can you select 12 athletes from the thousands in the province?"

He quoted incidents of selected athletic stars whose academic standing was found wanting.

He told the young champions "You are the leaders of the future, something that is vitally necessary. The years ahead will be tough — but they are the only years you have. Your athletic career will stand you in good stead if you go about it in the right way".

Western Hockey

Calgary Stampeders' formula for success: Sheer power.

The Western Hockey League leaders displayed this Tuesday night against Edmonton Flyers and gained a 7-1 victory. The win extended their lead over the second - place Portland Buckaroos to five points.

The third - place Vancouver Canucks moved to within a point of Portland by edging the sixth-spot Victoria Cougars 2-1 in overtime.

Two of the best reasons Calgary is leading the league—Ron Leopold and Lou Jankowski—reached the 40-goal mark for the season. Leopold scored twice and Jankowski once in the Stamps' rout.

Veteran Sid Finney also got two goals to raise his lifetime scoring mark to 297 goals. Other Calgary marksmen were defencemen Fred Hucul and Ed Van Impe. Rookie Bruce MacGregor got Edmonton's only goal.

At Victoria Bruce Carmichael scored the tie-breaker for Canucks. The other Vancouver goal was by Larry Popein. Gerry Goyer counted for Cougars.

Japanese Going All-Out On Shock Films for Fans

By BOB THOMAS

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese, ever clever in seeking world markets, are going all-out in shock films.

Production will start next month on the science fiction horror epic to end all such films, if that is possible. The project will be the costliest movie ever made in Japan—$700,000 worth.

The name of the film is Dai Kai Ju, which literally means Great, Strange Animal. I took a ride to Toho Studios to see how great and strange the animal can be.

Strange, yes. Great, no. It will appear immense—on the movie screen, but the animal actually is a few feet high. The illusion is accomplished by Eiji Tsuburaya, Japan's master of special effects.

BEGAN 40 YEARS AGO

"The change in my life came when I saw King Kong, he said. "That inspired me. At that time, Japanese trick photography was very backward. I started working in that field and by 1937 I began to accomplish some of the things I wanted to do."

The flowering of special effects came after the war. Tsuburaya put Japan into the horror market with the successful Godzilla. In Three Treasures he managed to create a serpent with eight heads.

RIPS THROUGH CITY

Dai Kai Ju is the ultimate in shockers. It features a three-stage monster, a rampaging fugitive from an atomic-test island. The creature rips through Tokyo while passing through larva, caterpillar and moth stages. During his tour he'll tear apart the Diet (parliament) building and topple Tokyo Tower, highest tower in the world.

In all his years as a film creator, Tsuburaya has never seen Hollywood. "But I would like to go for a visit," he said.

"American trick techniques are still the best in the world," he said. "Ah, that King Kong!

Suburb Shopping Trend Will Grow States Realtor

WINDSOR (CP) — Downtown merchants in Ontario cities and towns will continue to lose an increasing proportion of retail sales to suburban competition, a Toronto real estate dealer said Tuesday.

A. Jay Webb of the Toronto Real Estate Board said downtown sales will rise yearly but most new buyers in growing cities will continue to shop in the suburbs.

Mr. Webb made the comment at a panel discussion before a record 500 delegates at the annual convention of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards.

"The choice is being made. The main street merchant is faced with the problem of choosing between a low volume of business from a steady clientele in his low-rent accommodation or the tune of cash registers recording sales to a never-ending line of patrons in suburban shopping areas."

Mr. Webb added that the businessman who moves to the suburbs must work harder.

To compete, downtown operators must re-appraise their situations.

All-day business sessions Tuesday—final day of the convention—stressed industrial and commercial properties and investments. Final event was to be a banquet in the evening.

In other convention business Miss Margaret Medl of Kitchener, only woman president of a real estate board in Canada, was presented with the Board of the Year Trophy for the best operated board in the province.

Peter Toxopeus of Kingston was presented with the achievement award for the greatest growth of the year in Ontario.

K. S. Raven of Kingston was elected president to succeed P. H. McKeown of Ottawa.

Ont. Ready to Meet 40 PC Traffic Increase by 1969

- - Cass

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario is "completely ready" to meet an expected 40-per-cent increase in vehicular traffic by 1969, Highways Minister Cass said Tuesday.

He told the annual meeting of the Ontario Good Roads Association a record rate of highway construction during recent years if continued will mean complete reconstruction of the provincial highway system by the end of the decade.

Mr. Cass said his department recognizes that much of the expected increase in population and motor vehicle registrations will take place in urban areas.

He said the department "is most vitaly interested in the problem of providing adequate urban transportation facilities."

The highways minister said urban traffic problems might be alleviated either by large increases in provincial grants to municipalities or by the extension of provincial highways into municipalities. But neither approach provides "an entirely feasible or practical solution."

Mr. Cass drew attention to a recent report by the county engineers' advisory committee and the highways department on a study of the province's county roads systems.

He said the report shows that many county roads systems "have greater mileage than they require or can adequately balance against the assessments available to them."

"In many instances counties are operating roads that could be more properly classified as township roads," he said. "In other areas of Ontario, townships are struggling to provide a proper degree of road service to their residents that will require facilities beyond their means."

The highways minister suggested counties study the report with an eye to reverting certain roads to township jurisdiction and assuming others "as necessary and desirable."

He said his department plans to provide more technical aid to townships beset with outdated administration techniques and construction methods.

WAR, GLADIATORS AND A SPEWING VOLCANO

"The Last Days of Pompeii", which will open Thursday at the Park Theatre through United Artists release is a magnificent spectacle with scenes of war, orgies ,gladiatorial contests, and the destruction of a city by molten lava. Great care was taken in building the new Pompeii, which had to be "destroyed" again for the sake of the film. Some of the buildings which appear to be of stone (as were the originals) actually were canvas over wood frame. During the eruption scenes, these walls were toppled over realistically, while balls of fire, stones and other material were tossed on the set.

For the amphitheatre scenes thousands of extras were enlisted to portray the blood-maddened Romans who flocked to the arena to see the Christians torn to bits by the lions and killed by gladiators. More than $200,000 was spent in costuming the extras. A pride of 48 lions were assemb-forty-eight lions were assembled for these scenes and 24 keepers were used to control sets of Roman armor, true to the period of the film were made, some of paper mache (for non-combat scenes) and others of metal.

SECOND FEATURE

An epic tale of seven professional gunmen hired by the citizens of a small Mexican village as protection against a marauding band of outlaws is told in "The Magnificent Seven", presented by the Mirisch Company in Panavision and color by DeLuxe. The film stars Yul Brynner, Eli Wallach, Steve McQueen and Horst Buchholz.

Byrnner is cast as Chris Adams, a driftinng unemployed gunfighter who recruits the Magnificent Seven and leads them in their fight to insure the town's security.

Complete Feature Times "The Last Days of Pompeii" at 7.35. "Magnificent Seven" at 9.35.

Farm Leader Says Technical Aid Is Needed

OTTAWA (CP) — Farm organiations of the free world must launch a program of technical assistance for the emerging nations that strive for freedom and food, President Jame G. Patton of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers said Tuesday.

"The greatest challenge to the democratic nations now is faced in the nations which are largely agricultural," the American farm leader told the 25th conference of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

He said he is proposing to the United States government a program of technical assistance in which the "mature farm organiations through the International Federation of Agricultural Producers can give counsel and encouragement as farmers in those emerging nations create their own free democratic farm organizations."

Full details would be explained to the next executive meeting of the federation, to which Canada belongs, he said. He recalled the aid given by North American trade unions to their European counter - parts after the Second World War—in money and advice—when the threat of Communist domination had been immediate and great.

IS OPTIMISTIC

Mr. Patton spoke optimistically about steps in food-disposal programs anticipated under the administration of President Kennedy. He also praised H. H. (Herb) Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and a former IFAP president, for his influence among national and international farm groups.

His remarks were contained in a text of his address issued to the press before delivery.

Mr. Patton, who also is president of the U.S. National Farmers Union, said organized agriculture has an obligation to act unless the free world is to "join the procession of extinct civilizations which were deaf to the demands of their time."

BOARD ENDORSES

the report comments:

"... The only objection to it (fluoridation) lies in the mental perturbation of those who are compelled to consume it against their will. Upon this point, it should be stated that practically no one from any of the eight Ontario municipalities which now are fluoridating their water object to it on this ground as a breach of their civil rights or, in fact, upon any other ground."

In recommending that no referendums be held by municipalities desiring to fluoridate water supplies, the report said:

"It is unlikely that public opinion upon the issues involved in this subject is uniform throughout the province. For this reason we recommend against the enactment of legislation which would compel municipalities to fluoridate their water supplies at this time. ...

"... Many aspects of this problem are highly technical and bristle with apparent scientific complexities. It bears no resemblance to such municipal issues as Sunday sports and entertainment. ... If the issue in any municipality were to be decided by referendum, then most of the voters would have to make their individual decisions perhaps upon inadequate and misleading information. ..."

COULD USE TABLETS

Areas not supplied by municipal water systems would not have fluoridation available to them but the committee felt that studies now in progress would provide an acceptive alternative, such as fluoridated milk or fluoride tablets.

Present Ontario legislation does not allow a municipality to fluoridate its water supply although the legislature in 1957 amended the Public Health Act to allow municipalities then doing so to continue. They are Brantford, Brockville, Deep River, Fort Erie, Oshawa, Thorold, Tisdale Township and Sudbury.

In addition, there are more than 50 known municipalities with seven-tenths parts fluoride or more per million in their natural water supply, providing communal water to some 200,000 persons.

There are at least 42 areas in the province which have natural fluorides in their water in excess of one part per million, including Arthur, Aylmer, Bothwell, Brussels, Dresden, Essex, Forest, Glencoe, Hagersville, Lucknow, Ridgetown, Ripley, Stratford, Tillsonburg and Zurich.

Included in the report's reasons for supporting fluoridation was the result of a study begun in 1945 in Brantford, Sarnia and Stratford. The study compares groups of children who since birth have consumed fluoridated water containing approximately 1 3-5 parts per million (Stratford), groups of children who have consumed since birth virtually fluoride - free water (Sarnia), and groups of children who have used mechanically fluoridated water since 1945 (Brantford) but who before then consumed fluoride - free water (less than ½ part per million).

After fluoridation, there was "a marked and statistically significant reduction in the prevalence of dental caries among Brantford children toward levels observed among Stratford children of comparable ages." Children from Sarnia, the city without fluoridation, maintained their high dental caries rates.

"These findings have been corroborated in other Ontario areas, such as Oshawa and Sudbury."

The flurodation issue, a controversial one in Ontario and other parts of Canada for a decade, went as far as the Supreme Court of Canada when Forest Hill village, in Metropolitan Toronto, wanted to fluoridate its water.

The court ruled in 1957 that under then - existing legislation Metropolitan Toronto lacked the power to enact a bylaw providing for the fluoridation of its water supply.

The commission was appointed by Premier Frost March 17, 1959, shortly after the provincial government had refused to let Ottawa, Owen Sound and Teck Township fluoridate municipal water supplies.

Before beginning hearings May 2, 1960, the three commission members had several briefs prepared, read available background on the subject, and observed operation of the fluoridating unit at the Brantford Municipal Waterworks plant. All the hearings were held in Toronto, the last one Oct. 19, 1960.

"Swiss Family Robinson," the world-famous adventure story Walt Disney has filmed as a $5,000,000 feature motion picture, started out as a family affair in the strictest sense of the word.

A Johann Wyss told it to his sons and one of the sons, another Johann Wyss had it published. One of the originators was Johann Rudolph and the other Johann David. Which was the father and which the son is not too clear in the sparce records that remain.

At any rate, the story was concocted for family fireside telling and only came to the world's avid attention as a literary hand-me-down. The first, comparatively brief story saw the light of publication in 1812 or 1813. Authoritative sources can only agree that it was "1812-13."

There have been other versions. Improvers and translators — it was written originally in German—expanded on it in this manner and that, until today there are a total of eight versions in print.

However it started, "Swiss Family Robinson" grew tremendously in popularity. It has been printed in some 90 languages, and for a time was the world's best-seller, ranked second only to the Bible in gross sales. It still stands very high on the all time best-seller list, and is almost certainly destined to be one of the motion picture theatre's biggest boxoffice success.

For, in the hands of Walt Disney, the nation's top family producer, it remains a family affair that no one — mother, father or any of the children, will want to miss.

AT THE McCARTHY — Doris Day, accompanied by her husband, Rex Harrison, details to Scotland Yard inspector John Williams (right) the death threats she's been getting from a mysterious stranger. Scene is from "Midnight Lace", suspense drama in color starring Miss Day, Harrison and John Gavin. The Ross Hunter-Arwin production, a Universal-International release, also stars Myrna Loy and Roddy McDowall, and opens today at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Thursday, February 23, 1961

General Tendencies: Today brings you a big chance to "think big and to get big" in some constructive manner in which modern and up-to-date persons and methods are the best outlets to concentrate upon. Be sure that you do not hold to stuffy and out-dated systems or those who are so steeped in their own greed that they see nothing else.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) A very fine day for shopping or going to the beauty and barber shop ,taking the treatments you need for more glowing health. Late evening is fine for having fun with good friends after you have sought out the information you need.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Important you spruce up your property today and add those new pieces of furniture, touch of color or items of comfort that are needed, Increase its value. Evening should be devoted to budgeting more wisely. Be economical.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) This is the ideal day to contact all associates and lay before them that plan you have had in mind for some time that will be most helpful in bringing you and them far greater success in the future. Be specific, convincing.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Do your best to get in touch with seasoned person in business who has the most modern system of operating. Get all real estate matters handled wisely. Evening is then fine for perusng all printed matter and plans. Work.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Since you are highly inspired today, this is the right time to contact that good, influential friend confidentially and get the backing you need. Make many changes necessary. P.M. go out socially and meet the right people.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Important you have conferences with powerful individuals today so that you will be able to ameliorate all affairs connected with vocation and avocation. Go out in the evening and dine at some charming place with them.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get an early start to some novel and progressive place with good associate so that you can acquire the data and practical means for expansion in the near future. Think and get big.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Contact that government higher-up you know today and get all the expert information you need that will help you to get all of your civic matters in good order. Tonight is then fine for any romantic notions you may have.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make a friend today of that individual you met recently whose background is quite different to yours, since he, or she, has the information you need. You can then get out of the doldrums easily. Expansion is necessary.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can accomplish a very great deal now, provided you do not irk others and are antagonistic toward a valuable partner. By working steadily and at a regular pace, you get the finest results. Take time to eat properly too.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you take an hour for recreation with some overly-serious associate today, you will find that either a good lunch or some mutually enjoyable recreation will be the means by which you can reach perfect accord at last. Be happy.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) There is a good chance for you to act in some unexpected fashion now that will bring greater success in the offing. Later, add those touches to your surroundings that will make family happy also. Be active, alive — Grow.

If your child is born today .. he, or she, will be one of those people who early in life will find it necessary to make radical changes quickly, but for the better, so be sure you prepare your youngster for just such eventualities. Teach to drop the out-dated as soon as feasible. The inventor is definitely in this chart, so be sure you give as fine an education as possible to permit real growth and success.

CONVICT REMANDED

MONTREAL (CP) — Donald Pollock, 22, a convict who held a terrified woman hostage for 14 hours in an attempted escape from St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary Feb. 4, was arraigned Monday on five charges including two of attempted murder. Pollock, who had only 62 days left to serve of a three-year term when he escaped after attacking a guard, was sent to preliminary inquiry Feb. 28 on all counts.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS

IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fats ... actually breaks them down. It is an established fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fats are broken down and form a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your digestive tract, liver bile helps break down fats the same way. Many of the foods you eat reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down these fats ... for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills' exclusive formula of vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fats in your digestive tract.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, take Carter's Little Liver Pills.

A BIG BUNGALOW

Did you ever look at a new (brand new — just finished) brick bungalow and having looked be able to agree with the aggressive salesman that this home has real big rooms? Would you look at a lovely brand new brick bungalow that we have for sale on the East side? Would you then tell us whether or not that the kitchen is huge (a real joy for a family) and the 3 bedrooms (that are usually so small) — tell us what you think of them. We think it is a most unusual home at a most attractive price of $15,500. Consider also the garage and full basement. Don't let the down payment discourage you. Call on to its Victory Bonds and later sold them to meet its obligations.

BANK OF CANADA

A large number of Victory Bonds dumped on the market at one time would have "sent the market crashing." Holdings of other Canadians would have been destroyed.

HITS LIBERAL POLICY

Mr. Fleming described Liberal policy in this regard as "utterly irresponsible, "destructive," "damaging" and "shameful."

In regard to conflicting statements that have been made by the minister and James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, Mr. Fleming said:

"I have no censorship over the speeches of the governor of the Bank of Canada. He does not refer them to me. Why should he do so? This is a free country. He chooses his own speeches and his own themes.

"I trust that I am not to be held responsible for what may be said by the governor of the Bank of Canada when he exercises his right as a citizen to make speeches."

Mr. Coyne did not speak for the government and did not claim to do so.

Frank Howard (CCF—Skeena said Labor Minister Starr had tried to shift the blame for unemployment onto labor and management by suggesting they get together to increase production and expand markets.

This was a "hopeless" suggestion which showed Mr. Starr was "still in the apprenticeship stage" as a labor minister.

Mr. Howard said business is not interested in sitting down with labor to discuss matters in which business believes labor has no right.

NEGOTIATIONS

There have been repeated statements from provincial capitals about their pressing needs for more money. Nova Scotia has already acted on its own, increasing both its sales tax—which goes into the hospital insurance plan—and the gasoline tax.

Premier Frost of Ontario has hinted strongly about a possible sales tax in that province unless Ottawa gives the provinces a larger share of the income tax pie.

The federal government already has softened one proposal that the premiers found distasteful at the October conference. This was the suggestion that federal equalization payments to less-wealthy provinces be pegged at a flat total of $220,000,000 a year for the five years after March 31, 1962.

Basic provincial objection was that this would allow the richer provinces, principally Ontario, to reap tax benefits from growing wealth there without some of the benefits being shared by the less-prosperous provinces.

In a letter to the premiers summoning this conference, Mr. Diefenbaker said Ottawa is prepared to provide for a "growth factor" in equalization payments. He gave no details.

It's expected the federal government will press for a final decision on a new tax arrangement to be made this week or in the near future. The government has said it wants to pass legislation at this session of Parliament to implement the new arrangement replacing the present tax agreements when they expire March 31, 1962.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

The United Lutheran Church has about 2,500,000 members in more than 4,600 congregations in the U.S., Canada, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

ROBERTS' DAY

legal stock often don't go to jail, but end up as "elder of the church or president of the Kiwanis Club."

Mr. Roberts said new regulations have been approved that will plug the distribution through "second and third channels" of stock that has not been cleared by the securities commission.

Mr. Roberts faced the wrath of Liberal Leader Wintermeyer and Arthur Reaume (L—Essex North) over the fire marshal's report of fire hazard conditions in Essex County schools.

Last week Mr. Roberts refused to divulge the contents of the report, but Tuesday night he described the fire marshal's recommendations to school boards. Of the 42 schools mentioned in the report, he said 10 have completed 70 to 90 per cent of the work, four have completed 50 to 70 per cent, five have completed 25 to 50 per cent and only five schools have not made any progress.

Mr. Reaume said he understood there were a number of rural scholls in Ontario that had not been inspected for fire safety in the last 15 years.

Mr. Roberts said that might be true, but the fire marshal's office inspected schools only when requested by local officials. The department could not attempt to make periodic inspections of Ontario's 7,500 schools without a huge increase in staff and expenditures.

Mr. Wintermeyer said the responsibility for inspection of all schools should lie with the department and legislation should be enacted accordingly.

On the question of Eastview, a suburban Ottawa municipality investigated by the department of municipal affairs last year, Mr. Roberts said the investigation is still under way by the criminal investigation branch of his department.

"The less said about it the better until all the reports are in," he said, adding that police still have to find evidence that a crime was committed in the disappearance of sums of money from the town's treasury.

In introducing his estimates, Mr. Roberts said 35 additional provincial police officers will be added to the force to improve law enforcement in the districts of Timiskaming, Sudbury, Algoma and Thunder Bay, and the counties of Halton, Essex and Lanark. Eight new probation officers will be appointed for the same areas. Introduced was a bill amending the Police Act to provide for organization of an auxiliary police force to act in times of national emergency.

The opposition raised cries of anger when Health Minister Dymond tabled a royal commission report on fluoridation and refused to tell what it contained. Mr. Wintermeyer objected that the press was given copies of the report before the members had a chance to see it.

GOES TO ELLIOT LAKE

Reform Institutions Minister Wardrope announced that an advance party of senior personnel of his department has gone to Elliot Lake to prepare for the opening of a penal institution there.

The department is renovating facilities at an abandoned mining camp where prisoners will be taught trades.

Mr. Wardrope said R. B. Massacre, 46 - year - old captain at Burtch Industrial farm, has been appointed inspector of the institution, expected to be opened within 10 days.

Memory of the late Agnes Campbell MacPahil, a member of the House of Commons and the Ontario legislature, was honored by the presentation of a bust to take a position of honor at Queen's Park.

Miss MacPhail was United Farmers' member for Grey-Bruce in the Commons from 1921 to 1940—the first woman elected to Parliament. She sat as CCF member for York East in the legislature from 1943 to 1945 and 1948 to 1951.

The bust was presented by the women's international league for peace and freedom, of which Miss MacPahil was president in 1922.

miles an hour, shot 107 miles up and was subjected to the worst conditions an astronaut might encounter on a return from orbit. The spacecraft was recovered in excellent condition 1,425 miles down range.

Later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration picked three astronauts to begin final training for a suborbital flight in a similar capsule. The flight is expected in two or three months.

They are John J. Glenn Jr., 39, a marine lieutenant-colonel from New Concord, Ohio; Virgil E. Girssom, 34, an air force captain from Mitchell, Ind., and Alan B Shepard Jr., 37, a navy commander from East Derry, N.H.

P.M. Suggests Provinces Levy Own Income Tax

Would Cut Federal Levy 16 Per Cent as a Start

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker today offered the provinces an increased share of personal income tax collections, ranging up to 20 per cent by 1967, on condition they levy their own income taxes.

His proposal, read to provincial premiers at the opening of the Dominion - provincial fiscal conference, was for a progressive reduction in federal income taxes starting with a 16-per-cent cut in the 1962-63 fiscal year and increasing by one percentage point yearly to 20 per cent in 1966-67.

The provinces' present share of personal income tax collections under existing tax-rental agreements is 13 per cent.

Mr. Diefenbaker proposed no change in the present provincial share of corporation income taxes—nine per cent of corporation profits, which is approximately 22 per cent of total collections. Nor did he offer any change in the 50-per-cent share of succession duty.

MUST LEVY OWN TAXES

The provinces would be required to levy their own personal and corporation income taxes and could occupy the share of those tax fields being vacated by Ottawa.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the provinces would be free to levy more or less than that share.

He called this "a return to the active responsibilities which the constitution confers upon both levels of government under the federal system."

Following the prime minister's statement and a further elaboration by Finance Minister Fleming, the closed-doors conference adjourned to 3:30 p.m. today to allow the premiers time to study the federal offer.

The initial reaction of premiers was varied, ranging from Quebec Premier Lesage's statement that he was "profoundly disappointed" to Manitoba Premier Roblin's comment that "it appears we will be in at least as favorable a position as we are now."

Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said he does not agree with the proposal, adding that some important principles were being violated.

FROST CAUTIOUS

Ontario's Premier Frost said a lot of assessments of the offer would have to be made. Asked by a reporter whether it meant Ontario would get an additional $18,000,000 a year, the premier said that "might or might not be the case."

Six-Year-Old Boy Drowns In Culvert

Six-year-old Terry McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. James I. McDonald, 9 Union Street, was pronounced dead at Belleville General Hospital shortly before noon today when firemen pulled his body from a culvert in a water-filled ditch at the corner of College and Lemoine streets.

Fire Chief Gerald Vance said the boy and a companion were walking along College Street when the McDonald boy fell into the ditch. An "awful current" grabbed the boy and quickly dragged him into the culvert where his body lodged until firemen arrived.

Chief Vance said the current was very strong and that water had flooded College Street to a depth sufficient to prevent traffic from passing normally. The fire department's emergency vehicle and the chief's car both stalled en route to the hospital as a result of passing through the deep water.

"We stalled for only a minute or so," said the Chief, "but in a case like this every second counts."

The Chief said Fireman Ralph Thompson dived into the culvert when the boy's body was not found in the ditch. Thompson and Fireman Barney Smith pulled the body from the water.

Further details were not available before press time.

Fire Chief Vance urged parents to keep their children away from fast-running creeks and water-filled ditches, particularly since today's half-inch rainfall was not absorbed by the frozen ground.

Labor Minister Will Speak To Unemployed

OSHAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Starr has agreed to speak to a meeting of unemployed persons here, Malcolm Smith, president of the 10,000-member Local 222, United Auto Workers of America (CLC), said Wednesday night.

He added that Mr. Starr will visit Oshawa when he receives a formal invitation and when his schedule permits.

He said the labor minister was trying to sidestep the unemployment issue by saying it is the responsibility of labor and management.

More than 5,000 are unemployed in Oshawa.

SENTENCED FOR ROBBERY

TORONTO (CP) — Andrew Bilmvich, 21, was sentenced Wednesday to five years in penitentiary after pleading guilty to armed robbery of a Jarvis Street bank last July. Billimovich returned to Toronto to face trial after conspiring to escape from the Penetanguishene Hospital for the Criminally Insane, admitted he was one of three men who robbed the bank of $1,000.

CCFer ADVANCES SPENDING PLAN TO RESCUE ONT.

"Boom and Bust" Economy Charged

TORONTO (CP) — Kenneth Bryden, CCF — Toronto Woodbine) Wednesday proposed an eight-point spending program to rescue Ontario from a "boom and bust" economy as the unemployment debate highlighted a busy day in the Legislature.

The wide-ranging program's included enlarged winter works programs, increased welfare payments, a public housing program, expansion of retraining program for the unemployed and improved minimum-wage and maximum-work-hours legislation.

The legislature will not sit today.

Mines Minister Maloney, taking a large part in the four-hour debate—the third day devoted to unemployment — attacked the policies of the five-member CCF party as ideological but impractical.

Allan Grossman, minister without portfolio, said management and labor would have to co-operate more in the future or the government might have to step in and "start legislating where it isn't wanted."

Albert Wren (L—Kenora) said the government should press the federal government for unconditional grants for education and more national funds for resources development. The funds could be derived from taxes on provincially based natural resources, he said.

EXTENDS WISHES

Premier Frost said jokingly:

Traffic Deaths Reach Record High in Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — The death toll from traffic accidents in Canada reached a record high last year of 3,273 persons killed, despite reductions in six provinces.

The traffic death figure was up 1.3 per cent from the 1959 total of 3,231, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday. In the last five years traffic accidents have taken 16,064 lives.

The death toll increase was concentrated in four provinces. Traffic deaths rose last year in Newfoundland to 45 from 36, in Nova Scotia to 168 from 121, in New Brunswick to 165 from 106, and in Alberta to 288 from 248.

Ontario's toll was reduced to 1[illegible]66 from 1,187.

Property damage, excluding Quebec where figures are not available, rose to $81,547,000 from $78,706,000. This counts only accidents where damage exceeded $100.

Britain and West Germany to Study Long-Term Aspects of Dollar Run

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain and West Germany today decided to hold high-level talks in Bonn next month on long-term aspects of the current run on the dollar.

This was one of the main decisions taken in two days of talks here between Prime Minister Macmillan and Chancellor Adenauer. The talks ended today.

A British spokesman said Selwyn Lloyd, chancellor of the exchequer, will meet officials in Bonn next month for talks "on long - term questions affecting the imbalance of international payments."

He added that Macmillan and Adenauer agreed this is basically a multilateral Western problem rather than one only involving the United States and West Germany.

The United States and Germany have been negotiating unsuccessfully in the past three months over American efforts to gain long-term aid from Bonn to strengthen the dollar.

A West German spokesman said von Brentano received the impression in Washington that the short-term dollar problem could be handled directly between the U.S. and West Germany, but the long-term problem must be handled multilaterally among all the Western nations concerned.

He said Lloyd's mission to Bonn would be to discuss the long-term problem in preparation for multilateral talks.

Hammarskjold Asks Belgium To Help Recall Nationals

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — A letter from the United Nations to Belgium today sought her help in getting Belgian military personnel and political advisers out of The Congo.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold addressed the letter to Walter Loridan, Belgium's ambassador at UN headquarters in New York, incorporating in it suggestions from his advisory committee on The Congo.

The letter asked Belgium's aid in carrying out the Security Council's latest Congo resolution, a subject on which the 18-country committee planned a third daily private meeting for late today. Canada is a member of the committee.

The resolution urged immediate withdrawal from The Congo of "Belgian and other foreign" military men and political advisers not serving with the UN force and called on all countries to prevent such personnel from going to The Congo.

It also empowered the United Nations to use force if needed to head off civil war in The Congo, called for an investigation of deposed premier Patrice Lumumba's slaying and urged that The Congo parliament be convened and Congolese troops reorganized and removed from politics.

In a broadcast beamed to Africa, Moscow Radio said Wednesday night the resolution, sponsored by the United Arab Republic, Liberia and Ceylon, "can undoubtedly play a beneficial role" in ending the strife in The Congo. Russia and France abstained when the resolution was adopted 9-0 in the Security Council Wednesday.

Both Premier Joseph Ileo of the new central government in Leopoldville and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province defied the resolution and said any UN use of force would be met with force. Ileo interpreted the call for reorganization of Congolese troops to mean their disarming and said this constituted a "declaration of war."

Tshombe eased his defiance somewhat Wednesday, announcing he and the UN command in Katanga had agreed to halt all troop movements "likely to lead to friction" between their respective forces.

The United States has been pressing Belgium through diplomatic channels to keep Belgians from going to The Congo as mercenary soldiers and to discourage the continued secession of Katanga Province, which has an army officered by hired foreigners.

About 20,000 Belgians are estimated to be in The Congo now, including businessmen, storekeepers and clerks as well as military and political advisers. About 10,000 of them are in Katanga.

Belgians are reported to have direct or indirect control of all important posts in the Katanga civil administration. The province's armed forces are run by Belgian officers and business interests, are dominated by the Belgian Union Miniere.

The central government of President Joseph Kasavubu also employs many Belgians and about 9,000 live in Leopoldville alone.

One Belgian officer in Leopoldville, commenting on the UN decision said: "When we are under UN trusteeship we will take orders from them, but not before."

Favor Farmers, Not State, Solving Marketing Problems

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian farm delegates challenged themselves Wednesday to lick their problems through self-controlled marketing boards and co-operatives.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture, in the third day of its 25th annual meeting, accepted a broad policy statement that "comprehensive development of agricultural co-operatives and producer marketing boards in Canada should be recognized as the best means for putting agriculture in a more stable orderly basis."

There was no short-term solution to the chronic condition of low produce prices and higher costs but the self-help program of co-ordinated marketing and production held out the best promise for permanent and satisfactory improvement.

A warning that the industry, particularly in Western Canada, will continue to need federal subsidies and price supports was sounded by President Alf Gleave of the National Farmers' Union.

The price and marketing objectives through self-run boards are fine, said the Biggar, Sask., farmer, who is also president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union.

But these tools are inadequate by themselves in a situation where sharply-increased farm efficiency has brought lower food prices to consumers, more food and less money for farmers.

The conclusions of the policy statement on farm price, production and marketing policy said:

"The need is for farmers themselves to achieve effective national control, planning and stabilization in the marketing of agricultural products by bold and sweeping actions in the further development of agricultural co-operatives and producer marketing boards.

"State direction and control of marketing is sometimes desirable, as in the case of grain, and the state must have a co-operative and supporting role to play in such matters as price supports and legislation. But over-all planning and control by the state is not the objective of farm policy."

BILL AUTHORIZING CNR TO BUILD LINE APPROVED

Will Serve Base Metal Mining Area

OTTAWA (CP) — A bill authorizing the CNR to build an $8,400,000 branch line which will serve a new base metal mining area in northwestern Quebec was given a final Commons approval Wednesday.

The 60-mile line will swing off the CNR route to Chibougamau and run northwesterly to Mattagami Lake in the Abitibi region where a townsite of 3,000 to 5,000 is being established around a zinc discovery.

Mr. Chevier insisted that the government supply more information on the projected financial future of the new line, including some further details on the ore-carrying contract between the CNR and Mattagami Lake Mines Limited.

MINISTER REFUSES

Mr. Balcer refused to go beyond the information already offered by the government, contending that details of the contract and the CNR's financial prospects on the line were matters that could not be revealed without harming the CNR's competitive position in future ore-carrying contracts.

Reviewing what already has been reported, Mr. Balcer said the new line, to be opened in two years, is expected to bring

Govt. Demands Fund Revenue From Foundation

OTTAWA (CP) — The finance department is trying to collect some $109,000 from the Canadian Universities Foundation which the foundation made by investing temporarily government grants to universities.

The foundation is resisting and its arguments now have been sent to the justice department for an opinion, Auditor-General Maxwell Henderson informed the Commons public accounts committee Wednesday.

Government grants to Canadian universities are made through the National Conference of Canadian Universities. Before the conference had passed on the grants to the universities, it had invested the money temporarily and made a tidy profit.

The agreement providing for distribution of the grants made no provision for disposition of investment income.

FISHERMEN RESCUED

Britain's Plan Receives Backing Of Tribal Chiefs

Fear of Strife Eases As Negroes Compromise

LUSAKA (AP)—Tribal chiefs today backed a British plan to give the Negroes of Northern Rhodesia more political freedom as the white minority threatened to demand independence to preserve white supremacy in the royal protectorate.

Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Central African Federation that links Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland, was reported ready to call a general election asking for a mandate to break all ties with the Crown.

Troops were held in readiness but fears of any immediate outburst of racial strife in Northern Rhodesia subsided after 25 tribal chiefs approved the proposed British reforms and appealed to the Negroes to remain calm. But the chiefs, representing all the tribes in the territory, expressed grave concern at the troop mobilization ordered by Welensky after he rejected the proposed new constitution for Northern Rhodesia.

CHIEFS YIELD

While still holding to the view that Negroes should dominate the administrative council that governs Northern Rhodesia, the chiefs agreed to go along with the British plan as an interim measure offering some political advance for Negroes.

But Welensky was adamant in opposition to anything promising Negro rule in any part of the federation and also insisted the territory's white minority would not permit any breakup of the federation, as the African Nationalists of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland have been demanding.

The African National Party of Southern Rhodesia warned in a statement that if Welensky proclaims the federation independent, it would take "resolute and unprecedented measures." The warning did not specify what measures.

In London, the Macmillan government announced its determination to press forward with the new constitution for Northern Rhodesia while acknowledging

Explosion, Fire Kill Nine Men In Texas

BORGER, Tex. (AP)—An explosion and fire killed nine men and injured another Wednesday at the vast Phillips Petroleum Company refinery just outside this Texas panhandle city.

The disaster almost wiped out a construction crew working on a new unit of the plant. Only three escaped.

The men were employees of Boman - Chase Construction Company of Borger.

The bodies were so badly burned the Texas safety department sent a special identification team to help. Local dentists also sought identification from dental work.

Phillips officials said the explosion came from a ruptured pipeline.

It's Not Bailiff Who Is Scoundrel But Deadbeat Who Won't Pay Bills

TORONTO (CP)—It's not the bailiff who is a scoundrel, but the "deadbeat" who won't pay his bills, the legislature's committee on legal bills was told Wednesday.

William E. Hanna, partner in a Toronto bailiff firm, told the committee that two cars his company had been assigned to repossess, disappeared from Toronto and ended up in Scotland.

The owners could not maintain payments and skipped town to sell the cars overseas.

"The way credit is today, the bailiff's situation is impossible," he said. "Ninety-five per cent of the people are honest, but we're dealing with the other five per cent. . . . We're dealing with deadbeats and chisellers."

Mr. Hanna made his presentation during the discussion of the government's Bailiffs' Act that would confine a bailiff's jurisdiction to the county in which he normally does business.

The committee reported the bill to the legislature, after it was amended to enable bailiff's to apply to a county judge for permission to operate in other counties.

Attorney - General Roberts, who introduced the bill, said it would give large bailiff firms the opportunity to operate on a province-wide basis if required.

The act provides for licencing and bonding, with fines up to $100 for any contravention of the act.

Parliament At a Glance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Wednesday, Feb. 22, 1961

The Commons gave third and final reading to a bill authorizing CNR construction of a 60-mile branch line to Mattagami Lake in northwestern Quebec.

Transport Minister Balcer rejected opposition attempts to learn the financial details of the $8,400,000 rail project to transport base metal ores.

Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal Laurier) said additional information was vital to give the House a clear picture of the project and Douglas Fisher (CCF—Port Arthur) agreed.

Senator Paul Bouffard (L—Quebec) said a proposed bill to have finance companies and retailers specify interest rates is "unconstitutional, impractical and a punishment to the normal citizen."

DONALD TEMPLEMAN NAMED PRESIDENT OF LAW ASSOC.

Mr. Donald J. Templeman, Belleville barrister, was named president of the Hastings and Prince Edward Law Association at their annual meeting held recently. He succeeds Richard Barrett, who headed the law association last year.

Other officers named included Roderick Cameron as vice-president, and Thomas Lally as secretary.

The annual conclave was the first held by the law association in the new Hastings county courthouse.

RAY POSTE OWNER OF STIRLING BLOCK

The former Harlow Block in Stirling, mnetioned in an item appearing in Stirling news last Saturday, is now owned by Mr. Ray Poste, formerly of Belleville, who purchased it in September of 1958.

CNR Veterans Plan for Summer Meet

The annual banquet and get-together of the Canadian National Railways Veterans' Association will be held in Barrie on June 6th.

This was announced at the monthly meeting of the association held in the Club Canara yesterday afternoon.

The well-attended meeting included 46 members from Toronto and Hamilton branches and 15 from Lindsay, Oshawa, Trenton and Cobourg.

President Archie Grant of the Toronto Association, gave a very informative and interesting address, also outlining plans for the annual banquet.

The remainder of the evening was spent in social amenities and card games.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Club Canara served five o'clock refreshments.

Elmore Philpott Finds Here Happy Blend of Old and New

(Ed. Note:—Mrs. A. R. Brown, 303 Ann Street, forwarded the following story to this newspaper. It is the work of columnist Elmore Philpott of the Vancouver Sun and appeared in the February 1st edition. The column speaks for itself.)

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

It is 20 years since I had a really close look at the cities and towns of eastern Ontario I was curious to see whether this bedrock part of Old Ontario had changed as much in character as has Toronto.

The answer, very decidedly, is no.

There has been less change in the character of the population here than in any other part of Canada I have visited so far.

You meet scores of businessmen, for instance, who were born and brought up in the towns where they still do business. You meet a surprising number of lawyers, doctors and so on who are carrying on the family tradition.

Of course, they come by those traits naturally. This part of Ontario was the very core and centre of the United Empire Loyalist migration at the time of the American revolution.

In Sir John A. Macdonald's day the whole district was never known to elect anybody who did not wear the label of a true-blue Tory. These are the parts where the Orangemen's parade on the Twelfth of July was the holiday of the whole year.

The heat and passion of the old loyalties, and old divisions, has been mellowed or wafted away by time.

Last night, for instance, I lectured in a fine school auditorium colorfully bedecked with flags. They were first, last and all the time Union Jacks.

There was not even one miniature Canadian ensign among them. No political candidate in these parts will win many votes on the issue of a Canadian flag which retains no trace of the Union Jack.

But don't let me pass on the erroneous idea that this old bedrock Ontario is still nineteenth century in all its ways.

They have just about the happiest blend of the old and the new that I have seen anywhere in Canada.

In this fine old city they have some new industries which are in the very forefront of the times. Almost a thousand families depend for their livelihoods on the electronic industry.

This is also one of the few parts of Canada where the passenger trains still loom almost as large in the life of the people as they ever did.

But in this respect the handwriting is clearly on the wall. Right now there is a fierce fight on to see who will get the franchise to operate the local traffic airline between Montreal and Toronto.

When that shuttle service gets going the railways will be undermined on one of the last big routes where they are still in big business.

The van Gogh Exhibition at The Art Gallery of Toronto is attracting 3000 visitors a day and 38,000 people have seen the Exhibition since it opened twelve days ago. To date the daily average exceeds the attendance records set at the Gallery during the exhibition of Dutch Masters in 1955 and the Hapsburg Collection in 1951.

Gallery Director William J. Withrow said today that he is asking Metro traffic police for additional help in controlling the Sunday traffic jam around the Gallery. Last Sunday afternoon 5400 visitors came to see the van Gogh pictures in a little over four hours. Parking in the vicinity of the Gallery was impossible and ticket sales had to be stopped several times during the afternoon to give those already in the building a reasonable chance of seeing the pictures. When the ticket sales were temporarily halted, long queues formed along Dundas Street.

Mr. Withrow suggests that the best time to see the van Gogh Exhibition is early in the evening, early in the week. The building is less crowded during the weekdays than it is in the late evenings, but even the evenings are better than Sunday afternoons! An added feature early in the week are films on van Gogh's life and work. These are shown on Monday evenings at 8 and 9 p.m.

The van Gogh Exhibition is open to the public from 10:00 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. on weekdays, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturdays, and on Sunday afternoons from 1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The paintings will be on view at the Gallery until March 12th when Vincent W. van Gogh, the artist's nephew will return to Toronto to escort them back to Holland.

Israel's Singing Group Will Give Concert

Israel's most exciting singing group, Oranim Zabar, will give a single performance in Kingston next Monday evening They will appear at Ellis Hall (on the Queen's campus) under the joint auspices of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation and Kingston Lodge B'nai B'rith.

Two years ago the Oz group, featuring Geula Gill, burst upon the Western Hemisphere's concert and record scene. These three young Israeli artists captivated audiences wherever they played. The stirring, almost intoxicating rhythms of the scorching desert . . . the heart-felt spirit of folk from many lands . . . the melodious magic of an enchanting night in the mountains of Galilee — all these spring from their rich grab-bag of songs.

This versatile group, which has a repertoire of 16 languages and accompanies itself on a wide variety of native instruments, has toured the U.S. and Canada from coast to coast, as well as the major cities of South America. They have starred in leading night clubs, concert stages, network television and radio programs, and are under exclusive contract to Elektra Records, for whom they have made several LP albums.

Tickets for their concert at Queen's University are available to the general public, all seats unreserved.

Meat-Packing Plant in Quinte Area Discussed at Meeting

A meeting of considerable interest, sponsored by Northumberland County, Ontario Farmers' Union, was held in the council chambers, Warkworth, recently, to look into the possibilities and merits, and secure the feelings of the producers regarding a proposed producer-owned and producer-controlled meat-packing plant in the Quinte district.

The promoters of this proposed plant, introduced by Mr. Goodman, president, Ameliasburg Local O.F.U., are as follows: Mr. Clifford Smith, chairman, a farmer from Consecon; Mr. Dick Baldwin, secretary, a small feed mill operator and producer of about 2,500 hogs per year, and Messrs. Benway and Hamilton, farmers from Hillier.

This proposed plant would serve the counties of Northumberland, Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox and Addington, and since Hastings Addington, and since Hastings Prince Edward and Lennox and County is the largest producer of hogs, they plan to situate the plant in the vicinity of Belleville, which would be central to the four counties.

The main reason for the promoters desiring such a co-operative plant is the dressing percentage. By having hogs killed quickly, within two or three hours of leaving the pen and not being transported beyond 50 miles, the producer would save $1.50 to $2 per hog on shrink. At the present time hogs shipped to Peterborough, killed within two or three hours, yield about 79 to 80 per cent, whereas the same hog shipped to Montreal, transferred from one truck to another and jostled around, would do well to yield 74 per cent. The proposed plant would not be more than 50 miles from any hog producer in the four counties. It would be quite some time before dividends would be paid, but producers would gain by getting hogs slaughtered in a short time after leaving the pen.

MINISTER FAVORS PLANT

The group has had considerable discussion on different occasions with the Honorable W. A. Goodfellow regarding this plant, and his department is very much in favor of co-operatives, and feels a plant in this area would be a good thing. At first the promoters had in mind a small plant, but the Minister of Agriculture advised it would be more economical to start a plant that would handle not less than 100,000 hogs per year. In the four counties which would be served by this plant, approximately 100,000 hogs are slaughtered each year.

The cost of such a plant would be approximately one million dollars. The Provincial Government would loan $100,000. and the Federal Government would give a grant of $50,000 for refrigeration facilities., The balance would have to be raised by selling shares to producers; one share to a man; one vote to each share. Each producer, whether large or small, would have the same voice in the managing of the plant. The constitution would be set up in such a way that no one man, nor group of men, would get control of the plant.

The promoters have spent a great deal of time and effort securing facts regarding such a co-operative plant, travelling to Barrie to get information from the Copaco Plant there. They had very good discussions with the manager, Mr. Simpson, and president, Mr. Inglis, as well as with the head salesmen. During the Barrie visit, the group toured the plant and were shown figures on the plant's operation. Copaco personnel were most co-operative and visited Prince Edward County for further discussions, and are most anxious to see such a plant erected in the Quinte area. Copaco promised to loan eight or nine key men to give a start, and would be glad to have this new plant sell under the Copaco brand. There would be a saving to both plants in buying wrappings and supplies, as well as a saving in advertising.

NO PERCENTAGE WANTED

There was no mention made by Copaco of wanting a percentage for the privilege of using their brand names. Copaco sell their products in the area north of the Severn River; namely, North Bay, Noranda, Rouyn, and Timmins, and there would be no interference with the sales of a plant in this area. The plans for Copaco were made in 1929, but the plant did not get into operation until 1932. They sold shares to producers at $150 each and received a loan of $100,000 from the Provincial Government. At times the going was tough, and they received further assistance from the government, but this was all paid off about five or six years ago, and Copaco paid a patronage dividend of 11-4c on the dollar. Members of Copaco really believe in their co-operative, it being practically a religion with them. At the present time Copaco has 1,530 members and will not issue any new shares. A share can only be purchased from a retired farmer, who no longer needs his share. Such a share costs $450 at present.

FIRST MEETING

This was the first meeting in Northumberland County regarding this proposed plant. Two or three have been held in Prince Edward, and one in Lennox and Addington. Some producers have been really keyed up about it, especially Farmers' Union members in Prince Edward County.

Co-operatives seem to be the going thing, and in this respect Mr. Everett Biggs, Assistant Deputy Minister for Marketing, has said that co-operative business will grow and tend to stabilize the industry.

Mr. Ray Bright, Director of Northumberland County, OFU, called on Mr. Macklin, a farmer from the Peace River District of Alberta, presently visiting in this area, to say a few words. Mr. Macklin outlined how co-operatives have been very beneficial to farmers in his district, and was very interested in the discussion regarding the proposed packing plant.

Mr. Bright urged the hog producers to get out and vote at the forthcoming vote on March 6, which will be held in the same Council Chambers, Warkworth, for the purpose of electing members to the District Committee of the Ontario Hog Producers' Marketing Board. Northumberland will have four members on this committee.

50 Representatives From 10 Quinte Communities Attend Industrial Forum

TRENTON — The industrial committee of any community should first sell the community to the citizens before going after-out-of-town enterprises.

Speaking Wednesday at an industrial forum, attended here by 50 representatives from 10 points in the Quinte district, A. H. LeMasurier, senior counsellor with the industrial development branch of the Department of Commerce and Development, stressed the importance of making every citizen a good-will ambassador of the community. He said that barbers, service station operators, waitresses and taxi drivers were often in a position of being able to "sell" their community to visitors.

Mr. LeMasurier was accompanied to the round table conference by John Delaney and William Stuart, executive members of the industrial development branch.

Six panelists were chosen from among the representatives attending the meet.

Earl Dicknoether, manager of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce; A.J.C. Ward, vice-president and general manager of Pyrotenax Ltd.; and George Kempf, vice-president and general manager of Erie Resistor Corporation, were asked to solve a hypothetical problem concerning a mythical community named Centreville.

The problem: An industrialist notifies the Industrial Commission of Centreville that he is looking around for a likely site for a metal working plant. He will require a building, or if one is not available for rent or purchase, he will build on an available site. He will also require a working staff, 60 per cent of which will be female employees.

Mr. Dicknoether said that the chairman of the Industrial Commission should show the industrialist the existing buildings and available industrial land, explaining existing service facilities and giving him a list of local merchants, contractors and etc., and give him a run-down on the availability of skilled and unskilled workers.

BE DISCREET

Mr. Ward said that any such circumstances should be dealt with confidentially as the municipality's Industrial Commission did not have any guarantee that the industrialist would settle in any particular community, and that he would have to be "sold" on the basis of Centreville versus any other community. He should be told of housing facilities, labor conditions, unions, churches, hospitals, schools, recreation facilities and cultural programs.

Mr. Kempf said that under no circumstance should another community be told of the impending deal. He said that the industrialist should be told about banking facilities, higher educatonal facilities, and the attitude of established industries toward new industries.

George Boyce, general manager of the Hinde and Dauch Paper Company, John Fetter of Lange and Fetter Motor Sales and Councillor Lloyd Worrall, chairman of the town's Industrial and Economic Development Committee, were asked to solve the problems of a tool and die company in Centreville.

The company had just lost the sub-contract for a large aircraft company. Twenty-five per cent of the company's regular employees had been laid off and half the plant's equipment was lying idle. He had sought help from the town's industrial Commission.

Mr. Boyce said that the commission should try to find a new use for the company's product and equipment. They should contact other manufacturers in town with a view to the company doing some of their work, or absorbing some of the employees. Members of parliament should be contacted and asked for help or opinions.

Mr. Fetter said that the owner and the commission should find a plant that made a related product, with a view to subcontracts, or one which could rent part of the plant for its own operations.

Councillor Worrall said that the energy expended by the commission on the problem should depend for the most part on the size of the plant. He advocated contacting the government to ask about contracts available for tender and said that the owner should be willing to take a contract which would just cover overhead.

Alderman Ben Corke of Belleville caused a tempest in a teapot by raising the question at this point of whether any plant owner with any personal initiative would resort to consulting an Industrial Commission about such a problem. He said that people had a tendency nowadays to run to the government every time they were in trouble.

Mr. LeMasurier said that the provincial government spent thousands of dollars each year on industrial surveys, research, etc., and that people and communities should avail themselves of this information. He said that a community should not depend on one large industry, but should encourage diversity in industry. He said that when a plant has problems, management could often get useful suggestions from the workers.

Mr. LeMasurier and Mr. Delaney both stressed the importance of any community having a master plan. Industrialists like to settle in a community where industrial and residential areas are clearly defined.

Mr. Stuart and Mayor James MacDonald of Trenton also spoke briefly, advising those present to be ready to "help themselves" as far as industrial promotion was concerned, using government agencies as guides.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market moved ahead in a hesitant manner during light and uninteresting morning trade today.

The 11 a.m. volume totalled 445,000 shares compared with 492,000 at the same time Wednesday.

General Development was ahead 1¼ at 13¼. Canada Cement and Power Corporation each added ½ while Walker-Gooderham climbed ⅜.

St. Lawrence Corporation dropped ⅞ at 20⅛ and Guaranty Trust and Royal Bank each went down ⅛.

Base metals were recovering after three days of losses. Falconbridge was up ½ at 40¼ and Cassiar up ⅜. Dome led golds down, off ⅜ at 21¼.

Industrials marked up their seventh consecutive daily advance Wednesday and gave some impetus to base metals. Trading was dull and light.

On index, Industrials advanced .87 at 547.75, while base metals moved ahead .18 at 171.82. Western oils were down .42 at 95.51 and golds .03 at 85.02.

The final volume was 1,449,000 shares compared with 2,276,000 shares Tuesday. The light volume was attributed to the fact that the New York exchange was closed as Americans celebrated George Washington's birthday.

Dominion Foundries and Steel gained ¾ at 48¼ and Algoma gained ⅝. Steel Company of Canada was ahead ½ at 74⅞ and Atlas advanced ⅜ at 25.

Individual gains included Ford of Canada, up 1½ at 142.

MacLaren Pulp and Paper B dropped ⅞ at 21⅜ and Price Brothers was off ¾ at 45.

International Nickel lost ½ at 63, and Falconbridge ¼ at 39¾. On the gold side Dome gained ⅝ at 21⅝ in a losing cause as most junior issues had minor losses.

Holloway AOTS Enjoys Beef Supper

Mr. Frank Cheshire, Tweed district representative of the Department of Lands and Forests, was the special guest of Holloway Street United Church AOTS Men's Club Monday evening at their regular monthly meeting held at the church.

Following the lovely roast beef supper served by the ladies, Les Digby led the club sing-song. Roy Long conducted an inspirational devotional period, reading from the Bible and basing his talk on The Lord's Prayer.

The boys and youth committee was pleased to announce that Blondin Clark had volunteered to help with the Cubs and that a Scout and Cub "Father and Son" banquet would be held in March. The projects committee announced the next project will be a "Box Social" for the entire congregation on the last Monday in February, complete with program.

FILMS SHOWN

After the regular business, Mr. Cheshire showed his fine selection of films on hunting and fishing. A most interesting subject was the destructive sea lamprey showing methods of control being used against this scourge of the fishing industry in the inland Great Lakes.

Vice-president Sam Orr was chairman, and president Doug Ptolemy was appointed sergeant-at-arms and kept the fine box ringing. Mr. Bill Hunter, charter president of the new Selby club, was also a welcome visitor. Total attendance was thirty-two.

'Y' Boys' Judo Club Wins, Loses to RCAF

Yesterday evening 19 members of the Belleville "Y" Boys' Judo Club competed in the first of what is to be an anual children's judo tournament at RCAF Station Trenton.

Their first tournament for many of the members of the local club, there were two divisions with six-men teams in each, as well as an individual competition.

In the "A" division the Belleville team, consisting of K. Lightfoot, R. Henderson, G. May, P. Fry, R. Graham and R. Morrison, met with a 20-10 defeat by the tournament winners, the Trenton "A" team.

The local lads on the "B" team met with greater success, however, defeating the Trenton "B" team by a margin of 30-10. Members of this team were M. Connolly, R. Walcott, R. Williamson, B. Carswell, G. May and T. Cole.

All lads took part in the individual competition with eight of them reaching the second, third and fourth rounds before being eliminated. Don Dalrymple, shodan of the local "Y" club was the referee for the final matches.

QUEEN'S SCOUT PARCHMENTS were received by four members of the 1st Belleville Scouts at a father and son banquet held at St. Thomas Parish Hall last evening. Receiving parchments from guest speaker Group Captain J. S. Schroeder, Air Transport Command, Trenton, were: Barry Athey, Jim Pickering, Edward Franchuk and David Fort.

Queen's Scouts Parchments Given Four at Banquet

Four Boy Scouts of the 1st (Belleville) St. Thomas' Troop last night received their parchments as Queen's Scouts at a Father and Son banquet in the parish hall, which was attended by 115 people.

The presentations were made to Scouts Barry Athey, David Fort, Ed Franchuk and James Pickering by Group Capt. W. H. Schroeder, chief of staff administration, RCAF Air Transport Command, Trenton.

Group Committee chairman Percy Pickering said the theme of the banquet, as exemplified by the decorations, was "From Sea to Sea," and was carried out by the use of the red and white troop colors and a "flying" Scout emblem between two bodies of water which was symbolic of the theme to be used at the Canadian Scout Jamboree at Ottawa in July.

With great pride he announced that six of the 12 boys from the Belleville Scout district, who had applied to attend the jamboree, were members of the 1st St. Thomas' Troop.

"Our hard-working leaders—Akela Reg Churcher with his assistants Miss Barbara Davis and Miss Linda Jones, and Scoutmater Harold Jenkinson and his assistant, Paul Allan, —have instituted training programs which have placed the 1st first in Belleville," said Mr. Pickering.

"Members of our Ladies' Auxiliary have, throughout the year, answered any call we made on their services," he said. "It is one of the mysteries of Scouting how a Group Committee could operate without them."

FILM ON SCOUTING

Group Capt. Schroeder, the guest of honor, addressed the Scouts and fathers on the meaning of the Scout Promise and explained how its observance would make each boy a better citizen. He also spoke of the need for all boys to continue at school and obtain at least a grade 13 education.

Group Capt. Schroeder was thanked by Queen Scout Pickering.

Another of the highlights was the presentation of the 13th badge plaque to Wolf Cub Douglas Kelsey by District Council President Lloyd Monteith.

Scouter Allan also presented an Artists badge to Scout Bruce Downing, an Entertainer's badge to Queen Scout Barry Athey, a Prospector's badge to Queen Scout Jim Pickering and a Swimmer's badge to Scout Bruce Downing.

Badges were presented by Akela Reg Churcher to the following Cubs: Dean Stockwell and Gary Swan, Team Player; Dwight Kelsey, Collector; Steven Tullock, Swimmer; Harry Smith, House Orderly and Athlete; while the First Star was presented to Cub Stuart Pilling.

The banquet, which was convened by Mrs. A. Athey, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, was preceded by the playing of The Queen by pianist Frank Lancaster, Group Committee terasurer, and grace by Rev. J. C. Riesberry, the group chaplain.

A toast to the boys was proposed by Mac Smith and the reply was made by Cub Sixer Harry Smith, his son.

A toast to the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen was proposed by Queen's Scout Pickering and Arthur Athey, vice-chairman of the Brotherhood, replied.

The Brotherhood's challenge shield was presented to the Bulldog patrol.

A presentation to retired Scouter Art Fort was made by the Troop's Court of Honor.

Quinte COSSA Basketball

(Contributed by M.S.S.

Disaster struck the Moira Secondary School gymnasium in the form of basketball teams from Quinte.

In the triple header played there yesterday only the Moira bantams came out with a victory. The first game was a very close contest between the two junior teams with Quinte coming out on top 39-35. The Quinte seniors kept the ball rolling, as they pranced to a 72-42 win. It was not until the third game that Moira supporters were able to give the victory cry as their bantams romped to a 46-19 win over the Quinte bantams.

JUNIOR GAME

The junior game was a very close contest. The tension was very high as both teams tried to control the ball and wait for the breaks. The score at the end of the first quarter was 11-7 for Moira and 18-18 at the end of the half. The second half was just as close with Quinte on the good end of a 28-27 score at three-quarter time. The outcome of the game was still in doubt with 5 seconds left to play when Wayne Gilroy put the game away with two free throws.

Top scorers for Quinte were Gilroy with 14 points followed by Fair who scored 9, 7 of which were free throws. Irvine cadded 8 points for the winners.

The two top scorers for the junior Ramblers were Dave Glen who netted 13 and Rob Blaker who hit for 11. Collin Allenby chipped in 6 points.

The difference between these two fine teams was on the foul line and in the rebounding department. Moira scored more field goals but failed to hit from the line. Gilroy and Hail led Quinte in the rebounding department.

SENIOR GAME

Next to take the floor were the senior teams and Quinte wasted no time in letting people know who was in control of the game. The half time score was 38-15 and the Saints didn't slow down after the rest as they went on to horrify the senior Ramblers 72-42.

The game presented some fine basketball by both teams but the Quinte height and more accurate shooting made the difference. Quinte was much sharper on defence.

Top scorer for Quinte was Bob Michaud, who stuffed the basket with 18 field goals and one free throw for a total of 35 points. Following him were Garry Davis, with 10 points, while Peter Campbell and Bill Follwell added 8 points each.

The last game of the evening was a good game, but started off with some very poor shooting. Both teams settled down and by half time the score was Moira 20, Quinte 14.

Moira put on a fine offensive burst and a grand defensive display as they outscored their opponents 26-5 in the last half.

Leading the way to this 46-19 victory were Don Fraser, who put in 16 points, ably assisted by Bob Skinner with 13 points and Ron Faulkner who added 10.

Quinte's offensive thrust was stymied by the Moira defence and the only player able to hit was Eves who scored 17 of his team's 19 points.

Rosicrucians Hold Meeting At Temple

Last Tuesday night the Quinte Chapter of the Rosicrucian Fraternity held its meeting in the Masonic Temple. Members and their friends viewed an educational film, "Gateways to the Mind," shown by Mr. Les Smith from the local Bell Telephone office. This film, one of a series by the Bell Telephone Co., told in color what men of science have learned about the five human senses, and was presented by live action and explanatory animation. It was shown how stimulations received through our senses are transmitted as electrical impulses to the brain and how they can be stored for future reference.

During the convocation Mrs. M. J. Bucher gave a talk on Consciousness.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. L. Campbell.

New Nations Show Their Power

The Afro-Asian plan for bringing peace to the Congo has been adopted by the United Nations Security Council by a vote of nine to nothing, with Russia and France abstaining.

The plan itself may fail in its purpose—conditions in the Congo are so chaotic that predicting the future is impossible.

Nevertheless, the UN vote is of great significance. There has been talk of a coming day when the colored nations might control the conduct of international affairs. The vote on the Congo issue shows that that day is much closer than many have dreamed, that, indeed, it has already arrived when problems of a certain nature arise.

The New York Times said editorially, as late as last Friday, "the Soviets are certain to veto any constructive solution (of the Congo crisis) such as that proposed by Ambassador Stevenson." The Soviets did, indeed, veto two amendments proposed by Stevenson to another motion, but they did not veto the Afro-Asian proposals, which ought to qualify for the description of being a "constructive solution" of the problem They did not veto this plan because to do so would be to their disadvantage, would destroy the whole picture they have been trying to paint of themselves as the friend of the newly-liberated nations of Africa and Asia.

It is worthy of note that one of the three nations sponsoring the proposals was the United Arab Republic, a country which, like Russia, has recognized Antoine Gizenga's Lumumbist regime at Stanleyville as the legal government of the Congo.

Yet, despite this attitude of the United Arab Republic, it joined in sponsoring peace proposals which won the backing of the United States and of Britain, as well as of Nationalist China, Turkey, Chile, Ecuador, Liberia and Ceylon, the last two nations joining with Nasser's regime in sponsoring the resolution.

Here is striking proof of the power which the new nations in Africa and Asia are already wielding in the UN. True, where the vital interests of any of the great powers are concerned, one can be sure that Afro-Asian wishes will be summarily ignored. But in those areas where the big powers are merely jockeying for position in the Cold War, the wishes of the small, uncommitted nations already carry great weight, and will carry more, rather than less, as time passes, just so long as they remain uncommitted to either power bloc.

Tussle in the Cabinet

As every realist knows, the principle of cabinet solidarity is more often a myth than a fact.

It was no secret, during the dying days of the St. Laurent Government, that Hon. W. E. Harris fought Hon. C. D Howe tooth and nail over the pipeline issue. Harris lost—but bowed to the decision of the majority and stayed in the cabinet. It is in this sense, in accepting the official decision or resigning, that the principle of cabinet solidarity and unanimity holds true in our system of government.

Today, in the Diefenbaker Cabinet, there is evidently in progress a tussle to match that between Howe and Harris. This time the issue is the acquisition of nuclear weapons for our armed forces and the antagonists are Hon. Howard Green, Minister of External Affairs, and Hon Douglas Harkness, who replaced Hon. G. R. Pearkes as Minister of Defence. For months Mr. Green is said to have carried the day with Prime Minister Diefenbaker—cabinet decisions, of course, are not merely a result of counting heads but must win the approval of the Prime Minister. Now, however, Mr. Harkness appears to have tilted the scales in his favor.

This battle is not over yet. Almost as interesting as the final result, though, is the metamorphosis which Mr. Green has undergone since assuming the post of Minister of External Affairs. When Dr. Sidney Smith resigned as president of the University of Toronto to accept that vital cabinet post, great things were expected of him. His death came before he had much chance to establish any reputation as a diplomat. When Mr. Green was named to succeed him, there were those who regarded the appointment as a stop-gap affair, a plum for a senior member of the House who would be expected to do little more than go through the motions until such a time as Prime Minister Diefenbaker was able to find a truly suitable successor. But from the first the new minister showed unexpected fire and mettle and he has given Canadian foreign policy a definition which never emerged under Dr. Smith. If Mr. Green loses his present tussle with Mr. Harkness, it will not be for want for persistency and effort. Some may hold him wrong—but nobody today regards him as a figure-head.

Shocking Double Standard

Milwaukee Journal

The double standard of conduct so widespread in American business life, among both corporations and individuals, is on shocking display in the disclosure of antitrust law violation that has pervaded the electrical equipment industry.

In pleas before sentence, man after man was plaintively represented to the judge as one who loves his family, works for his church, leads Boy Scouts, devotes himself to civic and charitable endeavors. No doubt it was mostly true. They simply parked their ideals with their cars when it came to doing business.

Complacency of our society toward this double standard was typified when one man's home parish publicly condoned it. The vestry proclaimed its unshaken confidence in his integrity, even as he headed for jail, and the rector avowed undiminished respect for him.

* * *

If they were still protesting his actual innocence, it might be understood. Or if they were expressing continued belief in his redemptibility, that is indeed what a church should do. simply denying, in effect, that confessed and aggravated lawbreaking has anything to do with personal integrity.

One defence lawyer even argued the double standard openly to the court, in explicit terms. The crime was "a statutory business offence only", not involving "moral turpitude". That is to say, in contrast to outright stealing, for instance, mere cheating against law and government and customers in behalf of an otherwise legitimate business is not immoral. It is "a way of life", another lawyer said.

Is this indeed an approved American, and Christian, way of life? The sentencing judge, J. Cullen Ganey of Philadelphia, thought not, and the more he heard of this stuff the angrier he got. He accused the defendant companies and individuals of "flagrantly mocking the image of that economic system which we profess, and destroying the model which we offer" to the world.

* * *

The guilty corporations were caught with the double standard, too. Many of them as we know in Milwaukee, are "good citizens", civic minded and philanthropic. Yet the claims by some, at least, to have been unaware of all the cloak and dagger price fixing, bid rigging and job allocation by their representatives, involving hundreds of millions over a period of years, are simply incredible, as Judge Ganey said.

His sentencing of the individuals, whether to jail or not, made a distinction between those who were themselves responsible for corporate conduct and those merely too weak of conscience to resist the "system". Here he put his finger on the organization or company man" — the churchgoer and scout leader, perhaps — who "finds balm in his conscience" in serving his employer, and thus his own hope of preferment, in wrongdoing.

The nation's "respectable" businessmen have here a stunning lesson, costly but needful to the country, that ethics are ethics as much at the office desk as at the Communion rail

Shakespeare Wasn't Always Correct

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices:

Portia and Cordelia are, to my mind, the most over-rated of Shakespeare's heroines: Portia is a man-hater and a prig, while Cordelia is graceless and proud; indeed, most of Shakespeare's heroines are deeply flawed in ways the author was unconscious of.

I long time no want to see acquaintances who invariably greet one with "Long time no see."

When a man says "I may be stupid, but it's my opinion that. ." you may be sure he does not believe he is stupid.

Why do we call it a "Hot water heater" when it is really a cold water heater?

Critics of modern art would do well to remember that a noted Parisian critic once said of a French painter: "When children amuse themselves with paper and crayons they do better than this." The painter he had in mind was Cezanne. Sounds familiar, doesn't it?

One of the best reproofs against false aristocracy was uttered by Franklin when he said "He is not truly well-bred who cannot easily tolerate the ill-breeding of others."

Children, at a certain age, begin to know their parents better than their parents know them; we do not usually know what our children are thinging, but they usually know what we are feeling.

It is a delusion to think that wars are ever followed by "peace"; they are followed by tired truces, for peace is possible only when there is enforceable law between nations.

One of the deepest ironies in sexes is that the very qualities that attract us to a person may be those that ultimately alienate us from the person.

Replies to Remark On School Costs

As Mr. Hurley stated in your column, Catholics are contributing toward the public high schools' support. This is true and it is as it should be. But these public schools are non-sectarian in nature; they are free for all and used by all, including Catholics. This can not be said of the Nicholson High School which is used only by Catholics.

Barn Cats Earn Keep

Windsor Star

Cats and dogs are pets to urban people (except where some special breeds of the latter are kept for hunting purposes). On the farms of Ontario, however, many are kept for their utility and not as pets.

The farmer needs a dog to hunt the ground-hogs, rabbits and other such nuisances. A well-trained dog can save a farm lad many steps when going out for the cows. Some also are useful as watch-dogs.

Cats on farms come in two categories, the house cat and the barn cat. The former is sort of a pet, though it is expected to keep its eyes open lest a mouse meander into the house. The latter is the valuable feline, as its job is to keep down the mouse population in the granary and around the remainder of the barn and stables. A good cat is extremely efficient at it.

The barn cat relies on its wits and watchfulness for much of its food. This is not to say it is neglected by the farmer. It has its dish to be filled with milk a couple of times daily.

A mother cat usually is the best mouser. Her hunting instincts seem to be most active then. There often is a bit of excitement when she has a litter. She will hide away in a hay mow or some secluded place. The farmer will know there are kittens but may not know where they are until they start peeking out of their seclusion in their natural curiosity.

Best Drug Is Exercise

St. Catharines Standard

Mechanized modern living has played havoc with the physical ability of the average man of 65, according to Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp, well-known president of a New York drug firm.

He was referring to the fact that today man does not seek exercise but prefers to sit, to travel in modern cars and in every way possible prefers to let the machine carry on

This manner of living was contrasted by Dr. Klumpp to the past generation when the forefathers of present man walked long distances, chopped wood, dug ditches, pitched hay, stoked the furnace and did many physical chores which are shunned in this age

In his outline of conditions Dr. Klumpp has hit a sore spot in human existence. Man today not only has an aversion for exercise, he has an infatuation for creature comfort. He cannot remember the benefits of exercise, the delicious taste of good food following hours of work in the open, of the deep sleep which comes to a body tired by exercise in the open air.

However, if you have been neglecting your exercise if you have preferred to go a few blocks by car instead of walking, if your habits have been for creature comfort, don't change suddenly if you are 65 Enjoy a few blocks of walking while breathing deeply of the cold air. You will find that you will feel better, says Dr. Klumpp, and you will sleep better Long life cannot be enjoyed by sitting in a rocking chair, even in a foam rubber covered office chair. Exercise and health go together and they pay dividends in longer life.

Medical Groups Concerned With Effects of New Drugs

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I hear now and then of new and improved 'wonder' drugs on the commercial scene. While these drugs are making the grade, some writers are giving warnings on the too-promiscous use of these compounds.

"I'm wondering whether the medical societies are genuinely concerned with this problem or it is left to the discretion of the individual practitioner? — J. K."

Yes, the medical societies are vitally concerned. In past decades and centuries we have had truly marvelous discoveries, such as aspirin, ether, digitalis, morphine. Each of these has been of inestimable value to mankind. However, each has its dangers, of "side effects," as we call them now. Each can, in certain circumstances, kill.

Or take the arsenical compounds, the first effective cure, for syphilis. They had dangers, and have since been replaced by penicillin. And penicillin, a vast improvement, still has dangers, too.

Insulin certainly is a "wonder drug" if by that term we mean one which is wonderfully useful. It, too, is dangerous unless used in proper amounts. It like others, has had many modifications and improvements in the 30-odd years since its discovery.

Today the "wonder drugs" are for the most part antibiotics and steriod hormones, plus such others as polio vaccine, tranquilizers, psychic energizers, anti-coagulants, pinworm and fungus medications, etc.

All have their possible dangers along with their obvious benefits. Unless you believe in fairy tales, you don't fool yourself by believing that any great invention is all good or all bad. Consider dynamite, automobiles, airplanes, atomic fission, wheels, iron, money, automation, electricity. You name them!

At conferences, national, state and local medical societies, and at specialty meetings, the dangers, as well as the benefits of new drugs are always discussed. These drugs are the tools of therapy, the basic materials of medicine. Of course we study them!

Nor is that all. When a new drug is discovered in the laboratories, the next step is experimentation with animals. If it still looks promising, cautious use with patients is begun. It is often a matter of years before any public announcement is made.

Then, if there is still promise and lack of harmful effects, there follows an expanded use by perhaps several hundred or more specialists.

If their results are good, the next step is to ask the federal government to examine and test the drug, and decide whether it is worthy. I have known major drug firms to abandon a drug after hundreds of thousands of dollars had been invested, because the percentage of risk or doubt seemed too high for safety.

You may smile if you like at mention of the goodness of heart among big businesses. Personally I do not. Even if I did, I would still have to say that big business is smart enough to sacrifice dollars, rather than risk marketing a drug that will backfire.

Beyond all this, there are doctors who are reluctant to prescribe new drugs, except with extreme caution, until they have been in general use for a year or two or more. These doctors aren't fuddy-duds. They are conscientious. They have my blessing and my respect.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would drinking alcoholic beverages harm a person who has been hospitalized for mental illness and still gets depressed? — J. M. and A. A."

Such a person decidedly should not indulge in alcohol.

Reds Seek White Phone

Cape Breton Post

Social status weighs as heavily amongst Communist wives as it does with the dames of West End London, and woe to those who don't accord them the status to which they believe they are entitled.

This has been made excruciatingly plain in a certain Polish town, as related by a Communist party publication, Trybuna Luda. It has to do with a white telephone becoming the latest status symbol.

The director of communications in the town received a shipment of 40 white telephones for distribution in the area. But there were far more than 40 people deeply convinced that their positions and social rank entitled them to the white, so-called "luxury" telephone.

The town began to seethe. The director was bombarded not only by the most important men, but what was worse, by their wives. The possession of a white telephone became a matter of honor, ambition, prestige and importance.

The beleaguered director finally set up a special commission to decide on the allocation of the white telephones and all but one was distributed. The debate over the distribution has got more heated. Some disappointed wives have threatened their husbands with divorce, and some dissatisfied local officials have carried the matter to influential friends in government circles at Warsaw.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON YOUR WAY UP — OBJECTIVELY

Franklin Pierce Adams ("F. P. A."), journalist and humorist, was the liveliest of all American commentators. Strains of humor ran ever throughout his writing in bubbling good will. He wrote a popular newspaper column for many years, commanding a huge reader audience, and he was always an inspiring figure in newspaper circles.

I recall, especially, one statement Adams once made. He said that most of his knowledge came from the interesting bits he ran into on his way to something definite. From him, came also these lines —

And of all glad words of prose or rhyme
The gladdest are, "Act while there is yet time."

For years, too, "F. P. A." lit the lamps of good will and jollity of the Players in New York City.

The Players itself is one of the finest cubs one can encounter anywhere. Great figures of the stage and screen have ever enlivened its atmosphere and you always leave it after touching lives with the famous.

The Club was founded by Edwin Thomas Booth (the great American actor) and his associates, and the president is chosen for life. The place reminds one of New Orleans. The building is located at 16 Gramercy Park and was formerly Booth's residence. Booth presented it to the Club, along with all his books and works of art.

Many a fine book has been written as the result of the stimulation aroused by this interesting literary and artistic association.

WHAT IS EDUCATION?

The home is humanity's most important school. Parents are humanity's most influential teachers. The education of childhood and youth is humanity's most important enterprise.

How should we go about educating the immature? By combining information and training in such a way that maturity results. For we are put in the world to grow, and that growing process is the most important thing with which we ever have to deal. We may fill the minds of our children and young people with facts and at the end of their "educational careers" they may be as ignorant as naked savages. What we have to ask ourselves constantly, as we strive to give our children an education, is whether or not our efforts are producing growth and maturity or whether these efforts are simply enabling us to conform to accepted social patterns, give the kids a headul of facts, enable them to get a diploma.

Is the child's wisdom growing in the grade schools. Is his judgement improving in high school, preparatory school? Is his college curriculum and his college environment getting him oriented — directed — toward life's problems. Is his, professional training making him just a professional man, or a sensitive, informed, imaginative, courageous member of society, a leader of its principal projects?

What is education? Here is a question continually to be pondered if we would grow and help our children to grow.

THE PACKSACK

BY GREGORY CLARK

As a bird-watcher, I was delighted to have for my seat mate on an aircraft the other day a man who informed me he was a botany-walker.

He took from his pocket a pamphlet which he was studying with great attention and I could not help peeping. What it appeared to be was an illustrated brochure on twigs. The drawings were of a few inches of twig with buds. The thing to do in a situation like this is to ask the gentleman for a match. And in a minute, I was enquiring what the Sam Hill the twigs were about.

"Well, sir," he said, "I am what you call a botany-walker It's like a bird-watcher. Only, instead of going walking in the country with field glasses, recognizing all the birds you encounter, you go walking in the woods and fields, recognizing all the plants you see — the trees, the shrubs, the flowering plants, even the grasses, weeds. Everything living."

"There isn't much in winter, though," I mentioned.

"Oh, isn't there!" said he. "That's what I'm doing with this pamphlet. You can more accurately identify a tree or a shrub from the winter buds than from many of the other characters. I'm a chemicals salesman by profession, and wherever I go, I take a walk in the neighboring countryside, just to see if there's anything new, for me. This trip, I was out running down some fine distinctions in the ash family. Had a good time, too."

Patent on New Black Raspberry Strain Awarded

An American patent on a new black raspberry strain has recently been received by Edward Lowden of Ancaster near Hamilton. Mr. Lowden is a professional grower of quality small fruit plants and vegetable seeds.

The American patent office notes the black raspberry developed by Mr. Lowden has proven exceptional in withstanding hot dry weather with neither drought nor temperatures of over 100 degrees seeming to affect it.

The berry has a much more extensive root system than other black raspberries and is propogated by tip layering. Tests at Geneva, N.Y. show that it is productive vigorous and hardier than most other blacks.

The fruit is very distinctive and superior to other black raspberries. The season is late and the berries are large with small seeds making the berry juicier.

It is much in demand in the Hamilton area and is displacing purples for private canning and a big future is expected for it in commercial canning.

P.M. SUGGESTS

foundland and Shaw of Prince Edward Island said they were "happy." Premiers Robichaud of New Brunswick and Stanfield of Nova Scotia said they needed time to study the offer.

Premier Bennett of British Columbia said "We will lose under this proposal." Premier Manning of Alberta declined comment.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the return of all provinces to the direct tax fields—ending the tax-rental system which has prevailed since the war—would not rule out the federal government continuing as a single collection agency.

The federal government would collect without charge the personal or corporation income taxes, or both, levied by the provinces provided federal and provincial tax rules were uniform.

He said this could not be done in regard to provincial succession duty. Any province not wishing to levy its own succession duty could collect half of the yield from federal estate taxes, similar to the present arrangement.

Under present tax - sharing agreements, expiring March 31 next year, eight provinces—all but Ontario and Quebec—have leased their rights in the three direct tax fields to the federal government in return for payments based on the agreed share: 13 per cent of personal income tax collections, nine per cent of corporation profits and 50 per cent of succession duties

In place of this 13-9-50 formula, Mr. Diefenbaker in effect proposed a 16-9-50 formula in 1962 which would increase to a 20-9-50 formula by 1967.

Quebec already collects its own taxes in the three fields and Ontario collects its own corporation income tax. Provincial taxpayers receive an abatement on their federal taxes in line with the 13-9-50 formula.

In place of this abatement—and tax rentals in the other provinces—federal taxes would be reduced in all provinces in line with the new formula.

"It will then rest with each provincial government to determine its rates of tax in these fields," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

He also proposed a major change in the system of federal equalization grants to less-wealthy provinces.

These payments now bring the yield from the provincial share of the three tax fields in less-prosperous provinces up to the level of the average yield in the two wealthiest, Ontario and British Columbia.

His new proposal was for a more complicated Formula. The equalization payments would be based in part on the national average yield from the three tax fields, based on the new formula, and in part on natural resource revenues—provincial revenues from such things as forests, mining and petroleum.

The new federal proposal provides a floor under such equalization payments so that no province would receive less than it would if the present system were continued.

Mr. Diefenbaker also offered an increase, to $35,000,000 a year from $25,000,000, in the special adjustment grants now shared by the four Atlantic provinces. This would be effective for five years from 1962.

It would be left to the Atlantic provinces to decide how to share the $35,000,000. The present grants are divided $7,500,000 each to Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and $2,500,000 to Prince Edward Island.

REPEATS OFFER

Mr. Diefenbaker also repeated his offer, made last October, that the special $8,000,000 annual grant to Newfoundland be continued for another five years. This is the amount recommended by a royal commission under terms of Newfoundland's 1949 entry into Confederation.

The federal offer proposed some other minor changes in tax relations between the two levels of government.

The prime minister said he is prepared to waive the immunity of federal Crown corporations and agencies from provincial sales taxes on their purchases. In the same way, provincial corporations and agencies would be subject to federal sales and excise taxes.

He also proposed a conference aimed at easing the double impact on logging companies of federal income taxes and provincial logging taxes. This applies mainly in Ontario and British Columbia.

On shared-cost programs carried on by the federal and provincial governments — such as hospital insurance and trans-Canada highway and assistance for the needy aged and disabled —the prime minister suggested that all of these be re-examined by the conference's continuing committee of officials.

The aim would be to achieve consolidation, simplification and co-ordination where possible.

On leaving the conference room, Mr. Diefenbaker was asked whether the federal proposal was "a final offer." He replied: "This is a proposal."

Premier Frost had no firm comment.

"There are still a lot of assessments to be made on this offer," he told reporters. "Our people are still sorting it out."

When a reporter mentioned Ontario might get an additional $18,000,000 a year, he said this would depend on whether the projected rate of tax growth was accurate.

Several provincial legislatures have adjourned while the premiers are in Ottawa. The Ontario government has postponed bringing in its annual budget pending the outcome of this conference.

TORONTO (CP)—Paul Martin, Liberal Commons member for Essex East, and United States publisher William Rusher disagree over the value of the United Nations.

In a debate Wednesday night, Mr. Rusher held that the UN is doing more harm than good while Mr. Martin, who has represented Canada at the UN, said it has done good work in the Middle East.

Mr. Rusher, publisher of the magazine National Review, said the Afro-Asian bloc is manipulating the UN, wit' UN support.

Mr. Martin said there was nothing wrong with a balance of power exploited by the Afro-Asian bloc.

H-S Assoc. Hears Talk on 'Fire Menace'

DESERONTO — The February meeting of the Home and School Association was held at the high school on Thursday night of last week. The vice-president, Mrs. R. K. Jackson, presided and the attendance was good.

Mrs. E. F. Gill, chief marching mother for the "March of Dimes," reported on the success of the effort and advised that the money amounting to over $500 had been forwarded to the district office.

Mr. E. Quirk, principal of the high school, introduced the staff of that school to the meeting. The vote on attendance was won by the high school.

A number of pupils of the high school gave a short skit on "Founder's Day" which was being celebrated, and was well received.

In the business session it was decided to have the volleyball court of the high school reconditioned, and William Houle and G. Fox were appointed a committee to proceed with the work.

Miss Linda Lott introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Fire Chief James McVicker, who spoke briefly on "The Menace of Fire." Following the talk a film on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was shown and impressed the gathering.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served the gathering by the committee in charge.

P. Vinden Addresses Alpha Lambda on 'Absolute Music'

Many people lack knowledge of the construction of music, but it is no bar to enjoying music. All that is necessary is an open mind". Thus began an enjoyable and most interesting evening of music appreciation for the members of Alpha Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi when they had Mr. Paul Vinden as their guest speaker.

Mr. Vinden is well known in Belleville, he teaches music at Moira Secondary School and is the organist and choir master at St. Margaret's Church-on-the-Hill.

In her introduction, Mrs. D. Horne outlined his wide career in music, including his participation as a boy in the choir of West minster Abbey in London, where he took his first organ lesson; his long association with a close friend of Bration with a close friend of Brahms, his favorite composer, and his attendance at the University of Algiers, where he received his degree of Music.

First of all, Mr. Vinden defined the term 'absolute music'. He prefers the term 'abstract music,' because almost any music, if good, can be called absolute or quality, whereas the term 'abstract music' conveys a better meaning. He likened abstract or absolute music to abstract art which can mean anything one wants it to mean. Abstract music does not depend on any story or preconceived idea. The term 'absolute music' is unfamiliar and frightening to most people, but Mr. Vinden emphasized there is nothing frightening about it for this reason: one can put his own interpretation to it and it is as good as any other, even to the most highly qualified music critic.

He also asked several members their ideas of what abstract music is. There was a variety of answers such as "good music, not jazz," or "orchestral not vocal arrangements," or "music that scares me."

TWO CLASSES OF MUSIC

Mr. Vinden continued to explain that practically all music falls into two classes: program music, which generally is subjective and tells a story, or paints a picture. It is a repetition of experience and it can be choral sacred, orchestral or containing historical fact such as Tschaikowsky's 1812 Overture. As an example of program music he played Beethoven's "Pastoral Symphony" of which the second movement depicted the composer walking beside a brook in the country on a lovely summer's day.

ABSOLUTE MUSIC

The second classification is 'absolute music'. It is most positive and appeals to the spiritual or intellectual side. One can draw whatever emotional experience he wishes from it. Absolute music follows a certain design and balance with tonal beauties made palatable by violent contrast through which it makes its appeal. It attempts to portray an alternation of emotional tension, and emotional release and, because abstract music provides releases to these tensions, they provide a need for all.

Two selections were played to illustrate this, the "String Quartet" by Franz Joseph Haydn and Johannes Brahms "Trio in A. Minor".

Program music was compared to a beautiful woman who housed a satanic disposition. On the other hand, absolute or abstract music was like a not-so-beautiful woman whose charm needs to be discovered.

SUMMARY

Mr. Vinden summarized with the following program music is nationalist in flavor; is external; has a form that is free; has a casual relationship and it is filled with special effects and vivid orchestral coloring, almost barbaric at times. It conveys emotions and the title draws attention to its extra-musical content.

Much program music was written in the late 19th century by such composers as Liszt, Strauss, Schubert and Wagner and the modern day Italian composer, Respine.

Absolute music is strictly non - representational with material chosen for its melody, rhythmic virtues and harmonics. It is an exposition of sonata form and its development. The emotional reaction rises from the music itself. The title conveys no description and is colorless, usually stating only what it is in musical form, musical key and opus number. Brahm and Haydn have contributed to absolute music.

"Happy is the person who has a wide selection of music. As taste for music develops, one will reject those one dislikes," said Mr. Vinden at the conclusion of his address.

THANKS EXPRESSED

Mrs. Ernest Drurie thanked Mr. Vinden on behalf of the sorority and further discussion proved the topic one of great interest to many.

Other selections were played during the coffee hour.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. H. L. House. The following business items were settled: the nominating committee was chosen; it was decided to rush new members this spring since several members will progress to the new Exemplar Chapter; "Founder's Day" will be celebrated in Belleville and it was announced that tickets for the Black and Gold Ball to be held in April are now on sale.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. D. Horne, who was assisted with the refreshments by Mrs. Ralph Ketcheson.

Canada House in London Is Link With Home

MONTREAL (CP) — Nancy Archibald recalls the time a frantic Canadian telephoned Canada House in London to ask for a best man for his wedding.

"He was a stranger and didn't know anyone," said the 26-year-old teacher from St. David's, Ont., who was working as a receptionist and information clerk at Canada House.

"I telephoned all my friends and finally found one who said he'd be willing. He had a terrific time."

Located on Trafalgar Square, it houses Canadian diplomatic and passport offices.

Miss Archibald said Canadians are often reluctant to leave England once they've travelled there. They feel a sentimental attachment to Canada, however, and this is particularly true of young Canadians.

"They seem to be dying to hear a Canadian accent as soon as they get off the boat," she said, adding that they go to Canada House for information on almost everything — theatres, jobs, companionship and mail.

She later toured the continent, working as a real estate agent, waitress and model. She modelled for Ronald Patterson, London designer who olds yearly showings for the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret.

"It was tremendously hard work for me." Illness ended her modelling career and she joined the Canada House staff.

"It's fascinating just being in an old city and I think most Canadians feel a link with England in the first place. For me, it's been the availability of everything — theatre, music, opera. It's just a joy to have a choice."

Hold World Day of Prayer Service

MADOC — Despite icy roads and inclement weather, a splendid representation of ladies from the churches of Madoc village, turned out for the service, The World Day of Prayer, held in St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, on Friday afternoon, with Mrs. C. Barton as leader.

The various churches taking part were: St John's Anglican — Mrs. Glen Nickle. Mrs. Whiteman; Wesleyan Methodist — Mrs. J. McMechan; Pentecostal — Mrs. Morgan; Free Methodist — Mrs. Hicks; Trinity United — Mrs. A. Empey. Mrs. Stickwood; Presbyterian — Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. D. Blakely. Mrs. H. Mackintosh and Mrs. R. McCoy.

GUEST SPEAKER

The guest speaker was the Rev. Mr. Bottes, of St. John's Anglican Church, Madoc. Basing his talk on the theme "Forward Through The Ages In Unbroken Line". Mrs. Irene Crawford presided at the organ.

WMS, Guild Hold Joint Day of Prayer

SHANNONVILLE — The regular monthly meeting of the Shannonville W.M.S. was postponed to combine with the World Day of Prayer on February 17th.

The ladies of Melrose WMS and the Anglican Guild gathered in the church hall and participated in the program. The president, Mrs. Charles Wood, welcomed everyone and conducted a short business session. The secretary, Mrs. W. D. Robertson, read the correspondence and several notes of thanks, for cards, were received. Mrs. Wood closed this portion of the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Damon Hinchey, pianist, played quiet music and the program for the World Day of Prayer followed, along the theme, "Forward Through the Ages In Unbroken Line." Mrs. Charles Bates of Melrose contributed a lovely vocal solo with Mrs. Lorne Weese as accompanist. Mrs. Asa Cook gave a fine reading concerning the World Day of Prayer.

After the program, Mrs. C. Milligan of Melrose and Mrs. McBride of the Guild, expressed thanks for the pleasant evening spent together. Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed by the 31 in attendance.

The next meeting will be on March 2nd when a quilting and a pot-luck dinner will be held in the church hall.

Surprise Party Marks 25th Anniversary

A recent surprise party was held by Greta and Harry Cole in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey, Pringle Drive, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

The living room was prettily adorned with white streamers and wedding bells, and the tea table was most attractive in its appointment. A three-tier wedding cake centred the table topped with the legend, "25 Years" in silver and a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey's other two daughters, Mrs. Kay Walsh and Mrs. Clare Petrie.

Guests, numbering 75 were present from Toronto; Port Hope; Roslin; Marysville and Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey were the recipients of many lovely gifts and cards of congratulation bearing best wishes for many more years of happy married life together.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey graciously expressed their appreciation and thanks for the good wishes and gifts of their many friends.

Mrs. C. Holmes Honored at Presbyterial

At the annual meeting of the Belleville Presbyterial WMS held in Stirling on Monday and Tuesday, the retiring president, Mrs. Clarence Holmes of Belleville, was honored by presentations from the executive which she heads — the Woman's Auxiliary of Holloway United Church, Belleville and the Woman's Missionary Society of Holloway.

Mrs. Holmes' term of office with the Presbyterial was for four years, but she resigned for the last year so that the 1st vice-president, Mrs. George Carlisle, of Stirling, could have the privilege of serving as president for the final year of Presbyterial as a Woman's Missionary Society.

In 1962 all the women of the United Church in Canada will be united in one organization and the W.A. and W.M.S. as individual organizations will no longer be.

Mrs. N. McKibbon of Picton, and Mrs. R. G. Coulter, of Belleville, made the presentations on behalf of the Presbyterial executive, and Mrs. O. Bertrand, Belleville, and Mrs. Garnett Dobbs of Belleville, on behalf of Holloway St. United W.M.W. and W.A. respectively.

Mrs. Holmes has given outstanding leadership in the many organizations to which she belongs, and especially in the work of the church.

Women's Activities

TABERNACLE WMS

The regular monthly meeting of Tabernacle United Church W.M.S. was held in the ladies' parlor on February 14th.

The president, Mrs. P. Osland opened the meeting with prayer.

It was decided that Mrs. McKinnon be delegate to Presbyterial in Stirling on Feb. 22.

At the April meeting the Afternoon Auxiliary will join with the Evening Auxiliary for evening meeting.

Mrs. Gorsline spoke on Community Friendship, saying in part, "As Christians, it is our duty to be friendly to strangers, especially to those who have come to our country from other lands. Many of these people are lonesome and have talents which would be a help in our church. Friendliness is one of the Christian graces".

Mrs. Slavin literature secretary, spoke about one of the many good books on the book shelf named "Revolutionary Effect of Christianity on the World". Mrs. Slavin requested the members to make use of good books on the book shelf especially books on 'Africa'.

Worship service was taken by Mrs. F. Davidson.

Scripture reading, John 17:20-26 so long as the chuch lives for itself there will be divisions but when church looks out upon the world divisions must cease.

A chapter from Study Book was then reviewed. Those taking part were: Mrs. Rosborough, Mrs. F. Barlow, Mrs. P. Osland and Miss M. Mingay. Topic was "Work Camps".

WORK CAMPS

There is a vast army of young people more than 10,000 now — from some 50 countries who have given their time and labor to ecumenical work camps in five continents. The majority of these young people are Christians but they do not have to be if they enter whole heartedly into the spirit of the camp and recognize the Christian character of the camp.

They pay their own travel expenses to and from camp and contribute to camp living expenses according to their ability. They receive no salary. Sometimes they stay at the camp for the summer months. Sometimes they stay from one to three years. Most of members of camp are experts in some field such as home economics, agriculture, irrigation, engineering, public health, child welfare.

They go to underdeveloped countries such as Greece, where they instruct teen agers in canning, poultry raising or instruct older people in building and agriculture. One camp was organized and members went to Frobisher in the Arctic Circle to help the Eskimos.

44 Student Nurses 'Capped' In Ceremony at Hospital

The first "Capping" ceremony to be held in the new Education Hall of Belleville General Hospital took place Wednesday evening, when forty-four student nurses received their Caps and were presented with the traditional Lamp and Candle.

These student nurses have successfully completed their first six months of basic studies and will continue with more advanced work in their nursing program.

Greetings were addressed to the student nurses by Mrs. A. F. M. Jones, president of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary; Miss Doris H. Smith, director of nursing; Miss Vija Kazaks, president of the Nurses' Alumnae and Miss Linda Keel, president of the Student Nurses' Association.

The Caps and Candles were presented by nursing instructors Miss Marion Gomme and Mrs. Barbara Jones.

St. Paul's Observes Day of Prayer

STIRLING — On February 17th, 60 ladies gathered at St. Paul's United Church, for the annual World Day of Prayer service. The theme was "Forward Through the Ages in Unbroken Line" and was prepared by the Central Day of Prayer Committee of the U.S.A. Mrs. George Carlisle, president, of St. Paul's W.M.S. presided. Mrs. Russell Stapley provided quiet music as the group gathered and she also accompanied the hymns.

The service opened with the call to worship. The Bible passages were taken from the Psalms and centred around the theme "Let the Beauty of the Lord Our God Be Upon Us," and all sang "Forward Through the Ages". Mrs. George Noble, president of St. John's Anglican Missionary group presided over the portion based on "We Come in Joyful Remembrance of God's Leading, Over the Years."

The meditation stressed that thousands of Christians on every continent are observing this World Day of Prayer. From all these countries these prayers arise and the golden chain of prayer will encircle the globe before the end of the day. This was closed with the hymn "O God, Our Help in Ages Past".

Mrs. Blanche Reid, president of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Missionary Society presided over the theme, "We Come in Confession and Penitence." This was centred on the tremendous claims and demands of the Lord's prayer. Silent prayers were offered for inner peace, for failure to share the living gospel with others and above all guidance to follow a straight path. The climax was based on the hymn "Breathe on me Breath of God".

The president of River Valley W.M.S., Mrs. Roy Bush presided over "We Come in Assurance and Dedication". This was centred around several Bible passages, one of which was John 15: 16, "Ye Have Not Chosen Me, But I Have Chosen You".

Miss Gena Spry of St. Andrew's gave a brief address on the theme o fthis prayer service.

The Morrow Sisters of River Valley community, representing St. John's Anglican, contributed a quartet selection.

Mrs. Carlisle presided over "We Come in Glad Commitment With Our Offerings." This was gathered by Mrs. James Hough, Miss Lenore Williams, Mrs. John B. Thompson and Mrs. Oliver Stapley. The offering was dedicated to further the work of the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada, which provides Christian literature everywhere.

The service closed with "The Day Thou Gavest Lord is Ended". The Benediction was a plea on the theme "Hasten the Day When All Shall be Together in Helpfulness and Love".

Central Ontario Arts, Crafts Displays Paintings at Library

An interesting exhibit, including paintings by several Belleville and district artists, and crafts from both Belleville and Campbellford, is being shown at the Belleville Public Library this week.

The exhibit is put on by the East Central Ontario Art and Crafts Association, and was officially opened in Peterborough early this month.

Most of the paintings are scenes from nature, some realistic and some of a more abstract nature. The still life, abstract and realistic, palette knife and brush, were on the whole, well done. Older men and children were popular subjects for the portraits in this exhibit.

One artist had exchanged his paint brush for a knife, and had carved two masks, U-Bangi and Long Ears. These, along with the various crafts, make an interesting addition to this year's show.

Euchre Held At Bayside Public School

Another enjoyable evening of euchre was held in the Bayside School on February 17th. Ladies' prizes were won by, Mrs. Maude Jeffery, high score; Mrs. Edna Jones, lone hands; Mrs. Joan Jonah, consolation; men: Clifford Champaign, high score; Dawson MacLean, lone hands; Master James Wallbridge, consolation.

Mrs. Generoux generously donated a beautifully worked bath towel set which was won by Jimmy Wallbridge.

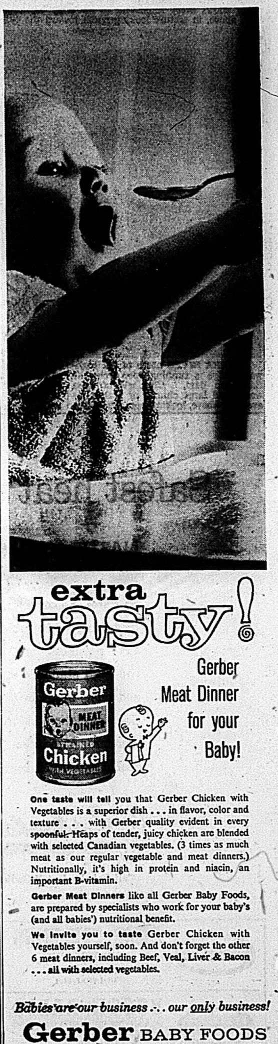
FAST WORKERS

Women and children in Iran, that country's most skilled rugmakers, can tie 3,000 knots of wool or silk in a day.



One taste will tell you that Gerber Chicken with Vegetables is a superior dish . . . in flavor, color and texture . . . with Gerber quality evident in every spoonful. Heaps of tender, juicy chicken are blended with selected Canadian vegetables. (3 times as much meat as our regular vegetable and meat dinners.) Nutritionally, it's high in protein and niacin, an important B-vitamin.

Gerber Meat Dinners like all Gerber Baby Foods, are prepared by specialists who work for your baby's (and all babies') nutritional benefit.

We invite you to taste Gerber Chicken with Vegetables yourself, soon. And don't forget the other 6 meat dinners, including Beef, Veal, Liver & Bacon . . . all with selected vegetables.

'Lines on Life'

By Dr. Stuart E. Rosenberg

George Bernard Shaw said that youth was too good a time of life to waste on young people. But age and wisdom are often lost upon those who are called mature. The truth is that every stage of life has its special lesson to teach.

The cycle of life, apart from its physical purposes, has moral and intellectual values. When, as infants, we are born into a booming and buzzing confusion, we grow and develop only because of the watchful concern of those who love us. We are clearly dependent upon others to help, guide and minister to us. Our very lives depend upon those who are dependable.

As we move from childhood into puberty, we experience a new and glowing power. We are given bigger wings and we begin to take solo flights, testing our strength. Adolescence is a time of life when we learn to cut the umbilical cord of dependence. Our independence takes a variety of forms. We kick and sputter. We clamor for attention. We are self conscious, because we are just becoming a self.

Physically, adolescence is a strange and wonderful time of our lives We learn the meaning of being a somebody instead of a something. And spiritually, too, it is a great period. It is a time of protest, of idealism, of burning zeal. A time when we seek to find the "unadulterated truth". Through our storm and stress we are looking for the rainbow at the edge of the horizon.

But life has more to offer us than a chance at self-rule and sovereign independence. As we grow still older, some of us recognize the final goal of human experience. Marriage helps supply the clue to the secret. There has never been a really successful marriage which wasn't based on mutual understanding, upon a shared recognition of interpendence.

This is the lesson about life we are offered as we reach maturity. Man was not created to remain forever infantile, forever dependent upon others, forever an object and never a subject. But neither was he made to stay permanently juvenile, divorced from others, proudly and ruggedly independent, measuring life only as it suits his own whims and fancies.

In his own personal lives, as indeed in the life of nations, we can never go it alone. We never exist alone. We always co-exist. We never can operate unless we also co-operate.

Man grows physically. He can also grow spiritually if he moves from dependence to independence on to interdependence.

Ivanhoe WMS Hears Letter From Korea

The February meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Prest in the evening. Fifteen answered the roll call with verses of Scripture taken from St. John. The president urged the members to attend the Presbyterial today.

A letter was read from the missionary, Miss A. M. Rose, residing in Seoul, Korea. Last fall she organized the "Board of Christian Education" and has been trying to educate the members as to what are their duties. This work of Christian Education is the subject she teaches in the local church. Miss Rose also gets many requests for material mimeographed and made into book form.

Besides her regular work, every week is filled with committee work, teachers' training classes, auditing the books of the treasurer of the general assembly; supervising the children's division and the adult division of the church school. Miss Rose is interested in this work which she feels is most important in the life of the church.

Mrs. George Wood had charge of the worship service. The study was the first three chapters of St. John. Mrs. Elymer Rollins read portions of Scripture, which were explained by the leader.

THE TEST

Six tests you can take through Scripture to determine whether or not you are a genuine Christian: 1st John 3:9; 1st John 5:1; 1st John 2:29; 1st John 3:14; 1st John 5:4; 1st John 5:18.

Mrs. M. MacMillan had the study book.

Mrs. Arthur Wood thanked the hostess for opening her home.

A social half hour was enjoyed.

V.O.N. Gives Report for February

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held at the YMCA on Monday.

The president, Mr. John Lennox, welcomed the new secretary, Miss L. Burnside, to the meeting.

Mr. Lennox stated that the by-laws, which were sent to head office the end of December, had been returned with comments and suggestions for Mr. T. K. Franklin and his committee to consider. They are to report back with their recommendations.

GRANT REQUESTED

The annual grant from the city has again been requested. Mr. A. Gignac gave a comprehensive treasurer's report.

A letter was received from VON headquarters asking the local branch to take two public health students from the University of Ottawa, one for the period from April 17 to May 12, and the other from May 16 to June 9. Miss D. Connor complied with this request.

Mrs. R. Brain said that Mrs. Lorne Johnston would like to ascertain whether there are any retarded children, who require home care and are unable to attend the school. She would be grateful for the board's co-operation in this matter.

NURSE'S REPORT

The head nurse, Miss Dorothy Connor, gave the nurse's report for January. A total of 414 visits were made to 107 patients. Sixty-seven patients were carried over from December and forty patients were admitted to VON service during the month. The cases and visits for January were as follows: Medical and surgical, 30 per cent of the cases and 60 per cent of the visits, maternity and newborn, 36 per cent of the cases and 20 per cent of the visits, health instruction, 34 per cent of the cases and 20 per cent of the visits.

A total of seven half-days was spent in Special Activities, which consisted of three half-days at the Child Health Conferences at the Kiwanis Centre, two half-days at Cannifton-Corbyville school and two half-days at Douglas Atkins School.

SHELL COLOR

The color of an egg shell, determined by the breed of the chicken, has no connection with the quality or flavor of the egg.

Women's Institute

WOOLER W.I.

The president of the Wooler Women's Institute welcomed 37 members and guests to the February meeting.

Correspondence was read and dealt with. It was decided that $20 would be used to send a delegate to the Officers' Conference at Guelph.

Several announcements were made about the coming "Fashion Show" to be held in the East Northumberland District High School on March 1st, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Leland Bryant was again put in charge of the homemade candy which will be on sale that night. Mrs. Herman Morrow, convener of the evening, pinned a valentine on each lady present, and spoke on the motto, "All Good Things Come from the Heart." A large valentine heart was placed at the front of the room. Mrs. Morrow said that this was indicative of the Women's Institute. It starts from the heart, services its own community, and extends to cover 27 countries of the world.

The ladies joined in a singsong which was followed by a reading by Mrs. Albert Gooding.

Mrs. Grace Leavitt read a letter from Mrs. S. Kiddle of L. Puke, New Zealand. There are just over 1,000 groups in the whole country and they call themselves the "Country Women's Institute." This letter was most interesting as Mrs. Kiddle told of some of their work and a bit about their country and climate.

Mrs. F. Van Vaals conducted a geography contest which was won by Mrs. Mack, and Mrs. D. Dale gave an amusing reading.

Mrs. A. Gunter introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Gillespie of Grafton, who was a previous board member. She gave an inspiring talk on Institute work.

Mrs. J. May extended a sincere thank-you to Mrs. Gillespie.

Mrs. F. Pickles recited a poem.

The program closed with a few amusing riddles and a short reading.

A valentine lunch was served by the committee.

WINTER WORK

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—A 33-bed addition to Pioneer Manor, Sudbury's home for the aged, will expand the home's facilities to 203 beds. Construction work on the addition, providing winter employment for many workers, will begin soon.

Neighbors' Aid Holds Euchre

2ND THURLOW — Mrs. A. Stratton and Mrs. William Lazariuk were hostesses for the Neighbors' Aid card party held recently, when 13 tables were in play.

Those winning prizes were as follows: ladies — Mrs. K. Jeffery; 2nd, Mrs. S. Ray; consolation, Mrs. Charles Woods; men's — Mr. Oscar King; 2nd, Mr. Robert Atkins; consolation, Mr. Don Mitchell, and the lone hand prize, Mrs. Arnold Mitchell.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

The next euchre, convened by Mrs. Gerald Stratton and Mrs. David Craig, will be held on Februay 24th. Mesdames Earl Grills, Donald Mitchell and Ronald Atkins will convene the euchre to be held on March 10th.

Women's Activities

ST. ANDREW'S W.M.S.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian W.M.S. meeting was held on Tuesday afternoon in the church parlor with the president, Mrs. W. M. Barlow, presiding.

The business meeting followed. An invitation was read from the ladies of St. Columba Guild to attend their coffee party Mrs. V. Weir announced the 75th birthday of WMS would be celebrated at the WMS annual meeting in Kingston the latter part of May.

Mrs. F. Douglas, Mrs. A. Murray, Mrs. P. Thomson and Mrs. V. Weir, the program committee presented the second chapter of the Study Book, "Into All the World Together".

NEEDS MET

By means of posters it was shown how the Presbyterian Church in Canada shares with other churches in meeting the challenge of the needs of this changing world in which one lives.

Rapid forms of communication have forced people to be neighbors with all races whether they care to or not.

Rapid expansion of the World's population has shown the numbers are increasing at an alarming rate, statistics show in 1960 the World population is estimated at three billion with 34 per cent Christian. By the year 2,000 the estimated population may become 6.5 billion, with 22 per cent Christian The most rapidly growing population is in the under-developed countries.

WORLD COUNCIL

In order to attempt to meet the challenge of the World Situation one must take a broader look at the church as described by St. Paul in I Cor. 12:4-7, 12-17.

Some ways in which the Christian churches are working together is through the —

(1) World Council of Churches where headquarters are at Geneva.

(2) International Missionary Council, which plans for missionary expansion on a large scale.

(3) Canadian Council of Churches formed in 1944 which the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. are affiliated members.

(4) Commission on Missionary Education. This committee chooses the yearly themes for our Mission Study.

(5) World Presbyterian Alliance and lastly the Canadian Bible Society which is an auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society and has translated the Scriptures in more than 1,100 languages.

All members enjoyed delicious refreshments.

Girl From Johnson Corner Makes Good in Big Time

NEW YORK (CP)—There are two stores and 60 people in Johnson Corner, Ga.

Tobacco, hogs and chickens are the local crops.

The girl from Johnson Corner sat in a plush Manhattan supper club. The walls, carpets and table cloths all were red. The girl sipped scotch, mixed in milk, while eight violins serenaded her. She sat with three male escorts.

"When I was a little girl," she told the men, "I used to plan how I would get away from Johnson Corner—how I would make a lot of money and get away. Oh, I would come back all right, from time to time. But I would come back driving a big, black cadillac convertible."

HAS OWN AD AGENCY

Joyce Keene Ramsdell, 27, has left Johnson Corner. And she has a convertible—red instead of black—her own advertising agency in Atlanta and an ulcer. That accounts for the milk with the scotch.

"Things are going well," she told her table companions. She has a seven-station radio group as a client.

How did Miss Ramsdell land the group:

The group had just sold its Atlanta affiliate to a magazine for $1,900,010 and "I figured they could afford me," she said.

Merchants, in return for a mention of their name on the air, gave the station merchandise they had been unable to move. The station auctioned off the merchandise over the air and kept the money.

MOVED TO ATLANTA

Miss Ramsdell moved to Atlanta and more radio promotion. Last August she decided to take a plunge.

In her home state, there is only one legal distillery. Moonshiners turn out more than twice as much illegal whisky as the legal producer, Viking Distilleries, does each year.

Viking took its advertising account away from a large agency and handed it to Miss Ramsdell.

Corn whisky drinkers didn't like the thin-necked bottle used for it. They seemed to prefer the squat fruit-preserve jars the illegal whisky makers used.

SAW BIG BREAK

First she talked the distiller into switching from regular bottles to fruit jars. Then she sold the legal moonshine story to a national news magazine.

Now Miss Ramsdell is doing so well that she turned down a $20,000-a-year job offer. She's staying with her own agency.

She wants to come to New York. She likes those red curtains and table cloths.

Sipping her scotch and milk, she explained:

"I want to be secure, very secure. I want to be comfortable, very comfortable. I want to be rich, very rich.

"If I have to cry myself to sleep at night, I want to cry myself to sleep in a silk nightgown on a luxurious sofa in a warm apartment, preferably to the music of eight violins."

BACON PRODUCTION

With about 9,000,000 pigs on its farms each year, Denmark is the biggest producer of bacon in the world.

MODERN MANNERS

Carolyn Hagner Shaw

BE HOSPITABLE, BUT BE CORRECT

I happened to be present when Mr. and Mrs. Inexperienced had the following conversation.

Mr. Inexperienced started off by saying, "You know, I met an awfully nice chap today. He's taking over the district management of our company. Took him to lunch and he is most interesting. I'd like to invite him out to dinner soon, if you approve."

Mrs. — "That a fine idea. Is he married?"

Mr. — No, but I gathered that he is quite interested in a young lady. They may be engaged for all I know."

Mrs. — Well, why don't you invite him for next Friday evening and suggest that he bring his friend along."

So, it was all settled. The young man accepted for both himself and the young lady and Friday evening will probably be enjoyable for all concerned.

However, even though the Inexperienceds' invitation was a hospitable one, a sorry mistake was made. A hostess should always personally invite any woman, whether she is the man's wife or friends, in a case like this.

When Mr. Inexperienced asked the man, who agreed he would like to bring his young lady, he should have at that time obtained her telephone number so that Mrs. Inexperienced could have followed through with a call.

When calling, she should introduce herself, extending the invitation with the explanation that the young man is coming and that both she and her husband hope she will come with him. Since Mrs. Inexperienced had not met the young man in this instance, it was all right for her husband to extend the invitation to him. Had he been married, however, she should have extended the invitation to both, through his wife, even if she did not know them.

If one received a "second-hand" invitation, it is advisable to decline. It is particularly difficult for an unmarried woman, as in the case outlined above. When her young man asks her to accompany him to a dinner at the home of people whom she has never met, can she be sure that she really will be welcome? Therefore, the safest course to take, unless the hostess calls to verify the invitation, is to graciously regret owing to a previous engagement. All chances of embarrassment will be avoided (on either side) if this procedure is followed.

Compare the nutrients provided by the Quota plan with those in other plans

When you choose a 900-calorie weight control plan it is important to consider the nutrients necessary to keep the body healthy while the scales go down!

Some liquid diet products list as few as 14 nutrients on their cartons. Compare this with the nutrients supplied in QUOTA. One 8 oz. tin provides:

CALORIES	900.0	RIBOFLAVIN	2.0 mg	PHOSPHORUS	1.4 gm
PROTEIN	70.0 gm	NIACINAMIDE	20.0 mg	IRON	10.0 mg
FAT	15.5 gm	PYRIDOXINE	1.0 mg	IODINE	150.0 mcg

Inexpensive Quick Sponge Cake

By Mary Moore

The cake I am about to give you is sometimes called Mock Sponge. It is an excellent cake for calorie watchers for the butter content is very low and it requires no frosting. But what charms me most is its slicing quality when it is one day old. We kept it in a poly bag in the refrigerator and when I served it the next day it cut into neat thin slices similar to a pound cake.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

THURSDAY

SUNDAY

Lobster or Shrimp a la King or Thermidor on Tea Biscuits Supreme (see Friday); Broccoli; Mixed Baby Limas and Kernel Corn; Head Lettuce Salad with Roquefort Dressing; Quick Sponge Cake (see Thursday) with Fresh Fruit or Fruit Cup; Coffee.

For a larger cake for large families you might increase the recipe by one-and-a-half times. It could be baked in 2 or 3 layers and assembled with whipped cream between and fresh fruit such as peaches or strawberries on top and be called a shortcake. An excellent basic cake that may be made in a hurry even by amateurs.

INEXPENSIVE, QUICK SPONGE CAKE:

4 eggs (they should measure nearly 1 cup), 2 cups sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons vanilla or almond flavoring, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup boiling hot milk, 2 cups sifted all-purpose or cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

In a large bowl beat the eggs until very light and increased in volume to 3 or 4 times the original amount. Beat in the sugar, salt and flavoring until perfectly blended. Then add the butter to the boiling hot milk until melted and beat them in. Sift together the sifted flour and baking powder and beat them in by hand until just blended. Have prepared greased and floured pans which may be two 9" layer cake pans or one 13 x 9" oblong pan. At once pour batter into prepared pans and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 25 to 35 minutes or until cake tests done when touched gently at centre with finger tip. The impression you make will immediately disappear if cake is done. Let stand in pans 5 minutes, then turn out on cake coolers to cool.

NOTE:

We increased this recipe by 1 1-2 times and baked it in a spring form tube pan.

NOTE:

In our childhood my mother used to make a 2-layer cake similar to the above. She put unsweetened whipped cream between layers and on top. She would drain a jar of her own canned sliced peaches and put them in two orderly borders around the top edge of the cake and around the base. It was one of our favorite Sunday supper desserts.

Women's Institute

MT. VIEW W.I.

MOUNTAIN VIEW — Mrs Clark Sprung opened her home for the February meeting of Mountain View Women's Institute. There were 16 in attendance.

The meeting was opened in the usual manner by the president, Mrs. W. Barber. The business was discussed and dealt with accordingly. It was decided to hold the district convention at Mountain View on June 6.

The topic was agriculture under the convenership of Mrs. L. Wallbridge who invited Mrs. Onderdonk to speak on the Leadership Farm Forum which had been held at Guild Inn at Scarboro. Mrs. E. Hicks, county president, was in attendance and spoke on the newly formed Auxiliary to the Home for the Aged at Picton.

Mrs. C. Barber reported on the water safety program that she had attended at Peterborough.

The hostess was thanked for her hospitality to which she graciously replied and the meeting was closed and assisted by the lunch committee she served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed by everyone.

W.I. Holds Euchre Party

RAWDON — On the evening of February 17th, River Valley Women's Institute sponsored a euchre party at the school under the convenership of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush.

There were nine tables in play and the institute provided the prizes which were won by the following: ladies high — Mrs. Morley Richardson; consolation — Mrs. Hazel Orr, Stockdale; men's high — Howard Wallace, Wellman's consolation — Carman Frost, Frankford, and lone hand prize — Mrs. Sam Kirkey, Stirling.

There were 17 visitors in attendance from Stirling, Frankford, Stockdale, Mount Pleasant and Wellmans. The proceeds were $11. Mrs. Bush will convene another euchre party next week and there are four more scheduled for March.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush, Mrs. Roy Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. Allen McDonell and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonell and the group enjoyed a social half hour.

Little Joey Returns Home To His Parents in Oshawa

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP) — After a 104 - day life-and-death struggle in the nursery of Oshawa General Hospital, little Jovo Simeunovich has gone home to his parents.

But Joey — as he is affectionately known by nurses and doctors — will be remembered for a long time as a symbol of the accomplishments of modern medicine.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jevrem Simeunovich, Joey was three months premature when he was born at home last Oct. 24. He weighed only two pounds, five ounces.

Wrapped in a towel, he was taken to hospital where little hope was held that he could survive.

Officially described as in "poor condition," he was close to death several times in the next three weeks.

Feeding presentel a problem. Because of his size he couldn't be fed for days either by mouth or tube. He was kept alive through interstitials — small amounts of fluid inserted into the body tissues.

LOST WEIGHT

Later gavage feedings were tried. This is accomplished by inserting a tube through the nose and into the stomach. But he could still be given only tiny amounts and he suffered frequent "blue spells."

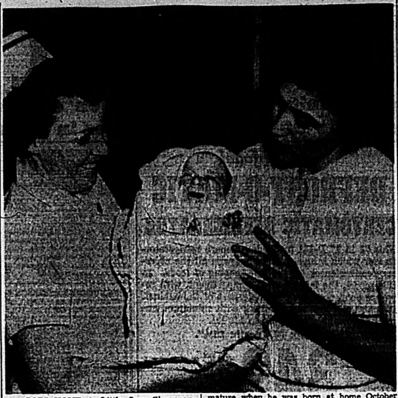
Despite the close attention given by the nursery staff under direction of supervisor Mary Wilkins and Dr. Robert Guselle, Joey lost weight. He required two blood transfusions.

He was often too ill to be put on the scales and Miss Wilkins said that while the lowest recorded weight was one pound, 11 ounces, he had been less than that.

Finally he grew to four pounds, 14 ounces, and on Jan. 14 the tube came out. He was fed with a Brecht feeder, a special bottle devised for small babies. It has a soft nipple so the baby won't have trouble sucking.

He graduated to a regular bottle Jan. 21 when he weighed five pounds, seven ounces.

On Feb. 5, a hearty six pounds, four ounces, Joey went home to join his five - year-old brother Boro. The people who looked after him gave him a toy horse, bells and a duck and even contributed daily to a bank a nurse bought for him.



GOES HOME — Little Jovo Simeunovich is handed to his mother after surviving a 104-day life-and-death struggle in Oshawa General Hospital. Joey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jevrem Simeunovich, was three months premature when he was born at home October 24, weighing only two pounds, five ounces. He weighed six pounds, four ounces when released from hospital. Nurse Mary Wilkins, nursery superintendent at the hospital, hands Joey to his mother. (CP Photo).

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counsellors and social workers

* * *

Eric G. — My wife and I are very fond of my brother and we want to include him in our dinner parties and celebrations. But if he comes, he leaves early on some pretext or other. Also he's refused to attend the last two get-togethers of friends in our home.

He's only 25 and maybe there's still a chance to keep him from turning into an intellectual snob. He says our parties bore him because everybody shoots off hot air, nobody knows what he's talking about and nobody's listening anyway.

It happens that he's wrong about that. My guests are substantial business people and professional men with bright and clever wives. They know what the score is. Of course, if Claude wants a seminar on Plato and Pluto at a party he'd do better to go down to one of those Greenwich Village coffee houses. I admit that none of my friends talk Latin or Greek.

But he can learn a lot of practical and common sense facts from them, and he'd be better off if he'd unbend and accept people, instead of becoming so standoffish.

* * *

Claude G. — I'm sorry, but I've had my fill of those windbags and backslappers. I can think of a dozen other ways to spend my evenings which would be more enjoyable and profitable and just as sociable, too.

This has nothing to do with snobbery. Quite the opposite. In fact, I realize I know very little and I'm so avid for knowledge that I'll go anywhere to pick up a few accurate facts and some authentic enlightenment. I'm always eager to expand my horizons.

But what happens at Eric's shindigs? Someone starts talking about the Congo trouble, and just when one or two others begin to pool what they've read or heard and a real meaty discussion is coming up — bang, some playboy says it reminds him of a joke.

Good talk is constantly sabotaged by people who can't join in, so they end it with insipid and irrelevant jokes. The final hours then become a contest for who can tell the dirtiest story.

I'd rather sit around with a couple of friends who can engage in lively conversation rather than just a lot of backroom noise.

* * *

The Council — As the Good Book says, there's a "time to weep, and a time to laugh," and many's the performer who wished his audience knew the difference. Here's Eric wishing Claude knew that party time isn't exactly "Sunrise Semester."

We suggest that Eric be content to have Claude put in a polite, token appearance at those parties, rather than expect him to enjoy them. Only an Abou ben Adhem, who loves all his fellowmen, can accept and enter into the spirit of hit-or-miss camaraderie. An extrovert, a real outgoing person, has a good time in a luck-of-the-draw crowd. Claude is not outgoing and prefers to be with those who share his interests.

To some extent we commiserate with Claude on the deterioration of the art of conversation. The best talk is the outgrowth of reading, study, and contemplation which doesn't allow much time for parties! But there are still people who are both sociable and knowledgeable, and Claude seems to know where to find them. With some say, he may even find a few at one of Eric's ho-ho-ho sessions.

To aid him in the pursuit, we submit Herbert Spencer's index to people at gabfests. He found that small minds discuss people happenings and events: profound minds, ideas and principles.

However, we join Eric in warning him not to dismiss people as "windbags" just because they retreat from a penetrating analysis of our Gold Reserve or the Laos Situation, while sipping after-dinner cognac. Many of them do know a great deal, and perhaps more than Claude, on one or two subjects. But they're in the mood for trivialities.

And, as Sir Max Beerbohm decided, "Good sense about trivialities is better than nonsense about things that matter."

DUST DANGER

Dust from a vacuum cleaner or dustpan is potentially explosive and should be wrapped up and put with the garbage, not thrown into a stove.

PRICE CEILING

To combat the rising price of matrimony, community leaders in some areas of Africa have set price limits on payments for brides.

Liquor Is Major Topic In Quebec, N.S. Houses

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Liquor, and how and where it should be sold, was the major topic Wednesday in the Quebec and Nova Scotia legislatures.

Proposed laws ran into stubborn opposition and high praise in Quebec. In Nova Scotia the recommendations of a royal commission would turn the province's liquor buying and dispensing rules topsy-turvy.

In Nova Scotia, where liquor has been sold only in government stores and beer in a few taverns, the commission recommended the Progressive Conservative government make cocktail lounges legal. They have been banned for 25 years. It recommended mixed drinking —taverns now serve only men.

Some hotels serve beer and wine with meals. The commission recommended that food be sold in taverns, beverage rooms sell beer by the case, restaurants sell wine and beer, hotels sell liquor by the glass and railways sell liquor in lounge cars.

ALLOW ADVERTISING

It wants the 50-cent liquor permit abolished, liquor advertising allowed in weekly and daily newspapers and investigation of breath analysis tests for impaired and drunken drivers. Many of the recommendations are expected to be implemented by the government by the end of the current session in March.

In Quebec, proposed liquor laws that would generally make selling freer went into hearings before the public bills committee of the legislature. Some 30 organizations presented briefs.

Temperance and morality groups pleaded for more time for study. Other groups praised the laws that would establish a liquor board to hold hearings before granting selling permits, set up an institute to study alcoholism and extend hours for night clubs and taverns.

Developments in other legislatures:

St. John's—Finance Minister E S. Spencer predicted a 1961-62 surplus of $1,591,300 in the Newfoundland budget.

Fredericton — Premier Robichaud announced the New Brunswick legislature would recess until Tuesday to allow him and other Liberal government officials to attend the federal-provincial fiscal talks in Ottawa.

RAISE BRIBERY ISSUE

Winnipeg — Attorney-General Sterling Lyon challenged D. L. Campbell, leader of the Opposition Liberal-Progressives, to back up his charges of patronage and political bribery of the Manitoba Progressive government. Mr. Campbell said he would when he was ready.

Regina — Opposition Liberal Leader Ross Thatcher asked the Saskatchewan CCF government to table policy relating to civil servants' hotel expenses with the public accounts and Allan Guy, Liberal member for Athabasca, charged political patronage as accounts for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1960, were presented.

Edmonton—A research council for Albérta's Social Credit government tabled a report suggesting the province's coal be shipped east through oil pipelines.

Victoria — Social Credit government legislation that would ban use of union dues for political purposes in British Columbia was being studied by union officials. They were not commenting yet.

P.M's Mother Laid to Rest At Saskatoon

By ANDREW B. GARRETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SASKATOON (CP) — Mrs. W. T. Diefenbaker, mother of Canada's prime minister, was buried Wednesday following a simple funeral service in First Baptist Church emphasizing religious beliefs that formed a cornerstone in her life.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and his brother Elmer of Saskatoon, who grew up as members of the same church, were the principal mourners. They were accompanied by Mrs. John Diefenbaker and Mrs. Harry Hay of Saskatoon, a niece of the late Mrs. Diefenbaker.

Honorary pallbearers included four federal cabinet ministers and four senators. Active pallbearers included prominent members of the Progressive Conservative party.

Mrs. Diefenbaker died Monday night at 88 after a lengthy illness.

The white stucco church was filled to its 400 capacity; others heard the service over a public address system in a lower hall.

Many joined a procession to snow-covered Woodlawn cemetary where brief commital services were held in nine-degree weather.

Mr. Diefenbaker stood bareheaded for the ceremony and to shake hands with old friends.

Immediately after the service, Mr. Diefenbaker left by air for Ottawa, where he arrived this morning.

A descendant of Scottish pioneers, Mrs. Diefenbaker had lived in Saskatchewan since 1903. In 1910, the family moved from a homestead to Saskatoon where friends said Mrs. Diefenbaker concentrated her interest on the education of her sons and the work of First Baptist Church.

She was said to have been the greatest single influence in the life of John Diefenbaker.

PROUD OF SON

Rev. A. G. Elliot, a family friend of long standing whom Mrs. Diefenbaker called "my pastor," conducted the service. He said:

"She had a keen interest in the affairs of the community, the country and the church. She was proud of her son and made little attempt to hide it."

KILLED BY TRAIN

TORONTO (CP) — Sidney Field, 38, a Canadian Pacific Railway employee, was carried 80 feet to his death Wednesday after he stepped off a shunting freight into the path of another train. The accident occurred in the west end of the city when Field stepped off the rear of the train to set a switch.

Board Woman Did Not Use Her Perogative

MONTREAL (CP) — It has long been considered a woman's prerogative to lie about her age, but that was an out Mrs. R. G. Gilbride stoutly refused to take when her age became a matter of parliamentary debate.

The subject came up last week while a parliamentary committee was questioning Dr. Andrew Stewart, chairman of the Board of Broadcast Governors, of which Mrs. Gilbride was then a member.

Dr. Stewart was asked if he knew one of the board members was over 70, the age limit fixed when the board was set up in 1958. Dr. Stewart said he didn't.

As soon as she learned about the age limit, Mrs. Gilbride reluctantly, but immediately, resigned.

What few people knew was that Mrs. Gilbride was overage when she was appointed. She now is 74.

"The whole matter has been very embarrassing, not only for me, but for the cabinet," Mrs. Gilbride said in an interview.

"I hold no resentment against anyone. Dr. Stewart called me immediately after the discovery of my age arose. He felt very badly about the situation and most embarrassed at not having been aware of the ruling, but I of course couldn't sit on the board illegally so I sent my resignation in."

Ironically, though she didn't know about the age limit, Mrs. Gilbride tried to disqualify herself on the grounds of age when she was first appointed to the board.

"My answer was 'I'm very flattered. Please thank the cabinet for me, but I think a younger person should be chosen.' I was told experience was what counted."

Asks President To Withdraw Name for Post

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Earl E. T. Smith said Wednesday he has turned down the post of United States ambassador to Switzerland because of controversy centring on his former embassy post in Cuba.

The Palm Beach financier said in a statement at his home:

"I have asked the president of the United States to withdraw my name from further consideration as ambassador to Switzerland.

"The president asked me in January to assume this responsibility (as ambassador) and I was honored that the president believed I could be of service to my country. However, because of the controversy that has been stimulated I have requested the president to withdraw my name."

President Kennedy said in a statement issued by the White House press office in Washington:

"Ambassador Smith has asked me to withdraw his name from consideration as our ambassador to Switzerland. I nominated Mr. Smith because I felt he had the qualities to be an effective representative of our country. It is still my view. I therefore accept his decision with real regret. I hope that at some future time he can be again of service to our country."

ASSAILED BY CASTRO

Smith was assailed by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro as a foe of the Cuban people through maintaining friendly relations with the government of Cuban President Fulgencio Batista, whom the bearded revolutionary forced to flee.

Defenders of Smith pointed out that it was Smith's job, as U.S. ambassador in Cuba, to maintain good relations with the government recognized by the U.S. Smith served a short time in Havana after Castro took over in 1959.

"The Swiss government represents the interests of the United States in Cuba. My opposition to Castro and his government is well known and dates back to my service in Havana. There have been indications that my presence in Switzerland would complicate the responsibilities that the Swiss government has assumed in behalf of the United States in Cuba. Because of this, it is my judgment that our country's well-being in this matter would best be served if my name were removed from consideration as ambassador to Switzerland."

Queen Passes Restful Day On Mountain Top

BOMBAY (AP) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip strolled in a mountain top garden, peered over a 1,000-foot drop from which an old warlord once hurled his enemies and generally passed a quiet day Wednesday.

They were taking a day off at the south Indian mountain top fortress of Nandi at the end of one month of touring India and Pakistan. Today the royal couple will fly to this big west Indian port city.

They spent the day in seclusion without leaving the grounds of their cottage in the old fortress of Tipu Sultan, an 18th-century warrior who was defeated by the British. The Queen's press secretary reported by telephone there were no special events during a restful day.

Sources at Nandi said the couple were living in the first floor of a cottage built in 1848 by a British official and once used by Mohandas K. Gandhi to recuperate from a fast against British rule.

Group Gathers In 'Y' Basement To Carry On

The Young Men's Christian Association has a triangle for its symbol. The sides of this triangle represent the three attributes which the YMCA feels essential to the character development of a good citizen; spirit, mind and body.

Deep in the inner depths of the current "Y" building on Campbell Street, in the basement as a matter of fact since there is no other space available, a group assembles three times a week to develop the latter phase of YMCA work.

It is the YMCA Weightlifting Club. Although somewhat small in numbers, when compared with the attendance of other local "Y" functions, its dozen members take to their activity with the vim and vigor necessary to tossing large weights about in the various exercises and Olympic lifts which they perform.

Going now for eight years the club's members usually keep up this activity the year 'round with no slacking off for the summer season. Besides the thrice weekly workouts various of the club members participate in the weightlifting meets held in the area. Members have competed in meets held in Kingston, Toronto, Brantford, Hamilton, Ottawa and Peterborough.

Indeed, one of the local members, Jerry Vickers, will be trying out for the forthcoming British Empire Games. If he meets with as much success in these as he has in local events perhaps the community may have a potential Olympic champion in the making.

This is but one of the many activities which the local YMCA is providing for the youth of the community, supplying them with some positive and worthwhile goals to strive for. Goals not gaols develop the good citizens of tomorrow.

Municipal Officials Tend To Favor Water Fluoridation But Little Unanimity Seen

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Officials tended to favor fluoridation of water supplies Wednesday in available comment on an Ontario royal commission report approving the controversial method of reducing tooth decay. But there was no unanimity.

The report of the three-man commission, tabled in the legislature Tuesday, recommended legislation to enable municipalities to fluoridate drinking water without the necessity of a referendum.

The provincial government did not indicate a stand, but Liberal Leader Wintermeyer Tuesday night gave qualified support to the idea, saying a local vote should be required before fluoridation is undertaken.

Premier Frost refused to reveal his personal views or what the government might do. He said the members had not had time to read the report because of pressing legislative business.

Ottawa Mayor Charlotte Whitton also said the question in the national capital should be decided by plebiscite, declaring it too great a responsibility for the city council. Ottawa supplies water to two neighboring communities and is negotiating with two others.

London's health officer, Dr. F. D. A. Hutchison, said he will immediately recommend fluoridation for the city if the legislature implements the report. He said the report had settled "hysterical doubts" but it was a shame it took so long coming.

Windsor's medical health officer, Dr. John Howie, who has recommended fluoridation since 1948, welcomed the report and said "every scientific body which has studied fluoridation has come to the same conclusion."

Mayor Joseph Meinzinger of Kitchener remained "strongly opposed" to fluoridating "the purest water supply in the province" and forcing on the people of the city a substance that has been termed rat poison. Kitchener defeated fluoridation in a 1958 plebiscite.

Members of the Barrie town council expressed opposition to the report in various degrees. Alderman Gerry Roberts said the people should be alowed to vote on it.

Mayor Cecil H. Hewitt of North Bay, whose electorate endorsed fluoridation in 1955, said that at the next council meeting he will suggest a resolution recommending the legislature pass legislation authorizing fluoridation.

At Belleville, health board Chairman H. S. Brain said he has not been convinced one way or the other.

Owen Sound, which had a request for fluoridation turned down by the legislature in 1959 after ratepayers approved it, appeared ready to try again.

Acting Mayor Alex Anderson of Fort William said he has personally favored fluoridation for years and had tried to get a comprehensive study of tooth decay there about eight years ago.

At St. Catharines, health officer Dr. D. V. Currey, also director of the Lincoln-St. Catharines health unit, said the city will be short-sighted if it does not put fluoridation into effect.

In Metropolitan Toronto, six of the 12 suburban Metro mayors and reeves said they would support a fluoridation bylaw. Two were against it and four were non-committal.

Dr. O. C. Powers, health officer, said he would be very glad if Oxford County added fluoride to its water, but he doubts that it will. "There is not enough educational publicity in Oxford to sufficiently interest the majority in the benefits of fluoridation," he said.

Dr. Gordon Anderson, Sarnia health officer, said he hopes the government will pass legislation to allow fluoridation. He said it was evident to him after five years of a survey which included Sarnia that fluoridation was an effective method of reducing the incidence of tooth decay.

Norfolk County health officer, Dr. J. R. Mayers, said he will likely "sound out" municipalities on fluoridation if the government accepts the royal commission's recommendations. He said, however, few water supplies in Norfolk are available for treatment.

Dr. J. B. Coburn, Elgin County health officer, said he would be prepared to back any move to bring about fluoridation of St. Thomas's water supply.

Girl Uncovers Printing Error In $5 Bills

MONTREAL (CP) — The Bank of Canada has accidentally issued 32 Canadian $5 bills containing a printing error, it was learned here Tuesday.

The bills carry the signatures of the bank governor, J. E. Coyne, and the deputy governor J. R. Beattie, in an inverted position beneath the top border.

They were released in the Montreal area last May.

Several have been traded quietly by Montreal numismatic dealers at undisclosed prices.

ERROR CONFIRMED

Bank officials in Ottawa confirmed the error. They said a sheet of 32 bills apparently went through a series of inspections with the error undetected.

All paper money in Canada is printed by private firms and delivered unsigned to the bank in Ottawa. Sheets of 32 are then stamped by flatbed press with the signatures.

A spokesman said one sheet was apparently placed on the press in an inverted position. It bore serial numbers starting J-C 978.

Thomasburg

THOMASBURG— Her many friends will be glad to hear that Mrs. Arthur Blakely, who underwent surgery recently in Belleville Hospital, is much improved in health, and is convalescing at the home of her son, Gerald and Mrs. Blakely of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Vance of Perth called on Mr. and Mrs. Horace Vance on Friday evening, enroute to visit Mr. Burton Vance in Belleville hospital. Glad to report that Burton's condition is much better and that he will be able to return home in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Morton of Thomasburg, Mr. and Mrs. J. Orr and Mr. and Mrs. A. McTaggart, of Tweed, were guests at the home of Mrs. J. E. Bateman and Mrs. Thomas Slush of Tweed, on February 12, the occasion being Mrs. Bateman's birthday. Both Mrs. Bateman and Mrs. Slush are former Thomasburg residents.

Mrs. George Dyson attended a quilting and the regular meeting of the Moira United Church W.A. at the home of Mrs. Ross Ketcheson, Moira, on February 5, 1961.

On Friday evening, February 17, an impressive service took place in Christ Church (Anglican) Thomasburg, when the Thomasburg C.G.I.T. group conducted the World Day of Prayer Service for girls.

The leader, Miss Marion Phillips, took charge of the service and led in the various responsive readings and prayers. The hymns, as chosen on the special program prepared were: "Forward Through the Ages", "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind, and "The Day Thou Gavest".

Miss Barbara Holbert gave the story and a choir composed of C.G.I.T. girls sang "Author of Faith, Eternal Word", accompanied by Miss Karen Morton, who also played for the hymns. The guest speaker was Mrs. L. Hawkes, wife of the rector of St. James' Anglican Church, Tweed, who chose for her subject, "Mission Work is Chile".

The offering was received by Mary Robinson and Jean Preston and dedicated by the leader, Ruth Geen, Donna Morton, Merle Morton, Jean Holbert, Donna Coulson, Darlene French, Norma Maracle and Maureen Arbuckle took the parts of the "Voices" from all corners of the earth who join in this Universal Day of Prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hampton and daughters of Warsaw, Ontario were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Dyson at the parsonage.

Canada's Oldest Mayor Lost Job and Does Not Like It

CHATHAM, N.B. (CP) — Canada's oldest mayor has lost his job and he doesn't like it.

EX-MAYOR'S TRADEMARKS —The Texan-type hat and a cigar are trademarks of flamboyant Dan Cripps, Canada's oldest mayor until defeated in the January election in Chatham, N.B. He's 86 and served for 30 years on city council. (CP Photo).

Dan Cripps, 86, a flamboyant figure whose trademarks are a huge cowboy hat and a cigar, had served on Chatham's town council for 30 years, the last eight as mayor.

In January he lost by six votes to Dr. P. G. Losier—269 to 275. His annoyance at the narrow defeat was compounded by his disappointment at not being returned by acclamation.

"I thought I had it coming to me," he said.

The loss was particularly upsetting because it clashed with his philosophy. In good health and with a razor - sharp wit after many years as a lumberman, longshoreman, taxi driver and politician, he has no use for rocking chairs and would rather "wear out than rust out."

'BEST MAYOR'

"I think," he said, puffing on one of the seven or eight cigars he smokes daily, "that I was the best mayor this town ever had —more to show for my regime than for any other mayor's.

"Ten years ago there were no sidewalks or plows. Chatham is a big town with a small population (about 6,000) and about 35 miles of streets. They have all been serviced since I was elected mayor."

Mr. Cripps isn't optimistic about the future of Chatham, 90 miles north of Moncton. He blames the decline in the sawmill industry for unemployment and doesn't see any immediate prospect of improved fortunes.

"When I was a young man you could step out at any time of the year and get a job. The pay wasn't very big but there was always a job.

"The country hasn't been the same since the First World War. Americans came in and bought out almost every lumber concern along the Miramichi River. Then they locked up the lands and that was that until the budworm took over. The Good Lord saw fit to punish them some way.

"Since 1929, when the big depression struck, we had no relief in this country until Hitler hit her. There hasn't been much improvement since."

Robber Returns Money Stolen From Office

The man, identified by the FBI as Eugene John Snyder, 33, strolled calmly into the office, walked past the tellers and handed the money to the manager, John O'Keefe.

"This is the money I stole," he said, handing over a brown paper bag. Then he began to cry.

Snyder sat down and O'Keefe called the police.

Officers said Snyder had spent only $20 of the money.

"I needed money for groceries and medical bills," Snyder said. "I was desperate.

"I only needed $300 when I looked in the bag and saw all that money I was shocked.

"I stayed awake all night thinking about it. I told my wife about it and then I decided to bring the money back."

He said the gun he used in the robbery wasn't loaded.

3rd Hillier

3RD OF HILLIER — Mrs. Hannah Batten, of Peterborough spent the weekend with Mrs. Arthur Tucker, of Carrying Place and called, Sunday, on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benway.

Several from this vicinity attended the Masonic card party, at Wellington, on Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Dafoe entertained their granddaughter, Mrs. Jack Lumley, Mr. Lumley and small daughter, on Sunday.

Mrs. Marshall Trumpour is spending some time with her son, Mr. Orville Trumpour and Mrs. Trumpour.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Smith and children, of Toronto, were Sunday guests of her grandmother, Mrs. Merritt McFaul, of Bowermans.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Trumpour were recent callers of Mrs. Bob Wood and Sharon.

The rain on Saturday and early Sunday morning was badly needed in this district and helped fill the cisterns.

Mrs. Clifford McFaul and the school children held their usual Valentine party, at the school, on the 14th of February.

DESERONTO

E.M. Lush Heads Canadian Cancer Society Branch

DESERONTO —Help will now be made available to local cancer patients with the formation of the Deseronto branch of the Ontario division of the Canadian Cancer Society here.

The organizational meeting, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lush, Green St., was highlighted by a talk by Ronald A. McFarlane, field secretary of the Ontario division.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mr. McFarlane stated that there were 85 branches of the Society in Ontario, and 191 units. He reviewed the history of the Society, which was formed in 1938 and incorporated by the federal government. He described the three-way program of the Society, of spreading the news of the work of the group. Although films and pamphlets told the story, he said, the most important method is by word of mouth. He asserted the Society offers direct help to those in the town needing a helping hand. It should be able to provide dressings and supplies for the patients, transportation for those needing treatment in hospitals and cancer clinics and homemaking service where necessary.

ELECT OFFICERS

E. M. Lush was elected president of the local unit. Other officers are: Joseph C. Reynolds, treasurer; Mrs. J. B. Dawson, campaign chairman; Mrs. T. L. McCullough, educational chairman; Mrs. D. C. McVicker, chairman of ladies' division; Dr. D. C. McVicker, medical adviser, and Mrs. Madeline Stevenson, secretary.

The local unit will try, in its initial efforts, to acquaint the town with its work, with the national observance of April as "Cancer Month." Tentative plans have been made for a charter night program which will be open to the public.

The local unit is anxious to get into full swing, but cautioned that its services will be limited until it has time to build up its membership, organization and supplies.

FOR RESEARCH

About $18,820,000 is allocated for research in Norway's 1961 budget, $4,000,000 more than in 1960.

CONVENIENT BUDGET TERMS

Sport Snapshots

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

John Finlay (Deacon) Allen observes the world quizzically from behind thick glasses. He has been doing this for nearly 50 years of setbacks and frustrations, and each encounter with ill-luck leaves him puzzled, but still a convivial soul.

The Deacon is a Toronto fight matchmaker, connoisseur of good food and light-hearted talk, a friend of everyone he meets, and owner of a string of misfortunes that would send a normal human being climbing the walls. But not Allen.

When he announces a fight for Toronto, sports-writers type their stories with crossed fingers. From long experience, they know that something will happen to wreck his good intentions.

And knowing fight fans are equally dubious. Many wait until fight night to buy their tickets because they don't wish to be stuck with them or have to go to the box-office for a refund.

There's nothing exaggerated about this.

STRIKES AND STORMS

A few years ago the Deacon lined up a natural drawing card. The day of the fight the city's street-car motormen decided to go on strike and Maple Leaf Gardens, the scene of his promotions, was almost empty.

At other times, Toronto has been hit by snowstorms and rainstorms on fight nights.

A year ago Nino Valdes, the Cuban heavyweight who had been fighting since 1941, turned up for the usual pre-fight medical and a Toronto eye specialist found he was practically a one-eyed battler. A cataract caused by an old ring injury was blamed.

The scheduled bout, with Toronto's George Chuvalo, was cancelled just five hours before ring time. It had to happen to the Deacon.

Valdes had been examined for bouts in Europe and the United States six months earlier and had passed.

This week, an ailing fighter forced postponement of another Allen promotion. Chuvalo was the victim when he was laid low by influenza and, again, it was just five hours before the scheduled bout when the Deacon had to postpone it. Chuvalo's opponent this time was Brian London of Blackpool, England.

Twenty-four hours later the first was cancelled when London took a plane home. He had demanded a guarantee of $12,000, more than double his original contract, to meet Chuvalo next Monday and promoter Frank Tunney refused to meet it.

Now about 70 years old, Allen was born in Sacramento, Calif., the son of a boomer telegraph operator. He has been active in promotional duties in Alaska, Vancouver, New York, Winnipeg and other North American cities and finally settled in Toronto in 1936.

None of his ventures has been particularly lucrative although Jim Coleman, his close friend, recounts the time in Vancouver years ago when the Deacon opened a club that brought him one of his rare periods of affluence.

THREW AWAY KEY

"Trade boomed to such an extent that he was compelled to remain open 24 hours daily and he employed three shifts of bartenders," Coleman recalls. "Despite his desperate attempts to spend his money as quickly as he acquired it his bank balance continued to increase alarmingly and, one day, he surprised his friends by closing the club."

The Deacon explained it to Coleman this way:

"There was always a quartet singing in one corner and a couple of clients staging a fight in another corner. I liked singing tenor but, just when we got going good on Sweet Adeline, a couple of eggs would start belting each other and I'd have to quit to referee the fight.

"I couldn't make up my mind whether I'd be a tenor or a referee so I closed the joint and threw the key into the harbor."

Will Test Uncle Sam's Income Tax

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Canadian horseman William Lochead said Wednesday he will put a United States income tax law through a legal test.

Lochead, president of the Canadian division of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, said he would challenge the United States taking 30 per cent out of purses won in the U.S. by Canadian horse owners.

Two years ago, Lochead said, the internal revenue service ordered the 30-per-cent slice taken from purses won by Canadian-owned horses. The Canadian government retaliated with a similar 30-per-cent assessment on U.S. owners winning at Canadian tracks.

Canadian and U.S. members of the horsemen's group termed the taxes unfair and Canada eventually repealed its tax. But when the U.S. division of the association asked for some relief, Lochead said, the revenue service "refused to arbitrate."

Lochead, who was taxed at the Longacres track in Washington state, said lawyer G. A. Chadwick will file suit in a federal court in Washington, D.C.

START SLED RACES

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—Veteran musher William Carrier of Cumberland House, Sask., drove his team across the finish line first in the opening lap of the 1961 world championship dog sled race Wednesday. The 150-mile race, held along with the annual trappers' festival, will be completed with further 50-mile laps today and Friday.

By BOB TRIMBLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—Johnny Williams and his three teammates from Edmonton get little chance to work as a unit during the regular curling season.

Most of their competition as a rink has come in a once-a-week high school league because the boys are members of separate clubs.

But going into today's seventh round, the Edmonton foursome was on the threshold of giving Alberta it's third straight Canadian high school crown.

En route to a 7-6 sixth-round victory over Bob Friesen's Manitoba champions Wednesday night, Williams continually beat the Manitobans any game they decided to play.

In other sixth-round events B.C. beat New Brunswick 12-9, Saskatchewan continued to impress after an early run of misfortune that cost them two matches and scored an 11-5 victory over Ontario, Northern Ontario defeated winless Newfoundland 11-3 and Nova Scotia beat Prince Edward Island 12-7.

ONTARIO WINS ONE

In the fifth round Manitoba nipped New Brunswick 6-5, Saskatchewan beat Nova Scotia 9-5, Ontario walloped Newfoundland 10-5, Northern Ontario took an extra-end 6-5 decision over Quebec and B.C. whipped P.E.I. 10-4.

Alberta drew the fifth-round bye and Quebec sat on the sidelines in the sixth.

Besides Alberta's match against B.C. today, seventh-round tussels have Ontario against winless P.E.I., Northern Ontario against Saskatchewan, Newfoundland against Quebec and New Brunswick against Nova Scotia. Manitoba drew the bye.

Three draws are set for today, two Friday.

Standings after six rounds have Alberta with a 5-0 record, B.C. and Manitoba at 5-1, Saskatchewan 4-2, Northern Ontario and Quebec 2-3, N.B. 1-4, P.E.I. 0-5 and' Newfoundland 0-6.

Northern Ontario's Bill Thompson from Red Lake, touted as the power of the East, began to show his form. Among the fans watching were the fathers of the four Red Lake curlers, sent to B.C. on an all-expenses paid trip by their employers, a gold - mining company in Red Lake. On Thompson's team are David Coghill, Bob Ballantyne and Gerry Hogue.

Western Hockey

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The pace-setters of the Western Hockey League used Edmonton Flyers and Winnipeg Warriors as stepping stones Wednesday night.

Calgary Stampeders defeated the Flyers 6-2 in Edmonton and Portland Buckaroos downed the Warriors 3-1 in Winnipeg.

Seattle Totems moved to within two points of third-place Vancouver by whipping the Canucks 6-1 and Spokane Comets got two late goals to edge Victoria Cougars 4-3.

Calgary's Lou Jankowski, top WHL goal-scorer, picked up his 41st and 42nd goals of the season. Gordon Vejprava also scored twice. Norm Johnson and John Kosiancic one each. Edmonton goals were scored by Bruce MacGregor and Don Poile.

DIVIDE SCORING

Guyle Fielder set up three of the first four Totems goals and scored the second. Other Seattle marksmen were Tommy McVie, with two, Marc Boileau, Eddie Stankiewicz and Bill MacFarland. Danny Belisle got Vancouver's goal.

Veteran winger Colin Kilburn fired two late goals for Comets to erase a 3-2 Cougars lead. Other Spokane scorers were Forbes Kennedy and Steve Witiuk. Wayne North, Gerry Goyer and Doug Macauley got Victoria's goals.

Marlies Tie Irish 5-5

TORONTO (CP) — Last-place Toronto Marlboros and Toronto St. Michael's College Majors battled to a 5-5 tie Wednesday night in an Ontario Hockey Association junior A game that saw one boy sent to hospital with a possible broken clavicle.

Marlboros centre Ricky Hay, 20, was taken to hospital after being crushed into the boards at 19.33 of the third period by St. Michael's defenceman Barrie MacKenzie.

Marlboros players returning to their locker-room after the game found thieves had stolen wallets containing an estimated $60.

Right winger George Standing paced Marlboros with two goals. Nick Harbruk, Garry Jarrett, Phil and Bill Collins scored singles.

Bruce Draper, with his 41st and 42nd of the season, led St. Michael's. Sonny Osborne, Brian Walsh and Larry Keenan fired singles.

Reds Sneak Past Hershey Bisons Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Any hockey player will tell you it's harder to win on the road than on the home rink. That may explain why Hershey Bears and Rochester Americans are making so little progress toward settling their fourth-place struggle in the American League.

In Providence Wednesday night the last-place Reds scored three goals in the last four minutes of regulation time to pull out a 4-2 decision over Hershey. The Americans lost 4-1 to the Bisons in Buffalo.

The Americans and Bears are still tied for fourth spot with 56 points apiece, four points behind third - place Cleveland Barons, beaten 6-2 Wednesday night by league-leading Springfield Indians.

Rookie left winger George Ranieri started the Reds' onslaught by scoring on a 30-foot shot at 16:14 of the third period to tie the score 2-2. Ray Ross, Ed Panagabko and Danny Poliziani got Providence's other goals. Brian Smith, scoring on a 70-foot blast, and Hec Lalande were Hershey marksmen.

Brian Kilrea notched three for the Indians. Ken Schinkel, Bill Sweeney and Jim Anderson got the others. Cal Gardner and Aldo Guidolin scored for the Barons.

N. H. L. Big Seven

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Andy Bathgate of New York picked up two assists Wednesday as the Rangers defeated Chicago Black Hawks 4-2 to consolidate his grip of sixth place in the National Hockey League scoring race.

The two points, which gave him a total of 62, on 23 goals and 39 assists, also lifted him to within two points of fifth place. There was no other NHL action Wednesday and Bathgate's increase marked the only change in the top seven.

CAHA President

Says Russians Tough

PRAGUE (CP) — Jack Roxburgh, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, says it's going to be extremely difficult for Trail Smoke Eaters to beat the Soviet representatives at next month's world championships in Switzerland.

The official Czech news agency CTK quoted him as saying Wednesday that the Russians, steadily increasing their efficiency, would be Canada's toughest opponents in deciding the series.

Roxburgh made his prediction in the light of Trail's three exhibition games in Moscow earlier this month. They won one, lost one and tied one.

Their success on the Czechoslovakian leg of their exhibition tour was more lopsided — six wins without a loss, including a whopping 11-3 victory over the Czech B team at Kolin Wednesday.

CZECH TEAM WEAKER

Roxburgh told Czech reporters their team this year is somewhat weaker than the squad entered in last year's world championships. He said the Czech players are not able to top offensive play with good shooting and they seem to lack a desire to win.

A crowd of 14,000 turned out at Kolin to see the Smoke Eaters take a 3-1 first-period lead, go to 7-1 after the second and outscore the Czechs 4-2 in the final frame.

Hugh McIntyre, Walt Peacosh and Francis Hockley each scored a pair of goals for the Canadians. Singles were added by Ed Cristofoli, Dave Rusnell, Darryl Sly, Bob Kromm and Addy Tambellini.

The victory was the 12th on the Smokies' exhibition tour against two losses and a tie.

MAKES WISE CHANGE

BOWIE, Md. (CP) — Trainer Don Yates didn't want to enter his horse Cervina in the feature race at Bowie Race Track Wednesday because he figured it wasn't ready. Racing secretary John P. Turner finally persuaded Yates to enter because the seven furlong event had only five horses. Cervina won by a head, returning $33.60, $7.40 and $3.40.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. GARVER, Sports Editor

For baseball fans—and from a Central Ontario point of view—it could be that happy days are here again.

It is definite that tonight at a meeting in Port Hope, this city will be entered in the Lakeshore Intermediate Baseball League.

And with fingers crossed and hope riding high, Kingston baseball interests will be on hand in an effort to post an entry from the Limestone City.

At this writing it looks like definite entries are Belleville, Port Hope, Bowmanville-Orono Combines, Oshawa, Cobourg and Peterborough. Acceptance of a Kingston entry is a question mark. We shall know tomorrow.

Originally, three entries from Peterborough signified intention of playing in the Lakeshore League. Word today from Cec Perdue's hangout is that one entry, the Peterborough Bridgenorths, will be in the Lakeshore League. Other Pete entries will play in another league.

Kingston, represented by Fred Paige and Ken Matthews, will make a determined bid to have their city enter the Lakeshore. They have decided to again come under the banner of the Ontario Baseball Association and after a lapse of a few years carry Kingston colors in provincial baseball.

It was hinted at a former meeting of the Lakeshore loop that a Kingston entry would not be popular with some of the clubs due to the long haul—and tranportation costs. However, it seems Kingston is "hot" and willing to play home-and-home games with Lakeshore entries, then make a strong bid for membership next season.

The Kingston bid for entry tonight will be backed by the Belleville delegation of the Kenmors' manager and assistant manager, Ken Soden and Vic Morris. OBA vice-president Jack Carson is also making the trip to Port Hope.

This sudden about-face on the part of Kingston interests to take part in district baseball can be placed at one door—new management. Since the collapse of the Central Ontario Baseball League, Limestone City baseball figures steadfastly refused to have anything to do with outside baseball—and confined the city's activities to local leagues.

"Now," says Frank Paige, the new KBA president, "we would rather have the better players graduate and form a club to play against out-of-town teams."

"Our new executive is larger—and it's a great one," Paige said. "The fellows are really on the ball. We held a meeting the other night and had 100 per cent attendance."

Says Kenmors' manager Soden: "My motive in backing Kingston is that there had always been keen rivalry between the two cities and they would prove a good drawing card. There are some fine baseball players there and they could help form a strong senior league in the years ahead."

Soden has done a tremendous job for baseball in this city over the past few years. With Vic Morris and others he brought the Kenmors up through the minor years to the 1960 all-Ontario junior major "A" championship.

His motive this year, and he says it could be his last because of health, is to establish provincial baseball because he thinks 1961 is the important year if the game is to have a revival in this area.

"I have," he said, "set up two projects whereby a small number of our leading business firms on one hand, and the general public on the other, can give the boys the financial support required to pay for new uniforms, equipment, hydro bills, bus travel, etc."

"The co-operation I have received from the officials of the city, the Public Utilities, the Parks Board, the Harbor Board, etc., has been wonderful. The response of business firms and the public to our projects in the past few days has also been magnificent."

"It is my fond hope that I will be able to turn over a repeat OBA champion, replete with new uniforms, enthusiastic fan support and perhaps a dollar in the bank, at the end of the season."

This department believes the return of Eastern Ontario baseball will be warmly welcomed by fans of this city and district, particularly if night and Sunday games are played. The Lakeshore League is a strong, well-balanced organization and some fine baseball should be upcoming this summer.

Blues Whip Hawks, Keep Hopes Alive

Leafs, Habs Meet Tonight

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

New York Rangers kept their slender hopes for a National Hockey League playoff spot alive Wednesday with a decisive 4-2 win over Chicago Black Hawks.

The only NHL action, an afternoon game on Washington's birthday, saw the Rangers whip into an early 2-0 lead, then match the Black Hawks scoring through the rest of the game.

Darkening any Ranger hopes of ousting the Red Wings from the last playoff spot is the fact that the Red Wings have played two fewer games than New York.

GUMP STOPPED 29

Ranger goalie Gump Worsley was called on to make only 29 saves. The Rangers fired 37 at Glenn Hall in the Chicago net.

One of the biggest games of the season is in the making tonight when Toronto Maple Leafs take on Montreal Canadiens in Montreal with first place in the league standings at stake.

Toronto and Montreal are tied with 33 wins and nine ties apiece, though Toronto has lost one game more than the Canadiens.

Despite the importance of the contest, neither club will be dressing anything like a full club.

Toronto will be without two of their key veterans — goalie Johnny Bower and leftwinger Bert Olmstead. Bower injured his knee when charged by Detroit's Howie Glover and Olmstead suffered a bone bruise in the last minute of play in Sunday's game at New York.

PULFORD STILL OUT

Captain George Armstrong is expected back, however, for the first time since Feb. 5.

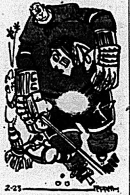
For the Canadiens, Dickie Moore is definitely out with a racked bone in his foot. His loss could be important, partly because he has gone well against Toronto all season, but chiefly because he is the man who had been given the responsibility of holding Toronto's Frank Mahovlich in check. In recent games he had done an outstanding job.

Claude Provost and Gilles Tremblay also are not expected to play. Provost is suffering from a bad knee and Tremblay has a wrenched ankle. Both have been skating this week, but there has been no indication whether they will dress for tonight's game.

Guy Gendron will be back on the Canadiens' bench, but is not expected to see much action. He has missed the last three games with a knee injury.

Hockey Hints

By Lloyd Percival



"BIG BUT SMART"

When Elmer Vasko, the big defenceman for the Chicago Black Hawks first came into the N.H.L., he was awkward and lumbering. Many people figured he was on the team for "policing purposes" and to hand out a little muscle. But the big boy has improved greatly and is now not only capable of leaning heavily on opposing players but he plays intelligent defensive hockey.

Several things I have noticed Vasko doing demonstrate tactics the young player, keen to do well on defence, should learn and utilize. For example, you often see Vasko making a point of trailing a teammate who is bringing the puck out. In this way he is ready to pick up the puck if it is overskated or if the puck carrier is checked. Too many young defencemen just stand and watch in such a situation. Take a tip from Vasko and remember that such moves as trailing the man coming out can often save what might have been a goal.

The Chicago player also does a good job following the key positional moves — especially in the dangerous two on two situation. Here Vasko, if he is closest to the puck carrier, will take him, playing the man, not the puck, and staying with his man even if he passes it. If Vasko is not in position to play the puck carrier he backs up his partner, dropping a little behind him. By doing this, Vasko is able to cut across and take the puck carrier if he goes around his partner or to move over and cover the wing if a pass is made. Soccer Fans Rush Barrier, 200 Injured

LEICESTER, England (AP)—More than 200 persons were injured as fans tried to force their way into an English Cup Soccer game Wednesday night. An estimated 17,000 were shut out of the stadium, where Leicester City defeated Birmingham City 2-1 in a re-match. The disappointed fans rushed the barriers and children were trampled in the melee.

A police spokesman said later most of the injuries were minor cuts and bruises.

There were many fainting cases in the sell-out crowd of 42,000 inside the stadium.

The referee, Johannes Malka of Germany, had awarded the Scottish team a penalty shot with five minutes left and the score tied 2-2 in the match to determine which team advanced to the semi-finals of the European Inter - Cities Fairs Cup tournament.

After the fuss, Bobby Kinlock of Hibernians scored on the penalty shot for a 3-2 victory.

Toronto Player Balks

Als, Argos Make 5-Player Deal

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts and Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four Football League announced an unconditional five-player trade Wednesday and almost immediately it was cut to four. One Argonaut involved said he couldn't report to the Als for business reasons.

Offensive end Paul Fedor, traded to Montreal with Bobby Jack Oliver and Ron Brewer for Billy Shipp and Doug McNichol, said in an interview he had recently established a catering business in Toronto. And he must be close to the scene of his operations.

"I won't be able to play football unless it is either in Toronto or Hamilton," the 23-year-old former Queen's Golden Gaels college star said. But things may work out satisfactorily.

The Als will try to talk him into joining the Montreal camp and if this fails they'll probably try to work out a deal with Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

There are no secret clauses or pacts—"no ifs and buts about this—trade," was the way managing director Lew Hayman of Argonauts described it. "We own the playing rights to the two Montreal players and the Als own the rights to the players we trade," he added.

ALS PLAYERS AGREE

There's no doubt that the 275-pound Shipp, a one-time Argonauts castoff, and McNichol will report to Argonauts. Both told the Als at the end of the 1960 season that they wouldn't return.

Shipp, 30, a six-year tackle in Canadian football after a stint with New York Giants, was peddled to Montreal in 1956 for $1,000. A permanent resident of Toronto for several years, he is expected to become a naturalized Canadian before the season opens.

McNichols, 31, joined Als in 1954 from the University of Western Ontario Mustangs and has been a defensive end standout. Als tried to trade him to Tiger-Cats last year but he refused.

Oliver, 24, now living in Richardson, Tex., is the only American among the three traded Argonauts. A 245-pound offensive and defensive guard-tackle, he came to Canada two years ago after graduating from Baylor University in Texas.

Brewer, 25, was a fullback with the Canadian junior champion Toronto Parkdales in 1957 and joined Argos the following season. He was switched to the corner - linebacker spot and gained a reputation as a tough, hard player.

Ottawa Star Gets Surgery

OTTAWA (CP)—Ron Lancaster, star Ottawa Rough Rider quarterback, will undergo minor surgery on his right arm next month, the Big Four football club revealed Wednesday.

Club physician Dr. W. F. A. Davies said x-rays showed a calcium deposit at the tip of the collarbone, stemming from a shoulder separation Lancaster suffered in a game last October.

Lancaster, who shared play-calling duties with Russ Jackson last season for the Grey Cup champions, will be ready for training camp in July, the doctor said.

Minor Hockey Playdowns

Kingston Teams Win Two, Tie Third

Kingston minor teams came close to making it a clean sweep here last night in the opening round of their Ontario Minor Hockey Association playdowns, chalking up two wins and a tie against Belleville's best.

The Kingston bantams won an easy 10-2 victory and the midgets took a 7-2 decision while Belleville's juvenile squad held their visiting counterparts to a hard-fought 4-4 deadlock.

Second games in all three total goals-to-count series will be played this Saturday at the Kingston Community Centre.

BANTAM GAME

An impressive bantam squad, held to a 1-1 tie in the initial period, broke loose for four unanswered goals in the middle heat to wrap up the visitors' first win of the night.

Kingston made it 10-1 before Belleville closed the scoring with their second goal late in the third.

John Mercer paced Kingston's attack with three goals and one assist. Doug Percival scored two goals and a nasist while Chris Roberts also contributed two goals and an assist while Leo Lavallee and Jim Dorey each had a goal and two assists while John Kinnear and Paul Reid had one assist each.

Perry Soule and Karl Hannah triggered the two Belleville markers with Jerry Blakely and Brien Derry drawing assists.

The game was cleanly played with only two minor penalties, both to Kingston.

MIDGET GAME

Kingston jumped into a 3-0 first-period lead, held on through a scoreless middle frame and outscored Belleville 4-2 in the third period for their 7-2 win in the midget division.

Gary Lavalee and Chuck Convery triggered two goals apiece to lead the winners' attack. Jim Sprott had one and one and Scotty Irvine and Wayne Cashman the other goals, Bob Bruce, Ron Reid, Wayne Clancy and Danny White drew assists.

Kingston picked up nine minor penalties and Belleville received six.

JUVENILE GAME

Belleville spotted Kingston the opening goal in the rugged juvenile battle; tied it 1-1 before the end of the first period and took a 4-2 lead after forty minutes of play.

Kingston potted the only two goals of the third to get the 4-4 tie, the final goal coming with Belleville a man short, Turner off just a few seconds before Aylesworth scored the equalizer. A near brawl broke out in the dying minutes when Clarke and Dowdell of Kingston and Goodfellow and Duvall of Belleville all got the gate at 18.53.

Gary Duvall scored two of the Belleville goals while Don Goodfellow and Paul Brown bagged the others. Bob Boyle, Graydon Scott and Gerry Jones picked up single asists.

Terry Aylesworth and Bob Rawson each had a goal and assist for Kingston while George Scott and Winston Dowdell also scored. Pete Lloyd drew two assists with one each for Ron Earl and Ron Bryant.

Belleville collected seven of the 12 minor penalties assessed.

KINGSTON: Mercer, Ball, Lloyd, Scott, Earl, Anderson, Dowdell, Murphy, Compeau, McGinnis, Clarke, Bryant, Rawson, Martin, Aylesworth.

Mac White Rink Drops Squeaker

OTTAWA (Special)—Guelph and Woodstock curlers held unbeaten records after the first day of play in the Ontario Consols, but it was Mac White's young Belleville rink which stole the show Wednesday at the Ottawa Curling Club.

White opened his bid for a trip to the Briar at Calgary with a 12-8 victory over defending champion Jake Edwards of Kingston in the afternoon only to lose a heartbreaker, 4-3, to George Parkes' Woodstock rink in the evening.

White and Parkes engaged in a slam-bang takeout exchange which saw six dead ends racked up as the rival skips jockeyed for position coming home. The score was tied 3-3 after seven ends with Parkes drawing for shot. White gambled everything on the 12th by blanking the eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh ends. On the 12th, Parkes' second, R. Kennedy drew to the front of the six-foot and Parkes managed to work in two guards to protect his shot.

White's first rock was short and partially blocked the front of the house. However, it left a manoeuvreable port. Parkes closed the right side with another guard and left White with a cold draw to get shot. White's last rock barely ticked his own front stone, a little heavy, and rolled all the way back to the six foot. There was no need for a measure. A little too energetic sweeping seemed to have cost White the game.

White, who was to face Joe Garowka of Toornto Dixie, unbeaten Don MacDonald of Guelph and winless Cliff Bleich of Owen Sound, in that order today still loomed as one of the favorites on the strength of his opening games.

White impressed the gallery with his strategy as a skip and his ability to come through with key shots. He could not be faulted for his gamble. Had his last stone worked a little more he would be sharing the lead going into today's hectic 36 ends of curling.

OTTAWA (CP) —Three rounds of crucial play face eight rinks battling today for Ontario's curling title and a chance at the Canadian championships.

After two rounds, only two of the eight rinks were undefeated—Don MacDonald of Guelph and George Parkes of Woodstock.

The favorites before play opened—Jake Edwards of Kingston and Joe Gurowka of Toronto Dixie — enter the third round with one victory and one defeat.

Tom Caldwell of Orillia and Mac White of Belleville also have a 1-1 record.

Stil without a triumph are Stan Duvall of Hamilton Victoria and Cliff Bleich of Owen Sound.

MISSES CHANCE

White blanked Parkes for four straight ends Wednesday in a bid to get last rock at the 12th end in their 3-3 tie game. But he blew his chance when the final shot hit a guard rock and slithered to the back, leaving Parkes with the winning counter just perched in the circle.

About 400 spectators watched the play at the Ottawa Curling Club, where fairly mild weather made the ice keen and fast. Edwards and Gurowka had difficulty mastering the ice in the first games.

Edwards, defending provincial champ, and Gurowka had ruled as favorites. After their first-round losses, Edwards eased Duvall 10-9 and Gurowka thrashed Bleich 9-3.

Three rounds are scheduled today, at 9.30 a.m., 2.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. The final two rounds are to be played Friday.

Senior Hockey

CHATHAM (CP) — A third-period rally gave Stratford Indians a 6-5 victory over Chatham Maroons in Ontario Hockey Association senior action Wednesday night before 758 fans.

The win was the first of the season for the Indians over Maroons; Chatham had won six previous encounters.

Maroons lost their last chance to capture the league pennant. They are tied for second place with Galt Terriers, eight points behind league leading Windsor Bulldogs with only four games remaining in their schedule.

Ken Doig fired two goals and assisted on two others to spark the victory. Veteran Billy Flick added two Stratford goals and Mickey Roth and Maurice Levesque scored singletons.

Forward Joe Malo tallied two Maroon goals, with Copper Leyte, Ernie Dick and Elmer Skov adding the others.

Fronts Bows To Royals, Beavers Tie

MONTREAL — Last night the Royals managed to muster on attack to go along with the brilliance of Pronovost and defeated the fourth-place Frontenacs at Kingston 4-2 to move into a last-place tie with the Wolves.

Pronovost was the difference. The Fronts outshot the Montrealers 40-25 before a crowd of 4,900, Kingston's largest of the season.

GOT ON EPOINT

The Habs had to settle for a single point in the other game of the night, a 2-2 tie with the Beavers in Kitchener. Hull-Ottawa still is a comfortable 17 points ahead of the second-place Sault Ste. Marie Thunderbirds, with the Beavers two points back in third place.

Reggie Grigg scored two goals in Montreal's victory while singles went to Wayne Connelly and Roger Sawicki. Pete Panagabko and defenceman Harry Sinden scored for Kingston.

Johnston also was at his best in Kitchener, where the drew groans from 1,743 fans by thwarting two big chances the Beavers had to sew it up in the third period.

Hull-Ottawa, suffering from the absence of Bobby Rousseau and Glen Skov, twice held the lead on goals by Bob Gray and Bo Ellett. Len Ronson and Art Stratton tied it up, the latter scoring only 65 seconds after Gray.

The Habs and Beavers have a return match at Hull tonight that could shuffle second place, depending on the outcome of the Wolves' visit to Sault Ste. Marie.

Judge Verdicts Kearns

DETROIT (AP)—A couple of fight managers lost a decision worth $11,500 in Detroit Wednesday.

The decision came from Judge Theodore Bohn, who ruled that Jack (Doc) Kearns and Charles Johnston couldn't pick up an $11,500 cheque posted with the Michigan Boxing Commission as a guarantee by another boxer that he'd fight their man, Archie Moore.

Judge Bohn ruled there never was a contract for a light-heavyweight championship fight between Moore and Detroit's Chuck Spieser for January, 1958.

"It was all a part of the ballyhoo of the fight-promotion game, similar to the advance notices that were formerly made by the great P. T. Barnum," the judge said.

Bohn said the fight did not come off because Kearns failed to obtain television coverage, and declared that if there were a contract breach, it appeared to be on Kearns's part, not Spieser's.

Canada's Athletes

Need School-Level Aid

By MARVEN MOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Avery Brundage, the solemn watchdog of Olympic amateurism, said Wednesday night Canada needs a program of government aid at the school level to develop Olympic athletes.

The 73-year-old chairman of the International Olympic Committee was interviewed after addressing a $7-a-plate dinner sponsored by the Montreal Sportsmen's Association.

He said direct subsidies for athletes would be a serious mistake but a system of athletic aid for schools would churn out top athletes on a mass basis.

"You've got to develop them when their young and through the schools is the best way," he said.

"But we have that problem of provincial autonomy in education and I don't know what can be done at the federal level," said Farmer.

Brundage, a Chicago hotel man serving his third four-year term as head of the international sports body, delivered a 34-minute speech extoling the virtues of amateurism.

He described professional athletics as "an entertainment business, not really sport."

The public, he said, has an erroneous impression that an amateur "is someone who is not good enough to be a professional."

"But in reality an amateur is someone devoted to what he is doing without throught of a reward."

More than 450 attended the dinner. They honored some 180 Montreal athletes who won national titles in 1960.

TO DISCUSS FIGHT

GOTHENBURG, Sweden (Reuters)—Negotiations for a world light-heavyweight boxing title fight between Archie Moore, the titleholder, and Lennard Risberg of Sweden will begin in a few days, Edwin Ahlqvist, Risberg's manager, said Wednesday. Jack Kearns, representing Moore, arrived here Wednesday night. Moore already has signed to defend his title in New York in June against Italy's Giulio Rinaldi.

ROCK 'N' ROLL TOO — Calgary's Golden Agers orchestra—four of its six members are over 65—prefers the old tunes but will tackle rock 'n' roll too. It appears regularly at dances and plays for street-corner dancing during the Calgary Stampede. Three of the musicians shown here are (left to right) William Howard, Mrs. A. A. Stoner, Mrs. Donald Mauchline. (CP Photo).

Geechee Lou won $27,500. The time for 1½ miles was a fast 2:26. Geechee Lou emerges as a real threat to win the $100,000-added San Juan Capistrano handicap March 11.

Geechee Lou paid $8. $4.60 and $3.20. Don't Alibi returned $7.60 and $4.40 and TV Lark paid $3.60.

April Skies romped home 2¼ lengths ahead of Tudor Way in the $29,650 Palm Beach handicap at Hialeah Park. Mail Order was third.

April Skies ($5.60) ran the seven furlongs in 1:23 for the four - year - old gelding's fifth stakes victory of the Florida eason. April Skies was one of three winners ridden Wednesday by Herbert Hinojosa.

Golden Agers Orchestra Plays Any Kind of Music

CALGARY (CP) — Ask for an old - time melody or a rock 'n' roll number, the Golden Agers Orchestra can play it.

The six - member group admittedly prefers the old - time music but when the occasion calls for it the musicians will tackle the other with verve.

Four of the six players are Golden Agers — over 65—and the others are volunteers who enjoy working with the group. Mrs. Fairey Walker, 83, strums the guitar; Mrs. C. A. Stephenson, 80, Mrs. A. A. Stoner, 68, and Nigel R. Olliver, 76, are violinists; William Howard, 70, is the drummer and Mrs. Donald Mauchline, 55, is on piano.

"We all work hard but it is also relaxing," says Mrs. Mauchline who, along with Mrs. Stoner, is a volunteer. The orchestra averages about two dances a week and sometimes more — particularly during Calgary Stampede week.

Done up in western regalia, they set up instruments on Eighth Avenue during that week to play for the street square dancing — "the most widely photographed orchestra in Calgary," laughs Mrs. M. R. Dimple, program director for the Golden Age Club.

The orchestra plays every Wednesday at the club house following bridge and tea, and the first and third Saturdays of the month for Golden Age branches. A trio — Mrs Mauchline, Mrs. Stoner and Mr. Howard—also accepts outside engagements.

Most of the members are musicians of long standing and versatile enough to play more than one instrument. Mr. Howard played the harmonica until three years ago when his interest branched out to drums and he found a second - hand set which the club bought.

"I learned to play by ear—it just came naturally," says the Prairie pioneer.

Mrs. Walker, a guitarist, is definitely the versatile type. She also handles the clarinet, banjo and ukulele. Originally from Ohio, she came to Alberta in 1903 and has made her home in Calgary since 1939.

Mrs. Stephenson has been a violinist since she was 9. The Ontario - born woman says she now is playing the same violin as she did then.

Mr. Olliver, who started studying violin in 1930, advises that the best training for a pianist is to learn to accompany a violin. Born in London, England, he studied with a German professor in Kingston, Ont., and later in Toronto. He was music department manager for a Toronto department store before moving west.

The volunteer members both have the added work of accompanying the Easter cantata and Christmas pageant put on by the Golden Agers.

Mrs. Mauchline spends still more hours at the keyboard. She plays for the two junior choirs at Grace Presbyterian Church and is an accompanist for music festivals.

Mrs. Stoner's public performances are limited to the orchestra but she picks up her fiddle at home for her own pleasure. A native of Hull, England, she is an old hand at playing at community dances.

Threat of Formal Censorship Faces Broadcasting Industry

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. broadcasting industry, already under attack from many quarters, now has a new worry: Threat of formal censorship. It has joined the motion picture and publishing industries in an effort to reopen a new U.S. Supreme Court decision, even though its lawyers don't think TV and radio are immediately involved.

The decision was one upholding the right of local and state censorship boards to preview a film before permitting it to be shown in theatres.

"There are dangerous potentials," said Douglas Anello, chief counsel for the National Association of Broadcasters. "Whenever you impose censorship in one medium it might spread to another."

The decision comes at a time when "broadcasting is in serious trouble, . . . its public favor is dangerously low," as former governor Leroy Collins of Florida, new N.A.B. president, phrased it in a recent speech.

SAYS PRACTICE SPREADING

"This conclusion, to me, is inescapable in the light of widespread criticism we are getting from responsible individuals, public officials and a growing variety of reputable organizations," Collins said. "This criticism is being reflected in an all-time-high number of proposals for governmental intervention in areas we have regarded as 'holy grounds' for prvate enterprise."

TV and radio insist that they can handle their problems by self-regulation, which primarily means by widespread adherence to radio and television codes set up by N.A.B., and by network continuity departments which wield blue pencils.

Japanese Movie Censors Adopting New Toughness

By BOB THOMAS

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese movie censors, normally a mild lot, are adopting a new toughness toward violence in films and television.

Japanese leaders are growing more and more alarmed with the rise of armed assaults by juveniles.

Outs were made in This Rebel Breed to eliminate use of a switchblade knife as well as marijuana. Censors considered editing of the bathtub stabbing in Psycho, but finally passed it.

Government censorship is forbidden by the post-war Japanese constitution. But the Japanese generally respect authority, and self-censorship is usually effected when the authorities wish it.

THEATRES OBEY

Film censoring is patterned after Hollywood's production code. The movie interests contribute to a commission of motion picture code of ethics which passes on all scripts and finished films. It also reviews all imports. More than 99 per cent of the country's 8,000 theatres observe the code and won't play a film that doesn't bear a seal.

Sex doesn't bother Japanese censors "but some of the Italian and French films give us trouble," said one of the commission members.

Brigitte Bardot's hops in and out of the shower have been cut. So was one of the more naked clinches in Hiroshima, Amour (titled The Love Affair of 24 Hours here.)

Nudity is frowned upon in films, though mixed bathing is common in Japan. Oddly, nude swimming is permittel to be shown in Swedish films. The reasoning seems to be that if that is the way the Swedes swim, so be it.

General Tendencies: This is a day when you have all kinds of beneficial opportunities for getting your ideas, your wares, your talents to the attention of those who are able to make them a working reality. Be sure that you do merchandize whatever is vital to your progress and advancement. Thus this can be a splendid day. Be well-rounded in all you say and do. Have emotional pleasures as well.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) —Anything concerning home, kin, real estate can be settled most intelligently this morning and evening. Then take it easy where the heart is — within the bosom of your family. Have friends in for a bit of j- y repartee.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Any data you require can be had with ease today which will help you in filling out any reports, etc. Then be sure you shop for what you need. Evening is ideal for a bit of sport and fun with those you truly enjoy. Be gay.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) —Be certain you go over your assets and see how you can greatly increase abundance by the right investments. Talk over better business methods with experts. P.M. take treatments that help improve condition of stomach and throat.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Here is a rare day when you are able to follow your inclinations. Go after your hopes and wishes in a positive manner and you will meet with considerable success. Join with compatibles in P.M. for whatever entertainment most pleases.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21)— You can gather the information you need with relative ease today and then put it to good use quickly. Also, you are able to reach far better rapport with the one you love this evening. Be generous and most attentive, kind.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)— Those allies who truly comprehend your aims can give the greatest assistance today. Be very sociable instead of Virgo stand-offish for greatest benefits. Show a definite interest and regard for their ambitions, too. Grow.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you are at your best now poised and beautifully groomed, you are able to impress those persons in higher brackets who are vital to your success. Contact them early. P.M. step out for amusement, gaiety.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 —This is the day when you are able to understand a more modern and efficient plan or system for reaching your goals more expeditiously. Make new contacts among those whose background is quite different from yours. Handle correspondence in P.M.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Contact authorities before handling any business or tax matters that are important at this time. Be sure you understand every bit of advice given you, since it could spell the difference between success and failure.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Now is the ideal time to discuss matters thoroughly with associates so that you come to a true meeting of minds and make the future more successful. Also, reconcile with the competition. See that your credit is higher, too.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) —You can certainly get the mechanisms, incorporate new order, system into your daily work so that you save both money and time, and effort. See that you have more efficient help, too. Pay a little more and get the best. Expand.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) —A rare day when you can have a wonderful time. Be out early to new places and things with congenials. Have fun as you see the great big, beautiful world around you. Display some of your talents. Be energetic, have sense of humor.

If your child is born today .. there will be considerable tallent in this chart, since the nature is such that the spiritual and the physical are perfectly balanced by the mental. Be certain you give your child the finest and varied education possible, since the mind is very searching and latter years will be so busy producing that there is little time for research, study. A fascinating chart!

INDICATE NEED

OSHAWA (CP)—A survey of 3,650 Oshawa children shows that 581 of the group possess behavior characteristics indicating potential need for psychiatric treatment, city council was told Monday night. Ontario County branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association asked establishment and operation of a community psychiatric clinic for school age and pre-school children. It will be discussed with the board of health.

BILL AUTHORIZING

in $2,000,000 a year in ore-carrying charges plus $225,000 for general freight.

Douglas Fisher (CCF-Port Arthur) said the government should insist that a $30,000,000 zinc refinery proposed to handle Mattagami Lake ores be located in the Abitibi region. He said people of that region are anxious to have the refinery there with its labor force of 475 men.

At a committee hearing Monday CNR officials said the refinery would be set up at a deepwater site. Several sites were under consideration, not all of them along the St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Fisher said the view of the Quebec provincial government in this matter should be made public.

Debate on third reading of the rail bill took up Wednesday's halfday sitting. Discussion will be resumed today on immigration department spending estimates.

In another development Wednesday, External Affairs Minister Green said the situation concerning proposals for international peace commissions in Laos is unclear but he agreed with CCF Leader Argue that it is possible Canada may not have to return to Laos as a member of the adjourned international truce supervisory commission.

The proposals referred to are one that the truce supervisory commission comprising Canada, India and Poland be reconstituted in Laos and the other by the king of Laos inviting Cambodia, Burma and Malaya to establish a similar commission in Laos.

Russia replied Feb. 18 to the British proposal for reconstitution of the Canada-India-Poland commission but Mr. Green said the exchange between the two governments is confidential. He added that further discussions between Britain and Russia appear likely.

HEADS SOCIETY

OTTAWA (CP) — Maj.-Gen. H. A. Young of Ottawa was re-elected Monday night for a three-year term as president of the Royal Canadian Geographical Society.

CCFer ADVANCES

"We have been advised to take down a number of trunks in case they decide to pay us in cash."

The premier said estimates presented in the legislature had met with no objections from any party and that he would go to Ottawa with no new proposals, but to hear the federal government state its position.

In other business, the legal bills committee approved a bill amending the Vital Statistics Act to remove in effect some of the stigma of illegitimacy from children born out of wedlock.

The bill provides that a child born out of wedlock to a married woman who is known by the surname of the man with whom she lives may be registered under the same surname.

ADVOCATE LAND-USE PLAN

The Agricultural Institute of Canada urged the establishment of an Ontario land-use program to be headed by at least an assistant deputy to centralize land conservation activities now divided among several government agencies.

Farquhar Oliver (L — Grey South) said the program should be under the minister of agriculture or the premier himself. "The inherent weakness in conservation in this province is that everybody's business is nobody's business, and an assistant deputy minister would not have enough prestige to deal with ministers," he said.

Gavin Henderson, executive director of the Conservation Council of Canada, said thousands of the 12,000,000 acres of prime farm land are being taken out of production when some of the 20,000,000 acres of sub-marginal land could be used. He cited the Niagara Peninsula which he said was cut up by highways when they could have been constructed on top of the escarpment.

Health Minister Dymond, told the health and welfare committee the government plans to stop the use of hypnosis as stage entertainment "to protect the public from the use of hypnosis by unqualified persons."

He added, however, that the legislation would not put out of business present entertainers.

BRITAIN'S PLAN

Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys charged that the 250-pound Welensky, a one-time prize fighter and former trade union official, had failed to provide the kind of leadership needed in the huge territory south of the Congo, in these changing times.

Sandys and Colonial Secretary Iain Macleod suggested in the House of Commons that Welensky was whipping up racial tension in the federation, where Negroes outnumber whites 8,000,000 to about 300,000. The Labor party, while agreeing with the need for reforms in Africa, criticized the way they were being carried out by the government of Prime Minister Macmillan.

Welensky called the federation Parliament into an emergency session Friday in Salisbury, the federal capital in Southern Rhodesia, to outline his campaign to check the "tide of African nationalism" sweeping over Britain's biggest remaining foothold in Africa.

The Central African Federation that Welensky is determined to keep intact under white rule was born in heated controversy Aug. 1, 1953.

Southern Rhodesia, whose 200,000 Europeans dominate the federation, is a self-governing colony with its own prime minister, Sir Edgard Whitehead. Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland are protectorates under governors and legislative councils responsible to the Crown.

Whitehead has backed Welensky in the current fight and has called for cutting British strings on the Rhodesias as soon as possible.

North Rhodesia Governor Puts Trust In Negroes

Task of Keeping Peace Given to Black Police

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Police leave was cancelled throughout Southern Rhodesia today amid a gathering storm over neighboring Northern Rhodesia's constitutional crisis.

The cancellation order came as the British-appointed governor of Northern Rhodesia, Sir Evelyn Hone, called talks with local political party leaders on the protectorate's constitutional crisis.

Britain's proposals for increased representation in the Northern Rhodesian legislature have been criticized by Negroes for not going far enough and denounced by whites as going too far.

Territorial officials described the situation as "explosive."

A Negro nationalist leader Thursday night called for protection by British troops after some 5,000 army reservists were called up, issued arms and ordered into intensive training by Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Rhodesian Federation.

Negroes have been promised a majority in the legislature of Nyasaland protectorate — third member of the federation—and fears of Negro domination have been aroused among the whites who rule Southern Rhodesia and Northern Rhodesia.

LEADERS OPPOSE U.K.

Welensky's fight against the British proposals for Northern Rhodesia is backed by Sir Edgar Whitehead, premier of Southern Rhodesia. Both Welensky and Whitehead have their headquarters in Salisbury.

There have been growing fears of a clash between Negroes and whites and if Governor Hone appealed for British troops to restore order this would mean a state of war between Britain and the Federation.

Hone has said he will rely on the protectorate's 5,000 Negro police to maintain order and call in Welensky's reservists only as a last resort.

An appeal for calm was also made by M. Sipalo, secretary-general of the United Nations Independence Party. He told a crowd of Negroes: "Let us not be provoked by steel-helmeted police and the federal arms. Remain calm and peaceful."

Northern Rhodesian authorities were reported worried by inflammatory statements by white extremists who boast of secret arms caches and clandestine radio transmitters.

Police riot trucks stood guard at Lusaka Airport Thursday as Negro nationalists returned from the three-week London conference, where they failed to get a majority in the Northern Rhodesian legislature as recommended last year by a commission appointed by the British government.

A militant white organization in Northern Rhodesia called the Federal Fighting Force declared its loyalty to Welensky. Its leader, Colin Cunningham, said if Britain goes ahead with the new constitution, "we will usher in an era of massive non-co-operation with the Northern Rhodesian government. . . . We shall take all our orders from the federal government."

The FFF claims an active membership of 6,000 whites and the support of 90 per cent of Northern Rhodesia's 75,000 white population. Government officials said the movement is "poetentially dangerous" hasn't half the support it claims.

Ordered to Pay Wife $25,000 A Year Alimony

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto millionaire Joseph B. Lubotta was ordered Thursday to pay his estranged wife $25,000 a year and allow her to use their $60,000 home in fashionable suburban Forest Hill Village.

Mr. Justice D. R. Morand of the Ontario Supreme Court also ordered Mrs. Lubotta be paid an additional $5,000 a year in the event the house is sold.

Mr. Lubotta testified his estranged wife, Rhoda Frances, mother of two, had "spread rumors around she was starving" after he left her in May, 1958, with a $90-a-week allowance and the Forest Hill home with all expenses paid.

Mrs. Lubotta sought $35,000 a year and claimed her husband had stopped providing her with the necessities of life.

She said she needed $1,275 a month to live in the same manner she did before her alleged desertion.

Mr. Lubotta, real estate and finance company executive, said he was in effect giving his wife a total of $500 a week through the cost of their home and the loss of revenue from it.

Under cross - examination he admitted he was attempting to sell the home.

Woodstock Man Burned to Death In Truck's Cab

BRANTFORD (CP)—Garfield Hussey, 50, of Woodstock, was burned to death in the wreckage of his cab today when his transport truck missed a curve on Highway 99, 10 miles northeast of here.

Police said that when Hussey approached the tricky curve, known as the "hog back," the vehicle rode part way up an embankment, rolled down again and burst into flames.

A passerby heard Hussey screaming for help but could not get near the vehicle because of the intense heat.

The transport, owned by Overland Express Limited, was travelling to St. Catharines from Woodstock. The fire destroyed the $15,000 vehicle and its load of machine parts, valued at $5,000.

Company officials said Hussey was not travelling the usual route between the two cities. They could not say whether he was familiar with Highway 99 and the Hog Back curve.

Green Will Go

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Thursday he hopes renewed debate in the United Nations General Assembly will improve the international atmosphere and that progress will be made toward disarmament.

Mr. Diefenbaker made the comment in the Commons in announcing that External Affairs Minister Green will head the Canadian delegation to the resumed UN session March 7.

Queen Visits Historic Bombay Pier From Which Last Britons Sailed

BOMBAY (AP) — The Queen today visited a spot best known to Indians as the pier from which the last British troops left the country.

To the British it is the place where her grandfather King George V landed in India during his 1911 visit.

A massive "gateway of India" archway, slightly smaller than the Arc de Triomphe in Paris, commemorates the landing of King George. But his statue has been removed and now lies unwanted at the Institute of Science.

In its place stands a huge statue of Shivaji, a Maratha warrior who conquered this coastal area several centures ago.

The Queen and Prince Philip visited the gateway after a brief call at the Seamen's Club. Then the Queen went by launch up the Bay of Bombay to visit India's nuclear energy centre at Trombay.

The Queen visited the large new nuclear reactor built with Canadian assistance under the Colombo plan. Chester Ronning, Canadian high commissioner to India, and India's nuclear energy boss, Dr. Homi Bhabha, showed her around.

AIRLINE STRIKE ENDS, PLANES GET READY TO GO

President Takes Personal Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six major airlines began getting back into the air today after President Kennedy personally announced the end of a strike that crippled air travel for a week.

Flight engineers agreed to go back to work immediately while a presidential commission started work on finding a way of remedying the basic cause of their strike—union security.

Kennedy made the announcement late Thursday at the White House. At his side was Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg, who had a large part in bringing about the end of the walkout.

Six airlines—Pan American, Trans World, Eastern, National and Flying Tigers — resumed flights today. They expect to be back to normal by Saturday or Sunday.

REFUSES TO JOIN

Even after the agreement was announced, a Western spokesman said the airline would stick to its plan to lay off 1,300 non-striking workers. The airline insisted that it considered its 300 flight engineers fired.

Western's stand to replace its engineers with qualified pilots held up agreement to end the walkout on the other airlines. The union had insisted that Western engineers be reinstated before an agreement was reached covering the other airlines.

The walkout was in protest over a national mediation board decision that flight engineers of United Air Lines must join the Airline Pilots Association. The engineers union feared this would spread and their union would be swallowed by the pilots' association.

Russia Wants Report Now About UN Progress in Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Russia pressed today for an immediate report on United Nations progress in forcing Belgian and other non-UN foreign military and political advisers out of The Congo.

In a move obviously intended to harass the UN operation in The Congo and Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin complained Thursday that three days had passed since the Security Council adopted its new peace plan for The Congo but council members had been given no information on withdrawal measures.

The Russians did not endorse the peace plan originally, abstaining when the council voted. And Zorin's arithmetic was in error, since he wrote two days after the council action early Tuesday.

The resolution authorized UN troops to use force if necessary to end fighting in The Congo and called for reorganization of the Congo army along non-political lines as well as withdrawal of Belgian and other foreign military and political personnel not attached to the UN.

Hammarskjold met Thursday for the third time with his Congo advisory committee to discuss ways of putting the peace plan into effect. He scheduled another meeting for today. Canada is a member of the committee.

So far no announcements have emerged from these meetings, but reports from The Congo pictured the UN command there as cautiously optimistic about ending the civil war, The Associated Press said.

Indirect Sales Tax Plan Apparently Being Ignored

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier Frost of Ontario said Thursday night proposals for an indirect provincial sales tax appear to have fallen by the wayside.

Provincial legislatures have authority to impose a direct sales tax. All provinces except Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta now levy such a tax.

There has been persistent speculation that Ontario will impose a retail sales tax if it does not get what Premier Frost considers sufficient under a new tax-sharing agreement.

Imposition of an indirect tax at the manufacturing level would require a constitutional amendment, Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the last Dominion-provincial fiscal conference in October the federal government would be willing to facilitate an amendment if all provinces agreed.

Earlier Thursday, a conference source said there had not been a complete expression of views by the provinces on the proposals. However, it was reported that Premier Manning of Alberta was opposed.

Asked after Thursday's conference meeting about the indirect sales tax, Mr. Frost said the proposal "doesn't seem to have borne any fruit."

Mr. Frost said the new federal proposal for tax-sharing falls far short of Ontario's financial needs.

He told reporters after the first round of provincial speeches at the Dominion-provincial fiscal conference that the proposal earlier in the day by Mr. Diefenbaker would leave the province short even of its needs of 10 years ago.

Mr. Frost recalled that 10 years ago he said Ontario needed $100,000,000 a year more for its treasury. Currently the province was receiving only $20,000,000 of the $100,000,000.

Federation Condemns Govt. For Postponing Rail Strike

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Federation of Agriculture closed off its annual meeting Thursday, cleaning up the last of 98 resolutions.

Concern at the disruption of grain movements by transport strikes and East-West differences on oil-seed tariffs were just two issues before the 79 official delegates on a crowded fourth day.

But a clause crical of labor demands is unrealistic and showing little concern for farm producers was tossed away.

There also was a deep current of support for a view that the federation could hardly propose compulsory arbitration of transportation disputes when it had so firmly plumped just one day earlier for general freedom from government regulation.

The labor debate sprang from the Vancouver grain - handlers strike last fall, delaying Prairie grain shipments, and the Dec. 3 rail strike threat by non-operating unions.

The government was commended for postponing the strike until May 15 and the federation expressed a view that compulsory arbitration be an alternative to settlement by strike.

Other developments Thursday included re-election of Dr. H. H. Hannam, president for 21 years. Trading stamps were criticized and a study was urged of high drug costs for presentation to doctor associations.

Canada was asked to take leadership in a plan to control the spread of nuclear weapons.

Main event at the conference was adoption of a new policy on prices, marketing and production which calls on farmers themselves to improve their chronic problems by co-ordin-

SARNIA LAND DEAL PROVOKES BLAST IN HOUSE

Mrs. Fairclough Under Attack

OTTAWA (CP)—The sale of a tract of Indian land near Sarnia—a transaction described as "iniquitous" by Liberal MP J. W. Pickersgill—produced an explosion Thursday in the Commons.

Mr. Pickersgill, member for Bonavista - Twillingate, clashed with Critizenship Minister Fairclough in a stormy half-hour sqcabble that kindled high feelings on both sides of the House.

Mr. Pickersgill, unsparing in his attack, accused Mrs. Fairclough and her departmental advisers of gross negligence and dereliction of duty for letting the land go at what he termed an inadequate price.

Mrs. Fairclough, flushed with indignation, fought back with the assertion that the Liberal MP was being "decidedly irresponsible." She also called him "the worst fussbudget in the House."

ANGERED BY SALE

Mr. Pickersgill was incensed that part of the land the Chippewa Indians sold to Dimensional Investments Limited about a year ago was resold by Dimensional to the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission at a much higher rate.

The Indians collected $6,521,946 for 3,100 acres—about $2,200 an acre. Dimensional collected $1,250,000 from Hydro for 176 acres—about $7,000 an acre.

Mr. Pickersgil is the former minister of citizenship, a portfolio that includes responsibility for Indian affairs.

It was the second year running that Mr. Pickersgill had brought up the Sarnia land deal in the Commons.

He also took swipes at Dimensional and the Ontario royal commission that investigated the land transaction last year. He said the commission's report "white-washed" the part of Ontario Hydro in the deal.

Mr. Pickersgill made a number of uncomplimentary refer-

J. W. Pickersgill (L—Bonavista-Twillingate) accused Immigration Minister Fairclough of "shocking neglect" in a 1959 sale of a tract of Indian land near Sarnia.

Mrs. Fairclough said Mr. Pickersgill was being "decidedly irresponsible," and declared: "I think we made an excellent deal for the Indians and I don't have an apology to make to anyone."

Labor Minister Starr issued a heated denial to a report that unemployed persons in Galt had been "reprimanded and intimidated" by National Employment Service officials for sending postcards to a Conservative MP.

External Affairs Minister Green said Canada is prepared to consider any UN request to send more Canadians to The Congo but that no such request has yet been received.

The Commons meets at 11 a.m. EST to continue debate on immigration department estimates. The Senate is adjourned until 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Large Posterior View of Nude Brings Complaint From Member

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons discussion couldn't be classed as artistic though the subject was art.

The debate Thursday night at times had a somewhat tenuous connection with the subject.

For instance, tear gas got mixed with the paints.

The matter of tear gas came up soon after Harold Winch (CCF—Vancouver East) began to speak.

"My greatest experience with an art gallery," he said, "was in connection with the Vancouver Art Gallery at the time of the sitdown strike, when they put us out of there with tear gas bombs."

It was the only time art ever made him cry, Mr. Winch added.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) complained about the smallness of the painting of the Marquess of Lorne which hangs in the National Gallery. The marquess, a former governor-general of Canada, founded the gallery.

Mr. Herridge said that close by the painting of the marquess is a "large and posterior view of an attractive nude."

This tended to keep visitors from noticing the marquess.

Out of respect for the gallery's founder, Mr. Herridge suggested, kilts should be painted on the nude.

However, a Liberal MP said the gallery doesn't get much notice from visitors to Ottawa. Reason: They don't know it is there, said Hubert Badanai (L—Fort William).

The sign on the front, he noted, says Lorne Building—the palatial new home of the gallery is named after the gallery's founder. Immigration Minister Fairclough said the sign question is under "active consideration."

Determined Bid For Better Tax Deal Forecast

Provincial Premiers Are in Fighting Mood

OTTAWA (CP)—It's the turn of the 10 provincial premiers today at the Dominion-provincial bargaining table. Every sign pointed to a determined fight to get better financial terms from Ottawa for the radically new tax era facing them.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker's tax proposal Thursday to the heads - of - government conference left the provinces with the apparently inevitable prospect of levying their own income taxes starting next year.

Mr. Diefenbaker offered the premiers increasingly more taxing room in the personal income tax field. And he said the federal government will collect the provincial taxes for free under certain circumstances.

But he also proposed a downgrading of federal equlization payments to needy provinces that, for some of them, would wipe out the benefit of the larger tax share.

CRITICIZE PLAN

At least half of the premiers were strongly critical of the new federal plan which would apply for five years starting April 1 next year. Provincial delegations worked late Thursday night preparing for today's concluding session of the two-day conference.

Mr. Diefenbaker's proposal in effect wrote an end to the tax-rental system which has governed Dominion-provincial tax relations since the Second World War.

His government, he said, "proposes to discontinue the tax-rental system" when present agreements expire March 31 next year.

This means that the provinces, instead of receiving a share of federal collections of personal and corporation income tax, will be forced into levying their own.

As the prime minister said at the last fiscal conference in October: The government that spends the money should take the responsibility of raising the money.

The present tax-rental agreements allot the provinces 13 per cent of personal income tax collections and nine per cent of corporation profits—roughly 22 per cent of the corporation income tax take.

PROPOSE REDUCTION

In place of this, the prime minister proposed a progressive reduction in the federal personal income tax, ranging from a 16-per-cent cut in 1962-63 up to a 20-per-cent reduction in 1966-67.

The federal corporation income tax would be reduced by a flat nine percentage points—equivalent to the present provincial share.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the provinces would be free to occupy part or all of the two tax areas vacated by Ottawa—and even more if they wished.

This would be "a return to the active responsibilities which the constitution confers upon both levels of government under the federal system."

Although he didn't spell it out, it also raised the possibility of double taxation in any province levying more than the federal tax reduction.

No premier gave any sign of wanting to do this. Premier

In general, the degree of pleasure or pain appeared to parallel pretty closely the amount of federal aid the provinces expect to gain or lose if the new financia arrangement comes into effect.

Here, with their premier's comment, is how the various provinces could expect to fare as set out in a "hypothetical illustration" of provincial receipts for 1962-63, worked out by federal finance experts and presented at the opening session of the Dominion-provincial conference.

Gains and losses represent the difference between what a province might get under Mr. Diefenbaker's new formula and what it might get if the present agreement were continued.

The figures are based on the assumption that there will be a five-per-cent annual increase in tax yields and that the provinces will tax at the levels suggested to them by Ottawa.

Newfoundland

Gain: $2,137,000

Premier Smallwood (Liberal): "I'm not suggesting it's perfect, but on balance it looks nice. Maybe on close examination some parts of it are not so good but I think on the whole it's an improvement."

Nova Scotia

Gain: $1,906,000

Premier Stanfield (Progressive Conservative): "It's helpful to Nova Scotia and we're always prepared to accept something that's helpful. It certainly doesn't solve all our problems but we will be better off than before."

Prince Edward Island

Gain: $958,000

Premier Shaw (Progressive Conservative): "The full impact of these proposals require a more detailed study . . . but they indicate a very considerable improvement over the old arrangement."

New Brunswick

Gain: $624,000

Premier Robichaud (Liberal): "I'm extremely disappointed. . . . The over-all increase to all provinces is $17,000,000 and Ontario is getting $18,000,000. All New Brunswick gets is a possible $900,000. I hope this is not the last word."

4-H Tractor Club At BCI Holds Meet

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the BCIVS 4-H Tractor Club was held in the school on February 21 at 12.20 p.m.

As there was no business, the meeting was turned over to Mr. Clark, who showed a safety flag on a pole he had made for use on tractors driven on roads. He planned to have all the members make one to use on their tractors as part of the Tractor Club project.

Mr. Clark discussed how a carburetor operates and explained that its job is to mix fuel and air. To do this, it is necessary to have the following four things: fuel supply, high speed system; low speed system and a priming system.

The next meeting will be held March 7 at 12.20 p.m.

Leslie Gardner And Anne Beach Contest Winners

Leslie Gardner of Turner's Public School, near Halloway was the senior division winner and Ann Beach of Frankford public school was the junior division winner in a Hastings-Prince Edward inspectorate public speaking final held Wednesday at Queen Alexandra Public School in Belleville.

Leslie and Ann, and the runner-up in the senior division, will compete in the district finals at Havelock March 4.

Runner-up in the senior division was Leisha Judd of Frankford Public School and Sharon Urch of Cannifton Public School was the runner-up on the junior division.

The winner of the senior division (grades 7 and 8) was awarded a gold medal donated by Hastings County Council and presented by Mrs. Harleigh Hamilton, wife of the county warden, and also received the Col. Vandewater trophy which was presented by Mrs. Roscoe Vandewater.

The winner of the junior division grades 5 and 6 was also awarded a trophy.

Runners-up received a book and the other contestants received silver dollars donated by the Teachers' Institute of the inspectorate.

The following speakers, who participated in the inspectorate finals, were winners and runners-up in the township finals of Sidney Thurlow and Ameliasburg:

Senior division: Leslie Gardner, Turner's school; Vetha Connor, Rednersville school; Anna Demczyna, Carmel school; Duane Horton, Carmel school; Leisha Judd, Frankford school; Elaine Mitchell, Ameliasburg school.

Drama Festival Will Be Held In Cobourg

A new experience in Cobourg history will take place in mid-March, when the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival is due to produce three 3-act plays on Thursday, Friday and Saturday commencing March 16th, and three one-act plays on Saturday afternoon. The adjudicator will be Ronald McNicoll.

This is both an honor and a challenge to the Cobourg Opera and Drama Guild and its executive, who are sponsoring the event of which Mr. Ken Brown is president. There is considerable administration detail connected with an enterprise of this size.

It is a tribute to the community spirit and good planning of the original members of the Cobourg Opera and Drama Guild who were responsible for renovating the Opera House in historic Victoria Hall, that Cobourg has been chosen for this Festival.

Mr. A. L. Wilson, Baltimore Road, has consented to act as director of the festival, owing to the loss of Mr. Werner Stambach, whose business interests have made it necessary for him to move to Toronto. Mrs. D. D. Murray will act as secretary and capable committees have been named.

It is hoped Port Hope, Colborne, Cobourg, Ottawa, Kingston, Smiths Falls and Belleville will show interest and give strong support to this cultural event.

SARNIA LAND

ences to Dimensional, declaring that judging from Toronto and other newspapers it was "not one of the most ancient and reputable organizations in this country." He referred to the firm as a "fly-by-night real estate operator."

Asked about the source for his reference to the royal commission, Mr. Pickersgill replied:

"I read the newspapers . . . and it is reasonable to assume that when all three Toronto newspapers agree on a fact, it is likely to be a fact."

Rounding out Thursday's better set-to, Mr. Pickersgill suggested that Mrs. Fairclough initiate an investigation to determine whether there was "any understanding or agreement" between Ontario Hydro and Dimensional Investments before the sale by the Indians to Dimensional was completed.

SUGGESTS REDRESS

If there was such an agreement, "I suggest that the whole matter be looked into again to make absolutely certain that there is not some redress we can still give the Indians whose trustees we are."

He said the Chippewas have so far collected only part of the money from Dimensional.

The dispute erupted as the House considered the 1961-62 spending estimates of the Indian affairs branch. The estimates, totalling $7,805,420, were approved.

Mrs. Fairclough, in a series of bristling replies to Mr. Pickersgill, denied that she and her aides has been derelict or negligent in approving the sale to Dimensional.

The Liberal member made much of the fact that the citizenship department knew that Ontario Hydro was interested in part of the land tract that Dimensional was buying. In fact, he said, there was "uncontradicted" evidence that the Dimensional-Hydro deal was concluded three days before the sale to Dimensional was approved.

SAYS 'IRRESPONSIBLE'

"If he wants to make a statement to the effect that the Indians were cheated, then I make a statement to the effect that his remarks are decidedly irresponsible," retorted Mrs. Fairclough.

"I think we made an excellent deal for the Indians," he said, "and I have no apology to make to anybody, including the honorable member, for that deal."

The department had obtained three valuations on the land "and none of them came anywhere near the valuation that my honorable friend now likes to propose as being a true valuation of that property."

She emphasized that the department had received no offer from Ontario Hydro on behalf of the Indians.

"Even if Hydro had paid directly to the Indians at the same rate the amount they are reputed to have paid now, the Indians still would not have as much money as they have at the present time from this property."

Mr. Pickersgill: "If the honorable lady thinks it is none of her business, when her department knew that Hydro was interested in this land, to inquire in advance whether they could not make a better deal with them, I regard that as a dereliction of duty and I do not think it is 'irresponsible' for any member of Pariament to describe it in those terms."

CLAIMS DOUBT

Mr. Pickersgill claimed that when the Chippewa band council gathered to vote on the sale to Dimensiona there seemed to be some doubt it woud be approved.

"According to the information given to me, a legal representative of the company, when he saw the way the vote was going, said there would be another $100 paid right away if the vote was favorable. If that had been a vote in a federal election, that vote would have been invalidated. . . ."

Mrs. Fairclough: "The honorable member is saying that this proposition was made by the company to the Indians before the vote was taken. I say the proposition was made by the Indians to the company after the vote had been taken, and that is a different thing."

In answer to another interjection by Mrs. Fairclough the Liberal MP explained he had referred to "another hundred in cash right away — not an increase in the price, of course."

CHANGE MOON VIEWS

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet scientist reports the moon's surface is comparable to hardened foam, not dust, Tass news agency said today. Vzevolod Troitsky established by radio-telescope that the moon's outer shell is hard to a depth of at least a yard, Tass reported. Radio signals are of a strength and character which make it impossible to support earlier views that the moon is covered with a thick layer of dust, Troitsky said.

Govt. Approves $945.91 Grant To Moira River Authority

Clarke T. Rollins, MPP, (Hastings East), today announced that the Government of Ontario has approved two grants totalling $945.91 to the Moira River Conservation Authority.

Mr. Rollins said that the Hon. W. M. Nickle, Minister of Commerce and Development, had informed him that the province was granting $385.41 to enable the authority to develop the Col. Roscoe Vanderwater Conservation Area near Thomasburg, north of Belleville.

A further sum of $560.50 has been approved as a grant of 50 per cent of the total costs of acquiring an additional four acres of land for this area. The holding, known locally as the Carter property, lies beside the Moira River on Highway 37 and adjoins the 415 acres already owned by the Authority.

In announcing the grants, Mr. Rollins explained that this Conservation Area, officially opened by the Hon. W. M. Nickle, last August 1st, 1960, provides an attractive picnic site for tourists and local residents at a scenic point where the Moira River flows through a deep gorge and over rapids. Demonstration pasture lots, farm ponds and woodlots illustrate good conservation techniques.

Named in honor of the first Chairman of the Authority, the late Col. Roscoe Vanderwater, the Conservation Area includes land that has been leased to the Belleville Boy Scout Association for camping purposes so that Scouts will be able to use the various conservation demonstrations in their training.

Streets, Ditches Turned Into Flooded Torrents

The city public works department was flooded with calls yesterday following the morning half inch fall of rain which turned streets and ditches into flooded torrents.

Public works officials said every available man was put to work in the struggle to clear culverts and ditches to allow the water to get away and thus reduce flooding as much as possible.

Low area of streets in several sections of the city were like miniature lakes as surface water from the high levels failed to get away.

Even late in the afternoon College Street between North Front Street and Quinte Secondary School was still flooded.

Public works officials said department employees have been at work unplugging culverts and drains since last Saturday while with yesterday's rain every available man was switched to the same job as calls to city hall piled up.

The surface run-off was more pronounced owing to the fact that frost made it impossible for the water to soak into the ground.

Retired Minister Will Reside In This City

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Rev. Neil D. Patterson, minister of Mark Street United Church here for the last eight years, announced today he will retire June 30.

Dr. Patterson served for several years on the United Church of Canada's board of pensions. He came here from Brantford in 1953.

Dr. Patterson and his wife intend to take up permanent residence in Belleville.

Dr. J. B. Collip, Native of City Retires in June

Dr. James Bertram Collip, dean of medicine at Western University in London, and former resident of this city, will retire from his post at the end of June, it has been announced by the university board of governors.

He has held the post for the past 14 years and will be succeeded by Dr. O. H. Warwick, now assistant professor of medicine at the University of Toronto. Dr. Collip will continue at the university as professor and head of the department of medical research.

Dr. Collip will be remembered in Belleville where his father at one time operated a florist shop.

He graduated from the University of Toronto in 1912 and was later associated with the University of Alberta and McGill University.

A member of the National Research Council of Canada from 1938 until 1957 he served as its first director of research. He holds many degrees and fellowships and has received honorary doctrates from universities in Canada, the United States and Britain.

Dr. Collip has won international achievements, particularly for his work with Dr. Frederick Banting by producing insulin used in treating diabetes.

He was the first person to demonstrate ACTH (Adrenocorticotropic Hormone) which has played an important part in medical treatment.

Radio Engineers Hold Meeting

On Wednesday evening the Bay of Quinte Section of the Institute of Radio Engineers held its meeting in the junior school auditorium at the Ontario School for the Deaf. The address entitled "Binaural Systems As An Aid to Teaching the Deaf" was given jointly by Mr. J. Boyd, audological services adviser at the OSD and Mr. A. Jamroz, supervisor of audio and video development of the research and development division of the Northern Electric Co.

The speakers gave a report on the methods used in evaluating hearing ability, and the results of various tests using monaural and binaural systems done on an experimental basis. A monaural system utilizes a single microphone connected through an audio amplifier to both ears of a person taking such tests. In a binaural system, two microphones are used with each microphone connected through an audio amplifier to each ear independently.

A tour was provided of a typical classroom equipped with hearing aids, as well as a visit to the audological clinic where the hearing ability is evaluated using an audiometer, and other electronic equipment.

Weekend Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP)—Prices were fully steady on an improved demand for all classes and grades of slaughter cattle this week at the Ontario public stockyards.

Veal calves traded actively on the opener but lost some strength throughout the week. Hog prices were unchanged but sows closed $2.25 lower. Lambs held steady on a narrow demand.

Cattle receipts, estimated at 6,600 head, were about 300 head more than last week and some 300 head more than the same week last year. Receipts from Western Canada totalled 420 head compared to 300 head last week and Western stock calves numbered 85 head.

There were no shipments to Eastern Canadian slaughterers and no exports to the United States.

Slaughter cattle: Choice steers $24-24.50, sales to 24.80; good 22.50-23.50; medium 20-22; common 16-20; good heifers 21-22, with a few choice at 22.50; medium 20-21; common 15-19; choice fed yearlings 25-26.50; good 23-25; good cows mostly 16.50-17, odd tops to 17.50; medium 15-16; common 14-15; canner and cutter cows 11-14; good heavy bologna bulls 19, common and medium 15-18.50.

Replacement cattle: Good light steer stockers 22-24; heavy Western steer stock calves to 26.50; common and medium stockers and stock heifer calves from 20-22 with off colored light dairy boner stockers to 16.

Calves: Choice vealers 35-37; odd extreme tops to 38; good 31-34; medium 26-30; common 20-25; boners 14-19.

Hogs: Grade A 29.50; heavy sows 24; lights 26; stags 16 on a dressed weight basis.

Sheep and lambs: Good handyweight lambs 21.50; good heavies 17-18; common and medium 12-20; good light sheep 8-10; some yearlings up to 14; common and fat sheep 3-7.

Editors Hold Conference at St. Cathearines

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) Need for continual improvement of the newspaper product was stressed by Larry N. Smith of the St. Catharines Standard at the opening session today of the Canadian Managing editors conference.

Mr. Smith, president of CMEC, spoke to some 65 conference members representing newspapers, wire news services and news syndicates across ada.

He said there has been some valid and constructive criticism of newspapers in the last year, the best of it coming from men who are themselves editors.

Newspapers were not "fading", as the title of one American book suggested. But editors should ask themselves whether newspapers were growing in strength and acceptability as they should.

PRAISED AID

Last year the restrictive trade practices commission termed newspapers the biggest aid in formulating public opinion and the principal channel of communication.

"That's fine praise," said Mr. Smith, "but it's also a blunt warning of our responsibilities."

There was need to seek ways to present the major news in a coherent and meaningful way.

"The big stories today are not one-shot deals. Most are continuing stories — space, segregation, summitry, Africa, Castro, Russia They go on and on and must be kept alive and made meaningful lest boredom set in."

The times demanded a return to the pursuit of excellence in all endeavors. Newspapers could help first by improving their own product wherever possible, and then by helping to create a climate in which excellence can be regarded as modern rather than stuffy and old-fashioned. They must look closely at what they emphasize and find ways to do their job better.

During the two-day conference, 15th for the organization, editors will discuss reporting in depth, presentation of background material, photography, youth readership, libel and contempt, education coverage and other topics.

The conference ends Sunday.

PROMOTES QUEBEC

Charles Lussier, 40, has been appointed Quebec's first agent-general in Europe. His job will be to promote French investment in Quebec and establish European markets for Quebec products as well as to develop closer cultural links between France and Quebec. The Montreal-born lawyer takes up his new post March 1 and will make his headquarters in Paris where he has been director since 1957 of a centre for Canadian students. (CP Photo).

DETERMINED

Bennett of British Columbia said flatly that he wouldn't.

But Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said the federal move is "fraught with danger."

"Without clear-cut leadership from Ottawa, there is every possibility that we will return to the tax jungle of the 1930s. . . . From now on it's every man for himself in the income tax field."

Premier Lesage of Quebec expressed bitter criticism of the federal plan. He told reporters it is "an immense deception . . . not acceptable . . . unthinkable . . . unbelievable."

Premier Frost of Ontario, whose province would be the only one to gain substantially, said the proposal is "very, very far removed from Ontario's requirements."

On the other hand three Atlantic premiers—Smallwood of Newfoundland, Stanfield of Nova Scotia and Shaw of Prince Edward Island—had praise for the plan.

The prime minister promised an increase to $35,000,000 from $25,000,000 annually in the special Atlantic province adjustment grants shared by the four eastern provinces.

But Premier Robichaud of New Brunswick said the federal proposals were "extremely disappointing."

Much of the provincial criticism was reserved for the federal plan to make a fundamental change in the formula of equalization payments to needy provinces.

Instead of being based only on yields from the direct tax fields—personal and corporate income tax and succession duty—the payments would also be geared in part to provincial tax revenues from natural resources such as forests, mines and oil wells.

More important, equalization payments would be designed to bring tax yields in less wealthy provinces up to the national average, and not to the average of the two wealthiest, Ontario and B.C., as at present.

Two provinces, Quebec and Ontario, already are exercising their constitutional rights in the direct tax fields of income tax and succession duty.

Quebec collects its own personal and corporation income taxes and succession duty. Ontario rents the personal tax to Ottawa but collects the other two taxes on its own.

The other eight provinces rent all three tax fields to Ottawa in return for the agreed share of 13 per cent of personal income taxes, nine per cent of corporation profits and 50 per cent of succession duty.

Mr. Diefenbaker's offer provides for free federal collection of personal and corporation income taxes, so long as federal and provincial tax rules are identical.

As for succession duty, in provinces wishing to collect their own the federal estate tax would be cut by half. Provinces not wishing to collect the duty would get half of federal estate tax collections, as at present.

Want V. P. Carswell to Speak To H-S Club and Outline Education Standard in Town

TRENTON — Sqdn. Ldr. R. M. L. Bowdery, staff officer, public relations, at RCAF Air Transport Command, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Queen Elizabeth Home and School Club Wednesday evening.

To illustrate his talk Sqdn. Ldr. Bowdery showed a film dealing with the airlift operation known as "Operation Big Stick," which showed large numbers of military personnel and heavy equipment being dropped by parachute at a site where they were needed.

Following Sqdn. Ldr. Bowdery's talk, the parents held a discussion forum and later were served refreshments.

During the meeting, Mrs. J. E. Jessup, one of the parents, suggested that in view of the fact that what she described as a "nasty column" written in a Toronto newspaper had mentioned the standard of education in Trenton, that V. P. Carswell, supervising principal of Trenton public schools, should be asked to speak to the Queen Elizabeth Home and School Club in March about the standard of education in town.

Several other parents, however, said this would be a short time in which to prepare the questions that might be presented as part of the discussion panel that would possibly be held after the talk.

As a result it was decided to ask Mr. Carswell to address the club in April. Prepared question are to be sent to the club president, Mrs. H. Pearce, ahead of time so that they can be incorporated in the discussion.

Earlier in the evening, members of the club decided to hold another Fun Fair at the school this year as has been the practice in past years. Mr. Bedford explained that it would only be possible to have one money-raising effort a year and it was felt the Fun Fair had proved the best method of increasing funds.

Many improvements have been added to the school and playground during the past few years by this means. The Fun Fair will be held May 5.

In reference to the fact that teachers in Trenton schools have declared their intention of no longer being responsible for the paper work connected with insuring children attending schools, several parents asked what is to be done about the matter.

Mr. Bedford said that last year both the Queen Elizabeth and North Trenton schools had been the subject of breakins after money had been collected for the children's insurance policies. This was one reason why such collections were stopped. The matter now is under investigation by the home and school club executive, to see if a way can be found for the club to arrange to collect the insurance money.

Mrs. M. Cassidy's grade 1 class won the room count which took place during the meeting.

Buck, Woodcock Freed by Court

BRIGHTON — Charges of breaking and entering and theft against Carl Buck, 19, and Gordon Woodcock, 23, both of Trenton, were dismissed in magistrate's court here Thursday.

The two men were charged in connection with break-ins at, and thefts from cottages at Barcovan Beach near Brighton.

Buck and Woodcock had been lodged in the Northumberland County jail at Cobourg pending their appearance in court. They were returned to Canada from the U.S. when O.P.P. Corporal Lloyd Lyle of Brighton issued a warrant for their arrest.

Expert on T.B. Addresses Feb. H-S Meeting

TRENTON — Dr. James T. Naismith of Kingston Sanitarium, addressed members of the Dufferin Street Home and School Association Wednesday night.

Dr. Naismith, a specialist in the treatment of tuberculosis, said that T.B. is still a big problem, especially among children.

He explained the latest methods of testing children for possible tuberculosis by vaccination. If a positive reaction follows, he said, x-rays are taken. In this manner, any infection which may be present is dealt with before it becomes dangerous.

Dr. Naismith, who was born in India of Scottish missionary parents, was introduced to the association by Donald Sutherland. His talk was followed by a question -and-answer period.

During the business part of the meeting members agreed to hold another open house at Dufferin school this year, as the one held there last year had been successful. The question of prizes for the various rooms was shelved until the next meeting.

Key Clubbers Tell Kiwanians Of Activities

TRENTON — Two speakers from Belleville service clubs addressed Trenton Kiwanians Thursday night and outlined the work being done among young people in the Belleville area through the Kiwanis Key Clubs. The speakers were David Deacon, former Key Clubber, who now works with Key Clubs in the city, and 17-year-old Robert Burr, president of the Belleville Key Club.

Robert Johnson of the Trenton boys and girls committee, introduced the speakers. Mr. Deacon outlined his work with the Key Club in Belleville.

The boys there pay about $2.50 a year to be members of the organization, said Mr. Deacon, and hold meetings every other week. The meetings take the form of a dinner meeting every two weeks. Two adult Kiwanians attend each meeting and a Kiwanis speaker always addresses the dinner meeting.

Key Club president Burr, who attends BCIVS, said that emblems now are distributed among Key Club members in the city so that they can be worn at football matches and at other sporting events. It takes 12 members to get a club started, he said.

As well as the Belleville speakers, several Key Club delegates from both Belleville and Picton attended the meeting here.

Fire Chief Retires

TRENTON — Fire Chief Cecil Ellis, president of the Hastings and Prince Edward Mutual Aid Firemen's Association and Fire Chief Gerald Vance of Belleville, co-ordinator of the association, Wednesday night presented a gift to retiring Fire Chief J. J. Maroney of Madoc.

ated expansion in self-regulated marketing boards and co-operatives.

Throughout the four-day session, the conference was told—and kept reminding itself—that while farm efficiency has far outpaced that in industry since the Second World War, the farmer's position has become no better or is actually worse off.

COSTS HIGHER

There was more food and the consumer paid less but abundance had dropped prices while costs rose.

On oil seeds an amended resolution finally settled on the addition of the CFA and the Dairy Farmers of Canada as participants at a Winnipeg conference March 13 on the subject.

The federal government has asked the tariff board to examine the question of tariffs on oil seeds and by-products entering Canada to compete with soy beans, rape seed and sunflower products grown here.

Canada grows about $12,000,000 worth of soy beans a year and imports some $47,000,000 worth in oil, oilcake meal for livestock feed and other items the convention was told.

The rub is that the tariff increases sought by western and eastern growers—a sharp contrast to the farm community's general support for free trade—clash with dairy interests. While tariffs would run up costs for the margarine makers now taking so much business from the the butter trade, thus aiding dairy farmers, the tariffs would also raise the cost of oilcake used as a high-protein dairy feed.

Owen Sound's Ancient City Hall Gutted

OWEN SOUND (CP)—Flames ravaged Owen Sound's 90-year-old city hall today, destroying much of the inside of the brick structure but apparently leaving city records intact in vaults.

The fire, which broke out before dawn, was put out in about six hours.

The building, insured for $160,000, was fronted by a 90-foot clock tower atop its two storeys, and firemen for a time feared it would topple. Neighboring buildings were evacuated but the tower and walls stood through the fire.

Flames burst through the building's roof and wiped out the police station office, magistrates' section and city engineer's office. Other sections of the building were badly damaged by smoke and water, and it appeared it would have to be torn down and replaced.

Some records were saved after the outbreak at 4 a.m., but city employees and firemen were unable to get to a vault containing today's pay cheques for about 100 civic workers.

City clerk James McCubbin rescued copies of all Owen Sound's bylaws, which could be re-enacted if the originals in the main vault turned out to be destroyed.

Fire trucks from Meaford, 18 miles east of here, and Chatsforth, nine miles south, joined the Owen Sound department in fighting the fire.

Liberal Party Goes on Record For Fluoridation

TORONTO (CP)—The Liberal party today went on record as favoring fluoridation of municipal water supplies with the consent of the electorate.

Leo Troy (L—Nipissing) introduced a bill in the legislature that would provide for fluoridation "along the lines recommended by the committee appointed to inquire into and report upon fluoridation of municipal water supplies."

The committee recommended unanimously this week that the government enact legislation empowering municipalities to fluoridate their water supplies without a referendum.

Mr. Troy's bill would make flouridation subject to a municipal vote.

The bill proposes that where a municipality maintains and operates waterworks for the supply of water to another municipality, it may not supply fluoridated water without the consent of the other municipality.

Mr. Troy's home town of North Bay voted for fluoridation in 1954.

The government is expected to introduce similar legislation of its own at this session.

Clear Decision on Fluoridation

The report of the Ontario Royal Commission on fluoridation ought to end argument and make action possible.

The commission recommended that municipalities should be given the power to fluoridate their water supplies and that such decisions should be permitted without the holding of referendums.

Referendums, while widely used in Canada, are an importation from the United States, stemming from the belief that decisions should follow the wishes of the majority. This was a feasible idea in the days when municipal problems were relatively simple and a town meeting could discuss and decide any question. Today, though, we need to return to the British idea, which is that it is not the right of the people as a whole to make decisions, but rather to select representatives who will make these decisions for them. It is a system which is better equipped to handle complex problems, where decisions must be based on technical, rather than common, knowledge.

The Frost Government should have no difficulty in accepting this principle, for in a sense it has already embraced it whole-heartedly, forbidding at least one Ontario city from acting on a favorable referendum vote for fluoridation, pending the report of the commission.

The commission holds that tooth decay is so widespread that a reduction in its incidence is "a problem of prevention, not one of cure." There are other preventive measure which could be taken, but fluoridation of water is obviously the simplest, probably the cheapest and certainly the most effective.

The commission dealt with objections on medical, religious and ethical grounds. The fact that fluoride is a poison is bushed aside, as it ought to be, since so many of the substances which we eat are poisons if taken in concentrated doses—the chlorine which makes our water safe, the iodine which is added to salt to prevent goitre are just two examples which spring to mind.

The opponents have had more than their fair say on this matter of fluoridation. What the report recommends is not that all water be fluoridated, but that municipalities whose councils decide fluoridation is expedient should have the authority to proceed with the work and that legislation should be enacted authorizing the fluoridation of water supplies which are not controlled or operated by municipalities. Surely these recommendations are so reasonable that the Legislature need not long debate them, but can act with celerity.

Russian Reading Habits

What have Khrushchev and Jules Verne in common? Both tell tall stories? No, that isn't the answer. Let's try again, with a different question. In what way are Mr. K. and Agatha Christie alike? Both deal in murders? Well, no, not exactly. Give up? Khrushchev, Verne and Agatha Christie are among the top ten in the world's most translated authors.

This information is given in "Index Translationum," published annually by Unesco. Khrushchev tops the list with 198 translations, most of them into the various languages of the Soviet Union. Lenin is second and the Bible, translated 171 times during 1959, is third. Two more Russians, but of the older school, Tolstoy and Dostoeivsky, follow, but sandwiched between them is Jules Verne. One would guess that the reason for Verne's popularity must lie in the number of translations into languages of the USSR and it is interesting to note that this pioneer in science fiction should be so popular in the land that launched the Sputniks.

Agatha Christie, the detective story writer, is seventh and Shakespeare is eighth. Next in line is Georges Simenon, with Hans Andersen and Karl Marx, an unlikely team if ever there was one, tying for tenth place. Others with over 50 translations are Chekhov and Balzac, Pearl Buck, A. J. Cronin, Zola, Pasternak, Somerset Maugham, Erle Stanley Gardner, Turgenev, Graham Greene, Jack London, Dickens and Pushkin.

The Soviet Union, with 5,254 translations into all the languages of the Union, was far in front of all other nations. Germany, in second place, translated 2,068 books, followed by France, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Italy, the Netherlands, Spain, Japan, the United States and Sweden.

The biggest problem about so-called stardom is that it puts you out of work. At the most, you can only do two or three pictures a year and can never do a small role.—Actor Jack Lemmon.

Women Poor Night Drivers

Port Arthur News-Chronicle

While women drivers have been shown to be less accident-prone than men, there is one period when they are more likely to become involved in traffic accidents: At a time of year when the glare of headlights is an afternoon as well as an evening hazard, and when it is aggravated by the glare of snow, it is well to alert all motorists to the dangers of night driving.

According to a bulletin of the Ontario department of transport, one of the possible reasons why women are more prone to accidents at night is that their eyes recover more slowly from glare. Under tests, women have shown they can stand 55 units of light against man's 58.

Women are definitely the weaker sex in resisting glare. The average man takes 5.5 seconds to recover from the glare of bright lights while it takes 7.5 seconds for a woman to recover. Translated into highway conditions, the bulletin states that at 60 m.p.h. a woman would travel 176 feet further than a man in those two seconds because of being blinded by light.

• • •

This is not set down with the intention of scaring women drivers from the road at night, but to allert them to possibilities. In all fairness, of course, we should point out there are other compensating factors which help women to be better drivers on the whole than men—or at least act in such a fashion that only a small minority ever become involved in traffic accidents. Based on Ontario figures the record is about one woman driver involved in an accident for every nine men.

Despite this fine record women drivers have become traditionally the butt of many jokes and much derision from their male counterparts. This may be partly due to the fact that women are less likely to have an intimate knowledge of the inner workings of a car engine and its other mechanical functions.

Yet there is no reason why they should not be well informed—even better informed, on the whole, than the menfolk. Many men who work in offices or stores, rather than in industrial plants, may know little or nothing about the mechanics of a car, even though they assume they do. On the other hand, the average woman whose job is housework even though she may be employed outside the home, is well acquainted with the multiplicity of mechanical gadgets in her kitchen and other parts of the home.

• • •

So we have been interested in a little booklet, Car Talk in a woman's language, which likens the operation of the family car and its mechanism to various familiar household gadgets. It refers to cylinders shaped like butter churns, pistons to wedding rings, gears and shafts as operating like an egg beater. And so on down the line.

The booklet, issued by a manufacturer of spark plugs, makes interesting and informative reading. If it can do anything to improve driver efficiency among women—as well as other people—it will have done a valued service.

Credit Card Racket

By Elmore Philpott in the Vancouver Sun

This bad-tempered piece must be about my pet peeve of 1961—the credit card curse.

I have been in and out of the really swank hotels in the biggest eastern cities on my present lecture tour.

The more I look around in the restaurants and at the check-out counters, the more I am convinced that more and more people are travelling on wide-open expense account credit cards.

They are getting away with bloody murder on those cards..

For not only are they charging up just about everything you can think of in the way of eating and drinking to that good old expense account, it all gets by as a deduction from the income tax..

I think any alert squad of revenue department investigators could discover that, under the heading of business entertainment, numerous wise guys are charging up visits to night clubs and even more colorful and expensive forms of female companionship.

• • •

Watch for the credit card racket to be broken wide-open in the near future. Maybe U.S. Senator Kefauver or Attorney-General Kennedy will exert influence.

Apart from any deliberate abuses there may be in connection with the use of the wide-open credit cards, the system itself seems to be a sympton of a society in a sad state of disintegration.

The sad truth is that is just not true.

We ought to have priced ourselves out of the market, to judge from the outrageous, sky-high prices they charge for so many goods and services. But the profiteers are getting away with it. The luxury market is booming via credit cards.

• • •

Take the new motel just outside the enormous new airport at Montreal. An American outfit built it. It is good accomodation.

Who pays it? Plenty of them—go look-see. And also at who pays the enormous charges they now make for the meals in the biggest city hotels.

You just can't get a modest meal in some of the biggest hotels. They insist on selling you enormous portions at equally enormous prices.

No wonder more and more businessmen are swilling down a can of Metrecal in lieu of lunch in a regular restaurant. The restaurants in the biggest city hotels cater to people with enormous appetites, and preferably with carte blanche credit cards.

• • •

Somebody should start a revolt of the worms—we suckers who are still old-fashioned enough to pay cash on the line for what we consume...

For if you pay cash, you are paying a disgraceful share of the cost of keeping up this extravagant card system..

Even my bank charges me so many cents for every transaction shown in my account. And so it should.

But what is the real cost of keeping up this elaborate credit card system, which is eating like a cancer through our whole society? Nobody knows—or at least nobody knows who is willing to tell all.

Electronic Wonder Toy

Ottawa Journal

Toys have changed in the age of electronics. A Montreal store offers this:

"An intercom set which transmits the human voice vibrations over pulsating sunlight reflected from a 'reflector mirror' through a 'reflector glow light' to a photo-electric cell which converts the voice-vibrated light into electric impulses. These in turn are reconverted into sounds heard through the receivers earphone exactly as they were spoken."

And we used to play with telephones made with two baking powder tins and a length of linen thread.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

DO WE REALLY KNOW ANYTHING?

Kipling wrote many years ago that —

There are six and twenty ways
Of composing tribal lays —
And every single one of them is right.

Some people just can't get this into their minds. "There are only two ways to do this thing — my way and the wrong way." "How can people be so stupid and perverse as to close their minds to this self-evident truth I am trying to advance?" "If folks would only listen to reason!"

So they rant along with the little sense they were born with gradually slipping away like wheat running out of a sack with a hole in it. A lack of self confidence tortures and slays its thousands, but obstinancy and bigotry its tens of thousands.

The open mind should not be open at both ends, for then truth goes into the mind and out again without accomplishing anything worthwhile. But the mind must be kept open lest we die — particularly mentally and spiritually. There are ways of doing things vastly better— then anything we ever thought about. Lots of "absurd ideas" have plenty of truth in them. What we know as compared to what there is to know is as a grain of sand compared to the area of the North American continent,

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

February 24th, 1941.

Earlier in the week, published in the 20-year-ago column ~~of this [illegible]~~, was the account of a hockey game played in Port Hope, when Belleville beat the old Ontarios 8 to 2. There were a couple of incidents during that game that were never published. One was when a Port Hope woman, armed with a heavy stick, chased Frank "Soup" Goyer all the way from the old Port Hope rink to the Queens Hotel. Belleville fans wagered several hundred dollars on the game and the bets were locked in the hotel safe; but after the game the pub manager went home and the local boys had quite a time collecting their winnings. That also was the night "Gunner" Arnott fired a puck right through the net behind Micks, the Port Hope goalie, and the hometown goal umpire would not signal a goal. "Gunner" was fit to be tied - - "face off that puck and I'll put it through the same hole in the net," bellowed Arnott; and believe it or not, he did just that. "Now count that one, you blind - - - - -", shoued "Gunner" to the referee, and Daw Whalen skated up to the goal umpire and threatened to comb his hair with his puck shillelagh. 'Them was the happy days.'

The World Is a Fool's Paradise

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

My cursory mention of Brooklyn in a recent column set off a train of thought about the habit, in various countries (and at all times), of designating one particular city or region as the home of fools.

If not fools, then simple-minded folk, or eccentrics, or somewhat mad characters. But every nation, so far as I can discover, has perpetuated a legend that somewhere within its borders there exists a community fit only to be derided or despised.

This dates back to pre-Biblical times. In ancient days, Phrygia was the "home" of fools in Asia Minor. Abdera was a laughingstock among the Thracians, and Boeatia, among the Greeks. Classical literature is filled with such deprecatory references.

Nazareth was considered in the same light by the ancient Hebrews — which adds an irony (unknown to most moderns) to the Biblical phrase "Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth?" (John 1:46) That this village should produce Jesus seemed like a poor joke to sophisticated Palestinians.

Among modern nations, the same tendency has persisted. Most famous, perhaps, is the city of Gotham in England — which is still around in the nursery rhyme of the three "wise" men of Gotham who went to sea.

Actually, the "folly" of Gotham was a form of rustic shrewdness. In the Middle Ages, King John announced a visit to Gotham with the intention of purchasing a castle and grounds there. The townsmen had no desire to be saddled with this expense and therefore when the royal messengers appeared, wehrever they went they saw the people engaged in some idiotic pursuit.

The king, being told of it, abandoned the project, and the "wise men" of the village cunningly remarked, "We think there are more fools who pass through Gotham than remain in it." Yet its reputation for idiocy has become a British tradition.

Swabia was the fools' ground in modern Germany for many generations and most of the German jokes about idiocy revolved around "two Swabians." Likewise, in France the town of Charenton maintains an unjustified reputation for looniness simply because some of the earliest insane asylums were located there. But truth has little power against myth.

It seems as though every country is forced to relegate its particular form of foolishness to one locale, in this way, it thinks to rid itself of national folly. By laughing at the Gothamites it seeks to ward off laughter against the rest of the nation. Brooklyn serves a useful purpose for America's self-esteem.

THE PACKSACK

BY GREGORY CLARK

You do not, as a rule, look directly at a person wearing dark glasses. Since you cannot see the expression in their eyes, you are at a loss. So you avoid the normal human process of exchanging a glance with those you encounter.

"Shy people," an optical dealer tells me, "find dark glasses a real boon. They feel sheltered, hidden, behind them. They are, actually, a sort of mask. In places like Hollywood and around the hotels and fashionable gathering places in New York and other big cities, you will see an extraordinary number of people, men as well as women, hiding behind dark glasses even on days when there is no suggestion of glare or other impediment in the atmosphere. In such places are to be found a larger concentration of nervous and high-strung individuals, the kind who take cocktails to boost them up and tranquiliser pills to quiet them down. Behind their dark glasses, they have fewer eyes to meet, since fewer people look directly at them. And from the ambush of their dark glasses they can look at the world around them with a bolder stare."

He says he knows of doctor's prescribing dark glasses for nervous patients; and the fashion is increasing.

Plugged Pulmonary Artery Can Have Many Causes

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain pulmonary infarction. Can it be caused by pneumonia? Also, what is generalized arteriosclerosis? — Mrs. R. E."

An infarction is a change in tissue due to an artery supplying that area becoming plugged and hence shutting off the blood supply.

When this occurs in some branch of the artery which supplies the heart muscle, it is a "coronary infarction," or heart attack.

But an infarction can ocur in the lung, and thus is a pulmonary infartion.

Or, for that matter, a clot can lodge in an artery elsewhere in the body, and cause an infarction — in the leg, the pelvic region, or elsewhere.

Yes, pneumonia can be a cause of pulmonary infarction.

However, let's take your other question into consideration: Generalized arteriosclerosis may well have a bearing on an infarction, too. In fact, it is quite likely to be involved to some extent.

Arteriosclerosis means hardening of the arteries. When it is prevalent throughout the body, then we say it is generalized.

As the arteries become hardened, or "sclerosed," and lose some of their elasticity, they no longer can pass small clots as readily. Usually, as the arteries become hardened, they also become somewhat caked with fatty material, further obstructing the blood's passage through them.

In the above letter, the mention of the two things, pneumonia and arteriosclerosis would seem to indicate that the patient in question had both, and the infarction followed.

The infarction could have been caused by either condition alone. However, the probability is that they worked together to cause the infarction

Something to always keep in mind in safeguarding our health is that while one particular thing can cause a certain type of injury, in most cases several factors more than likely will unite to do the mischief.

• • •

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am 35 and have the problem of my hands and feet becoming very itchy after I have come inside after getting a little cold. This condition gets worse each year and I wonder if anything can be done.—W.C."

Quite likely, yes. Your description — and I have to guess what you might mean by "very itchy" and "getting a little cold" — suggests some sort of distrubance of the arteries. This could be originating from a nervous condition, or from some toxic one.

Previous injury from frostbite could be involved. Or excessive use of tobacco (which has an effect on the arteries) could be a factor. Treatment, therefore, depends on what your doctor finds when he checks you over.

• • •

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is stripping a sure cure for varicose veins, or can further trouble develop? — E. Q."

Stripping a vein means removing it. It's a sure cure for that vein. It cannot, of course, guarantee that trouble can't develop in some other vein.

Many times the stripping operation marks the end of the trouble. And even if trouble does recur in other veins, there has usually been several years' of relief.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE AGE LIMIT

In this day and age of "Social Security" one hears a great deal about a man's or woman's usefulness being caged, clipped, or restricted by that which is called "the age limit."

I must confess that I find it difficult to get the exact meaning of this term.

Is there an age limit to a man's or woman's usefulness, resourcefulness and creative ability? Or does the man or woman, himself or herself, fix all this?

I am a believer in youth — Plus!

And a man or woman long past his or her fifties may easily have all this. There are many old and useless men and women at the age of thirty.

The story is told of a famous doctor who one urged that men past sixty be done away with. But, as I recall, that would have done away with the famed doctor himself!

When we have lost our interest, our desire to rise higher, our hope for finer things, for more Understanding of this "one world" of ours — when we have forgotten how to be kind and to be thoughtful toward other people — when we find work lacking in inspiration, then we have reached our age limit.

There is something very splendid about youth and its enthusiasms, but with the broadening of the mind over the years comes a value to character that youth never knows. The youthful President Kennedy will be a much wiser man when he leaves the White House than when he first crossed its threshold.

How finely named was that marvelous statesman William E. Gladstone, whom they called "The Grand Old Man." At the age of eighty he fairly swam in his enthusiasm. And, of course, there is Winston Churchill, Bernard Baruch, former President Eisenhower, and many others of like calibre.

Leave your yaers alone. Pay attention to what you put into them!

Jap Apples Sold in B.C.

Vancouver Sun

Japanese canned baked apples are selling in Vancouver at two apples for 45 cents.

Canadian businessmen may sometimes justly complain the Japanese undersell us because of cheap labor. But an apple deal like this proves they have it over us both coming and going.

Okanagan apples were selling in Vancouver simultaneously for six cents to 15 cents each.

True, the Japanese apples were a luxury item. They were even ripened in transparent paper bags to preserve unblemished skins. The best British Columbian growers had on view in the luxury line were five apples on shredded purple paper in a cheap peach basket with a bit of cellophane held over the top by a rubber band. Cost 75 cents. Appeal, nil.

If the Japanese can sell two Japanese apples to a British Columbian for 45 cents, that's not cheap labor — that's brains.

And as long as a two-for-45-cent apple demand exists in Vancouver, if it's not filled by B.C. apples, that's laziness.

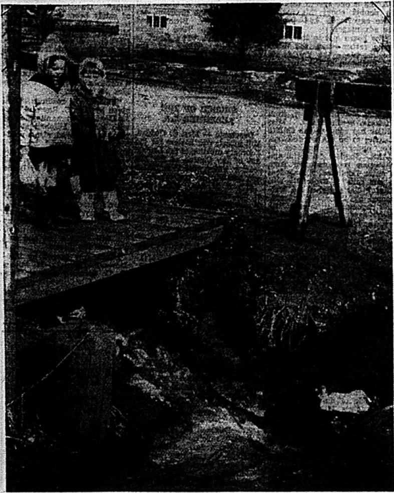
SCENE OF TRAGEDY — Above is a view of the College Street ditch into which six-year-old Terry McDonald fell yesterday at noon. The white arrow indicates the culvert entrance through which the boy was pulled by the suction of flood waters flowing into the catchbasin. The black arrow indicates the manhole through which the lad's body was recovered by Fireman Ralph Thompson.

At the left of the telephone pole may be seen the catwalk from which local police believe the boy slipped and fell into the water. Other reports indicate that he may have slipped from the right hand edge of the ditch into the water.

The entrance to the catchbasin is through an 18-inch pipe, although rubble had closed the pipe entrance down to about 12 inches.



TRAGEDY SCENE — where six-year-old Terry McDonald drowned on College Street yesterday is viewed by two young acquaintances. Girls are standing on catwalk over ditch from which police say the McDonald boy slipped into four feet of water and was carried by current into culvert opening, seen in lower right corner. At the time of the accident the ditch was filled to road level.

Order Inquest Into Death Of Boy Drowned in Ditch

An inquest into the death of six-year-old Terry McDonald of 9 Union Street was ordered yesterday by Crown Attorney John Pringle. The King George Public School pupil, son of Mr. and Mrs. James I. McDonald, died yesterday noon hour at the corner of College and Lemoine streets after falling into a four-foot ditch and being washed into a catch basin by the swift current.

The young lad was on his way home from school with a school mate and apparently slipped whilst standing or walking at the side of the ditch. The strong current of the water rushing into the catch basin under the intersection sucked the lad through a 12-inch culvert into the catch basin.

The lad's father, one of the first to arrive on the scene, searched for the lad in the ditch as did Firemen Ralph Thompson and Barney Smith when the emergency unit of the fire department arrived on the scene. Not finding any trace of the boy at either end of the culvert the manhole cover to the catch basin was removed and firemen used a broom to probe the flooded underground chamber. The boy's body was located almost immediately and Fireman Thompson pulled the lad from the catch basin.

Artificial respiration and a resuscitator were applied instantly in the emergency vehicle and the boy was taken directly to the Belleville General Hospital when no response was observed. He was pronounced dead at the hospital.

Heavy flooding of College Street caused a temporary stalling of the engines of the fire department's vehicles en route to the hospital.

Two theories currently exist as to where and how the lad fell into the ditch. The police investigation indicates that the McDonald boy was on a catwalk at the north side of the ditch when he slipped and fell into the water. Other reports however, indicate that the boy was "sloshing" through the water on the road alongside the south side of the ditch when he slipped.

This is the second fatality at this intersection within the past three years. Young Gale McAuley died as the result of a traffic accident whilst riding her bicycle. Her father, A. G. McAuley calls the College Street road conditions a "disgrace" to the city and insists that plans for the needed improvements have been "a football for too long."

Public Works committee chairman Alderman Jack Ellis said today that City Engineer Malcolm Turnbull was making a complete report on the ditches and culvert where the drowning accident occurred. It is expected that the engineer's report will include a recommendation for any safety measures which seem advisable.

An autopsy was held this morning.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune announced Thursday night the appointment of John Denson, editor of Newsweek magazine, as editor of the daily newspaper. John Hay Whitney, president and publisher of The Herald Tribune, said Denson will assume his new duties the middle of next month. He succeeds Robert M. White II, who resigned Jan. 16.

RUSSIA WANTS

where he was expected to seek neutralization of pro-Lumumbist rebel forces sent in by Antoine Gizenga's rebel regime in Stanleyville.

The Katanga government admitted its troops were still on the offensive against Baluba tribesmen in central Katanga even though Tshombe reached a pact with the UN to halt troop movements likely to cause friction.

STRIVE TO LEAD

The struggle for power to take over the mantle of the slain Patrice Lumumba was reported intensifying among his chief lieutenants.

Bernard Salumu, former secretary to The Congo's first premier, fled from Stanleyville after a row with Communist-backed Gizenga.

Salumu, bitterly anti-white, has been the rebels' main link with President Nasser, whose United Arab Republic is reported to have sent arms to the rump regime in the northeast Congo.

The rifts in the rebel leadership grew as the UN demanded the Stanleyville government give a report on 15 political prisoners—all Negroes—believed executed by Lumumbists in retaliation for the slaying of the deposed premier.

The rebels have ignored the UN demands for information, but a UN representative in Stanleyville reported Gen. Victor Lundula, the rebel army commander, had given his word of honor to a French diplomat that eight Belgian soldiers captured weeks ago still were alive and were being well treated.

New Edition Phone Directory Being Mailed

Out with the old. In with the new.

That's the word for Belleville telephone users, who are presently receiving the new edition of the telephone directory for this region.

And it is also the theme for the directory itself, for the familiar beige covers have been replaced by striking colored ones. The front cover again features a sketch of Albert College. The content of the directory also reveals important number changes; for the first time, seven-figure numbers are listed.

Again this year, the distribution figures for the new book reflect the continuing growth of the region. Over 36,000 copies are being mailed to customers throughout the area this year, and increase of 2,480 from the initial distribution of 34,205 for the last directory.

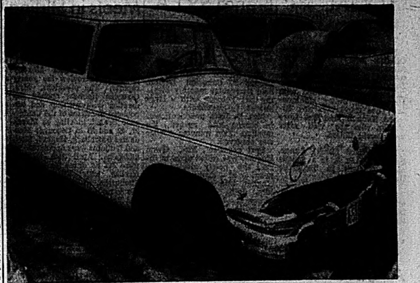
R. S. O'Rourke, Bell Telephone manager here, pointed out that the new volume is effective immediately, and urged telephone users to discard their old books.

He also suggested that customers bring their "Blue Book of Telephone Numbers" and other personal lists up-to-date by checking them against the new directory. "By doing so they will avoid wrong numbers and unnecessary calls to Information," he stated.



When a Pitcon hotel clerk, Harold Munro of Demorestville, approached his parked car he noticed the front end was sitting quite low and it appeared he had two flat tires. Closer examination revealed there were no front tires—nor wheels either—someone had stolen them during the night. Raymond Young of Picton, is shown looking at the immobilized vehicle, which was parked on a well-lighted downtown parking lot, less than 50 yards from Picton police station. (Hodgson, Picton).

Fifteen Choirs Take Part In Annual Hymn Festival

By EUGENE LANG

The Bay of Quinte Chapter of the Royal College of Organists presented its fourth annual Hymn Festival in Christ Church last evening, with choirs from Belleville and surrounding districts taking part in this moving event. Despite the inclemency of the weather, a sizeable congregation was in attendance to hear and participate in the singing of the various hymns chosen for the Festival.

Eleven hymns were sung by the massed voices of the fifteen choirs, the majority of them being favorites of the leading Protestant denominations that were represented, namely, Anglican, United, Presbyterian and Baptist. Before each hymn was sung a brief history of the composer of the tune and author of the words was given by Mr. John Withers, organist and choirmaster of Christ Church, who most capably conducted the massed choral forces in the rendition of the various offerings.

The invocation was given by the Rev. V. Zufelt of Picton United Church, following which a message of welcome was tendered all those in attendance by Archdeacon J. B. Creeggan of Christ Church. Following the program the concluding benediction was spoken by Rev. Gordon Woodcock of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church.

The following choirs took part in the Festival (with the name of choir leader in brackets after): Bridge Street United (S. Alec Gordon); Christ Church Anglican (John Withers); Holloway Street United (Clifford Templer; St. Andrew's Presbyterian (Egerton Boyce); St. Margaret's Anglican (Paul Vinden); St. Thomas' Anglican (Don Davenport); Tabernacle United (Mrs. J. Leddingham); Victoria Avenue Baptist (Mrs. D. Reilly and William Connor); St. Andrew's Presbyterian, Foxboro (Mrs. R. Skinner); Picton United Church, Picton (Andrew J. Benvie); St. Paul's United, Stirling (Mr. and Mrs. N. Brown); and from Trenton: Grace United (George Puttenham); King Street United (Roy Kendall); St. Andrew's Presbyterian (Harold McNish) and St. George's Anglican (A. Boyce).

The organ console was occupied by various organist from Belleville and district during the course of the program. Those taking part in the accompanying included Don Davenport, Belleville (prelude and hymns); Andrew Benvie, Picton (hymns); Roy Kendall, Trenton, (offertory and hymn); Clifford Templer, (hymns); Egerton Boyce, Belleville (hymns); and Alec Gordon, Belleville, (hymn and postlude).

The entire Festival was broadcast over CJBQ last evening so that thousands in the district could join in with those in the choirs in the singing of the popular and well known hymns that were presented. Following the program the members of the various visiting choirs were entertained in the Parish Hall at the reception that followed.

Mrs. Fred Blampied, of Lyn, Ontario, and Miss Phyllis Alexander of Belleville, have returned from their vacation in Long Beach and Los Angeles, California. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Julian Jankowski, (nee Carol Martin) Richard, Kenneth, and Mrs. Lucy Martin, who are well after their recent illness.

Mr. Richard (Dick) Laney, Belleville R.R. 3, is a pneumonia patient in Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Wilson, of Roslin, were tea hour guests last evening of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wickett, of Foxboro.

'Prayer' Topic At U.L.C.W. Meeting

Devotions were led by Mrs. I. Schwichtenberg, Miss L. Pucancik and Mrs. T. Pajaanen. The hymn "Lord Jesus Christ be Present Now" opened the devotional service.

As this is prayer week, the topic for the evening was "Let Us Pray." The ladies told of the different ways of prayer, such as the collect and liturgy, and described one pattern that could be followed, based on the word ACTS. "A" for adoration, telling God how we adore Him; "C" for confession, confessing our sins to Him; "T" for Thanksgiving, thanking Him for all His benefits toward us, and "S" for supplication, we ask for and petition God for the things we desire.

PRAYER-CONVERSATION

Prayer is conversation with God. Conversation implies speaking back and forth. One must listen as well as talk to God. It has been said, "it is the ten minutes after prayer that matters, the ten minutes which, if one will wait, the answer will come from Heaven."

Devotions closed by the singing of the hymn, "Love Divine, All Love Excelling."

Mrs. Bartleman, the president, took the chair, and a lengthy business discussion was held.

As the mission fields and Lutheran World Relief are in need of clothing and layettes so badly, the ULCW are undertaking these two projects for the next few months. A used clothing drive will be held in April or May.

The ULCW voted to visit the Hastings County Home for the Aged in June.

St. Joseph's PTA Plans Future Events

The February meeting of St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher Association was held in the school on Tuesday.

Prior to the meeting, the classrooms were open for inspection of the children's work and the teachers were kept busy with interviews by the parents.

Mr. Terry Wheeler, president, opened with prayer. Correspondence was reported. The treasurer, Mr. Pat Melchior, gave a statement on finances which showed a satisfactory balance on hand.

Mr. Paul Fleming relayed a message from Inspector Hayes of the police department regarding the underpass on Dundas St. E. The inspector wished to have a meeting with parents whose children should be using the underpass, going to and from school. A meeting was to be arranged.

Mr. Doug Bone, spoke on the coming 'fashion show' and appliance demonstration to be held at Club Commodore, next month. Tickets would be available to the P.T.A. for selling in support of the Association.

It was decided that an additional 15 minutes be given for the interviewing of teachers, and until further notice the business meeting will not begin until 8.15 p.m.

Coffee was served by class mother, Mrs. Raycroft, assisted by Mrs. Beirne, Mrs. Black and Mrs. Creegan.

Members were asked to bring any spare cups and saucers from home to increase the limited supply on hand.

BATH TRAY

To save time and avoid having to hunt for missing articles, arrange all the items needed for baby's bath in order of use on a tray.

Branch 99 L.A. Installs Sgt.-at-Arms

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Branch 99 Canadian Legion, held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday with a large number in attendance.

Mrs. D. Jeffs, president, was in charge and opened the meeting. Two minutes silence was observed.

Past president, Mrs. Gwen Hughes, was called upon to install the newly elected Sergeant - at - Arms, Mrs. M. Hughes, into office. President Mrs. Jeffs, welcomed Mrs. Margaret McIntee, to the Belleville-Auxiliary who had been transferred from Port Daulhousie Auxiliary.

Two applications for membership were favorably accepted.

During general business, reports of committees were given and Mrs. Connie Pringle was named sports chairman for 1961. Correspondence was dealt with, including a letter on the Zone Rally to be held in Picton in May.

Mr. Sam Symons was the winner of the draw for the quilt, held over from the bazaar and Mrs. Shirley Heasman was the winner of the monthly draw.

It was decided to have a pay-as-you-pull draw also a travelling apron.

After the meeting adjourned, a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

D.D.G. Pays Official Lodge Visit

MADOC — On the evening of February 13th, Mrs. Cecilia Rawcliffe, D.D.G.M. of District No. 12, O.E.S., paid her official visit to Madoc Chapter, No. 143. Warnings of sleet and rain discouraged visitors but a splendid turnout of members showed that interest and enthusiasm are vital necessities in any live organization.

Owing to the unexpected absence of the Worthy Patron that office was filled by Mr. Jesse Reid and Mr. M. R. English acted as Associate Patron Both were especially commended for the splendid way in which they did their work.

Special note was also given to Mrs. Beverley Keller who filled in for the conductress, who is spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Rawcliffe, who is an efficient as well as an understanding and gracious dtputy to the Worthy Grand Matron, paid tribute to all who had any part in exemplifying the work of the order.

St. John's Ladies Elect 1961 Officers

POINT ANNE — A meeting of the ladies of St. John's Anglican Church, Point Anne, was held at the home of Mrs. Lee Bradshaw, on February 21st at 2 p.m., for the purpose of organizing a ladies' work group. The organization is to be known as "St. John's Friendship Group".

Canon Loder opened the meeting with prayer and acted as chairman during the meeting. The following officers were elected: president — Mrs. Hazel Juby; 1st vice-president — Mrs. Audrey Chisholm; 2nd vice-president — Mrs. Doris Colden; secretary — Mrs. Nellie MacDonald; treasurer — Mrs. Paula Horwood.

The first regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Juby on February 28th at 1.45 p.m.

Canon Loder closed the meeting with prayer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bradshaw following the meeting.

Belleville Presbyterial WMS Meets in Stirling United Church

St. Paul's United Church, Stirling was host for the annual meeting of the Belleville Presbyterial Woman's Missionary Society on February 20 and 21. The executive met Monday afternoon to review the yearly reports. The president, Mrs. Clarence Holmes, opened the meeting with worship and announced the dates of the Conference Branch meeting as March 21, 22 and 23 in Cobourg; Mesdames Stoneburg, Hughes, May, and Williams were appointed as delegates. April 24th to 27th were set as dates for the conference with Miss Marion Thompson, Field Secretary, in the various sections throughout the Presbyterial.

Mrs. Holmes thanked all who had assisted her as president during the past three years. The meeting closed with the hymn, "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah" and the ladies of St. Paul's WMS served supper.

ANGOLA FILM SHOWN

While the groups were arriving for the evening session, Mrs. George Greer, Trenton, and Miss Hettie Unger, of Picton, entertained the CGIT and Explorer groups with suitable films on Angola. Springbrook CGIT led in the evening worship. Mrs. Percy MacMullen presented the literature pertaining to the younger groups. St. Paul's Girls' Double Trio, under the leadership of Mrs. H. West, provided a pleasant interlude of song.

Miss Kate Rutherford, B.A., of Angola, was introduced by the president. She told of her work with the people of Angola. She said that some boys and girls come as far as 300 miles just to attend the church schools to learn to read and write, learn of home economics, agriculture and the Bible. In the boarding schools they go to school half a day and work for part of their keep the other half of the day.

SCHOOLS FOR GIRLS—BOYS

There is Currie Institute for boys and the Dondi School for the girls. They teach leaders to become pastors and evangelists to their own people in the villages. The missionaries supervise the village schools in their exams. There are short courses of two months' duration for girls in home economics and they are taught sewing, simple cooking, and health. Their diet is a simple one and greatly lacking in proteins.

Meat and fish are expensive and there is little milk available. Miss Rutherford closed her talk by answering questions put to her by the girls.

Miss Hettie Unger, candidate secretary, addressed the audience on the subject of "Vocation or Vacation," putting forth the vocations available in the work of the church and the many interesting countries where these vocations may be practised.

The president of the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch W.M.S., Mrs. B. H. Soper, brought greetings on behalf of the branch, telling the story of the Bamboo Tree. Rev. P. J. Hommerson of Stirling, pronounced the beneditcion.

TUESDAY SESSION

Mrs. C. Holmes presided for the morning session and was presented with a corsage by Mrs. O. Bertrand on behalf of the W.M.S. of Mrs. Holmes' own church, Holloway United in Belleville. Napanee Trinity Federation was in charge of the opening worship, with Mrs. F. Mills, Miss Aylesworth, Mrs. G. Fresque and Mrs. William Pace taking part. Mrs. Pace led the Bible study, telling of a plane crash wherein a little boy survived, with a survival kit close at hand, but nearly starved before rescue came. She said we all have a survival kit close at hand—the Bible—the Bread of Life—but many souls are starving.

LITERATURE DISPLAYED

Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Stirling, displayed the literature available. Mrs. R. G. Coulter gave the treasurer's report indicating the $1,200 was available this year over and above the allocation and will be used for Building Advance. The amount was voted to be used, half for work among the Canadian Indians at Moose Mountain and the other half for Rayemco, the promotion of audio-visual aids. Mrs. H. M. Davis of Belleville, Christian stewardship secretary, presented the allocation for 1961 and the new GBA projects to work for.

Mrs. S. MacDonald of Stirling, sang a beautiful solo.

Mrs. Soper's address was entitled "Missions and the Ecumenical Movement," explaining that the word "ecumenical" meant the whole inhabited world. She asked how many would walk 17 miles to purchase a Bible, and urged support in providing Christian literature for the Africans who are learning to read as the Communists are providing most attractive literature of their own for them and giving it freely.

Mrs. Garnett Dobbs of Belleville, who is president of Conference W.A. told of the highlights of the General Council of the United Church of Canada held in Edmonton. She made an urgent plea for recruits for the work of the church. Mrs. H. M. Davis led in a beautiful memorial service for 51 deceased members of the Woman's Missionary Society.

The meeting adjourned to the Oddfellows Hall for dinner, during which time greetings were brought from the Belleville Presbytery by the Rev. H. M. Davis, from the Woman's Assoc. of Belleville Prebytery by Mrs. F. Davidson, from St. John's Anglican W.A. by Mrs. G. B. Noble; from St. Andrew's Presbyterian WMS by Mrs. B. Reid, and from St. Paul's W.M.S. by Mrs. C. Lansing.

For the afternoon session Mrs. George Carlisle presided. The opening worship was conducted by Wellington WMS under the leadership of Mrs. G. Stoneburg, Mrs. B. Cronk and Mrs. H. Pierson, have the theme of "Brotherhood". The missionary, Miss Rutherford, entitled her address, "Into All the World Together", which is the theme of this year's study. She said, "our mission is one—bringing the people of the world to our Lord. All denominations are working together in the mission fields together with native leaders. The policy now is to go only where we are invited to help and the calls are still many and the workers few.

ANGOLA MISSIONS

"The start of the missions in Angola was made by the American Congregational Church assisted by the Canadian Congregational. However, on the fields denominations are forgotten and all work under the Church of Christ in Angola. Portuguese is the official lannguage but the native tongues must also be learned". She finished her talk by saying the "we must go into all the world together, for we do not know how long the doors may be open to us and we are a privileged people".

Mrs. H. West and Mrs. H. Philp of Stirling, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Pyear, presented a lovely interlude of music. Mrs. B. H. Soper told of the new organization, the United Church Women. Mrs. Maurice Clancy presented 35 Mission Band awards. Mrs. O. Bertrand extended thanks to all who had helped to make the meeting a success. Mrs. Leon Ward reported for the Nominating Committee and called the new officers forward for Mrs. Soper to install them.

PRESENTATION MADE

Mrs. G. Dobbs came forward and made a presentation to Mrs. Holmes, the retiring president, on behalf of the W.A. of Holloway Church. Rev. P. J. Hommersen, B.A., B.D. pronounced the benediction.

Receive 'Caps' At Impressive Ceremony

FRANKFORD — The "Capping Ceremony" for 1963 students was held in the Education Hall, of Belleville General Hospital, on Wednesday evening, February 22nd.

Miss Jean Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Caldwell and Miss Lillian Williams daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams, of Frankford, both received their "Caps".

Those attending from Frankford were: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Caldwell; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams and daughter Lois, and Mr. Bob Mulvihill; Miss Sharon Rogers and Miss Carole Abbott.

There were 44 students who received their "Caps" in an impressive ceremony.

Women's Institutes

QUINTE W.I.

The Quinte Women's Institute held its monthly meeting on February 14th at the Memorial Hall, Dundas Street East, with an attendance of 32 members.

The president, Mrs. Robert Atkins, welcomed everyone and thanked the lunch committee. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. Jeffery and all business was dealt with.

The 4-H Girls Club had their achievement day on February 18th at Stirling and nine girls finished the course on "Working with Woolens," and from this number, two received Provincial honors and two others received County honors. The ladies who took the course in "Window Drapery" are to have their achievement day, on February 22nd, at Stirling. Mrs. W. Lazariuk, Mrs. Dafoe and Mrs. A. Greatrix are the leaders who go to Stirling on March 6th and the 7th, for the course "Dressing our Home Grown Vegetables". The adult course on millinery will be held in Stirling on April 19-20-21. Those on the committee are Mrs. R. Atkins, Mrs. J. Parrott and Mrs. M. McMullel.

A donation of $5. was given to the Belleville Historical Research Society, and the membership fee of $3. was to be paid for the membership to the County Home.

The program was in charge of the resolutions convener, Mrs. N. Brown and she read a poem entitled "House Weary". The motto "You must plan today, if you wish to succeed tomorrow," was given by Mrs. C. Mitchell. Mrs. E. Coyle gave a reading on St. Valentine. Mrs. Clarence Holmes spoke on the topic "Resolutions" and gave some good advice. A vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Insley, "In the Gloaming".

The meeting closed with the president, Mrs. Atkins, thanking Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Mitchell for the fine program.

A lovely lunch was served by the committee, Mrs. J. Garbutt, Mrs. C. Reid and Mrs. W. Tufts and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

PLAINFIELD W. I.

PLAINFIELD — The February meeting of Plainfield Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Clayton Hall with 32 in attendance.

Business was transacted with the president, Mrs. Jack Salmon, in the chair. Mrs. Chas. Beatty was appointed to represent the branch at the Historical Society meetings in Belleville. Five dollars was donated toward the new Historical Museum.

Achievement Day for girls "Working With Wool" was announced and Mrs. Salmon and Mrs. V. Elliott, club leaders, expressed their desire for more mothers and Institute members to attend. It was decided to start euchre parties and the first one to be held February 14th; the second, February 28th in Orange hall, Plainfield. Mrs. Kerr reported concerning executive meetings, re "Plowing Match Catering,' which was held previously, at Mrs. Clifford Reid's home, Front Road.

FINE PROGRAM

Mrs. Charles Beatty, historical research convener, had charge of the program.

Mrs. Gerald Swan gave an interesting topic, "What are you leaving for the next generation?" This subject provoked considerable thought as to what we are doing, as much, or more than our forefathers left? "Are we making Canada better place in which to live?"

Mr. Douglas Rollins gave a colorful travelogue with slides of his trip to England and Scotland recently, which was much appreciated by all.

The lunch committee served a delightful lunch and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

Kiwanis L.A. Sponsors Dessert Bridge

A delightful dessert bridge was held on Wednesday afternoon at the Kiwanis Centre under the auspices of the Kiwanis Ladies Auxiliary, with 45 tables in play. Fancy desserts of many varieties delighted the eye as well as the palate.

The guests were received by Mrs. R. Brein, wife of the Kiwanis president, and Mrs. C. W. Colman, the Auxiliary president.

Prize winners included Mrs. L. Butchart; Mrs. J. G. Brearley, and Mrs. A. Gibbons. A basket of groceries went to Mrs. S. Fisher and the door prizes to Mrs. Hawkins; Miss S. Ford; Mrs. P. Hume; Mrs. J. C. Shappen.

Appreciative thanks are extended to the two conveners of this successful and enjoyable event, Mrs. W. Cook and Mrs. R. W. Freestone.

CARS Extends Welcome to Physiotherapist

On Tuesday night of this week, the board of the Quinte Branch Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs Enos David, 224 Foster Avenue.

Mr. David, the president, called the meeting to order and explained that he would like to dispatch with the necessary business matters as quickly as possible.

It was the unanimous opinion of the members present, that Dr. J. N. Swanson, the new medical director of the Ontario Division of CARS, be asked to speak in Belleville, as soon as possible. It was agreed that Dr. Swanson would speak professionally to doctors in more technical terms than he could to laymen. Therefore Dr. H. F. Williamson, who was present was asked if he would contact the doctors as to a suitable date and time for as many of them as possible. A date and medium for as many laymen as possible and convenient for Dr. Swanson would be fitted in. It is hoped therefore that in the not too distant future one of Canada's outstanding authorities on the nation's most crippling disease will be in Belleville to speak to the medical fraternity and a large number of laymen.

The board was reminded to be ready to co-operate with and assist the Women's Auxiliary to make their bake sale, in March a success.

The need to support wholeheartedly, the United Appeal came up for discussion. The Quinte branch is grateful for the help it receives from the UA and is one agency that has no doubts about this matter since experience has proven the advantages.

The board met in the David home rather than the usual meeting place, the YMCA, on the invitation of the host and hostess. There was a special reason. The president and his wife felt that it would be nice to give a warm, sincere, and they hoped, a friendly welcome to Miss Margaret Millar, from Pretoria, South Africa. Miss Millar has come to the Quinte District to be the physiotherapist under the auspices of CARS. She is a delightful and charming representative from a sister Dominion. "Their loss is our gain." Especially will Miss Millar's arrival be welcomed by the many arthritic and rheumatic sufferers. The great need is not generally known, but those close to the work, like the members of the Quinte Branch, appreciate that there is a great void when a physiotherapist is missing.

The fact that Miss Millar has rapidly come to grips with her new duties, strange surroundings, and problems is self-evident. If to prophesy, is to tread on dangerous ground, then it is refreshing to prtdict assuredly, that Miss Millar brings with her comfort to the sufferers who will benefit by her calls, and she inspires a renewal of enthusiasm in the volunteer workers. Within a few short days she has familiarized herself with a strange car, learned to drive on the right side of the road, passed her driver's test, challenged our rural roads, met patients, and made friends.

Over a cup of tea and sandwiches, Miss Millar and her board became better acquainted. The Women's Auxiliary have a special reason to welcome their new helper because, through the physiotherapist, needy cases are brought to their attention for extra assistance such as clothes, hampers, and so forth. The Quinte Branch, CARS looks ahead to 1961 with increased encouragement and hopes Miss Millar discovers here a home away from home, and rewards, from her chosen profession.

Mrs. Ern. Broadworth presided over the program. Mrs. George Sine read the Scripture lesson with Mrs Bert Heagle giving the meditation. Mrs William Donald led in prayer Mrs. Albert Twiddy read "If the Goal Sums Far" and Mrs. Mel Wickens read "Neighbors".

Mrs Tom Clements moved a vote of thanks to the hostess and to all who helped make the day so successful.

NEIGHBORS' AID

2nd THURLOW — The February meeting of the Neighbors' Aid was held at the Aid hall on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. Lazaruik was hostess for the meeting. The president, Mrs. Gerald Stratton, presided and opened the meeting and welcomed all the ladies, especially Mrs. R. Lazaruik, who was present after a long absence. Over 27 ladies and several children were present.

Minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary, Mrs. W. Lazaruik. Mrs. A. Mitchell reported on euchres and expenses. After the business was discussed Mrs. M. Dent and Mrs. S. Ray arranged the program with Mrs. Dent presiding and it opened with a reading "Valentine Tribute." Guessing the amount of candy beans in a jar contest was won by Mrs. Arnold Mitchell having the correct amount. A contest in making as many words from "Saint Valentine" was won by Mrs. Arnold Mitchell in having 45 words and received a gift and a consolation award went to Mrs. D. Atkins.

"Valentine" readings were given by Mrs. S. Ray and Mrs. M. Dent. Community singing with Mrs. M. Mitchell at the piano was enjoyed, also a reading, "Time Saved," by Mrs Fred Mitchell. Recitations were given by Linda Ray, Gail Dent and also a duet by Linda and Gail.

A potluck dinner and quilting were arranged for the March meeting on the 4th Wednesday. Mrs. G. Stratton will be hostess, assisted by several members. Each member will bring a hot and cold dish for the dinner.

Lunch was served by Mesdames R. Greatrix, M. Mitchell, G. Stratton and W. Lazaruik.

Mrs. Archie Greatrix had the lucky cup and received a gift. A social hour was enjoyed by all.

MODERN MANNERS

ON SERVICE AND TIPPING

One drew up at the entrance, and out stepped Mrs. Inexperienced. I was interested in watching the haggling that followed. Apparently, the taxi driver had taken her all over town, with several stops included. She was taking exception to the charges, loudly berating the poor man, threatening to report him, etc.

The driver patiently explained the established zone charges and the price per stop. (We do not have meters in our town. It is all based on zones.) He finally won. She paid him grudgingly, counting out each dime and quarter as if it really hurt. When the total was reached, she turned aside, thought a minute, and then, — assuming a very condescending manner — presented the driver with a nickel. I'll give the man credit. While his face turned purple, he managed somehow to say "Thank you" and drove off. When they give out medals for graciousness under fire, I sincerely hope he gets his just reward!

Aside from being unnecessarily belligerent and ill-tempered, Mrs. Inexperienced was guilty of a fault that is too prevalent among my own sex. The fault of expecting, if not demanding, good service — and then leaving a measly tip. It is a fact that a man is usually much more fair when expressing his appreciation to those who have served him.

As we have said before, a great deal of dissension does exist on the subject of tipping There are many who resent this custom of rewarding a service. But, whether you like it or not (and until someone comes up with a bright idea to take its place), you should conform with what is now considered proper procedure! Don't forget that under the present plan, many people are dependent on tips to make a living wage. These include taxi drivers, beauty operators and barbers, waiters, porters and hat-check girls, to name a few.

To be safe, when tipping, follow two rules: Never tip less than ten cents. Always follow the precedent of tipping at least ten per cent of the bill. (If it happens to be a nickel, as on some taxi trips, be big-hearted and give a dime!) Today, the accepted percentage really is fifteen to twenty percent. So, accept the edict gracefully, and present your tip in a gracious manner, even if you don't like the idea!

Beulah U.C. Observes 'Day of Prayer'

IVANHOE — The World Day of Prayer service was held in Beulah United Church, Ivanhoe on February 17th with the theme being "Forward Through The Ages In Unbroken Line."

The service was conducted by Mrs. Malcolm MacMillan, president of Beulah W.M.S. and Mrs. Keith Bray presided at the piano.

Churches represented were: Bethesda United; Beulah United; St. Andrew's Presbyterian; West Huntingdon United and Standard Church, Ivanhoe.

Leading in the responsive passages and prayers were: Mrs. Harold Thompson, Mrs. David Fargey, Mrs. J. Hassell, Mrs. Carman Mullett, Mrs. Benson French.

A brief address in harmony with the theme and the purpose of the World Day of Prayer was given by the Rev. Harold Stobbart, who based his message on Matt. 26:39. "O my Father if it be possible let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as Thou wilt."

The influence of the church of God depends to a large extent on its spiritual condition, a live, prayerful church is a force for good in the community.

The greatest task of the church is to bring her witness on a par or level with the intelligence of its hearers and the translation of its message in other languages.

The church has a tremendous power and weapon at its disposal, to fulfill its task and obligation. This is the spirit of intercession.

Every challenge and task of the Son of God was met by prayer. The prayer Jesus offered in the garden was filial, earnest, persevering, submissive and triumphant, enabling Him to fulfill the task and triumph of the Cross.

The offering was presented by Mrs. Thomas Lawson and Mrs. Stanley Prest. The offertory prayer was led by Mrs Arthur Wood.

The 1962 World Day of Prayer service will be held in the Standard Church, Ivanhoe.

Big Montreal Culinary Display Not for Eating

By JANET WILSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—"It looks good to eat" is an expression usually followed by "it" being wolfed down. Not at Montreal's big culinary exhibition.

For one thing, most of the delicacies had been glazed to preserve them through the four-day show. For another, there were just too many cooks around who wouldn't have appreciated the sight of prize-winners being popped into mouths.

The show — the annual piece de resistance of professional cooks from many parts of Quebec — this year outdid itself with the added incentive of a 25th anniversary celebration.

Highlight was a 400 - pound cake, the work of several pastry artists. Eight feet in length and three feet in width at its base, it was divided and distributed to four Montreal orphanages at the end of the show.

MODEL OF SCHOOL

Individual chefs contributed everything from hors d'oeuvres to a huge, lacy sugar seminary; from tinted portraitures of Premier Lesage and Governor-general and Mme. Vanier to petits fours shpaed like sailboats, baskets of flowers and mandolins.

Main dishes were not neglected and great garnished lobsters, salmons, chickens, turkeys, ducks, hams and roasts of all kinds were in abundance.

Many of the fish and fowl were embellished by designs made from bits of truffles, tomatoes, black olives and the yellow part of leeks. One ham was also decorated this way: another wore a jacket of simulated pineapple and a crown of prickly pineapple leaves.

Sugar work was stunning in its elaborateness. Beside the corniced, yard - long model of St. Joseph's seminary in Trois-Rivieres, there were, among others a detailed Dutch windmill trimmed with chocolate, a nougat vase filled with long-stemmed candy roses and an immense, spun - sugar snowman.

MOSTLY INEDIBLE

Rotund, gaily - garbed little figures surrounding a stage-coach in an inn - yard attracted a good deal of attention. The whole scene, in marzipan, was colored in clear, strong shades.

Although officials said several fingerprints were found in the food, none of the spectators had actually eaten any of the masterpieces. Many, glazed with a beef - based broth, had to be thrown out at the end of the show but some of the unglazed pieces — mainly cakes and candies — were still edible.

The exhibition, called the "Grand Culinary Salon," was organized by the Societe des Chefs and the Association des Patissiers Detaillants de Montreal. Held simultaneously with the national exhibition of the Hotel and Restaurant Suppliers Association, it was opened by Andre Rousseau, Quebec's minister of trade and commerce.

While most of the creations were submitted in competition, there were several "prestige items" presented by former prize - winners and by large Canadian companies.

Readers' Friday Column

As conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

. . . I wonder if you could tell me how to make the topping for Dutch Apple Pie? I know it is brown sugar and butter, wondered if there is flour or oats in it to crumble on top of apples . . . Mrs. W. D.

ANSWER:

I think this is the authentic Dutch Apple Pie recipe you are seeking.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

FRIDAY

Baked Stuffed Whole Fish (see Wednesday) with Tomato or Special Sauce for Baked Fish (see Wednesday); Baked Shoestring Harvard Beets; Mashed Squash; Julienned Raw Carrot Strips; Stewed Rosy Rhubarb (mad in double boiler); Coffee.

DUTCH APPLE PIE:

6 tart apples, 1 cup white (or brown) sugar, 1-8 cup butter, 3-4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon pastry for one 9" shell.

Pare apples and cut into eighths and core. Mix 1-2 cup sugar and cinnamon together and sprinkle over apples. Put apple mixture into unbaked pastry shell. Combine remaining sugar and flour. Add butter and rub together until crumbs are formed. Sprinkle fine crumbs over apples. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes and then reduce heat to 350 deg. Fahr. Bake 35 minutes longer. Reheat just before serving. Delicious when served with cheese.

QUESTION:

Have you a different recipe for baking powder biscuits or tea biscuits whichever they are called. The one I have has no flavor to them whatever. They are eatable when fresh but after that they are no good . . . Mrs. E. D.

ANSWER:

I'm glad you asked for this. We made up my tea biscuit supreme recipe this week to go under some turkey a la king and it was so easy and good I decided it was time for a repeat.

TEA-BISCUITS SUPREME:

2 cups all-purpose flour (stirred but not sifted), 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1-2 cup good quality shortening or margarine or butter, 2-3 cup milk.

Sift together into mixing bowl flour, baking powder, cream of tartar, salt and sugar. Into these dry ingredients cut the shortening or butter with pastry blender until the size of small peas. Add milk all at once and quickly stir in. Turn out on floured-sprinkled board, pat smoothly to 3-4" thickness and cut out with 1 1-2" or 2" floured cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet at 450 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes.

Variations: 1). Add 1-2 cup dry grated old cheese. 2) Add 1 teaspoon dry green onion or parsley flakes. 3) Use tomato juice instead of milk.

The Experts Say

Blind People Possess Everything But Sight

By EDNA BLAKELY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — The only thing, a blind person lacks is sight, says Mrs. Gay Morrel.

"Sighted people wouldn't be shy, embarrassed or awkward with blind people if they would just remember they are capable of everything but seeing," she says.

Mrs. Morrel, who has been blind since childhood, successfully combines her roles as homemaker and office worker. Her husband also is blind.

People often talk loudly to blind people or "ask questions past them." Waitresses will ask a companion, "Does she take cream?" instead of directing the question to the blind person.

At a movie or watching television, they like to be told quietly of a drastic change of scenery or scenes done without dialogue.

"It should be done quickly and quietly and we don't want the conversation interrupted," Mrs. Morrel explained.

DON'T CARRY THEM

When out for a walk, the blind person wants to hold the arm of a companion but the grips shouldn't be so tight the sightless person is practically being carried.

A description of the surrounding scenery is appreciated and a warning of stairs and curbs is necessary. It's important to give the correct number of stairs.

Open doors of cars left parked along the street are one of the greatest hazards to sightless people out walking alone.

If you offer assistance to a blind person, speak to him first. Ask which way the person would like to go and when you leave him make sure he is headed in the right direction and knows exactly where he is.

DOORS ARE DANGEROUS

If you have a blind guest or if you are in a blind person's home, never leave a door ajar. Canadian National Institute for the Blind officials say, "To run against a half open door hurts, startles, annoys and takes the starch out of anyone's dignity."

When visiting a blind friend, do not take over as if your blind friend is incapable. If she needs help, she will ask. If you help with the dishes, let your friend put them away so everything will be in its correct place.

If a blind friend comes to your home for dinner, tell him the food that is being served. The clock system is an excellent way of describing what food is placed where on the plate. Radishes, parsley sprigs and lemon wedges can all be menaces. The guest may prefer to have his meat cut in the kitchen, but the guest should always be asked—quietly.

Be thoughtful, but not volubly anxious.

Friends' Soc. Holds "Day Of Prayer"

WELLINGTON — The meeting house of the Society of Friends was filled on Friday evening, when the women of the various churches of Wellington, met there, to observe the World Day of Prayer. Leaders from the four churches taking part in the service were: Mrs. William Hamel, Mrs. James Dick — United Church; Mrs. Len McClennan — Society of Friends; Mrs. Rod Blower — Anglican, and Mrs. Eastman — Pentecostal.

The Explorers and C.G.I.T. of United Church and the J.A. and G.A. of the Anglican Church opened the service by conducting their portion of the service. Mrs. McClennan was the leader of the Call to Worship. The other leaders all took part in service, assisted by members of their respective churches. Mrs. Leonard Wiltse (Society of Friends) gave a brief address, the theme was "Forward Through the Ages in Unbroken Line," and the purpose of the "World Day of Prayer."

After the address, the offertory was received by two members of the Anglican G.A. Mrs. Norman Foster, pianist for the service played quiet music. Hymn, "The Day Thou Gavest Lord, is Ended" was sung, followed by the Benediction.

Holy Trinity W.G. Views Lenten Slides

SHANNONVILLE — The regular meeting of the Women's Guild of Holy Trinity Church, Shannonville, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Houston, with Mrs. Norman Edwards as hostess, on February 16, with 19 members present and a visiting guest, Mrs. Johnston, from Roslin.

Mrs. T. Whittle gave a report on the successful pot-luck supper.

Many lovely aprons were handed in for the bazaar in the fall. Lenten cards were handed out to all members.

Mrs. A. Long won the flower fund contest.

The Rev. J. Riesberry was in charge of the devotional and showed beautiful Lenten slides giving an epilogue outline. Mrs. A. Long thanked Mr. Riesberry for the slides.

Mr. Riesberry closed the meeting with prayer.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. McKenzie on March 2. Devotional will be in charge of Mr. Riesberry, the program in charge of Mrs. Gordon Sager.

Mrs. Gordon Sager thanked the hostess for a delicious lunch and Mrs. W. Houston for her hospitality.

Slides will be shown at the Shannonville school on March 3rd at 8 o'clock. Pie and ice-cream will be served and a silver collection taken. Mrs. Nind will be showing slides of church missions of Norway House on Lake Winnipeg; Moose Factory on James Bay; pictures of Arctic patrol last summer by Dr. Murie and research team, also pictures of the Bay of Quinte and Prince Edward County.

Wife Preservers

You can launder leather gloves (except chamois and doeskin) by washing them on your hands in cool suds, rolling them off, rinsing and squeezing dry. Do not wash gloves that have been dry cleaned.

AND AMBULANCE SERVICE
80 HIGHLAND AVENUE
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO

Dear friends,

Two little girls stopped at the curb. They looked both ways before crossing the street. We just witnessed this occurrence and it shows that these little girls have been coached by someone, probably parents and teachers, to be careful about traffic.

Now if we can coach drivers to be just as careful, our safety problems would be largely solved.

Respectfully,

John R. Bush

Women's Institute

PINE GROVE W.I.

MARSH HILL — The February meeting of Pine Grove W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Allyn Finkle with 14 members and two visitors present. Mrs. Charles Ross, president, opened the meeting.

Several members contributed to the "Pennies for Friendship" fund.

Mrs. Charles Ross was appointed delegate to the president's conference in Guelph, in May. Mrs. Harry Coulter, Mrs. William Slater and Mrs. Ivan Clare volunteered to assist the instructor at the extension service, "Hospitality Foods", which Pine Grove Institute is sponsoring at the home of Mrs. Charles Mayell on February 28 and March 1st.

The conveners of standing committees reported. Mrs. F. Finkle gave highlights from the "Home and Country", and Mrs. Searles distributed the Canadian Association of Consumer's bulletins.

Mrs. Farley Lindenfield, Mrs. Don Irish and Mrs. Allyn Finkle were appointed to convene the social evening last Tuesday.

Mrs. Garnet Searles gave "Current Events with local events given by the members.

Mrs. Fred Campbell, convener of education presided over the following program: Mrs. William Slater gave a reading, "Art of Reading"; Mrs. Harry Coulter, "Mother and Story Hour"; Mrs. David Little and Mrs. Ivan Clare favored with a duet, "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton"; Mrs. Alex Tanner read "They'll be True".

Mrs. Campbell gave a paper on "Education", saying in part: "we are constantly hearing of the value of education over radio, TV in newspapers and magazines. The training and guidance in our schools and colleges; the love and warmth in our home; the give and take in our place of work; the hope and faith in our place of worship. Tolerance and patience with our fellow man are all part and parcel of the educational process and deserve recognition at all times.

"A child will have a much happier and easier time when starting school if he has learned to accept necessary restrictions and rules and has learned to play with other children. In other words education begins long before the children reach school age. The school can supplement, but the home is still mainly responsible for the development of good character and religious education.

"We think of homes where homework is an important event of the day. It should have a place and a time before the children are too tired and sleepy. It should be done without radio or TV accompaniment. If the child wants to talk over his problems, his mother should be there to listen.

"One of the privileges of childhood is the place the imagination plays in everyday life. This can best be stimulated by good books. The child who looks at life imaginatively is likely to keep this habit in later years. Few sources of pleasure have more permanent values than the reading habit cultivated in childhood and carried forward into all the rest of life.

"In a Women's Institute discussion on "Adult Education" one woman said, "One of the best means of education for a mother is to follow her children through school". It may take patience to listen to a six-year-old reading to you; but if you start then, at 18 he may come to you with a question in philosophy that will stretch your mind as well as his?"

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Gary Dutter.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counsellors and social workers.

Mr. E. T. — The house next door was sold to "undesirables." Now I want to sell mine and move.

Mrs. E. T. — Let's not panic. I love our home. The new people may be all right.

• • •

Mr. E. T. — My neighbor had to make a hardship sale of his home in a hurry, so he could take a position in another province. Now I learn that the new owners are a young couple each previously married and with three sets of children!

This is a quiet, refined neighborhood. We all take great pride in our homes and grounds; and our particular street is in apple-pie shape. At the moment I know I'd have no trouble selling my house at a good price.

But my wife thinks we should wait. She's an optimist and says maybe the newcomers will be an asset to the community.

I'm afraid to wait. My home is the biggest investment of my life and I must be practical. Imagine what will happen with seven or eight little ones, all under nine years of age, wandering around; there will probably be more in the next few years. For the best real estate deal, I feel it's now or never for us.

• • •

Mrs. E. T. — I'm not going to panic over this development.

If Earl was told a settled, elderly couple was moving in, he'd feel satisfied and yet, they might be like the Y.'s two blocks down, whom everyone complains about because their hi-fi is always at maximum playing 18 hours a day. Summers they rent the place to a relative who turns it into a boarding-house for about a dozen kids attending the short session at the university.

So how can you tell whether our neighbors will be a detriment to the section? The children may well be mannerly and charming. There are no young children around here any more and it will liven things up, too.

For my part, I'll hire a few of them, if their parents are willing, to walk our dog, shovel our snow and weed our flower-patch.

• • •

The Council — Mrs. T. may turn out to be the more practical of these two. She proposes to protect their principal with a "principle," — and that's more than a quip. She says, Don't panic over a possibility!

Suppose Mr. T. followed his present impulse, made a quick advantageous sale, and brought a new home. And suppose, further, that in a few months the same thing happened; namely, the "desirable" neighbor moved and someone troublesome or controversial took possession. Would he pick up and flee again? Or would he stop running, take stock, and make a real effort to come to terms with other human beings, even though they're different?

After all, with our fair housing legislation gaining momentum, the time will come — and in some sections of the nation it is already here — when anyone who is law-abiding may live anywhere. Perhaps the traditional "gentlemen's agreements" between realty men and property owners will still operate quietly to preserve the "status quo" in many areas, but they'll always be subject to challenge in the courts by any trail blazers who are determined to upset them.

This means that while Mr. T. needn't literally love his unknown neighbor, he must give him the benefit of the doubt on the matter of desirability, rather than pre-judge him.

Here are two young parents buying a home for the usual reason — to improve their living conditions. Ostensibly they will take the same pride in their holdings as Mr. and Mrs. T. and will imbue their youngsters with respect for lawns, trash-cans, fences and window-panes.

Mr. T.'s fears seem prompted by the sterotype of a large family with many noisy, neglected children running wild, committing acts of vandalism, ruining the attractiveness and peace of the neighborhood. But a stereotype is mechanical and inhuman — like Procrustes' bed.

As Mrs. T. suggests, the human thing to do is wait and see this particular household. It may add just the right tang to their apple-pie street.

Scouting activities

By CHRIS F. LEGGAT

SWIMMING

On his report of recent badge winners, chairman Low Andrews is pleased to announce that a Rescuer's badge has been awarded to Scout David Williamson of Avondale. This rather difficult Queen's Scout badge is worthy of a little more than passing comment.

Stamina, plus a wide knowledge of water safety is required. The tests are made difficult purposely, and are very hard to pass, particularly for younger Scouts. A Scout must demonstrate how to defend himself against an hysterical victim in the water, and how to tow a drowning person to safety. He must also demonstrate the various methods of artificial respiration to the satisfaction of the examiner.

RAYSIDE CUBS

This very active Cub Pack has invested four New Chums, Frank Curran, and Ian McDonald to the Green Six, David Barr to the White Six and Ken Snowden to the Blue Six. Cub Dougie Millar was awarded a first-year Service Star. Sixer Bill Fell received a Collector's badge, Sixer Vince Moase an Artists' badge and Cub Glen Mallory a Gardeners' badge. Cub Ronnie McAllister has been transferred from the Blue Six to the White Six.

Mr. George Warner, local Game Warden, gave a most interesting talk to the boys and had two specimens of fish for the boys to see, a carp and a gar.

A.C.M. Betty Moase whishes to thank this gentleman and extend a hearty invitation for an early return visit. This also includes members of the Fire Department and Police Force who have been very co-operative in visiting and talking to the Cubs.

At the last meeting Sixer Don Mallory received his House Orderly badge and Sixer Bill Fell his Guide badge and how glad we are we remembered this. The penalties for mistakes are very severe and since we intend to visit this Pack w don't want to find out how severe, at least not until after the visit.

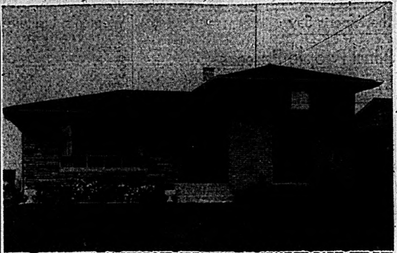
The Reverend Dr. Robinson, famous negro minister was his companion on this trip. In spite of the inclement weather and slippery roads, there was a good attendance.

The annual meeting of Bronk Cheese Company was held in the Community Centre when business for 1961 was transacted, officers elected, and milk routes sold.



"THE PRINCESS", 44 MELROSE CRESCENT, IN STANLEY PARK SUB-DIVISION — GO EAST ON BRIDGE ST. EAST (past Farley Ave.) AND FOLLOW SIGNS.

In Stanley Park

Modern 'Princess' House By Brett Will Be Open For Inspection Sat., Sun.

The "Princess," a modern split-level house, will be open for inspection this weekend at 44 Melrose Crescent, it has been announced.

Earl Brett, president of Earl Brett Construction Ltd., who has been a Belleville house builder for eight years, introduced this model about two years ago and found there was a ready demand for it.

Through the combined efforts of Mr. Brett, David's Furniture and Appliances, and Gerald Joyce, realtor, it has been made possible for the public to inspect this four bedroom, split-level house, which is fully decorated and furnished. The Seven-Up company and Bell Telephone Company are also co-operating with the "Princess" open house.

The house is located in the Stanley Park subdivision in east Belleville, between Bridge St. and Victoria Ave. Stanley Park is the largest subdivison ever registered in Belleville.

Mr. Joyce, himself a resident of Stanley Park, said the popularity of the area is due to the fact that water, sewers and roads were installed and paid for by the subdivider. The area has also been controlled, allowing for the construction of quality houses only.

PLAN MORE HOMES

Some 90 families now live in Stanley Park and plans are afoot for another 65 families to arrive this summer.

The city-operated bus gives good service to the area, which now boasts the newest high school (Moira) in the city and public schools, including a new senior public school now under construction, within easy walking distance.

Churches of every denomination can be reached easily from Stanley Park and a new St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church now is under construction on Victoria Ave. The local Lutheran congregation has acquired, through Joyce Realty, land in Stanley Park for the site of its first church in Belleville. And a new St. Columba Presbyterian Church is planned for the corner of Bridge St. and Farley Ave.

Mr. Joyce said recreational facilities will be available this year with the construction of a new million dollar bowling alley. A new family YW-YMCA on Victoria Ave. is planned for the future and will be a mere stone's throw from Stanley Park. In addition, 14 acres of park land have been deeded to the city with a one acre playground now developed by the city's parks board. A skating rink now occupies the playground.

FOR LARGER FAMILY

The unique design of the "Princess" gives accommodation for the larger family and, at the same time, keeps the purchase price very attractive. Having four levels in all, this design offers a living room, dining room and family-sized kitchen with two bedrooms and bath on one level, two bedrooms and bath on another, plus a basement level with adequate rumpus room area. Together with having the front entrance and service entrance, there is an entrance to the laundry and rumpus room area with direct exit to the garden. With the use of ornamental iron railings, the interior of the house is very spacious, still retaining privacy and having sleeping quarters elevated from the main living area.

The design also lends itself to the smaller family requiring only two or three bedrooms with the advantage of having a den, library or hobby room.

The latest in automatic gas heating has been installed with an endless supply of domestic hot water being maintained by a gas-fired unit with a glass-lined tank. The exterior is finished with genuine burnt clay brick for lasting beauty. The home was built according to the requirements of the National Housing Act and financing is already arranged. A modest down-payment will give immediate possession.

Mr. Joyce reports that he has arranged to have six members of his staff on the premises over the weekend. The Lakeland Gas Company will have representatives to answer inquiries. Joyce Real Estate is supplying refreshments and favors to visitors of the "Princess" and Mr. Joyce hints that there will be a "Princess" in every room of this model home.

VOLCANO ERUPTS

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Calbuco Volcano erupted violently again Monday, spewing lava rocks and ashes. Farmers who had fled when the 6 000-foot peak renewed activity two weeks ago abandoned their farms again in fear of gases.

Roslin

ROSLIN — The Woman's Auxiliary held a quilting and pot-luck dinner recently at the home of Mrs. Alford Grey. During the afternoon a quilt was completed.

Mrs. J. Jackson has been spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnson, at Shannonville.

The February meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. J. Fargey.

URGES CO-OPERATION

CHATHAM (CP)—Closer co-operation between high schools and universities to select students best suited for university training was advocated Thursday night by Dr. Roy G. Ellis, dean of the faculty of dentistry at the University of Toronto.

DIVING UNDER ICE — Bystanders watch as Peter Emmorey (left) and Wayne Clark (both in water) get set to dive beneath the ice in a quarry near Innerkip, Ont. They are among an estimated 250,000 Canadians who practise skin-diving in winter. Skin-diver standing is Jack McKenny, member of the Windsor Scuba-Divers Club, and safety man with rope around his waist is George Caldwell. (CP Photo).

Ice Temporary Obstacle To Intrepid Skin-Divers

By PETER EMMOREY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

INNERKIP, Ont. (CP) — A bitter wind lifted blinding snow across a lonely, flooded quarry, hampering a group intent on chopping through the thick ice.

When cold water finally welled up through the hole the group turned not to fishing lines but to skin-diving gear. One by one they dropped into the frigid water for an ice dive—an increasingly popular variation of the underwater sport.

The quarry is near this village eight miles northeast of Woodstock. On its floor, about 30 feet down, are two old concrete foundations connected by a tunnel through which the divers could swim.

Beneath the ice they found themselves in a wonderland of clear green water that dropped off and around into blackness. Near the surface the water was slightly below freezing but toward the bottom it was warmer. Stunted vegetation waved gently. Among the soft weeds were fish held in silk-like cocoons.

The four are members of the Windsor Scuba (self - contained underwater breathing apparatus) Divers, a group with the Great Lakes and Southwestern Ontario for a playground.

The average sportsman may not get the urge to swim when the temperature drops below freezing but club members will dive in river, lake or quarry in almost any weather. It is estimated that about half of Canada's 500,000 skin-divers carry the pastime into the winter.

Syd Routley, husky president of the Windsor club, says the secret is in the temperature of the water rather than the air.

"The rubber suits we wear are called wet suits," Routley said. "They don't keep you dry. The idea is to let the water in, trap it and warm it with body heat. The warmer water and its insulation effect are what keep the diver warm."

NORTH POLE DIVE

In experimenting with the first wet suits, divers went through the ice near the North Pole where the salt water is much colder. Their body temperature dropped three degrees but the divers remained comfortable.

By way of comparison, experts say, diving without protection in water colder than 45 degrees is dangerous.

The dry suit, rigged to seal water out, is losing favor. Divers found themselves in trouble when the thin rubber was ripped on the underwater obstacles.

But with the wet suits that let the water filter through they say that winter swimming is no more arduous than a cold shower.

WATER CONTENT

In water content, 10 inches of snow is equal to about one inch of rain.

Sunday School Lesson

Even Jesus Had Troubles

By ROY L. SMITH

The first step toward understanding the Deity of Jesus is to understand His humanity.

Growing up in the city of Nazareth, a country town in Galilee, He had lived the quiet, busy, life of a young business man. Tradition has it that Joseph, the head of the household died when Jesus was about 15 years old, and that thereafter The Youth was responsible for the management of the business and a considerable business, and a considerable business it was, apparently.

But Nazareth was a religious centre, rather than a political town which served as a seat of government. To it the priests of the region gathered on state occasions, preparatory to setting off for Jerusalem where they were to function at the temple. Soldiers were a rare sight on the streets of Nazareth, and only on the rarest of occasions did violence of any kind flare within its precincts. When Jesus presented Himself to John the Baptist at the fords of the Jordan, for baptism, He was a quiet man accustomed to quiet.

JESUS AS A GOOD CITIZEN

From the time He was a child, Jesus seems to have enjoyed a splendid reputation in Nazareth. There is no record of His ever having been elected to serve in any office of the local synagogue, but He had earned the respect of the community as is evident from the fact that He was invited to preach to the people in the synagogue shortly after His baptism.

> The Uniform Sunday School lesson for February 26: "JESUS FACES The CROSS," John 12.

This means that He must have conducted the carpentering business in a way that commanded the honor and confidence of the people of the town. He must have paid His temple taxes and discharged His religious duties faithfully, because the Jews were very sensitive to any failures in such matters.

THEN CAME TROUBLE

Almost from the very start of His public ministry He found Himself involved in trouble. Within the space of a few hours following His baptism He felt Himself driven into the desert to think His way through the subject of His new responsibilities. It must have been a crisis in His life.

Upon returning from the desert, when He began preaching to the crowds that had assembled to hear John, He found Himself the centre of jealousies, partisanship, gossip and opposition so much so that He left Judea and returned to Galilee (John 4:1).

His preaching, even when it dealt with the simplest subjects, and when it was presented in the most kindly way, aroused violent opposition. The Carpenter Of Nazareth who had never suffered from hatred or violence of any kind in His home town, previous to the time He began preaching, found Himself under attack from the officers of the temple, the leaders of public opinion, the Roman police and misguided mobs.

Being good does not save us from trouble. Being the Holiest Man Who Ever Lived was not sufficient to insulate Jesus from the threats of death. And if righteous living did not guarantee Jesus serenity and security, then we can be very sure that it will not save us from outrages and troubles.

HAD INNER DEFENSE

Somewhere on the walls of a high school building I found this very wise sentence.

"Your greatest asset is whatever of honor you hold within yourself.

Face to face with the prospect of a death He did not deserve, Jesus was made strong and confident by an inner power that came from God. And the greatest heritage He passed on to His followers was the promise that they might hope to be endowed with that same power.

The Christian is not, necessarily, the man who believes a certain doctrine, but one who has come into possession of that certain power.

Northport

NORTHPORT — The World Day of Prayer was held in the Northport United Church last Friday afternoon. Several ladies from the different appointments helped with the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith and daughters were supper guests on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. William McCaw, R.R. 9, Picton.

Mrs. Robert Greenwell, who has been a patient in Prince Edward County Memorial Hospital returned home on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swan, R.R. 7, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pearsall of Bethesda, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr .and Mrs. Eric Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beatty, R.R. 8, Picton, caleld on friends in the village one day during the week.

Mrs. Howard Smith spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. F. Pulver.

Sorry to report Mr. Bud Rabbie a patient in Prince Edward County Memorial Hospital. All wish him a speedy recovery.

The Dorcas Sisters held an all-day quilting at the home of Mrs. E. B. Kerr on Wednesday.

Pleased to report Mr. Paul Aman able to be home again after his serious accident and being a patient in Prince Edward County Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith and daughter Lois attended a skating party at the Outlet on Thursday evening, sponsored by the Young People of the First Pentecostal Church of Picton.

After skating, refreshments were served at the parsonage.

Massassaga

MASSASSAGA—At time of writing it is a clear, cold day with a lovely bright sun shinging. There was a fine rain over the weekend which helped the water situation some; but more is badly needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Valleau left this morning for a short vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brummell of Norwood visited with Mrs. M. Brummell on Sunday of last week.

Mr .and Mrs. A. C. Cook, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ron Giles and Larry to Oshawa, on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Cook spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bent.

Mrs. Howard Wallbridge spent Thursday evening with Mrs. George Flower.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belnap had dinner Sunday evening with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Don Finkle, and family of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tubbs, of Picton were guests with Mrs. Tubb's mother, Mrs. M. Brummell, one day last week.

The Massassaga W.A. will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Ross on March 2nd. All hope everyone will be able to attend.

Mr .and Mrs. Burton Thompson and family motored to Tweed on Sunday and had dinner Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Krogman and Heather of Belleville, called on Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cook, on Monday evening.

Deepest sympathy is exended to Mr. and Mrs. Adam Brummell in the sudden death of Mrs. Brummell's father Mr. P. Carr, West Huntingdon. Mr. Carr was in a car accident on Saturday and passed away early Sunday morning.

Foxboro

DAY OF PRAYER

FOXBORO — World Day of Prayer was held on the first Friday of Lent in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Earl Snider welcomed the gathering.

The theme was "Forward Through the Ages in Unbroken Line".

The call to worship was given by Mrs. Snider with the congregation prayer in unison.

"We come in joyful remembrance of God's leading over the years," with the leader, Mrs. Allyn Finkle of Marsh Hill United and Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Mitts leading in prayer.

"We Come in Confession and Pentence" was given by the leader, Mrs. F. Wellman of Holloway United.

"We Come in Assurance and Dedication" led by Mrs. Everett Lyons of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

"Intercession" with Mrs. C. LaRue of Foxboro United and prayers by Mrs. Mitts, Mrs. W. Scott, Mrs. John Juby, Mrs. H. Moorcroft, Mrs. H. Morgan and Mrs. Ewing. Hymns suiting the times were sung.

The brief address was given by the Rev. F. R. Darke on the meaning of the "Lord's Prayer". Mrs. Snider thanked Mr. Darke for his address and Mrs. W. Rombough favored with a solo.

Mrs. W. Chappelle received the offering. Mrs. E. Lyons was voted key woman for next year.

Montreal Artist Not Happy With Changes Made in City

MONTREAL (CP) — Artist John Little looked up from his sketch pad and glared at the city.

"All these blasted parking lots," he muttered. "They make Montreal look like a beautiful woman with half her teeth missing."

He paused in his sketching again to jab a pencil at a new skyscraper.

"Look at this new stuff. Glass and steel. Salmon - colored brick. These new buildings just get dirty, they never get any better."

He glared in disgust as a delivery truck roared past.

"In Paris," he said, "they'd stop the truck in the middle of the road, take it apart and carry it around the artist quietly. Here they say 'Oh, it's just an artist.'

"The whole city's cluttered with cars and trucks. If you go down to paint Bonsecours Market, you can't see anything for trucks."

Many of Little's paintings of Montreal already show parts of the city that have disappeared in the name of progress. His paintings have been used as covers on national magazines.

Little's technical training consists of a brief course at the Art Students' League in New York and an 18 - month apprenticeship with Ray Bailey, creator of an American comic strip.

"In a few more years, I'll have plenty of customers and nothing left to paint," he says. "Montreal is becoming just another North American city.

"The taverns are all chrome and leather upholstery now. They depress me. The corner cafes are becoming pseudo-nice restaurants where no one feels at home. The night life is crummy.

"The tenements are disappearing — and maybe that's a good thing. But at least in the old flats the people had cubbyholes where they could express themselves — potted plants on the back porch or dove cotes on the roof.

"But look what they're doing to Sherbrooke street. Toronto architecture — and we have to stare at it for the rest of our lives."

"You could paint everything in the city in those days," he said.

"Every time I think I've found a nice spot now, there's a supermarket crowding into the picture. Or a neon sign. Or a new tavern — with glass bricks."

MGM Minted Millions With Remake of 'Ben Hur,' Start Mutiny on the Bounty

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP)—The Bounty sails again.

The famed ship embarked from Spithead, England, 174 years ago in search of Tahitian breadfruit trees to feed West Indian slaves. In 1935 the Bounty was once more on the seas for the filming of a movie classic starring Clark Gable and Charles Laughton.

HMS Bounty now is on another voyage—in quest of box office gold. MGM, which minted millions with a remake of Ben-Hur, is re-filming Mutiny on the Bounty at the same cost as the Christian epic—$15,000,000.

That's a lot of money. But when you visit the locations in these fabled isles, you can see where it goes.

You can also see a reproduction of the ship built in Nova Scotia and sailed here by a Canadian crew. You can see a high-powered cast and crew waiting out a rainy day at a $23,000 daily cost.

This new version of the famed square - rigger was built from the British admiralty plans of the original warship in the Lunenburg, N.S., shipyards of Smith and Rhuland, builders of the Bluenose, fastest Atlantic racing schooner of the 1920s.

Actually, she is 23 feet longer than the original Bounty at 118 feet. Tonnage is 480 gross and 125 net. Below her two decks are 225-horsepower marine engines, five generators, air conditioning units and a 20,000-gallon fuel tank.

She was launched Aug. 27, 1960, and sailed for Tahiti Oct. 26 last.

The original Mutiny on the Bounty remains evergreen in the memories of movie fans. ("Mr. Christian, come here!" snarled the pompous Laughton.) So why film it again?

The answer lies in Hollywood's quest for film projects that will permit long runs at reserved-seat prices.

Marlon Brando re-creates the Gable role as Fletcher Christian. He will probably net $1,000,000 for the film, including $5,000 a day overtime after five months.

The Bounty herself almost didn't make it. A fire broke out in the engine room 10 days out of Panama. An S O S was dispatched, but the blaze was brought under control. The Canadian crew brought the Bounty to Matavi Bay last Dec. 4, just 33 days after departure.

Captain Bligh had required almost a year to get there from England, but he had only sail and a restive crew.

Most of the cast is British. Trevor Howard was signed to portray Bligh at a reported $275,000. Others imported from London include Hugh Griffith, Richard Harris, Duncan Lamont, Percy Herbert, plus Chips Rafferty from Australia.

Orenda Engines Likely to Get Big Contract

TORONTO (CP)—Officials of a United States firm making nuclear power equipment are conferring at nearby Malton with Orenda Engines Limited on the prospects of Orenda taking over some of its manufacturing operation.

L. K. Black, general sales manager of Teleflex Inc. of North Wales, Pa., said there is a possibility the Canadian firm might win nuclear energy contracts in the U.S. worth $5,000,000 a year in two or three years.

The orders might consist of remote control systems and other equipment. About one-fourth of Orenda's work now is in the atomic energy field.

The company was hit 2½ years ago when the federal government cancelled the Avro Arrow jet fighter program. It designed its Iroquois engine for the Arrow.

Mr. Black said the first Orenda order resulting from a two-months-old agreement between the two companies is for $750,000 worth of components for a nuclear reactor in Italy. He said the companies are working on two smaller orders for reactor parts for the United States.

Canada Goose Favored Choice As National Bird

OTTAWA (CP)—A poll by four Canadian newspapers made the Canada goose an overwhelming choice as Canada's national bird, it was announced Thursday.

The poll was conducted by Ottawa Journal, Winnipeg Free Press, Lethbridge Herald and Victoria Colonist.

Each newspaper ran a printed form in Saturday editions for five weeks and asked readers to name their choice and the reasons for it.

No figures were released, but The Journal said the Canada goose polled twice as many votes across the country as all other birds combined. The robin was second, far behind.

Two Drowned As Car Breaks Through Ice

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP)—Two men were drowned Thursday when their automobile broke through thin ice on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence River as they attempted to drive across it from Canada to the United States.

The car was raised from 40 feet of water late Thursday and skindivers recovered the bodies of Louis Jacobs, 33, and Paul Mitchell, 24. Both men lived on the U.S. section of the St. Regis Indian reservation.

Canadian police said the ice was only three inches thick where the car went through.

"I put your cakes in the kitchen," said Sam. "Three different sorts. 12c, 14c, and 17c. Just two dollars altogether."

"That's fine," his mother declared. "How many did you buy?"

The boy told her the total number, and his mother went on reading. But some moments later she stopped, and then did some figuring on a scrap of paper. "I still can't tell how many you got of each," she said. "Did you buy only one of one sort?"

Sam answered her question. Only one word, but enough to clear up any doubts as to the details of his purchase.

How many had he bought at each price?

Bank of Canada Interest Rate Again Increases

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bank of Canada interest rate rose to 3.36 per cent Thursday from 3.11 last week with the sale of $95,000,000 in 91-day treasury bills.

The increase more than wiped out last week's drop in the rate to 3.11 per cent from 3.35 the previous week. The rate, an indicator of conditions in the short-term money market, now is the highest since Feb. 2 when it stood at 3.38 per cent.

Guards Forced To Join Club Charge Made

PEMBROKE (CP) — The Observer quotes two unidentified Camp Petawawa soldiers as saying their battalion colonel is forcing 800 members of the Canadian Guards to join a yacht club.

The charge is denied by Col. A. D. Egan of the 2nd Battalion who says participation is "voluntary."

According to the soldiers, the 3 dollar membership fee has been made mandatory in order to pay for the two $1,200 sail boats improperly bought out of regimental funds a year ago.

"When those boats were purchased, Guards were told they were for the use of the whole battalion. They didn't get out of the hands of the officers all last summer," one of the men is quoted Thursday as saying.

"Can you imagine 800 of us all trying to use two sailboats in three summer months."

He said men who refused to pay by April 1 were told they would be put on orders before Col. Egan and made to sign a certificate authorizing that the money be taken off their pay.

Col. Egan said the boats were for everybody's use and that the "voluntary" fee entitled the men to "life membership in the club."

AN ALL-RANKS CLUB

"It's an all-ranks club. They can sail any time they want to in their spare time," he said.

The soldiers claimed the boats were bought out of regimental funds and that when this was discovered the money was ordered returned to the fund and payment found "elsewhere."

They claimed the "elsewhere" was the $3 membership.

The soldiers said that members of the Guards feel there is little they can do about the fee. "The colonel says pay and that's it."

Explaining why they wanted their names withheld, one of the Guards said:

Believe Federal Tax Offer Final One by Government

OTTAWA (CP) — Was that a final federal tax offer Prime Minister Diefenbaker laid before the Dominion - provincial fiscal conference?

When the question was put to Prime Minister Diefenbaker he persisted in calling it "the proposal."

Another high source added some weight to the finality of the offer by asserting flatly that the present tax rental system will end when it expires March 31, 1962, come what may.

Reasoning behind speculation the offer is final is that the federal government doesn't really need agreement from the provinces to end the present rental plan or to institute a new one. One authority said it can turn the proposal into fact by the simple process of passing the necessary legislation.

Some observers saw significance in the prime minister's statement that "the federal government will ask Parliament for legislation" to make its proposal effective April 1, 1962, after the expiry of the present Dominion-provincial agreements.

Essence of the new plan is that the provinces will levy their own taxes, although the Dominion will collect them without charge. Under the old plan, provinces which entered into tax - sharing agreements received a specific share of federal tax revenues.

Federal sources describe the proposal as a return to the constitutional position of federal and provincial levels of government as set out in the British North America Act of 1867, with the government that spends the money levying the taxes.

The present Conservative government is touchy about labelling Dominion - provincial tax offers as final. When the party was in opposition it criticized the former Liberal administration for forcing the provinces into the current agreements in 1956 on a take-it-or - leave-it basis.

A cabinet source mentioned that the only agreement required from the provinces on the new proposal was on collection by the Dominion of provincial income tax levies. The provinces would have to levy such taxes on the same general base of qualifications and deductions as the federal government.

The Spectator Will Complain Against Council

LONDON (CP)—The Spectator, a weekly magazine, says it will make a formal compaint to the Press Council—watchdog over Britain's newspapers—about the council's behavior in dealing with charges against itself and two other publications.

The complaint follows council censure of The Spectator, The Guardian of Manchester and The Observer, a Sunday newspaper, for the printing of a four-letter word that came up during the trial clearing the way for publication in Britain of Lady Chatterley's Lover.

The Spectator is basing its complaint on the fact that the council considered the charges without informing the publications involved and then did not advise them of their decision before releasing the censure announcement to the press.

"This sort of behavior can hardly fail to harm the press in general—and the relationship between the press and the public too," the magazine says. says, "And it merits, in our opinion, the severest censure."

The way in which the inquiry and the release of the decision were handled has stirred comments in the British press and led to the resignation of one of the council members.

EDITOR RESIGNED

Frank Singleton, editor of the Bolton Evening News and president of the Guild of British Newspaper Editors, resigned to correct "the impression given in the statement to the press that the opinion of the council was unanimous."

The Observer reported that only about six of the 20 or more council members present at the meeting voted for the condemnation.

Replying to a statement by The Guardian that the council was discourteous, Chairman George Murray said:

"The question of what is, or is not, courtesy in public controversy is an arguable one. Every day newspapers attack, criticize and denounce persons and policies and it must be rare for the subjects of these philippics to be informed in advance."

The Guardian says in an editorial "we fuly agree with Murray that newspapers and journalists . . . should not complain when they themselves are criticized."

"The press council has, however, an important job to do in helping to raise the standards of the British press. Its words need to carry weight. They will not do so while it condemns people, in their absence, behind closed doors and by minority votes."

Castro Announces Sweeping Industrialization Changes

HAVANA (Reuters)—Ernesto Guevara, former president of the Cuban National Bank, becomes personally responsible for Cuba's industrialization under sweeping changes announced today.

His duties as new minister of industries will include the creation, reconstruction, regrouping and consolidation of state-owned industries.

A ministerial decree published today announced the creation of three new ministries and a central planning junta (directorate) to apply over-all control of the national economy.

The junta, under the presidency of Premier Fidel Castro, will have Maj. Raul Castro, Fidel's brother, as vice-president. Other members will include Guevara, the new ministers of internal and overseas trade, Maximo Bernan and Alberto Mora, and the ministers of economy, public works, transport, labor and property.

It will also administer long and short-term credits, investments and international finance and oversee the nation - wide introduction of a metric decimal system.

HEADS ODEON

TORONTO (CP) — John S. Tory of Toronto, has been elected chairman of the board of Odeon Theatres (Canada) Ltd. He succeeds John Davis, deputy chairman and managing director of the Rank Organization Ltd. who will remain a director. Mr. Tory, a lawyer, is also chairman of McIntyre Porcupine Mines Ltd.

North Seaway To Georgian Bay Is Possibility

HULL (CP)—Mayors, reeves and members of Parliament from in and around this city across the Ottawa River from the capital have agreed to set up a committee to push the establishment of a northern seaway from Montreal to Georgian Bay.

The local leaders met briefly Wednesday and agreed to set up the permanent committee. Its members will be settled on by March, officials said Thursday.

The seaway, first thought of as far back as 1908, would stretch from Montreal to Georgian Bay through the Ottawa River, Lake Nipissing and the French River.

First project of the committee would be to obtain an economic survey of the effects of such a seaway.

21 Charges Laid Against Used Car Company

TORONTO (CP)—A total of 21 charges of theft, fraud and false pretences have been laid against a used car company, its president and three of its salesmen.

A special court will be held Feb. 27 to hear 10 charges against Capri Motors, and a charge of false pretences against Peter Leslie, 30, its president. Grant Shanahan, 35, faces two charges of fraud; Selwyn Tobias, 21, and Robert Newland, 31, two charges of theft and two of false pretences.

Robertson Davies Appointed Master Designate of College

TORONTO (CP) — Robertson Davies, editor, author and playwright, has been appointed master designate of Massey College at the University of Toronto.

The appointment was announced in a joint statement today by University President Dr. Claude Bissell and Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chairman of the Massey Foundation and former governor-general of Canada. It will take effect when the college opens in the fall of 1962.

Mr. Davies will be the administrative and intellectual head of the college, a residence for graduate students being built, furnished and equipped by the foundation.

There will be no formal teaching within the college. Intellectual attainment will be the only basis for selection of the 70 graduate students, or junior fellows, who will live there.

The college will also have a number of senior fellows, all drawn from the teaching staff of the university.

Mr. Davies, his wife and three daughters will have an apartment within the college.

The master designate is editor and publisher of the Peterborough Examiner and is visiting professor of Englih literature at Trinity Collesge, Toronto.

Mr. Davies was born in Thamesville, Ont., in 1913. He attended Upper Canada College and Queen's University before going to Oxford as a research student.

After Oxford, Mr. Davies went on the stage and was for a time a member of the Old Vic Company in London, working as an actor and lecturing on dramatic literature in the school that was attached to the theatre.

He has written a number of plays, most of which have been performed in Canada, and some in Norway, Switzerland, the U.S. and Great Britain.

He has written 16 books, many of which have also appeared in Great Britain and the U.S. and in translations. His latest work, A Voice From the Attic appeared in the U.S. and Canada in 1960 and will be published in England this spring.

Starr Denies Unemployed At Galt Were Reprimanded, Intimidated by Officials

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Starr issued a heated denial in the Commons Thursday to a report that unemployed persons in Galt had been "reprimanded and intimidated" by National Employment Service officials for sending postcards to a Conservative MP.

C. A. Cathers (PC — York North) began it by asking Mr. Starr about newspaper reports that persons who sent printed cards to Mr. Anderson asking where they could find jobs were caleld into the NES office at Galt and reprimanded.

Mr. Starr said "'no one was reprimanded or criticized in any way" by NES officials. He said the cards, apparently part of a "'campaign," were mailed to Mr. Anderson who then asked Mr. Starr for advice. Mr. Anderson was advised to send the cards to the NES office at Galt.

ASKED INTERVIEWS

The labor minister said NES officials had called the card-writers in for interviews to learn what type of jobs they could handle.

Mr. Anderson said Larry Sefton, head of the district office of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC) in Toronto, has issued a press release saying the card writers were 'intimidated" at the NES office.

That charge, he said, was "'a disgrace."

Mr. Starr said the charge was completely unfounded. NES officials had not yet reached a stage of efficiency where they could recommend persons for jobs without first interviewing them about their abilities.

He was going on to report "'some strange circumstances about this card campaign" when Speaker Roland Michener cut him off. The Speaker said Mr. Cathers' query had been answered and there was no need to go further.

CCF Leader Argue and J. W. Pickersgill (L — Bonavista-Twillingate) suggested that the subject be referred to a committee for further study.

MINISTER AGREES

Mr. Starr disagreed, saying nothing controversial was involved. The charges were purely without foundation.

Mr. Argue persisted, asking that the industrial relations committee be allowed to hear witnesses on the matter.

When Mr. Anderson said the charges were false and "'made for political purposes," the CCF leader retorted: "'A rotten statement!"

GIVES HIS TERMS

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner has announced he will reappoint police commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy for a second five-year term and Kennedy says he will accept on two conditions. Kennedy, who called a press conference Monday night, said he wanted assurance of the mayor's support for a $600 average yearly pay increase for patrolmen and for Kennedy's ban on policemen holding outside jobs.

Castro May Be Best Bulwark Against Redism

TORONTO (CP)—Fidel Castro may be Cuba's best bulwark against Communism, a churchman specializing in Latin American affairs said Thursday night.

Rev. Howard W. Yoder of New York, secretary for Latin America in the foreign missions division of the National Council of Churches of Christ, was addressing a dinner of the United Church of Canada's Board of Evangelism and Social Service.

The overthrow of the present regime, he said, might mean either a non-Communist government or a complete Communist state.

"It is very possible," he said, "that the best bulwark against Communist domination in Cuba is Castro.

"Much depends on whether the United States can accept the revolution as an accomplished fact and then find the ways to strengthen the good aspects of that revolution, help in the elimination of those features which are inconsistent with our principles of democracy and justice."

United Church Passes Motion Against Lotteries

TORONTO (CP) — Canada's major cities could become sweepstake centres for all of North America if government-run lotteries were made legal, the United Church says.

The church's Board of Evangelism and Social Service passed a resolution Wednesday condemning lotteries after hearing reports the federal government is considering allowing provinces and municipalities to introduce lotteries along the lines of the Irish Sweepstakes. The board criticized the government for being "tempted to trade principles for expedience" to obtain revenues.

Only a small proportion of Irish Sweepstakes profits goes to hospitals, the resolution said.

Five Toronto Men Sentenced To 15 Years

TORONTO (CP) — Five Toronto men were sentenced Thursday to a total of 15 years for running an $85,000 car - theft ring.

Joseph Natale, 25, received four years on 18 charges of possessing stolen cars and fraud; Patrick Perry, 39, six years for conspiracy and fraud; Peter Peretti, 30, two years for possessing stolen cars; Michael Norris, 29, one year for conspiracy and receiving stolen goods; Donald Clarke, 24, two years for fraud.

Lois Fry, 19, was given a suspended sentence and put on probation for two years.

The court was told the cars were sold through Flamingo Motors, run by Natale.

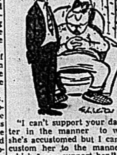
"Jest a Second"



"I can't support your daughter in the manner to which she's accustomed but I can accustom her to the manner in which I can support her."

Scoharie

I breathe a prayer in the morning
It means a day of blessings sure —
And a breath of prayer in the evening.
Means a night of rest secure.

A prayer said in our weakness
And the clasp of a Mighty Hand —
And to breathe a prayer when we are lonely
Means someone to understand.

To say a prayer in rejoicing,
Gives joy and added delight;
They that remember God's goodness
Go singing, far into the night.

Never is there a year or a season
That prayer may not bless every hour,
A soul need never be helpless;
When linked with God's infinite power.

(Selected).

SCOHARIE — A large number of ladies gathered at Bloomfield United Church, on Friday afternoon for the World Day of Prayer. Mrs. Waring Rabbie was leader. The first, and most important part, of the Cub and Scout laws is "Duty to God," which every Cub and Scout promises to obey when he becomes a member. Uniforms will be worn.

DESERONTO

Assoc. Requests Grant of $500 For Recreation

DESERONTO — Acting Mayor Lott presided at the regular meeting of Town Council on Monday night and all members were present.

An application from Donald Dafoe to move a bungalow from the Boundary Road to a lot on the corner of Park and Pearl Streets was discussed at some length. Some of the council felt that the lot was too small in case Mr. Dafoe later wanted to install a septic system. Other councillors felt that the lot was as large as some of the others in town. The matter was finally laid over until more information could be obtained by the property committee.

Scoutmaster H. Piercy and three of the Scouts were present to invite the council to an informal meeting to be held in the Lions Hall on Wednesday night when Commissioner McKinley will speak. Council accepted the invitation and advised that three members had to attend a meeting in Trenton that afternoon but would try to return in time for the meeting. The other three members signified their intention of attending.

Two engineering firms had letters offering their services and giving an outline of the requirements for the installation of sewers under the supervision of the Water Resources Commission. Council decided to ask one of the firms to have a representative address them at a future meeting.

The Plumbing inspector requested a raise in pay and Council decided to increase his renumeration to one hundred dollars per year.

The letter of the Deseronto Athletic Association asking for a grant of five hundred dollars was referred to the Finance Committee for consideration. Reeve Metcalfe in speaking on the money required for sports for town referred to the considerable sum donated some years ago for a rink and now held in trust in the Bank. He wanted to know, who controlled that money as he said some of the donors would like to see it used for some useful purpose.

REPORT ON COSTS

The property committee reported on the cost of repairing the floor of the Public Library and introduced a tender for the installation of supports. Council moved that the property committee proceed with the work at a cost of $260.

On motion of the Publicity Committee council granted $25 towards the cost of sweaters for the ten-pin bowling team that will be going to Detroit Mich. this spring. The committee also introduced the subject of the Airport for commercial use for the district. The chairman was authorized to contact Chief R. M. Hill of Tyendinaga Band and ascertain the present status of the Airport and see what steps could be taken to put it to use for the district comprised of Picton, Belleville, Napanee and Kingston.

Two bylaws were passed. One gave a deed to some property purchased by James Sharpe in 1944 and the other excluded certain lands from tax sale as the owners had made arrangements for payment of the taxes. This is the first time in many years that no land tax sale will be held in Deseronto.

APPRECIATE WORK

KINGSTON (CP) — Queen's University students are circulating a petition telegram to be sent to UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, approving his actions despite recent Soviet attacks, and expressing their gratitude for the job he is doing. The original idea was to send the telegram with 1,500 names signed below the vote of confidence. Students would be charged five cents per word for their signatures.

Science at Work

Topics this week: A dying germ, voting by telephone, a husband-toting shellfish and a bargain sale.

DIAL P FOR PREMIER

You may be voting by telephone someday in the future, an expert predicts.

Comes election day, you'd dial a special number, check a written ballot that had been mailed to you, dial code numbers for your vote, and dial a final code to cast the ballot.

Final results could be known a few minutes after polls close and you'd vote in your own home, says Dr. Ralph M. Goldman of Michigan State University. One problem: How to prevent someone from casting your ballot.

DEATH OF A GERM

How germs die when attacked by the disinfectant hexachlorophene in soaps and toothpastes has been discovered by University of Michigan scientists.

The germ bleeds to death, losing its vital fluids as the chemical attacks the thin membrane beneath the cell wall. Then the disinfectant moves in to break up the germ's life chemicals.

ATTENTION WIVES

A tiny female barnacle has reduced married life to its simplest. She carries one or two husbands around in her pocket.

This particular barnacle, of the family lithogyptidae, does not live on ship bottoms, but burrows into coral. While the female is tiny—barely 8-100th of an inch long—the male is even less, a small, simple sac without ability for independent action, save only for reproduction, and housed in a pocket in the female's right side, reports the Smithsonian Institution.

PRICES SLASHED

If you're looking for radioactive technetium-99, the Oak Ridge national laboratory has slashed prices to $100 a gram, down from as high as $2,800 a gram. A nuclear reactor by-product, the material has promise as an anti-corrosion element.

IT'S A BREEZE

Air movement helps carry enough carbon dioxide to the corn plants, a requisite for photosynthesis. Without it corn yields may be reduced, say U.S. department of agriculture scientists.

Madoc

MADOC — Madoc Agricultural Society held their annual meeting in the Council Chambers, on Saturday afternoon, with a good representation of members.

President Allan Ketcheson called the meeting to order and voiced his appreciation to all who had helped to make Madoc Fair a success. He called on the auditor, George West, for a report and complimented him on the excellent condition of his books.

The number of exhibitors were 112 and entries 2,037. The premiums offered for horses attracted exhibitors from a large area, Bowmanville to Smith Falls and from Picton to Bancroft. There were 150 horses with 240 entries in different sections.

There was a fine exhibit of cattle, both dairy and beef herds totalled 110 head and placed 200 entries.

The juniors and 4-H Clubs with their exhibits received many complimentary comments.

Attractive displays of domestic science and handicraft department received many words of comment with their fine displays.

Mr. R. McMurray, president of the Chamber of Commerce was called upon for a few words. He explained the functions of the organization and offered assistance in any possible way, to the Society.

Due to the international ploughing match, at Belleville, which wil be held on the dates of Madoc Fair, it was decided that the choosing of a date be left to the delegates attending the district meeing held in Belleville and the dates chosen were October the 2nd and 3rd.

Mrs. Newell Broad was asked to take the chair for the election of officers. Mr. Ketcheson, retiring president thanked all membesr for their co-operation during his term of office and offered his assistance, if required in the future.

The new president took the chair and a program for 1961 was discussed. Wilfred Forestell, platform chairman was given authority to arrange for entertainment.

Three field crop competitions namely for oats, hay and corn will be held this year.

Officers elected for 1961 are as follows: honorary members — Senator George White, Rod Webb M. P., Clarke Rollins M.L.A.; president — Leonard Trottir; 1st vice-president — Cecil Woods; 2nd vice-president — Kenneth Holland; secretary — Francis Tobin; treasurer — James Miller; auditors — George West, Tom Ross; directors — L. Mulrooney, E. F. Meraw, George Harris, Fred Stewart, Thomas Walsh, Ed. Sexsmith, W. Bateman, F. Allan, E. T. Nayler, W. J. Stewart, C. Blackburn, Elliott Burris, Gordon Chapman, George Wood, C. Downey, Allan Thompson, Harold Harris, Ross Moorcroft and the lady directors — Mesdames A. Johnston, D. Kernohan, W. Hill, J. Henderson, G. Hill, G. Allore, K. Nicol, G. Hill, F. Trotter, B. Tanner, J. Atkinson, G. Harris, G. Palmer, A. Woods and Miss Alma Moorcroft.

MOTORIZE POSTMEN

River Valley W.I. will sponsor four card parties in March. On March 3rd, and 10th Mrs. Gerald Brooks and Mrs. Percy MacMullen will convene and on March 17th and 24th, Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Harry Vandervoort will be in charge. No card party will be held on No card party wil lbe held on Good Friday, March 31st.

The storekeepers of Stirling had a hectic time for an hour, on Saturday afternoon, at the peak of business. Old fashioned lamps and candles were used, also flashlights, as shoppers found it difficult to do their weekly buying, and a lot of electric machines were out of order. The beauty salons also had to keep customers waiting, but eventually the power was restored and everyone was happy.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Isn't it about time someone dubbed Mac White and his Quinte rink the "Cinderellas" of Ontario curling?

That is what they called the McFarlands senior hockey club when it rose from the figurative fireplace in Belleville and smacked down proud champions on the way to the heights.

Or let's be original and call White and his gallant crew the "Quinte Upsets." On second thought the name is not original.

For under the brilliant guidance of its skip, this rink, untried in the crucible of championship curling, has amazed experts with daring strategy and curling ability in its tyro bid for the Ontario title.

Whatever the Ontario championship future holds for Mac White, Al McCallum, T. A. Carruthers and Bill Riley, it cannot take away the glory of achievement in the rink's defeat of the favored Unionville quartet in the zone finals, and the decisive setback it handed the proud 1960 Ontario champions from Kingston in the opening round of the provincial round-robin.

The defeat of the Unionville rink and the veteran curler Andy Grant at the hands of a virtually unknown quartet from the banks of the Moira came as a distinct surprise to the seats of the curling mighty.

Newspapers headlined it as an "upset" but not taking anything away from the fine effort of White and his Quintemen in turning back the bid of the Grants. True, they said, White was playing on home ice. That could have made a difference.

"But they hadn't seen nuthin' yet."

White went into the Ontario championships slightly underdog to the 1960 champions from Kingston under Jake Edwards, the MacDonald rink from Guelph and the Gurowka rink from Dixie. But the reports stated "the Mac White rink is strongly rated."

By a stroke of curling fate, White was drawn against Edwards and his Kingston champions in the first round. And a few hours later the Ontario curling world was astounded (Kingston was almost shocked) when the news broke that the Quintemen had decisively defeated the Edwards' rink by a 12-8 score.

Mac White, a curler who curled his first stone four years ago, and his three doughty henchmen, the whole with perhaps an aggregate of twelve curling seasons as their experience mantle, had upset another curling applecart, this time a big one.

White, a daring strategist, skipped like a veteran. He proved that "ice is ice" regardless of home or foreign variety. The "hardrock" Bill Riley, Al McCullam, rated one of the best leads in Ontario and T. A. Carruthers refused to be daunted by environment and backed the skip to the limit—and victory.

Two inches cost the Quintemen a heartbreaker in their 4-3 loss at the hands of George Parke's Woodstock rink on Wednesday night but they came back ot register an 8-3 victory over the Jurowka rink from Dixie. Yesterday afternoon they bowed to the MacDonald rink from Guelph 11-8, but defeated Owen Sound 9-4 last night for a 3-2 record.

White's rink probably won't win the Ontario championship. Then again it might. But isn't it a little too much to expect from a foursome with no championship tournament experience and not too much actual curling behind them as compared to other rinks.

A Quinte Curling Club official told me that White has been curling four years, Carruthers and McCullam two years each and Riley, one of the steadiest players in the club having some experience in curling before joining the rink.

White, Carruthers and McCullam have been curling for just two years. Riley joined them this season after the original fourth member dropped out.

Whatever their fate their club and their city should be proud of them. They have proved their zone championship was no flash in the pan and their play, win, lose or draw, in the Ontario championships has shown that in their tyro year they rate with the best curlers the province can produce.

How About A Matador As Referee?

LONDON (Reuters)—An irate Spanish soccer team left for home Thursday still outraged at a penalty kick which cost them a game and resulted in bruises for the referee Wednesday night.

Julia de se Capman., manager of the team from Barcelona, said at London Airport: "Naturally we chased the referee. You can't just put it down to Latin temperament. It was a totally wrong decision."

The Barcelona team had fought the Scottish team, Hibernian, to a 2-2 standoff five minutes from the end of a game in Edinburgh when the ref's whistle blew.

He awarded a penalty kick to the Hibernians. The infuriated Barcelonians chased the ref, who headed down the sidelines at top speed.

The referee, West German Johannes Malka, was punched and kicked by the Spaniards before 50 policemen rescued him.

When order was restored, Hibernian Bobby Kinloch stepped up and booted in a beautiful penalty goal, which won the match.

Malka said Thursday he would make a full report on the disturbance to the soccer association's international federation.

Disputed Goal Gives Leafs Assist

But Big K. Won It 4-2

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Bearding lions in their dens is nothing compared to beating Montreal Canadiens in their own rink, but Toronto Maple Leafs did it.

The Leafs furiously outplayed Montreal all the way Thursday night to take a 4-2 victory, regain sole possession of first place in the National Hockey League, and infuriate a violent Montreal crowd of 15,000—the largest of the season here.

The Montreal fans, who have never been accused of impartiality, littered the ice with paper and all sorts of throwable objects at 17:35 of the third period when Toronto rookie Bob Nevin was awarded a disputed goal.

Nevin swiped the puck from Montreal's Jean-Guy Talbot and fired from 20 feet out. The puck hit the top of the cage and bounced back into play. The goal judge didn't flash the red light, but referee Eddie Powers stopped the action and ruled Nevin had scored.

TAKE TIME OUT

That made the score 3-2 for Toronto, and play was stopped for 10 minutes until police and ushers cooled off the crowd, Powers and the linesmen cooled off the protesting Canadiens, and sweepers cleaned off the ice.

Talbot was given a 10-minute misconduct and a game misconduct for protesting two violently. It was the second game misconduct Powers called—the first went to Toronto's Dick Duff in the second period.

Goalers Gerry McNamara of Toronto and Jacques Plante of Canadiens played solidly. Toronto outshot Montreal 37-25 in one of the few games that Canadiens have been outplayed.

Only 31 seconds after Nevin's goal, centre Red Kelly flipped in his second goal of the evening and clinched the victory. Kelly and Dick Duff had scored in the first period. Jean Beliveau got one for Montreal in the first and Bernie Geoffrion tied it at 2-2 in the second.

KELLY GETS 20TH

For Kelly, a rehabilitated reject from Detroit Red Wings, the insurance marker was his 20th goal of the season, the most he has ever scored in his 14 years in the NHL.

Kelly's first goal was set up by Toronto's brilliant left wing Frank Mahovlich, who now has 45 goals and 29 assists to tie the Toronto team record for points, 74, set by Lorne Carr in 1943-44.

About the only consolation for Montreal was that Glen Skov, a defensive specialist brought up from Hull-Ottawa of the Eastern Professional Hockey League, shadowed Mahovlich expertly all evening and kept him from getting a goal.

Mahovlich needs only six goals in the 10 games left to break the all-time season record of 50 held by Montreal's retired Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

Tom McCarthy, traded by Detroit to Boston, fired the goal that gave Boston the 3-3 tie. Boston took a 2-0 lead in the first period but blew it in the second.

Allan Johnson scored his 14th and 15th goals of the year for Detroit and veteran Gordie Howe scored his 18th, to put Detroit ahead before McCarthy scored the tying goal. All were shot in the third period.

Jim Bartlett and Andre Pronovost had scored in the first period.

Detroit now needs to pick up only four points to eliminate last-place Boston's last mathematical hope for a playoff spot.

MUZZ WILL RETURN

NEW YORK (AP) — Admiral John Bergen, president of Madison Square Garden, said Thursday Muzz Patrick will gain be general manager of New York Rangers in the National Hockey League next season and that Alf Pike will return as coach.

Hull Line High Scoring Macs Unit

The hard-working Hull has been filling the net with marked regularity lately and is one of the main reasons why the Macs lead the series over Whitby 2-1.

Hull finished up the regular schedule with a bang, getting hat tricks in both his club's final games to give him an even 20 for the season. He was held pointless in the playoff opener which the Macs lost 6-3.

Belleville came roaring back with a 4-3 win here and a 5-3 decision in Whitby. Ronnie triggered two goals in both games, including the first goal and the winning goal in both games.

The Hillcrests cannot afford to neglect Hull's linemates while checking him. Centre Gary Goyer and right-winger Moe Hunter are the other members of the line and they finished one-two in the team scoring race. Hunter had 24 goals and 45 points, Goyer 15 goals and 43 points.

This veteran "Production Line of the Macs will be going all out tonight to increase their already-large point total and at the same time give Belleville a stranglehold on the series.

Game time here is nine o'clock because of the stores being open. The fifth game is in Whitby, Tuesday, at 8.30, with a sixth back here next Friday if necessary.

Stunning Wins Boost B.C. Boys

By BOB TRIMBEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) A youngster from Oliver, B.C., upset the form chart with two stunning victories Thursday and entered the final day of the 1961 Canadian high school curling championships tied for the lead with defending - champion Alberta.

Jerry Caughlin, 18, guided his rink to a 10-9 victory over Alberta in the seventh round and followed up in the eighth with a dramatic 7-6 last-rock decision over Manitoba.

The twin killing overshadowed a 10-8 extra-end upset by Sandy McLeod's Nova Scotia champions over Manitoba in the ninth round last night.

The two defeats left Manitoba virtually out of contention in the 11 round, round-robin tournament. The final two rounds were set for today. If B.C. and Alberta remain deadlocked for first place, a sudden-death playoff match is set for tonight.

SEEKS FIRST TITLE

Alberta has won the crown the last two years. B.C is seeking its first Canadian title.

Knocked out of the running Thursday was Mike Lukowich and his Saskatchewan champions, who fell 5-4 to Quebec in the eighth round.

Other seventh-round results: Prince Edward Island scored its first victory, 8-7 over Ontario, Saskatchewan beat Northern Ontario 13-5. Quebec defeated Newfoundland 21-1 and New Brunswick whipped Nova Scotia 17-6.

In the eighth round New Brunswick edged Ontario 6-5, Alberta humbled Nova Scotia 20-3 and Northern Ontario beat P.E.I. 11-6. In the ninth draw New Brunswick dropped an 11-5 decision to Northern Ontario. Quebec outlasted P.E.I. 8-6, Saskatchewan scored six in the final two ends to defeat Newfoundland 12-6 and Alberta beat Ontario 15-5.

Manitoba drew the bye in the seventh round, Newfoundland in the eighth and B.C. in the ninth.

In today's 10th draw, moved ahead to 9:00 a.m. PST (noon EST) to make room for a possible playoff, Saskatchewan drew the bye. P.E.I. was matched against Newfoundland, Alberta against Northern Ontario, Manitoba against Ontario, Nova Scotia against B.C. and Quebec against New Brunswick.

Pollock Likes Prosperity

OTTAWA (CP) — Beaming Sam Pollock, general manager of the Hull-Ottawa Canadiens, reported Thursday that his team is having as good a season in the box office as on the ice.

Pollock told reporters he was "very pleased" with crowds the Eastern Professional Hockey League team has drawn so far this season.

He said that the gate at the 4,000-seat Hull Arena has averaged 3,500 fans a game for 28 home games and the net return up to the end of January totalled $125,000. There are eight home games left in the season.

Pollock says the team will put on an "appreciation night" next Tuesday to thank the fans.

"Hundreds of dollars" worth of prizes will be given the fans, including all-expense paid trips to Montreal for the National Hockey League playoffs.

Pollock said the Canadiens, at the top of the league standings, were also leading in attendance. As another reward for the fans he was planning a celebrity dinner here March 16 to be attended by hockey greats.

Jockey Club Looks For Good Year

TORONTO (CP) — Shareholders of the Jockey Club Limited were told Thursday they may look for "a very good year and even greater financial improvement" in 1961.

President E. P. Taylor said at the annual meeting the directors' report and the 1960 financial statement "show betterment of results, surpassing any previous year."

Net profit last year was $1,282,509, an increase of $282,057 over 1959 which was the previous record year.

"As far as the general economic picture is concerned it is strange that racing doesn't necessarily follow the trend of general business," Taylor said.

Five Enter Ball League

GALT (CP)—Five of the eight proposed entries in the Inter-County Baseball Association senior series have filed their entries, President Earl Cook said Thursday.

In the fold are Guelph Merchants, Kitchener-Waterloo Panthers, Listowel Legionnaires, St. Thomas Elgins and London Diamonds. An entry from Hamilton Cardinals is expected shortly.

Unheard from yet are Brantford Red Sox, seeking to establish a share-the-wealth system with the players, and Galt Terriers, who have said they won't come in unless permitted to open their schedule June 3 or later.

OARSMAN DIES

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Russell S. (Rusty) Callow, former dean of U.S. rowing coaches, died in his sleep Wednesday night at Phoenix, Ariz., the naval academy was informed Thursday.

Callow, 70, retired at the academy in July, 1959, after a 37-year career which brought him rowing's highest honors. His 1952 Navy sophomores swept through an undefeated season and won the Olympic championship.

Quinte Rink In Thick Of Fight

OTTAWA (Special). — Mac White Belleville's representative in the Ontario Curling Championships, hasn't written off his chances of winning the Ontario berth in the Dominion Bonspiel at Calgary but admitted after his 12-8 defeat to Don MacDonald of Guelph in the fourth round Thursday that his rink might not be ready yet.

"We're young and we admit we lack experience to cope with the more powerful Ontario rinks but give us another season or so and we should give a good account of ourselves" said the soft - spoken Belleville skip.

The Belleville rink, total experience, 12 years of curling, still is considered a strong threat for the coveted trip to Calgary.

White trailed Joe Gurowka, the highly favored Toronto curler 7-8 coming home in the morning game with handicap of not having last stone. However, the young skip trapped Gurowka into a situation where he had to make two choices, with two Belleville stones in the house, either a takeout to force an extra end or a draw inside the counters. Gurowka chose to go for the outside stone but was wide and heavy and slipped to the back of the six - foot for a cliff-hanging victory by Belleville.

If you mention the word wreck to White you could be in trouble. In his game with MacDonald, while he was behind 9-8 coming home, he had a chance to force an extra end. MacDonald was lying three with White having the benefit of last rock. White tried a draw which barely wrecked on one of his own front stone and that was the game.

White's fifty round game with Cliff Bleich of Owen Sound came out as expected. White counted on seven of the 11 ends played for an easy 9-4 win.

OTTAWA (CP)—Anything can—and probably will—happen as eight Ontario rinks head into the final rounds today of the Ontario provincial curling championships.

The Guelph rink of Don MacDonald and the Orillia foursome of Tom Caldwell will fight to hold their first-place position of four wins, one loss after five rounds of play.

But right behind them—each with three victories and two defeats—are George Parkes of Woodstock, Jake Edwards of Kingston and Mac White of Belleville.

With two more rounds of play scheduled for today, all five rinks have a chance of emerging as Ontario champion. The winner will represent the province at the Dominion curling championships next month at Calgary.

Still in the bonspiel, but with little hope of catching up with the leaders, are Joe Gurowka of Toronto Dixie, with two wins and three losses, Stan Duvall of Hamilton Victoria, with one win and four losses, and Cliff Bleich of Owen Sound with five straight defeats.

ICE FAST

The championships started two days ago.

All through the matches the ice at the Ottawa Curling Club has been in good shape and fast, which appeals to the Ontario take-out style of play.

In Thursday night's fifth round, White defeated Bleich 9-4; Edwards, defending provincial champion, beat Gurowka 9-4; Caldwell beat Duvall 9-5 and MacDonald edged Parkes 5-2.

Parkes had been among the leaders when fifth-round play started. He lost in the fourth round in a 10-8 thriller to Caldwell.

After 10 ends, play in the contest was tied at 7-7, Parkes drew beautifully to score in the 11th end, for an 8-7 lead going into the 12th and last end. But the point also cost him last rock on the final end.

Caldwell was laying two when Parkes made his last shot, a slow draw near the button to count. But it was an unguarded stone and Caldwell knocked it out with his last rock to count three and take the game.

In other fourth-round games, MacDonald defeated White 12-8, Gurowka beat Duvall 8-7 and Kingston's Edwards hammered Bleich of Owen Sound 11-7.

Cub Hurler Recovered Doing Well

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Jim Brewer, the Chicago Cub pitcher nearly knocked out of baseball by one Billy Martin punch, waved the olive branch Thursday as he toiled in an amazing comeback.

Six months after Martin swung his eye-crunching blow, Brewer is hurling smoothly in the Cubs' advanced spring training drills following a 9-2 record during the winter's Arizona instructional league campaign.

A small scar near the corner of his right eye is the only visible reminder of that clout in a Cincinnati Red-Cub game Aug. 4 — a punch that caved in Brewer's right cheekbone and damaged the flesh around his eye. The injury required several operations and a 23-day hospital stay.

"It's all over with," said Brewer, "and I don't hold any grudge against Martin. I want to forget the whole thing and just get on with my pitching."

WILL PLAY BEARS

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes announced Thursday they will meet Chicago Bears of the U.S. National Football League in an exhibition game here Aug. 5. The Als are also scheduled to meet the Grey Cup champion Ottawa Rough Riders July 25 and Hamilton Tiger-Cats July 31 in exhibition games.

JUNIOR SKIERS MEET

JASPER, Alta. (CP) — The Canadian junior ski championships scene is long on entries and short on predictions this week.

With more than 70 competitors to choose from, coaches of the five teams are wary of picking any one team or individual to come out on top during the weekend. The meet gets under way today and runs through Sunday.

Hull, Soo Pull Away From Pack

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Wins by Hull-Ottawa Canadiens and Sault Ste. Marie Thunderbirds pulled the two teams further away from the other four entries in the Eastern Professional Hockey League Thursday night.

At Hull, the Canadiens handed the third - place Kitchener Beavers a 4-1 trimming, marking the league-leaders' 38th win in 57 games this season. They have tied five.

And at the Soo, the second-place Thunderbirds downed Sudbury Wolves 5-3, leaving the Sudbury team tied with Montreal Royals in the league basement.

The Canadiens' victory broke a league record of 80 points set by the Wolves last season.

Goals by Cliff Pennington and Billy Carter in the second period and Terrry Gray early in the third gave the Canadiens a 3-0 lead before Dave Balon scored for the Beavers. Carter's second goal of the game rounded out the scoring.

STARTED FAST

In the other game the Thunderbirds started fast, leading 2-0 into the second frame. Dusty Blair scored twice for the winners, while singles went to Jim Farelli, Ed Kachur and Norman Waslowski.

Jim Martin, John Sleaver and Myron Stankiewicz were the Sudbury scorers.

Sudbury goalie Caesar Maniago suffered a face cut with 23 seconds left in the first period. The period was played out at the start of the middle frame. A crowd of 2,735 cheered the Thunderbirds to a win that gave them a four-point grasp on second place.

Canadian Players Pros?

Oh, Come, Mr. Brundage

MONTREAL (CP) — Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee, said Wednesday night it may be time "we investigated the Canadian Olympic hockey situation."

Brundage told reporters that "there have been several complaints in recent years regarding the Canadian hockey players, but they all signed the pledge and it was countersigned by three officials."

The loose Canadian definition of amateur usually suffices for the annual world hockey championship tournament except in Olympic years, when competitors in all sports are required to sign a pledge stating they have never received money for playing.

Brundage said it is up to the body governing an Olympic sport in the country concerned to see that the players are duly accredited.

"We can't very well call the Canadians liars as long as they are duly credited."

He said the IOC hopes to make its amateur code clearer and stronger when it meets in Athens, Greece, in June.

Petes Whip 'Em 4-1

Marlies At Trail End

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The last-ditch effort of Toronto Marlboros wasn't enough.

The defeat that settled the Marlies irrevocably into the basement of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series and out of the six - team playoffs came Thursday night in Peterborough, a 4-1 shellacking at the hands of the Petes.

It was the end of the 1961 trail for the youthful Dukes, who had shown some signs of life after Walter (Turk) Broda took over the coaching helm late in the season. The Marlboros are nine points back of the Petes and St. Catharines Teepees with only four games remaining of the 48 - game schedule.

The league - leading Guelph Royals downed fourth - place Hamilton Red Wings 3-2 in the night's other game on defenceman Mike McMahon's two first-period goals, but still have not locked up first place over the pressing Toronto St. Michael's College Majors.

COUNT FIRST

The Marlboros scored the first goal before 2,547 Peterborough fans, by George Standing. But Doug Senior with two and Tom Carty and Reg Mulholland with singles wrapped things up in a game enlivened by a last-period skirmish that sent Claude Larose of Peterborough and Nick Harbaruk of the Dukes to the bin with fighting majors.

McMahon's breakout before 2,892 Hamilton fans, largest crowd of the season, foiled the Wings' chances to sew up fourth place. At 44 points, three back of Niagara Falls Flyers and 12 behind the Majors, they needed but one point to assure fourth pot.

Bob Cunningham got the other Guelph tally in the second while Lyle Porter and Larry Jeffrey scored for Hamilton.

Guelph's Rod Gilbert, league-leading scorer, got an assist on Cunningham's goal to bring his season's point output to an even 100.

Six-Team League Formed

Baseball Comes Back!

Peanuts, popcorn and play ball, anyone?

Baseball of the Central Ontario variety returned to Belleville last night with the formation of a six-team league.

The Lakeshore Intermediate League was reborn at a meeting held in Port Hope. Six team were entered.

These are Belleville, Peterborough Bridgenorths, Newcastle, Ajax, Orono and Port Hope.

Kingston was represented but the league felt the distance was too great for most of the clubs. The Limestone City team will play exhibitions with member clubs of the league.

The league will officially open on May 22. The executive will draw a tentative schedule next week.

The Peterborough Bridgenorths' first round with the other clubs will be played as four-point games. The league will operate on the points system.

The clubs will play 18 games, ten at home and eight away.

Belleville was represented at the meeting by Kenmors officials Ken Soden and Vic Morris. OBA vice-president Jack Carson also was present.

Carson said this morning that the meeting was "very enthusiastic. It seems everybody wants to play ball and with this feeling predominant at this time of year, it looks good for the coming season."

Upwards of 30 baseball representatives of the district were present.

The league named Jim Crombie of Bowmanville as its 1961 president. Lawrence Huffman, Port Hope is vice-president and Al. Osborne, Bowmanville, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting of the league was set for Sunday, April 9 at Port Hope.

The offer of the Dow Brewery, through Armand Duffy to donate a trophy for the league's top batter was accepted by the league.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Between football in the fall and hockey in the winter, you would think Gerry James was getting quite enough athletic activity.

But the Winnipeg Blue Bombers fullback who plays right-wing for the Western Hockey League Warriors this time of year is also a proponent of squash, spending his days off at the Winnipeg Squash Racquets Club.

He's in select company, too, with such other members as the premier of Manitoba, his hockey boss, Canada's football commissioner and other sports personalities.

"It's a great place to relax before a big game," says James. Others with sedentary jobs find it helps keep them fit.

Charlie Ives, club professional, says "about 30 minutes a day on one of the 32-foot-long courts is all it takes to keep a desk-job man in good physical condition."

The general idea of the singles game, which is internationally popular, is to swat a hard black rubber ball weighing an ounce off any or all of the three walls inside the court to a spot where an opponent can't reach it before it bounces twice on the floor.

James is "average but new at the game," says Ives, who has been at the club since 1934. His football teammate, Norm Rauhaus, "started only a year ago and is impressive." Other Blue Bombers who play squash are fullback Charlie Shepard and quarterback Kenny Ploen.

The Winnipeg club sent two players to the Canadian championships in Montreal early in February. But Canadians generally aren't up to international standards, seldom placing well in U.S. competitions where the Khan family of Pakistan customarily cleans up.

Jack Hopwood, president since the club moved to modern quarters two years ago, says there are about 2,000 courts tucked away in schools, colleges and clubs across the Unlied States. Canada has fewer than 40, located in Halifax, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Regina and Vancouver.

Nearly any day of the week Premier Duff Roblin may be seen at the club eating lunch although the time he devotes to playing the game is not as much as he would like, says Hopwood. The premier was the first person given a life membership.

The club was founded in 1909, almost 59 years after students at Harrow in England devised the game. Cost of playing isn't expensive. About $15 will cover a racquet and a ball that will survive a year of average use. Tennis clothes are worn.

The courts usually are busy at noon and between 5 and 6 p.m. when businessmen - members arrive to work off extra pounds or frustration in a game where the ball, Hopwood says, "comes flying at you at more than 90 miles an hour."

Honesty Kick Is Still On In Probing TV Commercials

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—At a Federal Trade Commission hearing investigating a TV commercial recently, an advertising executive introduced into evidence three pieces of coarse sandpaper and testified he had shaved them with a safety razor—after first soaking each piece with his brand of shaving cream for periods ranging from 21½ to 80 minutes.

When the manufacturers of a brand of detergents recently made a commercial demonstrating how much more efficient their product is than those of competitors, witnesses and notaries public were present to watch the dish - washing and then signed statements to that effect.

The spokeswoman for a food company protested recently that it was difficult to say "that rich, choclate-y flavor," and asked if the line could be changed to "that rich, chocolate flavor." Permission was refused. The ingredient was cocoa, not chocolate, she was told.

"Ah, yes," said an executive of a New York studio where large numbers of TV commercials are made. "The honesty kick is still on."

CBS now plans to cut The Ann Sothern Show out of its Thursday night schedule at the end of March. And to replace it—what else?—with reruns of December Bride. However, The Ann Southern Show will return in June, filling in for either the Danny Thomas Show or The Andy Griffith Show for the summer.

Red Skelton, abetted by Ed Wynn, will return to his regular program March 14, after surgery and a lengthy convalescence.

GRANTS IMMUNITY

LONDON (Reuters) — The House of Lords Thursday night passed a bill granting diplomatic immunity to government representatives from the Commonwealth and the republid of Ireland who attend conferences in Britain. It corrects an anomaly by which representatives of Commonwealth governments and their staffs attending conferences do not have immunity while those of foreign governments on similar occasions do.

AT THE PARK — Steve Reeves battles a Roman gladiator in the exciting film, "The Last Days of Pompeii", now showing at the Park Theatre. It was filmed in Eastmancolor and Supertotalscope —On the same program "Magnificent Seven", in Technicolor starring Yul Brynner. Feature times tonight, "Last Days of Pompeii" shown at 7.35; "Magnificent Seven" at 9.35. Continuous show Saturday from 1.00.

CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION

FAMILY OF 3 GIRLS — Vivian 10, Lois 11, Margaret 12 are sisters of Roman Catholic Anglo-Saxon background. Lois and Margaret have beautiful red hair and gray eyes; Vivian has brown hair and gray eyes. All have fair skin with a share of freckles. These are healthy, intelligent little girls making good progress at school. They are happy, well-adjusted children with a close attachment to one another but each has her own individuality. Margaret is more reserved and feels the responsibility of her younger sisters. These children need warm-hearted parents who can give them a normal home. Roman Catholic couples wanting to inquire further with a view to adoption should write:

Focus on Health

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Topics this week: Burns, colds, baldness and a bit of history.

COLD INCIDENCE

In the southern United States, the incidence of colds was 61 per 100 persons annually, against 73 per 100 in western states, and 77 in northeastern states.

BURN DAMAGE

Burns of equal severity can cause greater injury in women than in men, because men usually have larger and deeper hair folicles, says Dr. Raymond Hinshaw of the University of Rochester School of Medicine.

Children and elderly persons also are likely to suffer relatively more severe injury.

Burns of different severity may sometimes look alike. One test is to pull out a hair from the burned area. In severe burns, the hair lifts out easily and painlessly.

BATTLE TETH

"Soldiers tore the cartridges for their muzzle-loaders with their teeth," says the army's dental service. "When their front teeth gave out, they were discharged from the service. Physical qualifications up until the time of the Second World War required each man to have adequate opposing front teeth."

MISCARRIAGE RISK

Many expectant mothers, and some physicians, too, think physical activity or over-exertion during pregnancy is a main cause of miscarriages.

But this seems just not to be true, writes Dr. Carl Javert. "It is the lack of physical and mental activity in our modern civilization, rather than overactivity per se, that is responsible for spontaneous abortion."

Excessive anxiety can bring on temporary loss of hair, but it doesn't happen often, says Dr. Albert Kligman of Philadelphia.

He cites five cases, including one man who was tried for murder three times and escaped the death penalty each time. In the fourth trial, he was convicted.

Some 10 weeks later, his hair began falling out, and eventually he became bald. But his hair began growing back again. Subsequently pardoned, the man had complete regrowth of hair when he was released.

CANADIANS IN ANGOLA — Dr. and Mrs. Walter Strangway, United Church missionaries working in Africa, look at a family of rabbits in the Chissamba area of Portuguese Angola. Dr. Strangway, from Toronto, founded a hospital at Chissamba where 120 operations a month now are performed. Mrs. Strangway, a native of Simcoe, Ont., and a graduate in chemistry at the University of Toronto, is in charge of the chemistry laboratory at Chissamba. (CP Photo).

Claim Quarter of Africans In Angola Are Converts Of Christian Missionaries

By DAVE OANCIA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LISBON (CP) — Canadian Protestant missionaries who have chosen Portuguese Angola as their field draw some high praise.

"They're doing work that's possibly even more extensive than Schweitzer's," said Rev. Cyril Scott, a ruddy-faced Scot who runs a training institute here for African mission candidates.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer turned his back on a promising career as a musician, literary scholar and philosopher to dedicate his life to helping Africans. His Lambarene mission in West Africa has gained world-wide attention.

"Schweitzer provides medical treatment and hospital facilities at his mission," said Rev. Scott, a former missionary in The Congo and Angola.

"The Canadians go farther. They provide in addition a training program for nurses and orderlies at their stations."

WORK 'PRICELESS'

The men he singled out for special praise are Dr. Sid Gilchrist and Dr. Walter Strangway of Toronto and Dr. L. B. Bier of Brantford, Ont.

"But all the Canadians are doing priceless work, and there are between 30 and 40 of them there now."

Two other names he recalled were Mary Clark of Toronto and Nancy Copithorne of Vancouver. Both are mission hospital nurses.

The three doctors are surgeons but they also treat a variety of ailments including leprosy. And they provide elementary education for the young, training in trades for grown-ups and the message of the Christian gospel to all.

Dr. Gilchrist's mission is at Ballundo, 200 miles from the coast; Dr. Strangway's is at Chissamba, right in the centre of Angola, and Dr. Bier's is 200 miles from the Congo border at Boma.

With Dr. Strangway, who has been in Angola since 1927, is his wife, Alice, a native of Simcoe, Ont., who graduated in chemistry at the University of Toronto. She is in charge of the chemistry laboratory at Chissamba, where 120 operations a month are performed in the hospital established by her husband.

Another Canadian woman is Frances Walbridge of Mystic, Que., a graduate of McGill University and the United Church Training School who went to Angola in 1941 as an educational missionary.

She has spent most of her time at a school for girls in Camundongo. At present she is acting principal of a school at Dondi, teaching illiterates.

After almost a century in Angola, the Protestant missions report that roughly 1,000,000 of the 4,000,000 Africans there are Christians.

NO GOVERNMENT AID

Still they are convinced that their work must be intensified. They feel that in these troubled times on the African continent they must pass from the stage of missionary paternalism to the sharing of all responibilities.

The Protestant missions receive no Portuguese government assistance to carry out educational and other work. This is financed entirely by voluntary contributions through thousands of churches in such countries as Canada, Britain and the United States.

Mr. Scott praised what he described as understanding by responsible Portuguese authorities and great freedom given to foreign workers. But there are indications that officials may not be entirely happy with the work of the missionaires.

Twenty years ago Portugal signed an accord with the Vatican. Following this, Prime Minister Salazar said that Portugal, with her great empire, needed the influence which only the Vatican could give.

The missionary accord, he added, merely completed the political action of the colonial act by nationalizing missionary activity and making it "a definite part of the colonizing activity of the Portuguese nation."

Since then few new Protestant missions have been launched in Portugal's African provinces.

CHARGES HEARD

There have been charges by Roman Catholic sources that Protestant missions "denationalize" the Portuguese African.

The late Rev. John T. Tucker, another Canadian who devoted his life to African mission work, referred to the charges in a study published five years ago. He said the implication was that "to be Portuguese is to be a Catholic."

"It is only fair to say," he wrote, "that such propaganda is not implemented or favored by government officials."

Despite this, Portugal's government would like nothing more than to see more Portuguese Catholic missionaries in the field overseas.

Said Prof. Adriano Moreira, undersecretary for overseas administration, last fall:

"This I think to be the constructive path to follow and this would make it useless to discuss the justification of the complaints so often heard against foreign missionaries . . . that they oppose more or less openly the nationalist training of the people under their care."

Car Leasing On Upsurge Says Official

TORONTO (CP)—Automobile leasing to firms operating fleets of cars is on the upsurge and more growth is expected if the trend towards converting fixes assets into fluid funds continues.

There now are more than 46 car-leasing companies in the Toronto area, where 10 years ago there were only one or two.

"If the trend continues," said one auto-leasing firm spokesman, "the automobile leasing business will grow and grow."

One-year leases have been the rule up to now but there appears to be a growing tendency toward signing two-year leases. Cost varies from about $90 a unit per month for a low-priced domestic car to $250 for the most expensive.

General Motors of Canada Ltd. leads the market in supplying leased cars to the Toronto area and took 76 per cent of the market last year.

One company, Belmont Auto Leasing Ltd., started from scratch early in 1958 and now has 700 cars on lease throughout Canada.

Frank B. Peppiatt, general manager, described the competition as "fierce" but future prospects as "tremendous."

Spring Pig Crop Will Be Up 16 Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP) — No real heavy hog production or pork price difficulty is likely to materialize until the fall of 1962, Ralph Bennett of the federal agriculture department's livestock branch said Wednesday.

The beef cattle buildup is not nearly as "fast, dramatic or fearful" in North America as envisaged a month ago, he added.

Mr. Bennett, addressing the livestock session of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said the spring pig crop will be up an estimated 16 per cent over last year—when breeding programs were slashed heavily.

The beef picture had changed in the last month because of United States over-estimates of cattle stocks—expected to be some 105,000,000 when in fact they totalled about 97,000,000.

Convention delegates approved a resolution that the deficiency payment on hogs—none was paid in 1960 because of high prices — be calculated on a three-month basis rather than a full year to cover short-term dips and dives in the market price.

Gizenga's Men Seize Capital Of Kasai Region

UN Given Six Hours To Oust Them --or War

CP from AP-Reuters

LEOPOLDVILLE — Pro-Lumumba troops took over the city of Luluabourg, some 500 miles from Leopoldville, and the Congolese central government today gave the United Nations six hours to clear them out.

About 300 Lumumbist troops moved into the town after a journey of some 800 miles from Oriental province.

A UN spokesman said the intruders apparently "merged" with the garrison supposedly loyal to Maj.-Gen. Joseph Mobutu, commander of the Leopoldville government's army.

The news alarmed officials of the Leopoldville government. Congolese Vice-Premier Jean Bolikango delivered an ultimatum to UN headquarters at 6 a.m. saying that if the UN troops did not act against the intruders within six hours—noon—the Congolese forces would take measures of their own.

(The noon deadline—7 a.m. EST — passed without further word.)

CONTROL 3 CAPITALS

By taking over Luluabourg, capital of Kasai province, Antoine Gizenga's rebel regime control half of The Congo's six provincial capitals.

Lumumbist elements have long held two other provincial capitals, Stanleyville in Oriental province and Bukavu in Kivu province.

Bolinkango was still in conference with Rajeshwar Dayal, Indian head of the UN Congo mission, an hour after the ultimatum was delivered.

Luluabourg is the capital of North Kasai province and its people are overwhelmingly supporters of the late Patrice Lumumba.

The 2,000-strong garrison in the town, with soldiers drawn from widely scattered parts of the country, had been believed loyal to Mobutu and President Joseph Kasavubu.

Immediate reaction among observers here to the news of the arrival of the pro-Lumumba forces in Luluabourg was of fear that the drive might continue toward Leopoldville.

GROWERS TO ATTEND

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario grape growers will attend an organizing meeting today of a large United States grape growers' co-operative to discuss possible membership for Niagara Peninsula growers. The project is being organized in North East, Pa., by grape growers from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Washington and Michigan. John Ruse, of Niagara Fruit Orchards, St. Catharines, said Ontario growers have been exporting from 3,000 to 7,000 tons of surplus grapes annually to the U.S.

Three Men Given 16 Years In Penitentiary

OTTAWA (CP) — Sentences totalling 16 years were handed out Friday to three men arrested Jan. 24 in a hotel room loaded with forging equipment and post office keys that gave them an almost limitless crime potential.

Joseph Anthony Painter, 36, of Windsor and Wilfred Dubreuil, 39, of Montreal were each sentenced to six years in Kingston penitentiary.

Vincent Hammel, 64, of Toronto was sentenced to four years.

The three men pleaded guilty last week to a total of 29 charges of conspiracy, possession of stolen goods and fraud.

Similar charges against Maurice Fournier of Montreal had been dropped earlier.

When police raided their hotel room exactly one month ago Friday they found: Three master keys capable of opening government mail boxes; special paper used in the printing of government cheques; and blank forged cheques bearing a Montreal firm's name; and a post office rubber validation stamp from Windsor.

CKEY Licence Will Be Sold For $4,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—An American company is putting up most of the $1,404,000 capitalization for a Canadian firm, Shoreacres Broadcasting Company Limited, which proposes to buy radio station CKEY Toronto, the Board of Broadcast Governors was told Friday.

The Westinghouse Corporation of the United States was described as "banker" for the group seeking BBG authority to take over the CKEY licence from Consolidated Frybrook Industries Limited, owned by Liberty magazine which in turn is owned by Jack Kent Cooke.

However, voting control of Shoreacres would remain in Canadian hands. The Toronto Globe and Mail would have 50 per cent of this control, four Toronto men would have an aggregate of 25 per cent, and the balance would be held by Canadian Westinghouse Company.

Purchase price of CKEY was not announced at the hearing. However, it was understood that the price was around $4,000,000.

Northern Ontario will be mainly sunny and cold today, with increasing cloudiness and moderating temperatures indicated for Sunday.

SURROUNDED — Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario, jokingly told reporters who surrounded him as he left the Dominion-Provincial Fiscal Conference in Ottawa Friday to see other provincial premiers, saying he had no news. He added, however, that his delegation still is considering federal proposals that Ontario set up a provincial income tax. He insisted no decision has been made. (CP Photo).

MINISTER URGES FULL TREATMENT FOR ALCOHOLICS

Says Govt. Should Make It Compulsory

TORONTO (CP) — An Anglican minister, who is also a member of the liquor control board, told the legislature Friday that the government should enact legislation for the compulsory treatment of alcoholics.

"'Some say we cannot do this," Rev. Wally Downer (PC—Dufferin Simcoe) said, speaking in the throne speech debate. "'I' say we cannot afford not to do it."

He commended the attorney-general for his program of compulsory treatment for chronic drunkenness offenders, but said it was of no help to 90 per cent of the alcoholics who never reached magistrate's courts.

"'The doctor should be able to telephone a clinic . . . He should be ensured that payment and transportation will be ensured at once. This is already the case as far as mental and TB patients are concerned."

Mr. Downer said unless better solutions to the problem were found, the government might find it necessary to legislate to restrict the sale and consumption of alcohol.

TB Refugees Given Warm Welcome at Malton Airport

TORONTO (CP)—There were scenes of tears, joy, excitement and fear at Malton airport Friday as the third "'movement" of tubercular refugees arrived in Canada.

Friends and relatives pressed their faces to the glass and wept as the refugees, young and old, left the plane to start a new life.

Some of them had not met for 14 years or more.

As they entered the immigration office the strong hand of fear still gripped some of them.

Elderly Janis Glazers, a laborer from Latvia who had lived in Germany since 1944, hid his face from press cameras and would not uncover it even to have coffee.

"'I' left Latvia because of the Communists," he said. "'I left behind my wife and three children. They may still be alive. . . ."

But for other families it was one of the happiest moments of their lives.

For Benito Dukic, for example, it meant he was meeting his sister for the first time in 13 years.

Dukic, 28, a naval mechanic from Rome, has been trying to get to Canada for years but until now tuberculosis stopped him.

He and his pretty wife, Maria, 25, were overwhelmed by the fuss being made of them: The coffee, the cakes, the words of sympathy, of encouragement.

Hugging his two - year - old daughter Loredana and his eight-months - old son William, he talked of the new life that awaits them in Canada — after he is cured of TB.

Then he saw his siter—Mrs. Eleanor Martino of Toronto and he cried.

The refugees, 69 altogether, entered Canada under the sponsorship of relatives and Canadian welfare organizations, with the cooperation of churches and refugee groups.

Agree Canada Not 'Young Country' But Is She Mature or Frustrated?

TORONTO (CP) — Perhaps Canada is becoming mature, after all, without realizing it.

This was one idea that came out of Friday night's one-hour cross - country television presentation by the CBC on the topic, The Price of Being Canadian, the subject of this weekend's winter conference of the Canadian Institute on Public ..

If, however, you don't like that idea, there was an abundance of others to choose from, including the currently common class that Canada is a dull country, chiefly distinguished by money grubbing, and with a fear of the United States that is making her a psychiatric case.

The CBC is co-sponsor of the institute's conference and the show was a kickoff for the Friday - Saturday - Sunday discussions.

It undoubtedly was designed to present a wide range of attitudes.

Hugh MacLennan, Canadian novelist, put the case for Canadian maturity.

The country has changed since 1940, he said. Before that time, a Canadian audience wouldn't even laugh at a joke unless it had first been laughed at by an American audience.

Replying to comments by Irving Layton, Montreal poet, Mr. MacLennan said: "I don't know what he is talking about when he says this is a dull country. He is having a glorious time in Montreal."

Sharp-tongued Professor F. H. Underhill replied: "I see two MacLennans, the one speaking here tonight and the one who speaks through his books. Most Canadian novelists feel that Canadians are frustrated."

Mr. MacLennan retorted: "If you read American novels you will find they are worse."

Mr. Layton took the role of describing Canadians as a people with middle-class values, chiefly interested in money making. Asked whether their pattern is one of "withdrawal," he said: "Yes, because of their fear of the American colossus which is larger and more energetic."

Speakers were generally agreed that Canada is not the "young" country she is sometimes supposed to be.

Govt. May Radically Revise Basis For Jobless Fund

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor circles here are troubled by reports that the government intends to revise radically the present premium basis of the shrinking Unemployment Insurance Fund, informants said Friday.

A special committee is preparing a new basis for the fund, aimed at strengthening it on a sounder actuarial footing. The new concept is along the lines of the Workmen's Compensation Act where premiums are related to the accident rate.

Indications are the plan under study involves rating industries by their unemployment record. Under this plan, higher premiums would be charged against industries with high unemployment records — such as the construction of logging industries where seasonal job fluctuations are great. Industries with a low jobless experience would pay lower premiums.

This concept was put before Prime Minister Diefenbaker by the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. It was reported to have been received favorably by the prime minister, a hint that it was already under study.

The Canadian Labor Congress is concerned about this line of thinking, informants said.

The 1,100,000 - member congress, central body of Canada's organized labor movement, will oppose any attempt to base the unemployment fund on unemployment experiences in individual industries, the sources said.

By relating premiums to unemployment, such a plan would reverse the basic idea of building up the fund's reserve in years when unemployment is low, they said.

The congress also contends it would discriminate against industries where the jobless rate is largely out of their control—where seasonal or other factors lie behind layoffs.

In recent years the fund's reserve has plungel drastically to $283,742,000 at Jan. 31 from a high point of more than $900,000,000 four years ago.

Deszo Dakonyi Will Be Hanged On May 23rd

TORONTO (CP)— Deszo Dakonyi, 21, was convicted Friday and sentenced to be hanged May 23 for the murder of his step - sister, Eva Blumberger, 21.

An assize court jury was out less than two hours before bringing a verdict in the two-week trial.

The girl's body was found Sept. 19 in a trench in a Toronto park. It was wrapped in a blanket and bound with wire.

Dakonyi, an unemployed watchmaker, went on trial Feb. 13. Self-possessed and frequently smiling, he spent two days in the witness box. He denied any knowledge of his step-sister's death and told the court he was drugged by an unknown assailant the day of her disappearance.

Doctors found the victim had been two months pregnant.

FARMING PRIME TOPIC IN DEBATE IN PARLIAMENT

Opposition Tosses In Some Thistles

OTTAWA (CP)—Farming was the prime topic in the Commons Friday, with members of all parties pitching in to harvest the political hay.

Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton started the discussion by sowing the verbal seeds of a picture of the farmer prosperity. The opposition spokesmen tossed in thistles.

The occasion was the opening of study of the agriculture department's 1961-62 spending estimates of $122,202,953.

In his opening remarks Mr. Hamilton appealed to the railways and their non - operating employees to settle their wage dispute. A rail strike would be "catastrophic" for western farmers.

CCF Leader Argue and Samuel Boulanger (L—Drummond-Arthabaska) charged the government has not lived up to its 1957 election promises to farmers.

Mr. Boulanger, Liberal farm critic, said the Conservatives had promised "parity, not charity." Since then they had done nothing substantial to bring that about. The slogan had been used as "election bait" and then tossed into discard.

"The farmer was promised a fair share of the national income," he said, then went on to cite figures which had farm income declining in the last three years.

Mr. Hamilton declared farm cash income is up and that the trend is continuing.

CRITICIZES PROGRAMS

Mr. Argue was critical of deficiency payment programs, charging they were responsible for uncertainty in prices. Average prices, replacing set floor prices for agricultural products, left the farmer in a position where he did not know what the minimum payment would be for his output.

He said the government decision to allow prairie farmers to deliver grain to feed mills outside of wheat board price and quota controls was the hottest issue of the day.

It allowed selling at distress prices. Some sales were being made at disgracefully low prices.

Frost Declares New Tax Money Must Be Found

Sees Income Tax Boost Or Retail Sales Tax

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier Frost said Friday the result of the Dominion-provincial fiscal conference leaves Ontario with the problem of finding nearly $132,000,000 in new tax money on its own.

He said the money will have to come from either a higher provincial income tax or a retail sales tax — direct or indirect.

Although he declined to state a preference, he indicated to reporters that an indirect sales tax — collected at the merchant's level rather than from consumers—was the one he was interested in, if it can be accomplished.

An indirect provincial sales tax would require an amendment to Canada's constitution "and that possibility cannot be counted out yet."

"We are hopeful that this problem will shortly be resolved," he said.

MAY IMPOSE TAX

All provinces except Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta now levy a direct sales tax which is paid on individual retail purchases. It has been reported that Ontario intends to impose a three-per-cent direct sales tax unless the way can be opened to adoption of the indirect method.

The federal government offered last October to agree to an amendment of the British North America Act if all provinces agreed to make an indirect sales tax legal. It would tax merchants on the total volume of their retail business.

Alberta's Premier Manning has said he is opposed to the principle of such a tax.

Mr. Frost, however, said there are hopeful signs that agreement can be reached. He would not elaborate.

Mr. Frost said Ontario's rapid development required spend-

OTTAWA (CP) — The provincial governments, confronted by a radical change in the national tax structure, now must weigh its impact on their—treasuries and taxpayers.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, after dropping the new tax deal in the laps of the 10 provincial premiers assembled here, must win approval for it in Parliament where a tough political fight seems inevitable.

Those are the two chief implications of the federal government's new tax plan unveiled at the two-day Dominion-provincial fiscal conference that ended Friday.

The new plan will force the provinces to levy their own income taxes starting next year with the aid, if they wish, of federal tax collectors.

ENDS ARRANGEMENT

At the same time it ends some 20 years of tax-rental arrangements under which Ottawa has been the central tax-levying power in the income tax field.

The prime minister didn't budge from his sweeping new proposal at the closed-doors conference, though it came under strong criticism from some premiers.

At the end of the conference, when reporters asked whether he had altered any terms of the plan presented Thursday Mr. Diefenbaker replied flatly: "The proposal is as presented."

Finance Minister Fleming told a press conference the federal government had told the premiers it would examine their requests for a better deal. He said discussion could continue through a committee of federal and provincial officials who would examine details of the federal plan.

SEES NO CHANGE

But he indicated he anticipates no fundamental change. He said the proposal is "'so good and so sound" that it would commend itself to a majority of the provinces.

Under it, the provinces will be given a progressively expanding leeway to levy personal income taxes during the five-year term of the plan starting April of next year.

This elbow room will be provided by a progressive reduction in the federal tax starting with a 16-per-cent cut in the first year and ranging up to a 20-per-cent reduction in 1966-67. This compares with the provinces' 13-per-cent share of the tax take under present arrangements.

The federal corporation income tax will be reduced by a flat nine percentage points—the same share now allotted the provinces. This is roughly 22 per cent of the corporation tax take.

WOULD REDUCE

However, the federal plan will also make a substantial reduction in the federal equalization payments now made to less-wealthy provinces. In some provinces this will offset the benefits of the increased taxing fields open to them.

Mr. Fleming noted that the federal plan, to take effect, won't require provincial agreements. It would require only

Female Poodle Enticing Dogs Into Pound

OTTAWA (CP) — The poor dogs in neighboring Gloucester are being hoodwinked by an enticing female poodle — already dubbed the canine Cleopatra.

The poodle, charges the Ottawa Humane Society, is helping dog catcher Rheal Amyot lure stray dogs into his net. Mr. Amyot gets $4 for each stray he catches.

Calling this "most objectionable," the society in a letter to council, demanded if it "does, in fact, condone this practice."

Council apparently didn't even know about it.

"We can't allow such things to happen," said Councillor Robert MacQuarrie, rushing to the defence of the dogs.

"It doesn't give the poor dogs a chance."

Kennedy's African Affairs Expert Raises Hackles of White Poo-Bahs

DAR es SALAAM (Reuters)—G. Mennen Williams today continued his fact-finding tour of Africa in the face of sharp criticism for allegedly free-wheeling his way through British Africa.

The charges against the former Michigan governor, now U.S. assistant secretary of state of African affairs, resulted from statements and incidents during his visits to Uganda and Tanganyika.

In Kenya it was alleged that he elbowed aside white officials to hob-nob with Negro political leaders at a reception given by the American consulate-general.

Williams on his arrival here Friday dismissed these charges by terming them "balderdash."

Even so, several British legislators had announced plans to press for an official protest to the Kennedy administration over Williams' actions.

He arrived here by plane from Uganda where British hackles rose over a remark by him that if African countries did not develop strong, stable and independent governments there would be "a vacuum in which another kind of tyranny can enter."

However, he stressed that he did not mean that British colonial rule had been tyrannical, but that he was urging the need for stable governments capable of pursuing their own interests.

He added that British assistance to education in Uganda had been a "kind of beneficial, unobtrusive intervention" which helped the African people.

Williams has also been under fire for remarking in Kenya that the U.S. favored an "Africa for the Africans" policy. Friday he elaborated on this to say that he meant all residents of Africa—Negro, white, Asian and colored (mixed blood).

THIRTY REGISTER FOR GOLF LESSONS

The 1961 golf school which is to be conducted at the local YMCA in the near future appears to be headed towards a large registration. Over 30 persons have now registered for lessons under the Picton Golf Club pro, Fred Purcell. Classes are being held for both the tyro and the advanced enthusiast.

Men's physical director Joe Ruddy advises that those interested should contact the "Y" as early as possible to ensure a place in these classes.

WILL SHOW FILM OF ADVERTISING NIGHT

A television precise of the recent Advertising Night held by the Belleville Sales and Advertising Club will be shown this evening over CKWS-TV, Kingston, between 6:00 and 6:15 o'clock.

Sprinkler System For Old Part Of Hospital

Installation of a sprinkler system for the old part of the Belleville General Hospital has been approved by the board of governors.

A cost estimate of $25,000 for labor, materials, architect's fee and other contingencies, if the work is carried out by hospital staff, has been submitted to the board.

However, the advantages of having the installation done by tender were discussed and tenders will be called for the job.

The installation would be only in that part of the hospital in existence prior to 1939. The two hospital additions constructed since that time are fire-proof.

Surface Water Control Major Job of Dept.

Surface water control has been the major job with which public works crews have been faced over the past few days. The department's pumps have been put into service on a number of locations throughout the city and, in some cases, ditches have been created to drain off the excess water.

The maintenance of ditches and the thawing of culverts and other parts of the drainage system has been carried out to ensure the ready run off of this water.

With the coming of the recent rains and the thawing out of the top few inches of ground the problem of road maintenance has once more become of prime importance in order to prevent erosion. Constant attention is being paid to both dirt-surfaced and macadam roads in the city to ensure that the minimal number of potholes get a chance to develop.

A couple of construction projects are underway. Yesterday work was scheduled to commence on the new sanitary sewer for East Moira Street. By the middle of next week the initial work on the road construction on Brown and Shamrock streets is expected to be completed.

The department is keeping a daily check on the condition of ice in the river and the recent rainfall is expected to bring about some changes in state of the Moira in the very near future.

'ADMITS SHOOTING

LOS ANGELS (AP)—A disc jockey told police Friday how he stalked, then shot dead an unsuspecting stranger because "I just had to kill somebody — anybody — man, woman or child." The disc hockey, Irving Waldorf, 22, admitted the shooting of Max Lisecki, 54. Waldorf in 1960 had taken treatment in a mental hospital.

Old 'Receipt' Book

1829-1850 Edition Reveals Information "In all the useful and domestic arts"

By GEO. H. CARVER

There were no Congos, Khruschevs, soap operas, radio idols, or television westerns to bother the good ladies of those rollicking years of the early 19th century. They were fine cooks and wasted nothing.

When the neighbors dropped in for an evening stereoptican session, or to watch a magic lantern show, milady had various snacks readied for the nine o'clock break.

Those living near the sea coast favored oysters especially in pie form. Here is their favorite receipt. "Take 100 oysters, clean them well from the shell and put them in a kettle with their own liquor to plump. Season them with 12 cloves and three mace blades, pepper to taste and lay crust around the edge of the dish. Take the yolks of four hard boiled eggs, mix with a handful of grated bread and sprinkle the top, adding butter Fill the dish nearly full and cover with puff paste."

> The Ontario Intelligencer is indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farres of Stirling for the use of "Mackenzies' 5,000 Receipts" in the production of this series.

Or if the weather was cold, an imitation turtle soup was served to the guests. The simple "recipt" called for "a well-washed and well-soaked calf's head. Open, and boil it with the entrails until well done. Take part of the liver out when part done for forced meat balls. When done, strain off the liquor and cut off small pieces of the head in imitation of turtle. The remainder chop up with the entrails, put in spice to taste, a little savory herbs, some small onions and some small dumplings. Season the meat balls with spice, put in some parsley and fry them in lard before putting them in the soup."

One hostess was bothered one night with the chirping of crickets and a squeaking front door. But she had no remedy trouble. She merely put some soap on the door hinges and some Scotch snuff near the cricket holes. Perhaps they sneezed themselves to death. Anyway, it worked.

For special occasions particularly in the Lentan season, tasty fish dishes were served. Among the more popular was boiled cod's head and shoulders.

This, the Receipt Book says, "if large and in season is a very genteel and handsome dish, if nicely boiled. When cut it should be done with a spoon or fish trowel. The parts about the backbone on the shoulders are the most firm and best."

"There are a great many delicate parts about the head, some firm kernels and a great deal of the jelly kind. The jelly parts lie about the jaw, the firm parts within the head which must be broken into with a spoon. Some like the palate; others like the tongue which may be got by putting a spoon into the mouth. The green jelly of the eye is never given to anyone."

What with cooking and heating the wood-burning stoves of those days took a beating. Occasionally they would develop cracks through which pungent smoke escaped.

Call the blacksmith? Not on your life. All the lady of the house did was mix a few wood ashes with common salt make a paste with water, spread over the crack and, presto, as good as new.

Or if she was pestered with rats or mice or both, she didn't call the exterminator. She "gathered the plant dog's tongue when the sap was in full vigor, bruised it with a hammer and lay it in the house, barn or granary. The troublesome animals immediately shifted their quarters."

The people of those days like those of modern times were victims of headaches Alas, they had no television commercials cures or fancy drugs and whatnot. What they did? "If the head was disturbed in bed, wash it in cold water, discontinue the nightcap but wear worsted stockings."

And this may sound like a lot of "baloney" for that is what it is, made by the folks of those days.

They "took a pound of beef suet, a pound of pork, a pound of bacon fat and lean, a pound of beef and veal and cut them very small. Then a handful of sage leaves chopped fine, with a few sweet herbs. Season pretty high with salt and pepper. Take a large well-cleaned gut and fill it. Set on a sauce pan of water and when it boils, put it in, first pricking it so it won't burst. Boil for an hour".

For a Saturday night canape to go with the old cider cocktails milady took fifteen sheep tongues, washed and cleaned them well. She "threw" them in hot water for 20 minutes, washed them again in cold water, drained, dried and trimmed them neatly. She larded them with seasoned larding and the small needle, laid in a pan slips of bacon, four carrots in pieces, four onions, one stuck with two cloves, slips of veal, two bay leaves, thyme, and a faggot of shallots and parsley. She covered them with larding, moistened the whole with bouillon and simmered for five hours.

Hospital Day Will Be Held On May 13th

The various career opportunities available in hospital work will be outlined to visitors to Belleville General Hospital on "Hospital Day" on May 13th.

In connection with the regular hospital day program, it has been decided that a career fair will be conducted in the auditorium at which the various professions associated with the hospital would be represented. Representatives of these professions would be prepared to answer questions and provide information about career opportunities. The hospital auxiliary would also have a representative present to talk about volunteer work.

A reception in connection with the observance of hospital day will be held in Education Hall.

Again this year a poster contest publicizing hospital day will be held for public and high school students. This poster contest has been entered enthusiastically by students in past years.

JAMES BELL

CAMPBELLFORD — The funeral of James Bell was conducted at Markham, Ont., on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Bell died in Campbellford Memorial Hospital on Saturday, February 18th.

He was born in Orillia 78 years ago, son of the late George Miller Bell and Elizabeth Hebson. He spent his early life in Markham and for the past 35 years has been a resident of Campbellford, where he was employed by the Cloth Company Mill for some time.

Surviving Mr. Bell are four sisters: Mrs. George F. Bailey (Elizabeth) of Campbellford, Mrs. Les Stover (Mary of Peterborough, Mrs. Harry Filkin (Hannah) of Toronto, and Mrs. Harry Taber (Clara) of Miami.

Family service was conducted at Bennett's Funeral Parlors, Campbellford, on Sunday evening by Rev. A. E. Toombs.

Interment was in Markham Cemetery.

MRS. LAURA LEACH

The funeral of Mrs. Laura Leach was held from the John R. Bush Funeral Home on Friday afternoon. Major John Carter of the Salvation Army conducted the service in the chapel and also the committal rites at Belleville Cemetery.

The members of the Funeral Home staff acted as bearers.

MRS. THOMAS B. LOCKE

CAMPBELLFORD — Mrs. Agnes Frances Bennett, widow of Thomas B. Locke, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Rogers, in Toronto, on Thursday last.

Mrs. Locke was born in Seymour nearly 87 years ago, daughter of the late Joseph Bennett and Elizabeth Bamber. She and her late husband resided in Seymour West for many years. Mrs. Rogers had lived in Toronto for the past 25 years.

Surviving, besides her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Rogers, is one son, Ralph, of Cobourg.

Funeral services were conducted on Saturday afternoon at Bennett's Funeral Home, Campbellford, by Rev. A. E. Toombs of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The bearers were Lyle Bennett, Earl Johnston, Jasper Locke, Maynard Snowby, Andrew Rogers and Fred Thomson.

Interment was in Burnbrae Cemetery.

G. C. (PUDGE) MOON

MADOC — The funeral of G. C. (Pudge) Moon, lifelong resident of Madoc was held on Friday afternoon from his late residence to Trinity United Church where service was conducted by Rev. R. A. Milley. The church was filled to capacity by the many relatives and friends in attendance and there was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes testifying silently to the esteem in which the deceased was held in the community. Students of Madoc High School as well as representatives of Tweed and Marmora High Schools attended the church service in a body in honor of Mr. Moon who served faithfully as secretary-treasurer of Centre Hastings High School Board for many years.

Graveside I.O.O.F. service was under the direction of Madoc Lodge No. 179, members of which formed a guard of honor at the residence, church and cemetery.

Active bearers were: Philo Harris, Clarence Farrow, Thomas Ross, George Duffin, Harry Brown and Kelvin Kincaid.

Honorary bearers were: Carl McCoy, Perc Nayler. Tom Beatty, Tom Fleming, Ves Embury and Francis Tobin.

Interment took place in Lakeview Cemetery.

Just In Case!

Members of the Quinte Curling Club and other followers of the "roarin' game" were running high temperatures last night—and this morning.

The sensational success of Mac White and his Quinte rink in the Ontario Curling Championships in Ottawa had city curlers in a "tizzy."

The news that White had defeated the Hamilton Victorias and was part of a three-way tie for the lead raised Belleville hopes for a provincial title.

Later news that White had drawn a bye into the finals played this morning had their supporters at almost fever heat.

Telegraph wires hummed with messages of congratulations and best wishes. Alderman Robert Temple wired the city's appreciation and hopes for the first provincial curling title for Belleville.

The championship game with the Orillia rink got under way at the Ottawa Curling Club at 9.30. The results will be known by the time this is read.

In their sensational march to the finals, Mac White, T. A. Carruthers, Bill Riley and Al McCullam defeated some of the best rinks in the province.

Their most notable feat was the defeat of Jake Edwards and his Kingston 1960 Ontario champions. In turn they set back rinks from Hamilton, Orillia, Dixie and Owen Sound. They were defeated by Woodstock and Guelph.

"Just in case" they won the Ontario championship, the Quintemen will go to Calgary and represent the province in the Dominion Curling Championships March 6 to 10 inclusive.

The 11-draw round robin event starts Monday afternoon, March 6 and ends Friday afternoon, March 10. If the two top rinks are tied after the final draw—with the same number of wins and losses — a sudden-death playoff is set for Friday night.

Early morning draws will be Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; 3 p.m. draws Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and 8 p.m. draws Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The Dominion championships will be held in the spacious Stampede Corral, an ideal site for curling. It holds 8,500 spectators including standing room.

Those Losing Jobs at Deloro May Get Welland Positions

A percentage of the workers losing their jobs with the close-out of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company at the end of this month may find positions with a smelter at Welland in the Niagara peninsula.

This was noted today by Mr. Cecil Hiuser, manager of the National Employment Office at Belleville who said that interivews with the view of possible employment at Welland were now going ahead.

Approximately 60 persons are still employed at the Deloro plant but it is expected operations will be close out at the end of February or early in March.

Mr. Hiuser said he had good hopes that about 25 men from the Deloro plant might find permanent positions at Welland.

Job seekers registered with the employment office in Belleville totalled 2,947 as of Thursday this week, compared with a total of 2,802 at the corresponding period last year. This is an increase of approximately five per cent over a year ago.

There are fewer women registered for jobs now than last year but the number of men unemployed has shown an increase of about 160.

Claimants this week totalled 2,857 for the area served by the local employment office.

'I feel that unemployment in the Belleville area is levelling off and on the brighter side of the picture there is less unemployment in certain classes this year than last", Mr. Hiuser said.

He noted that there were few carpenters out of work this winter and also fewer construction workers were hunting jobs, this despite the fact there are few major construction jobs under way in the area.

On the other hand there were more jobless bush workers now than last year.

Winter work projects have taken up a bit more of the slack this year with 237 men finding jobs for one to two months on 27 projects approved for this area. Last year there were only 14 winter works projects, providing jobs for but 125 men.

Charge Theft From Library

A Belleville teen-ager, arrested early today in Toronto, is being returned to this city to face a theft charge involving the disappearance of a small amount of money from the Corby Public Library.

The theft of the money was said to have occurred Friday evening about the time the library closed.

Also last evening in the Hillcrest area a purse snatcher grabbed the purse of a nine-year-old girl and made off in the darkness. The purse snatcher was described as being a youth who had covered his face with a handkerchief.

The theft of a car, owned by Robert Holway of Emily Street was reported to police. The car, a 1949 model, was stolen from outside a Front Street cafe.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to express my sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes in the loss of my mother, Mrs. William Liddle. Thanks to Drs. Hartt and McDonald, special nurses, nurses and staff of 3rd South of Belleville General Hospital; to Rev. A. W. Longheed of Trenton for his comforting message, and to Mr. John R. Bush and staff of the funeral home for kind and efficient service.

—Eva Jenkinson.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness and sympathy during the illness of our dear brother, also for the many floral tributes and spiritual offerings; to the Rev. J. J. Bolger; to the staff and nurses of the Belleville General Hospital, 2nd West; to Dr. Sam Cronk and Dr. Bruce Cronk.

—The family of the late Patrick Shannon.

Dr. MacKenzie Leaving Albert, Enters Ministry

Dr. Andrew E. MacKenzie, principal of Albert College since July 1, 1952, will return to the active pastorate of the United Church in June, he said today.

Dr. MacKenzie, who said he has enjoyed his work at the college and found it "stimulating, challenging and a great experience," has no idea yet where he will be sent.

He is leaving the college because of a "tremendous shortage' 'of ministers in the active pastorates of the United Church. His successor has not yet been named yet.

60-Bed Hospital Addition Plans to Be Drawn at Once Decision of Bd. of Governors

Plans for the construction of a 60-bed addition to the Belleville General Hospital will be proceeded with immediately. it has been decided by the Bellevill General Hospital Board of Governors.

Soil tests on the site have been approved and a specific proposal of immediate requirements will be developed prior to the hiring of an architect. It was felt time would be saved in this way.

No cost estimate for the new addition was arrived at but city council will be informed that the board will require $500,000 in 1961 and the same amount next year for capital expenditures.

It was pointed out that the 60-bed hospital addition will not meet the need for additional hospital accommodation at Belleville with long-range plans calling for a much more extensive building program.

Last fall the hospital planning committee proposed a long-term construction program which was expected would take care of hospital requirements for the next 20 years.

Although immediate plans call only for the construction of a 60-bed addition, the long term plan has not been discarded, but construction beyond the 60 beds immediately proposed will undoubtedly be on a new site.

To this end the board has approved for planning to be started for the construction of a complete new hospital on a new site to take care of future hospital needs in the city.

Mr. Frank Domenico, acting hospital chairman in the absence of Jack N. Yanover, said no decision had been made on any possible site for the proposed new hospital.

"We do know that there is need for another hospital in Belleville," he said.

Bearing this out is the fact that the present hospital has occupancy of over 100 per cent and there is a long waiting list of patients seeking admission to the hospital.

Hospital Staff May Have to Be Boosted by 23

Over-taxed patient accommodation with an average occupancy rate of 107 per cent is causing staffing problems at Belleville General Hospital.

Hospital superintendent Werner F. O. Daechsel has advised the hospital personnel committee that the Ontario Hospital Services Commission has proposed the normal staff ratio of 12.5 hours per patient day be limited to 85 per cent occupancy and that additional days should be based on six hours per patient day.

With an occupancy rate at Belleville some times reaching over 110 per cent. Mr. Daechsel noted that the over 85 per cent occupancy proposal was creating a problem as carrying out of the directive could mean an additional 23 persons would be required for the hospital staff.

Mr. Daechsel felt that a staff ratio 10.9 hours per patient day would be adequate for the Belleville hospital.

The personnel committee has agreed that the O.H.S.C. proposal should be negotiated and a chart showing staff requirements at various levels of occupancy will be prepared.

"We have had almost no complaints at the hospital with respect to serivce", noted Acting Board Chairman Frank Domenico.

"Actually comments have been very complimentary".

Will Likely Use Fire Dept. To Get Rid of Old Building

Fighting fires rather than starting them is the generally accepted role of municipal fire departments, but it is possible that the Belleville Fire Departmen may in the near future turn the tables just for once.

It seems the Belleville Hospital Board of Governors has decided to demolish the old frame house formerly used as an internes' residence but so far have been unable to locate anyone who will tear it down and cart it away.

So the city firemen have volunteered to burn the building.

The old internes' residence has not been used for several years and never was repaired following a fire which damaged the structure. Since then there has been difficulty in keeping vandals out of the building and firemen feel there is a chance a vandal may accidentally set it afire.

So, with no buyer in sight, the fire department has offered to burn the building, pointing out that it would provide a useful exercise for the department.

Board members want the building removed and have voted that the method of disposal be left to the hospital superintendent.

The superintendent had suggested that allowing the firemen to burn the building would be good public relations on the part of the hospital.

And it would cost the hospital nothing.

The superintendent hasn't yet made up his mind but there is a strong possibility firemen may get the job.

Board Approves Appointments By Medical Staff

Members of the Belleville General Hospital Board of Governors at their February meeting yesterday gave their approval to department chief appointments as recommended by the hospital medical staff.

Chief of the hospital medical staff for 1961 will be Dr. James H. Forrester.

Following are the department chiefs as approved by the board:

YOUNG LEADER

Canada's youngest prime minister was the late Arthur Meighen, 46 when he first took office in 1920.

Ban Smoking In Corridors Of Hospital

Smoking in corridors and in other public areas of the Belleville General Hospital is to be frowned on in the future.

Hospital board governors have decided that "no smoking" signs will be posted in the corridors and in other public areas with the exception of waiting rooms.

It has been pointed out that smoking in the hospital creates a certain element of danger, especially in areas where oxygen is being used for corridor patients. There is no danger of the oxygen starting a fire, but should a fire occur the oxygen supports combustion and it would spread much more rapidly than if no oxygen were present.

In addition to the danger element there have been complaints from the patients regarding smoking in the corridors.

Also in the interest of safety at the hospital, Fire Chief Gerald Vance has recommended that corridor beds at the hospital be limited to 13.

The hospital superintendent said at times more than 13 corridor beds had been in use at the hospital but that in the future the recommendation of the chief as to the number of beds and the quota for each coridor would be followed.

Corby Workers Get Contract For Two Years

After several months of negotiations members of Local 96 of the Distillery Rectifying Wine and Allied Workers' International Union of America A.F.L./C.I.O. and C.L.C. voted by secret ballot to sign a new agreement with Corby's Distillery.

Representing the company were Vice-President and General Manager W. Laporte and G. McDonald, assistant manager. Representing the Local Union were president A. Austin; vice-president C. Tillbrook; secretary A. Gilroy; treasurer J. Calcutt and chief steward, A. Curlette.

Highlights of the new agreement are:

Two year contract. Wages retroactive to Oct. 1/60.

Wage increase first year seven cents per hour; second year five cents per hour.

Wage increase for shift employees from six cents per to eight cents per hour.

Wage increase of extra five cents for night watchmen.

Wage increases for engineers amounting up to 28 cents per hour.

The contract also includes nine statutory holidays, death benefit, health and welfare security plan, seniority and grievance clause, union shop, check off of union dues, two weeks vacation after three years, three weeks vacation after 12 years, strike-bound clause, temporary transfer clause giving an employee his or her pay for three months if transferred to another department, an additional three months half the difference between his or her regular pay on labor rate or the rate of pay of the position he or she is assigned to whichever is the greater.

WOOL PURCHASES

During the six-month period ended Jan. 1, 1961, the Soviet Union bought 21,400,000 pounds of wool from Australia for about $13,500,000.

G. H. Trill '61 President Country Club

G. H. (Bud) Trill is the 1961 president of the Bay of Quinte Golf and Country Club. He succeeds past-president Jim Walker.

Other officers named from an accepted slate of directors are vice-president, T. A. Carruthers and secretary-treasurer R. A. Lennox.

On the 1961 directorate are J. L. Diamond, R. Murphy, E. M. Parker, Jr., and R. H. Roe.

Comuittees have been appointed with power to add to their numbers

These are: house committee — Jack Diamond, chairman, Mario Fabri and Archie Roe; greens committee — Ted Parker, chairman, and T. A. Carruthers; games committee — Bob Murphy, chairman, and Ken Lewis; publicity — Archie Roe; membership committee — James Walker, chairman.

Mr. George Balasz, the popular club professional, has been re-engaged for a period of two years.

Mr. Balasz drew the well-merited acclaim of club members and out-of-town club members for his fine work on the greens and fairways last year.

He also drew commendation for outstanding efforts in bringing the new nine holes of the course to playable condition in early August.

In the women's division, Mrs. Dolly Diamond was elected president succeeding the popular Mrs. Joy Bowerman. Vice-president is Mrs. Ena Corke and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Muriel Joss.

Mrs. Billie Taylor and Mrs. Dorothy Lunn were named convener and co-convener of the house and social committee.

Mrs. Agnes Walker was named captain of the game's committee. She will be assisted by co-captain Mrs. Eva Ketcheson.

Mrs. Monica MacDonald who did an excellent job as press reporter last year will serve another term.

Games and house committees of both divisions met recently and drew up a schedule of golf and social events for the coming season.

This, with the findings and recommendations of the house committee will be submitted to the executive at an early date for approval.

Cellar Flooded For First Time In 35 Years

TRENTON — Heavy rains Thursday caused flooding in the cellars of several Trenton homes.

One West Street resident, who said he had not had a flood in his cellar for 35 years, was forced to pump the cellar out after water had extinguished his furnace.

A nearby resident, commenting on the cellar of a Leopold Street home, said that the depth of water in the cellar was "enough to drown a child."

Water on the roads, especially on the east side of Trenton, is a nuisance to motorists and pedestrians.

Two Lions Clubs Hear Address On Gratitude

TRENTON — Both Trenton and Frankford Lions clubs joined to hear an address by Deputy Governor John Dyble of Lions District 3 here on Thursday night.

Mr. Dyble spoke on various levels of gratitude. He said that mere thankfulness is the lowest level of gratitude.

The man who performs a service for others, and gains a sense of thankfulness for being useful, has gained the second level of thankfulness, said Mr. Dyble. The man, however who sees actual benefit in adversity, has reached the highest level of thankfulness.

Mr. Dyble was introduced by James Johns a Frankford Lion, and was thanked by Robert Reid, vice-president of the Trenton Club.

Boy Scout Week was celebrated by the Lions by inviting two local Boy Scouts as guests at their dinner meeting. The boys were Scout William Griffiths of Sixth Trenton group, and Scout William Nelson of Fifth Trenton Group. The boys were introduced by Bernard Fox, who combines the dual role of Lions and District Scoutmaster.

Nostrand Sprague and James Johns received presentations for their outstanding work as Lions International Counsellors. Mr. Sprague, who is well-known in Trenton and district for his interest in young people's public speaking contests, announced that two young people from this district will compete in the regional public speaking contest.

Must Eliminate Ditches

The death by drowning of six-year-old Terry McDonald is a shocking tragedy. That a boy of this age should meet death in a ditch bordering a city street ought to result in some action to eliminate a hazard which is far too widespread. There are miles of open ditches, some of them quite deep, in the outlying sections of Belleville. In very few of them, perhaps, would the current be so swift as to sweep to death a boy of Terry's age—but any open ditch could easily claim the life of a toddler.

It is going to take a lot of money to eliminate all these ditches, but in time it will have to be done, if we are to have a truly modern community.

How the work should be financed may cause some argument. In the past the cost of storm sewers has been met out of the general rate. Last year, though, the council passed a resolution that in future this work should be done as a local improvement. Future councils, though, are not necessarily bound by this resolution.

Fortunately the council has already put a halt to developments without storm sewers. A by-law passed in 1958 requires sub-dividers to install them, along with other services. Since that time additional miles of open ditches have been added, but that was because sub-division plans were registered prior to the passing of the by-law. The end of the addition of more open ditches has thus been reached.

Russell and Civil Disobedience

Bertrand Russell, peer and philosopher, courted jail the other day and was disappointed when the bobbies ignored his efforts to obtain publicity. He led a Gandhi-style non-violent civil disobedience demonstration, protesting against Great Britain's possession of nuclear weapons and against the basing of U.S. nuclear weapons in Britain.

The Montreal Gazette says the logic of Lord Russell's protest is not clear, that if he is advocating the rejection of nuclear weapons by Britain but not by the U.S. he is "asking a great deal, rather selfishly," and on the other hand, if he is advocating that the whole Western world give up nuclear weapons without guarantees of similar action by Russia, he is advocating immediate surrender to the Communists.

In this contention the Gazette is being logical but short-sighted. It overlooks the fact that Russell is one of those who are convinced an all-out nuclear war inevitably means the destruction of the human race, and indeed of the world as a planet inhabited by living things. It overlooks the fact that, even if all of Russell's supporters do not share his pessimistic views in their entirety, there can be little doubt but that in any nuclear war most, if not all, Britain's inhabitants would die, if there were any imperative reason for the Soviet Union to make the British Isles a prime target. There would be an imperative reason for such an attitude by the Communists if U.S. missiles are based on British soil, if planes of the Strategic Air Command operate from British bases and if Holy Loch, in Scotland, is used as a base for U.S. submarines carrying Polaris missiles.

President Kennedy, since his inauguration, has observed that the frightening thing about the existing international situation is that the peace depends on the existing delicate balance of power between Russia and the U.S.—and in the nature of things, both sides will be straining every muscle to upset this balance, to tip the scales in their favor, so that they are capable of destroying without being destroyed.

Russell may believe, quite sincerely, that moving U.S. hydrogen-bomb delivery devices, planes, launching pads or submarines, nearer to Russian soil enhances, rather than diminishes, the likelihood of a nuclear war.

If this is his belief, he and his followers may be "rather selfish," but they are hardly asking too much, in seeking to have this danger eliminated.

For Russell, though, the problem is probably simpler and involves no selfishness whatever. At 88, he can hardly have many years left. He thus is free to judge on principles. And he has stated he would prefer to see the whole world ruled by Communists for a few decades, or even longer, than to see human life wiped from the face of the earth forever. The vast majority will differ and some will say this is the advice of a coward. But can you really call a physically frail man of 88 a coward when he exposes himself to showers of eggs and insecticide, squats for three hours on a cold sidewalk and then expresses disappointment at not being thrown into jail?

All men feel something of an honorable bigotry for the objects which have long continued to please them.—William Wordsworth.

Letters To The Editor

Says College Street Is Disgrace to City

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.

Once again a tragedy has struck the Parkdale area. Is College Street to be known as a death trap for children? How can small children be taught road safety when there are no decent sidewalks for them to walk on and ditches filled with water a constant invitation for them to wade in and play?

Does not the city feel any responsibility for the death of two small children in less than three years? Surely in this modern age something can be done to improve College Street and make it safe for our children.

I am not alone in saying this street is a disgrace to the City of Belleville, so please let us have action now and not after another child's life is lost.

Gwen Stoughton

Would Give Jobless Ditch-Clearing Work

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.

Today there occured another tragedy in Parkdale — this time due to a large ditch full of fast-moving water.

Residents of this district are forced to shoulder great responsibility with regard to their children, which should, in part, be shared by the city authorities. We have to teach children to walk on streets without paths or sidewalks, to avoid constant fast-driving traffic which often forces children onto the side of the road, into the ditch or over to the wrong side of the road. These children have to walk to school past large ditches filled with water which are usually uncovered—at times overflowing and running across the streets.

Are there not some unemployed men who would be able to clear the ditches? Are there not some who could supervise children at the dangerous points?

We are asked to teach our children to walk safely. We are asked to keep our children away from water.

How can we do this effectively in the face of these difficulties?

Mrs. Josephine Reddick
76 Maple Drive.

Canadians Too Timid

Windsor Star

Canadians have a reputation of being cautious. There are few things in which we are bold or dashing. As a result some businesses in this country suffer.

This is particularly true when it comes to creating new designs and styles. Canadians wait and see what style or mode is set and then it is copied.

Because of this hesitancy, Hon. George Hees, Minister of Trade and Commerce, points out , competitors skim off the cream from both Canadian and overseas markets. When Canadian firms do get into the market they find they are too late.

In attempting to spur businessmen on, Mr. Hees said they should show more initiative. There are many fields open to them but executives are either unaware of them or they are reluctant to take the risk of being a leader.

Canadian firms must be more daring and aggressive. They are heading for trouble if they stand still or depend on somebody else for ideas and patterns.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

ON GETTING RIGHT WITH LIFE

In the Book of Daniel (10:8) we read these words: "I was left alone, and I saw this great vision."

There were men standing with Daniel but they "saw not the vision but a great quaking fell upon them so that they fled to hide themselves." Daniel was left alone, and while he was alone he saw a vision and heard "a voice of many words," and felt the divine hand reach down and touch him.

We live in an age which naturally rebels against "quiet times." Wise men in the past considered meditation a necessary employment for some period of time every day. But we do not meditate. When the office or store is closed, when school is dismissed and the factory shut for the day, we read the papers, and watch TV, yawn at ten thirty or eleven, and then go to bed. Sometimes an extra-alluring "'Late Show" will keep us up past midnight. But meditation! None of that for the up-and-doing activists of the twentieth century.

Yet no generation has confronted such problems as we confront. Maybe these problems arose and crept up on us because we never took time to regard life in its entirety, or to examine the relationship of this present life to what we must believe is a far greater and eternal existence.

"Orientation" is a popular word in modern parlance. Meditation is one of the best ways of becoming oriented — or of getting one's bearings.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

February 25th, 1941.

With upwards of one thousand acclaiming spectators in attendance, the Quinte Skating Club wound up the two-night presentation of its winter show at the Hume Arena last night in a blaze of colorful glory. The ice spectacles, "Scotch on Ice", "Maytime", "Toyland", and "Lake of Swans" evoked prolonged applause from the gallery with their colorful presentation and rhythm of movement; the kilted young ladies of the ensemble graciously responded to a brief encore. Lighting, decorative and costuming were some of the features of a show that lived up to the reputation that the Quinte Skating Club enjoys in this part of Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reid have been spending a few days in Toronto.

Gunner R. J. Whittard of the 32/34th Battery in Petawawa spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whittard of Lingham Street.

Gunner Jack Clarke, 32/34th R.C.A., has returned to military camp after spending two weeks' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clarke on Emily Street.

Miss Isabel Orrill spent the week-end in Toronto.

30 YEARS AGO

February 25th, 1931.

Twenty four young men sought shelter at the police station last night and were served generous helpings of good hot soup; this morning before they left, they were again given soup. Last night thirty six families obtained soup at the kitchen, also twenty six individuals. The soup kitchen has been a blessing to people out of work this winter.

Mrs. D. Young of Foster Avenue is visiting friends in Marmora.

Mr. C. S. Rollins of Coe Hill, ex-Warden of the County of Hastings, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. Ed Logan is spending a few days in Toronto on business.

Mr. W. H. Doyle is home from Toronto to spend a few days.

Dr. Austin Walters has returned to Montreal where he will resume his duties at the General Hospital after visiting his parents here.

40 YEARS AGO

February 25th, 1921.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. W. C. Mikel, K.C., exhibited a directory of the City of Belleville of sixty years ago. Mr. Mikel said that the directory showed that fifty one substantial industries were here at that time. The Patterson Agricultural Works was the largest of its kind in Western Canada, and so was the Campbell tannery. The list included hammer and fork works, stove foundries, pail, tub wash board, match factory, soap works, several cabinet factories and lumber mills, one of which turned out a ship load of lumber every day.

50 YEARS AGO

Belleville Market prices: Butter 23 cents to 25 cents per pound; eggs 25 cents to 26 cents per dozen; chickens 90 cents to $1.60 per pair; ducks $1.50 to $2.00 per pair, geese $2.00 each; potatoes 75 cents to 80 cents per bag.

Mr. Thomas Rickett's of Gilmour is spending a few days in town.

Mr. T. Thompson, Reeve of Madoc was in town today.

Mr. H. E. Grass of William Street, has left for Newcastle, Ont., where he will assume a position in the Traders' Bank.

Sleep Still A Mystery

BBC London Letter

"For thousands of years people have speculated about sleep," said Dr. Anne Dally in a recent BBC broadcast. "Poets have exalted it. Philosphers have discoursed on it and in recent years scientists have studied it. But we still don't even know what it is." In their attempts to find out, scientists were now concentrating on a study of the walking mechanisms of the brain, but for the average person the problem still was how to get enough sleep. Insomnia was one of the commonest troubles of today.

Dr Dally, who is a general practioner and mother of five children, went on to say that the commonest cause of insomnia was the attempt to get more sleep than the individual really needed. The old idea that every adult needed seven or eight hours sleep in the twenty-four was based on an average figure; some people needed, rather more, others less. The so-called effects of lack of sleep were often the effects of worrying over not sleeping. She had had complaints of insomnia from patients who spent ten hours or more in bed, and very few people could sleep for as long as that. Once a sufferer accepted the fact that he, or she, might need very little sleep, the insomnia was cured and he felt better. Sleeping pills if taken regularly over a long period could often cause the very symptons that the patient attributed to insomnia: some patients became addicted to their sleeping pills, and even had to have pep pills during the day to prevent drowsiness.

Genuine insomnia was always caused by some other trouble Dr. Dally said, for example, physical pain, bad sleeping conditions, or psychological upsets. Sleeping pills gave most help to people suffering from accute anxiety or excitement, shock or bereavement. Chronic anxiety and depression were psychological illnesses. In general, she thoughtthat if children or adults slept badly it was because they had got into bad habits or led unhealthy lives. She recommended a brisk walk before going to bed, andpossibly a hot drink, "for fresh air and exercise are the best possible bringers of good sleep and most of us get far too little of them."

THE PACKSACK

BY GREGORY CLARK

Though there were plenty of empty seats in the bus, a lady of about my own age came and plumped herself down beside me.

"Pah!" she said. "It's a pleasure to sit down beside somebody of my own generation."

"Thank you ma'am," said I.

"I'm on my way home after baby sitting for my grandchildren," she said, arranging herself for a little comfortable conversation. "And I tell you the way these young people live nowadays, it's more like camping out than housekeeping."

"Well, now," I said, for I am always interested in camping.

"These little ranch style bungalows are more like tents than homes" said my new confidante. "Well, maybe not tents. But like happy-go-lucky summer cabins, say. Everything hung handy on nails. And food? Nobody cooks anymore. They even feed the babies out of cans. There's no feeling of that solemn responsibility that used to fill the home in the old housekeeping days. It's all fun. It's just a camping trip."

"Did you find your grandchildren well?" I enquired politely.

"Aw, the darlings!" said my tete a tete, and she groped in her handbag and brought out the snapshots.

Red History Repeats Self

Vancouver Sun

Canada's sale of 40 million bushels of grain to Red China, like the reported abandonment of the Communist farming communes, is a tribute of sorts to the stubborn individualism of the Chinese peasant.

China's man with the hoe brought it on himself, maybe. But he proved that history can repeat itself in different times and places, when the forces at work are the same.

But history's repetitiousness is also a warning in this instance not to assume that the Chinese Reds will readily admit failure in their efforts to turn the peasantry into virtual slaves of the monolithic state.

China's troubles are due to a combination of natural disasters — floods and drought — and peasant resistance.

Thirty years ago Stalin was having similar troubles during his massive drive to collectivize Russian agriculture. He, too, had to retreat a little, as Lenin had to do earlier.

Stalin didn't have the excuse of natural disaster. But the passive resistance of Russia's peasartry landed him in trouble.

Nobody outside China has any idea how many have died or will die as the result of Mao Tse-tung's catastrophe.

No one knows for sure, outside the Kremlin, how many died in Russia in 1929-31.

The Russian disaster started with the drive to expropriate the property of the rebellious kulaks, the so-called wealthy peasants, of whom there were anywhere from one and a-half to two millions — eight to 10 million with their families.

Many of these died. Most were transported to slave camps. Their property was divided among the new collective farms.

But the poor peasants, for whose benefit this was supposed to be done, also rebelled. They slaughtered their livestock. From a third to half of the cattle, horses, pigs, sheep and goats were killed. They stole grain, they soldiered on the job, they sabotaged machines.

Stalin sent in troops and party workers. The peasants were coerced with firing squads and machine guns.

At least five million souls perished in the ensuing famine, according to a conservative estimate.

It was not all Stalin's fault, as todays China trouble is probably not all Mao's fault. The excessive zeal of party workers contributed to wrecking the first collectivization drive in Russia. Stalin afterward won much peasant support by timely concessions.

China dug its own pit by grossly inflating its harvest statistics. Emboldened by fancied success, it exported huge amounts of foodstuffs to boost its prestige abroad.

The peasants, embittered by the harsh demands of party workers, resorted to stealing food and slowing down on the job.

When the natural disaster struck, China suddenly found itself without sufficient food for its own people.

It may be that China overreached itself to a greater extent than Stalin's Russia did 30 years ago.

Rudeness Can Be a Virture

Montreal Star

Rudeness can be virtue. An example is the reply of Mr. Leopold Rogers, general manager of a low-rental housing project in Montreal, to a tenant who objected to having Negro neighbors.

Said Mr. Rogers:

"They're not complaining. I'd rather have them than you. If you're not satisfied, move out."

The Retort Courteous is often best. But in an era when being well-adjusted is life's great goal it is refreshing to hear an occasional Reproof Valiant or even Countercheck Quarrelsome when one is called for.

To Your Good Health

Lupus, Sensitivity to Sun, Demands Physician's Care

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Sir. Someone told me you wrote an article about lupus, the disease where people are so sensitive to sunlight. My daughter has lupus and I would very much like to see your article on it. — Mrs. E. M."

The article appeared June 9, 1960. You may be able to see it at the public library or in the newspaper's files. Unfortunately I can't keep extra copies of articles, as this would soon crowd me out of my quarters.

Lupus erythematosus (or just plain "lupus," as it is often called) is a disease which involves a good deal more than just exposure to sunlight. There are, I might add, quite a number of diseases in which sensitivity to sunlight is a factor.

There are two main types of lupus — disseminated, and discoid. The discoid involves only the skin, usually with a rash appearing across the bridge of the nose and cheeks, the characteristic which led to naming the disease lupus, the Latin word for wolf, because somebody thought this butterfly pattern on the face resembled the animal.

Anyway, other than this rash, the patient is well.

The disseminated type is quite another matter. It may develop from the discoid type, or may develop independently of it. This variety of lupus can include any combination of symptoms, such as kidney trouble, scarring of the skin, liver trouble, anemia, decreased white cells in the blood, joint pain, mental symptoms and many others.

Lupus is becoming a much more common disease, or perhaps it is being recognized more frequently.

Along with this, medical treatment now provides a great deal of help for patients with lupus. Unfortunately some family medical reference books that are still around were printed long enough ago so that this fact is not brought out.

The point is that any sufferer of either variety should be under a physician's care. I presume that Mrs. E.M.'s daughter is.

The patient should be protected from the sun, although as I said, there are many other conditions requiring protection from the sun. Lupus accounts for only a small proportion of sun-sensitivity problems. So just because sensitivity to sun is present, one should not jump to the conclusion that he or she has lupus.

"Dear Dr. Molner, Does fast development add to the problem of acne? Does hard water make it worse? My son is 15 and always has been big for his age. I am enclosing a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope, and 20c in coin for your booklet, 'Acne, the Teenage Problem.' — Mrs. A. E. M."

Acne bothers some teenagers, not because they grow rapidly, but because there is excessive activity of the sebaceous (or oil) glands in the skin. Hard water is not a factor. Your booklet has been sent to you, and you'll find other suggestions in it.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I would like your frank opinion of scalp specialists who make different claims about saving your hair. — W. H."

I strongly distrust those who make promises. It is true that loss of hair often can be halted if it is due to some scalp infection that can be cured — and is. But where loss of hair is due to a natural hereditary process, I don't know of anything to be done; hence my distrust of promise. I can place faith in the services of a dermatologist,) a skin specialist, when the loss of hair is attributable to some skin disease or skin infection.

Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Chicago Sun Times Syndicate, P.O. Box 158, Dundee, Ill., requesting my booklet, "How To Deal With Varicose Veins," enclosing a long, self-addressed, unstamped envelope and 25c in coin to cover handling and postage.

Much Needs Compacting

Christian Science Monitor

A friend whose hobby is trend-watching tells us that "compact" washers, dryers, freezers, and refrigerators are being launched in the American market to provide fitting accompaniment for the compact car.

So far so good. Pocket radios, four-ounce suits, air-weight typewriters, hand-size watermelons, concentrated juices smaller furnaces, and compact appliances have filled real needs for many people.

But product designers need to keep thinking small. They haven't yet compacted everything. For instance, we commend to their attention:

Steamer trunks—why can't they fold up when not in use?

Frozen food packages—why aren't there smaller sizes or subdividable boxes for one-serving meals?

Garbage — couldn't more packages be designed to collapse after use so that one bushel of groceries no longer results in two bushels of garbage? Why are so many small objects camouflaged in oversized containers?

Every consumer will have his own list. Just to keep ours in perspective we have inscribed at the end of it a frivolous plea for compact compacts so that women will be able to manage with smaller purses and fewer worries about getting too much powder on the nose.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE POWER OF THE STATE

The power of the State lies in the recognition of this fact, and its application.

When Patrick Henry, the American politician and orator, cried out so feelingly, preferring death to loss of liberty, he spoke the Language of Freedom.

At that time he voiced the cry of all who, in their hearts, burned for freedom and liberty.

They were backed by a group of liberty lovers who wanted freedom beyond everything else in this world, but they knew they might be compelled to fight for it — which, later, they did.

They passed their freedom on to us as a gift to free men.

How precious that legacy is to us all in America today!

They had brilliant young men in the days of Washington, too, and he chose as his Secretary of the Treasury, Alexander Hamilton — young man close to thirty years of age, to tap the springs that brought hope and life to the young Republic.

What an inspiration to all mankind, and what an outstanding breed of men were those who signed, with John Hancock, their names to that great Jeffersonian document — America's world famous Declaration of Independence!

"Awake My Soul, To Sound His Praise"

By HORACE B. POWELL

Awake, my soul! to sound His praise,
And morning incense bring.
Awake, my harp! to sing;
Join, all my powers! the song to raise,
And morning incense bring.

Among the people of His car
And through the nations round,
Glad sons of praise will I prepare
And there His name resound.

Be Thou exalted, O my God!
Above the starry frame;
Diffuse Thy heavenly grace abroad,
And teach the world Thy name.

So shall Thy chosen sons rejoice,
And throng Thy courts above;
While sinner hear Thy pardoning voice,
And taste redeeming love.

Hymn lovers who know their Bibles will not have to be told that when they sing Joel Barlow's "Awake, My Soul, To Sound His Praise" they are singing the one hundred and eighth Psalm.

It was Dr. Isaac Watts, the English hymnist, who first put the Psalms of David into verse, and the collection of Psalms which Mr. Barlow published in America in 1786 and in several subsequent editions was put together in an attempt to collect and enlarge Dr. Watts' endeavors, and to adapt the English version of the Psalms to "American thought and circumstances."

Mr. Barlow was a prominent author and politician during the stirring period of the American Revolution and in the years that followed. He was bron in Reading, Connecticut in 1755, was graduated from Yale University in 1778, and died abroad — in Poland — in 1812.

'Nightingale School of Nursing' Explained in Detail to W.H.A.

Spring-like weather lured a large number to the monthly meeting of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary on Tuesday afternoon. The newly-installed president, Mrs. Mervin F. L. Jones, welcomed those present, especially visitors and new members.

Reports and financial statements were given by the department conveners for 1961 and plans for the year were placed before the Auxiliary by the Opportunity and Coffee Shops directors, Mrs. H. H. Murray and Mrs. J. B. Casey.

A new library cart for the pleasure and convenience of reading patients was demonstrated by Mrs. J. E. Buchan, director of Volunteer Services.

FASHION SHOW DATE

A date for the annual Fashion Show, including a display and sale of puppets was fixed for November.

Mrs. George Hume, treasurer for this year, gave an encouraging report and Mrs. W. J. Musgrove reminded members of past accomplishments and future responsibilities.

It was announced that Mrs. Audrey Muir had accepted the position of staff convener of the Opportunity Shop and Mrs. Casey had planned a "Strip Tea' for the March meeting.

A plea for materials to assist the committee in making puppets for the children, ill in hospital, was made by Mrs. P. L. Allcorn, also the president displayed a new Nightingale card to be placed on the patient's trays.

COLLECTION SCHEME

Mrs. Jeffery, speaking for Mrs. H. H. Murray of the Coffee Shop, suggested that in order to facilitate a steady flow of home baking to the shop a collection scheme was to be tried. This met with general approval.

Miss Doris Smith, Director of Nurses of the Belleville General Hospital, was the guest speaker. In introducing her, Mrs. J. Buchan spoke of the highly important and demanding position she held. A graduate of Western University, she had attained much experience in nursing education.

The subject of her excellent address was "The Nightingale School of Nursing."

At first, Miss Smith elaborated on some of the problems to be solved, such as getting along with co-workers, married students,residence living, and many more. In every way a great deal more flexibility was noticed. There is today more emphasis on student participation, less fear from discipline and more training in the standards required as a guide to promote and preserve health.

GREATER RESPSONSIBILITY

The aim to encourage students in greater responsibility for themselves and their patients, is one of the greatest importance.

The Nightingale School of Nursing, situated on University Avenue, Toronto, is a new venture in training nurses, as the period of training is two years, instead of the usual three years.

The school requires that a student be successful in Grade 13 examinations as an entrance requirement.

The new course stresses stabilization of teaching staff; improved quality of instruction; reduced costs and a new pattern in nurse training. Emphasis is placed on health, self-activity of the patients and a spirit of dependent relationship with those ill in hospitals.

At present the school has 25 nurses in training but it is hoped before long to have available accommodation for 120 students.

The new approach to the problem of nursing was instituted by the Department of Health in September of 1960. The tuition is $75 annually with single rooms and four weeks vacation. Other stringent rules regarding uniforms, caps, hair styles, were developed by the nurses themselves.

ACCEPTED BY PROVINCES

These nurses, upon graduation, will be accepted by any other province in Canada.

Miss Smith was questioned by those eager to learn the minimum requirements for this new school.

Mrs. B. Burley, on behalf of the Auxiliary, thanked Miss Smith for such a comprehensive talk on nursing and all found this information of new horizons in nursing particularly interesting.

A cup of tea was served by Mrs. Benjamin Safe and Mrs. S. A. Kvarda, which offered an opportunity for friends to meet.

W.A. Entertains At Social Evening

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Mr. and Mrs. George Cotten opened their home recently for a social evening for White's Woman's Association.

Crokinole and other games were enjoyed.

The lucky winners of prizes were: Mrs. Fred Bowers, Mrs. Lawrence Dafoe; Mrs. Frank Westfall; Mrs. B. Westover; Mrs. P. Denny; Mr. Cecil Jeffrey; Mr. Ernest Curtis; Mr. F. Tebbutt and Master Larry Bilham and Billy Arthur.

A social time was enjoyed and tasty refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

PHEASANTS' FOOD

VICTORIA (CP) — Hungry pheasants seem to have acquired a taste for flower bulbs and are plaguing growers here. One person lost 20,000 crocus and countless tulip bulbs to the birds.

Music, Costumes Delightful At Trinidad's Big Carnival

By Shirley and Bob Sloane

Port of Spain, Trinidad — They have come from Santa Cruz and St. Pierre, and Maraval, Mucurapo and Curucaye to mill in the streets through the long night like masquerade party guests who have forgotten where they live.

They are dressed as savages from the African jungle in leopard skins and feathers, like King Henry VIII, Sitting Bull and Captain Kidd.

There is a madness in the air that is a blend of all the madnesses of the world. They have names like Da Silva and Burke and Singh and Chung — an odd enough assortment for the western world. But for now they have taken even odder ones: the Katzenjammers, Brute Force, Young Brigade for the groups; Mighty Sparrow, Lord Melody and The Inventor for individuals.

All night they shuffle, restlessly practising the peculiar dance known as the Saga T'ing, virtually the only motion they will make during the next two days and nights. The rounded, strangely melodious tones of drums made from the tops of oil barrels (some still read through the dark hours.

AN ENDLESS PARADE

As the chimes of Westmister sound six on the second morning preceding Lent, the tinkling and shuffling suddenly takes form. It is the start of a seemingly endless parade of dancing, bouncing, singing and marchinging that is Trinidad's Jump-Up Carnival; and there is nothing like it between New Orleans and Rio.

It is the climax of Trinidad's social year, having started 363 days before when costumes worth hundreds of dollars were first being sewn and young musicians had begun dreaming up the outlandish, strangely syncopated ballads with names like "Russian Satellite" and "Jack Palance" in the hopes of being crowned King of Calypso at Carnival.

Thus, for two days dominate the color and music that form the soul of this hodge podge, polyglot island at the crossroads of not only north and south but of east and west. Its capital city often looks and sounds more like an oriental bazaar than a headquarter of the British Empire in the Western Hemisphere.

The Pan American jet that floated us in here four hours out of a snow-crippled New York might have been a space ship from another planet in this setting. East Indian women in saris, Ohrinis and caste marks walk the streets, as do men in skull caps, pantaloons, and bulging white coats called capras. The faces are the dusty brown of India, the black of Africa, the high cheekbones and rounded eyes of China and infinite combinations of them all.

MIXED-UP PLACE

Trinidad is, in fact, a most crazy mixed-up place. Port of Spain is a bustling seaport full of wharves, commission merchants, banks, and import-export houses. Dignified colonial policemen, as uniformly black as their pith helmets are white, wave the motley traffic of taxis, open-sided buses and horse carts through the teeming streets. Peddlers in turbans weave through the crowds followed by beggars in rags and cab drivers touting everything cab drivers tout throughout the world. It could be Hong Kong or Calcutta.

But there are palm trees, and from under the turbans emerge English faces. For every Chinese merchant's sign there is a Portuguese sign. There are also lottery ticket sellers. In the shops the imports are carved teakwood and ivory from India and the other Indies called East, but the signs are Spanish.

The clipped, mock-British speech in the streets is streaked with mongrelized French patois and the cooking in the restaurants is as creole as New Orleans. In addition to the churches there are Hindu temples and Moslem mosques with minarets and spires and balconies.

British in character, Latin in disposition and cosmopolitan in appearance, Trinidad has a character all its own, one so distinctive and vigorous that it easily dominates the culture of the islands comprising the British West Indian Federation. Port of Spain is its New York.

One of the best places to see the unbridled personality of the Trinidadadian is in the calypso "tents" which are not tents any more but factory lofts and rehearsal halls where, for the weeks preceding carnival, the irrespressible calypsonians set up shop to try out the songs which they hope will earn them the king's crown on judging day.

TEST THEIR SONGS

The "tents" are their way of feeling out the public to see which songs they will submit. Every night the greats and the wouldbe's gather behind a cutaway version of vaudeville's advertising-bedecked asbestos curtain to test audience reaction to their wilding varied inventions.

There are risque songs and dirty ones, sycophantic and romantic ones. But the best are the topical ones which, in the time-honored manner of bards and balladeers, comment so incisively on affairs of the day and have been known to influence legislation. (One piece needled the pay - as - you - earn tax so unmercifully — and popularly — that the law was changed.)

Less harmless ones may comment on the fact that despite Radio Trinidad's appealing recipes, the singer's wife's cooking still tastes like "cockroach still tastes like "cockroach stew."

There are songs about the police force, about politicians, about the water situation in Belmont, and about other — always more successful — calypsonians.

If music is the universal language, the Trinidadian is surely the most articulate citizen of the world.

Couple Mark 25th Anniversary

MARSH HILL — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Detlor celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage on February 12.

Approximately 70 friends and neighbors gathered at the Marsh Hill hall, on February 11, to celebrate the occasion.

Mr. Farley Lindenfield acted as chairman for a short program, with Mrs. Ivan Clare presiding at the piano for community singing. Mrs. Allyn Finkle gave a humorous reading, "Aunt Betsy at the Art Exhibit." Dianne Kinton rendered a piano solo, "Blue Danube" A reading, "Town Shopping Woes," was given by Mrs. David Little, and a piano solo, "Yellow Butterfly," was rendered by Patricia Kinton. Mrs. Leslie Little and Mr. Charlie Mayell favored with guitar selections, "Caribbean" and "My Old Canadian Home."

The address was read by Charlie Mayell and the presentation by Mrs. Leslie Little, a purse of money. An occasional chair from the family was also presented, and Mr. Gerald Irvine was called on for a few remarks.

Refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Detlor, Mrs. C. Lansing, Mr. William Detlor, Ralph Detlor, and Gwenda Detlor were seated at the table which was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Mr. Douglas Detlor expressed appreciative thanks on behalf of the family for the party planned by the community.

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

Whatever March brings forth in the way of weather, in the world of fashion, it is spring. This is judged not from the new spring hats but from the rash of fashion shows in our midst. These may take various forms and may also have "extra added attractions" in the form of tea and other entertainment.

But the oddest combination we have heard of was a bowling demonstration along with a fashion show. Many of the fashions shown were suitable for bowling, so one of Canada's largest department stores treated customers to a demonstration of bowling. A standard bowling lane was installed on the fashion floor and two excellent professional bowlers gave demonstration. The result was that some women who had just come down to shop found themselves wearing bowling shoes and taking part in a game.

This proved to be such a draw that the idea may be repeated next year. We may some time see ski slopes and ice rinks, maybe a golf course, set up in conjunction with a fashion show.

Clothes of another kind and for another reason were the focus of a very wonderful effort during World Refugee Year. It is interesting to know what was done in other countries and an excerpt from a British report is truly startling. The Women's Voluntary Services of Great Britain received in April 1959 a message from U.N. Refugee Association asking them to collect and dispatch one thousand tons of clothing. At first they thought that an error had been made and that they were being asked for one hundred tons.

However, a thousand tons it was; somebody estimated that if all the garments had been laid out end to end they would have stretched for 845 miles. The entirely voluntary organization was taken aback.

Nevertheless, they started by launching a national appeal through the newspapers. The clothes began flooding in and this created its own problems, mostly lack of space. A lot of collecting was done by helpers outside the WVS. Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Civil Defence, and volunteers, Commonwealth and American students all helped out, not only with the collecting, but also with the sorting and baling.

The sorting of second-hand clothing is no pleasant task. Hundreds of work parties were set up all over the country to do salvage work on the three million garments. Buttons were pried off useless garments and sewn onto useful ones; there were patchings and darnings, and runnings together and cuttings and contrivings. School children and men members of old people's clubs helped in this work and did a lot of original work too, especially knitting.

Policemen, firemen and handy men made the extra presses that were urgently needed and the bales were made by prisoners in their 'time.' By May, 1960, the organization actually accomplished what it set out to do. It had collected one thousand tons of clothing, or 2½ million garments. This was part of its contribution to World Refugee Year. In addition, during the same period, it had also sent three hundred and fifty bales of colthing to refugees in Tunis and Morocco; one hundred and two bales for hurricane victims in Mauritius, and forty-six bales of fur coats for refugees in Germany.

To go back to our first section on clothes, if people had not bought a lot of new clothes, there would not have been second-hand clothes to collect.

Women's Activities

W.A.

FRANKFORD — The February W.A. meeting was held on February 9th with 20 members and seven visitors present. Mrs. W. Morrow presided at the piano.

The business was dealt with, conducted by Mrs. F. Rabel. The W.A. and the Evening Auxiliary will sponsor a fashion show on April 12th at 7.30 p.m. The date for the annual bazaar will be October 26.

DEVOTIONAL

The worship service was taken by Mrs. G. Harrington, Mrs. B. Stickle and Mrs. W. Scott. The Scripture, taken from Romans 12:4-21, was read by Mrs. Scott. The theme talk was given by Mrs. G. Harrington, followed by prayer by Mrs. B. Stickle.

FINE PROGRAM

The program was as follows: reading, Mrs. L. Pyear, "Folly of Complaining"; vocal solo, "He's Got the Whole World In His Hands," little Jill Robinson; readings, "Definition of A Mother," Mrs. F. Charlesworth and "Homes," Mrs. A. Stickle; vocal solo, "Unanswered Yet," Mrs. M. Grills; readings, "As Others See Us," Mrs. W. Scott and "Let Me Live In A House By the Side of the Road," and the reply to it, Mrs. G. Harrington.

The hostess group of Mrs. G. Montgomery and Mrs. H. Bleecker served a lovely lunch.

LOWER RESULTS

'Streaming System' Topic At H-S Assoc.

The regular monthly meeting of the Hillcrest Home and School Association was held on February 20th in the school auditorium.

The president, Mr. R. Dryden welcomed the members and conducted the business session.

Miss N. Farnsworth presided at the piano.

The banner attendance was won by Mrs. Ketcheson's room, grades 2 and 3.

Plans were made for attending Leadership Training Course at Moira Secondary School on Friday evening and Saturday of this week.

GUEST SPEAKER

The principal, Mr. Marner, introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mr. H. Mott, the guidance director at BCIVS whose topic was the explanation of the new Streaming System and choice of options of the Quinte District High School Board.

Mr. R. Dryden moved a vote of thanks ot Mr. Mott for his most interesting talk which was of great interest to all parents.

Refreshments were served by the mother's of Mrs. Ketcheson's room, and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Grateful for Charlotte

By ALMA MASON

How frightening it is to number so many widows among ones riends. We count among our intimate friends 19 women who are trudging solitary paths. We have stood with them all during the first terrifying days of loss and disaster; mingled our tears with theirs as we felt a grey pall of personal fear tug at the heart.

We have watched them all gradually rise above shock and bewildered grief to turn brave faces to a hurrying, needless world.

Such a person is Charlotte. We visited her the other evening in her lovely old home.

Charlotte has been ill for many years. She has fought a desperate fight against pain and the crippling influence of such pain. She didn't add to her battle by carrying a load of self-pity around with her. She didn't expect attention and help. She had always been much too busy and interested in the difficulties of others to consider her personal needs or to abjectly bow to the demands of illness.

Charlotte is easy to love. She radiates love and unselfishness to such a degree that it would be impossible for anyone not to respond to her lavish outpouring of affection.

For the past five years Charlotte has cared for her ailing husband. Amazing and miraculous strength for the task seemed to be supplied her tired, physically impaired body.

Keeping her large old home in order, entertaining her many friends and relatives in her home, ministering to the needs of her patient invalid husband never dimmed her sunny smile.

Knowing that the road of togetherness would soon twist into a heart-breaking turn, she treasured and hoarded each precious minute. She cooked her husband's favorite dishes; read him his favorite books; enjoyed with him his favorite television programs and kept the garden he loved trim and shining.

UNDAUNTED

When, through acute physical exhaustion, she would fall or faint, she would rest a bit, pray a bit and rise to battle more determinedly, more undaunted than ever before.

Charlotte puts a price beyond the price of rubles on every kindness shown her. Those fortunate souls who show her small courtesies and attention experience the thrill of becoming giants in philanthropy and magnificent towers of benevolence.

Her face shines radiantly when she receives small gifts. They may seem inexpensive, trivial offerings to the one who bestows them, but the giver soon realizes that to Charlotte, they are exquisite and beyond price.

Charlotte is lonely without her beloved partner. Her loneliness will be eased by her well-anchored faith in God, in her love of humanity; in her gratitude for the simple but great blessings of this earth. Charlotte's friends do not fear for her. She will walk to the end of the road safely and surely and valiantly. She is a good soldier, fearless and tried and true. She has successfully climbed most of the rugged hills of life, hills that would have seemed to tower menacing and insurmountable for most of us. The rest of the path may twist uphill and down; it may lose itself in dark forests and rushing streams. Charlotte will follow it bravely and well—for she knows every rut in the road.

Thank God for friends like you
With courage staunch and true;.
Thank God for lives that shine
To guide poor souls like mine.

COLLECT DUST

Ornaments and small rugs should be removed from a sick person's room because they collect dust and germs.

PORTRAIT IN GEMS, SILVER AND GOLD

"Perseverance in rightness of human conduct renders, after a certain number of generations, the best human art possible" —John Ruskin.

• • •

"Watchmaking," notes Mr. George in The House of Birks which concerns the well-known jewellers, Henry Birks and Sons, "has been a fruitful school of all mechanical invention."

He lists the following trained in watchmaking: James Watt, the creator of the steam engine; George Stephenson, who constructed the first locomotive; Matthias W. Baldwin, the originator of the Baldwin locomotive; Degen, first to have any success with a flying machine in 1809; Elias Howe, the inventor of the sewing machine; Henry Ford, and Mergenthaler, "who invented the linotype machine, which brings the daily paper to millions."

An older craft, is that of manufacturing silversmiths, and in Quebec, the ancient capital of New France, the early French silversmiths were also armourers; "Armurier duRoy et offevre." They were said to be excellent craftsmen, the best known being Ranvoyze.

"In earlier Montreal," continues Mr. George, "silversmiths of the French regime were excellent craftsmen. Canon law required that sacred vessels be made of the noble metals, silver and gold. This gave importance to the trade; and the French seigneurs were well provided with silver, much of which has survived."

A letter from one of them about dining in that day, reads: "A silver spoon and fork wrapped in a napkin were placed on the left of each plate. Ladies and gentlemen provided their own knives, hung from the neck, in a sheath of morocco, silk, or birch bark artistically worked."

In 1770 Robert Cruickshank, from Scotland, began to make spoons, forks, church silver and silver ornaments for the fur trade, in Montreal. It is said that most of the silver ornaments found in Indian graves in Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin bear his stamp. Not only does his name appear in James McGill's ledger, but he was the first warden of Christ Church Cathedral on Notre Dame Street.

Other early silversmiths, indirectly or directly connected with the early Henry Birks jewellery business, were Pierre Beaule (1781-1850); Robert Hendery (1814-1897); and John Leslie (1849-1939). Both Robert Cruickshank and John Leslie were lineal descendants of the Scottish medieval Guild of Hammermen, and of Mr. Leslie, we quote Mr. George again: "He was an adept at every process from the sketch on paper to the finished work, not only an artist with his hammer, but with his pencil and brush, his graver and his lathe. In this age of specialization, apprentice are not so trained.'

Counters are mirrors of customs of every era. A visit to Henry Birks Store in the later part of the 19th century would disclose stock concerned with things military due to the "location of historical regiments of the line in Montreal. One would see swords, epaulettes, stirrups, spurs, pistols, silver whistles, gold mounted whips, crops and canes.

There would be displayed officers' iron-bound canteens and brass-bound mahogany and rosewood dressing-cases, with silver and ivory fittings, folding desks, tea caddies and fine Swiss barrel music boxes, flutinas and concertinas. Also silver services and spoons and forks hammered by hand on the anvil, silver, carved ivory, pearl, shell and horn snuff boxes. Fans, ormolu clocks and bronzes. Not to mention moustache brushes and combs for the dashing, heavy moustachioed officers.

All these represented objects manufactured by the silversmiths. Birks started with seven men, when it took a man a day to hammer out 12 silver spoons on the anvil. Today a man with a machine turns out 250 spoons; there are two factories, one for jewellery and one for silver; each in separate buildings. This is indicative of the extent of manufacture and progress of today. And craftsmen who have been with Birks factories for 25 years and more become members of the Quarter Century Club, known as the Old Guard — with nearly 200 members. In "The House of Birks" the president, Mr. Henry E. Birks salutes this body of men by saying: "It is fitting that this history should be dedicated to you, my friends, for without you, and many who have passed on, this record would have been impossible."

Readers' Saturday Column

As conducted by Mary Moore

(Note: In mid-January I asked the writer of an unsigned letter for more details about her request for Cherry Chocolate and for her name and address. I have not heard from her yet but have heard from another reader giving what she believes the original writer wants.)

Dinner Menus

SATURDAY

LETTER:

In your column I see a request for Cherry Chocolates recipe. The enclosed is quite good and may fill the bill. Also, somebody is having shortbread trouble. I think she would find this recipe very easy and very good. Thanks for all your good work. Hope 1961 is all you could wish for yourself and your family . . . "I," Moose Jaw.

CHERRY CHOCOLATES:

..(Courtesy "I", Moose Jaw)..

Maraschino cherries, well drained. Beat one egg white stiff, add 1 teaspoon water and few drops of almond essence. Mix in one pound of icing sugar until smooth. Take each cherry, cover with a piece of the fondant, roll into a ball and let stand for 2 hours to dry. Melt 4 squares of semi-sweet (baking) chocolate in a deep bowl standing in hot water. Dip each cherry into the chocolate (use a 2-pronged fork) tap off the excess and place on a sheet of wax paper and stand in a cool dry place to harden. (Don't put in frig).

SHORTBREAD:

(Courtesy "I", Moose Jaw).

Cream together 1 cup butter and 1-2 cup berry (castor) sugar. Sift in 1-4 cup rice flour, 2 1-4 cups all-purpose flour and pinch of salt. Knead together till firm and smooth. Put a sheet of wax paper on a shallow cookie pan and press the dough evenly over this, 1-2" thick. Roll a glass jar over the top to smooth. Prick with a fork and sprinkle a little granulated sugar over. Bake at 300 deg. Fahr. till crisp and the top a delicate brown. (White shortbread looks so anaemic.) While still hot, mark into squares, fingers or diamonds, leave in pan till cold. Store in air-tight tin in cool dry place. Keeps a long time and can be re-crisped by placing in oven for a few minutes. Can be rolled and cut, if preferred.

ANSWER:

Thank you for both recipes. I hope the reader who requested Cherry Chocolate sees yours.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counsellors and social workers

Erna, G. — I tell her she should attend the parents class.

Beatrice N. — There's nothing they can tell me about my own child.

• • •

Erna G. — I'm Bea's cousin and, although I'm still in college and have no children of my own, I see her making mistakes every day with Peter. We live near each other and I'm the official and favorite baby-sitter, so I'm really interested in Peter and a bit worried.

He's four and in a constant tug-of-war with his mother. She still manages to make him do what she says, but only by spanking him every hour on the hour. Then she feels guilty and Peter goes on to think up new ways to annoy her.

When he's five, he'll be eligible to enter a demonstration kindergarten sponsored by the university I attend. Bea signed him up, but there's a preliminary program going on right now and she's not co-operating. They've had all the prospective pupils and their parents over for interviews and tests to help them plan next year's activities.

Now they're trying to organize the mothers into a child study group, but Bea won't go. She thinks Peter will start behaving once he goes to school. But the directors of the project must know what they're doing.

Suppose she's actually stirring up trouble, without knowing it.

• • •

Beatrice N. — The reason I'm having trouble with Peter is that he spent a month with my mother-in-law and his aunts, uncles and cousins up on the farm, while my husband and I travelled through Spain. Pete's dad is a newspaper correspondent and he wanted me to go along on this assignment.

Up in the country, Grandma N. just never said No. Pete had a ball. Also, he saw his older cousins running wild with no supervision or discipline. The other mothers are either "Career girls" in town, or busy with chickens and geese Honestly, they all seem more concerned with the livestock there, than with the children.

Well, Pete's coming around. It's a battle all right, as Erna says. But I'll have my son tamed soon and he'll be a child to be proud of — not a brat like the others.

I've been over to those prekindergarten sessions at the university. I've answered all the questions. And they've had a good look at Pete and me. Now they want me to promise to attend a class twice a week.

I'm not making promises. I expect another child in six months. As to Pete, how can perfect strangers understand him better than his mother?

• • •

The Council — Beatrice's adament resistance to the urging of her cousin and the counsel of Peter's future teachers leads us to believe that she fears criticism and is on the defensive.

Evidently there is something in her background that makes her feel she must be the perfect mother of a perfect child, or else she's a failure. This must have been revealed to the school personnel, both from brief face-to-face contact with her, and from observing Peter in play situations with other children. While Beatrice is hammering "obedience" into the little boy, she can't possibly know what crippling and disabling attitudes she's planting at the same time.

When Peter is a teenager, Beatrice may regret not availing herself of all the enlightenment proffered. Too often we hear the helpless, desperate query, after calamity strikes: "Where did I fail him?"

The preliminary "look-over" of children entering school is a new and highly promising technique, developed by researchers in Grand Rapids, Mich. and Wellesly Hill, Mass., in recent years.

It has been found that school officials can predict, with a high degree of certainty, which children are destined for trouble during their school career, unless the pressures and atrocious handling meted out to them are ameliorated. These predictions are based principally upon observations and appraisals of the parents! Hence, the importance of enlisting Beatrice at this early stage, in the task of preparing Peter for an effective life among his peers.

Erna's prodding is timely. Peter's entrance into a school is an important milestone for both him and Beatrice. The teachers are trying to assure Peter's success by dealing with his problems before they grow into bad habits and fixed character handicaps. The finger is on his parents, particularly his tense, anxious mother.

"I'll wait and see," is no good, Beatrice. Don't wait, see now; attend the class.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Question — When I was a child, I was taught to say, "'Pleased to meet you'' whenever I was introduced to anyone. A friend tells me that this is wrong and that I should stop saying it. What should I say? Miss L. E. N. ,Baltimore, Md.

Answer — "'How do you do?'' is the correct acknowledgment of an introduction whether it be to a man or a woman. If you wish to enlarge upon your greeting, it is not wrong to add, "'So very nice to meet you.''

DO YOU HAVE...
—a marital problem
—trouble with your children
—difficulty in budgeting your income

If so, the Children's Aid Society can be of help and invites you to talk it over with one of the members of its family service department staff. You will find them sympathetic and understanding of your problem and desirous only of helping you to help yourself. There will be no obligation on your part and you may terminate the contact at any time.
The Society's offices at 63 Moira St. West are open from 8.30 to 5 o'clock Monday to Friday each week. For your own convenience it is suggested that you telephone for an appointment. Your call will be treated with complete confidence.
In Belleville this service to families is supported by the Belleville United Appeal.

FUNERAL FACTS !

What details should a Funeral Director take care of?

At time of bereavement, a Funeral Director, and every one in his organization should be dedicated to the task of efficient service and helpful advice. "Someone to lean on and take over all the details" is how our service is often described.

Some of the many details Thompson's take care of include: placing a notice in the newspapers, arrangements with minister, setting up visiting schedule, place of interment, out of town arrangements, care of flowers, arranging for bearers, transportation, music, church or chapel service, visitors register book, legal procedures, acknowledgment cards, etc. and, at all times, personal attention to every detail, helpfull advice and counsel.

A Lift For Living

The Courage to Be Ourselves

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

Most of us are pretty much enslaved by a desire to go along with our crowd. We want our dress to be distinctive enough to be noticed, but not to be out of fashion. We want to be thought original, but not queer. Hence we follow the fashion in thought and practice.

What a refreshing thing it is to come across a person who has the courage to be himself, to say what he thinks despite what the crowd says. His independence helps us to have courage.

We think of Benedict Sprinoza refusing the pension and patronage of Louis XIV of France, who offered these favors to the distinguished philosopher, if he would dedicate a book to him. But Spinoza went on at his trade of grinding lenses to support him in his poverty. He would not prostitute his talents to please a monarch whom he could not respect. Spinoza enriched the world through his character as well as his formative thinking.

Rugged independence in public office and private life has proven the strength of America through the years. Oswald G. Villard in his autobiography cited, as a high-water mark of political courage, the scene in the White House, when in 1888, Grover Cleveland called in his chief political advisers to discuss the coming Presidential election.

HE WAS DETERMINED

He did not ask them what was the expedient thing to do. He simply told them that he was determined to stand for reelection on the issue of tariff for revenue. Immediately they all protested, saying it would mean defeat. "Very well, then, "I shall be defeated" — and he was.

We need men like this who have the courage to stand, and having done everything to stand. despite the pressue of public desire, — men who keep their ears attuned not to the polls of public opinion, but to the Voice of the Eternal speaking within their own consciences, — men who as Woodrow Wilson said, would rather fail in a cause they know some day will win than to win in a cause they know some day will fail. Such men are "hiding places from the mind" of popular fashion and public passion.

Think of those who are driven by their own appetites and passions. So many of us are not masters of ourselves. We are swept along by our own gusty temptations. We take no firm stand on our convictions, but excuse our easy morals by looking at the slippery standards of others. Then we come across a person who restores our faith in righeousness, gives us a fresh grip on ourselves, reminding us that our labor is not vain with the Lord.

A number of years ago I heard my friend Mrs. Henry Hitt Crane of Detroit introduce a speaker with these words: "He is steadfastly old-fashioned in his convictions, superbly modern in his ideas, and startlingly ahead of his time in his ideals." Such a person is both truly progressive and truly conservative.

WE NEED COURAGE

When the crowd is against us, it takes more than mere self-reliance to give us the courage to be ourselves without becoming bitter or resentful. Think of Lincoln during those lonely watches in the White House when critics from both the North and the South were assailing him. His favorite scripture was the Thirty-seventh Psalm. Can we not almost see the anxiety lines in his face lessen as he reads:

"Fret not thyself because of evil doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity . . . Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass."

Furthermore, we need God not only to give us courage to be ourselves but also to give us the correct immage of ourselves. We are not always our real selves. Haven't we often heard the expression, "He wasn't himself this morning?"

We quote Shakespeare's words:

"To thine ownself be true,—
And it must follow as the night the day—Thou canst not then be false to any man."

We are prone to think that this is the complete formula for honest, straightforward living. But suppose those words had been spoken to Hamlet rather than to Laertes. Would the distressed Hamlet have known what being true to himself involved? No, Hamlet was beside himself. God bids us to be true to ourselves but He also helps us to see our true selves.

LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY

"That's not TV, stupid!
...that's our dinner!"

No . . . not TV . . . but a wide-screen view of an automatic electric oven making a successful production of dinner. And directing the whole show ... electricity, of course!

Automatic ovens, electric fry pans, deep fat fryers . . . these are just some of the new ways to cook both on and off the range. That's why up-to-date kitchens are electric kitchens.

You get more out of life—when you get the most out of electricity.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

Avoid That Drop Over a Cliff By Preparing for Retirement

By THOMAS COLLINS

People of retirement age keep coming up to Pension Day and dropping out of sight like a man who fell over a cliff. This is not necessarily bad. Some people had as soon get lost when they retire.

But since most of them don't really intend it this way, any man or woman past age 55 should begin manoevering to avoid the cliff.

Here, in a case history of a man who retired three weeks ago, is a step-by-step account of how he was pushed to the edge of the cliff and from there into oblivion.

The man was in a key job in his company. He made a better salary than most, had sent two children through college, and owned a home on the right side of the tracks.

"I came to my 64th birthday as if nothing were happening," he says. "I received a form note from the vice-president on my birthday and it congratulated me on completing — years for the company (over the dash was written in 27 years).

"I expected to be retired on my 65th birthday because it was the usual fate of employees. But two things kept alive the hope that I would be spared. . and to be honest about the matter I wanted to be spared because I didn't know what on God's green earth I was going to do with leisure.

HELD SOME HOPE

"One thing that gave me hope was the fact that other men of 65 had been made into special cases and kept on. The other was a sticky labor union situation in which nobody was quite sure whether the company would have to give me severance pay if it retired me. Severance pay in my case would have come to $6,800 and I figured this was big enough to give a vice-president pause . . ."

The man says that he went on about his business and then six months before his 65th birthday, he got another form note specifying his retirement date and inviting him to visit the personnel office to check up on what retirement benefits he would get.

"This didn't throw me because other men in the company had gotten the same note but had not been required to go at 65. So I got the works from personnel, and still went on with my business.

"Then the day came when I was three months away. My boss called me in, had a nice talk about how wonderful it was that I could now go to a good fish pond, to the southern beaches, and in the nicest possible manner to you-know-where.

"From that time on a younger man I never saw before began moving in on my job, asking questions the first week, questioning my answers the second week, and before the month was up, suggesting I didn't have to come down tomorrow.

"When my 65th birthday arrived, I had been displaced as neatly as a burned-out lamp bulb. There was not even anything I could argue about. It was done, accomplished, finished. I'd dropped over the cliff."

HAPPY IN VALLEY

This man tells his story without rancor. He's just as happy in the valley as he was on the cliff. He tells it because, as he puts it, "It is my observation that business has devised some cute psychological tricks to push 65-year-old men out, and if 65-year-old men could realize what is being done to them, they could write off their synthetic hopes that they can hang on and make some concrete plans for the days beyond 65."

This man, pushed into retirement off balance as most people are, had no spirit and no desire to pick himself up and try again . . .especially since his pension would supply the beef and potatoes he and his wife needed.

But still it's an awful waste of human resources — for which the individual himself must bear the blame — for a man who held a key job three months ago to become useless.

The moral of all this? Stop kidding yourself and stop letting your job kid you. If you have two ears and a nose and if you breathe, you are going to be retired when your number comes up. Get ready for it.

Carmel

CARMEL — All are thankful for the fine shower of rain during the night as many farms were in need of water and have been for some time.

Sunday School has been well attended and all church organizations report a successful year. The adult class, taught by Miss Ruth Brintnel, is enjoyed by all.

Mr. Charlie Brintnel celebrated a birthday on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dafoe of Foxboro and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Patterson spent a day in town during the past week with Mr. and Mrs. D. Williams and girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dafoe of Foxboro had dinner on Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Harry Dafoe, Judith and Susan, and grandmother, Mrs. Dafoe, at the same home.

Mr. Roland Wannamaker, who had been ill for some time, passed away. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. W. Wannamaker and uncle of Mrs. J. Homan and Clare, of Carmel.

Due to the weather being rough on Friday, not too many attended the World Day of Prayer at Cannifton.

Miss Bessie Hollinger and Mrs. Edith Gay spent Wednesday with Mrs. S. Dafoe, and were with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson in the evening. All called on Mr. David Hollinger and Mrs. Hollinger, of Marsh Hill. Mrs. Dafoe accompanied them.

Mrs. Ila Sayers of Peterborough spent Sunday with Miss Mildred Jones of Carmel.

Master Robin Allison contracted chickenpox during the past weekend.

6th Tyendinaga

6th TYENDINAGA — Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Denyes and children, Plainfield, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bates and Mrs. F. Treverton of Belleville, also Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Treverton and Clare had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Treverton and girls.

Mrs. Roy Boldrick had the misfortune to fall on the ice on Thursday evening, fracturing a bone in her ankle.

Mr. Lorne McKenzie spent the weekend in Ottawa and attended the funeral of his uncle, on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Glenn Elliott and girls of Moira, spent a couple of days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boldrick. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boldrick and boys of Belleville, were Sunday visitors at the same home.

Everett Gray of Roslin, spent Saturday evening at the Goodman home.

Mrs. Harold Treverton and girls spent Monday with her mother, Mrs. C. Parks, Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Treverton called on Mr. and Mrs. G. Kerr, Saturday evening.

Several from this line attended the oyster supper in Plainfield Hall, on Saturday night sponsored by the L.O.L.

Mrs. Charlie Treverton called on Mrs. Arnold Dilts on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Percy Lancaster spent a couple of days last week with his daughter, Mrs. Fred Wannamaker, Mr. Wannamaker an children, of Plainfield.

Several from this line attended the Farmer's Union banquet at Carmel Hall on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dilts spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Treverton.

Mrs. Lorne McKenzie spent Friday evening with Mrs. P. Lancaster.

Oct. Conservation Parley Will Consider 2 Problems Affecting Canadian Wildlife

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — How serious for the North American duck hatch is the drainage of Prairie potholes?

How extensive is a trend that indicates shooting opportunities are being reduced for large areas of population?

These are two questions expected to receive full discussion and study at the Resources for Tomorrow conservation conference in Montreal next October.

The conference on renewable resources, sponsored by the federal and provincial governments, will provide the most comprehensive study yet of Canadian wildlife, tied in with recreation and other aspects of the multiple uses of land.

Three of nine fisheries working papers, being prepared by experts for study prior to the conference, will touch on wildlife problems. There will be 10 on wildlife.

In all, the conference Oct. 23 to 28 will have about 85 papers to work with.

IS MORE DRAINAGE

The conference objective is to point up the integration of water, soil, forest, wildlife, fish and air. Biologist David Munro of the Canadian Wildlife Service and research co-ordinator for fisheries and wildlife, spoke in an interview of two problems.

First, the Prairie duck hatch provides shooting opportunities for about 70 per cent of the North American population, he said. This hatch depends on the Prairie pothole in substantial measure.

But drainage of such potholes had increased in the years 1955 to 1959, sometimes with the assistance of various agricultural agencies, to provide more land for farmers. This didn't affect Prairie shooting since hunters could still take their bags on stubble land but it reduced the over-all duck population.

LESS PUBLIC SPACE

Second, there is less opportunity for shooting in some areas. Mr. Munro cited Vancouver and Montreal as examples. Development projects or establishment of private hunting areas had reduced places for public shooting. In Montreal the St. Lawrence Seaway had had this effect.

On the credit side, creation by the Seaway of Lake St. Lawrence upstream from Cornwall, Ont., had led to a potential new shooting zone for the public.

Titles of the various papers for the Montreal conference give some insight into the range of planned deliberations. In wildlife alone there are these:

Wildlife in perspective, a comprehensive review; wildlife as a recreational resource in the Atlantic provinces; legislative and administrative limitations on wildlife management; emerging problems in wildlife management; organization of wildlife research; problems of migratory waterfowl; the impact of the growing use of pesticides on wildlife.

The first of the 85 working papers now being prepared are expected to be available in about two months.

2nd Sidney

2nd SIDNEY — Mrs. Harold Dickens was pleasantly surprised on Saturday when several of the neighbors spent the evening with them on the eve of Mrs. Dickens' birthday.

Mrs. Alva Meyers was a caller of Mrs. Arden Gilchrist and little daughter Wendy Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holmes were supper guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Curtis on Sunday evening.

Marcia Bowers was hostess to 30 girls (her cousins and friends) on Sunday on the occasion of her 9th birthday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bowers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Flett and Candice of Peterborough, were callers of an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dunn of R.R. 2, Belleville, had dinner and spent the afternoon with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Meyers and Arnold on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lohnes, Gail and Paul, spent the supper hour and evening with Mrs. Lohnes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Curtis on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clement spent Sunday evening at Marmora visiting with a sister, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Eaton.

Mrs. Alva Meyers was a caller on Mrs. Sarah Acker and Mrs. Reid on Tuesday afternoon.

Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN—Mr. and Mrs. Mac Nobes of Centenary spent a recent Sunday with Mr and Mrs. William S. Harry and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hale, of Etobicoke, spent the weekend with his sister and wife Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clapp and family.

Canadian Troops in Congo Griping About Retroactive Date for Special Allowance

By PETER BUCKLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LEOPOLDVILLE (CP) — If the last word has been said about special allowances for Canada's troops in The Congo, it's not printable.

The defence department announced that more than 300 members of the Canadian army and air force serving with the United Nations in The Congo will receive $100 a month as a special allowance.

It will go to all ranks but is retroactive only to last Dec. 1. When the announcement came to Leopoldville and the six other Congolese centres where Canadians are stationed, there were outraged roars from those who came to The Congo before the retroactive date.

One signalman who has been here since the first Canadians arrived in mid - August protested: "I'm being cheated of $350. How can they do this to us?"

LAUNCHED APPEAL

But the last word may not have been heard. Col. P. D. Smith of Edmonton, officer commanding 57 Canadian Signals Unit, has appealed for reconsideration.

(In Ottawa it was reported the appeal is being considered by the army, after which it will go to the prime minister's office and then on the the treasury board which will have the final say.)

There was general agreement among the troops that the $100 allowance was as much as could be expected. Canadian troops serving with the UN in the Middle East — where prices are lower, working conditions less tense and the climate more agreeable — get a $30 monthly allowance.

The $100 special allowance is over and above both the regular pay a soldier receives and overseas allowances which range from $9 a month for corporals or lower to $27 a month for colonels. In addition, the United Nations pays a basic 65 Congolese francs ($1.30) a day to every member of a foreign contingent.

OFFSET EXTRA COSTS

The allowances are meant to reimburse the troops for the inconvenience and extra costs involved in a posting such as The Congo.

The No. 1 gripe about the special allowance is the retroactive date.

"I'm sure I'll never understand the reasoning behind it," said one officer. "The men who came here in August should get special consideration. They worked for up to 18 hours a day stringing lines and setting up the UN's communications system — all in the most appelling conditions.

"But instead, they're getting a kick in the pants. There are some men who arrived in August, worked themselves to death and left in December or earlier for compassionate or other reasons. What do they get for all their sweat?"

In time - honored tradition, some of the Canadians dashed off letters of protest home or vented their ire in anything from bitter verse to well - considered lists of grievances which circulated through the Canadian headquarters and barracks.

CIVILIANS GET MORE

The question of pay has been roubling the Canadians for nonths as the federal cabinet onsidered suggestions for speial allowances. Originally, senior officers here recommended an allowance of $150 monthly although few expected anything hat high.

Conversation was salted with omments about "'the $20-a-day oys downtown."

Civilian and military personnel working at UN headquarters and at some other jobs are paid $20 a day if they have to provide their own lodging and food, $12 daily if their lodging s paid by the UN.

Several Canadian officers serving in various capacities for he UN are among those getting hese allowances. Their appearance at Canadian headquarters —where the UN pay is 65 francs a day — invariable brings jokes or jeers.

Most bitter of all are the Canadians leaving shortly for home after six months or more n The Congo. Instead of the amounts they had expected and talked about in endless '"bull" sessions, they found themselves with about $250 in their paycks.

EDS BUY PROTECTION

TORONTO (CP)—A Canadian oduct for the protection of the terior of buildings has attracted Russian interest and resulted in an order from Moscow. The product's trademark name is Petonite, distributed by Canadian Everguard Coatings, Toronto. Dr. Austin the firm's president, describes Betonite as a virtually indestructible, permanent coating, of a plastic nature.

Bald Tires Create Winter Driving Hazard

By EUGENE B. MILMOE

Bald or badly worn tires are hazards at any time of year, but during winter they can be especially treacherous. It's not merely a matter of sufficient traction to keep the car moving. With smooth tires, skids, which might ordinarily be slight become violent slides which throw your car completely out of control. Equall dangerous is the inability to stop quickly. Under slippery road conditions, a car with bald ties — even when driven at low speeds — may continue to slide for two or three hundred feet after the brakes are applied.

Braking is another vital factor during the icy road season. Quick, gentle pedal pumping minimizes skidding dangers. However, failure to correct unequal braking (caused by incorrect adjustments, worn or otherwise defective linings) results in a pull toward one side and can bring on an abnormal tendency to skid each time the brakes are applied.

From J. B.: "Despite two carburetor and choke adjustments, my engine tends to flood. Could too much fuel pump pressure be to blame?"

(A) Possibly — but an excessively high carburetor float level is more common.

H. C. writes: "My engine has suddenly started to cough and splutter when I get up to speeds of 40 mph. I've been told this may be due to the carburetor accelerator pump."

(A) In this particular case, weak fuel pump pressure could be more likely.

K. M. asks: "If the average driver is like myself, he really doesn't know what his service station is charging him for. For example, on my winter changeover, I was billed for 2½ pints of lubricant for the rear axle, and that amount isn't needed, I am sure."

(A) You're wrong. This is the exact amount of lubricant specified for the rear axle housing of your car.

W. O'L.: "Last fall, my car overheated a few times, but I couldn't find the reason. A mechanic said that a defective windshield wiper was at fault, made some repairs and apparently cured the trouble. Does this sound reasonable, or should I expect overheating to begin again when the weather gets warmer?"

(A) An air leak in a wiper vacuum line will lean out the fuel mixture and thus can promote engine overheating.

$500,000 Loss In Hall Fire At Owen Sound

OWEN SOUND (CP) — Fire ruined the centre section of Owen Sound's 90-year-old city hall Friday, causing damage estimated at $500,000.

City council at an emergency meeting in the new Grey County Building arranged temporary accommodation for civic departments at the Owen Sound Agricultural Society's coliseum and the old Grey County Building, purchased by the city last year.

A check of the city hall vaults indicated records in them were intact. A workman who climbed the 90-foot clock tower atop the two-storey hall found the structure was safe.

The fire wiped out the city police station magistrates' section and city engineers' office in the hall, but two small wings on the north and south sides of the building were in reasonably good condition.

Cause of the fire has not been determined. It started in the basement.

The building was insured for $175,000 and contents for an undetermined amount.

Scouting activities

By CHRIS F. LEGGAT

CANNIFTON-CORBYVILLE

Fifty Cubs and Scouts were hosts to their fathers and guests at the Annual Boy Scout banquet held in the United Church hall on Wednesday, Feb. 22nd.

The ladies of the auxiliary had prepared a beautiful dinner, the tables were laden with good things to eat and tastefully decorated in true Scout manner. Mrs. G. S. Kerr was convener and with her assistants fully deserved the very nice vote of thanks tendered by Scout R. Thornton.

Chairman Fred Furmidge introduced the head table: Scoutmaster Stan Kerr, who gave a very humorous definition of a Cub; ADC Lillian Ashley brought greetings from the District Council; Patrol Leader Robert Kerr, ASM Fred Furmidge; Cubmaster Kay Putman and Mrs. Fred Furmidge, president of the auxiliary.

SM Stan Kerr introduced the speaker, Chris Leggat, who chose for his subject "Why Scouting Appeals to Boys." He briefly outlined how Scouting was born quite accidentally from the book "Scouting For Boys,' written by Lt.-Gen. Baden-Powell. B-P did not believe in making boys do things, but rather let them do what appeals to them, guided by leaders. Boys, he said, have a code of their own and we should not impose an adult code on them but edge them in the right direction. Scouting is fun, it started with boys, by boys, and is a wonderful system for the self-education of boys. Today there are 9,000,000 members in 141 countries. All colors and races embracing over fifty different faiths but with the same ideals in view. Peace for all nations, tolerance for all people, elimination of poverty and ignorance, in short to "Love Thy Neighbor.'

Secretary Allen Curlette thanked the speaker. The toast to the fathers was given by eight Cubs and Scouts, each one saying a humorous verse, unique but really sincere. Mr. F. Belstadt responded. We should have this gentleman for our speaker. He lived in South Africa and even in this short speech he was very interesting.

BADGES

Second year stars were presented to D. Pound, L. Adams, R. Coxon, D. Curlette, E. Emerson, G. Luffman, J. Luffman, J. Shorey.

Third year: R. Armstrong, R. Putman, L. Sullivan. Fourth year to J. Pound, R. Thornton. Sixth year to J. Stewart. Eighth year to R. Kerr. Ninth year to F. Furmidge, G. S. Kerr.

Tenderfoot badges to A. Belstadt, D. McKay, D. Putman, J. Reynolds, D. Thornton. These boys also received Scout lapel pins. Cub John Reynolds presented a Wolf-head to Akela Kay Putman for the pack. John worked for the money to purchase this Wolf-head. We like reporting gifts of this nature and congratulate Cub Reynolds.

Guests were very fortunate. The place cards were small tents surmounted with five miniature flags, they make a particularly nice souvenir of a very wonderful evening.

ST. MARGARET'S

St. Margaret's-on-the-Hill are now sponsors of a Scout group. The new group committee is as follows: Chairman, Doug Fort; vice-chairman, Stuart Dixon; secretary, Charles Cooke; treasurer, John Hunter; padre, Rev. L. A. Page. We hope to have more reports on this group soon.

SCOUTERS' NIGHT

The annual get-together for Scouters and committee men will take the form of a banquet and dance on April 10th at Club Canara.

We would like you to get your tickets through your group chairman. Since this is planned to be a rather big affair we would like to know how many will be there by middle of March.

For information please contact Mr. W. O. Walters.

4th KIWANIS

Akela Don Harvey reports enorllments have increased to 14 boys since the Cub Pack was reactivated Feb. 15. He said he is amazed at the enthusiasm the boys have shown and is well pleased with their high spirits and sterling conduct. Of the 14 boys in the pack only three are Cubs—and those three must "go up "to Scouts very soon, he said.

BAILIFF FINED

SARNIA (CP) — Francis Edward Taylor, 35, a Chatham bailiff, was fined $10 and $39 costs Friday for carrying on divorce investigation without a licence under the Private Investigators Act. Taylor told Magistrate J. C. Dunlap he received $75 from Mrs. Claudette LeMarsh, a fellow employee at Eric Colbert law firm. Magistrate Dunlap said Taylor was acting for Mrs. LeMarch and not for the law firm.

Bayside Guides, Brownies Get Bars, Badges

The Bayside Guides and Brownies, their leaders and parents held an impressive evening in the school recently.

The Tweenies and Brownies are under the leadership of Brown Owl Jean Millar and Tawny Owls Peggy Cotton, Betty Fulton and Mrs. Howe.

The Tweenies enrolled into Brownies were: Susanne Pitt, Dianne Vieau, Linda Wrightmeyer, Becky Fell, Rose Marie Fulton and Kathy Barr.

Cindy Jones, Rosemary Caves, Debbie Glydon received their one-year star badges. These badges were presented to the Brownies by the District Commissioner, Mrs. Mary Caves.

The Brownies who hopped up into Guides were: Betty Chalmers, Marguerite Fulton, Cindy Jones, Rosemary Caves and Debbie Glydon.

The Guides are under the leadership of Captain Marguerite Glydon and Lieutenant Sylvia Millar.

The Guides receiving their first year badges were: Vickie Glydon, Susan Veitch, Joanne Vieau, Linda Howe, Susie Vieau, Sharon McAllister, Sheila Caves, Susan Johnson, Yvonne Latham, Peggy Ackerman, Patsy Genereaux, Carol Brodie, Cathy Dale, Gale Little, Suzanne Millar and Sylvia Millar.

The Guides acted as hostess for the evening and were tested for their hostess' badges. These leaders are to be commended for the fine way in which they are training the girls.

Will Convert Waiting Room At Hospital

Conversion of the main waiting room on the first floor of the Belleville General Hospital for short-time patient accommodation for the admission of tonsillectomies and squint surgical cases is to get underway in the near future.

The plan would be to use the waiting room for young patients who would be admitted in the evening for surgery and discharged the following day.

If patients could not be discharged within 24 hours they could be transferred to the regular paediatric accommodation.

The move to use the main waiting room for patient accommodation was recommended to the hospital board by the medical staff. The move will cut down the long waiting list of more than 200 young children scheduled for tonsillectomies.

Following the conversion of the main waiting room, visitors to the hospital will be required to use the outpatients' waiting room on the ground floor of the hospital.

In another move to provide just a bit more patient accommodation for the over-crowded hospital, a nurses' station currently used as a storeroom will be turned into a private hospital room.

Red-Sponsored Peace Rally Embarrassing Mexican Govt.

By JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Communist - sponsored world peace conference scheduled to begin in Mexico City March 5 is embarrassing the Mexican government, according to diplomatic observers.

Former president Lazaro Cardenas, holder of a Stalin Peace Prize and a traveller behind the Iron Curtain, disclosed plans for the conclave last December.

Cardenas' announcement came after a lengthy huddle with leftists from other Latin American countries.

Cardenas declined to give details of the purpose of the conference but said the Council for World Peace planned to ask the Mexican government for permanent headquarters here.

Foreign diplomats speculated that the request might be another pressure tactic directed at the regime of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. Mexican refusal to have the headquarters would furnish new fuel for Communist propaganda fires. If permission is granted, the Communist foothold next door to the United States will be strengthened.

"It makes one point very clear," a Western embassy official said. "The Communists are not letting up in their drive to put Mexico into the Moscow-Peking-Havana orbit."

Government officials have made no comment.

CASTRO HITS HARD

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro is flooding Mexico with pro-Communist propaganda. Anti-Castro Clubs here claim Mexico is now the No. 1 Communist target in Latin America.

Joining Cardenas' unrelenting push to the left, former president Emilio Portes Gil recently returned from a trip to the Orient and said it is too late to stop the spread of communism.

Portes Gil said every American country should establish relations with Red China. He reported that ships of all other nations are now seen in China's ports.

The peace conference is expected to play on the theme that Latin America's poverty-stricken masses have more in common with communism's struggling workers than with their well-fed cousins to the north.

White Cane Club Holds Business Meet

The February business meeting of the White Cane Club was held at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday, with 33 members and escorts present.

President, Mildred Rushlow, welcomed everyone.

The correspondence was dealt with

Mr. Dick Philbin and Mildred Rushlow were chosen as delegates to attend the C.C.B. conference to be held in May.

The birthday song was sung to two members and a rose presented to each one. Mrs. Waite held a discussion on "games" with the members, for recreation night.

CADETTES SERVICE

Pat Baverstock announced that the St. John Ambulance Cadettes offer their services at all times to assist the blind in shopping, walking, riding or in any way possible.

Mrs. Rollins drew the club's attention to the fact that 20 years ago, the canteen for the blind at the hospital was opened with Miss Doris Thrasher in charge. Many changes have taken place since then. Mrs. Meryl Lowe and Miss Mary Kuchma are now in charge.

A description of the summer camp which is being built for the blind at Lake St. Joseph near Parry Sound was given.

This was followed by a beautiful reading about a young Japanese boy who was blinded by an explosion in a boat; his trials and tribulations and his desire to commit suicide. At last he found his Master and he began to live a normal, good life. He learned braille and became a minister. After marriage he opened a broom factory to assist other handicapped in Japan.

Refreshments served by the Kinettes were enjoyed.

Pat Baverstock thanked the ladies.

SUPPORT DAG

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Australia's Prime Minister Robert Menzies Friday joined in pledging support to United Nations Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold's efforts to bring peace to The Congo. The pledge came in a joint communique issued after a two - hour meeting at the White House.

Lost Husband, Load of Silver But Better Off

Acquitted of stealing $7,600 from husband Henry Rickard of Fredericton, Mrs. Rickard, 40, said Friday:

"I guess I have lost a husband and a load of silver. But I think I'm better off."

Magistrate Lloyd B. Smith freed her of the theft charge at Fredericton Wednesday, and Friday she was back in her original Canadian home of Toronto, where she had settled on coming from Germany four years ago.

Restaurateur Rickard—known as the purveyor of the best moose steaks in the Maritimes—had charged her with stealing money which he claimed to have given her to put in the bank before their marriage here last November.

She said in an interview the money came out of pails buried under a heap of rubbish in the Rickard cellar and cached about the bedroom of the Fredericton home.

She said Rickard, 57, had met her in Toronto last fall in the jewelry store where she worked, invited her to Fredericton and loaded her with small change—after two days of courting—as a pre-marriage gift, which she carried back to Toronto on her lap in a cardboard box aboard a plane.

She said they counted up to $8,000 in the bedroom with more to go, when Rickard gave her $4,500.

They didn't get past $8,000, she said, for this reason:

"I couldn't count because he'd try to kiss me.

"Then he'd take the silver, throw it in the air, and say: 'This is for you, baby.'

"Once we nearly got to the end but Henry didn't think the total was right and we started over."

Mrs. Rickard said she didn't get the $7,600 which her husband alleged she stole, but $4,500, which she kept.

Would she give it back?

"No," she replied.

Australia's Northern Territory covers an area of 523,620 square miles and has a population of about 22,000.

High School Activities

QUINTE SECONDARY

Karen Flindall, Bob Campbell

Quinte Secondary School is proud of its presentation of The Boyfriend. There was a full house each night for the gay musical production of the 20's. All those concerned with it, make-up crew, stage crew, directors, orchestra and most especially the cast can be proud of their efforts. The acquiring of a new spotlight for the school is one reward for the efforts.

On Wednesday our students competed with others from Collins' Bay High School on "Canadian Question Bee," seen over CKWS-TV at 6.00. The subject for the questionnaire was "Provinces of Canada." Quinte's team, Al Rickard, Sherril Beeby and Geoffrey Cliffe-Phillips, put on a very good show and came out victorious. Next week B.C.I.V.S. will be competing against Moira Secondary School.

Also on Wednesday Quinte's three basketball teams played against Moira's bantams, juniors and seniors. Quinte returned with victories for the seniors, now in first place for C.O.S.S.A. if they defeat Napanee High School next week, and our juniors, tied for first place with B.C.I. The C.O.S.S.A. championships will take place at our school on March 4th and we are hoping our teams will come out on top to represent us there.

Wednesday night, our public speaking candidate for the Industrial Accident Prevention Association, Anna Judd, came in a close second in the semi-finals at Cobourg.

This Thursday the Keyette Club held its annual Gentleman's Day, the one day in the year when the boys are especially courtly to the girls. The day ended with a tea dance in the gym.

On Saturday the band, with Mr. Turcotte, travelled to Toronto to the Kiwanis Music Festival. The previous week they had presented the assembly with their program, and a report on the history of the Festival. Although our band didn't win honors in its particular class it was thought, by the other conductors present, to have made an excellent showing. This first entry in the Festival will provide good experience for future participation.

Quinte's King and Queen for 1961 were chosen and crowned on Wednesday. The positions are held by Wayne Waite of 12A and Lynne Brown of 12A. Following the crowning they were showered with gifts from several Belleville merchants.

Picture taking for the year's Quintessence reminds us that we are well into another year of school life and those Easter examinations seem to have arrived with extra suddeness. So, the work for the next few weeks will be concentrated on making the results here as successful as in all our endeavors.

SEEK DAMAGES

NEW YORK (AP)—Two stockholders sought Friday to saddle management with any losses suffered by General Electric Company and Westinghouse Electric Corporation as a result of recent anti - trust action against the firms. The stockholders filed federal court suits asking that directors, officials and executives be held personally responsible to the corporations for any such losses.

Branson Hospital To Be Aided by Local Adventists

Local members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church will shortly be making a donation to the North York Branson Hospital, which is planning a $2,500,000, 240-bed addition to the present 163-bed structure.

One of several hospitals operated by the church in North America, it is an extremely busy one averaging close to 40 emergency calls daily, many from auto accidents on nearby 401 and 11 highways. The new addition is to feature a 20-bed, fully equipped psychiatric ward and an operating theatre featuring closed circuit television for medical students.

Presently there are 116 doctors on the hospital staff, several of whom are members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Local members made contributions to the original hospital, which was opened in July of 1957.

Jury Convicts Nelson Langlois, To Hang June 16

SHERBROOKE (CP) — Nelson Langlois, 46, is to hang June 16 for the murder of Ovila Martin, 63, and Eugene Dupuis, 67.

Langlois was convicted Friday by a jury of nine men and three women after a deliberation of about one hour.

Courtroom witnesses said Langlois appeared to chuckle as the death sentence was handed down.

The bodies of the two men were found in their cabin in a community of hunting and fishing lodges at nearby Brompton Lake last Oct. 2. They had been shot with a revolver.

The defence did not call any witnesses during the trial.

Thursday, Jean-Claude Audet testified he had heard Langlois threaten "to smash in Ovila Martin's face" after he was told Martin was spreading a story that Langlois had set fire to a neighbor's trailer.

Jean - Guy Grondin corroborated Audet's testimony and said Langlois acted strangely at times.

The threat was made the night before the shootings, he said.

Henri Langlois, the convicted man's brother, testified that Nelson's wife brought her two children to his house at 5:30 a.m. Oct. 2.

He said he thought this strange and at dawn went to Langlois' home. Not finding him there, he went to Martin and Dupuis' cottage and found their bodies.

REMAND THREE

STRATFORD (CP) — Three men charged during a strike at the Reliance - Reeves - Master plant were remanded Friday to March 7. Michael Bendik, assistant plant superintendent, pleaded not guilty to an assault charge laid by Roy Sharples, Union organizer. Sharples was charged with creating a disturbance. Keith Rayme a union member, was remanded on a charge of doing wilful damage to a car owned by Mrs. Bendik.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Dazzy "Ole Daz" Vance was to the Brooklyn Dodgers before they went high-hat and joined the Los Angeles cavair-and-mink set. what his counterpart "Ole Diz" Dean was to the famous St. Louis Gashouse Gang.

Baseball mourned one of its most colorful hurlers the other day when Ole Dazzy passed on. And his passing recalled many of the yarns pertaining to Dazzy, but more of the stories he told himself.

For the big 245-pound huge-framed Dodger was a master recontetur. And part of his charm lay in his quaint philosophy and a slow midwestern drawl. He had an endless supply of dry humor.

A few years back Dazzy was a special guest at the Sports Celebrities dinner in Toronto and he had the slaves of the press, radio and television in stitches as he unfolded in slow verbal motion many stories of his colorful career.

He was a star of the Dodgers when the "Bums" were in their heyday of wackiness. He was a Dodger that spring the "Bums" travelled north with the Yankees on an exhibition tour and lost every game from Florida to Flatbush.

The Great Bambino never forgot that trip. "Every day," moaned Ruth years later, "we knocked their ears off on the field. Every night they took all our dough playing poker."

There was the time Vance came up to see an all-star game in Cincinnatil. He had been ill and his once-huge frame had shrunk from 245 to a mere 170.

"I must apologize for my appearance," drawled Dazzy. "But you see I cannot buy a new suit until I'm certain this new figure I've got is permanent."

There was the day in St. Louis when Vance, never much of a hitter, shut out the Cardinals and presto. got himself three singles off Wee Willie Sherdel.

After the game Vance drawled: "Y'know I kinda felt sorry for Willie this afternoon. He hadn't the faintest suspicion I was a slow-ball hitter, but I found that out years ago on our farm in Nebraska.

"We were plagued with rats, so we got a ferret and stuck him down a hole. At another hole they told me to stand with a bat. Out streaked a rat. I swung and missed. Out came another. Again I missed. Musta missed fifty. Then came one fellow nice and slow and started looking around. I swung and flattened him out. Unfortunately that was the ferret. From that moment I knew I was a natural slow-ball hitter."

Dazzy recalled that in his day the oldtimers weren't too fussy about teaching rookies too much. "Old Sherry MaGee, a great player in his day was teachin' us bright youngsters how to bunt. He went to bat himself to illustrate his point.

"The pitcher was Duster Mails. His first three pitches went wild and Magee said 'See that? Now I've got him in a hole. What's he going to do next?'

"Well, the next thing he did was to cut one loose that cracked Sherry on the noggin' and knocked him cold. We carried him into the clubhouse and I laid him on a table. As he came to, a white-faced Duster asked 'How are you?'

"Well," chuckled Dazzy, "if that clubhouse is still standing you'll see imbedded in the wall a dent two inches deep. That's where a fungo stick wound up after missing the Duster's head by inches. So you see there may be good reason why old fellows don't care risking their lives teaching the young ones anything."

Wings, Royals Play 1-1 Tie

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hamilton Red Wings and Guelph Royals played to a 1-1 tie and the game ended in a scrap—all over Eddie Bush's hat.

Niagara Falls Flyers scored all their goals in the first six minutes and rolled on to a 3-1 victory over Peterborough Petes.

The results left the Flyers a little closer to a permanent hold on third place in the Ontario Hockey Association junior A series. At 49 points they have a four-point edge on the Wings. Each team has three games left in the schedule and two Niagara Falls victories or a pair of Hamilton losses would settle it.

Bush, the Royals' coach of six years' standing, lost his hat when someone in the sellout Guelph crowd of 4,200 grabbed it from his head and tossed it on the ice with a few seconds left in the game.

Bush swung a haymaker at the offender and his players rushed to his aid. Police restored order and gave Bush—still hatless—an escort from the rink.

GILBERT SCORED

The league - leading Royals, whose margin over St. Michael's College Majors now is eight points, got their goal from scoring ace Rod Gilbert in the first peridd. Neil Forth tied it up three minutes later. The see-saw game saw the Wings get 37 shots on goal, Guelph 36.

Ed Westfall, Howie Dietrich and Marcel Tessier provided the first-period scoring punch at Niagara Falls. Goalie Marv Rutledge had his shutout spolled by Chuck Larose late in the second period.

Bisons Buy Barry Cullen

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) —Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League purchased Brian Cullen from New York Rangers of the National Hockey League Friday night for the $20,000 waiver price.

Cullen, 27, began his pro career with Buffalo in the 1951-52 and the 1952-53 seasons. The next year he played with both the old Pittsburgh team of the AHL and with Toronto Maple Leafs. In 1955-56, he played with Toronto and with Winnipeg of the Western Hockey League.

Cullen played with Rochester of the AHL and with Toronto during the 1956-57 season, and during the next two seasons he played full time with the Maple Leafs. He was traded to New York for the 1959-60 season, making this his second year with the Rangers.

Quinte And Orillia In Curling Finals

Met For Title This Morning

OTTAWA (CP) — Belleville and Orillia were to meet today for the right to represent Ontario in the men's Canadian curling championships at Calgary next month.

Orillia, skipped by Tom Caldwell, ousted a Guelph rink of westerners Friday night with a 10-7 decision scored after an extra end of a playoff.

Donald MacDonald, young veterinary student from Regina, was light with his last rock to give Caldwell the victory in the first of two playoffs.

Orillia was to meet Belleville for the Ontario championship in more of the extra action required.

Three clubs wound up in a tie for first place—with five wins and two losses—after the eight competing teams had finished the round-robin championships.

Woodstock and Kingston had four wins and three losses, Toronto a three and four record and Hamilton and Owen Sound one win against six losses.

WINS IN EXTRA END

Caldwell won the first playoff Friday night by counting three rocks on the first extra end, the 13th. He was ahead 7-6 after 10 ends and blanked the 11th. His attempted take-out in the 12th end was heavy, leaving the score tied. But MacDonald. 22, shot his dreams of a place in the Canadian championship by throwing short on last rock in the 13th.

All his teammates were from Western Canada and, like him, students at the Ontario Agricultural school, Guelph.

In the seventh round, Jake Edwards' Kingston rink trimmed Guelph, 9-6, and Toronto's Joe Gurowka beat Woodstock's George Parkes 9-8.

Orillia's Caldwell defeated the Owen Sound rink skipped by Cliff Bleich 8-6 and Belleville, captained by Mac White, downed Hamiton's Stan Duvall 15-5.

The MacDonald - Edwards game was the highlight of the day's action.

The score was 8-6 coming home for Edwards and MacDonald had the last rock. Edwards had just shot one, inches from the button and MacDonald had one to its right. He attempted to take out the Edward's rock, but missed and the score climbed to 9-6 for Edwards' rink.

OTTAWA (Special) — "It was tougher watching the last end of the Macdonald-Edwards game than all the games I played", voiced Belleville skip, Mac White who had just been given a new life Friday in the Ontario Association Curling championships after the young Guelph skip had missed with his last stone to drop a 9-6 decision which created a three-way tie for the lead.

Macdonald's loss to Edwards coupled with wins by White and Tom Caldwell in the afternoon games created a jam at the top of the standings and forced two playoff games.

White drew the bye and met the winner of the MacDonald-Caldwell match this morning. The champions will travel to Calgary for the Dominion championships next month.

White, MacDonald and Caldwell finished the regulation seven rounds with five wins and two defeats apiece.

White could not help but remember the 4-3 defeat to George Parkes of Woodstock in the second round Wednesday night. A matter of an overswept stone by inches cost him a costly game. A win for White in that matcn would have sent the Belleville rink into undisputed possession of first place. The Belleville curlers, with a total of 12 years of experience, never gave up although they had to rely on the opposition to force a playoff.

White helped his own cause in the sixth round Friday morning when he defeated Caldwell 10-7 in a thriller. White came home leading 8-7 but did not have last stone. He placed his first in front of the Belleville shot rock for a guard. Caldwell tried to nudge the Belleville marker out and stay but was a shade heavy and moved the marker only inches. However, he hung on for second shot. White applied more pressure by freezing his last rock to the counter for two. Caldwell had to get by the guard for a cold draw but he was inches heavy again and yielding two.

White had no trouble in his afternoon match with a 15-5 victory over Stan Duvall of Hamilton. The young Belleville rink scored on eight of the 11 ends.

Horse Doped, Trainer Gets $500 Fine

MIAMI (AP) —Trainer H. J. (Jimmy) Pitt was fined $500 Friday and reprimanded by the Florida State Racing Commission for allowing a horse in his barn to be given a stimulant.

Pitt, who trained the late Ballyache, has a public stable of 30 horses at Sunshine Park near Tampa.

His assistant, Jack Gainer, and stable foreman Woodrow Biggerstaff were suspended for the remainder of the Sunshine Park meeting by the stewards and another 60 days by the racing commission.

William H. Carte, who cools off horses for Pitt after they race and stablehand Tom Jell Wade were ruled off the track for life. Carte testified he saw Wade inject a stimulant into the Mare Bel Centauer before a race Feb. 7. Wade denied the act. He arrived at the track just before the third race, in which Bel Centauer was entered.

Bel Centauer won the race, earning $600 and paying $4.20 for $2.

The commission permanently revoked the licence of jockey Clarence E. Roberts, for what it called "corrupt and fraudulent practices," Roberts had been riding at Sunshine Park but was not on Bel Centauer.

Heads Trot Association

TORONTO (CP) — Hugh Proudfoot of Fort Coulonge, Que., Friday was elected by acclamation for his third term as president of the Canadian Trotting Association.

Directors include:

Zone 3—Robert J. Polk, Kingston; B. H. Soper, Smiths Falls; John Thompson, South Mountain; Clare Smith, Ottawa.

Zone 4 — Dr. C. H. Heslop, Milton; Hon. Earl Rowe, Newton Robinson; Alex Parsons; London; H. A. Dickenson, Mount Hope.

Zone 5—James Brown, New Liskeard.

The association decided to cut zone grants to assist promotion of colt stakes by 50 per cent, to $12,250. Zone 5(Northern Ontario) gets the least at $250.

Lead Series 3-1

Macs Wallop Whitby 7-3

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Belleville McFarlands moved to within one game of the OHA Eastern Junior "B" finals here last night with their third consecutive victory over Whitby Hilcrests, a rousing 7-3 decision before the largest crowd to witness a junior game here in some time, 1,328 paying customers.

Billy McGuire

Fifth game of the set, led by the Macs 3-1 at this point, will be played in Whitby on Tuesday night, and if a sixth is necessary, it will be back here next Friday.

Belleville jumped into an early 2-0 lead last night and never looked back. The Macs were in front 3-0 at the end of the first and 4-0 after two periods. They made it 6-0 and Bill Moxon appeared to be on his way to a shutout until too many penalties paved the way for Whitby's three goals in less than five minutes.

Action was rugged throughout although the boys kept it clean until the second period. Gary Hull and Pat Asselstine tossed a number of good solid checks around in the game's early minutes and throughout for that matter, to shake the visitors up early.

Twenty of the game's 22 penalties came in the last 40 minutes, each club picking up 11. Ted Napiorkowski charged a Mac player into the end boards to break things open at 4.48 of the second. Fists and sticks were flying in the corner until the officials finally broke it up. Napiorkowski drew a minor, Tom Chasczewski a major and misconduct, Moe Hunter a major and Barry Titterson a misconduct out of that affair, Early in the third, Middleton of Whitby also drew a misconduct for unfriendly words with referee Art Casterton.

Billy McGuire came up with his top scoring performance of the season to lead all Belleville point-getters. McGuire triggered two goals and asisted on two others. Ronnie Hull contributed two more goals and an assist while Pug Kellar also scored twice and Moe Hunter bagged the other. Gary Goyer earned three assists, Don Forsythe and Titterson two each, Roger Smith, Pat Aselstine and Pete Weston one apiece.

Ken Roberts and Ted Nicholishen had one goal and two assists each for the Hillcrests. Lynn Middleton also scored and Gordie Luke drew two helpers.

McGuire's initial goal opened the scoring at 3.37. He flipped the puck into a gaping net after a defenceman had kicked out Smith's shot. Kellar made it 2-0 at 5.25 when he slid the disc low into the short corner, Forsythe and Weston assisting. This same line kept digging and Kellar finally put it in again at 18.26 when Whitby had difficulty clearing from their own zone.

Hull upped the lead to 4-0 after taking McGuire's pass at 4.18 of the middle heat. After that goal, Whitby appeared to be completely disorganized and the remaining action in the period was confined to penalties.

Hunter slipped Goyer's goalmouth pass home at 2.18 of the third and a little more than a minute later Hull grabbed a quick break in to make it 6-0.

Play continued rough and rugged until at 13.56, with one Mac off, Whitby broke the goose egg on Nicholson's low screened shot. The Macs were playing four men to five when Middleton got Whitby's second and finally, at 18.36, Roberts sank another screened shot with Belleville again shorthanded. That made it 6-3.

McGuire closed the game scoring for the Macs at 19.15, getting in alone to stickhandle the puck past Godridge.

The total shots-on-goal were announced as 37-31 for Whitby but it was certainly no indication of the play.

Show-Down Weekend In American

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This could be show - down weekend for four American Hockey League clubs seeking three playoff positions back of the pace-setting Springfield Indians.

Buffalo Bisons, holding second place by three points, and the third - place Cleveland Barons hook up in a home-and-home series. They'll be at Cleveland tonight and Buffalo Sunday.

Hershey Bears and Rochester Americans, tied for fourth spot two points back of Cleveland, will attempt to break their deadlock at Rochester Sunday.

Hershey and Rochester won big games Friday night. The Bears beat the Indians 6-3 at Springfield and the Americans defeated Buffalo 6-1 at Rochester.

John McKenzie scored three goals to lead Hershey. Jack McIntyre got two goals and Frank Mathers added the other one. Springfield scorers were Bob McCord, Bob Kabel and Bruce Cline.

The Americans' checking line of Wally Boyer, Gene Ubriaco and Alex Faulkner went on the attack and scored the first four goals against the Bisons. The loss ended the Bisons' winning streak at five. It was their second setback in 12 games.

Ubriaco and Boyer each scored twice and Faulkner once. Guy Rousseau and Dick Van Impe added a goal apiece. Phil Maloney accounted for the Bison goal.

Having Brilliant Season

Kelly Leafs Victory Pendulum

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Red Kelly's brilliant play appears to be swinging the tight National Hockey League championship race in Toronto Maple Leafs' favor.

The redhead, has a big advantage because he plays centre on a line with Frank Mahovlich.

When the opposition assigns a special man to check Big M— who is close to breaking retired Maurice Richard's record of 50 goals in one season—Kelly, 33, has more opportunity to roam around.

This was evident at Montreal Thursday night when the Leafs beat the Canadiens 4-2 to regain first place by two points. The Leafs now have 77 points and 10 games to play, the Canadiens 75 points and 11 games left.

Defensive specialist Glen Skov, called up from Hull-Ottawa of the Eastern Professional Hockey League, checked Mahovlich almost to a standstill. But Kelly was in alone on Candiens gialie Jacques Plante several times, scored twice and set up Bob Nevin's goal that gave the Leafs the victory.

Detroit plays in Toronto tonight and Toronto in Detroit Sunday. The Canadiens are at home to Chicago Black Hawks in tonight's only other action. In other games Sunday, the Habs are at New York, and Boston at Chicago.

Coach Toe Blake had warning for his Canadiens Friday.

"If our fellows can't get up any more for future games than they did Thursday, we won't even finish second," he said. The Habs now lead the third-place Black Hawks by 13 points.

The Montreal management spent some time reviewing motion pictures of Thursday's game.

Blake said he may have a lineup change tonight. Skov might be returned to his playing-coach duties at Hull-Ottawa. In that case, Cliff Pennington, also with Hull-Ottawa, would probably be called up.

Thursday's victory proved costly for the Maple Leafs as they lost the services of emergency goaler Gerry McNamara and captain George Armstrong through injuries.

McNamara, substituting for injured Johnny Bower, suffered a knee injury and will miss the weekend's games against Detroit. He'll be replaced by Cesare Maniago who has been minding the nets for Sudbury of the EPHL.

Armstrong suffered torn knee ligaments and will be out for the rest of the season. Leafs already had veteran left winger Bert Olmstead and centre Bobby Pulford on the injured list.

Vancouver Canucks get their chance to bounce into second-place tonight as they prepare for a home-stretch drive to retain the Western Hockey League championship.

But they'll have to do it without high-scoring Orland Kurtenbach, to leave today for New York Rangers of the National League.

Canucks beat Spokane Comets 6-2 Friday night while Edmonton Flyers defeated the first-place Portland Buckaroos 4-2. Victoria Cougars came from behind to tie Seattle Totems 3-3 in overtime.

Bill McNeill and Bob Solinger each scored twice for the Flyers at Edmonton, Eddie Dudych got both Buckaroo goals.

Defenceman Larry Chan and Ralph Keller each produced two goals for the Canucks at Vancouver. The others came from Larry Popein, Bruce Carmichael, Orland Kurtenbach and Ron Hutchinson. Steve Witiuk and Bev Bell handled the Seattle scoring.

World Hockey Tourney

Plays Under New System

By STEWART MacLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — J. F. (Bunny) Ahearne, European president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, doesn't expect many one-sided games at next month's world championships in Switzerland.

"There may be a few," he said in an interview, "but it shouldn't be anything like previous years when a top team like Canada ran wild over the weakest team in the tournament."

This year, under a new system, the strongest teams won't meet the weakest. They are being classified on the basis of past performance, and Ahearne figures "it's going to make a tremendous difference."

The previous system was for the teams to be divided into "pools," or groups, each headed by one of the strongest teams and each including some of the weakest. "Under that system," says Ahearne, "there was no way to avoid some fantastic scores."

The 1961 tournament officially begins Thursday, March 2 and runs through March 12.

THREE POOLS COMPETE

The new system will result in the 20 teams—the most ever taking part—being divided into three pools with only the eight teams in the first pool eligible to win the championship.

This pool includes the six teams to finish on top in the 1959 championships in Prague— Canada, Russia, Czechoslovakia, the United States, Sweden and Finland. The two remaining positions will be fought for, in preliminary matches, by West Germany and Switzerland and Norway and East Germany.

The losers of these two matches will go into the second pool where Italy and Poland are definite starters. The two remaining positions will be fought for between Britain and Belgium and Romania and Austria. The losers will go into the third pool with Yugoslavia, South Africa, France and Holland.

The two top teams in the second pool this year could move into the first pool next year, while two bottom ones in the first pool move back to the second. The same rule applies between the second and third pools.

The system operates in the same way as the relegation-promotion method in British soccer.

CAN WORK TO TOP

"This will give every team a chance to work up to the top," explains Ahearne, "and at the same time it will keep them more or less in their own class."

The West Germany - Switzerland match will be played March 1, the day before the tournament officially begins. All other preliminary rounds will be played the following day.

In the event of the championships ending in a draw, it will be settled by the tie-breaking formula used in previous years. The first method is goal difference—the excess of goals scored over goals conceded. If this fails to break the deadlock, the title will be decided on goal average, computed by dividing the number of goals scored by the number conceded.

But there is one change in this system over previous years. Only the goals scored in games between the six top teams will be counted in determining the goal difference or goal average.

Ahearne says this will prevent the top teams from "piling up goals at the expense of the two weaker teams in the pool—and anyway the issue will really be settled between the top six."

ALS SIGN CENTRE

MONTREAL (CP) —Montreal Alouettes Friday announced the signing of Harry Baldwin, a centre-linebacker from the University of California at Los Angeles, to a 1961 Big Four football contract. Baldwin, 23, is six feet, three inches, and weighs 190 pounds.

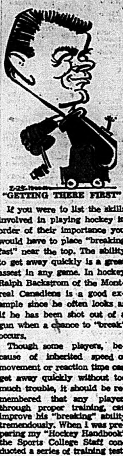
Hockey Hints

By Lloyd Percival



"GETTING THERE FIRST"

If you were to list the skills involved in playing hockey in order of their importance you would have to place "breaking fast" near the top. The ability to get away quickly is a great assest in any game. In hockey Ralph Backstrom of the Montreal Canadiens is a good example since he often looks as if he has been shot out of a gun when a chance to "break" occurs.

Though some players, because of inherited speed of movement or reaction time can get away quickly without too much trouble, it should be remembered that any player, through proper training, can improve his "breaking" ability tremendously. When I was preparing my "Hockey Handbook" the Sports College Staff conducted a series of training tests to see just how much "quick breaking" skill could be developed. Players were timed over 10 yards, going from a dead stop. In a matter of two weeks with a 15 minute training period per day a group of 11 players showed an average improvement in going the 10 yards of, believe it or not, 6-10 of a second! Some players took off as much as 9-10 of a second.

Improvement in this key skating skill can be developed by any player willing to spend a little time training his muscles and co-ordination, and learning the technique involved. A good drill is to use the 10 yds. distance, standing with feet comfortably apart, spread laterally, to start. Starts should always be made from a command, sometimes visual, sometimes audio. Have a pal stand behind you and clap his hands and you start at the sound. Do 5 or 6 of them and then have him stand in front of you and start you with a movement of his hand. This training develops all-round reaction time. For more hints get my bulletin "Red" Kelly, The Coach's Dream" by sending a stamped, self addressed envelope and 10c c-o this newspaper.

ASSIST TO KELLY

MONTREAL (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs centre Red Kelly has been credited with an assist on wingman Bob Nevin's much-disputed goal against Montreal Canadiens Thursday night, the National Hockey League announced Friday.

Burke Shares Golf Lead Will Palmer

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)— Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., pulled a miracle shot Friday to go into a tie with Jackie Burke Jr. in the second round of the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open.

Palmer, came in with a soggy five-under - par 65 among the late finishers to tie Burke for the 18-hole lead. On the 18th, Palmer plopped his second shot on the 490-yard, par-five hole into a 12-foot ditch with the ball perched on a mud bank.

With his stance cramped by the side of the ditch and the pin 90 feet away, Palmer fired a wedge shot to within six feet of the flag and the following putt was merely the icing.

Despite conditions—water was more than ankle-deep in many spots—par took a beating, with 22 players under the regulation 70.

Jerry Magee of Toronto had a 69 and Al Balding of Toronto a 71.

The field will be trimmed to the low 60 professional and amateurs after today's round.

Ranger Manager

Denies Blues 'Rebellion'

NEW YORK (CP) — General manager Muzz Patrick Friday night denied published reports that New York Ranger players "almost to a man," rebelled over the retention of Alf Pike as coach for next season.

The New York Journal-American said that the players "speaking anonymously to avoid front office reprisals" criticized Pike's "inability to command respect as a leader or as a strategist."

"They blamed him, more than anyone else, for the current fifth - place farce," the newspaper said.

At a hockey writers' luncheon last Wednesday, retired Admiral John J. Bergen, the Rangers' president, announced that both Patrick and Pike would continue in their present positions with the National Hockey League club next season.

Friday reports of the "rebellion" followed. Patrick, reached at his home in Riverside, Conn., said he would hardly call the players' gripes and complaints a rebellion.

The Rangers trail fourth-place Detroit by nine points with 11 games left to play.

Patrick, in supporting Pike, said:

"I would hardly call their gripes and complaints a rebellion. It is true that I held an hour meeting with the players yesterday. . . .

"I read the players the (Journal-American) news story, word for word . . . Most of them became angry. So much so that right now I think they are mad enough to beat their way into a playoff berth.

"In that respect the story might have done the club more good than harm. I'll not deny that one or two of the boys did come to me following the meeting and said that they had criticized Pike.

"But that's the way hockey players are. If they haven't been playing too well and got a bawling out for it, they don't blame themselves. They look around for a scapegoat. In this case Pike became the scapegoat. . .

"Alf is a good coach. He thinks the team can make the playoffs and so do I. So do the players—more so now than before."

Quebec Upsets Alberta

BC Wins Schoolboy Crown

By BOB TRIMBEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) British Columbia has captured its first Canadian curling crown.

Jerry Caughlin, 18-year - old skip from Oliver, consistently came up with the big plays to guide his rink to the 1961 high school curling championship Friday.

Caughlin finished the round-robin tournament with nine victories and one defeat. The deciding victory came in the final draw when Caughlin whipped Ontario's Rob Bobbie from Kitchener-Waterloo 11-4.

Defending champion Alberta, which entered the final draw of the 11 - round event tied with B.C. at 8-1, was upset 8-6 by Quebec. Some questionable strategy by skip Johnny Williams of Edmonton allowed Arvida's Andy Hrycko to overcome a two-point barrier coming home and count four.

Williams and Caughlin had been expected to force a sudden-death playoff and the draw committee had rearranged the schedule to allow for such a duel.

Caughlin, third David Jones, 18 second Jack Cox, 18, and lead Mike Shippett, 16, sat on the sidelines watching the last end of the Alberta - Quebec match.

When Hrycko went in with a take-out rock and cut out the only Alberta stone in the house to count four, the B.C. team members jumped to their feet and cheered.

The Alberta loss ended a two-year reign for the province.

A 6-5 loss to Saskatchewan in the sixth round put the B.C. champions behind the eight ball. In the next two rounds they met Alberta and Manitoba, both rated above the B.C. rink, and beat them.

The final standings showed B.C. on top with a 9-1 record. Alberta was next at 8-2, followed by Manitoba and Saskatchewan at 7-3 and Quebec at 6-4. Northern Ontario and New Brunswick were 5-5, Nova Scotia 4-6, Ontario 2-8 and P.E.I. and Newfoundland 1-9.

Canadian Badminton

U.S. Has Stranglehold

TORONTO (CP)—The United States badminton aces from California had too much class and power for Canada's representatives Friday night and American victory appeared certain in today's remaining matches of the Thomas Cup North American zone final.

After four victories in as many matches, the Americans need but one more in the remaining five of the best-of-nine series of five singles and four doubles.

Bert Furgus of Vancouver has the first chance to start a Canadian rally, meeting Manuel Armendariz of Glendale in the opening match of today's program starting at the Carlton Club.

Only Wayne McDonnell of Vancouver was able to extend his American opponent Friday night.

He took the first game from Bill Berry of San Diego, 32 and a sturdy six-footer, before losing 12-15, 15-10, 15-4.

Jim Poole of San Diego overpowered Jim Carnwath of Toronto 15-10, 15-0 in the other singles match.

WON DOUBLES EASILY

In the doubles, the top-ranked American pair of Wynn Rogers of Arcadia and Joey Alston of Pasadenia easily topped Fergus and Bev Westcott of Toronto 15-4, 15-5.

Poole and Armendariz swamped the Toronto pair of Terb Kirkconnell and Jack Martin 15-1, 15-11.

The finals for the cup, emblematic of world badminton supremacy, will be held in Indonesia in March.

Maniago To Play For Leafs

SUDBURY (CP)—Goalie Cesare Maniago was called up by the parent Toronto Maple Leafs Friday and that night he showed the reason why.

Maniago blanked Montreal Royals 4-0 as Sudbury Wolves moved to within four points of fourth-place Kingston Frontenacs in the battle for a playoff berth in the Eastern Professional Hockey League.

The Sudbury goalie turned aside 17 shots to post his first shutout in four games since relieving Gerry McNamara who was called up to Leafs to replace injured Johnny Bower. McNamara later was hurt himself.

The Wolves fired 34 shots at Claude Pronovost in one of their top efforts of the season. Three members of one line, Sam Bettio, Jack Martin and Keke Mortson, and Ken Girard, scored the Sudbury goals. For Girard it was his 20th of the season.

Quinte COSSA Basketball

By PETER CARVER

Moira Secondary School won the Bay of Quinte District COSSA Bantam Basketball championship by handing BCI a 34-17 defeat up to this game BCI and MSS had been tied.

The BCI seniors trounced Moira 72-37 giving them a second-place with Picton, forcing a sudden death play-off game. The Moira Junior squad took a close 39-32 making a three way tie for first place in the Junior division. A round-robin series between the BCI, Moira and Quinte junior squads was played this afternoon at QSS.

BANTAM

BCI started off with a bang as their spirited checking moved them into a 9-1 lead at quarter-time. BCI's Murray Swan fouled out in the second quarter. This was Moire's big break and they capitalized on BCI's weakness down the middle to capture a fairly easy win.

Bob Skinner and Ron Faulkner with 14 and 9 points respectively were the best for Moira. Swan and Jack Thomson each collected 5 points apiece in the losing cause.

LINEUPS

Moira: Faulkner (9) Skinner (14) Cook (2) Fraser (2) Rawlyck (8) Bailey, Smith, Glen, Ritchie, Leppan.

BCIVS. Anderson (1), Thomson (5) , Swan (5), Carver, Athey (3) White, Dolan, Hurst, Mott (1) Williams, Morton, MacCormack.

JUNIOR GAME

BCI's fast break choked in the first quarter as they held a 16-8 edge at quarter-time. Moira came back as their sharp foul shooting and rebounding helped them outscore BCI 19-5.

Both teams fought out a very fast third quarter on even terms as the score read 25-25 at the end of the third quarter. This set the stage for a thrilling final quarter. Moira scored three quick field goals in a row and never looked back. Their sharp shooting and rebounding seemed a little too much for the BCI squad.

Dave Glen and Rob Blaker were the main cogs in the Moira victory scoring 16 and 10 points consectively. Jim Muir played well in the losing cause scoring 15 points.

LINEUPS

MSS: Allenby (3) Blaker (10), Glen (16) Lang, McMartin, Skinner (4), Stephenson (6), Taylor, Uens.

BCIVS: Adams (5), Blakely (4), Burr (6), Purdy, Deacon (2), Muir (15) Rose, Soule, Follwell, Yorke, McKibbon, Williams.

SENIOR GAME

The first quarter was fairly evenly contested with BCIVS holding a slim 18-14 lead. The winners really broke out in the second quarter as their superior shooting and defensive play enabled them to score 28 points to Moira's 14. BCI kept plugging on with some tremendous set shooting and rebounding to dunk in 26 points compared to Moira's 11.

Top man for BCI was Pete Annis with 20 points while Brian McKenzie had 15.

Skinner and Gary Goyer collected 12 and 10 points for the losers.

Lineups:

MSS: Skinner 12, Goyer 10, McMartin 5, Rathwell 3, McMartin, Bowerman 3, Peoples 6, Banting, Jamieson.

BCI: Annis 20, Banting 9, Parker 3, Weston 4, Regensburg 4, McKenzie 15, Campbell 11, Roberts 2, MacFarlane 2, MacDonald 2, Davis.

James Garner, formerly of TV's Maverick, entered show business with a job giving cues in the play The Caine Mutiny Court Martial.

by JOHN WETTLAUFER

The TV set has definitely established itself in the family circle, but its location in the living room sometimes presents a problem. Size of the room, arrangement of furniture and TV screen size all have a bearing on this point.

Although a TV set's location in the room is a matter of individual preference, the further the viewer is from the screen the easier it is on the eyes. We would suggest that you sit as far from the screen as is visually comfortable.

We might also suggest that your TV set may be giving you less than top performance without you realizing it. Let CIRCLE TV SERVICE, 260 Coleman St. check over your set. You'll be amazed at the difference in viewing pleasure. Phone WO 8-6791.

U.S. TV Shows Draw Big Audiences Among Japanese

By BOB THOMAS

TOKYO (AP) — Edd Byrnes runs a comb through his blonde locks and makes a crack to Roger Smith. But instead of hep Hollywood chatter, it comes out Japanese.

U.S. TV shows draw big audiences among Japanese viewers. A recent survey showed 10 U.S. programs in the top 20 ratings. Steadily rising in popularity, especially with the younger crowd, is 77 Sunset Strip.

Nearly all of the filmed series are dubbed in Japanese. Exceptions are a few comedy shows, including I Love Lucy. The reason is that the humor doesn't translate easily and has to be explained by titles.

American shows can be extremely popular in Japan, but not all of them are sure - fire. Private Secretary was a flop, because the Japanese couldn't conceive the idea of an aggressive working woman like the one Ann Sothern played.

Dragnet never caught on, perhaps because the Japanese didn't dig the Jack Webb style of underplaying. Yet Highway Patrol, less successful in the U.S., is a big hit here. Reason: Less subtlety and more action.

Japanese were disappointed in the June Allyson Show because she acted only as hostess in many of the dramas. They figure if an actress has her name on the program, she should appear on it.

TV critics tell me it would be well not to peddle Oriental-type shows here. Such a series as Hong Kong would be laughed off the air because of Hollywood's conception of what the Far East is like.

High School News

B.C.I.V.S.

By SUSANNE PALMER

"It's a credit to its name
And through the years you may be sure
We will help to win it fame."

Last week, 48 members of our school proved the truth of these words from the school song. At the Science Fair held at Moira Secondary School, 42 of the 63 exhibits came from BCIVS, as did the grand champion, John Coombe, with his "Spectroscope." Congratulations are in order for John, Mr. Shaver and all those who participated.

The senior girls' basketball team now is playing a best-of-three series with Trenton. On Feb. 16 the girls handed Trenton their first defeat of the season but on Feb. 21 they lost a very close game to Trenton. On Feb. 18 they were victorious in an exhibition game at OSD.

February 21 saw Picton's boys' bantam, junior and senior teams at BCIVS. Our Bantams and juniors continued their winning ways, but Picton took the senior game by only one point.

On February 16, two students from Queen's, Miss Buchanan and Mr. Elder, discussed university life with the students of grades 12 and 13. Their addresses prompted many to stay and make further inquiries and sparked others with a desire to attend university.

Wednesday was indeed a day to be remembered at BCIVS. It was, of course, "'Gentlemen's Day," sponsored annually by the Keyette Club. Members of the fairer sex watched with delight as the boys (oops! — the gentlemen), decked out in their Sunday best, opened doors and carried books. In general, the males of BCIVS are always gentlemen but "Gentlemen's Day' never fails to bring home the truth of the saying that "clothes make the man."

SPECIAL ASSEMBLIES

As was fitting, on this special day we had a special assembly. The Royal Canadian Corps of Signals Band under Lieut. Adams visited us and for an hour the auditorium was filled with the sounds of music. Included in the program were selections from "Porgy and Bess", marches, waltzes and specialty numbers.

Wednesday noon-hour saw the gym balcony groaning under the weight of students four-deep trying to see the floor. The reason for this mass desertion of the study rooms was the funniest basketball game ever played at B.C.I.V.S. The boys senior team, wearing boxing-gloves, bravely answered the challenge of the girls' senior team. Fouls were called for misdemeanors never dreamed of by the authors of the basketball regulations, in spite of the fact that they were playing according to boys' rules, the girls took the game 27-20. All proceeds from the game will go toward the building of the new Y.M.C.A.

At the end of this memorable day the ladies treated their favorite gentlemen to the "Soda Pop Hop". This was a perfect ending for a perfect day.

Feb. 18 saw members of the Girls' Hi-Y, armed with rags, polish and plenty of elbow grease, invading the main hall where they polished the trophies in the two cases. Although some have complained about the glare from either side of the hall, it was a job well-done.

For the past two weeks members of the school, have been spending their noon hours in hot pursuit of a little white ball. I mean, of course, in the Boys' Hi-Y ping-pong turnament. As a result, Sonny MacDonald was declared champion ping-pong player of B.C.I.V.S. Congratulations Sonny.

THEY FOUGHT IN THE STREETS OF BRITAIN!

Rarely has there been a more moving film than BLITZ ON BRITAIN. Its stars are the ordinary men and women who became the front-line fighters in the first battle in history to be fought in the streets and homes of Britain.

What was it all about, this furious onslaught on the nation Hitler called 'decadent'? BLITZ ON BRITAIN answers that question. It shows that Hitler's plan was to smash Britain into submission - before launching his armies on the invasion he had already planned.

The film shows - for the first time - the full ferocity of the battle that smashed at Britain for a year. It begins with the barbed-wire beaches of England's South Coast . . . and it ends exactly one year later with the devastating fire of London.

Brilliantly edited, BLITZ ON BRITAIN is an assembly of film shot in combat. Some of it was filmed by cameramen as the bombs fell: Some was shot from Nazi aircraft that were unleashing them.

With a marvellously balanced commentary by Alistair Cooke, the film is a staggering record of what Churchill has called 'one of the decisive battles of the war'.

For people who lived through it - BLITZ ON BRITAIN will be a moving reminder. For young people who have only read about it, the film will come as a startling eye-opener.

BLITZ ON BRITAIN will shortly be seen in Canadian theatres from coast to-coast And will be shown locally at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Sunday, February 26, 1961

General Tendencies: Tremendous changes can now be taking place in your life, even though it may not be evident on the surface. You would be most wise now to look into the principles which you profess to believe in and to eliminate whatever does not fit your convictions and expand those that do. Don't let emotionalism wrap your judgment.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) After you have been to the services of your choice, concentrate upon methods to use in the future that will ameliorate conditions both at home and in business. Evening is then fine for relaxing and having fun with family.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Since you are highly inspired now as to how to make your future infinitely more successful, it is well you first test these plans in the light of God's laws. You can then call on partners and informally discuss them.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) A day for study into the fine standards under which you were reared and to recall to mind the tested principles you found to be workable in own life. Combine all for a better future an to reach important immediate decisions.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) If you would establish more harmonious relations with all associates, it is best you study into spiritual laws that will help you to understand your fellow man far better now. P.M. begin putting into practice what you have learned.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning should be spent in meditation so that your future life can be based on finest spiritual tenets. Be sure you attend your favorite church. Evening can then be full of enjoyment with close friends or relatives.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you go about today doing for others and making their lives happier, you will soon know how to increase happiness and success for yourself. Plan to co-operate more with high-principled people in large groups, clubs, etc.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A fine day to contact persons in the genteel and influential sphere of life who can be instrumental in helping you to get into that category. Listen to their views and suggestions. Be appreciative, loyal.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Either delve into deep philosophical studies in A.M. or go out to hear the wise words of an inspired leader of the church. This will help you to live your life in the future more in accord with such lofty principles.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Important you get into the so-called silence for awhile in A.M. and permit that powerful intuition to come through which will best guide you in some vital matters you now have to decide upon. Get in tune with the Infinite.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) This can be a very vital day in your life, since you now comprehend how to have greater rapport with the important people in your life. Contact associates informally and be very courteous. Reach a fine understanding.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Everything that you do or say today must be so exemplary that others will emulate you and thusly you become a leader in your circle. Be sure you take any health treatments that you need in order to be at your best. Grow.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have an opportunity now to sit down together with associates informally and also with loved one so that you can formulate far better plans for a more successful and happy future. Then go out together for a happy evening.

If your child is born today .. there is every opportunity for your youngster to get an early start toward a solid career, far earlier than others, provided you accord a planned education stressing the true talents in this chart. Your youngster will quickly accept standard principles and methods, but there is also the ability to adopt modern methods that are sound. Wonderful business chart.

General Tendencies: Although you want to think and act in a generous and magnanimous manner today and tonight, there are daytime influences that indicate a considerable amount of deception, as apt to be self-deception as from others, requires that you hold back at least until evening before making definite commitments. Then tonight is fine for pleasures of all kinds that attract you.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) You are torn during the day between wanting to dash off for pleasure or follow the advice of authorities along more constructive channels. The evening is best for fun and frolic, so be wise and make hay while the sun shines.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Be alert during day hours to an altercation existing between associates and family ties, but do not enter therein. Remain neutral, since one who is jealous is behind it all. P.M. fine for entertaining at home and elegantly, too.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)—This is a good day to get shopping done, but don't err with or neglect any important chores that await your attention. P.M. take any treatments you need for more robust health. Be cheerful so that you help those close to you.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Without being extravagant, you can today be out and about having fun, indulging in cultural pursuits that most appeal. Evening is best time for conferring with associates, business experts. Arrive at the right decisions.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — During the day situations at home can be quite trying, but be sure to retain equilibrium and follow through with any promises you have made. P.M. fine for going out socially in circles where you can make headway in your career.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Be certain you do not permit that secret worry to keep you from advancing in your career or most important affairs during day hours. Evening is ideal for entertainment and pleasure that appeals most to you and closest friends.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Take advantage of an opportunity to be with an influential dynamic friend today, despite the fact that you think you should be sticking to daily duties. Have a wonderful time socially in p.m.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't give in to that temptation to give one in authority a piece of your mind or you will rue the day. In short, don't lose your temper with anyone, but look at your problems objectively and then you will solve them wisely.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Worrying and fretting over spilt milk will do absolutely no good during the day, especially when you could be working constructively instead. Evening brings chance to gain the support of bigwigs and then all works out well.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A day for putting your affairs in best order possible and particularly to get bills paid. Reserve some time for assisting good pals, too. The evening is then ideal for romance and pleasing the one you love. Be generous, kind.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be certain to follow through on all commitments made and be very co-operative with associates in any ventures that will be of mutual benefit. Dancing would be an ideal way to spend the evening with friends. Be happy, cheerful.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) Be alert to more modern system of operating and search for constructive ideas. Also, make your surroundings far more orderly and attractive. Get co-operation from co-workers by showing gratitude and loyalty. Be big instead of critical.

If your child is born today—it is best that you, as parents, teach your youngster the true facts concerning reproduction so that others may not distort or ruin the mind in the outside world. Since the nature is a most fundamental one, be sure you early give the benefit of fine spiritual training. Educate to the best of your financial ability. Government work is best outlet here.

GOING INTO THE COIN-OPERATED LAUNDRY STORE BUSINESS?

You're Wise— But Be Sure of the Distributor's Complete Program Before You Buy!

ASK THESE QUESTIONS:

Does the distributor have balanced laundry store equipment or is he selling you untried, makeshift, home-type equipment? Does he inventory spare parts? Can he plan your store based on his own experience? What has been the success of stores he has sold? How many? Does he provide store opening and continuing promotion materials, and advertising?

ALD is the national organization that has planned and helped build over 10,000 Licensed Westinghouse Laundromat(s) stores throughout the United States and Canada. NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR CHANGE OF NAME OF A CERTAIN STREET

IN THE MATTER OF THE MUNICIPAL ACT, BEING R.S.O. 1960, CHAPTER 249, AND IN PARTICULAR SECTION 379(1)95

AND IN THE MATTER OF THE CHANGE OF THE NAME OF A CERTAIN STREET IN THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE.

NOTICE is hereby given that on the 7th day of April, 1961, at the hour of 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at his Chambers in the Court House in the City of Belleville, the Judge of the County Court of the County of Hastings will consider a proposed by-law to change the name of the following street in the City of Belleville, and will hear those advocating and those opposing the change:

"James Street", between Bridge Street and Suburban Road Number 5, to be known as "Palmer Road."

BY DIRECTION of the County Judge, this Notice shall be published once in the Ontario Gazette, and once a week for four successive weeks in the Ontario Intelligencer, a newspaper published in the City of Belleville.

DATED at Belleville, Ontario, this 17th day of February, 1961.

Thomson Tosses in Towel In Fight for Odhams Press

LONDON (Reuters) — Canadian publisher Roy Thomson Friday night tossed in the towel in a mighty Fleet Street battle for control of the huge Odhams Press combine.

His withdrawal left the way clear for Cecil King's powerful Mirror group to take over Odhams.

This would produce a publishing organization with assets close to £100,000,000 ($280,000,000) and 300 daily, weekly and monthly newspapers and magazines. In terms of circulation, it would easily be the world's largest publishing empire.

Thomson, who offered Jan. 25 to merge his British interests with Odhams, said he had "willingly agreed" to call off the deal.

This, he said, was because two days after his original offer, The Daily Mirror had moved in with its bid to take over Odhams.

BID WAS MAMMOTH

King's mammoth bid for all 12,000,000 Odhams shares amounted to £35,000,000 ($98,000,000). This represented almost four times the value of Thomson's British interests.

King said the main objective of his bid was to "eliminate the more absurd forms of cut-throat competition in a field where it must be evident there is ample scope for real economies."

The Daily Mirror group and Odhams are in direct competition in various fields, including women's magazines. Both groups publish scores of magazines, trade directories and annuals.

In the national newspaper field, the Mirror group publishes The Daily Mirror and The Sunday Pictorial. Odhams publishes the pro-Labor Daily Herald and The People, a Sunday newspaper.

BROKE THE NEWS

Odhams broke the news of Thomson's withdrawal in a circular to its 15,000 shareholders. It said that in the light of "'changed circumstances," Thomson had agreed to cancel the merger arrangement.

Odhams chief Sir Christopher Chancellor said The Daily Mirror's offer was "fair and reasonable" from a financial viewpoint, even though Odhams had opposed the bid at first.

Chancellor originally had approached Thomson about a merger after The Daily Mirror group had shown interest in taking over Odhams.

Thomson said in a statement: "When the Odhams board asked us to enter into a partnership arrangement with them, we willingly agreed . . . In view of the subsequent Daily Mirror offer, the Odhams board has asked us to dissolve this arrangement and this we have willingly done."

The Mirror group has offered five of its shares plus 52 (70 cents) in cash for each Odhams share.

GROUNDS STILL VALID

Although directors of Odhams recommended the Mirror bid from the financial standpoint, they noted that, as individuals, they could not accept the Mirror offer for their holdings. They said their grounds for rejection of the Mirror's first offer were still valid.

The Mirror group's first offer came after announcement Jan. 25 of merger plans between Thomson and Odhams. Odhams directors advised shareholders to reject it. The Mirror group then raised the offer by some £5,000,000 to at least £35,000,000.

Thomson on Jan. 26 said there would be "'absolutely and positively no changes in The Daily Herald editorial policy. It might even be a little more definite because that is the way I like to do things."

The Daily Mirror board when making its offer Jan. 27 said "the board recognizes that The Daily Herald plays an important political role in the life of the country and nothing in the offer now made should be construed as implying that The Daily Herald will be any less free to express the Labor view than it is at present. The Daily Herald will of course remain in solid support of the Labor party as a serious political journal."

Minor Hockey

Bruins whipped the Wings 9-3 for a 21-5 victory on the series R. Hannah paced the Bruin scorers with five goals. R. McDougall, B. Royal, F. Howe and F. Nobile added the other goals. McDougall and Nobile each had two assists, J. Murray and John Parsons one apiece. Larry Moore, B. Long and D. Roper scored for the Red Wings while Moore and K. Allen drew assists.

Browns took a 3-1 victory over the Rangers and won the round by a 10-2 total. B. Parsons scored two goals, T. Herrington a goal and assist and P. Goodfellow two assists to account for all the Browns scoring. Bob Wade triggered the Rangers' lone marker.

In one of three exhibition games played, Canadiens whipped the Macs 7-1. Dave Muir with two goals and an assist, and Harry Nickle with a pair of goals, topped the winners. Jim McKenzie, Jim Anderson and Doug Wellbanks also scored. Assists went to Rodney Law, Reid Mallory, Dave Clarke and Jim McDonald. W. McTaggart potted the Macs' lone goal.

Maple Leafs blanked the Black Hawks 2-0. P. Bishop drew assists on both goals, scored by A. Bradley and T. Young.

Barons shut out the Quinte team by a 3-0 count. R. Brooks scored two goals and C. Scott one. T. Drumm, J. Doran and D. Clements had assists.

No results were turned in for the two bantam playoff games played Friday evening.

federal legislation, scheduled to be presented at this session of Parliament.

Every indication is that it will come under strong opposition fire—especially the part of it involving reduced equalization payments. The Liberal party has strongly espoused the equalization principle of helping less-prosperous provinces.

Under the present arrangement, per-capita tax yields in these provinces are raised to the average in the two wealthiest, Ontario and British Columbia. The new plan would peg equalization payments only to the lower national average of tax yields.

In most provinces, individual taxpayers likely won't have to make out two income tax returns to both federal and provincial governments.

Mr. Fleming said he expects that most, but not all, of the provinces will take advantage of the federal offer of central tax collection by Ottawa.

Some premiers made last-minute bids Friday to win a better financial deal.

Premier Lesage of Quebec told reporters he asked for a guarantee of Quebec's present level of equalization payments and a larger share of corporation income taxes. But he only shrugged when asked to comment on chances of getting even a slight improvement in federal terms.

Premier Robichaud of New Brunswick, terming the federal plan "'absolutely unacceptable," said he will continue to seek a better deal.

"'The prime minister has said he will reconsider, and he'd better," Mr. Robichaud told reporters. "If he doesn't he's facing political suicide."

MINISTER URGES

support of Leo Troy (L—Nipissing).

Mr. Troy, whose home town of North Bay has already voted in support of fluoridation, introduced a bill that would provide for fluoridation of municipal water supplies by local bylaw.

The government has given no indication of what it plans to do as a result of the committee report, which urged Ontario to enact immediate legislation for fluoridation.

Another opposition bill, this one introduced by Kenneth Bryden (CCF—Toronto Woodbine), would amend the Hours of Work and Vacations With Pay Act to reduce the maximum work week from 48 to 40 hours.

Transport Minister Rowntree introduced amendments to the Highway Traffic Act that would permit the interchange of certain offences for the purpose of increasing penalties.

Under the amendments, criminal negligence, drunk and impaired driving, and motor manslaughter could be used to effect longer mandatory licence suspensions.

At present, a driver convicted of drunk driving might have his licence suspended for six months. Later, he might be convicted of criminal negligence and have his licence suspended for another six months, but he would still have only two separate offences against him.

Under the new legislation an additional offence would count as a second offence and result in stiffer penalties.

Reg. Gisborn (CCF — Wentworth East) said in the throne speech debate that the government should negotiate with the transportation systems for free passes for persons on general welfare assistance.

With fares costing 15 cents a ticket in most Ontario centres, an unemployed person would have to pay 30 cents for a return fare to look for a job.

"This means such a large slice of his allowance that a man will think twice before spending that much money and thereby may lose out on job opportunities," Mr. Gisborn said.

PLAN CO-OPERATIVE

INGERSOLL (CP) —Plans to apply for a charter for a turkey growers' co-operative were announced Friday at a meeting of Southern Ontario turkey producers. Roy E. Patterson, of Camlachie said a five-acre site has been obtained in this Oxford County town for a processing plant.

Quinte COSSA Basketball

In an all out thriller last night, Quinte Secondary School picked up three wins defeating Napanee District High in fast moving games. Quinte Bantams took their game by a score of 47-38. This win still left Quinte in third place and no chance for the COSSA playoffs. Quinte juniors also came up best man over Napanee juniors with a tally of 58-47. Quinte juniors are now tied with BCI and Moira for first place and the playoff games for this district will be played this morning. Again in the last game, Quinte seniors defeated Napanee 62-33. This win gave Quinte the Bay of Quinte Championship and the right to enter the COSSA finals next week.

BANTAMS

In a knock down, bang up, last game of the season last night, Quinte bantams stole the game over Napanee by a 47-38 thriller. Quinte took the first jump; and after a quick pass to Middleton, Quinte picked up the first points of the game. Both teams were shooting fast and getting their own rebounds. Quinte took the first quarter only by four points. Napanee came back in the second and crept up on the Saints until the end of the quarter when they outshot Quinte by one basket. The game by this time had become a see-saw affair as Quinte came back up on Napanee and took the quarter 29-24. The teams seem to fight evenly except for Quinte's better rebounding. The Saints scored most of their insurance baskets in the fourth from rebounds. The season ended for the Quinte bantams with the score reading 47-38. This made their season totals of seven wins and 3 losses for a third place position.

LINEUPS

Napanee — Marshall, Gaay (13) Martin (18), Rhydness, Richmona (6) Keller, Rigby, Stinson (1), McCutchson.

Quinte — Beach, Middleton (10), Fletcher (1), Reppard (8) Lewington, Eves (16) Leslie (12), Bylsma, Taylor, Flindall, Livingston, Miles.

SENIOR

Napanee came whipping up the floor to claim the first points of the game. But, Quinte came through the first quarter with a 17-8 lead. Coming out in the second the Saints completely outscored the Napanee team by 18 points. In the third the floor was completely controlled by Quinte as they outhooped Napanee by 17-5. The fourth and final quarter was evenly fought by both teams as Napanee desperately fought to gain the lead.

LINEUPS

Napanee: Fyffle, Johnstone (23), Osborne (2) McCutchson (1) Holmes (2) Hart (2) Myatt (3).

Quinte: Baker (2), Rose (6) Follwell (6), Davis (8), Mar-(14), Mills (2), Michz-idbBoriott ,Campbell (10), Locke

JUNIORS

..A tipsy quarter was played

A tipsy quarter was played by both teams with Quinte pulling ahead slightly by four points. In the second, Napanee came back fighting. The quarter went fast with Napanee taking it by 3 points. And then in the third, Quinte reversed the tables once again by taking this quarter by four points. Then, in the fourth, Quinte eased out to take the quarter and the game by a score of 58-47. High scorers were Pringle of Napanee with 23 pts. and Gilroy of Quinte with 21 points.

LINEUPS

ing for beyond present revenue. The province needed another $150,000,000 a year and would get only $18,000,000 this from the new federal tax proposal.

REVENUE NEEDED

An extra $40,000,000 in hospital insurance costs had to be faced each year and the cost of education—now about $275,000,000 a year—was expected to reach $500,000,000 or $750,000,000 a year by 1970.

"'Our natural growth is going to produce some of this money," he said, "but you must remember that new growth means new spending, too, and how can you catch up?"

Mr. Frost was asked if he could sum up in a single word his reaction to the conference.

TOO DIFFICULT

"No, it's too difficult a subject for that," he said. "The federal offer to collect personal income for us is an excellent offer indeed . . .

"The new principle of equalization based on a national average rather than the level of the richest provinces is a good thing."

He said the former equalization principle was no longer valid in today's conditions.

To Ontario, however, the actual cash value of the proposals was far short of the province's needs.

R.C. Information Centre Headed by Rev. F. Stone Avoids 'Sentimental Froth'

By BILL MacDOUGALL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Rev. Frank Stone says he tries to avoid "that sentimental froth" when he talks about the Roman Catholic church.

"You need a few cold, hard facts," said the 55-year-old Paulist who directs activities of the Catholic Information Centre in Toronto.

The centre is devoted to explaining Catholicism to inquirers, Catholic and non-Catholic. But after lecturing some 3,000 converts and numberless others since it opened in 1946, Father Stone is still concerned with how to get his message across.

A slender, soft-spoken man of medium height whose appearance and manner give little hint of his considerable energy, Father Stone celebrated his 25th anniversary as a priest Feb. 12.

Efforts to keep up with the times are reflected in a project he undertook in August, 1959, when he was assigned by the bishops of Canada to establish a centre for radio, television and movies for English-speaking Canada. A similar one was set up in Montreal for French-speaking Canadians.

NON-CATHOLIC HELP

Referring to the many religious radio and TV programs he promotes, Father Stone says: "The idea is to make available an exchange of ideas between Catholics and non-Catholics and to make Catholic information available. We call it a sidewalk night school."

His associates in communications research are not all Catholics. A recent religious radio-TV school in Moncton, N.B., had as students nine Catholic priests, two nuns and 31 ministers of various denominations. The teaching staff, including Father Stone, was also interdenominational.

He is working with the department of radio and television at Assumption University in Windsor, Ont., to get potential script writers and producers interested in the task.

"Today is the day of communications. We must get things out into the open. Catholic university people are not pulling their weight. They have a lot to offer and they're not offering it. We need them in radio and television to help us reach the men in the street.

FORMERLY DRUGGIST

Born on a farm near Phelpston, 15 miles northwest of Barrie, Ont., Father Stone graduated from the University of Toronto in 1929 in pharmacy and went to work in a drugstore a few doors from St. Peter's Church in west-central Toronto.

He began studying for the priesthood in the fall of that year, was ordained Feb. 12, 1936, and served in New York, Toronto and Baltimore before returning to St. Peter's in 1941.

He started the information centre in the basement of St. Peter's. In 1958 the present building next door on Bathurst Street north of Bloor Street was opened. Built and furnished with donations, it cost $240,000.

There, in the single-storey building that includes a library, lecture rooms, office and a radio studio, he carries on his work. He directs tape-recording of talks by clergy which are sent to radio stations across Canada.

He continues to broadcast on Toronto-area stations and on the CBC Trans-Canada network and sponsors religious TV programs in Toronto.

The centre has a staff of three priests and 150 volunteer workers. It was the first of its kind in Canada but Father Stone now is helping set up similar centres in Saskatoon, Edmonton and Winnipeg.

Canadians Need Car Designed For Conditions

OTTAWA (CP)—The lack of a Canadian-designed car was aired before the Senate committee on manpower Thursday.

Hearing a brief from the Engineering Institute of Canada which deplored the lack of products designed in Canada for special Canadian conditions, committee members asked about the car industry.

Garnet Page of Montreal, general secretary of the institute, said the automobile was an "outstanding example" of the need for Canadian design.

He said Canadians had been looking for years for a car to meet the conditions of this country and appeared to have found it in German and British imports.

WELL-SOAKED

Between 1912 and 1956, the average annual rainfall at Mount Waialeale, Hawaii, was 471 inches.

Mental Hospital To Be Built At Owen Sound

TORONTO (CP) — Public Works Minister Connell today called tenders for construction of a mental hospital at Owen Sound estimated to cost $3,500,000.

Work will start as soon as weather permits.

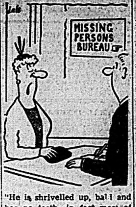
The 90-acre property is a mile east of Owen Sound. The hospital will accommodate 300 patients.

Dr. MacKinnon Phillips, member of the legislature for Grey North, said the project will give steady employment for local tradesmen during the two-year construction period as well as permanent employment to many local residents.

The new concept of single-storey cottages and two-storey wings will be a major feature of the new hospital, Mr. Connell said.

Persons whose mental facilities will not allow them to look after themselves in a home for the aged, yet are not in need of full-time bed care will comprise the majority of the patients.

"Jest a Second"



"He is shrivelled up, bald and has no teeth—in fact most of him was missing before he was."

STATE FARM WORLD'S LARGEST CAR INSURER CUTS RATES IN ONTARIO !

PRESENT POLICYHOLDERS
WILL SHARE TOTAL NEW SAVINGS OF $384,000 . . .
THE SECOND SUBSTANTIAL RATE CUT WITHIN A YEAR!

Are you a careful driver? Chances are you too may qualify for State Farm's famous low-cost car insurance. Call a State Farm agent now!

Are you a careful driver? Do you want dependable insurance protection for a truly low price? Call your nearest State Farm agent today! New Rating Plan! How can State Farm, well known for its low rates, now offer even greater savings? The answer is a new rating system that results in pin-pointed, tailor-made rates. They're fixed more precisely than ever to suit your individual circumstances. Your rate depends on how good a risk you are, not on how poor a risk somebody else is!

For example, if you drive for pleasure, you'll be classified only with other pleasure drivers, and you'll pay the low rate that's fair for you. If you drive less than 7,500 miles a year, you'll be classified with other similar low-mileage drivers and again pay the low rate you deserve.

LOOK! A FEW EXAMPLES OF THE NEW SAVINGS ONTARIO POLICYHOLDERS WILL ENJOY THIS YEAR!
(And this is on top of the savings they've always had by insuring with State Farm)

Driving Characteristics	Ottawa	Toronto	Windsor	Niagara Falls
Car driven for pleasure only and under 7,500 miles a year.	up to $11.20	up to $13.00	up to $14.40	up to $12.40
Car driven to and from work 10 miles or less each way; total mileage under 7,500 a year.	up to $4.80	up to $7.00	up to $8.40	up to $6.80
Car used primarily for business; total mileage over 12,000 a year.	$9.00	$16.80	$20.20	$16.40

Examples are based on full coverage for a 1960 Ford Fairlane, V-8 4-door sedan. (Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability, limits $10,000, $20,000 and $5,000; Medical Payments, limits $500; Comprehensive (full); and $100 Deductible Collision Coverages.) No male driver under age 25. Savings comparisons based on the rate information available November 1, 1960.
If you have any questions concerning your rate, see your local State Farm agent.

State Farm now has 108 such classifications! That's how detailed and fair the new rating plan is. That's how we can afford to offer such new low rates . . . especially to the better classes of risks among the careful drivers.

WORKING FARMERS! YOU GET AN EXTRA 20% DISCOUNT!

Note to Present Policyholders! The new rates will be reflected in premium notices on which payment is due January 1, 1961 or after. Three out of four of you will realize new savings. If you happen not to be one of these, remember the chances are you're still paying less with State Farm than most folks pay elsewhere.

If you own a "compact" car (foreign or Canadian), State Farm gives you an extra 10% discount in most cases.

Own two cars? State Farm's second-car discount applies to collision insurance as well as liability.

Severest Storm In Many Years Hits Montreal

Damage to Electrical Systems Said $500,000

MONTREAL (CP)—The worst storm to hit the Montreal area since 1943, a mixture of rain, sleet and snow driven by winds gusting to 60 miles an hour, slammed into this district Sunday.

It knocked out power lines, crippled communications, littered areas with broken tree limbs, and sent hundreds to hotels and emergency shelters from suburban homes left without electricity and water.

No one was reported hurt or killed.

But two fires in suburban Verdun were started by electrical wiring torn loose by winds and the weight of ice.

Mayor Jean Drapeau broadcast a radio and television appeal, asking people "to help each other."

Quebec Hydro reported at 9 p.m. Sunday night that 90 per cent of its power system was operating normally. A spokesman estimated damage to electrical systems at $500,000.

500 POLES WRECKED

Power lines serving 300 residential districts were knocked out and 500 poles carrying lines were wrecked.

In Montreal, the army, civil defence, and the Red Cross cooperated to provide shelter for those whose homes had lost heat or cooking facilities.

Catholic schools were set up as emergency shelters. The army provided bedding and the Red Cross food.

In other municipalities, police stations and schools were pressed into service.

Some people, with nothing to do in their cold, quiet houses, took to driving around in their cars—which at least have radios and heaters.

The Dominion public weather office at Dorval said the storm had moved south of Newfoundland and was heading towards the Atlantic.

It moved into Quebec from New England and dumped up to 10 inches of snow and three-quarters of an inch of freezing rain over an area from Quebec City to Ottawa.

PENITENTIARY HIT

Power failures produced the most serious havoc.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Rain, snow and sleet swept through Canada's most thickly populated areas during the weekend and some metropolitan city dwellers were hard put to cook meals and keep warm.

The storm, which started in Texas, tore into Western Ontario Saturday, snarling power lines and blocking traffic and moved on to Quebec.

Blue skies followed the storm, but some areas said it would take at least 48 hours to get back to normal.

In the Maritimes there was a mixture of spring and winter weather, ranging from heavy rains in the south to blizzards in the north—16 inches of snow fell in the area between Edmundston and Bathurst, N.B.

Weather was relatively calm in the west.

SOME INCIDENTS TOLD

These incidents happened during the storm in Ontario and Quebec:

An ambulance going to pick up a man injured in a train-truck crash took more than 14 hours to make a 50-mile round trip from Quebec City.

In Montreal East, four 120,000-volt lines were felled by the storms and all Montreal Island Refineries were knocked out of commission.

St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary on the northern outskirts of Montreal was without power for six hours.

A cottage on the shore of Lake St. Clair, 25 miles east of Windsor, was moved 30 feet as heavy blocks of ice were driven on to the beach. Ice was piled 30 feet high in places.

Damage in the Sarnia area alone was estimated at more than $1,000,000. About 100 telephone poles carrying 60 lines collapsed after collecting two inches of ice.

Telegraph messages from the scene of a 29-car freight train derailment had to be sent by radio, relayed by Ontario Provincial Police.

A 20-foot cement-block wall in a Leamington curling rink was blown out during a bonspiel. Because of a warning rumble, curlers escaped unharmed.

ICE HITS HYDRO

For Western Ontario it was the worst ice storm in 10 years. Wind and sleet snapped Ontario Hydro high-voltage transmission lines serving the Windsor, Chatham and Sarnia areas. Numerous communities were without electricity and telephone service. Some were still not back to normal Sunday night.

Four of five highways leading out of Chatham were blocked by

FIND MAN'S BODY

MISSION, B.C. (CP) — The body of Wolfgang Fischer, 34, missing since last Tuesday when he was buried beneath a mud slide near here was found Sunday. Police believed for days that Fischer might have survived in an air pocket beneath the wrecked timbers of the barn.

Home-Made Bomb Kills Toronto Man

TORONTO (CP) — A man killed Saturday while experimenting with a home-made bomb told his wife earlier, "don't worry. I can't hurt anyone—it's just a big firecracker."

David Scotland, 21, of Toronto, was killed when the bomb exploded in his hands in a field near Mount Albert, 30 miles north of here. Graham Ducker, also 21 and from Toronto, was injured.

Scotland's wife said Sunday she begged him not to go ahead with the experiment.

"He always wanted to find out how things worked," said Lorna Marlene Scotland, 20, mother of a nine-month-old son. A year ago, he had made a bomb and exploded it in a field at Markham.

"His parents knew nothing of his bomb experiments," Mrs. Scotland said. "They would have stopped him."

Mr. Scotland had worked for a telephone company after completing an electronics course in 1957. In 1959 he joined the Toronto-Dominion bank as a teller.

MANY HOMELESS AFTER TERRIFIC RAINS IN SOUTH

At Least 12 Die In Past Week

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Swollen rivers continued to pour over three stricken southern states today, where 10,000 or more persons have been left homeless.

Damage from a week's flood in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi will run into millions of dollars.

The Red Cross began establishing emergency disaster headquarters at Montgomery for flood victims in the stricken areas.

At least 12 persons have died in southern flood waters caused by torrential rains which lasted most of last week.

Montgomery, on the Alabama River, and Hattiesburg, Miss., on the Leaf River, appeared the hardest hit. The Alabama reached a record level of 23 feet above flood stage.

The Red Cross set up shelters for about 600 persons in Montgomery county where an estimated 1,500 persons were evacuated.

STORM HITS MANY

Elsewhere in the U.S., a winter storm that stranded thousands in the snow-crippled Ohio Valley soaked Pennsylvania and the Northeast with rain and floods Sunday. Flooding conditions were reported along the Susquehanna River.

Snow closed 70 miles of the New York Central's main line between Bryan, Ohio, and Goshen, Ind.

Schools, motels, farm houses and churches were used to shelter thousands of stranded motorists in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. About 700 motorists marooned overnight along the Kentucky Turnpike by snow that buried the blue grass country with a 9½ - inch blanket sloshed onward Sunday through the melting mush.

LIKE A SEA

Tom Stowe, a Red Cross official, flew over the central Alabama area Sunday and said it "looks like a sea." He said more than 15,000 persons apparently were directly affected by the floods in Alabama.

At Hattiesburg, more than 3,600 refugees are being cared for in 11 shelters.

Governor Ross Barnett appealed to President Kennedy to declare the stricken area a disaster area and thus qualify it for government help.

The Chattahoochee River on the Georgia - Alabama line reached a record crest twice Sunday at Columbus, Ga., causing what was described as the worst flood in 32 years in that city. Police estimated nearly 1,000 persons fled their homes at Columbus.

At Phenix City, Ala., across the river from Columbus, five blocks were inundated and about 400 persons were evacuated.

State militia patrolled many Alabama cities to prevent looting.

Diefenbaker vs. Verwoerd Battle Shapes up at Commonwealth Talks

LONDON (CP)—The conference of Commonwealth prime ministers is shaping up as a showdown between South Africa's Hendrik Verwoerd and Canada's John Diefenbaker

There is every indication that Verwoerd, the cold, unbending advocate of apartheid, will encounter his stiffest opposition from Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who as a prairie lawyer fought without fee in cases of racial discrimination.

The clash is expected when the Commonwealth prime ministers gather March 8 in London's Lancaster House.

The issue will be whether South Africa should be allowed to remain in the Commonwealth after it formally becomes a republic May 31.

Up to a few weeks ago, there was a tendency in Whitehall to take it almost for granted that approval would be forthcoming. The main opposition was expected from countries like Ghana, Malaya and India, whose detestation of South Africa's policies of racial segregation is well known.

But the word in Whitehall was that Prime Minister Macmillan had succeeded in convincing them that the nationalist government of South Africa won't be in power forever, and that expelling the union would just make things worse.

Now, it is learned on good authority, Britain expects difficulty from what informants describe as an "unexpected" source—Canada.

Diefenbaker, it is said flippantly but with underlying seriousness, may prove to be the "white man in the woodpile" at the Lancaster House talks.

Tunisia President Starts Conference With de Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia and French President Charles de Gaulle today began critical talks aimed at setting the scene for peaceful settlement of the Algerian rebellion.

The two went into a private conference immediately after Bourguiba arrived at de Gaulle's chateau in Rambouillet outside Paris.

Bourguiba drove from Orly Airport flanked by a motorcycle escort as police helicopters whirred overhead.

Tough security precautions barred everyone but government officials and accredited newspaper men from the area around the chateau.

The Tunisian president, who calls the rebels his brothers and the French his friends, flew in from Zurich for the crucial talks.

Full military honors were rendered Bourguiba as he stepped from his plane on his first visit to France since he negotiated independence in 1955.

Hundreds of red-and-white Tunisian flags fluttered alongside the French Tricolor at the airport and the greeting party was headed by French Premier Michel Debre.

Bourguiba, after two weeks of contacts with the French and the rebels, was ready to work with de Gaulle to bring about direct peace negotiations between the French and the nationalists.

They were scheduled for a day-long private meeting. Whether any communique will be issued is questionable. The negotiations were viewed as too delicate for either man to wish much publicity.

Although the rebels have accepted in principle de Gaulle's proposal of self-determination for Algeria, they demand negotiations on how this will be applied. De Gaulle had previouly refued to talk until the rebel lay down their arm, although it now is generally recognized that he is ready to weaken on this score.

It will be Bocrguiba's task to work out with de Gaulle some formula which will allow face-saving on all sides.

Canada Should Build Up Community, Parley Told

TORONTO (CP). — Canada's moral purpose should be to build up the North Atlantic community, Prof. Frank H. Underhill, Canadian historian, said at the week-end winter conference of the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs.

He feared, however, that Canadians were showing inclinations towards a rather mean, petty, parochial nationalism.

"We should be more confident of ourselves and our ability to compete with others. We should act like the England of the first Elizabethan era, which welcomed ideas from everywhere and produced a Shakespeare."

In current trends of nationalism, Prof. Underhill said, "We would withdraw from world responsibility, get out of NATO, out of NORAD, and turn our backs on people who have been our friends for generations.

"We seem to be moving in a false moralistic direction, and to feel that we are more pure than the Americans. This is wrong and immoral. We depend for our survival on the survival of the United States."

Prof. Underhill spoke on a panel which rounded up Friday-Saturday-Sunday discussions.

On the whole, the discussions indicated that Canada may be doing better than she thinks in developing a distinctive personality of worth to herself and to the rest of the world.

Hugh MacLennan, Canadian novelist, commented that more than 40 nationalities are represented in the student body of McGill University.

Douglas LePan, professor of English literature at Queen's University, emphasized that even prior to the question of what Canada's future should be, there is the question of whether there is to be any future at all. In this there was a special role for Canada, one of trying to ensure that there will be a future both for the world and for herself.

The conference theme, The Price of Being a Canadian, was questioned by audience participants, on the ground of suitability. One participant asked:

"I can't think of the Swiss, or the Dutch, asking 'what is the price of being Swiss or Dutch. Why of all peoples should we ask ourselves the price of being Canadian?'"

Prof. Underhill replied: "Isn't it that we are not quite sure what a Canadian is? The Swiss don't ask the question, but they pay the price. They pay for their defence and they contend with psychological forces from France and Germany."

Mr. LePan said two wars had shown there are things Canadians are willing to die for, if necessary.

Premier Lesage Has Problem In Tax-Sharing Situation

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean Lesage's eight-month-old administration faces a complicated financial problem because of the federal government tax proposals made to the provincial governments in Ottawa last week by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Mr. Lesage, bitterly disappointed, is to brief his cabinet Tuesday or Wednesday on the implications of the tax-sharing proposal which may leave him with but two alternatives: Impose new taxes or trim his program of expansion and development for Quebec.

Quebec's dilemma stems from the new equalization formula proposed by Mr. Diefenbaker. It leaves Quebec with no hope of an additional share of federal revenue for the next five years, in spite of Ottawa's decision to increase the provinces' share of personal income taxation.

The federal government had kept most direct taxation under its control, and compensated the provinces with annual subsidies.

Quebec participated in the arrangement only five years, during the war, so the Ottawa decision has little practical significance in Quebec where the provincial government already taxes personal income, corporation profits and succession.

Ottawa now proposes to increase the share of the provinces in the personal income tax field to 16 per cent of the federal tax from the present 13 per cent. This share is to be increased by one per cent each year until it reaches 20 per cent.

There is no change in the provinces' share in the corporate and succession fields—nine percent of corporation profits and 50 per cent of succession duties.

The increase of the provinces' share in the personal

Roads Blocked By Freezing Rain In N.Y. State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gales, freezing rain and snow pounded across northern New York state Sunday. Power and communication lines were broken, roads were blocked and many communities were isolated temporarily.

Thousands of homes in western and northern New York were left without power and heat. Ice-coated highways made travel treacherous.

The abrupt change from warm and rainy weather, however, ended flood threats in the eastern part of the state.

Malone and Massena were among the hardest-hit communities.

Power was cut off for an estimated 25,000 persons in the Malone area about 2 a.m. and 12 hours later service had been restored for only a few. Broken wires and tree limbs littered virtually every street.

KING MOHAMMED OF MOROCCO DIES IN RABAT

Crown Prince Ascends Throne

RABAT (AP) — Morocco's new king posted heavy security forces around strategic points today to keep a firm hand on the potentially explosive political situation created by the death of his father, King Mohammed V.

A team of 10 doctors announced Sunday that the popular 51-year-old monarch's heart failed after a minor operation Sunday on his nose.

The crown prince, Moulay Hassan, 31, was proclaimed king. An energetic, forceful young man educated in France, he was named in advance by his father as his successor in 1957.

Together they ran the government of this North African nation of 10,000,000 since last May, trying to head off leftist challenges by outdoing their opponents in friendly overtures to Moscow and increasing estrangement from the United States which agreed to give up its big air bases in Morocco by 1953.

POST HEAVY GUARDS

As preparations went ahead for the funeral Tuesday, police and troops were posted around nerve centres in Rabat and other major cities.

Messages of condolence came from President Kennedy, French Pesident de Gaulle, President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and other leaders.

The cabinet met to proclaim the crown prince as King Moulay Hassan II. It ordered seven days of mourning for the old king, a national hero in the long fight for independence from France.

As Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef, he was exiled in 1953 by the French after refusing to serve as a rubber stamp for their protecorate. Moulay Hassan went with him.

UNITED FACTIONS

Returning in triumph when Morocco became independent in 1956, King Mohammed was able to draw warring nationalist factions together. But as he sought to launch Morocco into democracy, rival political leaders complicated his task.

Last May 20 the king gave up trying to stand above politics as a mediator. Tired of the squabbling inside his cabinets, the king stepped in and assumed the office of premier, naming Moula Hassan as vice-premier. He called a council of 76 members to draw up a constitution by 1962.

The government is strongly opposed by a well organized progressive group known as the National Union of Popular Forces. The group has criticized Moulay Hassan as dictatorial with "fascist" tendencies.

As chief of staff of the royal Moroccan army, Moulay Hassan has been frequently accused by the left of trying to set up a military dictatorship and attempting to stamp out opposition by employing police repression.

Man Who Saved Kennedy's Life During War Surprised About Fuss

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The man who once sent rescuers to save John F. Kennedy's life said today: "Why should President Kennedy be interested in me? The president has more important things to think about."

Arthur Reginald Evans, now a 55-year-old accountant, was surprised to learn that a wartime note he wrote Kennedy to tell him help was on the way now is framed and hanging on the wall of the president's office.

In August, 1943, Evans, then a lieutenant in the Australian navy, was a coast watcher in the Solomon Islands. Kennedy, also a lieutenant, was commander of a PT boat cut in two by a Japanese destroyer.

Friendly natives took a distress message from Kennedy to Evans, who radioed for help and arranged a rendezvous. The natives returned to Kennedy with Evans' note. Shortly afterwards Kennedy and the crew were rescued.

For years Kennedy had been unable to decipher the signature, which a secretary thought looked like "A. Rhinaus." Last December Evans came forward and told an Australian newspaper he was the man.

To check on the story, handwriting experts called at the White House Friday and confirmed that the signature was Evans'.

In Sydney today, Evans regarded the case as closed.

Use Force Order After Canadians Are Assaulted

None of Men Badly Hurt In Mauling by Troops

CP from AP-Reuters

LEOPOLDVILLE—The United Nations command warned the Congo government today that it will use "full force" to resist a spreading wave of attacks on UN personnel by Congolese troops.

The warning came as Congolese troops renewed their attacks this morning, bludgeoning four Canadian soldiers with their rifle butts.

Two Canadian airmen were also roughed up by Congolese troops when about 70 UN personnel were detained at a lake outside Leopoldville Sunday.

Lac Marvin Armstrong of Madoc, Ont., and Lac Don Titus of Digby, N.S. were not injured although the soldiers slapped Armstrong on the back of the head and around the ears a dozen times as he shielded his face and Titus was struck with open hands several times.

The airmen were with a large group of UN personnel and civilians at a popular beach resort 15 miles north of Leopoldville.

Armstrong and Titus went to the lake with Lac Mark Janes of Port Aux Basques, Nfld., and FO Andre Beauregard of Ottawa. All are stationed at the RCAF transmitter station in Leopoldville.

There were about 50 vehicles at the resort, most of them United Nations' vehicles, when the Congolese soldiers appeared. A UN official ordered all United Nations personnel to leave and all the cars formed up in a convoy.

The convoy was halted by the Congolese soldiers, who waved machine-guns, rifles and pistols and shouted threats at the people in the vehicles.

The two airmen were in an open jeep and appeared to be a handy target.

Armstrong was struck first by an officer as he stood near the vehicle.

"One of them raised his rifle and I think he meant to hit me," Armstrong said, "but a Nigerian stepped in and prevented him.

"I don't know why they picked me. An officer came over and started waving, then he hit me."

Titus was hit while he sat in the vehicle.

All United Nations personnel were in civilian clothes except three Indonesians. One of them also was beaten.

After about an hour the convoy returned to the lake. Three hours later, after the Congolese troops had disappeared, it returned to Leopoldville.

It was believed the Congolese thought the convoy was coming to disarm them.

UN troops in the Congo capital were placed on "extra alert" as the Congolese soldiers got out of hand in apparent fear of the advance toward Leopoldville of pro-Lumumba forces from Oriental province.

Several UN soldiers were manhandled during the night by Congolese soldiers and a woman member of the world body's staff was raped at gunpoint by the rampaging troops.

The Canadians attacked today were in a jeep and a small truck when they were halted by about 15 Congolese soldiers. They were forced to take off their shoes and socks and were beaten with rifle butts.

None was seriously hurt but one of them, Lieut. Doug Furlott of Ottawa, described the Congolese as "like insane people completely out of control."

UN ISSUES WARNING

The UN command issued a warning to the Congolese that "It will resist such attacks with full force and the consequences will be squarely on the Congolese army and the responsible authorities."

"If these shocking outrages were not the result of a plan they show complete indiscipline on the part of the Congolese soldiery," the statement said.

The United Nations "will not tolerate such disgraceful behavior toward UN personnel, civil or military," it added.

Meanwhile, a UN spokesman said that Ghanaian UN troops had taken full control of the airport at Luluabourg, where some 300 pro-Lumumba troops moved in Friday.

There were unconfirmed reports that many of the Congolese had laid down their arms. Two senior UN officers were sent to Luluabourg during the weekend to investigate the situation.

Troops from the Communist-recognized regime of Antoine Gizenga in Oriental province also moved into the key Kasai province town of Port Franqui, 350 miles east of Leopoldville, during the weekend.

Congolese sources said the troops were moving south beyond Port Franqui toward Kikwit, 250 miles east of Leopoldville.

Labor Minister Is Honored

PICKERING (CP) — Labor Minister Starr said Sunday night unemployment cannot be alleviated by the federal government alone, but only with the co-operation of all levels of government.

"There has been some misrepresentation in the papers that the government has done all it can to alleviate the problem of unemployment," he said. "This is not true."

Mr. Starr said municipalities and industry must help to solve the problem.

He spoke at a testimonial dinner in his honor. The Progresive Conservative Association in this town 20 miles east of Toronto gave the dinner and presented him with a replica of a 1,000-year-old Indian clay pipe, the original of which was found at the Miller diggins, site of an Indian village, in Pickering Township.

BELLEVILLE LOSES FINAL CHESS MATCH

Belleville took a bad shellacking in the final match of its South Eastern Ontario Chess League schedule, being able to salvage only half a point out of ten games in a match played at Peterborough YMCA on Sunday afternoon. August Doersheln of Picton obtained a draw with Cecil Canham of Peterborough on the second board. The Belleville players lost on eight other boards, while on the tenth board Belleville defaulted. Peterborough thus took the match by a 9½-½ score. Following are the pairings, with the Peterborough player's name being given first in each case: Dusan Kustudic vs. Dick Payne, Cecil Canham vs August Doersheln, Tom Lewis vs Tim Meeus,, Don Day vs Bruce May, Peter Moore vs Willi Hinderele, Rod Milne vs H. J. Jaeckel, Robert Phillips vs Dave Batchelor, Dave Clark vs John Ward, Henry Lang vs Rothwell.

Standard Ward Rate of $20.25 Set by Hospital

A standard ward rate of $20.25 a day at Belleville General Hospital has been authorized by the Ontario Hospital Services Commission, it was announced at last week's meeting of the hospital board of governors.

The rate for semi-private rooms at the hospital is $3.75 additional to the standard ward rate, and private rooms $7.20 additional.

The information authorizing the standard ward rate was received in a letter from the O.H.S.C. which noted the hospital's 1961 budget had been considered.

Board members were advised in the Details of a ne accounting procedure put into effect at the hospital at the first of the year.

Under the new system all postings are controlled by the posting machine and all account cards posted during the day are balanced daily.

It was noted that prior to the institution of the new accounting system procedures for recording charges to patients, revenue and receipts, the accounts receivable and subsidiary ledgers had not been balanced with the controlling accounts.

This meant from an audit point of view there was poor internal control of accounts receivable.

Mr. Werner Daechsel, hospital superintendent paid tribute to Dorothy J. Curson, hospital controller, for her work in setting up the new accounting system which he said had been very necessary.

Hydro Power North of City Cut Off Many Hours Due To Heavy Rain and Wind

Saturday night's wind and rain storm which dumped approximately one inch of rain in the Belleville area caused widespread minor damage toppling TV antennas and chimneys and cutting off hydro power throughout the rural area north of the city.

A burned out transformer at a rural sub station north of the city interrupted power over a wide area with hydro not being completely restored until late Sunday afternoon.

The storm commenced mid-afternoon on Saturday with light rain. The wind gradually increased in velocity until early in the evening it had reached almost gale-like force.

A few minutes before eight Saturday evening the rural sub-station transformer serving a large part of Sidney township and parts of Thurlow burned out turning a big area into darkness. Hydro crews worked throughout the night installing a spare transformer.

The storm also took its toll in television antennas with TV service crews reporting a rush of business this morning.

Saturday night just over .8 inch of rain fell while later in the night 1.8 inches of snow fell, making up just over an inch of precipitation.

Swollen creeks and culverts leading into the Moira River rasied the water level with result that ice in the lower section of the river was broken up and floated down stream.

Today the river is running almost completely open from the Cannifton dam to just below the footbridge, with broken ice jammed between there and the railway bridge.

Officials are keeping a close watch on the river, but it is thought the danger of flood threat is past unless more rain falls and brings the ice down from further upstream.

Despite the gale-like winds there was very little hydro interruption in the city with only one local transformer going out of commission when weakened transformer poles snapped.

Utilities Commission officials suggested their extensive tree trimming program was paying off in fewer hydro interruptions following severe storms.

"Tree trimming is well worth the cost", noted Mr. E. L. Burnham, assistant Utilities commission manager. "It reduces power interruptions and makes it unnecessary to call out hydro emergency crews so often".

No serious traffic accidents were reported as result of the storm, although a city public works employee, Archie McMillan, suffered bruises and a possible dislocated shoulder, when he was struck by a hit-and-run car while placing barricades at the corner of Victoria and Herchimer Ave. The car which struck Mr. McMillan did not stop.

Seek Youth Who Held Up Kingston Store

KINGSTON (CP) — Police continued their invetigation today into the armed hold-up Saturday night of a grocery store proprietor compelled at gunpoint to hand over $450 to a masked youth.

Mrs. Edith McKane, who with her husband has operated the grocery store for 26 years, and an 11-year-old delivery boy, Allan Elford, were in the store at the time.

Works Employee Hurt by Hit-Run Driver Sunday

Belleville city police are searching for a hit and run driver who early Sunday morning struck down a city public works employee as he was checking barricades at the corner of Victoria and Herchimer Avenues.

In Belleville General Hospital with brusises and minor cuts is Archie McMillan, who also suffered a dislocated shoulder in the accident.

Public Works department officials said Mr. McMillan was checking barricades at the corner of Victoria and Herchimer following the heavy rain when he was struck by the passing car. Mr. McMillan saw the approaching car and tried to jump clear but failed to get out of the way in time.

City Engineer Malcolm Turnbull said today there was less flooding as result of Saturday night's storm than was expected. Also there were few limbs and branches down as result of the windstorm.

Nothing Taken In Break-ins At Stirling

Would-be safe-crackers forced their way into two places of business in Stirling Sunday night but apparently were scared away before they could accomplish their purpose.

Entered were the McIntosh and Wells Garage and Morton's Body Shop.

The intruders were believed scared away at McIntosh and Wells where attempts had been made to pry open the safe. Several filing cabinets were also pried open but nothing was believed taken. Entry was made by smashing a rear window.

At Morton's entry was made by smashing a glass in a back door.

Belleville Girl Best Actress In Festival

KINGSTON (CP) — Two awards, best production and best actor, were won by Ottawa's Glebe Collegiate at the 14th annual eastern Ontario secondary school drama festival held Saturday at Queen's University.

The school received the Milburn Trophy for its presentation, A Battle of Wits by Norman Williams. Robert Swain, the 18-year-old director, who also had the role of Shung Tai, was judged best actor.

Lynne Brown, 17, of Belleville was best actress. She played Mme. Dubonnet, the sexy uninhibited headmistress of an exclusive girls' school in Highlights From the Boy Friend. It was the only musical comedy offered.

Seven collegiates from Peterborough, Cobourg, Belleville, Ottawa, Smiths Falls and Brockville participated.

Mme. A. R. C. Duncan, of Kingston, formerly of France, was the adjudicator.

MRS. DAVID E. CLARKE
Carrying Place

A funeral service was conducted Friday afternoon for Mrs. David Emory Clarke, who died at the family residence, Carrying Place, last Tuesday at the age of 85.

Mrs. Clarke, who was a native of England, had been ill for 15 months before her death. She was a highly respected member of the community, and was very active in church work. She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, Carrying Place, and a life member of the Woman's Association of that church and also of St. George's Anglican Church, Trenton.

Mrs. Clarke, who was the former Gertrude Leveridge, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Leveridge. She was educated in Trenton and Belleville schools. She had lived in the Carrying Place district for the past 45 years.

Surviving are two sons, A. James Hewton, Montreal, and Arthur Hewton, Carrying Place; one step-son, Rev. Canon F. C. Clarke, Belle's Corners, Ont., and one step-daughter, Mrs. Norman Kidd, Trenton; nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren; one brother, John Leveridge, Fort Francis, Ont., and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph (Florence) Hanthorne, Brighton and Mrs. Jas. (Katherine) Wilson, Carrying Place. Mrs. Clarke was predeceased by her husband, David Emory Clarke, and by three brothers and one sister.

Mrs. Clarke rested at the Weaver Funeral Home, Trenton, until service, which was conducted by Rev. Alexander Wakeling, rector of St. John's Anglican Church, Carrying Place.

Interment was in Carrying Place cemetery.

Bearers were Alec Campbell, William Hanthorn, Cecil Weatherell, Gerald Trounce, Richard Hewton and James Leveridge.

WILLIAM GORDON BAMBER
(Frankford)

A funeral service was held Saturday at the Rowe Funeral Home, Frankford, for William Gordon Bamber, 41, lifelong resident of the Frankford district who died Thursday in Belleville General Hospital, following a lengthy illness.

The service was conducted by Rev. Gordon Pierce of Full Gospel Tabernacle, Frankford, and, during the service, Mary Ella Grant sang "Beyond the Sunset."

Interment took place in Frankford cemetery.

Bearers were H. J. Carter, Mervin Dafoe, Gladstone Park, Earl Wannamaker, Reginald Simmons and Vernon Smith.

MRS. MAUDE PATRICK

The funeral of Mrs. Maude Patrick was held from the Grant Funeral Home on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Morgan McFarlane conducted the service in the chapel and the committal rites at Belleville Cemetery.

The bearers were Capt. W. M. Bowen, William Miller, George McMurter, Forde Brownson, Carman Sine and W. M. Bowen, Jr.

TERRY McDONALD

The funeral of Terry McDonald was held from the John R. Bush Funeral Home on Saturday afternoon. Archdeacon J. B. Creeggan conducted the service in the chapel and the committal rites in Belleville Cemetery.

The bearers were John St. Pierre, Gordon Wilkinson, Billy Bartley and Larry Wessels.

MRS. JOHN DAVID BAKER
Ameliasburg

Mrs. John David Baker, a resident of the 1st concession of Ameliasburg Township, near Rednersville, for the past dozen years, died suddenly at Belleville General Hospital this morning, a few hours after she had been taken ill.

Mrs. Baker, whose maiden name was Kathleen Nora Hunter, was a daughter of the late Capt. James Hunter and Mrs. Hunter and was born at Kingston. She had lived in Toronto before coming to this district 12 years ago. During her residence here she had made many friends, who will extend their deepest sympathy to her sorrowing husband. Also surviving to mourn her passing are two sisters, Mrs. Addison (Reta) Lloyd, of Belleville, and Mrs. Estelle Barrlage of Rochester, N.Y.

Mrs. Baker was a member of St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, Belleville, and of the Catholic Women's League of that church.

Resting at the John R. Bush Funeral Home; the funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this issue.

Victoria, Grey Trust Bonspiel Much Enjoyed

The Victoria and Grey Trust bonspiel held at the Quinte Curling Club on Saturday brought rinks from Lindsay, Cobourg, Trenton, Kingston, Napanee and the local club and a good time was had by all. At the end of the second game the rinks sat down to a sumptuous dinner provided by the Women's section of the club and the inner man was well satisfied.

A rink of Gil Wamboldt, Vic White and Ernie Sutton skipped by Ernie Wilkinson from the Quinte Club landed home in first place after three eight-end games were played and was closely followed by a rink of Dave Duffy, Bill Holway and Bob Lanning with Charlie Lovett directing the operations also, from the Quinte Club. Morris Booth of Cobourg and Jerry Jarrett's rink, skipped by Jack McArthur were tied for the two-game high and on the flip of the coin, the Cobourg rink won the toss. Mr. Jarrett had Tom Simpson and George Tripp along with Mr. McArthur on his rink.

Jim Sparling of Kingston with Ewart Malcolm, manager of the Victoria and Grey office in that city as vice skip succeeded in winning the one-game high while Norman Ford of Napanee, also with the Trust Company was second. "Bud Trill, manager of the Belleville office presented the trophy to the winning rink and also the other prizes and thanked all for making the bonspiel another successful one. As usual the ice was lightning fast, the curling exceptionally keen and all of the games closely contested.

Stove Pipes Cause Fire

TRENTON — Stove pipes too close to a wall caused a fire in a space heater at the home of J. Clearwater, 138 Lorne Ave. over the weekend. Firemen extinguished the fire quickly however.

Fire Chief Cecil Ellis said this morning that stove pipes should be placed at least 18 inches from a wall.

Trenton fire department also extinguished a stove fire in the home of Edward Holland, 365 Front St., during the weekend. Chief Ellis said that the leading of a flue of an oil burner and a wood stove into the same chimney, as in this case, is not a good thing and is a fire hazard.

Large Limb Falls From Tree, Damages Car

TRENTON — Wilbert Barrie, 37 King St., Cobourg, was driving his car along Baptiste Street here over the weekend when a large limb fell from a tree, damaging his car.

Dr. William Gray, of Trenton, was backing his car into a parking space near the Hotel Gilbert when his car was hit from behind by another vehicle, which, he said, did not stop. Damage was slight.

A rear-end collision between a car driven by Charles Muskett, 62 Kerr Crescent, and one driven by Harry Peter, RCAF Station Trenton, caused $250 damage. Mr. Muskett was going east on Dundas Street, E., and had the turn indicator out on his car with the intention of turning into South Street. Mr. Peters failed to see that the car was stopping. A collision resulted.

Scouts, Guides Hold Service In Theatre

TRENTON — Scout Week in Trenton culminated in the annual Scout-Guide Own service at the Odeon Theatre yesterday afternoon.

Speaker at the service was Rev. D. C. McLelland of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Trenton, who told the youngsters that their uniforms stand for a number of things: for good instruction, because their leaders give them the best instruction possible; for good leadership as well, because this is very important.

It is easy for a young person to follow bad leadership by mistake, Mr. McLelland said. Scout and Guide uniforms also stand for co-operation, and for the appreciation of outdoor things, the preservation of rare forms of wildlife and the beauties of the woods.

J. C. Dobbie, chairman of the Trenton District Boy Scouts Council, thanked Mr. McLelland for his address.

Earlier in the service, after the colors had been presented by a Scout and Guide, Samuel Mowbray, Scout District Commissioner, spoke briefly on Scouting. Mayor James MacDonald reminded Scouts and Guides of their high calling as members of the Scouting movement.

Renewals of promises were given by Mrs. W. G. Critchell, Brownies; Miss Eva Baker, First Trenton Air Rangers, for Guides and Rangers; (Assistant) District Commissioner Philip Simmons for Cubs and District Rover Leader James Page for Scouts and Rovers.

Following a silver collection, which is to be used for the Girl Guide Friendship Fund and the Boy Scout Brotherhood Fund, J. E. Parker introduced the speaker.

The singing of Canada and the parading of the colors brought the service to a close.

Bishop Evans Confirms 50 Anglicans

TRENTON — Bishop K. C. Evans of Kingston diocese confirmed 50 p e r s o n s at St George's Anglican Church yesterday.

Rev. K. F. Blachford, rural dean of Hastings and rector of St. George's, together with Rev. R. G. Brant, bishop's chaplain and curate of St. George's, assisted the bishop.

In his address ,the bishop reminded the confirmation candidates of their obligations as followers of Christ. He recalled his visit to Palestine as a student and described the spot where the first disciples had been called.

Those confirmed were: John Ahern, Wayne Armstrong, Jas. Bedford, Robert B u r f o r d, Frederick Burrows, Alfred Deluney, Allan Ferguson, William Field, Robert Gunter, Grant Harper, David Hinton, Sherwin Kenny, Robert Leland, Alfred Leland, Jon Magnusen, George McGowan, Bruce McNeil, David Reid, Douglas Reid, Derek Seeley, Allan Smith, Donald S m i t h, Richard Southwell, William Sunstrom, Robert Taylor, Geoffrey Uttley, Jean Barlow, Lorna Batten, Ellen Bell, Jean Benham, Mildred Bennett, Barbara Coad, Enid Cole, Bennie Cook, Elizabeth Cowtan, Lois Field, Sharon Hilton, Marian Jamieson, Margaret Kenny, Pamela Long, Margaret Mace, Isabella Marchese, Joanne McNeil, Paula Nielson, Penelope Palidwar, Heather Palset, Victoria R o b e r t s, Elizabeth Wheeler, Carol Wilson and Karen Woodacre.

Karen and Lyndie Copeland, 102 West Street Trenton, display the glee that the thought of $150,000 worth of lollipops conjures up. The money they have clutched in their hands amounted to that sum in the good old days. It includes Greek, German, French and Mexican bills.

Both girls are keeping a tight hold on the centre bill, a treasury note for $100,000 issued by the Confederate States of American in 1864. The bills are part of a collection owned by their father, Bert Copeland.

Coming Saturday

Fisheries Chief Will Address RCAF Parley

Fisheries Minister G. Angus MacLean will be the principal speaker at a banquet at 6 Repair Depot, Saturday night, when members of 418 (Belleville) Wing, RCAF Association, are hosts to the Association's 1961 Ontario Group convention.

Dr. MacLean, a native of Lewis, P.E.I., in the county of Queens, has represented that constituency in the House of Commons since 1951.

Born on May 15, 1914, he is descended from ancestors who emigrated from Scotland to P.E.I. in 1837. He holds bachelor of science and doctor of laws degrees from Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., and attended the University of British Columbia at Vancouver.

From 1939 Dr. MacLean served overseas with the RCAF and for three months, in 1944, successfully evaded capture when his aircraft was shot down behind enemy lines in Europe. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and was discharged from the RCAF in 1947 with the rank of wing commander. His RCAF service from 1946 until his discharge was as head of a government mission to establish records of missing allied airmen in Europe.

He is a member of the United Services Officers Club, Charlottetown, P.E.I., t h e RCAF Association, the RAF Escaping Society and the Masonic Order. He is also a member of the Board of Regents of Mount Allison University.

Dr. MacLean was a candidate in the federal elections of 1945 and 1949 and was first elected to parliament in a by-election on June 25, 1951. Subsequently, he was re-elected in the elections of 1953, 1957 and 1958.

Parkdale Ratepayers Ask Widening of College Street And Provision of Guards

An angry and indignant body of ratepayers, numbering over 200, from the Parkdale district of the city gathered at the community Centre in that area on Sunday to protest the failure of the city council to alleviate the water hazards on College Street and also the failure to widen the street and put in sidewalks so that the children going to schools in that area would be protected from allegedly speeding traffic on the narrow thoroughfare.

The president of the Parkdale Ratepayers' Association, Sam Cales, was in the chair and was assisted by Charles Keeble and the secretary. The hall was filled to overflowing and during the course of the meeting m a n y suggestions were made as to how to approach the problem the district is confronted with. Finally, the meeting agreed to a resolution that will be submitted to the council at its session this afternoon, backed by a large delegation of the ratepayers.

The resolution, movid by James Sisler and seconded by Ron Lupenette, asked that a "four-way stop be made at the corner of Lamoine and College Streets, that the widening of College Street be proceeded with at once, that all necessary guards be placed immediately along the street as long as the danger exists and that permanent guards be placed at Lemoine Street and North Front St. at once."

The resolution was unanimously passed and after the meeting those volunteering to attend the council meeting elected H. F. Leach as their spokesman for the occasion. The ratepayers will meet again at the Centre on Wednesday evening to receive a report from the delegation.

SCHOOL STRIKE POSSIBLE

It was proposed at the meeting that if measures are not immediately taken to remedy the situation on College St., the children be withdrawn from the Separate, Public and High Schools in the area. This suggestion brought some protest from the audience but when the vote was put there were only two dissenters.

In opening the meeting Mr. Cales stated it was unfortunate that the meeting had to be called and the Association tendered deepest regret to Mr. and Mrs. McDonald in the loss of their son.

"We can do nothing about it now," said the speaker, "but it should not happen again. We realize that kids are kids and if things amuse them they are in it but hazards should be kept as far away as possible." The chairman reviewed the communications between the Association and the councils of the city and Thurlow township over the years and summed it all up by saying "How long must we wait before another tragedy happens?"

Mr. Keeble stated that the council lost interest when the cost was considered and it was found that College Street was wholly within the confines of Thurlow township and when annexation came things ground to a halt. Mr. Keeble thanked the Ontario Intelligencer for the strong editorials that were written on the subject. "If there had been a school guard on duty at the time this little lad would be living today," said the speaker, "and we must give strong support and no matter what action is taken it will cost us some money."

NEED GUARD

In speaking of guards at the traffic light on North Front Street, one mother stated that children scoot across the intersection and cut across the ground in front of buildings regardless of the light and there should be a guard there to control and direct them. Someone suggested that members of the council be invited to a meeting but another member stated "it is easy to get them up here but their answers are generally evasive." Speeding on College and Sidney Street was also discussed but to the meeting the immediate problem was "water" and it was urged that a guard be placed at Lemoine Street at least until the water subsides.

SAYS BOY NOT DROWNED

A member stated that he had learned that the autopsy on Terry McDonald had shown that the young boy had died from a fractured skull sustained when he fell and that there was little water in his lungs. Turning to the guard question again, a woman from the audience suggested that "they were not doing too much in council and probably some of the aldermen could come up and do guard duty." Another suggested the parents could keep their children home from school and then probably the council would do something. "That is a rough one and probably would not be 100 per cent" said a member, but a resolution came from the floor to this effect and there were only two dissenters.

Mr. Cales then suggested that all the talking be put into a concise resolution for presentation to council and after working for some time the resolution quoted previously was unanimously adopted. Suggestions were also made that probably the problem could be solved under the Drainage Act and some members stated they would be willing to follow the suggestion and see what relief could be obtained under this measure. After the meeting adjourned small knots of people gathered outside the hall to talk over the situation and all were agreed that something tangible had to be done to try and avert further tragedies in the area.

UNGUARDED CULVERTS — Mammoth culverts across College Street are h e r e guarded by Parkdale mother, Mrs. Joseph Reddick, as she watches children on way to school. Following last week's drowning accident, Parkdale residents will make formal demand to city council tonight for regular school guards.

MOTHERS ON GUARD — In support of their demands for regular school guards along traffic-congested College Street, Parkdale mothers turned out this morning to escort children across traffic and to guard them against water-filled ditches and culverts. Mrs Don Stoughton is seen escorting children at school crossing.

Hour of Decision in Africa

Not since the darkest days of the war has any British Government faced such a momentuous decision as that which may lie ahead of Prime Minister Macmillan's regime in dealing with the Central African Federation.

The British Government has proposed widening the franchise in Northern Rhodesia, by relaxing, but not eliminating, property, income and educational qualifications. This would increase the number of Negroes qualified to vote Sir Roy Welensky, Prime Minister of the Federation, opposes this and may seek a mandate to break all ties with the Crown. The situation is complicated by the fact that Southern Rhodesia is already self-governing, while Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland are colonies Welensky, though, will not permit any breakup of the Federation. The British Government says it is determined to implement its proposals. The Negroes, though far from satisfied, have indicated they will accept the reforms as a first step towards eventual political equality with the whites.

If Welensky tries to throw off British control, what steps will Macmillan take? That is a question which may decide the future of the white man, not in the Central African Federation alone but throughout the continent.

If the Government, by force, imposes its will on the white settlers, at least in Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland, then perhaps racial partnerships will prove feasible.

But if Welensky has his way and the white minority, by force, retains supremacy, then nowhere in those parts of Africa which still lack independence will the Negroes have any reason to place faith in assurances of peaceful evolution. Even in those areas which have been granted freedom, in Ghana and Nigeria and the numerous independent republics of the French Community established by de Gaulle, the white man will face a rising tide of hate.

It is a terrible choice which the members of the British Government may be forced to make—turning guns against their own flesh and blood in a foreign clime or permitting a course which will inevitably lead to a blood-bath—but it is a choice which will be unavoidable if Welensky persists in his present position.

Given enough Welenskys, there is not a white throat in Africa which may not one day be cut, for unless the white man accepts racial partnership today we may be certain the black man will reject it tomorrow.

Even now it is a question whether the British Government's moderate proposals are not already another case of too little, too late.

It Helps To Be Crazy

Controller William Dennison of Toronto suggested the other day that "there should be medical and psychiatric tests before marriage licences are given."

Before anyone rushes to criticize this suggestion, as a further invasion of the liberties of the individual, let him consider what happened to an Oakville man.

He swore at his wife because she provided only hot dogs to their two sons for dinner. Thereupon he was charged and convicted under the Juvenile Delinquents' Act of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

When this kind of thing can happen, we suggest that a psychiatric test is advisable before marriage—and that only if a man or woman fails to pass the test should he or she be considered qualified for the role of bringing up a family.

Seriously, though, while Controller Dennison's suggestion was made as the result of considerable provocation, in the form of evidence of "one of the dirtiest and filthiest families in the city of Toronto," it needs to be examined in the light of already existing invasions of common sense. True, the Oakville man's conviction was quashed on appeal by Chief Justice McRuer, with F. L. Wilson of the Attorney General's Department agreeing there is no suggestion that every time a parent is profane he is contributing to juvenile delinquency. That, though, does not alter the fact that a magistrate convicted the Oakville man, gave him a suspended sentence and that the accused father actually spent two days in jail. How many Belleville fathers—or mothers for that matter—can honestly say they have never sworn in the presence of their offspring? It is literally true today that there are so many laws that it is almost impossible for the average citizen to get through a normal day without breaking one of them.

Says Trees Block Lemoine St. View

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer,

Would you please print this as it should help prevent more deaths if someone could do something about the matter which I am about to write here and now.

We have lost our second child in our Parkdale area at the end of Lemoine Street, a most tragic death, a death that touches the hearts of all of us out here.

Now there is a great cry for a traffic officer and sewers which most certainly are needed.

However, I know full well those things will come in time, I am writing to see if someone could do something about that forest of pine trees on the right hand side of Lemoine Street which blocks the view of traffic on College Street. Must we wait until two cars collide here before we cry to have this menace removed? As it is, a driver has to creep out and sneak a peak before going out and if a car is coming quite fast there, it is most dangerous. We have had two unnecessary deaths here; let's not have any more. Drivers, put some complaints in to have the grove of trees put back where it belongs.

Dropped Zeroes Make Figures Conflicting

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.

In your report of Mr. Jaenecke's speech before the Canadian Club in your Feb 22 issue I would like to point out a few errors which concern the restitution figures of the Federal Republic of West Germany towards the state of Israel. I happened to attend the meeting, too, and remember these figures absolutely sure, apart from direct information from German newspapers. In the second column of your article it should read correctly:

"Already $6,000,000,000 has been made to the Jews" and later on. "In compensation, Germany has paid $2,000,000,000; 500,000,000 to Israel and $2, 400,000,000 still to be paid which are but a part".

In three of four sets of figures mentioned above, three zeroes each have been missing, which must be quite misleading for the uninformed reader, apart from the fact that the wrong figures did not make much sense in relation to each other.

Seeks Information About Leavens Bros.

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer:

I am compiling a history of Canadian aviation with emphasis on the commercial activities of the 1920's and 1930's. I would be grateful if your readers could help to fill in some of the historical background in your part of Canada. The operations of the Leavens Brothers at Belleville in the 1920's would be of particular use to me.

If any interested persons could correspond with me, or loan photographs of people and aircraft associated with flying in Canada, I would appreciate hearing from them.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

February 27th, 1941

Under the auspices of the Belleville Bowling Club a bridge and euchre was held in Alberta Hall last evening, a goodly number of ardent bowlers attending to resume a bowling acquaintance around the social tables. The prize winners were: bridge—Mrs. C. R. Clapp, Mrs. S. Jose, Mr. Wm. Coulby and Mr. P C. McGuire. Euchre—Mrs J. Neate, Mrs. E. Vanner, Alf. Symons and Ernie Vanner.

Mrs. W. R. Sweetman has returned to her home in Hespeler, Ont., after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Duminie for two weeks.

Mr. William Leslie will leave on Sunday for Lariviere and Carroll in Manitoba, where he will spend a month visiting friends and relatives.

Miss Ira Richards and Miss Alice Scott of Queen's University, are visiting the parents of the former, Mr. and Mrs R. Richards of John Street, for the week-end.

Mr. Gerald Connors has assumed his duties as freight agent at Deseronto.

Mrs. K. R. Vivian of Shannonville, was elected as a district representative at the annual meeting in Toronto, of the Women's Division, Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies.

Tax collection discounts are being given consideration by the city council. Many years ago there was a system in vogue here whereby prepayment was allowed a discount Some such system may be devised to deal with early payments of installments, allowing the taxpayers a discount which is about the equivalent to the saving at the bank which this money would bring the city in the way of interest on loans.

The city engineer has been instructed by the city council to prepare as soon as possible, a blue print or plan of the city showing all property owned by the city, and also of lots on the water front from the Government dock to the easterly limits of the city, and to show by whom they are owned.

Mr. E. T. Austin, manager of the local waterworks system will attend the waterworks convention to be held inWindsor, Ont., on March 10th to 13th.

The Belleville hockey team played the Toronto Varsity team in that city and the result was a tie, the final score being 3 to 3. Handicapped by a surface of artificial ice larger than that to which they are accustomed and up against a team which was determined to win in its own town, our boys held the Varsity team to a tie and thus won the round by four goals. Daw Whalen and Gunner Arnott scored one each for Belleville; Weir scored a goal, but it was counted off side. At the beginning of the last period the score was 3 to 1 in favor of Varsity, and it was in that period that Belleville tied the score. Now the Belleville boys are out to defeat Collingwood. The following composed the Belleville team: goal—Boland; right defence—Goyer; left defence—Green centre—Arnott; right wing—Whalen; left wing—Weir; subs, Hagerman and Swayne. Tom Munro handled the game in his usual satisfactory manner.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR EARL L. DOUGLASS

MAKE THE MOST OF IT

The other morning I sat down in the coffee shop with two acquaintances who were already there.

I felt lucky to see one of them, as he is a hard man to catch, and I had wanted for some time to talk with him. Probably few mornings go by without his taking time for coffee but his coffee breaks are short ones, fitted in between a job well done and another which doubtless will be well done soon after he gets back to it. He is a man who gets a lot done and has a good time out of life, too — and does not seem to find those two aims unreconcilable.

But I was not surprised to see the other man. Indeed, I would have been surprised not to see him, for almost any time of day he is to be found there over a cup of coffee. He is always flatteringly eager to see a friend, for he hates to be alone. He needs to have someone to listen to his complaints: he feels that life has not treated him very well. When he works — if he works — no one knows. He is the local record-holder for wasting time — and yet all his leisure has not made him happy.

> Ah, make the most of what > we yet may spend
> Before we too into the Dust > descend.

What this guy needs is not a coffee break but a good hard jolt which will awaken him to the true state of life's facts. Sipping coffee won't do it.

Strictly Personal

Artists Harsh In Criticizing One Another

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

It always amuses me when performers of any sort publicly attack the critics for being "harsh" on performing artists. For nobody can be harsher than the artists are on one another in private.

Not long ago, I was playing bridge with a distinguished British actor when Maurice Evans appeared in a TV presentation of "Macbeth." Evans did a mediocre job, but the actor lashed into him with a scorn and fury that no critic would have dared to put into print.

Music critics are often accused of intemperate judgments, but during the many summers I spend at the Aspen Musical Festival, the musicians themselves tore each other's performances apart with a vicious delight that made most music critics seem like little furry white kittens.

As for critics "disagreeing" on the caliber of a performance — which seems, to the public, to prove that one or the other doesn't know what he is talking about — the best pro-disagreed among themselves on whether the Beethoven was properly done or whether the quartet really understood the heart of Schubert.

Most painters privately despise the work of other painters who paint in a different style or belong to another "school". Yet the critic who voices his contempt is met with a solid phalanx of opposition because the artistic fraternity, like the medical and legal and all other fraternities, feels bound to stand united against a common enemy.

Most of the attacks against the critics that are made by professional artists are hypocritical. Of course there are critics who are ignorant, arrogant and vindictive; but so are many performers. The ratio of agreement among them is no greater than among the critics.

A good case could be made out, indeed, that the "harder" the critic the more valuable and permanent is his contribution to the art. The drama critics we remember are men lik Nathan and Broun and Hammond and Benchley — all of whom were considered "tough" in their time, which means they were hard to please. The "soft" critics are forgotten.

Bernard Shaw was perhaps the toughest music and drama critic England has ever produced: but his reiviews helped to revolutionize the English Artistic scene at the turn of the century. And eventually, his high standards won the respect of all genuine artists everywhere. For he was bold enough to say in print what they had conspired to keep from the public — that the second-rate is never good enough.

Mao Decides To Ease Pace

The Times of London

First things first in hard times, the Chinese have sensibly admitted. For China the first thing in this time of hardship is to grow more food — and to that end the co-operation of a contented peasant is necessary.

Such realism seems to underlie the brief report of the recent meeting of the Communist party's central committee, the first meeting for eighteen months.

Ideology and organization have receded to allow more emphasis on human needs and a fair reward for work. At the same time the pace of industrial development is to be slackened.

For a country that claims to be second of the world's coal producers and sixth of its steel producers such a slowing down means no relegation to the league of the underdeveloped.

Three years of the great leap forward have overstrained the country's economy and a respite is imperative.

The central committee does not put it in this fashion, of course, since policy is never anything but correct. Though there is a shift away from revolutionary innovation, those who dispute policies can still be sharply rebuked.

Over nine-tenths of the people are behind the government, we are told, but among the "landlord and bourgeois elements" who have seized on the difficulties of a disastrous harvest to foment opposition there are some, it appears, who seem to be conducting their opposition from within the government ranks.

So further party rectification is already in progress

The call for a "free and complete airing of views" will not mean a return to the open forums of 1957, though in rural organization the government may still find it necessary to concede as well as to repress.

Some of this opposition within the party must survive from the 1959 campaign against rightists. This is implied by the only innovation to come from the meeting.

Six bureaus of the central committee, distributed among the same six regions into which China was divided when the new government was first consolidating its power, are now to help weld power, government and people togther.

Unity may have been restored at the centre, but provincial independance, always a danger at times of disaster. may have been flickering up.

Yet, no matter how opposition is pacified or won over the contrast between China's external and internal policies becomes greater.

One document puts its seal on the Moscow Communist manifesto with a chorus of revolutionary trumpets. Inside China the trumpets are muted.

THE PACKSACK

BY GREGORY CLARK

There is a sort of pathos about young manhood. We usually associate pathos with childhood, or even youth; or with old age. But there is a peculiarly poignant pathos about one of those tall lean young shock-headed and skilled drivers, maybe twenty-two years of age, whipping in and out of traffic with that air of calm assurance that reminds you of a cowboy on a cayuse in a TV drama. Leaning back with easy-muscled audacity, with perhaps only the one hand on the steering wheel, he whistles past other cars, turing out, turning in, with an almost exquisite sense of timing. His foot on the brake is every bit as sensitive as his hand on the wheel; his touch on the accelerator is as swift and delicate as his glance out the rear-view mirror. One by one, two by two, even three by three, he leaves all his fellow motorists behind. He is skilled. He is in the glory and strength of young manhood. He is not a motorist. He is a dancer, an artist.

And then — crrruuUUNCH!

Bewildered, flushed, towsled rather than shock-headed, and even tearful, the astonished young man, no longer assured, bails out of his car, all smashed against the other car, and yammers pitiably at his victim.

At a generous estimate, I would say real skill comes to a man in his thirties, as a rule.

To Your Good Health

Coronary Thrombosis Doesn't Occur in Healthy People

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can coronary thrombosis be considered a freak happening? Can it occur in a perfectly healthy person?

"A blood clot forms somewhere and happens to plug up a heart artery, or is there a malfunctioning somewhere in the body that causes it?

"What can be done to protect against it? Also, if it is a freak happening, why does it usually occur in people over 40? Also are there many people with clots in the body, but they simply don't happen to hit the heart artery? — J. B."

No, it's by no means a freak. I have no doubt that many other people have the same heart attacks such as you cite often seem to strike healthy people.

The answer, however, is that a coronary thrombosis (clogging of the coronary artery, feeding heart muscle) does not occur in a perfectly healthy person.

Some hardening of the arteries is almost always present. The walls of the arteries have. over the years, become more or less thickened. This may be considerable or it may be moderate. ometimes we find that at some point an artery may have been reduced to a fraction of its original size. Obviously such a reduced passageway can become plugged much more readily.

For another thing, what about the clot that clogs the artery? No, it isn't a matter of clots drifting around in everbody's bloodstream, and a lethal gamble as to whether they lodge somewhere. If there is a clot afloat (we call it an embolus) it has originated in some deseased or otherwise distrubed site somewhere in the body. It may, perhaps, have been at some distance. Otherwise it originates fairly close to the spot where it lodges, when a thrombosis occurs.

Furthermore, some fault in the blood chemistry may increase the clotting potential of the blood. There may be an excess of supply of blood cells, as in polycythemia, to name one.

Still further, some factor may tend to constrict the already encrusted arteries. ome drugs have varying effects. Nicotine is known to constrict some of the smaller blood vessels; it is difficult to find out for certain what effect, or how much effect, smoking may have on the coronary arteries, but we certainly have strong suspicions, and stopping smoking seems a thoroughly wise move when one has had a coronary thrombosis.

Let me point out that such coronary attacks are not limited to people past 40. Admittedly they are rare in young people, but they have been reported in young people and even children. It isn't just age — but age brings or fosters some of the conditions involved.

What can be done to guard against a coronary thrombosis? I'll have some things to say about that tomorrow.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter, 11, compalined of a sore knee. The doctor said it was Osgood Schlatter's disease. Will this spread to other joints in the body? Can it be cured or is one handicapped for life? — Mrs. G.E."

This disease is a disorder which affects the knee end of the tibia, or large bone of the lower leg. For whatever reason, this is something we occasionally find in adolescents, not in others. It does not spread to other bones, it heals with rest and does not "handicap for life."

Earth Not Swelling

New York Herald Tribune

General relief will doubtlessly greet the assertion by a pair of physists in California that the earth is not getting any larger. The two scientists, who are attached to the United States Geographical Survey have taken issue with an old theory that the planet has been slowly expanding over the centuries like an inflated balloon. Actually, they say, the earth is just the same size as it was 200,000,000 years ago, and is likely to remain so.

This may come as bad news to ranch-house project developers in search of new acreage, but the majority of others are likely to be satisfied. Most of us, as a matter of fact, have been accustomed to telling one another that it's a small world, and some of the more thoughtful have been known to observe wisely that it seems to be getting smaller all the time. So the possibility that it was actually increasing in size, which had been held quietly in scientific circles for many years, might have been startling indeed had it been known more generally.

Actually the mere thought of the circumference of the earth being able to contract or expand, much like a human waistline, is in itself something to ponder. World conditions are uneasy enough as it is without worrying about whether the continents are getting a bit restive beneath one's feet.

A larger earth might offer certain advantages, a smaller one might be easier to cope with. But all in all, most of us will be satisfisd if our planet just goes on holding its own.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE OPEN DOOR

I love open doors — to my home, my office, the great doors of cathedrals. All doors have a purpose behind them.

From two of my office windows I look down upon a great cathedral below. It gives out a silent invitation, inviting me to enter and get peace and spiritual relaxation. Church and cathedral doors are always opened to thousands of people hoping for new light and sympathetic approach to their problems. I never pass one of them without feeling I am receiving a blessing, and a new viewpoint on life.

When I feel troubled and lonely I like to feel I can silently talk with God.

Doors — what a symbol of life — opening and closing!

Every time we do something worth while a door opens and we are led into a new test of what we are. But every time we fail to go ahead, every time we refuse to rise when we are down, a door closes behind us, and we are left worse than alone.

I like to walk through a home that has many doors — all open. I like to feel when I talk with my friend that he, or she, has an 'open door' heart.

How often we close against ourselves the most welcoming door, through failure to appreciate or to understand, until it is too late.

When a voice behind a door tells us to enter, we have to do our part — we must reach out for the knob of that door, and open it.

Not all doors are going to be opened to us, but perhaps there may be something about our 'knock' that will open the door most desired—at the moment when we least expect.

The open door offers each one of us so much. Open doors lead us to pleasant pastures, and under the glittering stars of night. God's equipment is partly Open Doors — to every thing of beauty!

Boy Carried Through Long Tile by Water

PICTON — Falling into a swollen creek, ten-year-old Jack Broadbent was carried through a 12-foot long 30-inch tile beneath a road, and lived to tell the tale. He suffered a cut on the head.

A member of the Cubs, Broadbent was rescued by two Boy Scouts, Terry Foley and Dennis Renaud, both 12, who were returning home from St. Gregory's school. They waded into the rushing stream and grabbed Broadbent after he came through the tile. They had seen him fall in and disappear into the muddy waters, several feet deep. Broadbent used his own training as a Cub to guide himself through the narrow tile and did not give way to panic. He has taken swimming lessons with other Cubs and was able to help himself to some extent.

There are two tiles which pass beneath the road leading to Mount Olivet cemetery and Broadbent was lucky in that he passed through the one which was free of obstruction. The other was partly filled with ice and he would have been caught in it.

The stream, swollen by recent rains and melting snow, runs behind the houses on the west side of York street and drains a section of the sloping hillside of MacAuley's Mountain, and joins the river which runs through the town marsh.

Broadbent's chief concern, after spending a day in bed, was that he has lost one of the rubber boots which he was wearing for the first time. His immersion in the icy cold waters left no ill effects. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Broadbent, Sr. who reside on John Street.

Three Toronto Men Arrested After Break-In

PICTON — Three Toronto men have been arrested and lodged in Prince Edward county jail at Picton, charged with breaking and entering and intent to rob. They are Herbert Halstead, 47, 1887 Queen St. E., Donald Diette, 40, 237 Dovercourt Road and George Cook, 37, 34 Grant Street.

The men were apprehended at Brighton by OPP just over an hour after Picton police provided descriptions of the car and panel truck. They appeared before Thomas Walker, J.P., and were remanded.

Town constable Scott Hele received a call at 5.30 on Friday from Norman Whattam, 12 Main Street West, that three men in a panel truck had left Sun Joy Canning Factory on Lake St. Whattam, bookkeeper for the company, from the window of his home had seen one of the men make several trips from the truck to the factory. He drove to the plant and met the truck in the lane when it was leaving. The driver told him and Mrs. Whattam that they had been stuck near the plant. Whattam got a good description of the men and also wrote down the licence number.

Investigation revealed wet tracks leading from a window in the plant to a pile of canned goods, and then through a door with a catch lock on the inside. It is believed six or ten cases of canned goods were taken and some other large object which Mr. Whattam could not identify from the distance at which he watched the men. It was also revealed that the licence plate on the truck was registered as being for a tow truck owned by a Toronto firm.

The men were apprehended on Hightway 2 at Brighton at 6.40 p.m. but no canned goods were found in the vehicle. Constable Allan Marvin was detailed by Chief of Police George Pitt to go to Brighton to pick up the suspects. He was accompanied by County Constable Earl Marvin of Wellington who was investigating the theft of a quantity of brass in that village earlier the same afternoon.

"You said half-yearly. Two thousand every six months," Ken commented. "Suits me."

Steve nodded. "You could have that, with a raise of a hundred every six months," he declared. "Or maybe you'd prefer to start annually at four thousand, with an annual raise of four hundred."

Ken knew very well which scheme he preferred! What would you have said?

Shell test drivers add a "fifth wheel" to their cars for precise distance measurement during mileage tests. It helps them record performance to a decimal point.

BULLETIN:

Shell discloses the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell — and the remarkable things they do to give your car top performance

Super Shell, with 9 ingredients, is now in Belleville. Today's formula contains a new aviation grade of TCP. Read how this improved version of Shell's world-patented additive increases mileage, releases power, and helps your car give top performance

TODAY, every Shell dealer in this area has remarkable Super Shell in his pumps.

A notice in each Shell service station promises that this gasoline will give your car top performance. Shell's scientists want you to know why they can make this promise.

Ingredient #1 is TCP for power, mileage and longer plug-life

Super Shell now contains an even better version of this famous additive. It was originally developed for use in aviation gasoline.

TCP additive can give your car up to 15 per cent more power; 17 extra miles per tankful; and make your plugs last twice as long.*

New TCP does this by neutralizing the harmful effects of engine deposits. It stops them from glowing when hot — a major cause of power loss.

It also stops them from diverting your spark — a major cause of "missing".

Ingredient #2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 1000-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into much lighter, livelier ones.

The result is a high-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst — a substance that has the mysterious ability to alter molecules without changing itself.

Ingredient #3 contains heavy alkanes—for both power and economy at all speeds

Shell scientists will tell you that gasoline can be too sensitive.

That's their unflattering description of a "touchy" gasoline that performs perfectly well when you're driving slowly, but causes knock and loss of power when you speed up.

So they put an ingredient into Super Shell's formula that is prized for its insensitivity.

This ingredient is rich in heavy alkanes — hydrocarbons that keep octane ratings high enough to give you plenty of knock-free power at all speeds.

NOTE: Heavy alkanes also help to lower your fuel consumption. Your engine can use them up slowly — and still give you all the power you need.

Ingredient #4 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough to assure knock-free performance. But Shell's scientists have ears like musicians.

They insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix, so effective, one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by seven points.

This mix has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push — rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

Ingredient #5 is butane for quick starts on cold mornings

By itself, butane is so volatile that it will actually boil at temperatures low enough to freeze water. In Super Shell, it helps your engine fire in seconds. Think what this means on cold days. Your battery is relieved of strain — and so is your patience.

NOTE: Super Shell is primed with butane all year round. In winter, Shell scientists simply increase the quick-start dose.

Ingredient #6 is a mixture of pentanes for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split logs into kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" to quick-firing "kindling".

NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

Ingredient #7 is an "anti-icer" to stop stalling due to carburetor icing

Super Shell's formula is adjusted up to eight times a year for your area to beat the weather. Whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, an anti-ice ingredient is added.

Why add an anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can choke your engine dead.

Ingredient #8 is a special gum preventive to keep the fuel system clean

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This can clog carburetors, fuel lines, and pumps. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry. A special gum preventive does the trick.

It acts like a policeman controlling a mob. Keeps an eye on any unstable elements — stops them from clotting and forming gum. Super Shell makes gummed-up engines a thing of the past.

Ingredient #9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage

It takes one million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce its Platformate. But fortunately for you and for us, this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum process, which gives Platformate its odd name, re-forms petroleum into super-energy components — such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 7 per cent more useful energy per gallon than the best 100-octane aviation gasoline.

But make no mistake. This is not untamed energy. Far from it. The super-energy of Platformate is harnessed by the eight other ingredients in Super Shell, where it behaves so well you scarcely know it's there. That is until you note your extra mileage. After that, there is no doubt.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs.

That difference is top performance.

These rubber-gloved hands are placing a piece of sensitized film on top of a radio-active piston head. This produces a "radio autograph" from which Shell's scientists can study the nature and location of engine deposits. Research such as this helps Shell develop products that insure top performance from every size and shape of engine. New, improved TCP is a typical example.

Mrs. Jay Ross, North Park Street, received word on Friday night of the death of her nephew, Mr. Elbert Allan Ross, of Toronto. Mr. Ross was a former resident of Halloway, Ontario.

GIRL GUIDE, BROWNIE NEWS

Company 7 started this year with a weekend camp at the campsite at Waupoos on October 14, 15 and 16, with eight girls attending. On October 22, election of patrol leaders took place with the following results: Karen Belsey, Lily patrol; Kathleen Cleary, Forget-me-not patrol; Ericka Featherstone, Trillium patrol; Cheryl Deline, Holly patrol; Elaine McBride, Daffodil patrol; Lynda Wagner, Rose patrol.

A Hallowe'en party was held, games being played, and a ghost story told by Heather Boyle. Prizes were given for the best costumes.

A Flying-Up ceremony was held on December 6th, with Brown Owl Joan Watkins and Tawny Owl Helen Craighead, and Brownies from Pack 2, and Brown Owl Agnes Cleary and Brownies from Pack 6. Margaret Lewis and Marilyn Richardson flew up from Pack 2 and Margaret Ann Cleary from Pack 6.

For their Christmas project the Guides decided to make up hampers of food for the needy families supported by the Children's Aid Society. A sleigh-ride was held at the farm of Mr. G. Boldrick, R.R. 2, Tweed, on January 6th. Hot dogs and cocoa were served afterwards by Mrs. Boldrick and leaders.

Thanks were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Boldrick for their kind invitation.

An enrollment ceremony was held on January 10th and the following Guides were welcomed into the World of Guiding — Marilyn Richardson, Margaret Lewis, Margaret Ann Cleary and Susan Uens.

Heather Boyle, Maureen Thompson, Mary Pigden, Sylvia Smith have passed their Secnod Class badges; Heather Boyle also passed her Swimmer's badge.

Captain: Mrs. A. M. Steenburg; Lieutenants: Mrs. A. H. Wagner, Miss S. Boldrick and Mrs. P. Foster.

Club Activities

FRANKFORD CA's

FRANKFORD — Frankford Full Gospel Tabernacle C.A.'s met on February 24th. The vice-president, Gordon Smith, was in charge of the meeting, opening with the C.A. chorus and Mrs. A. Fisher led in prayer. President Mr. Keith Helm read the Scripture reading, Psalm 37: 1-15. The Bible quiz between chosen teams: the girls' team, Winnie Helm, Barbara Smith and Sandra Purvis, defeated the boys' team, Glen Post, James Curry and Murray Stacey.

Miss Connie Wood and Mr. Jerry Wager of EPBC, rendered a vocal duet, "Inside Those Pearly Gates."

The usherettes, Miss Linda Fisher and Miss Gloria Reilly received the evening offering.

Miss Joanne Shepherd rendered a vocal solo "Crown of Thorns." Mrs. Gordon Smith read an article "The Beginning of Pentecost in Canada" and led a questionnaire on "Pentecost." Mr. Gordon Smith read an article on "Spirit or Sputnik" and the service closed.

Impressions Of Europe, Topic at W.A.

The Woman's Association of Bridge St. United Church held its Feburary meeting on Friday with the president, Mrs. W. T. Anderson, presiding.

During the business period, Miss Helen Sulman read several letters of thanks and Mrs. C. MacDonald, card secretary, reported on cards sent to sick and bereaved members, while Mrs. Ray Grant reported on membership.

The president announced that Mrs. Don Williams will be convener of the Spring tea at the Parsonage, in May.

There was also some discussion regarding the bazaar planned for November.

CATERING, PLOUGHING MATCH

Since Bridge St. Woman's Association will co-operate with other Belleville churches in serving a banquet at the Ploughing Match in October, a brief report on this project was presented by Mrs. Ralph Morden.

It was announced that the Association would unite with the members of the Coronation Woman's Association at their regular meeting on March 20 at 8 p.m.

The program in charge of Mrs. H. Fuke, and Mrs. J. Demeza and their group, opened with the singing of "Blest be the Tie That Binds".

Mrs. B. Ross conducted the worship service with its theme, 'Brotherhood'. She read from Paul's letter to the Romans in which he urged them to practise brotherly love with its attributes of hospitality, patience, forgiveness. Some helpful comments on the Scripture passage and prayer completed the devotional service.

A beautiful solo, "Lord, For Tomorrow and its Needs I Do Not Pray", was sung by Mrs. V. Barkley.

Mrs. Fuke introduced the speaker, Mrs. W. H. Finkle, who has an enviable record of service in Church, School and Community Organizations.

EUROPEAN IMPRESSIONS

Mrs. Finkle brought to the group her 'Impressions of Europe' gleaned from two trips she and Mr. Finkle had made to visit their daughter, Francis, and son-in-law Flight-Lieutenant, Don McNaughton, stationed in France. This is one of four European bases under the command of Air ViceMarshal Lawrence Wray, a former Belleville resident.

On trips through Belgium and France there were many grim reminders of two great wars, memorials, cemeteries, bullet-marked walls and old fortifications.

A boat trip down the Rhine through the wide beautiful valley with vineyards on its terraced hills was also remembered for the many houseboats plying their way up and down the river.

Switzerland with window-boxes filled with red geraniums and buildings whose stucco walls were adorned with old paintings, was like a picture book.

The sidewalk cafes, thousands of bicycles and friendly people were recalled as well as a trip to the top of the Eiffel Tower.

Arriving in London seemed to the visitors almost like home as all the well-known names brought a feeling of familiarity with the streets, squares and building of that historic city.

Mrs. J. G. Demeza, in thanking Mrs. Finkle for the interesting talk, expressed the feeling of all who had listened with so much pleasure.

When Women Wear The Trousers

Trousers have at last become the regular wear of women, in every material from toughest tweeds to most delicate silks, and in every style from "femme fatale" velvet pyjamas to tough dungarees. Ronald Trent casts a male eye "a posteriori", explaining why many men have been outraged by the female stern in slacks . . . why they think, deeper down, that trousers are a betrayal of femininity . . . and how Western women in trousers (not least the hilarious Mrs. Bloomer) have always raised anger and laughter that may soon become historic.

By RONALD TRENT

Women, they say, feel "comfortable, relaxed and feline in trousers" and that is why trousers (whether slack or tight) are no longer mere garb for holidays and around the house. They are becoming part of the woman's regular wear.

Tapered slacks come in every material from toughest tweeds to the most delicate silks, from knickerbockers styles that look a parody of the "sporting gents" array of the 'Nineties to slinky cotton-velvet creations with the Italian couture line.

One girl will fall for a flame satin variation on the siren suit; another will team a chunky sweater with tapering "dungarees" in heavy tweed. There is every mode from zippy jeans to velvet lounging pyjamas, bell-bottomed and provocative, in rich green velvet. The "weirdie" girls, the "beat" types in those leg-hugging black and fawn creations that look so tight that the wearers can scarcely sit down are now in a minority among the women who have appropiated men's clothes.

Male teenagers, swathed in their tight pants, will hardly give a thought to these tapered, tadpole women, but we can still expect a retreating rearguard of "squares" to dislike the trousered female. Adjectives such as "unseemly" and "improper" are always being used about trousers for women - though the fashion is as old as Joan of Arc, and older in many Eastern countries.

A woman with what is politely described in couture circles as the "sway-back figure" shows her full femininity in a billowing dress - and that is why a "crinoline" ball gown is dubbed "so romantic". But what a let-down when those luscious posterior curves have been packed into zip-straining trousers! A gorgeous girl is no longer an hour-glass; she is a ponderous pear in shape!

FOR GRACEFUL EXITS

Indeed, male cynics would say that if only some trouser-wearing women, could walk behind themselves for a yard or two, then the difficulty would be eliminated. To put it another way, many a woman in pants can never make a graceful exit. Moreover, a buxom girl is in danger of looking like a collapsed blanc-mange when she sits down.

But perhaps the male prejudice against women wearing the pants goes much deeper than this. Almost unconsciously, many men feel that trousers are a betrayal of femininity. The still-dominant male feels that a woman at once becomes more aggressive and "mannish" when she dons the trousers.

Contrast the woman in frillies, in a romantic garb of any sort: she brings out whatever gallantry man still has, and she makes him feel more masculine.

On their part, a good many women have seen the trouser as a symbol of emancipation, this again arousing some male jealousy. Dr. Willet Cunnington, an acknowledged authority on dress, has pointed out that with each step towards emancipation, woman has stolen some clothes from man.

"However annoying it might be to the victim, he has often found the new fashion, after all, rather entertaining . . . . It is when woman claims his clothes as her own that he disapproves, for then such acts are immoral".

A shudder ran through Victorian Britain when it became known that the French female novelist, George Sand, flirted in tartan trousers with Chopin and her other lovers.

Then there was the extraordinary affair of Mrs. Amelia Bloomer, the U.S. temperance advocate of rational clothes. Girls of the "Bloomer Brigade" wore a dark shirt ending six inches below the knee and trousers of the same material as the silk bodice. Men were thrown into a tizzy, and outraged husbands spanked their wives on the seats of the articles named after the inventor. Pulpits rang with denunciations of "Bloomerism." Anti-Bloomer riots broke out in New York when Mrs. Bloomer appeared on platforms to prove that trousers were a symbol of the fight for women's suffrage.

Mrs. Bloomer carried her crusade to London, her "missionaries" parading in velvet trousers - and attracting the mid-Victorian equivalent of the wolf-whistle among the young and cries of "shameless hussies" from all people of both sexes.

Trousers for women in Britain did not appear until late in the 19th century when the "Rational Dress Society", amid shrill hoots of derision, tried to popularize pantaloons for the new feminine recreation of cycling.

It was the First World War which really put women into trousers in a big way, quantively speaking. They were worn by hundreds of thousands of munition workers and land girls.

The last war, with its universal service and siren suits (in which many of the wearers looked anything but sirens) made slacks popular for women and even essential in some theatres; such as London in the Blitz.

Year by year since the war the wearing of slacks has spread-appropriate word! They have certainly ceased to be garments for the young and slim. Sartodrially conservative men have fought a hopeless delaying action against the trousered women - and plenty of head-mistresses have banned schoolgirls swaying in classes in jeans.

In 1955 in France a survey among 100,000 men and women on attitudes to female trouser-wearing showed 69 per-cent against. But disapproval varied according to locality. Whereas in Paris 44 per cent said "No", in Brittany the figure was as 90 per cent, in Normandy 80 per cent, and along the Riviera 64 per cent.

The opinion of several writers was delicately summed up by one of them who said, "It depends on the wearer's shape and on the manner, the place and the hour of the wearing."

DAMNED THE PRACTICE

In 1958, in Wick, Scotland, a minister belonging to a body ironically termed the "Free" Presbyterian Church, damned teenage girls who went to school in "colored jeans, tartan trews and pegleg pants."

"The wearing of trousers by women is condemned by the scripture of the Old Testament and that is good enough for me . . . it is unscriptural and improper", he thundered.

But his cry has been lost in a forest of trousered female legs.

Kinette Club Holds Captiviting Terylene Fashion Fiesta

The Belleville Kinette Club exceeded all expectations Wednesday evening with an exhilarating exhibition of fashions for 1961. This evening was well arranged for the ladies of Belleville.

The models were on par with top fashion designers and should not have been missed by anyone who is style conscious.

Models, presented by Canadian Industries Limited, were breathtaking in their beauty and poise. Fashions, such as those shown on Wednesday evening have never been seen before in Belleville.

AUDIENCE CAPTIVATED

The audience that attended "It's Terylene Showtime" was astounded with the versatility and washability of Terelene.

The master of ceremonies, Paul Hanover, a Hamilton disc jockey, won the hearts of the ladies with his easy manner, which made the show a pleasure to watch and enjoy.

The vivacious commentator, Mrs. Wildgoose, of Canadian Industries Ltd., was a sparkling figure, as were the models.

The Kinette Club has done a wonderful job in making this evening of fashion such a success and deserves the admiration of the ladies in Belleville for this happy occasion.

They were endorsed on this project by the merchants of Belleville, Trenton and surrounding district who have promoted "It's Terylene Showtime."

Undoubtedly this was an evening to remember, bringing the top styles in fashions to the doorsteps of the city of Belleville and helped to make "Terelene" a must in the wardrobe for 1961.

The Kinette Club of Belleville and helped to make 'Tery- who helped make this evening such a success and also thanks to those who helped the Kinettes to help others.

Winners of the door prizes, drawn by Marilyn MacDonald and Harriet Stevens of CJBQ, were as follows: Mrs. Fairborn, Mrs. Pat Coughlan, Mrs. M. Rollins, Mrs. O. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Buchard, Mrs. O. P Lloyd, Jeanne Stephenson, Miss Chrysler, Mrs. James, Mrs. Gonsolus, Shirley Doran, Mrs. J. Martin and Mrs. Wessells.

CHILD MODELS

The child models were Lorna Ruth Follwell, Cheryl Lafferty and Frances Lynn Creeggan, arranged for by Mrs. Yanover of the Children's Shop.

Que. Women Form Branch Of Association

MONTREAL (CP) — A group of Quebec women has formed a branch of the Voice of Women, an organization which hopes to work with similar associations in other countries to organize a summit conference of the women of the world.

Therese F. Casgrain, Quebec director, said at a recent press conference here the Voice of Women is concerned first with gaining the support of every woman who wants her children and grandchildren to have a world to grow up in. It also seeks to restore the true meaning to the word "peace."

If it is successful in organizing a meeting of women of the world it would petition the United Nations as an international body.

Mrs. Casgrain, a leader of the battle for the right to vote for Quebec women, said the Voice of Women is "completely non-political."

The organization was formed in Toronto last year following the collapse of the Summit conference in Paris. The Quebec branch hopes to sponsor a national speaking tour of leading members and to establish groups in Quebec City, Rimouski, Chicoutimi and Gaspe in the near future.

The groups would be asked to devote time to study and discussion of atomic radiation, international affairs, relaxation of world tensions and problems of disarmament.

Cook on Roughest Run Along Coast Is Woman

VANCOUVER (CP) — The cook on the roughest run of British Columbia's coastal freighter service is a woman.

Mrs. Florence Jorgensen is chef aboard Northland Navigation Company's Tahsis Prince, which weekly plies the sea lane known as the Graveyard of the Pacific, carrying goods to the west coast of Vancouver Island.

At 55, Mrs. Jorgensen can look back on an active life during which she has been a commercial fisherman, operated a poolroom and run cafes, worked as a shipyard welder, saleslady and cashier.

Left motherless at birth, she was brought to a settlement on Hudson Bay from England by her medical-missionary father. When she was five, she and six other families travelled on a three-month voyage by canoe into Northern Ontario.

When she was 12 her father returned to England, leaving her to be raised by another missionary, Rev. B. B. Fuller and his wife.

WENT TO YUKON

Her adventuresome spirit got its first challenge when she was offered a job as a restaurant cashier in Whitehorse, Yukon, in 1922. Later, she married a Dane and when he went to work in Prince Rupert, she took a job as a welder at the drydock for 18 months.

Then she got the urge to go fishing. Her husband bought a 32-foot troller and together they went to sea.

Men in the business resented her at first but later came to accept her. She was dubbed "Coho Queen of Prince Rupert" when one day she hit the coho jackpot and alone brought in 565 pounds in one catch.

After four years, she quit when she was suddenly overcome by a fear that she was going to drown. She and her husband bought a poolroom and cafe in Hammond, B.C.

It became a teen - agers' hangout and she wanted to get away from the youngsters She bought a cafe in Vancouver and again students became her main customers.

MODERN MANNERS

GEORGE WASHINGTON A GENTLEMAN

Recently, when delving through some old books in the library, I again came across the one hundred and one interesting rules laid down by George Washington, with regard to civility and decent behavior. Particularly interesting to me was the fact that apparently he wrote these rules when he was fifteen or sixteen years of age.

The wording is a bit quaint, but the points he makes are unmistakable. Most of the rules he considered proper for mannerly behavior are just as appropriate today as they were in his time!

I quote a few of his admonitions: "Every action in company ought to be with some sign of respect to those that are present", "'If you cough, sneeze, sigh or yawn, do it not loud, but privately; speak not in your yawning, or sneezing, but put your handkerchief or hand before your face, and turn aside." (Something to remember these days, with winter colds going the rounds Too often people are careless about showing regard to others when afflicted with the sniffles and the sneezes.)

Now for some further words of wisdom: "Sleep not, when others speak. Sit not when others stand. Speak not when you should hold your peace. Show not yourself glad at the misfortune of another, though he were your enemy.

George Washington was quite definite in his opinions with regard to table manners. Some of his ideas were: "If you soak bread in the sauce, let it be no more than you put in your mouth at a time, and blow not your broth at table, but stay till it cools of itself. Make no show of taking great delight in your victuals. Feed not with greediness. Cut your bread with a knife; lean not on the table. Neither find fault with what you eat. Drink not, no talk, with your mouth full. Cleanse not your teeth with table cloth, napkin or fork, but if others do it, let it be done with a pick tooth."

With regard to clothes, he also had definite ideas. "'In your apparel, be modest and endeavor to accommodate nature, rather than to procure admiration. Play not the peacock, looking everywhere about you to see if you be well decked, if your shoes fit well, or if your stocking fit neatly."

Rather amazing, isn't it, how well these rules fit in with our life today? It would seem to prove that, while our mode of living may change, the basic rules governing our actions in company have changed little, if at all.

Question — What is the correct way to handle this situation? When you answer your phone, and it's a wrong number, do you just hang up, or what? So often the person calling just slams up the receiver before you can say anything! — Mrs. P. W. B., Harrisburg, Pa.

Answer — I have often wondered why the person who does dial a wrong number is usually so nasty about it! We all make this mistake at times, so wouldn't you think a polite "Excuse me" would be the answer, rather than a rude banging down of the receiver? For some reason, it generally doesn't seem to work that way. If you are on the receiving end of such a call, politely say "You have the wrong number. This is North 97546." If the caller is still with you when you finish (He usually isn't) he should say "Thank you, I'm sorry." At least you have done your part!

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counsellors and social workers

Abigail G. — If I want more than a roof and three meals, I'd better take a job.

Wallace G. — She should be grateful to have no worries about food and shelter.

• • •

Abigail G. — I grew up in an impoverished home. We were a large family, and my father was in poor health and could only take part-time jobs doing light work. So, we were on relief most of the time.

When Wallace came along, I married him fast, glad to get out of the house and give my parents one less to worry about. I was only 17, and that was 30 years ago.

In all this time, I still haven't known what it means to be more than one step ahead of eviction. Wally is a house painter and his work is seasonal. In between he makes reckless deals with the loan companies, so by the time the money starts to come in, most of it must go right out to make good his pledges.

We have a daughter, recently divorced, who is working elsewhere. I'm temporarily taking care of her little girl. We also have a 12-year-old son. George

But I'm very despondent about the futre. I see no hope of change in our financial condition. I'm thinking of taking a job working evenings.

• • •

Wallace G. — Abby, more than most women, should appreciate three square meals a day and a roof over her head because she knows, from her childhood experience, how much worse things could be. Even though it's been feast or famine with me, I've always been able to provide the necessities.

Of course it hasn't been easy I only know the small-fry contractors and I just get called for the jobs that need an extra man. So I'm fair game for the loan sharks, whenever our bills pile up or we need something in a hurry.

But Abby has something lots of other women don't have. She knows where her next meal is coming from. From me.

If she wants to take a job for luxuries, that's up to her, as long as she doesn't neglect the children.

• • •

The Council — It takes little imagination to sense the amount of berating and nagging that Abigail must have directed toward Wallace during the 30 years in which he failed to better her lot in life to any noticeable degree. Perhaps this contributed to the "block" which kept Wallace from hustling to improve his job standing.

Apparently, Abigail married for the wrong reason — to get away from her parents' home. To put the best possible face on things now, let's assume that somewhere along these 30 years of shared experiences, love has crept in. At any rate, these two are looking ahead to, say, another 30 years together. But Wallace sees it resignedly as "more of same," while Abigail wants to inject a ray of hope.

We must side with Abigail in feeling that there's more to life than the food and shelter which keep it flickering. Wallace is unimpressive with his exhortation to be satisfied, and forever after hold her peace. Those three squares don't taste so good with pawn-tickets for dessert.

So, hope to Abigail is a thing with a few more dollars per week attached. That evening job may start to spell it out. But Wallace must approve. It must not symbolize a reproach to him, but rather an opportunity which his evening babysitting and daytime co-operation make possible.

W.I. Enjoys Turkey Dinner, Euchre Party

FOXBORO — The members of Foxboro Women's Institute with their husbands and guests enjoyed a well-prepared turkey dinner when they gathered in the school auditorium for their February meeting.

The hall and tables were decorated to accent St. Valentine's Day, in red and white.

The president, Mrs. C. H. LaRue, chaired the meeting and introduced the guests.

East Hastings District President Mrs. Tucker made her initial annual visit to Foxboro at this meeting and gave an inspiring talk on the Institute Ode, giving this part of regular meetings a deeper meaning.

Mrs. L. Lewis introduced the who gave her audience a timely guest speaker, Harriet Stevens, who gave her audience a timely address dealing with her visit to the United Nations as a delegate for the Canadian Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Miss Stephens related instances of people she met and talked with from other countries, stating that 'these people are the same as we are and we must be tolerant in our thinking about other races and creeds. Our only hope for world peace is in the proper functioning of the U.N."

The speaker was thanked by Mrs. W. Simmons.

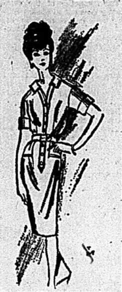
Readings were given by Mrs. S. Hayton, Mrs. L. Carter and Mrs. C. Hubble. A solo, by Mrs. W. Rombough, to the piano accompaniment of Miss L. Rombough, and two piano solos by Master Arden Lewis, brought this pleasant evening to a close.

EUCHRE

The Institute sponsored the fourth in a series of euchres on Wednesday evening of this week. There were 15 tables in play which made this the most profitable evening to date.

The prizes were won as follows: ladies' high and floating lone hand, Mrs. J. Herbertson; 2nd, Mrs. G. Dafoe. Two ladies playing as men, won the men's first and second prizes, Mrs. J. Reynolds and Mrs. C. Bamber. J. Clarke won the men's low prize.

Constant Classic



By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

No matter what may be the current darling of the stylists, the classic shirtwaist dress manages to hold its own for resort wear.

Dacron and cotton blend is the fabric choice for this one done in such resort colors as orange and yellow. It comes in navy, too, a nice choice for spring.

The dress is cut on classic lines and, for that something new and different, has pin-tucking on the roll-up sleeves.

A self belt is leather backed and the small flat collar is an interestingly different touch.

Big Week-End

By Mary Moore

On Sunday night at 10:00 p.m. I opened Saturday's mail. I had just returned from Ottawa, Pete having driven the 310 miles in 5¾ hours. We took Marianne and the children to their new home on Saturday and helped them move in.

The first letter I read was from a reader arguing vehemently against the "Beware of Animal Fats" column, which appeared February 8th. Her letter will appear in this column and you can see it if you care to on Friday of this week.

I was so tired and hungry I was eating a piece of whole wheat toast spread with margarine (although I prefer butter) when I read such lines as "people who walk 5 yards to their car". I don't think that meant me but I had to grin.

Anyway I felt slightly persecuted for we all worked like slaves. When we left the curtains were up, bread and mayonnaise made, all snowsuits clean and mended and the house and occupants thoroughly and comfortable.

I did not forget our readers for we had for noon dinner on Sunday fish fillets from a new recipe.

FILLETS A L'ORANGE:

2 pounds fish fillets, 1 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 3 tablespoons butter, melted, few grains nutmeg.

Separate fillets and cut into serving-size portions. Place in a single layer in a shallow, greased baking dish which can be taken directly to table. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over fish. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes 6 servings.

Here is a reliable recipe for Salmon Loaf in which you can use that 1-pound can of pink or red salmon you have on the cupboard shelf.

SALMON LOAF:

2 cups canned salmon (one 1-lb. can), 2 cups soft breadcrumbs, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 3-4 cup milk, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon finely minced onion, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 eggs, beaten.

Flake salmon, crush soft bones and add liquid from fish. Add soft breadcrumbs, salt and pepper and mix lightly. Add well beaten eggs, milk, lemon juice and minced onion. Mix well. Pour fish mixture into a greased loaf tin, dot with butter or margarine and bake for about 45 minutes at 350 deg. Fahr. until loaf is firm and well browned. Serve hot with celery or mushroom or tomato soup-sauce, or cold on crisp lettuce with mayonnaise.

NEW STYLE FRIED POTATOES:

With our Fillets a'Orange I served new style packaged fried potatoes. What you do is add 4 cups cold water to sliced potatoes in package and boil 10 or 15 minutes and drain. In a frying pan melt 3 tablespoons butter or shortening, add drained potatoes and mix in contents of a packet of seasonings which is enclosed in the box. Then you fry them over medium heat until golden brown. They were lovely with the baked fish fillets.

Energetic Club Puts on 'Shadow Play

The regular meeting of the Energetic Club was held on Wednesday 22nd. The devotional opened with Phyllis Lucas reading the call to worship. The theme of the meditation, read by Ann Hitchon, was "Brotherhood". Cam Hitchon read the Scripture and led in prayer.

Cam Hitchon, Lloyd Townsend and Jim Stalker put on a hilarious shadow play of a delicate operation. Jim Stalker was the patient and Dr. Hitchon performed the operation with Dr. Townsend administering the anasthetic. The patient is reported doing nicely.

Games were played and a delicious lunch was served.

Elgin Moynes thanked the group in charge.

(for ladies whose husbands travel a lot)

We know, from talking to hundreds of ladies just like you, that you are deeply concerned about how much the tension of modern business is straining your husband's nerves, his good humor—even his health. You're wondering if there isn't something you should do about it.

Well, here are some things about train travel we thought might be of help to you.

When your husband does his travelling with Canadian National, he rides the Way of the Worry-Free. The highway dangers — in fact, the tension, the fatigue, the anxieties of other forms of travel dissolve for him as he settles back in homey comfort in lounge or dining car — or when he snaps out the light in a sleep-inducing CN bed. He has time to think . . . about you and the kids . . . about his business problems — time to find himself.

When he travels with CN — he returns rested, relaxed, more the man he used to be.

Next time he travels — for everyone's pleasure—suggest the Way of the Worry-Free—Canadian National.

GILEAD

Bronk Cheese Co. Retains 1960 Officers

GILEAD — The annual meeting of Brock Cheese Manufacturing Company for 1960, was held in the new Gilead Community Centre, on February 15th, with a record representation of patrons, officers directors and friends.

The president, Mr. Leslie McLaren, who has held this office for the past 15 years opened the meeting with one minute of silence in memory of Mr. J. O. Huffman who had been auditor for 30 years, until his death this year. Mr. J. O. Huffman had also served many times as chairman, for yearly elections and was held in high esteem by all.

This year marked the largest production, yet, in the factory's history; there being 362,981.5 lbs cheese manufactured and 4,139,281 lbs milk received with the average price of the butterfat standing at 80 cents. The average price per lb of cheese 32.9 cents was in a good standing, in comparison to other factories.

ELECT OFFICERS

Mr. Charles Treverton, conducted the election of officers with all retaining posistions for 1961 with one new officer, Mr. Jack Hall as auditor. Mr. McLaren presided for the remainder of the meeting and thanked all for the confidence shown in him and the executive of Bronk Cheese Co. The interest taken in this work during the year 1960 was inded creditable and deserving of appreciation.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mr. Simpson, manager of Belleville Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, spoke briefly and congratulated the patrons, for the increased poundage of milk and cheese which showed good indication of the cheese industry's continuation. Unusual circumstances of 1959 showed 1960 down, but the marketing well-done by Cheese Producer's Marketing Board.

The quality of Canadian Cheese must be such as to encourage more English consumption. The Department of Agriculture is greatly concerned about quality of cheese for quality will demand quantity. Mr. Simpson stated that the Bank of Commerce would gladly assist farmers with any individual problems.

Mr. George Pollard, former cheese inspector, spoke briefly, stressing firmly quality qualification and stated enforcement of regulation as to cleanliness of equipment, herds and stables is just as important as cooling the milk. Cool milk does not make clean milk and no cheesemaker can make top grade cheese from poor milk. He urged that farmers think and work on these things in the interest of the factory and benefits for themselves. The British market is a necessity for Canadian cheese.

Cheesemaker Roy Huffman thanked Mr. Pollard for his advice and stated he had served Bronk Cheese Company for the tenth year. He asked for farmers' approval of farm inspection; discussed milk can situation and requested that anyone who wished cans re-tinned to leave these at the factory by March 1st and he would be responible. At present little accommodation is made for extra milk in 1961. Poor grade milk from other sources cannot, according to regulations, be dumped at cheese factories without a penalty.

Mr. Huffman displayed trophies won by him during 1960.

Mr. Harold Elliott, neighboring cheesemaker from Foxboro, congratulated Mr. Huffman on such a wonderful year and stated that Black Diamond Cheese Company was desirous of placing an investigator for farm equipment, at no cost to patrons, which would be most advantageous in the sale of cheese.

Delegates were appointed to attend the annual cheese convention at Toronto next year. They are Mr. Leslie McLaren and Mr. Douglas Tummon with alternates Charles Hamilton and Ted Bradden.

Milk routes were sold and the meeting adjourned.

A vote of thanks was tendered for the use of the new community centre for this meeting.

During the session Mr. Simpson distributed cigarets and boxes of cashews. Calendars from the Canadian Bank of Commerce were also distributed.

Patrons are urged to check their milk cans as this type of can is getting depleted and will soon be obsolete. "Don't wait for spring, do it now!"

Shooting in Co-operative Areas

With the interest in hunting growing each year, and the national acreage of hunting country shrinking in inverse ratio, the average gunner of today finds himself hard-pressed to find anything resembling good shooting. To be sure, we have here and there the managed hunts which are staged by many states both with wildfowl and upland game, but these are the exceptions rather than the rule.

Moreover, the land owners are finding that unwanted hunting pressure is making the trespass and damage problem increasingly difficult to deal with each year. Thus, the novel idea of the co-operative shooting area near Brewster, New York State, seems to me to be an ideal solution. My son, Dick, has hunted on this area, so I asked him to tell you about it. This is what he has to say —

Along the heavily-settled coastlines, open hunting country, undecorated by posted signs, has become pretty much a thing of the past. Thus it was that when the State of New York, or rather, one dedicated man, District 13 Supervisor Warren McKeon, initiated a radical approach to this growing problem, the fish and game agencies across the nation watched with interest.

To understand this approach and why it was, in a word, radical, you have to understand the circumstances under which it was originated and conditions existing in the area taken under consideration. Putnam County is the boundary belt between the commuter area and the non-commuter area which latter feeds the tremendous markets of New York City. Less than two hours by train from town, it is a region of lovely homes, sprawling wood-patched acres and certainly not one that could be considered, even in desperation, a hunting potential.

Perhaps it was the deer herd that started the whole ruckus begin with; it was either this that started the whole ruckus to or the annual predation of hunters who trooped from the crowded city and showed little if any respect for the land-owners and their problems. A man with over ten acres of land not only had to post profusely but he also was faced with the necessity of maintaining a watchful eye over his holdings or hiring a deputy to do it for him. The tragic murder of such a deputy on the sprawling Cushman estate brought the sharp focus of public opinion down on Putnam, the hunters, and the need for something, anything, to be done. It was here that McKeon made his move.

Using the small twon of Brewster as a hub, two of Warren's top wardens began what turned out to be the greatest individual public-relations sell ever instituted along hunting lines. They called on every land-owner in the area, cajoling, and promising the one thing that they now lacked — protection of their acreage by state wardens. All they asked in return was the right to regulate the land and throw it open to shooting, and, even more important, out-of-county hunters. In some cases they met with cold refusal; in others there was a "show me" attitude. But in the end, after months of ceaseless and often frustrating campaigning, the job was done. Nearly 10,000 acres lay waiting for a brand-new invasion, this time under the strict scrutiny of radio patrols and roving deputies.

The land-owner-sportsmen co-operative begins for the visiting gunner when he checks into the permit shack on the outskirts of Brewster. There he is checked into the area, leaving his small game license as bond. He is issued an armband which he must wear in plain sight at all times. He is told where to hunt and where to park. He is told, plainout and flatly, that he must conform to this regulation series, and is allowed to hunt where game is profuse to the point of being ridiculous, or he is picked up, summarily kicked out and, in some cases, fined.

Acting on the premise that this was something I had to see for myself, my wife and I drove to Brewster to participate in a special five-day, any-deer open season to be run there the first year of the co-operative's operation. We did this taking squarely into account the calculated risk normally attached to "any deer" shooting in crowded areas — accidents and fatalities. To say that we were in for a pleasant surprise is an understatement and an over-simplification.

As my wife, Jac, was more interested in obtaining pictures the first day than she was a deer, I hunted that morning alone. Parking my car in a vacant assigned parking area, I loaded my automatic shotgun with three rifled slugs and climbed a hill some 700 feet in height to a broad flat on top. There was no snow covering on the ground, but even a congenital idiot could read the signs. There literally was not a square foot of that top that did not have a deer track on it. The place simply reeked with deer.

As is my habit when hunting deer, I prowled slowly along the rim of the flat, watching both it and the sidehill below for activity. In doing this, I moved out on a rocky point to see nine deer working slowly down a draw towards me. Slipping the safety off quietly, I stood motionless and let the lead animal feed up to within 15 yards of me. This one, a small yearling doe, I felt sure I could have downed with a rock, but the one that drew my interest, evidently the grandmother of the tribe, was on the far side of the draw about 60 yards from me.

Realizin, that a shotgun and slugs is far from being the most accurate weapon in the world, I held high on the big doe and blasted off three fast shots. The end result of this shrapnel bombardment was nine sadly spooked deer and nary a cut hair. Commenting on my ability as a shot, the manufacturer of my weapon and the unholy inaccuracy of the whole blooming outfit, I thumbed three fresh shell into the automatic and moved across the flat to the far side, vowing that the next deer I took a crack at would be so close it would be unmissable.

I can safely say that I have never seen as many deer in one morning in my life. I stopped counting at 40 and began worrying if I could get within 30 yards of any of them. With a rifle, it would have been murder, but the shotgun-slug combination was a great equalizer. Finally, near the point on the far end of the flat, it happened.

Easing along as quietly as I could, I spotted a big doe standing in a laurel clump. When I first saw her, she was perhaps 50 yards away. But by dint of Indian-like pussyfooting, I managed to get to the desired range and let fly a shot that took her squarely in the front shoulders. She staggered several steps and then fell. I looked then at my watch — I had been hunting 45 minutes!

The following day, I took Jac back to that same flat and she knocked down another big doe — this time it took us a shade under one hour! Still amazed at the number of head in such a small area, I though it over and came to the near-irrefutable conclusion that these deer had never been shot at, had no predators whatsoever to bother them, and all the food in the world to eat, what with gardens, nurseries and front lawns on which to graze during the winter.

The week following the last day of the season, I called Warren McKeon at his office and asked what the hunting accident score had been over the months that the co-operative had been in operation. His report was the most amazing commentary on what regulation of shooting can do that it seems near unbelievable. With over 8000 gunners checking through that permit station, there not only was not a single shooting accident but not one of them so much as sprained an ankle. In the face of untold opposition, the wardens had come up with a perfect score!

The success of District 13's co-operative has been spread far across the country. It may very well be that is the pattern of things to come; a pattern that insures safe gunning to the generations that will be expecting this of their sport in later years. If such is the case, the outlook can be considered bright.

FLYING CRASH — Lee Petty (42), Randleman, N.C., and Johnny Beauchamp (73), Harlan, Ia., leaped the rail at the top of the highbanked east turn at Daytona Beach (Fla.) International Speedway at a speed over 150 mph. The crash came in the final lap of a 100-mile Grand National Stock Car race, preliminary to Saturday's 500 mile international event. Petty's leg was broken. Beauchamp was unhurt. (AP Wirephoto).

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

By WINIFRED WILSON

CHEERFUL REDPOLL

That small member of the finch family, the redpoll, is one of our irregular winter visitors from the most northerly spruce forests and beyond where dwarf willow and birch struggle for existence. They come in search of food, arriving in late autumn. The large flocks (50 to 300, sometimes mixed in with goldfinches or crossbills) wander about, even visiting settlements if they can find weeds poking above the snow. In their summer homes they feed mostly on insects, but later depend upon seeds, particularly those of alder, birch, and various weeds. Their own short though sharp little bills have difficulty in opening cones, so when in company with crossbills the redpolls let their friends do the hard work and they eat the exposed seeds.

STAY IN FLOCKS

In winter it is most usual to find redpolls in flocks, clinging in all sorts of acrobatic positions to fragile, swaying weed stalks, or picking up the fallen seeds from the snow surface. More than once reports have been made that a flock was seen cleaning up the ground near railway tracks where grain had fallen from freight cars.

The flight of a redpoll is undulating, much like that of a goldfinch, and like that bird it talks as it flies — though instead of the familiar "par-chick-er-ee" it simply says "chut-chut-chut-chut." Its "ker-weet" call also strongly reminds us of the goldfinch. A feeding flock keeps up a continuous, cheerful twittering, very pleasant to our ears. Unusually confiding, redpolls may alight all around a quiet, stationary observer.

The tiny, crimson cap is the best possible identification mark worn by all adults. The male has a lovely pinky breast and rump. Otherwise they are just a little plump, pale, streaky, brown sparrows with a tiny black chin spot.

LEAVE WITH SNOW

By mid-April, when our snow has gone, redpolls leave us too. But conditions are still wintry up north. However, before long they begin housekeeping, and so the bulky home of twigs and grass placed in a low tree or bush must be warmly lined. Hairs of white rabbits and foxes, feathers, or plant down may be used. The two to five pale bluish green eggs are speckled around the large end with dark brown or black.

Redpoll nestlings are fed regurgitated insect larvae. The young are tenderly guarded by their parents, and the home kept exceptionally clean. The father works as well as the mother, so that he has no time for singing until the babies are able to look after themselves.

May Make Arrest In Double Killing 8 Months Ago

TORONTO (CP) — Police said Saturday they will make an arrest in the slaying of a couple at nearby Newmarket eight months ago.

Glen Kivell, 46, a Toronto businessman and Marian Bagshaw, 36, were shot to death June 19 in Miss Bagshaw's home on a Newmarket sideroad.

"We are confident we will crack the case and make an arrest," Wilford J. Franks, assistant commissioner of the provincial police, said.

He gave no details of new developments in the case, but it is believed police picked up a clue early last month when the investigation was almost at a dead end.

Kivell roomed at a nearby farmhouse and spent most of his time with Miss Bagshaw, police said. Jealousy was thought to have been a motive in the double killing.

Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD—The February meeting of the Bemersyde Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Locke.

Regent, Mrs. Douglas Maybee, presided over the business portion of the meeting, when reports were given by various conveners. Twenty-five dollars was voted for a Music Festival Scholarship, also film strips for the Bridge St. and St. Mary's Schools, and a new flag to Kent School are to be purchased. Mrs. Jack Connor gave a paper on the Commonwealth. The report of the dance committee showed it was a most profitable activity, clearing $214.00. Mrs. S. Hopping was appointed delegate to the convention in Hamilton, in April, with Mrs. G. Vice as alternate. It was decided to have the annual birthday tea on Saturday, April 15th, at the home of Mrs. Douglas Maybee. This being the last meeting of the Bemersyde Chapter's year, annual reports were read and approved.

The nominating committee gave its report after one election for 2nd Vice Regent. The slate of officer for 1961 is as follows:

Honorary Regent, Miss K. B. Ferris; Regent, Mrs. George Vice; 1st Vice-Regent, Mrs. S. Hopping; 2nd Vice Regent, Mrs. Jack Connor; secretary, Mrs. Ross Douglas; treasurer, Mrs. Earl Craighead; standard bearer, Miss Carole MacArthur; educational secretary, Mrs. J. C. Benor; service at home and abroad secretary, Mrs. Robert Foe; membership convener, Mrs. Jack Trimble; commonwealth relations convener, Mrs. D. Carswell; Empire and world Affairs convener, Mrs R. Bennet and flower fund convener, Mrs. Ralph Locke.

The new officers took over for the remainder of the meeting, and new groups were drawn for the year. The retiring Regent, Mrs. Douglas Maybee, thanked the group for a gift presented in appreciation for her service.

Mrs Jack Connor thanked the hostess for opening her home for the meeting.

The meeting closed in the usual manner, with group 5 serving refreshments.

The smallest bird known to man is the "bee," a Cuban hummingbird that grows to a length of 2¼ inches.

Point Anne

POINT ANNE—A miscellaneous shower was held for the recent bride Mrs. Cary Hull (nee Louis Conley) in the Club House at Point Anne, last week.

Euchre was enjoyed and favors went to the following: Mrs. June Sedore; Mrs. Glenda Flesch, and Mrs. Olga Deveau; lone hand - Mrs. Audrey Chisholm; and door prize - Miss Rose MacDonald.

After euchre the bride was escorted to a seat at the table which was appropriately decorated for the occasion, where she was presented with many and useful gifts, for which she expressed her thanks and also to those who had arranged the shower.

Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening was spent in getting acquainted with the new bride.

HOLD BAKE SALE

A most successful home cooking sale, sponsored by the St. John's Anglican Sunday School, was held recently, at the Point Anne Club House.

Those in charge of the home cooking table were: Mrs. Dorothy Hart, Mrs. Doris Colden, Mrs. Audry Chisholm, Mrs Hazel Juby and Mrs. Evelyn Loft.

Mrs. Marjorie Green was in charge of the ticket sales on the dollie, which was won by Mrs. Russell Volick, and Mrs. Edna Bradshaw, was in charge of ticket sales on a cake which was won by Mr. Gordon Green.

The ladies expressed thanks to all those who donated or helped in any way to make this sale so successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Godfrey and daughter of Mountain Grove, spent an afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Lee Bradshaw.

Mrs. Amab Akey, Cannifton, spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Reggie Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Andrews and family, of Carrying Place, spent Saturday afternoon and evening with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Akey. Mrs. Wesley Reid, of Cannifton spent Tuesday at the same home.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Lemuel Scott and families in the loss of a wife, mother grandmother, and sister, Mrs. Lemuel Scott (Lillian Vance) who passed away suddenly, in the Belleville General Hospital, recently. Mrs. Scott lived here for some time with her parents, before moving to Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Akey and Karen and Mrs. Reggie Cox, spent Sunday afternoon with their mother, Mrs. Amab Akey, at Cannifton.

The ladies weekly euchre club was held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Henderson. The winners were: high - Mrs. Pearl Genereaux and Mrs. Peter Green Sr.; low - Mrs. Edna Bradshaw. The hostess served refreshments and a pleasant evening was enjoyed.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Mac White's freshman class in the Ontario College of Curling examinations didn't walk off with the top award, but they came home swathed in "honors."

Four-year-old-and-less-toddlers, as far as Ontario tournaments go, the Quintemen took the ultimate champions from Orillia to the wire in a tension-packed battle, and left the "corpses" of five top provincial rinks strewn in their wake.

MAC WHITE

Not bad for a novice class which rocked the seats of Ontario's curling high and mighty with a sensational "upset" defeat of the powerful Unionville rink in the zone championships.

This triumph rocketed the Whitemen from the ordinary entry to a "strongly-rated' rink in the futurities of the Ontario championship rating books.

It's an old sports cliche that you have to be good or lucky or both, to reach the charmed circle of top-ranking tournament play. But records play an important part, too.

And so it was that when the curling colts went to the marrier, the Jake Edwards Kingston rink, 1960 Ontario champions, and runners-up in the Dominion championships, and a Guelph rink were rated the favorites.

The rest is now curling history. But it will stand repetition to say that tournament circles were jolted out of their prediction seats when the men from the Moira rocked Fort Henry and its environs with a stunning first-round defeat of Jolly Jake and his fancied four.

Mr. Mr. Edwards holds no grudges. He is an outstanding curler, a gentleman and a fine sportsman who plays to win regardless of where the chips fall.

As events subsequently proved, Edwards gave the Quinte rink an invaluable assist when he defeated the favored MacDonald and his Guelph curlers 9-6 in the tense seventh round. This combined with a sixth round setback by Caldwells Orillia quartet robbed MacDonald of a chance for the championship.

White went on defeat Hamilton easily and the three-way tie for the title came into being.

This turn of events brought out the fact that the Quinte rink had missed the championship in straight play by a mere two inches.

Two measly inches the right way—and a little less sweeping, and the Whitemen, by now, would be making reservations in one of Calgary's top hostelries for the Dominion championships March 6-10.

It happened in the second of the two defeats suffered by the rink, a 4-3 squeaker at the hands of George Parkes and his rink from Woodstock. Had they won this game it would have given them a 6-1 tournament score—and the Ontario title.

However that is tournament milk and theres no use crying over it. I'm sure Messrs White and company, like their club and their city are proud of their freshman activities in Ontario tournament play.

The fact that Mac and his merry men were the lone bridesmaid at the wedding of Orillia and the Ontario championship is honor enough in itself.

A small particle of foreign substance on the ice that caused an important stone to veer in the latter part of the championship game was taken in stride by White.

"It was one of those things that happen," he told me yesterday. "We did a lot better than expected and I'm proud of what the boys did."

"Next year?"

"We'll be there—I hope," Mac smiled confidently.

Senior Hockey

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

With the Ontario Hockey Association Senior title clinched, complacent Windsor Bulldogs took their third loss in a row Sunday night, while a real battle developed for the second-place niche.

In Windsor, Galt Terriers bounded into second place by topping the Bulldogs 3-2. Windsor went down 4-2 Saturday to the Strathroy Rockets who clinched a berth in the playoffs.

Leading the league with 50 points, Windsor can afford two losses, while the wins gave Galt a total of 44 points and Strathroy 42. Stratford is fourth with 37.

In Windsor Saturday, Galt's Bob McKnight broke a 2-2 deadlock at 13:49 of the third period with the winning goal. Bob Mader and Joe Hogan counted the other Galt tallies while Bob Brown and Lou Bendo scored for Windsor.

Boat Hurley stopped 31 shots on the Galt net to boost his league - leading margin over Ross Childs of the Bulldogs. With three games left, Hurley has a 3.44 average, compared to Childs' 3.56. Childs blocked 30 and has only one game left.

In Strathroy Sunday, the Rockets were paced by Art Sullivan with two goals. Cec Cowie and Don Mayes shot the others. Windsor marksmen were Lou Dietrich and Joe Zorica.

Quinte Drops Playoff To Orillia

White Led 5-4 After Nine

OTTAWA (Special) — Mac White's Belleville rink dropped a heart-breaking 8-6 decision to Orillia's Tom Caldwell's team at the Ottawa Curling Club Saturday in a special playoff to decide the Ontario Curling Championship and the berth in the Canadian Brier at Calgary.

The young Belleville rink could look back on the crucial 11th end and wonder what would have happened if Skip Mac White hadn't picked up some foreign matter with his last stone.

Belleville trailed 7-5 at that point of the match with Orillia counting one in the back ring. White's rock was coming in nicely with draw weight when it suddenly seemed to jump.

The stone changed direction and struck in the raised stone far enough for shot.

CHANGED PICTURE

What would have been a 7-6 situation turned into a 3-rock deficit for the Belleville boys. Orillia jammed the house with curate knockouts on the 12th and Belleville had to concede when they ran out of rocks and one shot in the house.

Easily the most popular rink in the eight-team bonspiel, the Belleville boys acquitted themselves well all the way through. At the finish, they were given a rousing ovation by the hundreds of Ottawa curling enthusiasts who packed every inch of viewing space.

Belleville was ahead 5-4 after nine completed ends but Orillia jamed the house with rocks on the 10th and were in a position to count five at one stage, white's well placed stone on the edge of the four-foot made it difficult for Caldwell to take out. It was a dangerous play and the Orillia skip had to sacrifice two of his own in getting the Belleville stone out of the way. Orillia settled for three to take the lead for the first time in the match.

Then came the fateful 11th end and the dirt picked up by white's stone certainly changed the complexion of the contest.

Only some fantastic doubles and a tremendous triple takeout by vice-skip Ross Coward kept Orillia in the match in the early stages.

White was disappointed but many of his supporters figured his rink will be heard from in the very near future. They thrilled the Ottawa curlers with the finest games of the event but it just wasn't their day Saturday.

In presenting silver trays to the Belleville rink, Bill Christie, representing the Brier sponsors told Mac White, "It's been said nice guys don't win and it certainly applies here today".

The rinks and score by ends:

Orillia — P. Milligan, T. Behan, R. Coward, T. Cadwell, skip — 8.

Belleville — A. McCullum, T. Carruthers, B. Riley, M. White, skip 6.

Smoke Eaters Win 8-3 Over Germans

FUESSEN, Germany (AP)—Trail Smoke Eaters defeated West Germany's national squad 8 - 3 in an exhibition hockey game Sunday.

Although they put up an energetic struggle against Canada's representatives for the world championships which open in Switzerland this week, the West Germans were no match for them.

The crowd of 10,000 frequently yelled with displeasure at the Smokies' vigorous display of body tactics. After the game, German trainers expressed gratification that their men had had an opportunity to play against a Canadian team.

Right wing Jackie McLeod accounted for four goals in the one-sided affair. Walt Peacosh netted two and Hugh McIntyre and Norm Lenardon fired one each.

CAN'T STAND SCRUTINY?

MONTREAL (CP)—Ken Farmer, president of the Canadian Olympic Association, said Saturday the amateur status of Canada's hockey players wouldn't stand up to Olympic scrutiny.

"I don't see how any of the players could be classed as amateurs," Farmer said in an interview. He was commenting on a report that Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee, felt it might be time to investigate the Canadian Olympic hockey situation.

Farmer said it would be difficult to get a really amateur team gathered in Canada. Most teams were affiliated with professional clubs and the "whole philosophy" of the players was "what do I get out of it?"

Williams Bros. Booths TV In Finals

Booth TV's and Williams Brothers earned their way into the Belleville Commercial Hockey League finals last night with victories over Jones Motors and Joyce Real Estate.

Booth's downed Joyce's 5-1 to take their series three games to none, with one tie. Williams' qualified for the final by defeating Joyce's 6-3 for a three-games-to-one score on the round.

Sharpshooting Doug Hull sparked the TV squad to its payoff win with three goals. John "Shaker" Baker scored once and drew three assists while Larry Lougheed had a goal and one helper. Al Chalmers and Rowbotham also picked up assists.

"Pug" Kellar fired the lone goal for Jones Motors who finished the regular schedule in first place but could only get one tie in this playoff series. Scott and Jones assisted on the goal.

Williams, last year's champions, got two-goal efforts from Bert Faulkner and Doug Lucas on the way to their 6-3 victory. Jack Gill and Dennis Kerruish scored the other goals while George Jacklin drew three assists, Jack Lucas and Goyer one apiece.

Jackie Elliott, "Huck" Reeves and Jim Sheridan potted Joyce goals. Pat Gilmour helped on two, Day, Bryant and Fox on one each.

Kidd Wins AAU Three-Mile Run

NEW YORK (CP) — Sports writers covering the United States Amateur Athletic Union's indoor track meet here Saturday night made Toronto's Bruce Kidd the runner-up for the title top performer on the strength of his victory in the three-mile run.

They gave the award to American broad jumper Ralph Boston, who set a world record for the indoor classification with a leap of 26 feet 6¼ inches. That was 4½ inches more than the mark he set at a meet the previous week.

Boston was the first - place choice of 10 of the 13 sports writers participating in the poll and scored 57 points.

The 17-year-old Canadian lad, the youngest athlete to take an American track title, got the three other first-place votes and 37 points on a 5-3-1 point basis.

BEAT THE BEST

Kidd's time in the three miles was 13 minutes, 47 seconds. The East York high school boy trounced Laszlo Tabori, two-time Hungarian Olympic winner, Polish refugee John Macy and Australian Olympian Al Lawrence in bringing off his triumph. He was 20 yards ahead of Tabori at the finish, 60 in front of Macy and 80 ahead of Lawrence.

Lawrence holds the world indoor mark of 13 minutes 26 seconds and he set the early pace. With 10 laps to go, Kidd took charge before Tabori made his bid. The Cannadian fought him off with sudden spurts.

In the last lap, Kidd took off in a burst that left Tabori flat-footed in his wake. Macy and Lawrence were well out of it by then.

"I planned no strategy as I did in Los Angeles where I lost to Beatty at two miles," Kidd said Later. "I just wanted to stay close to the lead and then go out to win."

PLAYED THEIR GAME

Kidd was referring to his performance at a Los Angeles indoor meet earlier this month. Coaches said then that the Canadian teen-ager might have done better in the two-mile event there if the older competitors hadn't made him play their game.

They forced him to set the pace. And when he did, it was too slow. Jim Beatty's big finish caught Kidd by surprise.

An American coach, George Eastment, said of the young Canadian's performance here:

"The greatest thing in all athletics, like a 17-year-old taking Mickey Mantle's place in centrefield; unbelievable the way he ran guys like that (Tabori, Macy and Lawrence) into the ground. He proves we've been babying our teen - agers too much in distance races."

Kidd's characteristic running style—his hands flapping ahead of him at every stride, the sudden bursts of speed—endeared him to the crowd. The sports writers inevitably dubbed him The Kidd.

Brumel, 18, said after the meet he was disappointed with Thomas. "I thought he'd be better competition."

Brumel whipped Thomas for the second time in two meetings on boards this winter. Brumel cleared seven feet, two inches. Thomas could do not better than seven feet.

A week ago, in their first U.S. meeting, Brumel got over seven feet three inches, Thomas two inches under that. They meet once more before Brumel heads home, in the Knights of Columbus games here Friday.

Skaters Ice Memorial In Vienna

VIENNA (AP)—Figure skating stars from Canada and Europe will stage a memorial exhibition this week for the U.S. skaters who were killed in the Brussels plane crash two weeks ago.

The Vienna Skating Union said it has invited, and received enthusiastic approval from European champion Sjoukje Dijkstra of Holland, Maria and Otto Jelinek of Oakville, Ont., and West Germany's Marika Kilius and Hans Juergen Baeumler. The exhibition will be held Wednesday and Thursday.

The world championships, which were scheduled for Prague, were cancelled because of the plane crash, in which 18 members of the U.S. team died.

Three Teams In American Dogfight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American Hockey League has a month to go before the regular season ends and the dogfight for a playoff berth still is going on among Cleveland Barons, Hershey Bears and Rochester Americans.

Buffalo Bisons, winning their eighth straight home game Sunday night, increased their second-place margin over Cleveland by five points by beating the Barons 6-3 at Buffalo.

This left the Barons in a tie for third spot at 60 points with the Bears, who posted an important 4 - 3 overtime victory against the Americans at Rochester. Rochester is in fifth place with 58 points. In a third game, the cellar-dwelling Providence Reds beat the Quebec Aces 5-3 at Providence.

Springfield Indians, holding first place by a comfortable 81 points, were idle. The first four teams go into the playoffs.

The Indians routed Quebec 5-1 at Springfield Saturday night. The Buffalo-at-Cleveland game was halted after two periods because of a power failure at the arena. The Barons were leading 2-1 at the time. The game probably will be completed March 18.

Spurs Edge Manchester

LONDON (Reuters) — Tottenham Hotspur, bidding strongly for both the English League title and the Football Association Cup, took another stride towards Soccer League honors Sunday with a 1-0 win at Manchester City's home stadium.

The Spurs lead the first division by nine points over Sheffield Wednesday, whose 1-0 win at home against Chelsea took it into second place over Wolverhampton Wanderers, beaten 3-2 at Cardiff.

Ken Keyworth, Leicester City's inside left, scored two of the goals which gave his club its first away league win over Arsenal for 62 years—then was carried off on a stretcher with severe bruising of his leg. The final score was 3-1.

In the struggle involving teams at the bottom of the first division standing, Newcastle United and Preston North End both won. Blackpool was beaten 1-0. Newcastle has 23 points, Preston 21 and Blackpool 19 at the bottom.

Sheffield United's lead in the second division was cut to two points after a 1-1 draw on Scunthorpe United's ground. Ipswich, its nearest rival, gained a point by beating Charlton Athletic 2-1 at home. Third-place Liverpool also won, beating cellar-dwelling Lincoln City 2-0.

Queen's Park Rangers and Bury both won to keep in step at the top of the third division. Queen's Park, ahead by a point, scored a 2-1 away win over Tranmere Rovers. Bury had to fight hard to beat Barnsley 2-1.

Crystal Palace, 3-0 winner at Barrow, still tops the fourth division by five points. Peterborough, in second place, won by the same margin at Northampton.

Maniago Standout In Leaf Debut

By LAURENT CHIASSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Goaler Cesare Maniago may lack big league experience but you'd hardly recognize it by the way he performed with Toronto Maple Leafs during the weekend.

Maniago, only 22, was sensational in his National Hockey League debut as the Maple Leafs took three out of a possible four points in back-to-back home games with Detroit Red Wings to retain a two-point lead atop the standings.

He made 37 saves as the Leafs upended the Wings 3-1 at Toronto Saturday and blocked 24 in a 2-2 tie at Detroit Sunday.

Montreal Canadiens also earned three points in two weekend outings. Saturday, they were held to a 1-1 tie by Chicago Black Hawks at Montreal but had little trouble in posting a 3-1 triumph over the rangers at New York Sunday.

Chicago swamped lowly Boston Bruins 7-2 Sunday in the weekend's only other game.

SAVED BY MANIAGO

The Leafs, weakened by injuries to key players, were outshot 38-16 Saturday but Maniago's strong showing saved them.

The youthful goalie got a chance to play when Gerry McNamara, substituting for injured Johnny Bower, suffered a knee injury against Montreal last Thursday. The only Detroit shot to elude him came off Vic Stasiuk's stick midway through the second period.

Toronto also got its three goals in the second when forward Billy Harris and defenceman Allan Stanley and Larry Hillman scored.

At Detroit Sunday, Gordie Howe's 19th goal of the season late in the second period earned the Wings the tie in a penalty-filled contest.

Stasiuk got the Wings' other goal while Bog Nevin and Stanley counted for the Leafs.

The Wings held big Frank Mahovlich—close to breaking retired Maurice (Rocket) Richard's record of 50 goals in one season—scoreless in both games. Big M, who has 45 goals and eight games left to play, was watched closely by Detroit and didn't even get a shot on goal in Sunday's game.

The two games marked the final meetings between the Leafs and Wings this season. Toronto won the series with seven victories, two losses and five ties.

GOALIES STAR

Goalies Jacques Plante of the Canadiens and Glenn Hall of the Black Hawks were the stars of Saturday's game at Montreal.

Plante, winner of the Vezina Trophy for the last five seasons, was particularly brilliant in the final 10 minutes, making great saves against Ken Wharram, Eric Nesterenko, Stan Mikita and Pierre Pilote.

Bernie Geoffrion's 40th goal of the season gave the Canadiens a 1-0 lead at 2:27 of the third period but Ab McDonald, a Montreal castoff, tied the count 1-1 for the Hawks a little more than two minutes later. Both goals came on power plays.

Jean Beliveau got the 270th goal of his career, moving him into a sixth-place tie on the NHL's all-time scoring list, in Montreal's win at New York Sunday. The goal tied Beliveau with Howie Morenz and Aurel Jollat, two Canadiens of a bygone era.

The NHL's all-time scorer is Richard who retired before this season got under way with 544 goals. Howe is second with 465, Ted Lindsay, who retired last summer after 16 years with Detroit and Chicago, had 365, Nels Stewart 324 and Geoffrion has 294.

Henri Richard was the star of the game, however. He got his 20th goal of the season and set up the other two by Beliveau and Doug Harvey.

AVERTS SHUTOUT

The Canadiens might have run the score higher if it hadn't been for Lorne (Gump) Worsley's acrobatic goaltending. Worsley came up with 38 saves and Plante had 34.

Bobby Hull paced Chicago's triumph over the Bruins with his 27th and 28th goals of the season.

Red Hay, Eric Nesterenko, Wharram, Tod Sloan and Ron Murphy also scored for the Hawks. Jim Bartlett and Don McKenney tallied for the Bruins.

SET WORLD RECORD

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) Marvin Panch drove a 1960 Pontiac at a world record-breaking speed of 149.601 miles an hour to score a 15-second victory Sunday in the Daytona 500 stock car race. Panch easily topped the previous 500 - mile world record of 138.767 set by Jim Rathmann in last year's Indianapolis race.

N. H. L. Big Seven

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion increased his lead atop the National Hockey League individual scoring race to seven points during the weekend by scoring once and picking up an assist in two games.

The Boomer, seeking his second NHL scoring title, now has 40 goals and 42 assists for 82 points.

Teammate Jean Beliveau also picked up a goal and an assist and moved into a tie for second place with Toronto's Frank Mahovlich. Each has 75 points.

Mahovlich, who leads in goals with 45, got only one assist in two games.

Lose Three to Kingston

City Minors Eliminated

Belleville bantams, midgets and juveniles bowed out of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association playdowns in Kingston Saturday when they dropped all three games of a triple-header to their Limestone City counterparts.

Kingston bantams defeated Belleville 5-4 in the tightest game of the day, winning the round 15-6, while the midgets took a 7-2 win for a 14-4 series score.

In the juvenile game, marred by a third - period brawl, Kingston took an 11-3 decision to capture the round 15-7. The first game here on Wednesday was a 4-4 tie, the best a Belleville team could manage in the six games.

The juvenile game was close and hard-checking in its early stages with the clubs tied 2-2 after one period. Kingston pulled away with five unanswered goals in the second and outscored Belleville 4-1 in the third.

At 14.45 Belleville's Don Goodfellow, who drew a misconduct a major and three minors during the game, tangled with Kingston's Harold McGinnis. The Belleville players charged off the bench to join the fight and all earned misconduct penalties. The officials handed out three majors to Kingston and two to Belleville at the same time.

Don Boutilier and Garfield Ball led the Kingston attack with three goals apiece while Ron Earl and Terry Aylesworth each had two and Bob Rawson one.

Doug Dafoe scored twice for Belleville with Jerry Jones getting the other.

Jerry St. Denis gave Belleville a brief 1-0 lead in the midget game before Kingston unleased a strong attack to win going away. Bob Ridley scored Belleville's second goal.

Gary Lavallee and Wayne Cashman scored two goals apiece for the winners. Single goals went to Ron Reid, Mike McMahon and Chuck Convery.

A three-goal performance by John Mercer paced Kingston bantams to their close 5-4 decision. Rick Thibodeau had a goal and two assists and Jim Dorey added the other goal.

Al Mott was the top player of the Belleville squad and earned himself one goal and one assist. Other scorers were Bob Perr, Bob Pursey and Ronnie Post.

U.S.A. Easily Whips Canada In Badminton

TORONTO (CP)—The United States crushed Canada in the Thomas Cup North American zone badminton finals here Saturday, winning the nine-game series in six matches.

The strong team from California moved into the second day's play Saturday with a 4-0 score over the Canadian team. Bert Fergus of Vancouver then won Canada's first point of the series with a 15-7, 16-17, 15-2 victory over Manny Armendariz, America's third stringer.

But Jim Poole of San Diego got the clincher when he defeated Toronto's Bev Westcott 15-4, 15-3.

Bill Berry of San Diego brought the American total to 6-1 when he beat Jim Carnwath of Toronto, rated the country's number one player, 15-7, 15-7.

The U.S. doubles team of T. Wynn Rogers, Arcadia, and Joey Alston, Pasadena, downed Herb Kirkconnell and Jack Martin, both of Toronto, 15-8, 15-4.

With the score standing at 7-1 in favor of the Americans, Canada gained some consolation in the final match when Bert Fergus and Bev Westcott beat Jim Poole and Manny Armendariz 15-8, 12-15, 15-7.

The U.S. players now will go to Indonesia in March for the finals of the cup.

40 Named For O.B.A. Executive

HAMILTON (CP) — The Ontario Baseball Association executive will propose an amendment permitting teams in annexed areas to retain their former classifications at the association's annual meeting in Kitchener, March 17-18.

Smaller centres which have amalgamated with larger ones will be allowed to draw players from their previous boundaries only. It will be necessary to present a players' list to the provincial body with a request for permission to remain in the former classification.

The executive meeting here Sunday decided to present another amendment, calling for a title-winning club to post a bond before it receives a championship trophy. The loss of several trophies in recent years prompted the move. The bond will be refunded when the trophy is returned. More than 40 nominations for the OBA executive have been received.

Minor Hockey

The Barons of Belleville's Squirt hockey league scored a 3-2 win over Point Anne in an exhibition game played on the weekend.

The winners took a 2-1 lead in the first period and the clubs played through a scoreless second heat before trading goals in the final twenty minutes.

B. James paced the Barons scoring two goals and assisting on the other, scored by G. Burkitt. G. Kaye earned a pair of assists. Point Anne goals were scored by J. Hunter and G. Sero.

Beavers Win Two Big Ones Over Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Kitchener - Waterloo Beavers climbed into a second-place tie in the Eastern Professional Hockey League standings with a pair of weekend victories. To do it they had to beat the two top clubs in the loop.

The New York Rangers' farm club toppled the league-leading Hull-Ottawa Canadiens 3-1 on Saturday night and skated to a 5-1 win over Sault Ste. Marie Thunderbirds in a Sunday afternoon game.

Beavers lost the service of forward Mel Pearson in the Saturday game. He's out for an indefinite period after suffering a five-stitch skate cut in his foot.

Two other Sunday games ended in ties. In Hull the Canadiens needed a spectacular goal from Terry Gray to gain a 4-4 split with Sudbury Wolves while Kingston Frontenacs came from behind twice to tie 3-3 with Montreal Royals.

Len Ronson, Bob Sabourin and Art Stratton were the scorers for Beavers against the Habs Saturday. Bob Ellett got the only Hull-Ottawa goal.

SUPPLIED PUNCH

On Sunday it was Stratton, Sabourin, Dave Balcon, Don Cherry and Duane Rupp who supplied the scoring punch against Thunderbirds. John Offidani was the lone Thunderbird marksman.

The Montreal game was delayed more than an hour by the late arrival of Kingston, held up by a severe storm which rocked the Montreal area. But once on Forum ice the Frontenacs showed no ill effects of their delayed trip.

Orval Tessier shone for Kingston, banging in a pass from Harry Sinden with only one minute and 45 seconds remaining in the game to salvage the tie. Jerry Ouellette scored twice for Kingston while Montreal goals were scored by Wayne Connelly, Don Hogan and Reggie Grigg.

Hull fans were stunned by the second-period uprising of the visiting Wolves who banged in four unanswered goals in the second period to take a 4-1 lead.

But Habs struck back quickly and ended the period trailing by a single goal. Gray tied the count in the third period while lying flat on his back near the Sudbury goal. He managed somehow to deflect Chuck Hamilton's slapshot past Ed Babiuk.

Keith McCreary with two goals and Billy Carter with a single were other Hull-Ottawa scorers. Sudbury scorers were Ken Girard, Cummy Burton, Myrn Stankiewicz and John Sleaver.

Former Giant Arrested After Stickup

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry (Hank) Thompson, 40, who played in the 1951 and 1954 World Series with New York Giants, was arrested Sunday on a charge of robbing a tavern of $37.

Police said the former Negro baseball star entered the bar drew a .22-calibre pistol and announced: "This is a stickup. Put the money on the bar."

The bartender handed him $37, police said, and Thompson herded him and 10 patrons into the rear and then fled.

A patrolman noticed him hurrying from the tavern. The officer found out what had happened and arrested Thompson a short distance away following a brief scuffle. He was held in $10,000 bail for a hearing March 3.

Now unemployed, Thompson last played with the Minneapolis Millers in the American Association in 1957. Prior to that he was with Jersey City in the International League and the St. Louis Browns.

He played both the infield and outfield.

WARSAW (Reuters) — The hockey team that will represent the United States in next month's world championships in Switzerland defeated the Polish national team here 3-1 Saturday night. The win avenged a 2-1 loss to the Poles earlier this week in Katovice.

Decisions Kid Paret

Ortega Upsets Champ

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gaspar Ortega scored the biggest victory of his career Saturday with a unanimous decision over world welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret in a televised non-title 10 - rounder at Olympic Auditorium.

Ortega's stunning upset is almost certain to detract from the gate at Paret's title fight with Emile Griffith in Miami April 1.

The lanky Mexican slapped the champion from Cuba with several bristling rights, particularly in the late rounds, but Paret was never in danger of going down.

Ortega weighed 149½ and Paret came in at 154½, 7½ pounds over the limit in welterweight title matches.

There were no knockdowns but it was one of the most spirited bouts here in recent years. The pace was hot through the first five rounds.

The champion was penalized a point for hitting after the bell following the second round. But the Mexican fighter would have won without this assistance.

Judge Dick Young had him ahead 5-3 and judge Frankie Van scored it 6-4 for Ortega. Referee Jimmy Wilson called it 4-3.

It was Ortega's second victory over Paret. He scored a split decision over the Cuban in 1959, before Paret became champion.

Quinte COSSA Basketball

Moira Secondary School juniors, after beingall but counted out of the Junior "A" series, defeated Belleville C.I. and V.S. on Friday night to force a three way tie for first place. On Saturday, Moira juniors swept past Quinte juniors and Belleville C.I. and V.S. juniors and won first place in the Bay of Quinte C.O.S.S.A. League and a spot in the C.O.S.S.A. Basketball Tournament, which will be played at Quinte Secondary School on Saturday, March 4.

Quinte S.S., who lost to Moira but defeated Belleville C.I. and V.S. in the other playoff game last Saturday, will be the other Bay of Quinte representative in the junior competition. Quinte plays the winner of the Lake Ontario Southern winner, which will be either Oshawa Central or Bowmanville at 12.30 p.m. Moira Secondary School plays against Cobourg at 1.30 p.m. All these games are to be held at Quinte S.S.

In the senior section, Quinte S.S. won first place on the strength of their 8 and 2 record. Belleville C.I. and V.S. had to defeat Prince Edward C.I. 64-54 in a thriller on Saturday for the right to be the second team representing the Bay of Quinte in the C.O.S.S.A. Belleville plays either Oshawa Central or Oshawa Donovan at 2.30 p.m. and Quinte S.S. plays Peterborough C.V.S. at 3.30 p.m.

In the "B" section, Campbellford seniors play Tweed seniors on Tuesday, Feb. 28 and Norwood plays the winner of Tweed juniors and Madoc juniors on Tuesday, Feb. 28. Their return games are to be played on Friday, March 3. The winner of this series plays the Southern "B" winners during the week of March 6. The "B" C.O.S.S.A. tournament is to be held in Whitby on Saturday, March 18.

Palmer Wins Baton Rouge Open Golf

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) Defending champion Arnold Palmer turned in a four-under-par 6 to win the $20,000 Baton Rouge open golf tournament by seven strokes Sunday.

The victory was worth $2,800. Palmer's total was 266 over the 6,700 - yard Sherwood Forest Country Club course.

Wes Ellis Jr. finished second with a 273 and earned $1,900.

Johnny Pott, Buster Cupit and Gary Player, the South African, tied for third place with 274s and won $1,233 each.

George Knudson of Toronto finished in a tie for eighth place with Jackie Cupit. Knudson's scores were 66-72-71-70—279 and earned him $825. Al Balding of Toronto picked up $130 for his 71-74-71-69—285.

Mahovlich Relaxed With 45 Goals

NEW YORK (AP) — By all precedents, Frank Mahovlich of Timmins should be biting the fingernails of one hand and mopping his brow with the other as he continues his frantic pursuit of the National Hockey League record of 50 goals in one season.

But the big Toronto Maple Leaf star is as cool as ice.

"Why should there be any pressure?" he asked. "I've already had a good year even if I don't score another goal. Before the season I would have settled for 30 goals and I'm sure that the Coach (Punch Imlach) would have too. Now that I'm way over that total I'm completely relaxed."

Mahovlich has 45 goals. He needs six more in the remaining three weeks of the regular campaign to break the record set by Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens 16 years ago.

"I know it's not going to be easy," Mahovlich said. "Most of the other clubs are putting a special man on me now and the checking is closer. Chicago has put Eric Nesterenko on me and he's giving me trouble."

Mahovlich, 23, is in his fourth season in the NHL. His previous high was 22 goals two years ago. Last season he scored only 18 times.

"Imlach told me to shoot more," he revealed. "So I've been shooting and they've been going in."

Gaels Bow To Mustangs

KINGSTON (CP) — The league-leading University of Western Ontario Mustangs rolled to another win Saturday night when they trounced Queen's University Golden Gaels 62-45 in Gael's final game of the Intercollegiate Senior Basketball League.

Mustangs dropped their first game of the season Friday night at Toronto but soon found their way back to the winning side of the scoresheet here Saturday.

Gary Boug paced the winners with 14 points and Jim Griffin hopped 12. High-scoring Barry Howson was held to nine points.

Gael's best was Bob Laughton with 16 points. Fred Reilly was next in line with 12.

Mustangs led 32-34 at half time and never looked back.

Mustangs have one game remaining. They meet Assumption Lancers at Windsor next week.

Quinte COSSA Basketball

By BILL BURLEY

In the last games of the junior season last Friday night, the three Belleville schools came out in a three-way tie for first place. This led to a three-game round robin on Saturday, won by Moira and Quinte, to choose the first and second place teams to play in the COSSA finals; the first-place team being the winner of the Bay of Quinte championship.

The first game of the playoffs started at 9.30 Saturday morning with Quinte playing Moira at BCI. In the first quarter Quinte held to a five-point lead. In the second Moira's defences kept Quinte from scoring any points but scored 16 themselves. In the following half, Moira kept the score in their favor and took the game by a 35-19 victory.

The second event was played at 12.30 with BCI playing Moira at Quinte. Both teams fought evenly throughout most of the first half with Moira taking a slight lead. BCI, usually noted for accuracy in shots, couldn't get the ball to go in the basket. However, Moira's shots proved to be different and fatal to BCI. The Ramblers built up a substantial lead and defeated the BCI team.

The final game, between BCI and Quinte at 3.30, meant in or out of the COSSA finals for either team, Moira having defeated both teams left each with one loss. This meant the winner of this game would be the second team to represent Belleville at the playoffs.

The odds were in favor of BCI, as they already had beaten Quinte two for two games. The first quarter was a defensive event as BCI only scored five points, one up on Quinte. Again in the second BCI outshot the Saints by one point. Then in the third something sparked Quinte on as they took the quarter 17-8. BCI outscored Quinte by four points in the fourth but lost the game by a 38-34 score.

Moira and Quinte will now play the representative teams from the Lakeshore district in the final playoffs next Saturday.

West Women Favored

OTTAWA (CP)—Women curlers from the 10 provinces today launched the first national championships, nine rounds of action that should have picked a winner by Thursday night.

The first stones were to be thrown at 10:30 a.m. EST after opening ceremonies at the Ottawa Hunt and Golf Club.

Rinks from Saskatchewan and Alberta stacked up as particularly strong prospects over the round-robin schedule of 10-end matches—two ends less than the men's championships demands.

The four western rinks were late arriving here Sunday night after bad weather delayed their train, giving them little solid rest before the two rounds today.

MEETS CHAMPION

The first draw pitches Alberta right at Saskatchewan. Joyce McKee, 27, of Saskatoon, who handily won an unofficial East-West championship last year against Quebec, took on Mrs. Dorothy Thompson of Edmonton.

Miss McKee, loser of only five of 61 games in six Saskatoon women's bonspiels, has had physicist Sylvia Fedoruk as third for six years. The Thompson rink, a business girls' group, is playing together for the first time but each has at least 10 years' experience.

Mrs. Irene Parker of Strathclair, Man., has a rink boasting the same amount of experience although the unit is new. Manitoba was pitted against Mrs. Mona Comeau of Moncton, N.B., in the opener. Mrs. Comeau has won the provincial title the last three years with the same crew.

Ontario's Mrs. Emily Woolley of Toronto and Sarnia, at 67 a perennial curling power, met Nova Scotia led by Mrs. Mona Rhodenizer of Lunenburg, in her 60s, whose rink has been together eight years.

Margaret Fuller of Nanaimo, B.C., 37 and a curler 10 years, met Mrs. Violet Pike of Grand Falls, Nfld., leading a four-year-old combination. Mrs. Helena Ellyett of Montreal's town of Mount Royal, with a rink assembled just this year, played Mrs. Elizabeth Macdonald of Charlottetown in the Quebec-Prince Edward Island meeting.

Les Digby Named to Soccer Body

TORONTO (CP) — Bert Lipsham of Toronto was elected president of the Ontario Soccer Association at the annual meeting here during the weekend.

Other officers elected: Terry Kelly of Oshawa, vice-president; Walter Lomas, Les Digby of Belleville, and Frank Musico of Sudbury, directors.

Teepees Take Two From St. Michael's

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Fifth-place St. Catharines Teepees met second-place St. Michael's College Majors twice in Ontario Hockey Association junior A action during the weekend and put them down 3-2 and 3-1.

Peterborough Petes Sunday ended Toronto Marlboros' last mathematical chance of making the playoffs. The Petes collected a 1-0 victory, leaving Marlies at the bottom of the league with 26 points.

Guelph still holds first place after an idle weekend, with 64 points. St. Mike's is second with 56, Niagara Falls third at 49, Hamilton fourth with 45, followed by St. Catharines at 39, Peterborough at 37 and Marlboros at 26.

Murray Hall, John Brenneman and Doug Robinson tallied for Teepees Sunday. Bruce Draper scored his 43rd goal of the season for St. Mike's.

Saturday, Hall gave Teepees the victory when his fluke shot bounced off the arm of St. Michael's goalie Jerry Cheevers and into the net. It was Hall's second goal of the game. Earlier he had assisted on Bill Ives' score.

Dave Draper and Andre Champagne scored for Majors.

Sunday, rookie netminder Chuck Goddard was the star in Peterborough's win over Marlboros. The teams played 56 minutes of scoreless hockey before Wayne Boddy scored the only goal of the game. Goddard twice robbed Marlboros left winger George Standing on breakaway shots.

WINS CURLING

QUEBEC (CP)—R. E. (Bim) Sturgeon of Ottawa Saturday won the Lady Gilmour interprovincial mixed curling championship with a 15-7 victory over Gery Venne's Quebec Winter Club rink.

AT THE PARK — A uniformed Dana Wynter looks on as Kenneth More plots course of famous German sea raider in "Sink the Bismarck", opening tonight at the Park Theatre. The two fine British actors are shown working side-by-side in the War Room of the Admiralty in London, which is the setting for most of the Twentieth Century-Fox feature. On the same program and having its first city showing in CinemaScope and Technicolor. History's Greatest Temptress "The Goddess of Love" starring Belinda Lee and Jacques Sernas.

Western Hockey

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Seattle Totems closed in on Vancouver Canucks Sunday night in the fight for third place in the Western Hockey League race.

With an easy 8-3 victory over Spokane Comets in Seattle, Totems moved to within a point of the Vancouver's 64 point-total.

Centre Guyle Fielder was the big gun. The Seattle veteran, the league's top scorer with 84 points this season, assisted on six goals.

Tommie McVie scored three goals and Rudy Fillon got two. Singles went to Marc Boileau, Bill Macfarland and Murray Wilkie. The fourth-place Comets got singles from Del Topoll, Forbes Kennedy and Tom Hodges.

The first-place Calgary Stampeders trounced the second-place Portland Buckaroos 8-2 in Calgary and Spokane beat the Canucks 7-6 in Spokane Saturday.

The win increased Calgary's lead over Portland to seven points and Norm Johnson, scoring three times to give Stampeders an easy victory, boosted his goal output for the season to 20.

For Calgary, rookie Cliff Bristow scored two goals and Ron Leopold, Bill Burega and Sid Finney counted one each. Eddie Dudych and Ron Matthews scored for Portland.

Mac Mekilok scored twice for the Comets. Singles came from Steve Witiuk, Topoll, Kennedy, Don McCukser and Dick Lamoureux. Vancouver goals came from Chick Balon, Frank Roggeveen and Danny Belisle.

TAKES DOG RACE

LACONIA, N.H. (AP)—Ernest Brunet, a rural mail carrier from Gatineau Point, Que., drove his team through a pelting rain and other hazards to win the world sled dog championship Sunday. Brunet, 46, was clocked in four hours 22 minutes for the competition held over a three-day span.

Oedipus Rex Is Converted Into Moving, Gripping Opera

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra concluded their season on CBS with one of the most intriguing programs in the series' brilliant history.

Bernstein assembled a cast of actors and a group of singers to show how Stravinsky, the Russian composer, had converted Sophocles' Oedipus Rex from a powerful dramatic classic into a moving and gripping opera.

The same portions of the play and of the opera were enacted Sunday with the conductor serving as guide and commentator. Bernstein would point out places where Stravinsky had handled a dramatic situation quietly when Sophocles had created an emotional explosion. He translated occasionally from the Latin of the opera. He played bits on the piano to emphasize the recurring use of a theme.

ENJOYED BOTH

At the end, we had not only been enlightened and educated but had enjoyed skilfully condensed versions of both a great play and a great opera.

Bernstein referred to the 90 minutes as an "inquiry" and an "experiment." It was both, but it was also great television.

The theme of Oedipus Rex is hardly ideal for children's hours but the CBS censors wisely decided to leave the plot—and some of the play's language—alone.

CBS' Circle Theatre program Engineer of Death: The Eichmann Story has been postponed from March 15 to April 12, closer to the new date set for the trial of the man charged with the murder of millions of Jews.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Tuesday, February 28, 1961

General Tendencies: This day can be fraught with surprises and all kinds of interesting and unusual activities and events. Be on the lookout for them and realize they are opportunities giving you the chance to handle them in a very intelligent and satisfactory manner. Open your consciousness to "think big and to get big" — now.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) While this is a good day in which to enjoy yourself, give a good deal of thought how to best commercialize on your special talents. Get the right ideas that will lead to advancement and real success — don't be satisfied with peanuts.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Your best activity is right within the sphere of your own home now. Make certain that all power units are operating properly. Then plan a charming party and be most happy and popular with everyone. Please family.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)— You are highly inspired to get into a good deal of constructive activity today, which is very fine, but be most careful while out driving and in motion, or you can meet with an accident. Control your temper. Plan itinerary sanely.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — You are inspired just how to command a greater income for future. Don't permit this opportunity to slip through your fingers, even though you will have to work hard, which is the secret of getting a good start. P.M. budget wisely.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Since you are feeling vital and magnetic, be sure you utilize these qualities cleverly today. Get into the right channels. Charm others with a happy and friendly smile. P.M. go out socially to some worthwhile function. Be dynamic.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)— If you contact those who have had considerable experience and are influential, you will be able to make constructive plans for a more abundant future. Evening is best spent at clubs, or improving yourself culturally.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — By associating with influential allies today, you will be able to do them favors which will in turn help you get ahead faster. P.M. state your ambitions to right people at a social affair. Be cheerful, happy.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)— It is possible now to ally yourself with experts and powerful individuals in your own field of endeavor so that you can make big strides forward in your career. Get into any civic activity that appeals, too. Grow.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Ideal day to step out of ordinary rut and look into new outlets for which you have had little time in the past. Pick the right one and you shall have real success, provided you are practical in all that you do. Study, also.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can adopt new methods for expansion now. Also, be sure you meet that unexpected obligation without grumbling or procrastinating. Handle your affairs wisely. Evening is fine for happiness and romance. Be gay, charming.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The ideal day and evening for getting together with Big-wigs in government, dynamic associates, important people. Many favors and much support can be yours provided you are most courteous and willing to return favors.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you use a more modern system in your work today, you can accomplish a very great deal. Get rid of what is antiquated or obsolete. Also, get fellow workers who are more progressive and on the beam. Expand through labor.

If your child is born today — he, or she, will be one of those human dynamoes who will ever be dashing about from one interest to another, since the mind is very keen and the imagination great. So, be sure you early teach the great lesson of patience, or else the rolling stone that gathers no moss is in this chart. Then the chart becomes a remarkable one, especially in such fields as inventions, politics, astronomy, etc., whether male or female.

PREMIER LESAGE

revenue field would appear to bring a small benefit to Quebec, except that Quebec's personal income tax is already more than 13 per cent of the federal tax. The proposed boost, to take effect in 1962, therefore brings not a cent more to the Quebec treasury.

But the formula brings relief to Quebec income tax payers, who now are doubly taxed on income and who will of course pocket the difference between 13 and 16 per cent unless Premier Lesage sees no alternative but to maintain the present level of double taxation.

Personal income tax is a particularly sensitive area of taxation in Quebec. A recent decision to reduce basic income tax exemptions, which resulted in tax increases, went over poorly with the Quebec public and criticism was widespread.

It is possible the Quebec government may decide to turn to other provincial fields of taxation. Generalization of sales taxes for municipal and school purposes is a distinct possibility.

DAMAGE

fallen trees and utility poles from about 9 p.m. Saturday to daybreak Sunday. Not a single Montreal-area road was recommended for travel Sunday.

A gust of wind tore the roof off a warehouse in south St. Catharines, Ont. and heavy rain washed away the foundations of a house in nearby Brockway forcing the family to evacuate.

In the Chatham area, 2,500 telephones were out of service.

RUSH IN CREWS

Ontario Hydro rushed line crews into the southwestern Ontario area from North Bay, the Kitchener - Hamilton area and other Ontario points.

A Chatham woman was trapped in her car for half an hour when a Hydro pole fell across Highway 40 near Wallaceburg, partly surrounding the vehicle with 8,000-volt wires.

A large part of east-end Cornwall was without power from midnight Saturday through most of Sunday. Almost 9,000 families were without electricity. Many had no heat.

Ottawa streets were turned into skating rinks. More than 70 minor accidents were reported. Two power breaks were reported Saturday night, one of them knocking out telephone service to 2,000 west-end homes.

CHEER POPE JOHN

ROME (AP)—More than 100,000 Romans cheered Pope John today as the 79-year-old pontiff motored across Rome to attend Lenten services in the Church of Santa Maria Goretti. he then walked in a Lenten procession with priests and worshippers in streets adjoining the church, in the heavily populated Nomentano district.

Scouting activities

By CHRIS LEGGAT

2nd Belleville Boy Scout Auxiliary held its February meeting Thursday evening in Christ Church Parish Hall.

The president, Mrs. H. Rainbird opened the meeting in the usual manner. Mrs. J. Johnston the secretary read the minutes and informed the members of the arrival of the new Scout Flag which they purchased. The flag will be dedicated at the Scout Church Parade Sunday, February 26, 1961.

A check was sent to the Parish Guild in appreciation of the use of the kitchen facilities during the year.

Than you notes were read from Akela, Mrs. Margaret Kemp and Mrs. Lionel Blaker.

SICK CARDS

The members were asked to contact Mrs. Henderson at WO 2-0948 or Mrs. Rainbird at WO 2-0492 with regards to sick cards to be sent out.

The date for the "Father and Son" banquet was set for April with Mrs. J. Foster convening and Mrs. G. Colwill and Mrs. R. Dafoe as co-conveners. It was agreed the Auxiliary would invite a Scout troop from O.S.D. to the banquet.

The executive acting as hostesses were busy conducting the games which followed.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

As this was Boy Scout Week the serving table was centred with a large birthday cake, decorated with the Scout Emlem in the troop colors in honor of Baden Powell's birthday and flanked by green and yellow candles. Mrs. J. Johnston was the donor of this delicious cake as well as a beautiful doll cake which was won by Mrs. Ivan Wright.

Mrs. Rainbird introduced Mrs. P. Gelsthorpe the president of the Boy Scout Auxiliary Board, as well as the former president of 2nd Belleville Boy Scout Auxiliary. Mrs. F. Beeby, a former president, thanked the members for inviting her to the meeting and urged anyone to accept the offer if approached for the president's chair, because it is an honor one could not afford to ignore.

Mrs. Margaret Miles extended a vote of thanks to the executive for an enjoyable evening and delicious lunch.

LADIES' AUXILIARY

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the 6th Belleville Boy Scout group held its February meeting at Tabernacle Church, with an attendance of 14.

Mrs. Freda LaRue brought back a report from the workshop meeting held at Parkdale Community Centre, and was sure all who attended were inspired and enlightened.

Conveners for committees were nominated as follows: sewing, Mrs. Nora Graham; entertainment, Mrs. Lee Latchford; special, Mrs. Freda LaRue; membership, Mrs. Violet Christopher.

As the treasury is low at present, members were asked to put their talents to work and bring the talent money to the next meeting, which will be held on April 14th.

COMING EVENTS

The following coming events were discussed: the Queen Scout ceremony on March 9; the sale of tickets for an event on March 16th and 17th.

The meeting closed with the Scout Mizpah and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Thanks to Mrs. Miles for this fine report.

'Y' Basketball

Saturday's triple-header in the YMCA Junior Basketball House League saw the Lakers, led by Richard Woodley with nine points, lase the Hawks by a score of 17-8. Don McCormack of the Lakers was secon highest scorer of the game with eight points. Mike Hume led the Hawks with four points whilst Bob Farrow and Ross Drysdale scored two each for the losers.

In the second tilt the Globetrotters beat the Stealers 25-15, wih Dave Hurst scoring 13 points for the winners and Dyson Sargeant leading the losers with nine points. Also scoring for the Globetrotters were Bob Watson with 10 points and John Murphy with two points. Ross Drysdale was the only other scorer for the Stealers accounting for six points.

George Hogan was high scorer for the afternoon's activities as he connected for 14 points to lead the Celtics to a 26-10 victory over the Satellites. Murdoc McFarlane with six points, David Beresford with four and Gary May with two were the other scorers for the Celtics. Doug Row tallied eight points for the Satellites with Richard Cherry scoring the remaining two points.

Teen-Ager Says Few Read Editorial Page

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) A teen-age panelist jolted delegates to the Canadian managing editors' conference Saturday by saying most young people get their world news from weekly news magazines rather than daily newspapers.

Peter Maddaugh, a Grade 13 student at St. Catharines Collegiate Institute, said teen-agers are interested in world affairs but have no time to follow them daily.

"We don't like the way newspapers just put down facts. We want more discussion and that's probably why weekly news magazines are more popular," he said.

He agreed with Robert Owen, executive editor of the Kingston Whig - Standard, that weekly news magazines — Mr. Owen cited Time magazine—present news in a slanted way. But, he said, at least they provoke discussion.

He said most students he talked to turn first to the local news in the daily newspaper and few read the editorial page.

Another panelist, Ann Louise Vicary, a Grade 13 student at Niagara Falls Collegiate, said she finds teen-agers read newspapers to help them form opinions. "We can get the bare facts from TV or radio."

Charles Dubin, Toronto lawyer, addressing the conference on libel and contempt, said the administration of justice in Canada is the envy of freedom-loving people everywhere. This was due both to the integrity of the legal profession and to the "vigilance and basic fairness of the press whose sole desire is to see that justice is done between man and man."

HEADS CRACKDOWN — Ken C. Foster, director of the enforcement branch of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, points to a map showing commission offices and enforcement agents whose job is to track down people who defraud the insurance fund. An all-out crackdown starts in April against employers suspected of conspiring with their employees to get funds fraudulently. (CP Photo).

OPEN CHANNEL — As a result of Saturday night's rainstorm which flooded creeks and culverts, the Moira River is running open today as far down as the footbridge. Above is view of open channel south of the North Front Street bridge, with broken ice piled at the side.

USE FORCE

Stanleyville, the Oriental province capital, expressing "grave anxiety" at the troop movements.

The note drew attention to a Security Council resolution authorizing UN troops to use force to prevent clashes between rival Congolese factions.

The UN said the Canadians beaten up here today had their money and weapons taken by the Congolese.

In addition to Furlott, they were identified as Capt. Mike Kadziora of Camp Gagetown, N.B.; Sigmn. A. J. Dufour, St. Jean-Eudes, Que.; and L. Cpl. Albert Jolley of Montreal.

Canadian Press correspondent Peter Buckley reported that all the Canadians suffered bruises and cuts. Kadziora was the worst off.

In addition to their wallets and watches, the Canadians were robbed of their weapons—two caribes and two pistols.

They were allowed to drive back to Canadian headquarters.

4 OTHERS HELD

Two Canadians and two Danish military policemen were captured Sunday night but they were not mistreated. All were released with their weapons through the intercession of Maj. Clem Bouffard of Montreal, Canadian operations officer with the UN.

The UN spokesman said the girl raped Sunday night was in a car with a Sudanese officer when they were stopped by two Congolese para-commandos armed with sub-machine-guns.

The officer was held at gunpoint while the girl was assaulted. There also were unconfirmed reports that one Belgian was killed during the night.

Congolese troops also halted UN cars in the capital Sunday night and manhandled Italian and Tunisian troops. They detained about 70 UN personnel for three hours at a lake outside Leopoldville and roughed up two Canadians.

Under the "extra alert" ordered today, more UN troops were carrying arms and guards were increased. Troops also were ordered to increase the size of their patrols and convoys as a protective measure.

FEAR UN ACTION

The detention of the 70 UN men at a lake 30 miles outside Leopoldville apparently resulted from fears by Congolese soldiers that the UN troops had come to disarm them.

The UN troops, who had gone to the lake on a holiday outing, stumbled on Congolese army manoeuvres. Two Canadians were slightly beaten up before the Congolese left and allowed the UN soldiers to return to Leopoldville. One Italian was forced to hand over all his money and belongings before he was released.

Congolese troops were involved in a brawl in a camp 20 miles from Leopoldville Sunday, apparently over politics. The brawl gave rise to uncertainty about whether the troops would oppose any move by Gizenga's forces into the capital.

Most of the incidents against the UN involved cars stopped and seized at roadblocks in the vicinity of Binza army camp. The post on the city's outskirts houses Maj.-Gen. Joseph Mobutu's paratroop detachments.

The UN called the rape of the white woman a "bestial" attack.

A spokesman gave this account of what happened:

She was being driven home by an unarmed UN Sudanese officer when the car was stopped by soldiers some distance outside Leopoldville.

Two Congolese armed with sub-machine-guns climbed into the car and ordered the officer to drive to nearby Camp Reisdrof army post.

On the way the soldiers ordered the officer to drive in a bush area where a band of other troops was waiting.

WOMAN ASSAULTED

The woman was forced out of the car. The troops assaulted her while the officer was made to look on with a sub-machine-gun jabbed into his stomach.

"It was a bestial assault," the UN spokesman said.

Four American Negro boxers on tour, two of them Olympic medalists, were threatened with arrest when they drove to Binza camp this morning in a U.S. Embassy car for exhibition bouts.

The camp gate guards accused the boxers of being UN soldiers in disguise. They surrounded the car with pointed guns and threatened to take the four into the guardhouse. The embassy driver swung the car around and drove off.

SEVEREST STORM

Montreal island was without electricity for six hours.

A line feeding a half-dozen municipalities on the St. Lawrence river south shore opposite Montreal was cut.

Overhead lines were torn down by crashing trees and limbs.

The downtown Montreal business district, served mainly by underground cable, suffered only brief interruption.

But in other areas of the city and outlying districts for miles, thousands of persons awoke to find temperatures in their homes in the 40s, furnaces dead and little or no water supply.

Many moved into the city with relatives or friends or registered at Montreal hotels.

PROVIDES SHELTER

Montreal's international airport at Dorval was thrown open to the needy. Shelter and cooking facilities were made available for scores.

The Protestant school board of greater Montreal announced cancellation of all today's classes.

In areas 50 miles east and northeast of Montreal, snow was the big problem. Huge drifts blocked roads.

A CPR spokesman said for the first time in memory the railway's schedule here was entirely disrupted. Not a single CPR train left Montreal Sunday morning. They started moving normally in the afternoon.

The CNR schedule was also disrupted to some degree but not as severely.

During the power blackout, electric switches were operated manually.

At the airport, an emergency power supply was used. About 40 flights had to be cancelled and traffic was expected to start moving normally only today.

Some radio and TV stations went off the air for prolonged periods.

BRANCHES HIT CARS

An estimated 250 cars were damaged by severed branches. But there were few accidents with traffic at a virtual standstill.

In one suburb police went from door-to-door distributing candles.

Emergency centres were set up in several areas to prepare hot food and coffee.

Churches cancelled Sunday services and many sports events were also cancelled.

GLACIAL LAKES

Foreign Ministers of West Hemisphere Get Friendly Missive From Cuban Govt.

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba has guaranteed other Latin American governments that it will not export the Cuban revolution throughout the Western hemisphere, a diplomatic source said Sunday night.

The source, a Latin American ambassador who asked to remain unidentified, said the pledge was contained in a memorandum from Cuban Foreign Minister Paul Roa to western hemisphere foreign ministers. It was delivered Saturday to Latin American ambassadors in Havana.

The memorandum expressed the Cuban government's willingness to accept mediation by other Latin American nations to try to bring about better Cuban-American relations, the diplomat said. It also urged other Latin American governments to reject any United States effort for a collective diplomatic break with Cuba.

The ambassador said the tone of the memorandum was "respectful and conciliatory."

CLAIMS AGGRESSION

He said Cuba complained of what it called U.S. encouragement of counter-revolutionary elements, and described Cuban-U.S. relations as marked by North American aggression against Cuba.

The memorandum also referred to recent statements by Premier Fidel Castro and President Osvaldo Dorticos expressing Cuba's desire for better relations with the U.S.

There had been concern among the Latin American diplomats in the wake of recent declarations by Castro that Cuba had the right to export its revolution through the hemisphere if the U.S. aided counter-revolutionaries.

The Cuban appeal reportedly was directed specifically at any action a foreign ministers' conference might undertake, a source said.

ASKED EMBARGO

The memorandum was said to have resulted from proposals made by Senator Kenneth Keating (Rep.-N.Y.) Friday to the Organization of American States (OAS). Keating was reported to have called for a total embargo against Cuba to topple the regime of Premier Fidel Castro

The U.S. broke diplomatic relations with Cuba last Jan. 3.

The Cuban government news agency, reporting the Keating proposal, said sources friendly to the Cuban revolution in New York considered the senator's remarks as a new attempt to "accelerate diplomatic manoeuvres" against Cuba, using the OAS as a "tool of imperialism."

Six Latin American governments currently have no diplomatic relations with Cuba. They are Haiti, Nicaragua, Guatemala, Paraguay, the Dominican Republic and Peru.

Hear Dean Rusk Dislikes Massive Retaliation Plan

Said to Favor Buildup Of Conventional Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Dean Rusk faces congressional questioning today on reports he favors shifting away from a policy of "massive retaliation" and advocates a big buildup in conventional military forces.

The buildup by the United States and its allies is said to be favored by Rusk to meet the danger of brushfire war and lessen the risk of a nuclear conflict. Conventional forces would be usen to combat any Communist military aggression that might be staved off without use of nucleas weapons.

"Massive retaliation," as enunciated by the late state secretary John Foser Dulles, would put primary reliance on nuclear weapons as means of combatting Communist aggression.

Rusk's views were given in a secret paper to Defence Secretary Robert McNamara.

Informants said Rusk favored holding off the use of nuclear weapons until a Communist attack reached a more massive level than would have triggered atomic retaliation under the Eisenhower administration's policy.

High officials made clear that the U.S. government still plans to draw on its atomic arsenal if necessary against Communist attacks abroad.

A story in Monday's Washington Star described Rusk's position as this:

"1. Use of the big missiles and bombers carrying atomic weapons should be confined to deterrence of attacks on this country and detterence of 'nuclear blackmail.'

"2. Attacks on Europe should be met with 'conventional,' non-nuclear weapons unless the enemy started to use nuclear weapons.

"3. Limited aggressions outside Europe should be handled by our troops, rather than those of our allies, and we should use non-nuclear weapons in meeting such aggression."

While declining to specify what Rusk recommended, Lincoln White, state department press officer, denounced "as the grossest distortion of the views of the department of state" the Star version.

Rusk could not be reached for comment.

Parliament At a Glance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Monday, Feb. 27

CCF Leader Argue described proposed changes in the Canadian tariff law as a payoff "to certain financial friends" of the Progressive Conservatives.

The customs tariff resolution, defining "goods of a class or kind made in Canada," was debated for a fifth time without coming to a vote.

Members debated a government motion to establish a sessional committee on railways, airlines and shipping which would, among other things, review pension rights of CNR employees.

Douglas Fisher (CCF — Port Arthur) said the session committee should demand the resignation of CNR President Donald Gordon on grounds of growing CNR deficits and dwindling employee morale.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Canada has asked for an immediate investigation of recent Congo incidents involving manhandling of Canadian servicemen.

Speaker Roland Michener instructed cabinet ministers to be more specific when stating reservations concerning production of documents for the Commons.

External Affairs Minister Green said that Canada intends to pursue its disarmament initiative at the UN in the General Assembly session resuming March 7.

Premier Frost Urges More Winter Work

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Premier Frost of Ontario urged general contractors Monday night to explore every means of maintaining a high level of winter construction and employment.

The premier pointed out that of the $31,000,000,000 spent in the post war period on private and public capital expansion in Ontario, $20,000,000,000 has been spent on construction.

Improvements must be made in construction techniques, however, if the most efficient use is to be made of the men engaged in the construction industry. About two-thirds of the industry's work force is idle for at least some part of the winter months, he told delegates to the annual convention of the Ontario General Contractors Association.

Mr. Frost reviewed Ontario's development in the past 15 years and looked ahead to the next 15 years.

Despite current unemployment levels, he said, there are "signs that the lead economic indicators are bottoming out." Some of the effects of economic recovery in the United States would spill over into Ontario and Canada.

The premier said Ontario's population should in the next 15 years increase by 50 per cent to approach 19,000,000 by 1967, providing a basis for confidence and realistic expansion.

With construction of the trans-Canada pipeline, Northern Ontario, from the Rainy River-Kenora areas through to the borders of Quebec now was capable of maintaining a very large population.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis—A low pressure area centred over southeastern Kentucky spread rain from the gulf states northward across Kentucky, snow over Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania and some high cloud over Southern Ontario. The storm is taking a more easterly course and precipitation is likely to miss the province. Northern Ontario will have sunny weather today.

Spring Election Said Possible

SIMCOE (CP)—A federal election was predicted for this spring at the annual meeting of the Norfolk Liberal Association Monday. Miss Judy LaMarsh, Liberal member of Parliament for Niagara Falls, and Senator W. H. Taylor both believe a spring election is likely. Senator Taylor said the conservative party would possibly attempt to gain the votes of tobacco farmers by cutting sales tax on manufactured tobacco products.

Miss LaMarsh changed the Conservative government with attempting to buy votes.

"The present session of Parliament is allocating many political jobs to friends and paying them off with hotel, broadcasting and driving permit licenses," she said.

Duncan Announces Municipalities Share $1,765,000 Hydro Rebate

TORONTO (CP)—A $1,765,000 refund will be made by the Ontario Hydro - Electric Power Commission to 298 municipal electrical utilities in the province, Chairman James S. Duncan announced today.

The refunds represent the difference between revenue received from municipal systems and the actual cost of supplying them power during 1960.

In a report to the annual convention of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association and the Association of Municipal Electrical Utilities, Mr. Duncan said a determined cost - reducing effort, coupled with the effect of maturing sinking funds, has enabled Hydro to reduce its interim rates for 1961 to 164 of the 327 municipal systems in Southern Ontario. Rates for 131 more were unchanged.

O. H. Scott, general manager of the Belleville Public Utilities Commission, said this morning that he has no idea how much Belleville would receive as its share of the rebate, but that he expected to know within a few days. This rebate is not something new, but the customary "thirteenth bill," which can be either a credit or a debit. Last year the total rebate was $2,018,725 and Belleville's share was $24,087. On some occasions, years ago, large credit "thirteenth bills" resulted in rebates to consumers, but no such rebate has been made for many years, the amount just being absorbed into the general funds of the local commission.

Mr. Scott did not know whether Belleville would be among the 164 municipalities getting lower rates in 1931, but he thought it unlikely. Nobody from Belleville is attending the OMEA convention this year.

CNR PRESIDENT MUST GO SAYS CCF MEMBER

Scathing Attack Made on Official

OTTAWA (CP)—CNR President Donald Gordon "has got to go," says the CCF's Douglas Fisher.

The MP for Port Arthur, in one of the most scathing attacks on a public servant ever heard in the Commons, said Monday night Mr. Gordon "has about reached the end of the road as president of Canadian National Railways."

"He has had his decade in charge of CNR and it seems to me that all he has come up with every year is a bigger and bigger spending program and in most cases a bigger and bigger deficit."

Morale among railway employees was "shot." There appeared to be no hope for efficiency or a balanced budget in the CNR as long as Mr. Gordon was president.

Some Progressive Conservatives applauded Mr. Fisher.

Terry Nugent (PC — Edmonton Strathcona) tried to steer Mr Fisher away from the subject but Ernest Broome (PC—Vancouver South) urged him to go on "as long as he wants."

Mr. Fisher accepted.

He said the current administrative overhaul of the CNR is just another excuse for delaying the sacking of Mr. Gordon, whose present earnings are $75,000 yearly including director's fees.

There were "a great many chiefs and very few Indians" in the CNR. The top management was as inefficient as the president.

"He (Mr. Gordon) says that in the future things are going to improve but in 10 years they never have improved. The situation has deteriorated."

Utility Crews Restore Power, Phone Service

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Residents of northern New York state who tangled with a damaging ice storm and floods over the weekend worked back toward normal today as utility crews gradually restored electric power and telephone service and swollen streams receded.

More than 35,000 Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation customers in northern and western New York lost electricity Sunday, and many homes were without heat.

Niagara Mohawk estimated its damage and repair costs would total $200,000 in northern New York, where 20,600 customers were affected.

A power failure caused by a defective cable in Niagara Falls cut off heat and light for about four hours early Monday to prospect Point, Goat Island, the office of the Niagara Frontier Park Commission and the new Prospect Point observation towers.

Soviets Get Hint Nikita Thinking of Visiting U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has let the Russian people know that Premier Khrushchev is thinking of a return visit to the United Nations and the possibility of a meeting with President Kennedy while in the United States.

Films of two of the president's press conferences were shown on television here Monday night, including newspaper men's questions to Kennedy on whether he would meet Khrushchev if the Soviet premier visits the UN Geeral Assembly opening next Tuesday. Kennedy would only reply that he hadn't heard yet whether Khrushchev was coming.

While the showing of the films was an unprecedented gesture, it was also the first time that the Russian people learned that a new Khrushchev visit to the United Nations is possible.

Kennedy's statement gave the Soviet public the impression that the initiative for a visit is up to Russia and that Khrushchev would be welcome in the United States.

(Soviet diplomats in Washington have been active in spreading the idea that Khrushchev would like to make a visit, and diplomatic circles in the U.S. capital have said they would not be surprised if Khrushchev comes to the U.S. late in April, when the assembly session will be winding up.)

Televising of the conferences here also coincides with the return of U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson from talks with Kennedy in Washington.

Unconfirmed reports said Thompson may see Khrushchev Thursday. The ambassador has a message from the president reported to express his full confidence in Thompson and the hope that talks between the envoy and Khrushchev will result in better relations between Washington and Moscow.

This would appear a move to keep Soviet-American relations off the summit level, an eventuality hard to avoid if Khrushchev goes to the United Nations.

Canada Has Not Accepted Nuclear Bomarc Warheads

WASHINGTON (CP)—United States authorities so far have been unable to convince the Canadian administration to accept nuclear warheads for Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles on American terms, informants said Monday.

They said a formal government - to - government agreement on the provision of Bomarcs for Canada currently is under negotiation and there is hope in American quarters that lengthy exchanges and discussions may soon lead to a firm pact.

But they emphasized that the agreement, to confirm and amplify on a working arrangement between the Canadian and United States air forces, will leave unsettled the question of whether Canadian Bomarcs will be armed with atomic warheads.

American military spokesmen have emphasized that the effectiveness of the Bomarcs would be sharply reduced if they are armed with conventional instead of nuclear explosives. These missiles, to be located at two bases in Ontario and Quebec, can use both types of warheads.

However, the Canadian government's policy, as enunciated by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, is that Canada will not accept for storage on her soil any nuclear warheads unless she can participate in joint control over their use.

Existing American law demands that only the United States exercise custody and control over such powerful American weapons either at home or abroad.

In the view of American informants it now appears likely that the American-built Bomarc

Rapid, Positive Settlement In Algeria Said Possible

PARIS (AP)—Hopes rose today for a swift settlement of the 6½-year-old Algerian war as President de Gaulle and Tunisia's President Habib Boerguiba wound up their crucial talks on a confident note.

After a day of closed-door meetings in de Gaulle's heavily guarded chateau in suburban Rambouillet, the two leaders said in a communique Monday night they agreed possibilities exist for "a rapid and positive" settlement of the bloody conflict.

Bourguiba, who left by plane today, was to stop off at Rabat for the funeral of Morocco's King Mohammed V. While there he is expected to report on his talks to Ferhat Abbas, chief of the Nationalist Algerian regime and other leaders of the National Liberation Front (FLN) also attending the funeral.

Before leaving Paris Bourguiba predicted an early break in the Algerian deadlock.

"I have the impression," he told reporters, "that a great step forward has been taken."

Bourguiba's contact with de Gaulle may set the stage for direct negotiations between the French president and the FLN which could end the Algerian conflict which has disrupted France's economy and military planning. The war has cost France $1,000,000 a day, tied up 400,000 of her troops and claimed the lives of 13,000 French soldiers.

Bourguiba and de Gaulle put out their guarded, but hopeful communique after more than four hours of discussions.

The Tunisian president is well equipped for the delicate mission of bringing France and the rebel leaders together. With the Algerians' political and military headquarters based in Tunis, he has the confidence of most rebel leaders and also of de Gaulle.

Certain Financial Interests Would Benefit Says Argue

OTTAWA (CP) —CCF leader Hazen Argue Monday described a government-proposed change in the Canadian customs law as a payoff to "certain financial interests."

He also accused the government of attempting to do by underhanded method what it "does not dare do by open method — namely the increase in tariffs."

Mr. Argue spoke as the Commons once again came to grips with a controversial resolution calling for definition of the term "goods of a class or kind made in Canada" as applied to the customs tariff.

It was the fifth time that the resolution has been dealt with by the House and the fifth time that the CCF and Liberal opposition managed to prevent its coming to a vote.

The resolution has to be approved before the legislation giving effect to its principles can be introduced.

Goods of a class or kind made in Canada carry a much higher rate of duty, when imported, than goods of a class or kind not made in Canada.

The opposition argues that the definitions proposed by the government will have the effect of increasing tariffs.

"A very widespread increase in tariffs affecting goods of very great value," was the way Mr. Argue saw the probeble result.

Finance Minister Fleming, sponsor of the resolution, denied the assertion. "Not one single rate" would be changed.

Mr. Argue termed the proposed bill "the answer of the Conservative government to certain financial friends in certain big corporations who wanted this kind of protective legislation in order to make fabulous profits."

He went on:

"This is a payoff, in my judgment, of the Conservative party to certain financial interests in this nation and has nothing whatever to do with the welfare of the Canadian public. . . ."

Mr. Fleming said the bill would simply define a term that occurs "very frequently" in the tariff law.

The finance minister also denied an assertion by Mr. Argue that Revenue Minister Nowlan would, under the proposed bill, "have all the arbitrary powers that the Right Hon. C.

CHARGES MADE AND DENIED IN LEGISLATURE

Six Hours Taken To Pass Estimates

TORONTO (CP)—Charges of political patronage were made —and denied—in the legislature Monday night as the estimates of Reform Institutions Minister Wardrope were presented.

Mr. Wardrope's estimates were passed after almost six hours of debate.

Arthur Reaume (L — Essex North) sparked the opposition attack when he changed that the staffs of county jails were political appointments.

Mr. Wardrope shouted: "That's an unmitigated lie."

"Jail jobs are not a political plum . . . This is a lot of foul talk and accusations. I don't like people in the gallery to hear this kind of statement."

Mr. Reaume said political patronage stretched out to include the awarding of purchase contracts for reform institutions supplies.

He urged that tenders be publicly advertised and opened at public meetings.

WOULD TABLE LIST

At a request by Mr. Reaume, the minister said he would table a list of all bids submitted to the department last year if the Liberal member would put the request on the order paper.

Elmer Sopha (L—Sudbury), a practising lawyer, drew an angry outburst from Attorney-General Roberts when he charged that it was becoming more difficult to "get a fellow acquitted" in Canadian courts.

He said maximum sentences were increased in 180 sections of the Criminal Code when it was rewritten in 1954 by a specially - appointed committee which, he charged, did not seem to know much about criminal law.

He said the Criminal Code was filled with phrases such as

Armed Robbery Charge Brings 5-Year Term

LONDON, Ont, (CP) — Eugene Carmans Blanchard, 27, of London, was sentenced Monday to five years in Kingston penitentiary for the armed robbery of Morris Kroll, a city dairy and restaurant proprietor.

Blanchard was charged jointly with Daniel Wawryk, 31, of Toronto, who elected trial by judge and jury. He will appear at a preliminary hearing Monday.

Magistrate Donald B. Menzies was told Monday that a billfold stolen from Mr. Kroll and which still contained his personal papers, was found in Blanchard's apartment. Also found was a pistol, two clips of ammunition, a money bag stamped with the name of Mr. Kroll's firm and company receipts and other papers.

Detective Len Elgie said Blanchard told him that $300 found in the apartment was taken in the robbery.

Mr. Kroll said about $1,000 was taken in the robbery.

Britain May Grant Common Market Commonwealth Trade Preferences

LONDON (CP) — Britain apparently is ready to give the six-country European Common Market the same preferential trading arrangements as it gives Commonwealth countries in a bid to end Europe's trade split.

This was the interpretation here today of a speech in Paris by Edward Heath, lord privy seal and the country's untitled minister of European affairs.

Heath told a meeting Monday of the seven-country Council of the Western European Union that the British government is prepared to make a "fundamental change of principle" to obtain admission to the common market formed by France, Germany, Italy and the Benelux countries.

This is viewed as an offer to reorganize her whole system of Commonwealth preferences in exchange for associate membership in the economic community.

Heath offers two major concessions.

1. Britain is prepared to open her Commonwealth markets to direct European competition as part of an over-all agreement with the six.

2. She will accept a common or uniform tariff with the six for all raw materials or manufactured goods coming from countries outside the Commonwealth or from Britain's partners in the seven-country European Free Trade Area.

Heath, however, stressed that Britain could only consider the move if the six could meet her Commonwealth and agricultural difficulties.

He also said that, as part of an over-all settlement, the United Kingdom could see no obstacles that would prevent discussions between the six and Commonwealth countries about possible reductions in tariff preferences which she enjoyed in the family of nations.

Three Of Congo Factions Unite Against Gizenga

Lumumbists Turn Back After Ghanaian Rebuff

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—President Joseph Kasavubu's government today joined with two other anti - Communist Congo forces in a united front against left-wing pro-Lumumba troops. As they signed a military agreement, the Lumumbists were reported withdrawing a spearhead pointing toward Leopoldville.

UN spotter planes reported Antoine Gizenga's troops pulled out the base they set up in Luluabourg, leaving their advance units stranded. Thus the military threat to this capital seemed to have faded—at least temporarily—as suddenly as it began.

The troops from Stanleyville, where political heirs of slain Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba have their headquarters, occupied Luluabourg Friday after travelling halfway across The Congo. Luluabourg lies about 500 miles east of Leopoldville. Advance units had pushed 100 miles or more toward the capital.

RETREAT NORTH

UN reports said the rebels appeared to have lost heart after being ordered off Luluabourg airport by Ghanaian troops of United Nations. In addition, a UN spokesman said, they seemed to have become suspicious of negotiations going on between their own officers and officers of the Luluabourg garrison. After that, the spokesman said, "they just disappeared." Later they were seen from aircraft, driving north along the road back home.

Left behind were their commanding officer and another officer who sought refuge with the United Nations, which is also harboring the loyalist commander of the Luluabourg garrison, who sought refuge when the leftists arrived.

The airport incident started Monday when a detachment of the original Congolese garrison turned up demanding a share in the guard duties.

The airport was then being manned jointly by Ghanaian UN troops and a detachment of the Stanleyville soldiers.

The Ghanaians refused to let units of both Congolese factions stay at the airport.

REQUIRED TO GO

The UN spokesman said the "request" that all the Congolese leave was made without a show of force. Other reports from Luluabourg said the Ghanaians made it plain they would use force if the Congolese insisted on staying.

Reports from Luluabourg Monday said some of the Lu-

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold warned Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu today that the United Nations will no longer permit its peace efforts to be blocked by political opposition.

In a letter to Kasavubu, Hammarskjold called for full cooperation of the Leopoldville government in averting a civil war. But he added that the United Nations has the strength and the determination to carry out its mission without such cooperation, if necessary.

"Those engaged in these measures on behalf of the United Nations cannot allow themselves to be forcibly deterred from carrying them out," he said.

The letter to Kasavubu was part of a report Hammarskjold made to the Security Council on steps he is taking to carry out last week's resolution authorizing use of UN force if needed to preserve order in The Congo. The Soviet Union has been pressing for a report.

CHIDES KASAVUBU

The secretary - general took Kasavubu to task for his criticism of the United Nations.

He said the desire of the United Nations to take into account the views of Congolese leaders "cannot be permitted to hamper effective efforts to prevent developments toward civil war."

Hammarskjold told Kasavubu that no conciliation is possible without the removal of all military forces from politics.

The secretary-general also disclosed he had taken these additional steps to implement the Afro-Asian Congo resolution for setting up a broad Congo peace plan:

1. Warned Belgium it must take "immediate and effective action" to remove Belgian political and military adviser from The Congo.

2. Appealed to all UN member nations to see that no foreign merchandise leave their territories for The Congo.

3. Asked Indonesia and Morocco to delay departure of their troops from the UN force.

4. Appealed to all African member states with the exception of Libya and Togo to speed contributions to the UN force so that it can be built up to 23,000 troops.

5. Asked the International Court of Justice to suggest names of an African, an Asian and a Latin American who would undertake an impartial investigation into the execution of Congo leader Patrice Lumumba and his associates. The African would be chairman of the investigation group.

AID IS CUT

TORONTO (CP) — Reduced United Appeal revenue last year will mean a $100,000 cut in aid to four Toronto family service agencies, Richard R. Smith, chairman of the UA's local organizations committee, said Monday. They are the Neighbourhood Workers Association the Catholic Family Services, the Jewish Family and Child Services and the North York and Weston Family Service Centre will receive about $300,000 from the UA.

300 Linesmen Used to Restore Rural Lines

TORONTO (CP) — More than 300 linemen and foresters of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission worked around the clock after Saturday's ice storm to restore rural services around Sarnia, a Hydro spokesman said Monday.

Only a few hundred rural customers remained without power Monday, including 100 at Forest and 50 at Oil Springs. Service was restored to more than 100 customers near Wallaceburg at noon.

African People Aptly Described To Rotarians

"The darkest thing about Africa is our knowledge about it," Harvey Putman, district farmer and Cannifton garage operator, told local Rotarians at their afternoon dinner meeting yesterday. Recently returned from a two-month visit to Africa where he met the people of Ghana at their local level, living and working with the munder the auspices of a Presbyterian missionary work expedition, Mr. Putman told of the lives and difficulties of the African people.

During the past few years the winds of change have been sweeping across Africa and ten new nations have been created the speaker observed. This change has brought about a number of problems which the Africans need assistance and help in resolving. To date there has been too little of this help coming from North America to the several nations who have requested it and the Communists have provided the assistance which North Americans have been tardy in providing Mr. Putman said. He used the situation in Guinea as an example of this state of affairs

It is from this country, where the techniques of Communism are used, that the Communist influence is spreading to other African nations and peoples, he suggested. The expedition which Mr. Putman accompanied, called Operation Crossroad Africa, was the second of its kind, organized by the Rev. James Robertson of New York City. Composed mostly of university students the members of the expedition were engaged in various work projects in several African nations, building and providing know-how for several important projects and bringing some word of North America and its people to the people of Africa at their own level.

Mr. Putman's remarks and observations were made during a one hour show of some very excellent color movies which he made of his trip. The film provided an interesting number of sequences which compared the new and the old in Africa and showed the very real need of these people for help from other nations in building up their new way of life and conquering the superstitions and ignorance of the old.

Mr. Putman was introduced by Rotarian Court Miller and thanked by Orland "Pink" Pinkston, whose birthday was observed by his fellow Rotarians earlier in the meeting.

School Guard to Be Placed At Corner Lemoine, College Streets, Decision of Council

Acceding to demands for immediate action for the widening and improvement of College Street following the death by drowning last week of a six-year-old Parkdale district boy, Belleville city council last evening voted to request the Ontario Municipal Board to hold a public hearing for endorsation of a program to rebuild the street at an estimated cost of $127,000.

The request of council will be to do the street widening and surfacing, together with installation of sewers and some sidewalks under the general rate chargeable against all ratepayers in the city.

Action in requesting the meeting came following a delegation to council of Parkdale ratepayers, demanding the street widening, placement of all necessary guards at all dangerous points in the area as long as water hazards exist, strict enforcement of the speed limits and placement of school guards in the area.

DRAINAGE APPALLING

Delegation spokesman Harold Leech described drainage in the Parkdale-College areas as appalling and conditions were made worse by the fact there were no sidewalks.

"It was futile to have an expensive traffic survey in the city when there are other worse dangers," he said.

The delegation, he said, demanded drastic and immediate action, otherwise parents would keep their children from school.

"We trust this action will not be necessary," he said.

He said that following the drowning of little Terry McDonald last Thursday, both Police Chief Walter Probert and city council traffic committee chairman Alderman Walter Elliott had been contacted with a request for school guards. He said no help had been forthcoming.

As result, Parkdale district mothers volunteered to act as school guards.

TIME FOR ACTION

The King George Home and School Club added its protest to the conditions on College Street, which were described as "deplorable."

A letter from the Association read by Mr. Leech said that with the loss of another young life on College Street it was high time there was some action.

Deputy Mayor Robert Temple noted that in 1959 a by-law had been prepared for the widening of College St.

He said the by-law had been given two readings by council and was forwarded to the Ontario Municipal Board for approval. This, he said, had not been granted, the OMB replying that before such work could be done under the general rate a referendum would have to be held or else there would have to be a public hearing by the Municipal Board.

No referendum was held and a hearing of the Ontario Municipal Board was not requested and there the matter rested.

Also in 1959 there had been a request for school guards on College St. However, the traffic committee had been advised by the police department safety officer that a guard was not warranted on College St.

"The city council traffic committee must go along with the recommendation of its experts," Deputy Mayor Temple noted.

STILL CRITICAL

But Charles Keeble, vice-chairman of the Parkdale Ratepayers' Association, was still critical of council.

"It is most unfortunate that you had to wait so doggone long before action was taken," he said.

"If the child had not been killed last week, this would have gone on and on without action."

The motion to request a hearing of the Ontario Municipal Board for endorsation of the College St. widening program was passed unanimously and without discussion by the members of council. Cost of the project is proposed to be paid out of the general rate instead of under local improvement.

Also council acceded to another demand of the ratepayers' delegation.

Members voted for a school guard to be placed at the corner of College and Lemoine Streets, scene of last week's drowning accident, and also of the traffic death three years ago of a young Parkdale school girl.

Today police officials were making arrangements to appoint a guard for the corner, but authorization had not been received early this morning, so Parkdale mothers continued their voluntary guard duty.

TWO REQUESTS HEARD

Two other delegations also appeared before council on matters pertaining to safety.

Ex-Mayor Jack Allin said the city had dug ditches in the Southview Ave. area draining water onto property owned by him.

"If a child drowns on my property because of water drained onto it through city ditches who is to be responsible?" he asked.

Bruce Bishop asked for a four-way stop sign at the corner of Victoria and Humewood where he said an even more serious traffic hazard had developed since Victoria Ave. had been extended on through to Herchimer.

Both requests were turned over to committees for investigation.

United Appeal Board Given Suggestions

The board of the Belleville United Appeal held its regular monthly meeting yesterday evening in the YMCA. Mr. J. J. Trudeau, this year's president, presided. The latest figures for the recent campaign were reported by the treasurer as $66,452.57.

Mr. Enos David, this year's campaign chairman, reported on a conference of United Appeal officials from across Canada, which was held in Toronto recently under the auspices of the Canadian Welfare Council and which he attended.

Experiences of other United Appeal organizations were made available. Many of these reported successful campaigns either reaching or exceeding their objectives. Many new ideas were obtained, which, it is hoped, will enable this year's campaign committee in Belleville to better inform the public regarding the appeal and influence donors to adequately support the worthy organizations which depend upon them in order to carry out their good work, Mr. David reported.

Many plans are being worked upon and a large number of people are giving a goodly part of their time in the hope that this year's effort will meet with a great measure of success.

The Belleville United Appeal does not function merely at campaign time but works throughout the year building up the organization and recruiting the people who will carry out the actual canvass, when campaign time rolls around in the fall.

CECIL G. ROBINSON
Eldorado

The funeral of Cecil G. Robinson was held on Saturday afternoon from the MacKenzie Funeral Home to Eldorado United Church where service was conducted by Rev. R. A. Milley, assisted by Rev. J. F. Lane. The church was filled to overflowing by the many relatives and friends in attendance and there was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes, testifying to the high esteem in which the deceased was held in the community.

Honorary bearers were Clifford Blakely, Lorne Chambers, Gerald Pack, Ernest Holland, Douglas Bailey, Harry Gawley, Fred Stewart and William Robinson, and the active bearers were Earl Blakely, Frank Walker, John Irwin, Ezra Carman, Bert Hagerman and Fred Pack.

Interment took place in Eldorado Cemetery.

WALTER IRVIN HENLEY
Millbridge

The funeral of Walter Irvin Henley, R.R. 1, Millbridge, was held on Monday afternoon, February 27th, from the MacKenzie Funeral Home to St. John the Baptist Anglican Church where service was conducted by Rev. C. J. Betts. The funeral was largely attended and there were many beautiful floral tributes testifying to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Bearers were John Howse, William Alexander, Charles Griffin, Charles Reid, Everett Dafoe and Archie Gunter.

Interment took place in Eldorado Cemetery.

MURNEY LIONEL CLAPP

The funeral of Murney Lionel Clapp took place yesterday afternoon from the chapel of the John R. Bush Funeral Home, Highland Ave.

The Rev. C. W. Coleman officiated at the chapel services and the graveside rites. Interment was in Belleville cemetery.

The bearers were: Milton Ross, John Patterson, Herbert Howes, Frank Howes, Fred Treverton and Blake Pitman.

MRS. BERT ASSELTINE

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Frances Asseltine was held from the Funeral Residence of George F. O'Brien to St. Joseph's Church this Tuesday morning. Rev. J. J. V. Buckley celebrated Requiem Mass and also said the committal prayers at the graveside in St. James' cemetery.

The bearers were: James Asseltine, Martin Collins, George Bell, Douglas, Jerry and Arthur Doyle.

PHILIP CARR
West Huntingdon

WEST HUNTINGDON—The funeral services for Philip Carr were held on Wednesday and were largely attended. His pastor, Mr. Robert Donnan, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Hope Smith of Calvary Temple, Belleville.

Mr. Donnan chose for his text Isaiah 10: 3, and brought a most comforting message. The Misses Marlene Whiteman and Lois Elliott rendered a duet, "He'll Understand and Say Well Done." Mrs. Gordon Donnan was the pianist.

The bearers were: Gerald Carr, Douglas Stapley, Bruce Stapley, Harold Stapley, Grant Stapley and Ford Stapley.

The profusion of flowers testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Interment was in the West Huntingdon plot.

On Tuesday evening the members of L.O.L. No. 300, held a service at the home.

Mackenzie Feeds Opens Second Store in Stirling

After 36 years in the feed business in Belleville, Mackenzie Feeds Ltd., 47 South Front Street, are expanding with the operation of a second store at Stirling.

The Belleville firm has purchased Charles Davidson Feeds on Mill Street in Stirling and on March 1st will take over operation.

In the feed business in Stirling for 12 years, Mr. Davidson will continue his trucking operations.

At the Stirling location Mackenzie Feeds Ltd. will offer the well known line of Purina Chows and in addition will handle seed grain and clover seeds.

Also they will continue to operate the seed cleaning and treating plant business carried on by Mr. Davidson.

Charles Mackenzie will act as manager for both the Belleville and Stirling locations.

Preliminary Discussion Of City Budget Likely to Be Held Some Time Next Week

The 1961 budget may be ready for preliminary discussion by the city finance committee some time next week, members of council were informed yesterday.

City Manager J. R. Reynolds said all city department estimates had been received and he was waiting only for estimates from the Bay of Quinte High School Board and from the Separate Schools.

"There is every indication that the budget will be ready for preliminary discussion by the finance committee next week," he said.

Despite the appearance of three separate delegations, council business was completed in almost record time and saw two readings of several by-laws authorizing construction of watermains and other improvements in various parts of the city.

Among the by-laws was one authorizing the construction of a watermain on Byron Street in the Hillcrest Area from Cannifton Road to the Hillcrest public school. Estimated cost of the work is between $15,000 and $20,000.

The estimated costs of the city share of the work was not indicated in the by-law but according to public works chairman Ald. Jack Ellis this would normally amount to about 10 per cent.

GOES TO BOARD

City manager J. R. Reynolds noted it had been expected the city share of the cost would have been estimated but unfortunately there had not been sufficient time to do this before the council meeting.

The by-law will go to the municipal board for approval before being returned to council for third reading.

A requested time lag in the issuing of building permits was again before council last evening after being turned back two weeks ago.

The modified recommendation this time called for building and plumbing permits to be issued within 48 hours and in the case of applications for minor alterations to be issued on the spot as conditions allowed.

One or two councillors again voiced objection to the modified recommendation with Alderman William Jarvah wondering whether it actually fell within an administrative role rather than that of policy. He asked that the recommendation be referred back for rewording.

City Manager Reynolds said he did not think the legislation was actually required as the authority was already on the city books.

Alderman Jack Ireland said he had been opposed originally to any delay in the granting of building permits but since speaking with the city engineer he had changed his mind.

WILL HIRE SURVEYOR

"It is on the big jobs which the engineer would appreciate time to do a little investigating," he said.

After reading a letter from the city engineer explaining the reasons for the requested delay in granting of some permits, Aldermen Jarvah withdrew his request for referral.

The city engineer was given authority to hire an Ontario Land Surveyor to carry out surveys to determine property boundaries at the site of the proposed North Front Street overhead bridge, and also for the proposed sewage disposal plant.

Signing of a highway link agreement with the Ontario Highways Department requesting a 50 per cent subsidy on an expenditure of approximately $16,000 for resurfacing of the travelled portion of Front Street south of the four corners and Bridge Street from Pinnacle to the Lower Bridge, was authorized.

Highways Department subsidy on construction and maintenance of roads and bridges in the amount of $224,000 and also for a supplementary 1961 subsidy will be applied for.

A by-law between the city and Hugh H. Murray covering the contract for the reconstruction of the Graham apartment wall at a cost of $9,760 was authorized signed. The contract had been previously decided by council but was held up until the new year.

SCHOOL HAS BUCKETS

TORONTO (CP)—A wooden school housing 250 pupils in suburban North York was scheduled for replacement by September, 1956, but it still standing in spite of being overrun with skunks and rats and littered with buckets to catch rain from the leaking roof. North York board of education was told Monday night. Parents and ratepayers urged that the school be replaced.

Weigh Scales Not Operating, Seek New Site

The city weigh scales are out of operation due to a breakdown caused by overload and council has been advised that it would be unwise to spend further funds to keep the scales in repair.

Earlier this year the scales were repaired and were working satisfactorily at a capacity of 30,000 pounds, but they were again broken when a truck well over this capacity drove onto the scales.

The inspector of weights and measures, Department of Trade and Commerce, has advised council the scale has been rejected and will remain so until satisfactory repairs have been made to operate correctly at full capacity of 49,000 pounds.

The city manager last night recommended that a new set of scales be installed.

But Alderman Jack Deacon feels that every attempt should be made to secure an alternate site, suggesting there may be available property at the old gas plant on South Pinnacle St. for the scales.

The matter was referred to allow investigation into the gas plant site.

Home-Builders Voice Approval Of Council Stand

At a recent meeting of the Quinte Home-Builders' Association with 32 members in attendance, approval was voiced of the refusal of the City Council to limit the issue of building permits to one day a week.

The members were particularly appreciative of a statement by Mayor M. Haig, who said "There is too much tendency on the part of the public servants to make things as difficult as possible." While it was agreed that this does not apply to all public servants, the consensus of the meeting was that the mayor should be congratulated for his stand.

Allan Hunter gave the members a talk on the proper installation of gas venting and on the use of prefabricated chimneys.

Maurice Rollins, president of the local Association, gave a resume of the plans of the National Home Builders' Association for the coming year. Objectives include an effort to have the two per cent mortgage insurance fee reduced and an endeavor to have the National Housing Act extended to cover older homes, in order to facilitate sales.

Invites Council Members to Aid Publicize Plan

An invitation for city council members to lend more support in assisting to publicize the Official Plan of the city was heard at council last evening.

The invitation came from Alderman George Wishart following the announcement by council planning head Alderman Dr. John Barlow that a public meeting was being held this evening in Hillcrest School to discuss the plan.

"The feeling seems to be among many that Dr. Barlow is trying to shove something down people's throats, but that is not the case," noted Alderman Wishart. "It would be much appreciated if other members of council assisted Dr. Barlow in publicizing just what is being attempted."

Tonight's meeting has been sponsored jointly by the Hillcrest Ratepayers' Association and the Belleville and Suburban Planning Board and is one of a series of such meetings to be held in various parts of the city to acquaint residents with the proposed long-term planning policy of the city.

Crane Smashing Free Channel To River Mouth

Since the weekend rainstorm which broke up the river ice in the downtown section of the city, the public works department has been attempting to give the elements an assist in smashing a free channel to the river mouth.

Yesterday and today the works department has been doing its own bit of ice smashing and has been operating a large iron ball swung by a crane to open channels to below the railway bridge.

Yesterday the crane worked on the east side of the river immediately to the north of the railway bridge and today was at work on the east side.

But the shallowness of the water is hampering efforts which according to city engineer Malcolm Turnbull so far have not been too successful.

Mr. Turnbull said the idea was to break a channel on either side of the river so if another rain or heavy thaw came the current would float the ice out onto the bay.

Handbook Describes Mission to Canada

The forthcoming Mission to Canada, being conducted by Mr. Tom Rees, the well-known British evangelist, together with a party of ministers from Great Britain, is colorfully described in a handbook entitled "Canadian Cavalcade." Prefaced by a personal greeting from the Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker, this 36 page handbook contains several fascinating articles written by Tom Rees and his wife, Jean Rees, telling of their experiences and triumphs in Great Britain as well as their hopes for the Mission to Canada.

In addition there are greetings from Church Leaders in Canada, as well as goodwill messages from ministers in Great Britain and members of the British House of Commons. The handbook is illustrated throughout with many photographs, and includes 14 short biographies, introducing the various members of the Mission to Canada Party. A comprehensive list gives details of all the forthcoming rallies across Canada.

This handbook is available, price 30c post free, from the Mission to Canada Headquarters, 227 Bloor Street East, Toronto 5, Ont.

D. Howe in the former Liberal adminstration was accused of having."

The powers were not nearly as extensive as Parliament had already conferred on the minister of national revenue in "many, many respects."

Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal Laurier) accused the government of failing to make good on election promises to help the textile industry in Cornwall.

W. M. Berry, president of the Primary Textiles Institute, had said 35,000 jobs had been lost to Canadian textile workers and another 14,000 workers would soon be out of jobs.

John Smith (PC — Lincoln) said he could name "quite a few things" that would be manufactured in Canada if the "normal tariff protection" were available. He mentioned various types of heavy chains and automatic transmissions for automobiles. There was, however, nothing in the resolution to indicate that tariffs would go "sky-high."

10 Classified Non-Finishers In Road Rally

Ed Robertson and Dave Phippen of Napanee took first place over approximately 70 other competitors in the monthly road rally held by the St. Lawrence Automobile Club this past weekend, it was announced at the regular monthly meeting of he Belleville Chapter of the club yesterday evening by the rally organizer, Derek Payne of Picton.

Al Scarlett and Al Fisher of Belleville also showed their usual fine rally performance over the 107-mile route to place second. Jack Willson of Kingston, a past president of the Kingston club, placed third.

The route, which started from Napanee and wound its way north to West Plain, south to Forest Mills, west to Corbyville and then south to Rossmore, ran mostly over back county roads. In some places water and slippery surfaces hampered the steady progress of the drivers, who were required to maintain a constant average speed throughout the various sections of the course. No competitors finished the event without having been penalized some points for arriving early or late at a check point or for going astray from the official route. Of the 35 cars entered 10 were classified as non-finishers.

Aside from the major rally results, those attending yesterday evening's meeting had the opportunity of participating in a one-hour rally petit prior to the business portion of the agenda. This event was won by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sorenson and was organized by Bob Fredericks and Fred Blake.

The meeting was the first under the new executive for 1961-62, chapter president Jim Williamson and secretary Derek Payne. Several forthcoming rallies on the national competition calendar were discussed. It was announced that two club three-car teams would be entered in the annual Jaguar Owners' Association Julius Caesar Night Navex and another two cars would be competing in the Rallye des Neiges in Montreal. Dr. Robert Allore is preparing for the Trans-Canada rally which will be run in May from Montreal to Vancouver.

There were 42 persons present at the meeting and president Jim Williamson states that the three-year old club now has over 60 local members The next event of the club is to be held on the 26th of March.

Excerpts From Letters We'd Like to Get But Never Do

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Excerpts from letters we'd like to get—but never do:

"A recheck of your last year's federal income tax return shows that, instead of you owing the government an additional $34.12, the government owes you a $218.67 refund."

"On the basis of your daughter's kindergarten aptitude test, and particularly the skill she showed in finger painting, we are extremely pleased to announce she has won a four-year tuition-free scholarship to the college of her choice."

"After thinking it over, my wife has decided it wouldn't be fair to sue you because your car struck hers while she was travelling the wrong way on a one-way street. She concedes it was entirely her fault and if you will just send us the bill for your damages we will. . . ."

"I had planned to leave my estate in trust for Tabitha, the cat that has been my faithful companion for 15 years. But the poor dear passed away last week. So, since you are my only remaining nephew, I am changing my will to make you. . . ."

STRIKES GOLD

"Our laboratory test of the glittering rock your young son picked up on his Boy Scout hike shows that it does contain gold. Based on this sample, we estimate the ore should assay out at about $4,000 a ton, making it by far the richest strike we have ever. . . ."

"I hope you and papa aren't too mad at Jim and me for eloping, but we didn't want to put you to all the fuss and expense of a big welding. Jim's father—he's in the real estate business and owns downtown Dallas, plus a suburb here and there—wants to know if you both won't join us on a honeymoon cruise to Hawaii on his private yacht and. . . ."

"Dad, don't bother about sending me any more money. After I threw those three touchdowns in the last game, the university raised my salary. I'm doing so well now that if you need any help in meeting the mortgage payments on the house, just let me know and I'll. . . ."

"In compliance with the will of the late Alfred Nobel, we, the members of the Nobel Prize committee, are proud to inform you that. . . ."

"As your company doctor, I am glad to inform you that you passed your recent physical examination with flying colors. You now are at liberty to eat as much as you like, drink as much as you like, smoke as much as you like. However, I have informed the management you have been working too hard and should be given a long vacation at the firm's expense."

P.M. Asks Investigation Of Recent Congo Incident

OTTAWA (CP) —Prime Minter Diefenbaker said Monday Canada has asked for an immediate investigation of recent Congo incidents involving Canadian servicemen.

He also said that even through service with the UN force in The Congo is fraught with danger to the Canadians, the UN action must be supported.

Mr. Diefenbaker said none of the Canadians had been seriouly injured and—at the time he spoke Monday afternoon—no Canadians were being detained.

He revealed two additional incidents involving Canadian military personnel. Two Provost Corps men were arrested while on duty in Leopoldville and released soon afterwards without injury. An officer and three airmen were taken into custody "jostled about but not hurt," and later released.

ASKED UN

The prime ministers said "urgent enquiries" had been made of the United Nations about the incidents, but Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold had received no official report.

"He has been made aware of the government's request for an immediate investigation," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

"The House, I am sure, will join me in deploring these incidents. . . .

"The government's deep concern has been expressed that Canadian military personnel serving with the United Nations forces in The Congo should have been subjected to this kind of assault and indignity."

Mr. Diefenbaker said that troops of other countries serving in The Congo also have been subjected to such treatment and that the UN issued a warning to the Congolese Army that such attacks would not be tolerated.

BY MUTINEERS

The main attack on the Canadians in Leopoldville vicinity was reported to have been carried out by mutinous Congolese troops. Mr. Diefenbaker said "responsible authorities" had been warned by the UN.

Defence Minister Harkness said in reply to a subsequent question that the Canadian troops carry personal weapons only—pistols and light automatic rifles smaller than Sten guns.

He said the general rule was that the Canadians would fight to defend themselves against a concerted attack on a substantial body of Canadians, but that they were not to fire upon the natives if one or two Canadians were stopped on the streets by a patrol.

ister Harkness, asked whether it had occurred to Mr. Fisher that Mr. Gordon would like to see him (Mr. Fisher) go.

Mr. Fisher replied: "As a politician who can be booted out at any time I am not worried about the tender sympathies of Mr. Gordon."

Mr. Fisher's remarks indicated that the confrontation later in this parliamentary session between Mr. Gordon and the Commons railways committee should be a rouser.

Even without demands for his head, Mr. Gordon in previous appearances before the committee has managed to generate some rousing exchanges.

Mr. Fisher was speaking on a government motion, still not approved, to establish the committee which would also review pension rights of CNR employees, including those who have retired.

41-Year Career As Baggageman With CNR Ends

A 41-year career in the Canadian National Railways as a baggageman ended unofficially for Joseph Henry (Harry) Dickinson, 300 Foster Ave., when he stepped from westbound train No. 5 at 2.18 p.m. today.

Mr. Dickinson, who came to Canada from Manchester, England, at the age of 11, has spent his entire service with the CNR in Belleville, his wife, Elizabeth, said.

Although he will not officially retire until the end of March, Mr. Dickinson made his last run today before starting his annual leave. He celebrates a birthday March 8.

Mr. Dickinson, who first came to the Marchmont Home in Belleville and then lived on a farm near Campbellford as a house boy, joined the CNR after coming home from the First World War.

Although not certain of her husband's length of service in the CNR, Mrs. Dickinson said "I think I heard him tell someone the other day that he had been with the road for 41 years."

Easter Parade Decision Not Yet Reached

TRENTON — No decision was made at last night's Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting as to whether an Easter parade will we be held in Trenton this year.

Trenton Ministerial Association is to be invited to meet with the chamber to discuss the matter and to express their views.

At the chamber meeting, which was held in the board room of Erie Resistor, with George Kempf as host, the idea of special place mats for Trenton was again discussed.

Sqdn. Ldr. John Cuthill, representing the RCAF in the Chamber of Commerce, took a sample mat with him so that the design could be studied again.

Chamber President Douglas Whitley announced that the annual meeting to elect officers would be held some time in March.

Trenton booster buttons, discussed at a previous meeting of the chamber, again came up for discussion. A committee was appointed to decide on how many buttons will be needed, what color they are to be, and of what design. The money received from the sale of the buttons to associate members of the chamber has been earmarked for park improvement in Trenton.

The idea of a floral emblem on the buttons, discussed at a previous meeting, has had to be abandoned for the time being, at least, because nobody knows what the emblem is. Clerk-Treasurer O. W. Larry, who had a book on old Trenton, has apparently loaned the book to somebody. Meanwhile, it is hoped that some older resident of Trenton may come forward with the information. What is Trenton's floral emblem?

Trenton Rotary Club Observes Its Birthday

TRENTON —The Rotary Club celebrated its birthday Monday night when the speaker was President Arthur Spruston.

F. J. Taylor remarked, when presenting the speaker, that it was always a pleasure to hear the club's president speak, especially on a birthday night.

Mr. Spruston said that his talk was to be a report on the Rotary conference which he attended in Toronto. He gave an outline of what a number of clubs in that area are doing to raise funds for Rotary projects and also to increase club membership. For instance, he said, Fairbanks Rotary Club presented a large project to raise funds for welfare and disaster needs. They had written to other Rotary clubs throughout the world asking for assistance. Of the 500 clubs who received letters from the Fairbanks Club, more than 400 had answered, and more than 300 items had been sent so far. These items, representing many countries, included such things as shrunken heads and scarves. They now are on display at a large Toronto department store. One 90-year-old woman in Norway made three dolls for the project, he said.

Downsview Club presented as its project the building of an overseas student reception centre to house students temporarily until they found other accommodation. It would also provide a place where they could meet other students.

Bradford Club had presented a plan to increase memberhip, said Mr. Spruston, which had resulted in a considerable increase in members. More than 1,500 Rotarians registered at the conference, he said.

Weekend Drama Workshop Held At Repair Depot

TRENTON — The social hall at 6 Repair Depot was the scene of a drama workshop during the weekend. It was sponsored by the Trenton Drama Group, the Belleville Theatre Guild, and the community program branch of the Department of Education.

Two courses were held simultaneously, both lasting from 10 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. Saturday, and completed during a shorter session Sunday afternoon. While 15 students from Trenton, Belleville, Brighton, Consecon, Smithfield and Batawa learned papier-mache techniques, seven membtrs of drama groups from Trenton, Belleville and Port Hope were instructed in stage directing.

Not all of the participants in the papier-mache course were members of drama groups, for, as Miss Nancy Hazell, the instructor, explained, this is an art with an infinite variety of uses. An accomplished sculptor and free lance artist, Miss Hazell's own papier-mache work is seen in Eaton's annual Santa Claus parade in Toronto, as well as among the CBC's stage properties and effects.

The name of Murray Edwards, the instructor in stage directing, will be known to many readers as a drama producer at the CBC, Toronto. He is also an authority on the early Canadian theatre, and was curator of the Canadian Theatre Exhibition, Stratford, in 1960. Mr. Edwards coached budding directors of local drama groups in the role of the director, stage composition, and how to develop a script.

George Merten, director of drama and puppetry for the community programs branch of the Department of Education, Toronto, assisted Mr. Edwards in the stage direction course. Mr. Merten was responsible for inaugurating this series of weekend drama workshops in this area, with the assistance of Don Maddocks of the Community Programs branch in Belleville. This last course was the second in the series. The third, "Stage Lighting and Set Design" is scheduled to take place on Saturday and Sunday, April 8 and 9.

Raising Money

TRENTON — Students of Marmora Street Senior Public School are conducting a fund raising project for the Canadian Red Cross this week.

The youngsters are holding little auctions among themselves to collect money. Last year, commented Principal A. S. Robson, they raised $185 among 13 classes. This year, although there are four fewer classes, it is hoped that the result will still be gratifying.

U.S. Sets Fast Space Pace

The U.N. has been launching new satellites at such a pace of late that it is almost impossible for the casual newspaper reader to keep a correct tally.

The latest feat was to put two satellites into orbit with a single rocket, but even this was not a new trick. The same feat was accomplished last June.

The average newspaper reader may be surprised to learn that in the number of satellites launched the U.S. is now far ahead of Russia. This was true even before the spate of activity which has seen a new satellite or rocket fired every few days this year.

According to an exhaustive tabulation in "Nato Letter," as of December last the U.S. had successfully placed 29 satellites in orbit, compared with a mere five for Russia. Moreover at that time 17 of the U.S. satellites were still in orbit, while Russia had only one, and ten of the U.S. satellites were transmitting information back to earth, while Russia's lone satellite was silent.

In space probes, at that time, the two powers were tied, with two each. Russia has since launched two satellites and fired a space probe, at Venus, from one of them.

"Nato Letter" not only lists the date of launching of each satellite, whether or not it is still in orbit, whether its transmitters are still working, its weight and payload and the nature of its orbit, but also the purpose for which it was launched. One is struck by the variety of purposes of U.S. satellites. Here is evidently the reason President Kennedy claimed the U.S. was ahead of Russia in space technology.

Russia, though, has all the firsts, first satellite launched, first space probe, first animal put into orbit, first animals recovered alive from orbit, heaviest satellite, first probe to hit the moon, first probe fired at Venus.

One wonders, though, whether it will be possible for the Russians to continue to set the pace in the face of the sheer size of the U.S. space program. Eventually one would expect the mass of information gathered by the U.S. to tell. If it does not, the only feasible explanation will be that the economical Russians are never firing two satellites when one will do the work, that the U.S., with its space program divided between the Army, Navy, Air Force and Space Authority is duplicating its efforts.

When Lotteries Are Immoral

The Board of Evangelism and Social Service of the United Church has passed a resolution condemning lotteries. This is nothing new The Board's action, though, was prompted by reports the Federal Government is considering allowing provinces and municipalities to introduce lotteries along the lines of the Irish Sweepstakes.

The argument for such lotteries is that many Canadians now purchase sweepstake tickets, that there is nothing really immoral about such lotteries and that by their use a lot of money could be easily raised to finance necessary services.

We are inclined to agree with the advocates of lotteries in their contention that there is nothing essentially immoral about such games of chance.

What surely is immoral, though, is to suggest that we are so poor that we cannot afford to finance necessary services without resort to sweepstakes.

If the proceeds of lotteries went into the provincial or municipal treasuries, without being earmarked for any particular service, little harm might result. We should, however, dislike seeing the day dawn when the quantity and quality of the accommodation we provided to care for our sick depended upon the number of people who gambled through a provincial or municipal lottery.

Until there is some assurance that the proposed use of lotteries to fatten municipal or provincial treasuries will not result in the services these governments offer being determined by the lottery yields, we shall join the United Church in opposing such lotteries, although not for precisely the same reasons as those advanced by the church.

Voices High Praise Of Driving Course

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.

One new-timer and one old-timer have been amongst those who have just completed the safe-driving course sponsored by the Kingsmen's Club of Belleville and conducted by the city police department.

In order not to become too enthusiastic, we will strive for understatement. It was excellent. We feel the course was well-delivered, instructional and enjoyable. Also, attendance bespoke people's improving attitude towards the need and desire to be better drivers.

And the number of interested teenagers, who made better marks than the writer, was gratifying to see.

It was a revelation to each of us, I feel sure, to learn our safe driving capacities, both visually and for good judgment.

Those members of the police force, who were directly involved, certainly practised their preaching of courtesy. We feel that the Kinsmen's Club and the city police are to be commended for their participation in a vitally important endeavour.

Enroll, fellow - drivers and make Belleville as accident free as safe drivers can. These four or five hours of your time can, and may, be invaluable. As Sergeant Cook says: "Have care, courtesy and control".

Old Age Pensions Termed Inadequate

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.

Would you please give me a few lines in your paper in regards to the old age pensions of $55 for a single person or $110 for a couple per month. For three rooms rent $45, unheated, at the least; fuel $15 to $20; milk $6; groceries $40 to $45 anyway; bringing a total to $116. There is nothing for drugs or clothes.

I wonder if Mr. Grills would like to start to live on it, or any other member of parliament.

It was time some of the veterans got a raise in their pensions. But there are some getting 80 per cent pension who never lose a day's work. Drawing $2.30 per hour, making a total of nearly $20 per day two and a half day's work give what the old age pensioner has to live on for a month.

In eighty per cent of the homes in Canada the old age pension affects either the husband's or wife's side of the home.

Surely there is someone in Canada who will speak up for the old age pensioners. They were the people who pioneered this country and surely they do not have to go through the hardships again that they went through in the pioneer days.

A Pensioner.

He Invented Erector Set

New York Herald Tribune

A taste for an Erector set, once acquired, is very difficult to lose. One man who never lost it, certainly, was A. C. Gilbert. He invented the thing, and he has been honored through the generations by millions of youngsters who have seen his name duly inscribed on the familiar container. Now that Mr. Gilbert has died at age of seventy-six, Erector mechanics of all ages may well feel a pang of personal loss.

Thomas A. Edison, no doubt, will live longer in humanity's annals. But many a child — to say nothing of many a man— who has never quite figured out just how the electric light works has had at least a little brush with science and technology thanks to Mr. Gilbert's miniature bolts and girders. And some of the devices that have emerged from an Erector set—over and above the designs suggested in the instructions — would have done credit to some of the most daring inventors in history.

Mr. Gilbert's life by no means began and ended with Erector; he was one of the great collegiate athletes of his day and a record holder in the pole-vault; he was a successful business man; and he even received a medical degree, though he never practiced. But in a way, he never left his boyhood behind him—or at least he renewed it with each generation of boys that came upon his wondrous construction set. He held a high rank among the world's toymakers, and there are worse things to be remembered for.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

THIS COMES FIRST

May I record what I consider to be perhaps the most important thing it has been my privilege to write about in may decades?

It is this. The free world, and particularly the United States, is becoming infiltrated and interlarded with communism to a degree utterly alarming. The population in general appears not to realize this. We go about our daily tasks unmindful of the careful planned program worked out by subversives who know exactly where they are going, exactly what they want to do, and exactly how they are going to do it. Do you realize that ten men with two trucks and two machine guns could keep a community of twenty-five thousand in complete subjection is said to be communist dominated. Let them turn the day and so put our furnaces out of working order, and we will do what they tell us without protest — and if we do protest, we will protest once, and then curtain.

What can we do? We can keep alive the issue and alert others. We can insist on the continuance of the House of Un-American Activities Committee. We can give one-hundred support to men like J. Edgar Hoover and the patriots who stand with him.

This is serious business. Let us attend to it — or some day there will be no other business to attend to.

An Udder Use For Dentures

Chatham News

As if there was not sufficient scarcity of dentists already, the supply of practitioners for the necessary task of taking care of human teeth is threatened by the need for conserving the milk supply.

A Latin American dentist, Dr. Nelson Arias of Colombia has discovered that the milk of old cows can be improved by fitting them with artifical teeth.

Dr. Arias has registered his discovery at the U.S. Patent Office.

"Cow dentistry," he explains, "is going to be a big factor in the future farm welfare." He has already fitted a number of cows with dentures with satisfying results. He said years of chewing grass wear down a cow's teeth. As a consequence she grows thin and her milk suffers.

When this has happened in the past the farmer sent the cow to a tannery.

In the future she will be sent to a dentist instead.

Syd Says Air Travel Fares Are Irrational

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In my recent pieces on airplane fares — in which I suggested that the long-distance air passenger pays for more than he should, while the short-haul passenger pays too little— I failed to touch upon the most irrational aspect of commercial air travel.

Even top airline officials themselves admit that the present distinction between "tourist" and "first class" passengers is ridiculous. They admit this privately, for no one has yet worked out a satisfactory fare adjustment.

At present, a jet passenger can pay as much as $40 more than another passenger on the same plane, who leaves and departs at the same time in the same equipment and gets the same service.

The only difference is in a meal and seating arrangements. The tourist generally sits three abreast, and is denied a few gastronomic flourishes in his menu. But jets are so comfortable, and trops so brief that there minor dificiencies are scarcely noticeable.

In fact, I am told that many business firms have instructed their executives to travel tourist class on company business; the savings is considerable and the difference in comfort is negligible.

For many decades, the nation's railroads adhered to an unreasonable and suicidal fare policy, which accounted in large part for their passenger decline.

Coach passengers were treated like peasants while those who wanted sleeping arrangements were forced to pay for first-class tickets as well as for Pullman accommodations. The difference in fare was unjustly great.

Now — perhaps too late — it is possible to ride a "slumber coach" without paying a first class tariff. Twenty years ago, such a far-sighted manoeuvre might have saved the railroads.

Because I am so genuinely fond of air travel, and because the airlines have a magnificent future, I hope that they will not follow the stubborn and myopic path of the railroads. Now is the time to formulate a rate structure that is fair and sensible, geared to long-run profit and not to short-term greed.

"ourist" and "first - class" should be abolished on the same plane. The differential in jet fare and propeller fare should be greater. Fares should be determined both by distance and by equipment taken, not by a slice of steak or a seating pattern.

On my latest jet flight, there were seven first-class passengers and 42 tourist class, and what could be sillier than that?

Difficult When Sober

Montreal Star

A motorist in Edmonton has gone to court in protest against the police of that city making him stand on one leg and pick a cent up off the floor in order to prove he was sober when they picked him up. We don't blame him. Just try to do it yourself some time.

For some of us, now advancing in years, even the bending over would be tough enough. As for the one-leg angle and the picking-up-the-cent gimmick, that's going too far. Most of us, let's face it, would fall on our faces, drunk or sober. Indeed, some experts believe that it would be impossible to do it only when drunk, but we have conducted no field tests.

Our hope is, however, that the Edmonton cops have satisfied themselves that any impaired motorists coud fail to pass the test they set up. If they have not, local field tests are in order.

THE PACKSACK

BY GREGORY CLARK

This controversy over whether we can describe ourselves as of Canadian ancestry in the census poll has some rather curious aspects to it. A Canadian of British origin who has been 200 years in Canada is supposed to say, for example, that his forebearers came from Ireland and Scotland.

But the ones who came from Ireland back around 1760 were descended from the Sctoch immigrants that were herded over to Ireland by Queen Elizabeth I, or Cromwell, maybe less than 200 years before they left for Canada. If they were less than 200 years in Ireland, how can they call themselves Irish?

Maybe those who proudly declare their ancestry as English are descendants of Huguenots, or any of the refugees off the mainland who kept creeping over the Channel ever since Caesar's time.

Our French Canadians came in many instances from Normandy. Well, that gives them only a thousand years or so in France since their Norse ancestors came South.

What is the time limit on racial origin?

In the mixed-up world in which we dwell, how long do we have to be in one place — two hundred, five hundred years — befre be can kiss the ground?

Don't Ignore Probabilities, Or You Might Have to Pay

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

There's a song about "accentuate the positive," but from where I sit, I can see good reason for giving at least a fair share of emphasis to things that are probable if not positive.

I mention this because I want to discuss what we can do to protect against having a coronary thrombosis — see yesterday's column if you missed it, and are interested. And who isn't interested in heart attacks; including me?

Hardening of the arteries is part of the problem — but we all have some degree of that as we grow to maturity. It's a natural as gray hair, wrinkles and boredom with some of the activities that were so fascinating to us when you and I were young, Maggie.

Dr. Paul Dudley White thinks that the habit of regular exercise is important — that instead of spending so much time sitting down when we reach the age of 30, more or less, we ought to keep on being active. I think he's right, contrary to the thoughts voiced by a few who don't think exercise is important if you don't feel like it.

Yes, I think it's important — albeit I feel adequately certain that it does little good and may do great harm for somebody to try to leap into a life of athletics all of a sudden after he (or she) has spent 20 or 30 years sitting around and getting soft and short-winded.

Getting fat? Definitely a danger. If nothing else, it puts the heart to work harder than it should need to work, because there's that much more blubber which must be served with circulation.

Does obesity itself help "cause" a heart attack? Perhaps this would be hard to prove but we know, very definitly, that on the average, lean people outlive the overly plump ones. Even though I know lean folks who have had heart attacks, the useful fact is that they don't have as many of them, and they tend to recover more easily.

Diet? Here again I can't point to any individual and say "He avoided heart trouble by eating the right diet," but there's enought evidence to impress me. This matter of fat in the diet, cholesterol, and so on. It's obvious that we don't know the whole story of fat, cholesterol and sludge-laden arteries, but there's enough probability to make me think it's wise to take it a little easy on eating too much fat.

Perhaps it's something that will have its effect over generations — maybe 30 or 40 years. Certainly I do not think there is any sort of juice, seed, drug or medicine that will prevent, cure or correct hardened arteries.

I don't pretend to understand how too much stress and strain and worry contribute to physical damage. Yet I've seen it happen. I can do a better job of explaining why the lack of sleep is harmful, or how anti-coagulant drugs, properly used in the right cases, can help.

Altogether, I will say flatly that we certainly don't know nearly enough about coronary thrombosis and its causes, but I will say most sincerely that I am sure that what we know already is enough to make quite a dent in the problem of heart disease if only we will use it. Too many of us ignore the probabilities, and ultimately we pay for it.

We have no reason to believe that cancer is contagious, so I wouldn't worry about that. However, with an advanced case there is likely to be some degree of secondary infection. I would discourage mouth - to - mouth kissing as a safeguard against any lesser infection which may be harbored by the cancerous area.

Time to End Movies Ban

Montreal Gazette

Surely the time has come to reconsider the question of admitting children to the movies (in Quebec province).

They have been prohibited by law from entering theatres since 1928. Tragedy the previous year in the Laurier Palace Theatre created so great a wave of anguish that the law to ban theatres to children was passed.

Yet keeping children out of theatres has not meant that their safety is assured. The desire of children to watch movies is no natural and so strong that many films are shown in halls and basements that are not in the least fireproof.

Quite apart from this consideration, it has become strained and unnatural to keep children out of theatres.

Now that television has come movies are in every home. To say that children may watch films over television, but cannot see them in a theatre, has become a distinction too artificial to maintain indefinitely.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

VICTORY-ORGANIZED

"Divine Persons," says Emerson, "are character born or, to borrow a phrase from Napoleon, they have victory-organized."

It is because character is so big that such great homage is paid to it.

And yet character doesn't display itself, it doesn't boast — it just goes ahead with what it has and with all that it is, and marks its way in the world in the shape of heroes and pathfinders and immortal leaders.

Talk with him who feels his message and knows his errand, and you may know that you are in the presence of one who is victory-organized.

It is not a mere question of equipment. For the best equipped man, as well as army, has many times gone down to failure and defeat.

It is what we do with what we have, and how deeply we feel that we have it, that convinces the world we are victory-organized — ready to go ahead and follow out our vision.

Make the other fellow feel that you feel and that you know — and he will both feel and know, in turn.

Where there are harmony and understanding between a man and his world, there is no occasion on which he should either equivocate or apologize.

To be victory-organized is to have counted all costs and to have determined to win out anyway.

umumbists had been disarmed by the Luluabourg garrison. These Luluabourg troops, who last weekend willingly moved over to the Lumumbists' side, seemed on Monday to be swinging their loyalty back to Leopoldville.

The military pact signed today brings together the squabbling anti-Communist leaders in The Congo—at least for the time being.

An agreement signed in Elisabethville, capital of the secessionist province of Katanga, provides badly needed aid for Kasavubu's disorganized forces.

It was signed by Premier Joseph Ileo, who represented Kasavubu's Leopoldville government; Albert Kalonji, leader of the mining state of South Kasai, and Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

Under the terms of the pact they will pool their troops to combat the "Communist dictatorial regime" of Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville. Permanent contacts for both military and political co-operation are to be set up.

Kasavubu has the most to gain from the agreement. Tshombe's 5,000 well-paid troops are The Congo's best trained and supplied and are led by Belgian officers who can coordinate strategy. Kalonji has about 1,000 soldiers and an undetermined number of Baluba tribesmen.

The Leopoldville government's 7,50 men are scattered and disorganized. Kasavubu called for general mobilization Monday in an attempt to beef his forces.

Gizenga's troops, numbering between 5,000 and 7,000 are spread out in the sections of The Congo—more than one-third of the country—his regime controls

Tshombe also has reinforced his military posture by calling off his agreement with the United Nations to suspend military action and resuming, as he put it, Katanga's "freedom of action." Tshombe warned then that his troops might go into action outside Katanga if the threat from Stanleyville troops warranted it. Recently they have been engaged in northern Katanga against Balubas backing the Gizenga regime.

SEES OPEN CIVIL WAR

A UN spokesman in Elisabethville said today the decision to renew Katanga troop movements might lead to open civil war.

Kasavubu acted as advance units from Stanleyville came within 300 miles of Leopoldville.

As the president called for a general mobilization, G. Mennen Williams, U.S. assistant secretary of state for African affairs, arrived "to find out what is going on." Under criticism by whites elsewhere for his earlier statements supporting African nationalism, Williams was not talking here.

Units that set out from the Lumumbist headquarters at Stanleyville were reported only 300 miles from Leopoldville after advancing 130 miles in a day without meeting resistance from government troops.

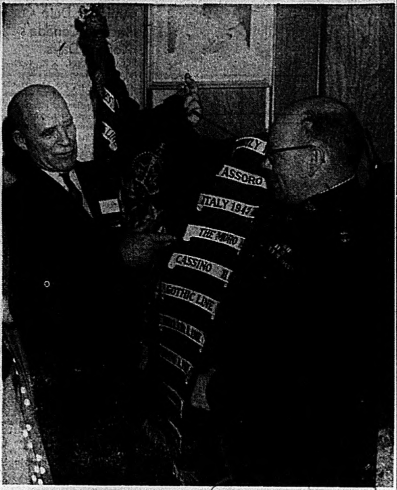
session, the Soviet premier put out similar feelers.

Both conferences had been cut to a little more than half their original length. In addition to the questions about a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting, Soviet film editors also left in the president's statements on freeing the U.S. RB-47 flyers, repeating the American pledge for no more U-2 flights over the Soviet Union and taking steps against rising unemployment in the United States.

The press conferences were translated into Russian and presented without comment.



A PROUD MOMENT — Lieut.-Col A. A. Kennedy, DSO, of Owen Sound, former commanding officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment (overseas) and Lieut.-Col. Angus Duffy, CD, present OC, look proudly at the regimental color after it was dedicated and presented to the unit a few years ago.

Hasty Pees' Regimental Color Stolen, Colonel Hands in Cap Badge in Protest

The famous regimental color of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment has been stolen from the officers' mess of the Bridge Street Armory.

The theft took place, it is believed, on the night of Sunday, February 19. The story of the missing color was kept quiet up to last night in the belief it was the work of a prankster.

Last night in a surprise parade in the armouries, Col. Angus Duffy, CD, commanding officer of the regiment, handed his regimental cap badge to the regiment.

In addition, Col. Duffy handed over the regimental Queen's Color to the sergeant's mess to be held in their keeping until the regimental color is found or replaced.

In handing over his badge, Col. Duffy told his officers, "Because the circumstances of the loss indicate that the person or persons who did this disgraceful thing are members, former members or were closely associated with the regiment, or former regiments, as the present C.O. I am in disgrace."

"I now hand over my cap badge to the adjutant for safekeeping until such time as the color is restored or until I cease to command the regiment."

The regimental color is a blue silk, gold-fringed flag, bearing the regimental crest with the battle honors inscribed in white silk on each side.

It was kept in a shatter-proof glas case hung on the wall of the officers' mess to the right of the balcony doorway entrance.

The door of the entrance was forced open, and locked again when the intruder or intruders left. The glass case was forced open and left in its position otherwise undamaged.

The regiment held a tactical sceme on Sunday, February scheme on Sunday, February

At 6.30 p.m. the armory was cleared and doors checked by a steward and a janitor. Another check at 7.30 revealed all doors locked and no one in the building.

HEARD RADIO

At 11 p.m. a janitor heard a radio playing. Investigation revealed the balcony door of the officers' mess ajar, the lights on and the radio playing. The janitor did not at that time discover the regimental color was missing. No person or persons were found in the building.

This morning Col. Duffy was at a loss to understand the motive of the thieves.

"In the past,' he said, "interunit rivalry has resulted in the 'capture' of mascots or other regimental objects, but never in my memory has a military unit sunk to the level of confiscating the sacred color of another.

"The stealing of a regimental color is a desecration of tradition.

HAVE CLUES

"To the unprincipled people who took the color," Col. Duffy said, "I issue a warning that if the color is not restored by Wednesday, March 1, the most drastic steps will be taken to recover the color. There are several clues which will lead to their apprehension fairly easily."

"The color lost is the regimental color containing the battle honors won by the regiment in two world wars. These honors were paid for by the sacrifice of the lives of many hundreds of men of the regiment."

"They are of no use to anyone — but they are a sacred trust of the regiment. They should be sacred to every Canadian."

"Therefore," said the commanding officer, "I beg the persons who took the color to restore it, or anyone having any information as to it whereabouts to notify the armouries."

A reward will be paid for information leading to the safe return of the color.

Cannifton Rd. Zoning Change Being Sought

City council will be asked to approve re-zoning part of Cannifton Road to allow for D-commercial uses.

Last week re-zoning of Cannifton Road from 132 south of Reid Street to the CNR right-of-way was discussed at a meeting called by the Belleville and Suburban Planning Board. The area is now zoned A-residential. Council is being asked to approve the amended by-law.

"shall be deemed" and "onus should be on him unless he proves to the contrary."

"We're discussing the reform institutions estimates," Mr. Roberts protested.

CLAIMS VARIANCE

Mr. Sopha said he felt the Criminal Code, although a federal law, was at variance with Ontario's professed policy of trying to rehabilitate the prisoner for a useful life because it had been rewritten to provide for stricter penalties.

He charged that the liquor laws were discriminatory and there were many cases where the wealthier citizen had his case "slid under the blotter."

Mr. Roberts asked whether the member would divulge the names of a few such cases.

"You're not going to make me a common informer." Mr. Sopha said.

Mr. Wardrope, in presenting estimates of $17,941,000 for the 1961-62 fiscal year, said his department is studying the possible establishment of Canada's first penal research centre.

"It is due to the almost total lack of specific research in the correctional field that we feel the need to set up our centre," Mr. Wardrope said. Rapid strides are being made in parole and rehabilitation, he added.

Andrew Thompson (L — Toronto Dovercourt) suggested more fines and penalties be assessed against parents of delinquents through the juvenile and family court. Parents should be placed on probation and made to report to officials, he added.

Mine Minister Maloney tabled his department's report for 1960 which disclosed that Ontario's total mineral production last year may exceed $1,000,000,000 when final figures are available.

Announcing the record, Mr. Maloney said near parity between the Canadian and United States dollar will be reflected favorably in the value of all minerals exported to the U.S.

RARE STAMP SOLD

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's rarest air mail stamp—the black Honduras—was auctioned Monday for $24,500,a record price for an air mail. Raymond Weill, a New Orleans dealer, bought the stamp at an auction here of a collection owned by Thomas Matthews of Springfield, Ohio. It is a Honduran 10-centavo stamp printed in 1925 and overprinted with "Aero Correo 25" to convert it from airmail service.

Says Vague Spying Charges Drove Him Out of Canada

VANCOUVER (CP) — Alvo von Albensleben, German-born former Vancouver promoter, says vague charges of spying drove him out of Canada 46 years ago.

They were all "nonsense," he told the German - Canadian Cultural Association during a visit from his present home in Seattle.

Despite traces of bitterness, he urged members of the association to accept all rights and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship without reservation.

Now 81, Mr. Albensleben was 25 and almost penniless when he arrived in Vancouver in 1904, sent overseas by his aristocratic Prussian family because he wasn't fitted for a military career.

In the next 10 years, he said, he made and spent a fortune earned from real estate, mines, forests and fisheries. He said he was instrumental in bringing $60,000,000 in German capital to British Columbia and had it invested in mines, canneries and real estate.

When the First World War started this empire collapsed and his personal holdings went with it.

ASSETS SEIZED

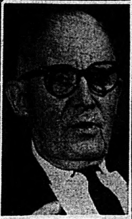
When all German assets were seized he owed $5,000,000 personally on real estate alone. It was said that he was a personal representative of the Kaiser, that he spied for the Germans and that a concrete tennis court in his home here was intended as a gun emplacement.

"All nonsense," he said of these stories. 'I was a victim of scandalous falsehoods circulated by enemies and published here in the atmosphere of early war hysteria."

Recalling the years before he went into investment, he said that he made a bare living in Vancouver at first by shooting wild ducks and selling them at 35 cents each, gillnetted salmon in a sailboat at the mouth of the Fraser River and peddled game and milk at the back door of the Vancouver Club.

After he made his fortune, he said, he lived in a mansion with a dozen servants and kept a stable of polo ponies. He was nominated at the same club where he had delivered his wares.

"I made a lot and spent a lot. A man who spends is popular but when war came people wanted to hate me so they turned on me."



LOST FORTUNE

Investment dealer Alvo von Albensleben made a fortune from real estate, mining, forests and fisheries when he went to Vancouver from Germany before the First World War. But he lost it and says he was driven out of Canada because of false charges of spying. Now 81 and living in Seattle, he was in Vancouver recently to speak about his experiences and offer advice to present-day immigrants. (CP Photo).

He was in Germany at the outbreak of war and was unable to return to Canada. He went to the United States and when the Americans entered the war in 1917 he was interned as an enemy alien.

For the last 10 years he has been an investment broker in Seattle.

REJECT TV PLAN

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) Chancellor Adenauer suffered a major domestic defeat today when his action to set up a federally-controlled second TV network was judged unconstitutional. The ruling by the constitutional court resulted from a suit filed five months ago by fou Socialist-dominated West German state governments. The much publicized new network was to be financed largely through commercials.

squadrons, to be located at North Bay, and Mont Laurier, Que., may be armed only with conventional warheads.

But they said they stand ready at any time to sign a separate agreement with Canada on the employment of nuclear warheads, providing Canada will allow storage in line with American laws.

Under the existing service arrangement, Canada will acquire the American Bomarcs next year. The B model, to be installed in Canada, now is in the final stages of research and development and the Boeing Airplane Company, which produces them, may start making deliveries to American bases later this year, possibly by June.

225 Attend Sixth Y.F.C. Annual Dinner Held at Masonic Temple

"If I were the devil," said Duane Benjamin, former director of Youth for Christ, of Toronto, now of Stouffville, last evening at the sixth annual banquet of the Youth for Christ, held in the Masonic Temple, "I would keep teenagers so busy they would have no time for the Word of God; in this decade of destiny, I would keep God's people from the place of prayer because 'prayer changes things' and also people; I would keep Christians from winning others to Christ; I would keep God's people from pressing on to the high mark of the calling in Christ Jesus; I would keep people looking at the faults of others; I would keep them busy in worldy pleasures, and finally, I would keep them visionless, for 'with no vision the people perish.'"

These were the highlights in a most stirirng address closing an outstanding meeting, which began with a turkey dinner enjoyed by 225 guests, present from Frankford; Glen Miller; Rednersville; Foxboro; Trenton; Kingston; Toronto; Bancroft; Ivanhoe; Deseronto; Madoc; Stirling; Brighton, and Chicago.

Those at the head table included: Mr. Bill Pearce, of WMBI Chicago, The Rev. and Mrs. Dresselhuis, of the Christian Reformed Church; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Locklin; the Rev. and Mrs. J. S. A. Spearman, of the Wesleyan Methodist Church; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Brooks; Mr. Duane Benjamin, special guest; Mr. John Holcroft; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kemp; The Rev. Miss Mainprize, of the Free Methodist Church; Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Elliott; Mr. and Mrs. Bev. Foster; and Mr. Doug Stark, Director of the Youth for Christ, Belleville, and Mrs. Stark.

Following a spirited song service, led by Mr. Glen Brooks, Mr. Bill Pearce, of WMBI, Chicago delighted with a solo trombone solo, "If You Know the Lord," which he followed by a vocal solo, "It's a Wonderful, Wonderful Life." Mr. Pearce throughout the evening favored the large assembly with several other lovely trombone and vocal selections. He mentioned how at ten years of age he had wanted a trombone and was granted the request by his father, who made one stipulation, that he would play it in the garage with closed and locked doors.

How he mastered the instrument was demonstrated in his perfect tonal qualities which were like softest velvet in ali his selections, as were the vocal solos. Mr. Pearce also mentioned that he played an arrangement of his own, in his early life which he considered good, of "My Old Kentucky Home," before a considerable audience, and noted a man with tears in his eyes. After the meeting he went down and spoke to the person asking if he were from "Kentucky." "No," replied the man, "I'm a musician!"

Mr. Pearce also gave a facsimile of a radio broadcast, with absolute silence throughout the assembly, which included his fine rendition of "I'd Rather Have Jesus Than Anything," and a trombone solo, "Precious Lord, Take My Hand" as well as others, such one a gem of beautiful coloring.

Other music included the assembly singing of "Heavenly Sunshine," led by Mr. Glen Brooks, and the "Holy City" by the Choralaires, directed by Lamont Parks.

The presentation of the charter for 1961, a beautiful blue banner bearing the legend "Decade of Destiny," was made to the director, Mr. Doug Stark by Mr. Duane Benjamin, who enumerated the growth of the Y.F.C. since 1945. In 1948 at the aspects of Christian life the Y.F.C., there were 16 clubs, and now there are over 2,000 clubs.

The Y.F.C. is a fellowship of national extent and a 20th century miracle. The speaker mentioned that it was formed to lead the teenagers, who bypass the local church, to Christ; that 85 per cent of court crimes are committed by teenagers againg from 15 to 18 years.

Y.F.C. is not a church, not a denomination, and not a duplicate church, it is a work in which the teenager is met on his own ground.

The Y.F.C. publishes its own books and pamphlets covering the aspects of Chritsian life and recreation; it has camps where teen-agers meet new friends.

A presentation, "This Is Youth For Christ," part by tape recording, in which several teen-agers took part, included, a miracle, a mission, a message, and a ministry.

Appreciative thanks were tendered the ladies from Gilead United Church for the fine banquet dinner provided.

Following the special address by Mr. Duane Benjamin, the Reverend J. S. A. Spearman closed the meeting. The invocation preceding the dinner was given by the Reverend J. L. F. Dresselhuis.

Mrs. Bev. Foster presided at the piano for the song service.

Bogged Down by Diapers, This Housewife Beat Blues By Writing Children's Books

By Elizabeth Motherwell
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Dismayed by diapers and dishes, housewife Mary Lee Axelson beat domestic blues by writing books.

The inspirations were born over a dishpan in her home at Markham, near Toronto. Helped by her three young sons as critics, and her husband as agent, she has published 14 children's books.

Printed in five languages, they have a circulation of more than 100,000 in Canada alone. Two are recommended reading in Quebec schools.

Mrs. Axelson, who visited Ottawa recently with her husband, says housewives need interests that divorce their minds from housework or babies for a few hours a day.

"I was bogged down by diapers," remarked the petite 35-year-old mother who wrote her first book in 1952 while two of her sons were still on formula feedings.

In the midst of a diaper crisis she announced to her husband Eric that a woman can do anything a man can do — except move a piano.

"Go ahead and try," was the challenge from the Swedish-born editor of Canadian Marine and Shipping News.

HAS OTHER TALENTS

He advised his wife to take up writing on a familiar subject.

"He told me I had a captive audience with children, so we started there. He was as surprised as I was with the results.

"Now he plays the game of money with the publisher, and I sit back waiting for the cheques."

Mrs. Axelson didn't cast aside domestic duty for a literary fling.

Eric is equally proud of his pretty wife's ability as house painter, tailor, cook and organizer. Money from her writings goes into home improvements.

The stories for books "come when I'm hanging over the dishpan," Mrs. Axelson says. The stories, mostly about animals, are based on fact. The research required is fitted around domestic chores.

Her children made the difference between success and failure in child - appeal for her first book, Chubby Beaver's Secret Door.

The author intended to explain adoptions, there being several in her neighborhood, by introducing an orphan beaver into a beaver family circle.

KIDS WERE UNHAPPY

"When are the real parents coming to get the beaver?" was a wail from her small - fry critics after a premiere bedtime reading. Tears were dried only when parents were hastily resurrected.

"Children have such literal minds; they didn't like the idea of adoption at all," says Mrs. Axelson who considers this episode her most helpful lesson in writing for children.

The literal approach applies in acceptance of an author-mother by her sons, now aged 8 and 10.

"At first they thought I printed the books. It was a big disappointment to learn that I didn't."

Floyd Baillargeon, a Toronto commercial artist, did the illustrations for the first book and cartoonist Ben Wilson of Toronto did the art work for the second, Sentry Skunk Foils the Hunters.

A woman of broad interests, Mrs. Axelson took a flyer at public office in 1959 and missed becoming a school trustee for Markham Township by two votes.

Behind her multiple accomplishments is a simple philosophy: "I want to feel I have done the most with the time I have here to live."

The Toronto - born author is the only writer in an artistic family. Her mother is a pianist. Her sister, the former Dianne Forhan, now Mrs. Malcolm Black, was with Sadler's Wells Ballet, now the Royal Ballet, from 1947 to 1954 and now is choreographer with the Stratford Shakespearean Festival.

ADDS WRITING TO HOUSEWORK — Mrs. Mary Lee Axelson and two of her three sons look over some of the 14 children's books she has written as a sideline to her domestic duties. She started writing in 1952 at her Markham, Ont., home and her books now have been printed in five languages. The children are David, 10 (standing) and Michael, 8. (CP Photo).

WOMANLY RELAXATION — Britain's visiting Queen Elizabeth II displayed a woman's way of relaxation by slipping out of her shoes during tea on lawn of guest house at the Aarey milk colony near Bombay, India, during week. Her Majesty sat down to tea, eating cakes and sampling the farm's cheese, after touring the modern dairy farm which is run by the Indian government. (AP Wirephoto).

Member of Chippewa Tribe Will Read on Indian Lore

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) —Mrs. Alfred Simpson is a revelation to people who think Indians still wear leather and beads, live in wigwams or longhouses and pound corn on stone.

She's a handsome white-haired woman who lives in a modern frame home on the Alderville reserve, 15 miles southeast of here.

Mrs. Simpson is correspondent for the Cobourg Sentinel-Star and taps out her news stories on a portable typewriter, using the touch system she learned along with shorthand at evening classes at Cobourg Collegiate.

"The young people of the reserves go to school every day by school bus now, but we didn't have that opportunity," she says.

Nevertheless, she has a vocabulary that would put many high school students to shame. She has read widely and has an intense interest in history, particularly that of her own people.

Many visitors are drawn to the Simpson white frame house by the sign at the gate—"Indian Handicrafts and Dew Worms." Mr. Simpson, who greets visitors with a grin and a joke, looks after the dew worm business. His wife makes the beautiful moccasins and baskets they sell, writes the Alderville news, does historical research and corresponds with fellow stamp collectors.

WORKS AT MUSEUM

To gleen the history of the Indian church at Hiawatha, established in 1825, she did research in the provincial archives and libraries. As a member of the Northumberland Society, Mrs. Simpson takes her turn helping at Barnum House in Grafton, a museum.

"My handicrafts are authentic, not Indian articles imported from Japan," she says. "The children have lost some of our native art and the only language they can speak is English."

The former Mary Jane Muskrat, she is a member of the Chippewa tribe, a branch of the Algonquins. Mrs. Simpson says she regrets not listening more carefully to her father and grandfather telling tales of the Indians in the old days.

She is a member of the Women's Indian Organization with aims similar to the Women's Institute. Her activities include church work and she and a niece are in charge of the Alderville Sunday school.

The Simpson home is filled with modern furniture and electrical appliances and was built by their son, Everett, a carpenter. His own trim brick home is across the street.

Antiques Date Back to Canada's Pioneer Days

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Folks who have trouble keeping from breaking the handles off their teacups would be envious of the collections of antiques in New Brunswick museums.

The museum here has a collection dating back to the city's founding by the United Empire Loyalists. The Beaverbrook art gallery in Fredericton displays antiques dating back to Canada's pioneer days.

Among antiques here are a tea service with a Laura Secord connection and a blackened tea cup salvaged from the ruins of a disastrous fire that struck Saint John in 1877.

The Fredericton collection includes a set of fine English porcelain of the 1740 - 1840 era and many delicately fashioned tea accessories.

Delinquency Talk at PTA

The Nicholson Catholic College P.T.A. held its monthly meeting recently in the college. Mr. Paul Cleary, president, chaired the meeting.

Rev. Sister Mary Theresa gave the invocation.

Mr. J. Walsh, treasurer, read the financial statement and after a short business session a tape talk by Brother Maurice, F.S.B., was recorded. The title of the recording was "Juvenile Delinquency."

Brother Maurice is director of training at St. John's Training School, Uxbridge, Ontario.

Following the tape recording, the members present divided into groups of six to discuss three questions pertaining to adolescents.

Coffee was served by Mrs. G. O'Brien and Mrs. F. R. Ross.

QUESTION BOX

Question — I have known the new First Lady for many years — ever since she was a little girl, actually. I expect to visit Washington in the near future and will make every effort to see her if I possibly can. My question is: Having always called her "Jackie," should I continue to do so despite her exalted position? I am older than her mother and it does seem silly to call her "Mrs. Kennedy" at this point — Mrs. K. P.R., New York.

Answer: It isn't "silly" believe me! Some respect has to be shown for the position she now holds. I would suggest addressing her as "Mrs. Kennedy" in public and when others are present. If you see her alone, that is a different matter. Then informality can prevail. But please, not in public-

Question — I have always thought that waiter, servants, etc., said "Pardon me," but that a lady or gentleman said "Excuse me." Some friends of mine say I am not only snooty, but wrong. They say that "Pardon me" should be used by everyone. Who is right in this situation? — Miss L. N. H., Allentown, Pa.

Answer — Everybody is wrong While the phrase, "Pardon me" is not incorrect, it is not considered in as good taste as "Excuse me." Actually, when you commit a social error, you excuse yourself. A pardon is usually given to someone who has committed a crime, not a social error! So, for people in all walks of life (you are a little snooty about your idea!) I would suggest the use of "Excuse me" at all times. It is much more gracious and appropriate.

Music Festival of Sacred Praise To Be Held at St. Paul's United

STIRLING — The Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise is being held May 15th, 16th, and 17th, at St. Paul's United Church, Stirling.

The festival committee have completed the 1961 syllabus and the secretary, Mrs. Carl Potter, 47 John Street, Stirling, is now in readiness to accept entries from participants, or to forward a syllabus to those who are interested.

Mr. H. William Hawke and Mrs. Bac of Gananoque, Ontario, will adjudicate the music and singing.

The Rev. A. E. MacKenzie B.A.D.D., principal of Albert College, Belleville, will adjudicate the Scripture selections. There are six classes in this department — four are Scripture reciting for boys and girls, the age classes of eight, ten, 12 and 15 years. This should give each child an opportunity to compete with those in their own age group. There is also Bible reading for grades eight and nine and a public speaking contest on the Scripture theme of Joseph. The story must not be more than five minutes and the contestant must be under 16 years.

In the junor section there are nine classes of instrumental music which comprises of piano solos, duets and Hymn playing. In the intermediate instrumental section there are four classes and this includes sight playing. The senior section of instrumnetal music has listed five classes and consists of Hayden's "Allegretto", "Shubert's March" and Chopins Valse and hymn playing. These 18 classes should give all those taking music lessons, a chance to show their skill at the festival.

The vocal section for the juniors has sixteen classes ranging in age from little tots of six years and under, to girls under 15 years. There are also classes for public school choirs, rural church choirs and public school and junior choir open classes. This latter will render "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken".

The intermediates, in vocal, have 11 classes which range from girls' teenage ensemble, duets, soprano, contralto, tenor and baritone solos. The latter is for under 20 years, singing "A Voice in the Wilderness".

The seniors have 13 vocal classes, in their department and cover soprano, contralto, tenor, baritone, ladies' duet, ladies' trio, mixed quartet, male quartet, church choirs and boys' choirs.

Eighty marks must be obtained, to have a gold award, the entries must be in the secretary's hand by April 8th. The special awards include: the gold trophy for a church or charge; Mrs. Burton Morton's religious picture for the individual Sunday School, and Albert College provides a $50. bursary to a vocalist showing the most promise. Mrs. H. Keefer's trophy is awarded to e boys' choir and the Roy Kendall trophy for piano talent, and there are other special trophies for public school choirs.

The festival has completed ten years of promoting a love for sacred praise among the young people of the area, and is held under the auspices of the official board of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counsellors and social workers

Edna B. — Just because I don't date, my parents make me feel like a failure.

Mrs. D. B. — A girl of 14 should show some interest in boy friends, we believe.

• • •

Edna B. — What's wrong with preferring to spend my weekends and spare time with my family or my girl friends, or even curling up with a good book or a stack of magazines, alone? My parents, especially my mother, make me feel there is something the matter with me for not going to girl boy parties, going around with boys, or — what some of classmates do — running after boys.

The truth is I'm friendly with both boys and girls in school. Out of school, the boys my age aren't dating much. They join teams and go places together. Besides, I can't see dancing with them or playing kissing games. They're not the type.

Maybe later when I'm 18 or 19 I'll go out with boys. And maybe they'll be the intellectual type, so I won't have to bother with bop and Fabian and rock-'n-roll.

• • •

Mrs. D. B. — I'm certainly grateful that Edna does so well at school, and keeps up with her piano practising, and holds on to a few nice friends. What worries her father and me is a rather snobbish, uppy attitude towards boys, and even toward girls who invite her to boy-girl parties. At this early age she acts like a man-hater!

Of course she's a generally friendly person and loves her father and me and young brother devotedly. But we and her classmates are no sustitute for the social life every young girl should prepare for.

Edna shies away from the opposite sex when it's a matter of meeting them socially, or in any situation that doesn't involve books and study.

If I could only get her to dress up and attend a party, I think she'd change.

• • •

The Council — Edna sounds like a remarkable girl and, since they say certain good traits skip a generation, probably takes after her grand parents for commonsense What's the rush, Mrs. B.?

This mother talks as though she had a recluse of 40 on her hands, instead of a perfectly normal adolescent of 14.

How refreshing to meet a teen-ager who's not yet in the three-deep crowds at the mascara counter! Not yet for her the contest to be the "hottest" number at the dance! Edna is standing pat on her Right to be Young and savor the simple things around her. Time enough for sophistication and perhaps, disillusion.

In an enlightened turnabout, Mrs. B. can become a cheerleader rather than a needle in Edna's side, during this difficult (and courageous) holdout. How about inviting Eda to round up a few non-dating girls for a pyjama-party, pillow fights and all, with cots and sleeping bags for overnight accommodations? Or insuring her fun-times via picnics and trips to TV shows?

For Edna is not yet at the point — emotionally — where she cares about (or is comfortable with) the opposite sex as social delights. Trying to hurry her in what should be a natural awakening is like telling her to do a week's eating at one meal.

YOUR CHILDREN may not want Christmas cards they've received, mixed with yours. Let them make a Greeting Tree, on which they can display their own holiday mail. Clip or tape the cards to a bare branch (sprayed white, if you're ambitious), held upright by sand or clay in a flower pot or decorated jar.

Lemon Desserts Rise and Shine

By Mary Moore

On February 3rd I offered to give to Mrs. P. a commercial recipe for a lemon souffle if she would like it. She would. So would many others I heard from. Here it is.

COLD LEMON SOUFFLE:

1 package dessert topping mix, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 cup cold milk, 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) gelatine, 3 tablespoons cold water, 4 eggs, 2 egg yolks, 3-4 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1-3 cup lemon juice, grated nutmeg.

Prepare dessert topping mix as directed on package, using vanilla and milk. Chill. Sprinkle the gelatine over the cold water to soften. Meanwhile, combine the eggs, egg yolks and sugar. Place over hot water and beat with an electric or rotary beater until thick and pale yellow in color. Add softened gelatine and beat until gelatine dissolves. Pour the egg mixture into a large bowl. Cool. Fold in the lemon rind, lemon juice and the prepared dessert topping. Pour into a 1 1-2-quart buttered dish. Chill until set — about 3 hours. When ready to serve, sprinkle top with nutmeg.

A cupful of egg whites had accumulated in our refrigerator an my thrifty nature rebels at throwing them out. But I did not fancy plain angel food cake so I made an angel lemon roll. It requires only half of the regular angel food cake batter. (The other half I made into a loaf cake and frosted it with lemon icing for Gary's and Davey's benefit.).

ANGEL LEMON ROLL:

First make up this small Angel Food Cake recipe:

1-2 cup sifted cake flour, 1-2 cup egg whites, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 5-8 cup (10 tablespoons) granulated sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-8 teaspoon almond extract.

Sift flour once, measure, and sift 4 more times. Beat egg whites and salt with flat wire whisk. When foamy, add cream of tartar and continue beating until eggs are stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry. Fold in sugar carefully, 2 tablespoons at a time, until all is used. Fold in flavoring. Then sift small amount of flour over mixture and fold in carefully; continue until all is used. Turn batter into a 15 x 10" pan which has been greased, lined with paper to within 1-2" of edge and again greased. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for 20 minutes. Quickly cut off crisp edges of cake. Turn from pan at once onto cloth covered with powdered sugar. Remove paper. Spread with Rich Lemon Filling (see below) and roll. Wrap in cloth and place on rack until cold. While cake bakes make

RICH LEMON FILLING:

Three-quarters cup sugar, 6 tablespoons cake flour, dash of salt, 1-2 cup water, 1 egg, well beaten, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-4 cup lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Combine sugar, flour and salt in top of double boiler; add water and egg, mixing thoroughly. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 10 minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from boiling water; add butter, lemon juice and rind, and cool.

Boomer Headed For Scoring Title

Sport Slices . . .

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

"Squirtsmanship!"

Ever hear the word? I hadn't either, until the other day.

It was coined by three highly-esteemed residents of this city who, for certain reasons, wish to remain anonymous.

I can say this. They occupy important positions in the community life of the city; are public-spirited and thoroughly appreciate the value of athletics in the building of future citizens.

When they coined the word, they were not playing games, fashioning a cross-word puzzle or trying to puzzle participants at a charade party.

They were not trying to be funny in any sense of the word. They were deadly serious. Behind this quaint phraseology they have a sincere motive.

As the word implies it has something to do with the "squirt" division of minor hockey. All three gentlemen are indirectly connected with this phase of the winter sport. Each has a son or sons playing in the division.

I talked with them separately and individually on the telephone. All are deeply appreciative of what hockey, coaches and others associated with it are doing for youngsters, particularly those of squirt age.

They decided to do something in a tangible way to show their appreciation and to provide an incentive for players of squirt age.

The first part of the decision was arrived at easily. They decided to donate annually a trophy to each of the twelve teams in the squirt division of the Belleville Minor Hockey Association.

The second part of the decision was not so easy. What would be the qualifications of the winners? There was some thinking and probably a little head-scratching before they came up with an original word. "Squirtsmanship."

The definition of the word?.. I do not know unless it embodies the qualities of the "most valuable player," the "top goal-getter,", "the most gentlemanly player" and other characteristics most trophies represent.

I think the three gentlemen had in mind the player or players who conduct themselves like gentlemen, both on and off the ice; whose play, not necessarily the best, is a distinct asset to his club; whose attitude towards opposing players is that of a keen, clean competitor; is exuberant in victory but not derisive in defeat; whose attitude towards coaches and teachers is one of an interested student, not a do-as-I-do youngster, and who has and exhibits other characteristics of good sportsmanship.

The winner need not be the boy with the best goals-and-assists record, nor the goalie with the lowest goals-scored-against average, although both can qualify.

I believe the "Messrs' X" would include team spirit, co-operation with team-mates and coaches, ability and willingness to take and absorb instructions and to accept constructive criticism without malice or objection.

I presume the coaches of the twelve squirt teams with their assistants will be asked to select the award-winning player on their teams. This is as it should be. The coaches are in a position to know and evaluate each and every player on their squads.

Incidentally, the coaches do not know the names of the donors. This is partly the reason for donor anonymity.

I understand the announcement of the winners and presentation of the trophies will take place in the near future. They are being readied for presentation at Jerry O'onnor's Jewel Box.

Not Enough Competition

Russ Defends Thomas

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—A high ranking Soviet athletic official today came to the defence of American John Thomas for losing two epic high jumping duels with Russia's Valery Brumel.

"Look at it this way," said Leonid Khomenkov, chief of the Russian version of the Amateur Athletic Union, through an interpreter. "Put Brumel and Thomas in a competition with any other high jumper in the world. The other jumper would automatically wind up third. Either Brumel or Thomas would win every time."

Brumel, 18, cleared seven feet three inches in the New York Athletic Club games. Thomas jumped 7-1.

Last Saturday, in the U.S. national AAU championships Brumel cleared 7 - 2, Thomas seven feet.

They meet for the third and last time this season on boards Friday in the Knights of Columbus meet here.

ASKS WHY

"Why is Thomas being criticized so?" asked Khomenkov. "To talk about his shortcomings and try to make him a better jumper—all right. We should do that with all of them.

"But to openly scold him because he has lost two meets—that is unfair."

Khomenkov said: "I don't think John has had enough hard competition. He has had almost every meet his own way. There has been no one around to challenge him until Brumel arrived.

"Valery, on the other hand, has had a lot of tough meets. He has had to beat a lot of other seven-foot jumpers and in that kind of environment, the jumper has to strain for every fraction of an inch. That's the way, I think, to get jumpers to improve."

He pointed out that Thomas still holds the official world record of 7-3¾ inches.

HONOR TRAINER

TORONTO (CP) — Veteran trainer in a diversity of sports, Jock Logie, was honored Monday night at a testimonial dinner sponsored by the Toronto and District Soccer Association. Logie, 75, a native of Dundee, Scotland, came to Canada more than 48 years ago.

Extends Lead To 7 Points

MONTREAL (CP) — Bernie Geoffrion, scoring steadily, widened his lead in the National Hockey League scoring race to seven points last week by scoring two goals and two assists.

Geoffrion, with 40 goals and 42 assists, is beginning to look like a good bet to win his second NHL scoring title. His closest rivals are Frank Mahovlich of Toronto Maple Leafs and Jean Beliveau, Geoffrion's linemate with Montreal Canadiens.

Beliveau also scored two goals and two assists last week to move up into a tie with Mahovlich, who was held to two assists.

Mahovlich has 45 goals and 30 assists while Beliveau has 28 goals and 47 assists.

Johnny Bower of Toronto (2.55) and Glenn Hall of Chicago (2.57) were neck and neck in the race for the Vezina Trophy, awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the team that allows the lowest number of goals.

Both clubs have been scored against 157 times, but at week's end Toronto had played one more game than Chicago, giving Bower the edge.

Western Hockey

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Edmonton Flyers licked Winnipeg Warriors 4-3 Monday night in a Western Hockey League game that meant little.

It left Edmonton four points out of the cellar, Winnipeg's position.

While the league's only game was being played, there was talk in Montreal about the WHL's possible future relationship with the National League.

Erwin Swangard, managing editor of the Vancouver Sun, tried hard Monday to win support of Senator Hartland Molson for the construction of a new 14,000-seat coliseum and convention hall in downtown Vancouver.

Mr. Swangard said the senator gave him a "sympathetic hearing."

Senator Molson is president of the NHL's Montreal Canadiens. Mr. Swangard said he made the approach as a private citizen, not in any official capacity in his own, or his newspaper's behalf.

He said he was looking for the day when, "sooner or later," there will be a Pacific Coast section of the NHL.

WILL PRESENT PLAN

Later in Vancouver, alderman Frank Frederickson said he would present a plan to council today to finance a downtown civic arena with local money.

Monday night's Edmonton victory, in Winnipeg, was led by centre Don Poile, who scored two second-period goals, including the winner, and assisted on markers by winger Len Haley and defenceman Lloyd Haddon

Buddy Boone, from Kingston Frontenacs of the Eastern Professional League, fired two goals in the first period to wipe out a 2-0 Flyers led. Gord Labossiere ended the scoring for Warriors early in the third.

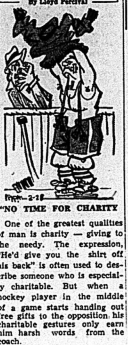
96-1 SHOT WON

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Michelly, a 96-to-1 shot, won the second race at Hialeah Monday to complete a $1,019.20 daily double with Vince, winner of the first race. It was the first over-$800 double of the meeting, thus coming under the Internal Revenue Bureau directive requiring holders of winning tickets to identify themselves before being paid off. Three $10 tickets were sold on the winning combination; six $5 tickets and 113 $2 tickets.

Hockey Hints

By Lloyd Percival



"NO TIME FOR CHARITY"

One of the greatest qualities of man is charity — giving to the needy. The expression, "He'd give you the shirt off his back" is often used to describe someone who is especially charitable. But when a hockey player in the middle of a game starts handing out free gifts to the opposition his charitable gestures only earn him harsh words from the coach.

Perhaps the most common form of this undesirable charity is making a blind pass, just passing the puck in the hope that a teammate is in position to take it. Usually this results in a loss of possession that frequently means a lost chance to score or a quick and upsetting goal by the opposing team. Though you frequently see blind passes made even in the N.H.L. it is a very common sight in age-limit hockey.

Sports College studies show that in the average game in age-limit categories there are no less than 45 blind passes made! About two-thirds of them are made inside the passing team's defensive zone — the most dangerous place to give the puck away. A check of Sports College figures of blind passes made by the Maple Leafs last year as opposed to this year shows that this season there is about 30 per cent improvement — one sure reason why the Leafs are so much better.

So, remember, always take a look before you pass and stop playing Santa Claus for the opposition because you might trip on your beard. For more hints get my bulletin, "Belliveau Make The Play" by sending a stamped, self addressed envelope and 10c c/o Hockey Tints 80 King St. W., Toronto.

American Coach Says

Europe Teams Ready For Smokies

GENEVA (AP)—Canada's ice hockey stars, accustomed to rough play back home, will find European teams ready to mix it in the world championships March 2-12, according to American coach John (Connie) Pleban.

Already there has been one flare-up between the Canadians and the Swedes in a pre-championship warm-up match.

More arguments and fist fights seem likely to break out in the world championship matches in Geneva and Lausanne.

"The Europeans now are much readier to go in for body contact than they were when I was last over here in 1952," the 46-year-old Pleban, from Duluth, Minn., said.

"The Europeans now stay right in the game when it comes to bodily contact. The trouble between the Canadians and Sweden was unfortunate. But I don't think it's a discredit to the Canadians. It could happen in any match. Anybody could get injured."

Pleban believes the world title will go to either Russia or Canada. "If we finish fifth I'll be quite satisfied," Pleban said. "Remember we've over here with an inexperienced and youthful squad."

The Russians beat a local team 21-6 Monday night. The Canadians also have been piling up the goals on their European tour.

Cops, Firemen Ready For Puck Frolic

They square off Friday, March 10, in Memorial Arena. The first dirty look will be tossed at 8.15.

Chief Walter Probert's Untouchables under the eye of Constable Glen Jacques, augmented by deputy sheriffs Charlie Peters, Bill Stevenson and Roy Woods, a McDougall "Fed," will line up on one side.

Chief Gerald Vance's Smokeaters, under Fred Smith, with private eyes Lee Culhane and "Warpy" O'Brien hovering in the background, will form the not-so-loyal opposition.

Shrine president Jack Allin with Shriners Tom Lewis, Mickey MacDonald, Bev Quincey, "Boiler" Lloyd, Jack Weese, Horace Wright, Ken Vivian, Doug Storey, and others, will be a one-eyed riot squad.

The other "eye" will take care of a number of crippled kiddies who will be the guests of honor at this police - firemen braw-oops—ball.

Thus far there has been no bragging emanating from the rival camps.

In fact it is the opposite. Both sides are moaning about the lack of players.

"We've got at least four guys who can hardly skate," sobbed a Probert undercover sleuth.

"However many skateless wonders they've got, we have two more," countered an off-duty Smoke Eater fondling a twelve-inch length of hose.

It's going to be tough to figure who are the bad guys and who are the good guys in this Battle of the Blues.

But it won't be tough to figure who will be the beneficiaries.

The Shrine Club Crippled Children Fund will receive every cent of the "take." The police and firemen laddybucks, and the officials, are giving their services total gratis.

The price of admission is twenty-five cents. You don't have to go to the game to help. You can buy a pasteboard from any policeman, fireman or Shriner.

How about it? Buy one?

Law Man Says He Can Repeat

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Vernon Law of Pittsburgh Pirates figures he can repeat this year as a 20-game winner—with some help.

"If the guys make the plays for me like they did last year and we score a few runs, there's no reason why I shouldn't be able to win 20 again," Law said Monday at the National League club's training camp.

The righthander was Pittsburgh's top hurler last season as the Bucs won their first pennant in 33 years. He won 20 and lost nine and took the CY Young award as the top pitcher in the major baseball leagues.

In the world series won by the Pirates, he beat New York Yankees twice.

Will Play Tomorrow

Big M In Hospital

TORONTO (CP)—The big M is in hospital. However, there is considerable optimism the Toronto Maple Leafs forward will be out in time to get into tomorrow night's lineup against Canadiens in an important National Hockey League game.

A boil on his right thigh sent Frank Mahovlich into sick bay Sunday.

"It hasn't responded to treatment," said manager - coach Punch Imlach. "So we decided to get him into a hospital. Unless this thing is checked he could be gone for a week or two weeks."

The 200-pound leftwinger has scored 45 goals for the first-place Maple Leafs. With eight games remaining this season, he is six goals shy of beating the season record of 50 set 16 years ago by Maurice Richard, retired Montreal star.

Born in Timmins, Ont., 23 years ago, Mahovlich said:

"I haven't missed a game this season yet and I don't intend to let something like this stop me."

"When I first came into the league four years ago, I had one personal goal I wanted very much. That was to win the scoring title."

Mahovlich is currently seven points off the pace set by Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal with 82 points.

He captured the Calder Memorial Trophy as the league's top rookie and scored 20 goals during his first season; fired 22 goals in his second year before dropping down to 18 the following term; has scored the most goals in one season by a left-winger (45); has collected more goals in a single year than any other member of the Leafs, and picked up the most scoring points by a Leaf player in one season.

Rod Gilbert Looks Like Score Winner

TORONTO (CP)—Barring injury, Rod Gilbert of the league-leading Guelph Royals appears to be a cinch to win the Ontario Hockey Association junior A scoring championship when the season concludes March 5.

Gilbert, with 101 points on 54 goals and 47 assists, has three games remaining and a 10-point lead over his nearest rival.

Official statistics released Monday show teammates Jean Ratelle and Bob Cunningham hold down second and third spots with 91 and 82 points respectively.

Bruce Draper of Toronto St Michael's College Majors — the league's second highest goal-scorer with 43, retained fourth place he held last week with 77 points, three more than Murry Hall of St. Catharines Teepees. Hall's teammate, Ray Cullen, is sixth with 70 points.

Doug Senior of Peterborough Petes is next with 66 points, followed by Doug Roberts of St. Catharines and Larry Keenan of St. Michael's, both with 63.

Chuck Goddard, Peterborough's 15 - year - old substitute goaler, has an impressive no-goals-against record. Goddard, in his junior A debut last Sunday, recorded a shut-out. Among the regulars, Jerry Cheevers leads with a 2.89 average, having allowed 75 goals in 26 games

HONOR ATHLETES

MILWAUKEE (CP) — Wilma Rudolph, tall and slender triple gold medal winner in the Olympic Games at Rome, was honored Monday as the female athlete of the year. The 20-year-old Tennessee state sprint star was presented the Frederick C. Millr Trophy awarded annually by the Fraternal Order of Eagles on the basis of the Associated Press year end poll. Olympic decathlon champion Rafer Johnson, the 1960 male athlete of the year, did not appear to pick up his trophy. He reported, from Los Angeles, he was unable to get on a flight to the midwest because of a reservations backlog from the air line engineers strike.

Close Race For Points In American

NEW YORK (AP)—Phil Maloney of Buffalo Bisons has whittled the lead of Springfield's Bill Sweeney to two points in one of the closest scoring races in American League history.

Sweeney scored three points for the Indians last week and has 85 points on 32 goals and 53 assists. League statistics released today show Maloney tallied six points for a total of 83 on 33 goals and 50 assists.

Buffalo's Larry Wilson is third with 75 points, followed by a Springfield trio — Bruce Cline, with 73, and Brian Kilrea and Bill McCreary, with 71 each.

Springfield's Marcel Paille is the top netminder, allowing an average of 2.82 goals a game

SEEK TELECAST

TORONTO (CP) — Two Toronto television stations are seeking to broadcast some home games of Toronto Maple Leafs in the coming International Baseball League season, Leafs vice - president Frank Pollock said Monday night. Pollock said representatives of CBLT, a CBC outlet, and CFTO, a private station, had conferred with him about obtaining rights. No Leaf games have been on TV in the past.

25-lb Pickerel Sets Record

Quebec Lake Tops In Fish Awards

NEW YORK (CP)—A Quebec lake abounding in giant brook trout grabbed majors in the 1960 Field and Stream magazine fishing contest.

Assinica Lake, near the Chibougamau mining region 300 miles north of Montreal, accounted for 14 of the 21 awards listed in the open and fly-casting divisions. Tops was a 10¼-pound lunker that fell to a woman angler, one of three women to win first prizes.

The authoritative outdoor magazine, which compiles fresh-water records, releases the first instalment of last year's results in the March issue, out Wednesday.

Mrs. Effie M. Thierry of Chibougamau got the big one in the open division, for fish caught on lures or baits other than artificial flies. She nailed it on an Eppinger Dardevle last Aug. 24.

Lawrence R. Fountain of East Longmeadow, Mass., topped the fly-casting division with a fish of eight pounds, three ounces from Assinica on a Pooler Special.

LAKEHEAD FISH FIFTH

Nipigon waters in Ontario's Lakehead district, which gave up the world record brook trout of 14½ pounds in 1916, was represented by only one fish — a seven-pound, two-ouncer caught by Stanley Fuller of Sussex, Wis., on a Weber Giant Hopper in the fly division. It was fifth.

The walleye record was taken away from Ontario, where the fish is commonly known as yellow pickerel. Mabry Harper's 25-pounder from Old Hickory Lake in Tennessee displaced the 22¼-pound mark set by Patrick E. Noon in the Niagara River at Fort Erie in 1943. The best Ontario could manage this time was a 14-pounder from Lake Simcoe, 50 miles north of Toronto, which gave seventh place to Edwin Thorpe of Newmarket, Ont.

No other records were cracked but R. F. Busch of Champaign, Ill., came close with his 58½-pound lake trout winner taken on a Williams Wabbler from Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories. It compared with the record of 63 pounds, two ounces from Lake Superior in 1952.

A 12-pound sea - run brown trout caught on a home - tied deer hair fly from a stream in Ontario's Bruce Peninsula, by W. H. Rogers of Southampton, Ont, was second in the fly division.

It was an off year for smallmouth bass and there was no threat to the record of 11 pounds 15 ounces set in Kentucky in 1955. Basil Ross won with a nine - pounder that bit on a bomber lure in Wheeler Lake, Alabama. Fourth was an eight-pounder caught by Andrew J. Bell of Toronto on a live frog in small, heavily fished little lake at Midland, in Ontario's Georgian Bay district.

Quebec's Shannon Lake, about 135 miles northwest of Ottawa, gave up the winning northern Pike. The 42-pounder that Rolland Constantineau of Ste. Anne-du-Lac caught on a Dependon lure was only about four pounds under the record from New York's Sacandaga Reservoir.

Other Ontario fish among the top five were:

Brook trout, open — 5. Helen M. Cole, Flint, Mich., 8 lb. 12 oz., Aux Sables river in Ontario, Pflueger Indiana spinner; and northern pike — 2. Duane Anderson, Ear Falls, Ont., 35 lb. 4 oz., Latriel Lake in the Kenora area of northwestern Ontario, Evans Bucktail.

Red Wings and Bruins won the opening games of the Squirt championship series in "A" and "B" divisions last night. The second games, winding up the Squirt season, and the presentation of awards will take place on Monday, March 6th.

Red Wings belted the Maple Leafs 7-1 in the "A" series. J. Potts scored three goals with one each going to H. Smith, R. Jones, T. Waite and G. McCreary. D. Cags fired the Maple Leaf goal.

Bruins will have a slim one-goal lead entering the final game of the "B" series, edging the Browns 2-1 last night. Gary Sero and D. Lowen fired the Bruin markers. R. Rosatte triggered the Browns' goal.

In exhibition action, Rangers whipped the Black Hawks 7-1. A. Jones and B. James each scored twice, B. Hewitt, T. Meagher and S. Bazuk once. G. McKenzie replied for the Mawks.

Canadiens, with Rick Mundoroff in goal, blanked the Royals 3-0. Goals were scored by Robert Barber, Mark Acquafreddo and Darryl Demers.

Flyers defeated the Macs 4-2 on goals by D. McCormick, R. Lambert, Doug Williamson and C. LaPalms. J. Fancy and P. Hayes scored for the Macs.

Barons took a 3-1 win over the Frontenacs. S. Sharpe scored two Baron goals and A. Burkitt one. R. Gibson was the Frontenac marksman.

In the Midget division, Rangers earned the right to meet the Maple Leafs in the finals by ousting the Canadiens with a 2-1 win. Rangers won the semi-final round 7-2.

Don Holoway and Jerry St. Denis scored for Rangers, while Art Lucas drew one assist. Carl Boomhower bagged the Canadiens' goal with help from D. Hannah.

In two exhibitions, Bruins edged the Black Hawks 5-4, while Maple Leafs took a 5-3 decision over the Red Wings.

Gary Benson had two goals for the Leafs, John Onderdonk, Frank Farrell and John Miller one. J. McGuire and Miller had assists. Bill Lang, Bill Hunter and Tom Dolan scored for the Wings. Bob Reddick and Peter Scarth drew assists.

Jack Boyle potted two goals for the Bruins with Chambers, Joe Harvey and Gary McMillan getting the others. Chambers drew two assists, Harvey and L. Brant one apiece. Gene Yorke fired two Hawk goals, Larry Stewart and Wayne Gough getting the two others. Wayne Wood earned two assists, Art Taylor and G. McMillan one each.

Meets Sugar Ray Saturday

Fullmer 2-1 Favorite

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The odds are 2 to 1 that one of this week's biggest losers in this town of big losers will be Ray Robinson.

For, if the moneychangers reckon correctly when they say Gene Fullmer will retain his NBA middleweight title Saturday night, this could easily be the last championship fight in Robinson's long and distinguished career.

The 40 - year - old challenger will try to win the title for the sixth time when he meets the 29-year-old Fullmer before an ABC television audience and about 8,000 paying customers. The bout begins at 10 p.m. EST.

The odds don't seem to give Robinson much credit for holding Fullmer to a draw in Los Angeles last December. On the other hand, that fight must have been a punishing exercise for Robinson, whose aging body took a severe flogging all night.

Saturday's bout will be the fourth between the fighters. Each beat the other once before the December draw. Fullmer gets a rematch within 90 days if he loses but Robinson has no such option. Since Ray has been beaten twice by Paul Pender, recognized as champion in New York and Massachusetts, he will be left with no visible claim to a title shot if he loses this one.

Women's Curling

Western Rinks Unbeaten

OTTAWA (CP) — Ontario, Saskatchewan and British Columbia headed into the third round of the Canadian women's curling championships today with undefeated records.

The feature event of the 9 a.m. EST draw was the match pitting Mrs. Emily Woolley's Toronto rink, consistently effective, against Joyce McKee's hard-hitting rink from Saskatoon, established as bonspiel favorites.

B.C. met New Brunswick, Quebec played Alberta, Nova Scotia and Manitoba were matched and Newfoundland faced Prince Edward Island.

Going into the third round, Alberta, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and P.E.I. each had a win and loss while Quebec, Nova Scotia and Manitoba were winless.

Mrs. Woolley, 67, whose rink includes two of her sisters, whipped briskly to two victories in trampling Nova Scotia 12-5 in the opener and handling Quebec easily 10-8.

SQUEAKS PAST

Joyce McKee of Saskatoon, a deadly-efficient stylist with either the knockout or the running game, squeaked past Mrs. Dorothy Thompson's Edmonton rink 7-6 in extra ends in the first round and then came from behind to defeat Mrs. Irene Parker of Strathclair, Man., 10-5.

Mrs. Marg Fuller of Nanimo, B.C., won both her matches easily, the first a free-scoring 13-9 decision over Mrs. Violet Pike of Grand Falls, Nfld., and the second a 15-4 licking administered to Mrs. Elizabeth MacDonald of Charlottetown.

Miss McKee, 27, faltered against Manitoba at first on ice that appeared heavy. At one point she trailed 3-1 after four ends but a big four on the seventh end gave her a 7-4 advantage. She took another three on the ninth end—one that included a 10-minute sorting-out periol after a Manitoba rock bounced into a packed house from the boards.

Services Dart League Results

Legion, Skyliners and Lucky Lews chalked up lop-sided victories in Belleville Services Dart League games played last night while the remaining games were much closer.

The Legion belted LaPalms by a 10-1 score; Skyliners whipped the OPP 9-2 and Lucky Lews downed El Ranchos 8-3.

In the other games, ANAF shaded McEvoys 6-5 and Northern Electric took a 6-5 decision over RCAF. Parson and Atchesons battled to a 4-4 ties when both clubs showed up short of players.

Pennington Has It Wrapped Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Cliff Pennington of Hull - Ottawa Canadiens has just about clinched the scoring championship of the Eastern Professional Hockey League.

Pennington added a goal and two assists last week to build his total to 91 points on 30 goals and 61 assists.

League statistics released Monday show that his closest rivals are slipping farther behind. Eddie Kachur of Sault Ste. Marie Thunderbirds managed only two points last week and is in second spot with 74. Fred Hilts of Thunderbirds is third with 72 after a scoreless week.

Kachur and Hilts have only 11 games left in which to catch Pennington.

Eddie Johnston of Canadiens continued to set the pace for goalkeepers. He allowed 10 goals in four games and his average remains at 2.5 goals per game. He also leads in shutouts with 10.

Jean Gauthier of Canadiens is the most penalized player in the league with 122 minutes. Sudbury Wolves lead in team penalties with 867 minutes.

Junior B Player Tops With 120

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Terry Crisp of St. Marys has won the western division junior B Ontario Hockey Association scoring championship for the second consecutive season.

He collected 120 points on 49 goals and 71 assists.

Phil Esposito of Sarnia notched 47 goals and 61 assists for 108, while Gerry Dubois, also of Sarnia, had 56 goals and 47 assists for 103 points.

Dubois led in goal scoring, while Crisp topped the assists.

St. Marys also had the leading netminders. Chuck Jewell had a 3.41 average, allowing 59 goals in 17 games and posting one shutout. Rocky Marshall followed with a 4.00 average, yielding 60 goals in 15 games and getting one shutout.

Ted Kidder of Tillsonburg was the most penalized player with 192 minutes. Greg Lawrence of Sarnia went until 19:55 of the last period of the final game before collecting his only penalty.

Woman Holes Three Aces In Florida

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) Mrs. W. J. Hines, amateur golfer from Toronto, is really zeroed in on No. 18 hole of the Vero Beach Country Club.

Mrs. Hines' drive smacked the flag on the 100-yard, par-3 hole Thursday and the ball bounced into the cup. The next day, she aced the same hole again. She did not play Saturday but Sunday she drove on No. 18 and, said club pro Johnny Morgan and other witnesses, made her third hole-in-one.

Mrs. Hines is captain of the St. George women's golf team in Toronto.

Played Here Saturday

COSSA Hoop Tourney

Belleville will mark another sports milestone over the weekend.

For the first time since their inception the Central Ontario Secondary Schools Association will hold its "A" basketball championships here Saturday.

Inaugurated in the "twenties" the championships were played in Toronto up to two or three years ago when Peterborough was the site of the titular playoffs.

The tournament which embraces both boys and girls senior and junnor squads of two COSSA districts, will be played in the Quinte Secondary School and Moira Secondary School gymnasia. The boys will play at Quinte.

Entered in the tournament are teams from the Bay of Quinte and Lake Ontario Southern districts of the COSSA

Representing Quinte district in the senior boys championships are Quinte S.S. and and Belleville Collegiate Institute. In the junior division Quinte S.S. and Moira S.S. will battle for honors.

For the first time district champions and runners-up will play off in the championships.

In the senior section Quinte S.S. will meet Peterborough CVS starting at 3.30. BCIVS meets either Oshawa Donavan or Oshawa Central an hour earlier.

The winners of this series will meet at 8.15 p.m. to decide the senior "A" championship.

In the junior section Quinte S.S. meets either Oshawa or Bowmanville while Moira S.S. takes on Cobourg H.S. The first game gets under way at 12.30, the second an hour later.

The junior championship between the winners of this series will be decided in the evening starting 7 p.m.

GIRLS DIVISION

Trenton High School with two teams, BCIVS and Napanee will represent the Quinte COSSA district in the girls championships.

In the senior girls section, Trenton meets Peterborough CVS while BCIVS takes on Peterborough St. Peter's. The first game starts at 2.30, the second at 3.30 p.m.

Trenton junior girls play either Peterborough CVS or St. Peter's at 12.30 with Napanee DHS taking on Cobourg at 1.30 p.m.

The championship games will be played in the evening.

John Hayman, Quinte Secondary School, secretary of the Quinte COSSA, is convener of the championships.

The COSSA "B" championships are being held in Whitby on Saturday, March 18.

Campbellford and Tweed high school teams will battle for the Quinte "B" senior championship while Norwood H.S. meets the winner of a Tweed-Madoc series for the junior crown.

The winners of these series meet those of the Lake Ontario-Southern District during week of March 6.

All Serene With Ingy And Floyd

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Ingemar Johansson appeared reluctant Monday to pursue their spat over the nationality of the referee for their March 13 rematch here.

Patterson, training here, has demanded an American referee, saying, "If I fight in a foreign country, then I will agree on a foreign referee—but only under those circumstances."

Johansson, training at Palm Beach, said Monday:

"As long as a guy can count to 10, that's all right with me."

Patterson and Johansson appeared also to have dropped their sparring over the weight of gloves.

In their previous meetings, six-ounce gloves were used. The Miami Beach Boxing Commission rules require eight-ounce gloves.

Ingo has said he wants to fight again with the six-ounce gloves and that's all right with the champ.

"What does it matter about the rules," Ingo said. "How often do they have a heavyweight title fight down here?" he added.

The commission will rule on both issues Friday.

SIGN WOOD, SHATTO

TORONTO (CP)—Casey Wood, all-star tackle from the University of Toronto who was the top college draft choice, and veteran halfback Dick Shatto have been signed by Toronto Argonauts for the 1961 Big Four football league season, it was announced Monday.

The six-foot-five-inch, 242-pound Wood was considered the outstanding lineman in Canadian college football last season and Argos, who had the first choice in the draft, picked him on the first round.

The 27-year-old Shatto will be playing his eighth season with Argos since joining them from the University of Kentucky in 1954. He was the league's leading yardage gainer in 1960, picking up 706 yards rushing and 894 as a pass receiver for a total 1,602.

Where You Can See The Fight

TORONTO (CP) — Closed-circuit television coverage of the Floyd Patterson - Ingemar Johansson heavyweight championship bout in Miami March 13 will be carried to points in five Canadian provinces, Cass-Kell Productions announced today.

On the network will be Windsor, London, Kitchener, Hamilton, Toronto and Ottawa in Ontario, Montreal, Sherbrooke, Trois-Rivieres and Jonquiere in Quebec, Saint John and Moncton, N.B., Halifax and Sydney, N.S., and Vancouver.

Red Wings Nip Flyers

HAMILTON (CP) — Fourth-place Hamilton Red Wings moved to within two points of third-place Niagara Falls Flyers by edging Flyers 5-3 in an Ontario Hockey Association Junior A game before 2,669 spectators Monday night.

Wings had to erase a 3-0 first-period deficit to claim the victory. Flyers led 3-1 at the end of the first period and Wings deadlocked the count in the second.

Larry Jeffrey and Lowell MacDonald paced the victory with two goals each. Bob Dillabough got the other.

Jean Albert, Orv Tessier and Bob Awrey scored for the Flyers.

Falls drew six of the 11 minor penalties in the fast-skating encounter. Wings' Lyle Porter and Flyers' Frank Brander got third period fighting majors and Wings had two misconduct sentences.

Long List Unsigned

Holdout Headaches

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Figure-weary general managers continued to be plagued by the seasonal contract signing headache today as major league baseball's official midnight "holdout" deadline approached with a long list of players still haggling over terms.

Minnesota Twins have the most woes with eight dissatisfied members, including such key personnel as long-distance hitters Jim Lemon and Harmon Killebrew and pitchers Jack Kralick and Camilio Pascual.

In all 35 players remain to be signed — 11 in the National League and 24 in the expanded American.

Other former Washington senators who haven't signed with Minnesota are outfielders Pete Whisenant and Lennie Green and infielders Reno Bertola and Jose Valdivielso. Second baseman Billy Gardner agreed to terms Monday.

Milwaukee Braves signed pitcher Lew Burdette and infielder Billy Martin Monday, reducing their unsigned to five, including outfielder Wes Covington, who apparently is ready for a long holdout siege.

Chicago White Sox officially classed shortstop Luis Aparicio, third baseman Billy Goodman, infielder Tony Roig and pitchers Bob Shaw and Turk Lown as holdouts Monday when they formally opened training.

Sport Snapshots

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ivan Tregubov is back in the good graces of Soviet sports officials and goalkeeper Nikolai Puchkov couldn't hold his job. This intelligence could mean only one thing — trouble for Canada in the world amateur hockey championship.

Ivan, who has been playing the game for 15 of his 30 years, is back on defence with his old sidekick, Nikolai (Solly) Sologubov. The combination was broken up last year when Ivan didn't show at the Winter Olympics in California.

"He broke his leg," a Soviet hockey official told inquiring sports writers. But word soon filtered out that this solid-checking member of the Soviet army had broken training rules by hitting the grape a little too hard.

The absence of Puchkov isn't a good omen for Trail Smoke Eaters, or for any team in the round - robin tournament opening in Switzerland Thursday. He's a better - than - average netminder and his successor, either Viktor Konovalenko or Vladimir Chinov, must be another Johnny Bower or Glenn Hall.

EIGHT NEWCOMERS

Makeup of the team, issued by the Russian Embassy in Ottawa, shows a bunch of familiar faces. Included is defenceman Genrikh Sidorenkov, the only member of the 1954 team that won the title with an easy 7-2 decision over Toronto East York at Stockholm.

Eight players are making their debut in international competition, but holdovers well-known to Canadian teams besides Tregubov, Solly and Sidorenkov, are Russia's first line of Alexander Akmetov, Konstantin Loktev and Veniamin Alexandrov.

This unit has been playing together for five years and always has been troublesome to Canadian teams, both on exhibition tours of Canada and in world and Olympic competition.

Insertion of 37 - year - old Soy is a bit of a surprise. Last year, when Russia finished third behind the United States and Canada in the Olympics, Solly was awarded a trophy as the outstanding defenceman in the tournament.

Solly really didn't deserve it. Canadian sports writers went wild over him in the 1956 Olympics in Italy when Russia shut out Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen 2-0, but by 1960 Russia's honored master of sport had slowed up considerably.

SOLLY STAYED BACK

One of the best two - way defencemen Canadians had seen in a long time, Solly didn't have the legs to steam up and down the ice. He stayed mainly behind his own blueline and expertly steered puck - carriers into the corners.

He's such an engaging, carefree individual that officials of the International Ice Hockey Federation felt they should do something to mark his exit after a 20 - year hockey career. Solly was supposed to retire after the Olympics, but here he is back again for another crack at the Canadiens.

Jack Roxburgh of Simcoe, Ont., president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association who has been with the Smoke Eaters on their pre - tournament swing in Europe, says the Smokies will have a rough time with the Russians.

Trail played three games in the Soviet Union and won one, lost one and tied one. The rubber match is scheduled for Geneva March 12, closing date of the world tournament.

Nominations For Oscars Are Announced

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor won her fourth Oscar nomination in four years Monday as the Motion Picture Academy announced nominees for the 33rd annual awards.

Miss Taylor, not yet a winner, was named for her performance as the wanton beauty in Butterfield 8. She faces strong competition from three foreign-born actresses and one American—Shirley MacLaine, the wistful elevator girl in The Apartment.

Also nominated for best performance by an actress in 1960 were Greer Garson as Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in Sunrise at Campobello; Deborah Kerr as the sheepherder's wife in The Sundowners, and Melina Mercouri, the Greek actress, as a prostitute in Never on Sunday.

It shaped up as a hot race among the actors, too. Sir Laurence Olivier was nominated for his performance as the hard - bitten music hall performer in The Entertainer, and Spencer Tracy as the lawyer in Inherit the Wind.

The other nominees were Jack Lemmon, the organization man of The Apartment; Burt Lancaster, the Bible - pounding Elmer Gantry, and Trevor Howard, the drunken father of Sons and Lovers.

TOOK TOP HONORS

The Apartment took top honors among films, scoring with 10 nominations. It was nominated for best picture, along with The Alamo, seven nominations; Sons and Lovers, seven; Elmer Gantry, five, and The Sundowners, five.

Other major nominees:

Best supporting actor: Peter Falk, Murder Inc.; Jack Kruschen, The Apartment; Sal Mineo, Exodus; Peter Ustinov, Spartacus; Chill Wills, The Alamo.

Best supporting actress: Glynis Johns, The Sundowners, Shirley Jones, Elmer Gantry; Shirley Knight, The Dark at the Top of the Stairs; Janet Leigh, Psycho; and Mary Ure, Sons and Lovers.

The coveted Oscars will be handed out April 17 on a telecast, with Bob Hope as emcee, from the Civic Auditorium in seaside Santa Monica. The out-of-Hollywood site was criticized but the academy claimed it could find no suitable location in Hollywood.

The Oscar winners will be voted by the 2,400 members of the academy, who also selected the nominations.

CHURCHILL SERIES

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery will appear in a filmed sequence of the Feb. 15 episode of The Valiant Years, on CBC-TV.

AT THE PARK — Kenneth More is currently starring with beautiful Dana Wynter at the Park Theatre, in "Sink the Bismarck", film version of famous World War II sea battle showing today and Wednesday. On the same program in Color and CinemaScope "The Goddess of Love", now having its first city showings starring Belinda Lee, Jacques Sernas and Massimo Girotti.

AT THE PARK — Belinda Lee stars in "The Goddess of Love" in CinemaScope and Color and showing for the first time in Belleville at the Park Theatre. On the same program Kenneth More stars with beautiful Dana Wynter in "Sink the Bismarck", film version of famous World War II sea battle. Both attractions are showing today and Wednesday at the Park Theatre.

AT THE BELLE — Teresa Stratas, famous Metropolitan Opera star, as the White Squaw, captured first by the Indians and then by a murdering band of Americans, in a tender scene from "The Canadians", 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope DeLuxe Color frontier adventure also starring Robert Ryan now playing for the last times today at the Belle Theatre.

AT THE McCARTHY — In their first screen appearance together, versatile stars Doris Day and Rex Harrison play straight dramatic roles in "Midnight Lace", powerful stuspense drama in color. The Ross Hunter-Arwin production, released by Universal-International, also stars John Gavin, Myrna Loy, and Roddy McDowall, and closes tonight at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

URGES WIDER LOOK

OTTAWA (CP)—Thorkil Kristensen, designated as secretary-general of the new Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, urged Canadian government and business leaders Monday to look at European and North American trade and fiscal problems in a wider perspective than national self-interest. He addressed the Canadian Club of Ottawa during his tour of capitals of the organization.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Wednesday, March 1, 1961

General Tendencies: Today is replete with all sorts of opportunities to forge ahead by reducing those wonderful inspirations with which you have recently become imbued to a workable reality. Be sure you do contact whomever is in a position to give you whatever support you need. Thus you can start March on a most beneficial note.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Since you are highly inspired as to best methods for gaining greater security in the future, it would be wise to have the conferences with associates or key people early. Devise plans intelligently. P.M. fine for cultural entertainment.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) The ideal day and evening for joining with associates or comrades in some ventures that will be of mutual benefit. Be very co-operative in whatever is practical and ethical. Evening is then fine for sociability. Be dynamic.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) A perfect day for enhancing your position with those in power by doing the most precise work, whether in business or civic matters. P.M. increase prestige in a social way, also, so that the future becomes far more successful.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Be sure you are alert to any opportunities that will give you a boost forward in your career. This may require only the incorporation of some new system of operation. P.M. be very charming with new acquaintance — make a valuable ally.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Delve right into that new method for getting your monetary affairs on a more efficient basis so that your income will soon be increased appreciably. Also, "think big and get big." Work with system and you will succeed.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)— You now realize that a certain individual would be most valuable to you if you combine your efforts. Contact him, or her, and make the right arrangements. Talk over details thoroughly first before signing contracts. Be wise.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — If you are practical and give co-workers a pat on the back where deserved, this can be a most happy and productive day for you. Be sure you get clothing in good order this evening.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)— While it may be necessary to be very firm and ingenious in dealing with others, it is also well to smile and be affable as well. You will then get marvelous resuts. Evening is then fine for having fun and being happy.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — By being affectionate, you will have the co-operation of close ties that you need so much at this time. Do something nice for them, too. Be sure you remain at abode in p.m. either relaxing or having guests in. Be happy. Smile.

Capricorn (Dec. 23 to Jan. 20) Attend to any necessary shopping today, as well as keeping important appointments. Then get correspondence out of the way quickly. Make fine, new contacts. P.M. get together with bosom pals and have a delightful time.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Financial affairs can be well thought out and then executed properly today, provided you first consult with trusted advisors or banking executives. You can have a far greater abundance in the future if you act wisely now.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) Now you can sit down with a particularly thoughtful and kind partner and reach a better understanding for the future. Start working together more intelligently. P.M. go out to some chaming restaurant and night spot for fun.

If your child is born today— he, or she, will be one of those brilliant people who can quickly grasp the main idea behind any proposition or project and also be able to work it out in a practical way. Be sure you give your progeny the finest practical education you can as well as training in ethical and spiritual tenets. The life here is full of change and adjustments. Success comes early.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

CHILD FOR ADOPTION

JOEY — aged 9, needs parents who will love him for the sweet child he is. This attractive freckle-faced, sandy-haired youngster is Protestant of Anglo-Saxon parentage. He gets along well with other children and is making satisfactory school progress, although he works more slowly than the average child. Joey's general health is fine. However, he has a very mild form of cerebral palsy, stumbles some, and has a slight speech impediment. Joey doesn't need special medical treatment of any kind; he is quite able to participate in activities like any normal youngster. Would you be the couple to whom this child could bring happiness? Protestant couples interested in adopting Joey should write to:

HARRIMAN ARRIVES

LONDON (Reuters)—W. Averell Harriman, U.S. roving ambassador, arrived in Britain Sunday night for talks with British officials on a wide range of international topics.

LIGHTS UP — Mrs. Sigrid Nohr of Burnaby, B.C., 90, lights up her pipe. Mrs. Nohr came to Canada from Sweden in 1906. She has been smoking a pipe since she was 17 and sees no reason to change now. (CP Photo).

Visit Adds to Optimism About Possible Settlement

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The visit of President Bourguiba to Paris adds to the optimism about a possible settlement of the Algerian war.

All shades of opinion see the meeting between the Tunisian president and General de Gaulle as a further step toward a peaceful solution of a war that seems gradually to be burning itself out.

The next step, after the talks between Bourguiba and de Gaulle, will probably be public negotiations between France and the rebel leaders. There is a general belief that informal contacts have already taken place.

FIGHT SETTLEMENT

Die-hard adherents of continued warfare are still in evidence. Plastic bombs are being hurled in Paris and Algiers, causing a few casualties, and some extreme right-wing groups appear to be going underground in Algeria, committed to continued resistance to peace moves.

But the number of dissidents appears to be dwindling. There is a sense of confidence in Paris that conditions are more favorable for peace talks now than they have ever been.

It is a moment of triumph for Bourguiba, the animated, clever and likeable man who is the most pro-Western of all Arab leaders. A few years ago he was in a French prison. Now he has a rising reputation as the leader of a country that exerts a diplomatic influence out of all proportion to its 4,000,000 population.

IDEAL MEDIATOR

Educated in Paris, married to a Frenchwoman, sympathetic to French culture, Bourguiba is ideally placed to mediate between France and the Arab world from which he springs.

Bourguiba is thought to be an ardent admirer of de Gaulle. The French president, in fact is probably his ideal of a world statesman. It will be surprising if the two men do not see eye to eye on the next move.

A possible development, observers feel, is an announcement shortly of the release of Ahmed Ben Bella, a prominent rebel leader who has been held in custody on the Isle of Aix, near La Rochelle, since 1956.

His liberation would show that France genuinely seeks conciliation.

Crawford Metals defeated Picton Prospects 88-57, Belleville Teachers downed Belleville Lightfoots 82-77 and Northern Electric, unable to floor a team, defaulted to Trenton Wilsons in B. of Q. basketball league action last night.

The Teachers' victory, a four-point affair, was the key one that kept the winners' playoff hopes alive. Picton holds the fourth and final playoff spot at this time with 16 points, one more than the Teachers. The two clubs meet each other once more before the schedule ends in a four-point game.

Last night's game was a hard-checking affair with the lead changing hands several times. Teachers led 23-16 after one quarter but trailed 43-42 at half time. They pulled in front 61-58 in the third.

Max Woolley was the big scorer for the Teachers, hooping 37 points while Gord Mutter collected 18 and Jack Perry 14.

Don Smith starred for the Lightfoots, also with 37 points, while Denny Farnsworth had 23.

Crawford Metals took a half-time lead of 48-27 against their Picton opponents and never looked back as all players shared in the points distribution.

Bert Faulkner was top man with 29 points while Ted Batchelor had 21, Phil Bennett 15 and Billings 10.

Hopkins topped the Picton attack with 24 points while Laundry hit for 15.

BELL. TEACHERS (82): Sisson 8, Mutter 18, Bell 1, Woolley 37, Perry 14, Symons 4

BELL. LIGHTFOOTS (77): Newsome 6, D. Smith 37, Reynolds, Marner, Stark 2, Farnsworth 23, Boomhower 7, Salter 2, Kane.

CRAWFORD METALS (88): Bennett 15, Jackson 5, Billings 10, Faulkner 29, Batchelor 21, Walmsley 8.

PICTON PROSPECTS (57): Fawcett 8, Dingman 8, Laundry 15, Hopkins 24, Skratt, Kingma 2.

Cuban Govt. Raises Invasion Threat, Attacks Kennedy

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government launched an all-out attack on President Kennedy's administration today and charged anew the United States is plotting to overthrow the Cuban strongman.

The blistering attack was contained in a lengthy note sent last night to Latin-American foreign ministers. It was to be distributed later to the Organization of American States and the United Nations.

The Cuban note recalled the "invasion" charges Castro hurled at the Eisenhower administration a few months ago. Washington denounced those charges as a coverup to divert the Cuban people's attention from economic troubles at home. The attacks ceased when President Eisenhower left office without the predicted invasion.

CHARGES TWO-FOLD

Foreign Minister Raul Roa charged the U.S. with plotting a two-fold plan to bring down the Castro regime:

The first phase would be an attempt to overthrow Castro before the conference of western Hemisphere foreign ministers in Quito, Ecuador, May 24.

If that fails an alternative plan would create conditions for indirect military aggression masterminded by the Pentagon and the Central Intelligence Agency. This would be masked by a declaration of war against Cuba by Guatemala, Nicaragua or Peru that would permit the setting up of a beachhead on Cuban soil. An artificial provisional government then would be set up in Cuba and probably receive direct military aid.

ACCUSES U.S.

Castro has accused the United States of aiding counter-revolutionary forces who have been showing increased activity in Cuba lately.

The latest incident occurred Monday when an army captain described as bodyguard for Ernesto Guevara was killed near the economic chief's house.

The government denied the shooting was an attempt to assassinate Guevera himself, but Cuba's newspapers and radio stations were ordered to suppress the story for hours.

SHIPS TO REPORT

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union disclosed Sunday it has ships cruising the seven seas equipped to receive information from the space station scheduled to pass near the planet Venus May 19 or 20. An announcement in the newspaper Pravda was the first official explanation about the Soviet ships, carrying elaborate scientific equipment, whose presence in the Atlantic and the Pacific has puzzled the world's navies. The announcement did not give their names, nor said where the ships are now.

Trigger Finger Of Prince Philip Still in Splint

His trigger finger was out of commission and in a splint because of a boil.

Queen Elizabeth also did some "shooting" here with film from atop a huge elephant.

The touring couple's host, Nepalese King Mahendra, staged a five-star jungle show in which a circle of 325 elephants gradually tightened to produce a harassed tigress and an angry rhinoceros.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, also in the party, loosed four vain shots.

The trumpeting beater elephants chased the tigress around the ring for two hours. Finally, a single shot by Rear-Admiral Christopher Bonham Carter, Philip's personal treasurer, dropped the tigress.

The Rhino also fell dead in a hail of lead. Nobody knew who got him.

A royal household spokesman indicated that the three-day-old infection on Philip's right index finger was responding to penicillin but not fast enough for Monday's shoot. The prince bagged his first tiger recently in India and this stirred up some criticism at home, though little in the host country.

(In London, the British League Against Cruel Sports, the arch enemy of England's fox hunters, said the royal Nepal tiger hunt smacked of the decadent Roman empire, not the democratic British Commonwealth of today.)

CANADIANS IN FRANCE — Canadian servicemen are encouraged to take their families with them during tours of duty in Europe. Here Flt. Lt. Harold Gilbert of Champion, Alta., takes his wife and children (left to right), Glenda, Meredith and Patsy out to buy cut flowers from a sidewalk stall in the shadow of the ancient Cathedral of St. Etienne in Metz, France. (CP from National Defence).

CHATEAU BECOMES SCHOOL — Children of Canadian airmen stationed near Metz, France, play outside the Chateau de Mercy, used as a hospital by the Germans during the Second World War but now a school. Classes are held at the chateau because of overcrowding at the school on the base. The children are among 25,000 dependents of Canadian military personnel living abroad, mostly in France and Germany. (CP from National Defence).

RCAF, Army Overseas Posts More Efficient When Men's Dependents Allowed Along

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — One swashbuckling RCAF fighter pilot serving in Europe rented a castle because it was cheaper than a five - room house. He heated only one room but his prestige status was unmatched.

Generally speaking, however, Canadian servicemen with their families overseas live much as they do at home with the possible exception that their vacations are more glamorous. In no time they can be in London, Paris, Rome, Madrid or Copenhagen.

When President Eisenhower ordered the number of dependents of American servicemen reduced, there was some uneasiness among Canadian servicemen that their government might consider a similar move. Since then, however, President Kennedy has rescinded the order.

There are nearly 25,000 dependents of Canadian servicemen living abroad. Dependents are not permitted to accompany Canadian troops to such places as The Congo, Middle East and Indochina. Nearly all are in and around bases of the RCAF air division in France and Germany and the infantry brigade group in Germany.

MORE FICIENT

The army and RCAF find that their overseas formations are more efficient when dependents go along. The reason, besides morale, is that it takes some time to settle into a new job and married servicemen not accompanied by their families are not expected to serve overseas more than a year. The tour of duty in the brigade and air division is three years with the possibility of extensions.

The number of dependents abroad is not unlimited, however.

Servicemen with large families are not likely to be posted to Europe unless urgently required for a specific job.

And a serviceman not provided with government married quarters must find suitable accommodation for his family before they are allowed to join him. The accommodation must be approved by welfare officers on the spot.

There have been few recurrences of one case several years ago when an army corporal, his wife and several children arrived penniless in England.

LIMITS ON BAGGAGE

There are some 10,000 dependents of brigade soldiers living overseas. It costs the public treasury about $3,250,000 to send them over and bring them back. This includes cost of storage of their furniture in Canada.

The cost of transporting the soldiers themselves — between 5,000 and 5,500 personnel — is about $2,250,000.

There are some 6,000 airmen in the air division and about 14,000 dependents. The cost of sea transportation alone for 5,512 airmen and dependents in 1960 was $868,000.

The government pays for the transportation of personal effects only. Baggage limits both ways are 500 pounds for officers, 200 pounds for other ranks, 555 pounds for wives and 350 pounds for children. Anything over this the serviceman pays for.

For instance, if a Canadian serviceman buys a car in Europe—and many do—he must pay the shipping charges to get it home. But there are regulations which prevent him from making a fast buck. He may buy a European car tax - free if he drives it in Europe for at least six months before departure for home and drives it in Canada for 12 months after he gets back.

NO FAMILY ALLOWANCE

One school holds that the serviceman abroad is better off and the other that he isn't. But hardly anybody claims that he suffers financially because of overseas service.

Pay and allowances are generally the same in Canada and abroad except for the foreign service allowance.

But a big complaint is the Canadian legislation which prevents payment of family allowances to Canadians abroad. This applies to servicemen as well as civilians.

This law affects mostly men with the largest families making the least pay.

For instance, a private with children who doesn't pay any income tax because he doesn't make enough loses the family allowance utterly.

An officer paying income tax also loses the allowance, of course, but is allowed the higher income tax deductions for children.

It is understood that the government is considering paying an allowance in lieu of family allowance.

What really makes all servicemen sore, however, is the widely held belief that they don't have to pay income tax. They pay taxes at the same rate as everybody else in Canada.

SOME OTHER BENEFITS

On the other hand, servicemen readily admit some fringe benefits such as cheap cigarets and liquor. And many servicemen are finding it possible to do something they couldn't afford at home: Send their older children to excellent universities.

The aim of the government is that servicemen abroad should have available to them the same facilities they would have at home. It has built schools and provided Canadian teachers who use Canadian curricula. It has built shopping centres where Canadian goods are sold.

Canadian servicemen are inveterate travellers. Many of them have covered Europe on their leaves by the time they come home. And it is not unusual for a child to have a command of three or four languges.

Generally speaking, Canadian servicemen and their families look forward eagerly to a European posting despite the fact there are not enough government married quarters to go around and many have to cope with sometimes inferior local housing conditions. Most of the government married quarters are huge barrack blocks cut up into apartments. There is little or no privacy.

Nehru States Now Not Time To Change UN

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru said Monday Soviet Premier Khrushchev's drive to reorganize the United Nation must take second place to solving the Congo crisis and making progress on disarmament.

Nehru's statement to Parliament seemed to make it clear that at least for the time being he will not support the Soviet campaign to replace Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold with a three-man committee, despite letters from Khrushchev pressing the Soviet case.
